

1
A5003191CSL

1.25

GOVT. OF INDIA
SECRETARIAT
NEW DELHI

D. C. K.

INTRODUCTORY ACCOUNT

OF

THE EARLY ANNALS OF THE ENGLISH IN BENGAL.

AS-003191

CSL
2

THE EARLY ANNALS OF THE ENGLISH IN BENGAL,

BRING

THE BENGAL PUBLIC CONSULTATIONS FOR THE FIRST HALF OF THE EIGHTEENTH CENTURY.

VOL. II-PART II.

GOVT. OF INDIA
SECRETARIAT LIBRARY

THE SURMAN EMBASSY.

By
C. R. WILSON, M.A.,
OF THE BENGAL EDUCATION SERVICE.

CALCUTTA :
THE BENGAL SECRETARIAT BOOK DEPOT.
1911.

[Price—Indian, Rs. 10 ; English, 15s.]

CSL

Published at the BENGAL SECRETARIAT BOOK DEPOT, Writers' Buildings, Calcutta.

OFFICIAL AGENTS.

In India—

MESSRS. THACKER, SPINK & Co., Calcutta and Simsa.
MESSRS. NEWMAN & Co., Calcutta.
MESSRS. HIGGINBOTHAM & Co., Madras.
MESSRS. THACKER & Co., Ltd., Bombay.
MESSRS. A. J. COMBRIDGE & Co., Bombay.
THE SUPERINTENDENT, AMERICAN BAPTIST MISSION PRESS, Rangoon.
MRS. RADHAHAI ATMARAM Sagoon, Bombay.
MESSRS. R. CAMBRAY & Co., Calcutta.
RAI SAHIB M. GULAB SINGH & SONS, Proprietors of the Mubd-i-am Press, Lahore, Punjab.
MESSRS. THOMPSON & Co., Madras.
MESSRS. S. MURTHY & Co., Madras.
MESSRS. GOPAL NARAYEN & Co., Bombay.
MESSRS. B. BANERJEE & Co., 25, Cornwallis Street, Calcutta.
MESSRS. S. K. LAHIRI & Co., Printers and Book-sellers, College Street, Calcutta.
MESSRS. V. KALYANARAMA IYER & Co., Booksellers, &c., Madras.
MESSRS. D. B. TARAPORWALA, SONS & Co.,
Book-sellers, Bombay.
MESSRS. G. A. NATESON & Co., Madras.
MR. N. B. MATHUR, Superintendent, Nazir
Kadim Hind Press, Allahabad.
THE CALCUTTA SCHOOL-BOOK SOCIETY.
MR. SUNDER PANDURANG, Bombay.
MESSRS. A. M. AND J. FERGUSON, Ceylon.
MESSRS. TEMPLE & Co., Madras.
MESSRS. COMBRIDGE & Co., Madras.
MESSRS. A. CHAND & Co., Lahore.
BABU S. C. TALUKDAR, Proprietor, Students & Co., Cooch Behar.

In England—

MR. E. A. ARNOLD, 41 & 43, Maddox Street,
Bond Street, London, W.
MESSRS. CONSTABLE & Co., 10, Orange
Street, Leicester Square, London, W. C.
MESSRS. GRINDLAY & Co., 54, Parliament
Street, London, S. W.
MESSRS. KEGAN, PAUL, TRENCH, TRUBNER & Co.,
43, Gerrard Street, Soho, London, W.
MR. B. QUARITCH, 11, Grafton Street, New Bond Street, London, W.
MESSRS. W. THACKER & Co., 2, Creed Lane,
Ludgate Hill, London, E. C.
MESSRS. P. S. KING & SON, 2 & 4, Great Smith
Street, Westminster, London, S. W.
MESSRS. H. S. KING & Co., 65, Cornhill, London,
E. C.
MR. B. H. BLACKWELL, 50-51, Broad Street, Oxford.
MESSRS. DIGHTON BELL & Co., Trinity Street, Cambridge.
MR. T. FISHER UNWIN, 1, Adelphi Terrace,
London, W. C.
MESSRS. LUZAC & Co., 46, Great Russell
Street, London, W. C.

On the Continent—

MESSRS. R. FRIEDLANDER & SOHN, 11, Carlstrasse, Berlin, N. W., G.
MR. OTTO HARRASSOWITZ, Leipzig.
MR. KARL HIRSEMAN, 29, Königstrasse, Leipzig.
MR. ERNEST LEROUX, Rue Bonaparte, Paris.
MR. MARTINUS NIJHOFF, The Hague.

19635

CSL

CONTENTS.

	Page
INTRODUCTION	i to 80-420
CHAPTER I.
The origin of the Surman Embassy	1-214
CHAPTER II.
Preparations for the Embassy	vii
CHAPTER III.
The Court of Farrukhsiyar	xvi
CHAPTER IV.
Proceedings at Patna	xx
CHAPTER V.
The Journey to Delhi	xvii
CHAPTER VI.
Farrukhsiyar cured by Hamilton	xxxi
CHAPTER VII.
The First Petition	xxxviii
CHAPTER VIII.
The Second Petition	xliv
CHAPTER IX.
The Last Petition	xlvi
CHAPTER X.
The return from Delhi	1
CHAPTER XI.
The end of the Embassy	liv
Diary of Messrs. Surman and Stephenson during their Embassy to the Great Mogul, 15th August 1714 to 14th December 1717	1 to 254
APPENDIX	255 to 300
I.—General Instructions from y ^e Chief Settlements in India concerning y ^e Negotiations at the Court of King Farrukhsiyar	255
II.—The Passport of Sir William Norris's Embassy to Allumgeer	288
III.—The Dutch Embassy commencing in the reign of Shu-'Alam and ending in that of Jehann-Dor-Sha	291
IV.—Lists of Presents	296

PREFACE.

At the time of Mr. Wilson's unexpected death in 1904, the present volume was in an advanced state of preparation. Even the introduction had been printed, with the exception of the last two chapters; and fortunately the manuscript of the unprinted portion was found among the author's papers. As a student of the same period of Indian History, and one who took a sympathetic interest in Mr. Wilson's work, I share the opinion of the surviving members of his family that so much valuable material, the fruit of great labour and strenuous research, ought to be made available for those interested in the subject. Difficulties arose which have caused regrettable delay; these having now been overcome, I have been asked to contribute a few words by way of preface.

Charles Robert Wilson, M. A., D. Litt., born in London in 1863, was educated at the City of London School whence, on gaining the Carpenter Scholarship, he proceeded to Oxford. There he won an open scholarship at Wadham College. In 1886 he graduated with first class honours in the Final Schools. Soon after taking his degree, he entered the Indian Educational Service. He began his work in 1887 as Professor at Dacca College, and in 1895 was transferred to a similar position in the Presidency College at Calcutta. For some years he was Principal of the Government College, Bankipur (Patna), and then acted as an Inspector of Schools. In all these positions he acquired the confidence of his superiors and the respect of the students. At the time of his death he was the Officer in charge of the PREFACE.

CSL

Records of the Government of India. For many years he enjoyed excellent health, and seemed destined to carry to completion a career so successfully commenced. At last the Anglo-Indian's most insidious enemy, malaria, fastened upon him, and in spite of visits to Darjeeling and Ceylon, he was unable to shake it off. As a last resource he was sent home: but it was too late. He died in London on July 24th, 1904, at the early age of forty-one.

Allowing for his comparatively short life, most of it passed under the constant pressure of arduous official duties, Mr. Wilson's literary output was considerable; nor was it of a light or perfunctory nature, the mere amusement of a cultured mind's idle hours. It involved laborious hunting among dusty manuscripts and singular perseverance in following up and unravelling the most unpromising clues. Wilson during his annual trips to Europe must have visited nearly every part of England in pursuit of exact biographical details about the earlier Anglo-Indian worthies, whose names appear in the records he was studying. No trouble seemed to him too great to secure this object. The result is before us, and he is assured of a permanent place in the small band of similar seekers, alongside of Talboys Wheeler, A. T. Pringle, J. M. Campbell, E. T. Atkinson and G. W. Forrest.

For he evidently held, as many others do, that for the time being the available sources for the purely literary treatment of history have been exhausted. To secure any profitable extension of our knowledge, at any rate in the Indian field, we must devote ourselves to the consultation of original records. Like C. R. Wilson, we must strive at sifting, arranging and publishing the documents. It is the only way in which we can get a little nearer to the past and thus in the limited degree which is possible, learn the truth about it. In short, history must be first dealt with as a science, a record of facts, before any attempt can be made to turn it into literature or a branch of Belles Lettres. The merits of Wilson's work in this direction have been recognized by his University, which granted him his Doctorate in Literature, as he told me himself, after an examination founded on his own "Early Annals of the English in Bengal."

PREFACE.

CSL

So far as known to me he is the author of the following:—

- (1) Articles on the site of the Black Hole of Calcutta printed in the Journal of the Asiatic Society of Bengal.
- (2) List of the Inscriptions on Tombs or Monuments in Bengal, foolscap folio, Calcutta, 1896.
- (3) "The Early Annals of the English in Bengal," Vol. I, 1895, Vol. II, Part I, 1900.
- (4) "Old Fort William in Bengal" in the "Indian Records" series, 1905, 2 volumes 8^o (Murray.)

He also wrote an article on Bibi Juliana in the Indian Church Quarterly Review for October 1900, and contributed several articles to the Journal of the Asiatic Society of Bengal in Calcutta.

In the Journal of the Royal Asiatic Society for January 1897, I inserted a review of the first volume of his "Early Annals of the English in Bengal." This appreciation of his book led to Mr. Wilson seeking me out on his next visit to England. From that time I received an annual visit from him and we maintained a constant correspondence on the subjects he was interested in. In this way I came to see the continuation of the "Early Annals" in proof and was able to contribute information from native historians and other sources which was not accessible to the author, being outside the limits of his special studies. The topographical notes to the "Surman Diary" are mostly by Mr. Wilson, while the rest were directly or indirectly furnished to him by me.

PREFACE.

CSL

The volume now published, forming volume 2, Part II, of the "Early Annals of the English in Bengal" is devoted to the story of the Mission sent by the Company's officials in Calcutta to Furrukhsīyar, the Great Mogul. It is compiled from the Consultations of the Government at Calcutta, the Diary kept and Consultations recorded by the Envoys, and copies of their letters to the three presidencies. These different series of documents are taken in chronological order and combined into one continuous narrative. In this way it becomes possible for the first time to follow the development of events beginning with the instruction, of July 1715, down to the conclusion of the Mission and its arrival in Calcutta in December 1717. Some of the letters and proceedings have been printed by J. Talboys Wheeler in his "Early Records of British India" (Calcutta, 1878); but that fragmentary narrative will be entirely superseded by Mr. Wilson's compilation. The main points of the story, with their appropriate historical background, are admirably set forth in Mr. Wilson's full and lucid introduction, to which nothing need be added here.

The "Diary" is interesting for more than one reason. It is an almost photographic picture of an Oriental court, seething as usual with intrigue and a mere battle ground of personal ambitions. We also obtain an insight into its perverse ingenuity in prevarication and procrastination. The record also makes us acquainted with a sturdy Englishman, John Surman, who though young in years and untried in great affairs rose nobly to his responsibilities. We see, too, how difficult it is for the European and the Eastern man to work together on a footing of equality. Sarhād, the shifty Armenian, if left to himself, might have succeeded by his own devious ways; on the other hand, Surman would certainly have done better if unhampered by Sarhād as a colleague. Placing the two men together on such a footing was a fatal mistake, and but for Surman's dogged persistence, this would have entirely wrecked the enterprise. The much-abused Wazīr, Qatq-ul-Mulk, Sayyid 'Abdullah Khān, is also shown in an unexpectedly favourable light; for instead of resenting the Envoys' long neglect of him, he acted, when at length applied to, with unusual vigour, showed no sign of offended dignity, and above all demanded nothing for himself.

PREFACE.

CSL

On every ground I heartily commend this book to the notice of all serious students of Indian history.

October 1907.

W. IRVINE.

INTRODUCTION.

CHAPTER I.

THE ORIGIN OF THE SURMAN EMBASSY.

THE embassy conducted by John Surman to the court of the emperor Farrukhsiyar was the most important step taken by the English in Bengal from the foundation of Calcutta by Charnock to the conquest of Bengal by Clive. To appreciate it rightly, we must review briefly the whole course of the relations between the Mughal court and the English.

When the English first came to India, the Mughal empire was at its best. Here was a powerful centralised monarchy, very different from the petty barbarous kings of the Spice Islands over whom the Dutch were accustomed to domineer. It seemed clear that the correct attitude to assume towards such a power must be that of peaceful merchants, who aimed at nothing more than to pursue their trade in quietness and safety under the protection of the great Mughal. In pursuance of this policy in January, 1615, Sir Thomas Roe was commissioned by James I 'to be ambassador to the great Mughal' at the expense of the company.¹ In September, 1615, he arrived at Surat, where he found the English already established in a commanding position. The power of the Portuguese in these parts had been overthrown by the victories of Best in 1613 and of Downton at the beginning of 1615; and the trade was about to pass into the hands of the English, who had already been granted permission to settle at Surat by the Mughal governor in recognition of their superiority.² The object of Sir Thomas Roe's embassy was to make good the footing thus obtained and to secure the Indian trade to the English company by treaty with the Mughal. With these views, the ambassador betook himself to the imperial court at Ajmer, and opened negotiations. He proposed that the English should be allowed to establish factories at all ports of the Mughal empire, and particularly in Gujarāt, Bengal and Sindh; and to trade inland, free of transit tolls, on payment of an import duty of $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. on goods and 2 per cent. on treasure.¹ But the court of Jahāngir held very different views. They knew nothing about treaties and ambassadors. The Mughal was absolute. It was his to grant trade privileges; it was his to annul them. The importance of Surat for the Mughal government arose from the fact that it was the port of departure for pilgrims to Mecca. The Portuguese were infidel idolaters whose piratical ways had greatly increased the dangers of the pilgrimage to the holy places. The English were infidels of another sort. It appeared that they were at once able to keep the Portuguese in check and willing to trade peaceably with the empire. Their agent, a well-educated well-mannered man, was soliciting for favours from the imperial throne. In these circumstances the court was naturally disposed to be indulgent. Sir Thomas Roe obtained, not a treaty or comprehensive grant of privileges such as he proposed, but a limited permission for the English to reside at Surat and trade in the country.² In other words, Roe completely failed in his negotiation. The few concessions obtained through him were insignificant in comparison with the time and money spent in obtaining them. The Old Company had learnt a lesson. Never again did it require the services of a royal ambassador. It was satisfied for the future to carry on its negotiations with Indian rulers for the extension of its trade through commercial agents.

¹ Hunter's History of British India, II, 50; and my Early Annals of the English in Bengal I, 152, 153. The whole story of Sir Thomas Roe's negotiations will be found in The Embassy of Thomas Roe by William Foster, 1899, Hakluyt Society, 2 vols.

² Hunter's History of British India, II, 49, 50.

CSL

As time passed and the English extended their settlements along both the coasts of India, they learned a second lesson. Towards the end of the seventeenth century the Mughal empire began to disintegrate. Local rulers in outlying parts of the empire found that the control of the central power was growing slack and that they could do very much as they pleased. The more enterprising naturally began to plunder their neighbours, and the English found their trade impeded at every turn by voracious exactions. Bitter experience showed them that no engagements and no orders were of avail against local lawlessness. They were therefore driven to the conclusion that they must protect themselves. They must break with the Mughal government and must seize and fortify suitable posts to be trade centres in the different parts of India. The company, therefore, renounced its former policy of peaceful trade, and adopted instead the policy advocated by Hedges and Charnock, and above all by the brothers Child, the policy of fortified settlements.¹

¹ Hunter's History of British India, II, 52.

² Ib., 52.

The change, as we have seen, was announced in the year 1686. At first the new policy seemed to meet with little success. The English were forced to leave Bengal; their factories were seized at Surat, Masulipatam and Vizagapatam; and Bombay was attacked. But in the end the policy took effect. The wealth brought into the imperial treasury by the English trade was too valuable to lose, and the imperial government, always anxious for the safety of the pilgrim seaway to Mecca, was naturally eager to conciliate a naval power like the English and to secure their help in keeping the sea clear of pirates. When, therefore, Sir John Child solicited peace in December, 1689, the emperor was quite ready to grant it, though on apparently hard terms.² The English, having made submission and promised to pay a large fine, were ostensibly permitted to resume their former status of peaceful traders and no more. In reality, the English returned, not to resume their former status of peaceful traders, but to establish themselves in fortified settlements. It was the Mughal, not Sir John Child, who had actually submitted.

The Old Company had barely begun to enjoy the fruits of its late struggle when it was, as we have seen, confronted with a rival, the new English Company, and the recently adopted trade policy of establishing fortified settlements, or cautionary towns, was opposed by an alternative plan for establishing diplomatic relations with the Indian government by means of consuls and by the maintenance of an embassy at the imperial court. With these proposals the Old Company had no sympathy. They had tried a royal embassy once and it had proved a costly failure. They held with John Beard that a strong fortification was better than an ambassador.³ But the idea had become a main pillar in the trade policy of the New Company.⁴ Accordingly, the three Presidents sent out by the New Company to Bengal, Madras and Bombay, Sir Edward Littleton, John Pitt and Sir Nicholas Waite, were invested with consular powers, and William Norris M.P. for Liverpool

¹ My English in Bengal, I, 88-90, also Hunter's History of British India, II, 240-245.

² Ib., 122, 123, also Hunter's History of British India, II, 265.

³ My English in Bengal, I, 168.

⁴ Hunter's History of British India, II, 240.

CSL

was created a baronet and sent as the King's ambassador extraordinary to the Mughal on a salary of £2,000 a year to be paid by the New Company.¹

Nothing could be more injudicious than the selection of these new representatives of England, nothing could be more disastrous than the results of their interference in India.² The three consuls were dismissed servants of the Old Company, faithless, incompetent and violent. The ambassador, though honest and able, was inexperienced, profuse and hasty.³ Wherever the three consuls went they did nothing but stir up enmity, strife and confusion.⁴ They made the most reckless and damaging accusations. Sir Nicholas Waite, even, had the folly to write to the emperor accusing the Old Company's servants, his fellow countrymen, of being thieves and confederates with pirates.⁵ Thus the worst suspicions were aroused and the English fell everywhere into discredit. The wild accusations of Sir Nicholas Waite were the immediate cause of the ruin of the Old Company's establishments in Western India and of the failure of the embassy of Sir William Norris.

That conscientious but misguided man, as we have seen, listening to the foolish counsels of John Pitt, had at first chosen Masulipatam as his starting point, and landed there on September 25, 1699, on the same day of the same month that Sir Thomas Roe had landed in Surat, eighty four years before.⁶ It was only after wasting large sums of money and months of valuable time that the ambassador found out his mistake. It was not till the end of 1700 that he reached Surat; it was not till January 26, 1701, that he set out for the Mughal's camp. At Burhānpūr he insulted the grand vizier of the empire, Asad Khān, by refusing to pay him a visit; at Panalla, which he reached in April, he was received by the wornout emperor with politeness but without enthusiasm.⁷ His fine clothes and show of pomp, his titles of baronet and king's ambassador extraordinary made no impression upon the imperial court. For them he was merely an infidel, the wakil, or attorney, of a body of infidel merchants suing for trade privileges. The one point of interest to be determined was whether the infidel English

¹ Hunter's History of British India, II, 349-50.

² Ib., 337-8.

³ Ib., 358.

⁴ Ib., 338-49.

⁵ Ib., 342.

⁶ Ib., 351.

⁷ Ib., 352-3; also my English in Bengal, I, 153.

CSL

were, like the infidel Portuguese, no better than pirates, or whether they could be utilized to police the sea and keep open the pilgrim way to Mecca. In an early letter to the emperor, before the arrival of the embassy, Sir Nicholas Waite had offered that the security of the Indian seas, which had hitherto been guaranteed jointly by the English, French and Dutch should be entrusted to the English alone who would undertake to suppress all piracy. Aurangzēb remembered this rash offer and when the embassy arrived, made the carrying of it into effect an indispensable condition to the granting of any rescripts or farmāns for trade.¹ Thus the whole negotiation was rendered abortive from the first, for it was absolutely impossible for the English company to give any such guarantee, and the burden of such an undertaking would have been absolutely ruinous. In vain did Norris negotiate and offer bribes. The imperial court knew its own mind. There were other European nations anxious to trade with India besides the English. There was another English company with which the emperor had long had relations. With so many competitors for imperial favour the bidding ought to be good. The new English company was much mistaken if it thought it would get its privileges for nothing. If the royal ambassador would not accept the condition of the seas, well, he knew the same way back to England that he came.

Out of patience and out of funds, Sir William Norris abruptly left the court in November, 1701. The results of his negotiations were disastrous. Already the English at Surat, together with Sir John Gayer, the president at Bombay, and his wife, had been arrested and imprisoned, and their goods confiscated. Now, ten days after the ambassador's abrupt departure, an imperial proclamation was issued ordering the goods and persons of the English to be everywhere seized, a blow which fell mainly on the New Company on the east side of India, where it had no fortified settlements such as Fort William or Fort St. George.* The ambassador himself was detained by the vizier at Burhānpūr for nearly three months. In the middle of 1703 he set sail for England, baffled and discredited, with health broken. He died at St. Helena of dysentery.²

Such being the disastrous results of the second royal embassy to the Mughal, there could no longer be any doubt that the Old Company

¹ Hunter's History of India, II, 355-7.

² Id., 361-2, also my English in Bengal, I, 160 l.

³ Hunter's History of India, II, 358-61; also my English in Bengal, I, 154.

CSL

had been right in their views as to the proper way of protecting their trade, and the United East India Company accepted the policy of fortified settlements as the approved and established policy to be followed by the English in India. But fortified settlements cost money to keep up and must be supported by revenues. Consequently, the English had no sooner got their fortified settlements in Madras, Bengal, and Bombay than they began to consider whether they could not add to them a certain amount of the adjacent territory from which they might draw sufficient revenues for the upkeep of their fortresses. To do this they must needs approach the Mughal, for the land of India was his alone, and it was his to make grants of territory great or small.

The idea of sending an embassy to the Mughal court to secure such territorial concessions to the company first occurred to Governor Pitt.¹ In the year 1708, the emperor Shāh 'Ālam in the course of his quarrel with his brother Kām Bakhsh was drawn into Southern India and was thus brought comparatively near to Madras. It happened too that Governor Pitt was on very friendly terms with Zīāu-d-dīn Khān, the diwān of the country of Chināpatām, a nobleman of consideration and influence at court, whose uncle had been vizier and his father-in-law governor of Kashmir, and who himself had been promoted by 'Alangir and appointed deputy steward of the imperial household.² The moment, therefore, seemed opportune for sending an embassy. In 1708, letters on the subject passed between Pitt and Zīāu-d-dīn in which the wishes of the English were explained and their claims urged. During the first half of the year 1709 a sumptuous present was got ready, part of which was actually sent by sea to Masulipatam, intended for the king at Golconda. But after the defeat of Kām Bakhsh the king withdrew from the south, and in September Pitt was deprived of his office. Consequently the whole scheme dropped for the time,³ and the present which Governor Pitt had got together was transferred to Calcutta.⁴

¹ See English in Bengal, I, 183-4.

² See note at page 261 of the Diary which follows.

³ See English in Bengal, I, 184; also pages 261-266 in the Diary which follows.

⁴ See English in Bengal, II, I, xxiii.

CHAPTER II.

PREPARATIONS FOR THE EMBASSY.

In 1710, Ziāu-d-dīn Khān was sent to Bengal as governor of Hugli and admiral in the Bay, and negotiations for sending an embassy to the emperor were revived. At the request of the English Company Ziāu-d-dīn Khān wrote to Prince 'Azīm-sh-shān, the nominal governor at Bengal, then with the emperor, asking him to procure from his father a farmān for the British trade and intimating that the English had got ready a present which they desired to forward to the imperial court. In May, 1711, the English president, John Russell, and three members of his council were summoned to Hugli to hear the prince's answer. The prince was an old friend of the English and appeared ready enough to procure the farmān, but he wanted details. How was the farmān to be worded, and what was the value of the gifts they offered in return? To serve their present need the prince was sending his nishān, or grant, to trade according to their former liberties, and Ziāu-d-dīn Khān wished to know how much they would give him for getting it. The English astutely replied that they would be better able to judge of the worth of the nishān when they had perused it. Neither were they prepared to reply definitely as to the provisions of the farmān till they heard from Surat and Fort St. George.¹ Meanwhile, in August, they wrote again to the prince reminding him of their expectations of obtaining a farmān through his favour and promising to send to the court their 'small and inconsiderable present.' But until they could be made so happy as to lay it at his feet, they asked for an injunction on the dewan to abstain from molesting their trade.² In October, however, Ziāu-d-dīn Khān having been removed from the government of Hugli, they thought it best to come to terms with the dewan (Murslid Quli Khān).³ Towards the end of the year instructions were received from Madras explaining the requirements of that presidency.⁴

¹ English in Bengal, II, I, 14.

² Ib., 22nd.

³ Ib., 28.

⁴ See the appendix to the Diary, pp. 255-259.

CSL

At the beginning of the year 1712, the present, which had been carefully revised, was lying, packed in boats, ready to go up the river, and the council was considering whom to send with it as ambassadors, when the news came that the emperor had died at Lahor.¹ The usual dynastic disputes followed. For a time the eldest son Jahāndār held the imperial power, and in July the English ventured to send him a letter explaining their intention of sending a present to Delhi and obtaining an imperial farmān. But, by the end of the year Jahāndār's course was run, and with the aid of the Sayyad brothers 'Abdu-llah and Husain 'Alī, his nephew Farrukhsiyar had seated himself on the peacock throne. Again the time seemed opportune for approaching the Mughal. Jahāndār had favoured the Dutch, whose embassy under Kettler, originally sent to Shāh 'Ālam, had, during his successor's short reign, obtained important concessions.² But Farrukhsiyar, like his father 'Agimu-sh-shān, was the traditional friend of the English in Bengal, who had sent him toys and presents as a boy, who had secured from his father the grant of the three villages of Sutanuti, Calcutta and Govindpur, and who now hoped to secure from the son still larger concessions of territory and trade privileges. Accordingly, in March, 1713, the president and council at Calcutta wrote to the emperor, explaining that the present and the embassy were now ready to set out, and asking that orders should be sent to the local governors to convey them through the extent of their governments. They also referred to the obstructive action of the dewan, Murshid Quli Khān, and asked for an imperial order ad interim to permit their business to go on as formerly.³

The English, however, did not at this time rely wholly on the reasonableness of their representations and the intercession of Ziāu-d-dīn Khān. They attempted to improve upon Governor Pitt's diplomatic methods. The Dutch, so it was said, had obtained their recent concessions from Jahāndār mainly through the instrumentality of certain Armenians at Delhi, and the English were resolved to do the same. They therefore allowed the great Armenian merchant at Calcutta, Khawājah Sarhād, to enter into private negotiations with the court through padre Daniel and various others of his fellow countrymen in Delhi. In so doing the English were ill-advised. Padre Daniel and

¹ English in Bengal, II, I, xxiii and 41-43.

² See Valentijn's Oude en Nieuw Ost-Indien, Dordrecht, 1726, IV, 282-307. Also the appendix to the Diary.

³ English in Bengal, II, I, 111-2.

CSL

his friends knew much better how to extract money from their credulous employers than how to win concessions from the Mughal government. They had no reputation and no influence. Their only skill was simple lying. Yet, at first they seemed to succeed. Through their agency, letters were sent to the principal court officials, informing them that the English merchants had a present for his Majesty ready in Bengal, but were hesitating about sending it, as they were under serious apprehensions that they might fail in their suit to the imperial throne and their business might miscarry. They wished to have some security before they parted with their present, and requested an order for freedom of trade in Bengal. It was further represented that the Armenian merchant Khawajah Sarhad had the entire management of the present and could practically dispose of it as he pleased. He engaged to forward the present immediately and come with it himself if the order for freedom of trade were only granted.¹ These representations were crowned with an immediate and probably unexpected success. The mention of presents consisting of cloth, silks and brocades, fire-arms, spirits and perfumes, glassware, clockwork and other toys, appears to have aroused the curiosity of the imperial court, for in such matters Farrukhsiyar was little better than a child, and it appears to have been thought quite worth while to gratify the English at Calcutta with an order for freedom of trade, if only this wonderful present could be brought to Delhi.

Accordingly, in October, 1713, orders were received in Calcutta under the seal of Taqarrub Khan, the lord steward, directed to the governors of Bengal, Patna, Allahabad and Akbarabad ordering them to guard the present through their several governments till its arrival with the English embassy at court.² In January, 1714, a further order arrived from Delhi, forbidding Murshid Quli Khan to interfere with the English trade which was to pass with the same custom and privilege as in former days.³ On the receipt of this last order, the council thought it politic to make great public rejoicings in Calcutta, and they now at length turned their serious attention to the sending of the long deferred embassy with their present to the Mughal.

On January 5, 1714, the council entered upon an anxious debate as to which of the Company's servants should be selected for sending to Delhi. A minority maintained that it would be disrespectful to the

¹ Diary, 149.

² English in Bengal, II, 7, 143.

³ Ib., 153.

CSL

Great Mughal if the head of the embassy were not a civil servant of high standing and a member of the council; but the majority, probably quite rightly, maintained that these distinctions of rank were nothing to the Mughal, who would regard even a peer of the greatest monarchy in Europe as infinitely beneath him, and, consequently, that it would suffice to leave the conduct of the embassy to a junior civil servant provided he was able and well qualified.¹ A second point of difficulty arose from the fact that none of the Company's servants appear to have had a sufficient mastery of the Persian language to conduct the negotiation unaided. Had the embassy been despatched from Madras, it had been intended to supply this defect by employing the great Italian traveller Manucci.² But Manucci was now too old³, and it was hopeless to think of finding in Calcutta any European of similar abilities and qualifications. The only suitable person for the business was the Armenian merchant Khwajah Israel Sarhad, the nephew of the celebrated Khwajah Fānūs Kalāntar. Khwajah Sarhad had been for many years well acquainted with the English and their affairs.⁴ He had been to England at one time with his uncle, and must have known something of the English language, though he was not able to read or write it.⁵ He had been resident in Calcutta probably from its foundation. In 1697-8 he had taken a prominent part in the negotiations with Prince 'Azīm-sh-shān which had resulted in the acquisition of the three villages of Calcutta, Sūtānūtī, and Govindpur. At the same time he had become personally known to Farrukhsiyar, then a handsome boy of fourteen, fond of all kinds of games and physical exercises, and had made him presents of guns and toys.⁶ The English were ready to believe that Khwajah Sarhad was still a persona grata to the emperor, and that it was at any rate partly for old acquaintance sake that he had already granted so favourable a reception to the representations made by Sarhad on behalf of the English. It is not surprising then that Khwajah Sarhad was given a place in the embassy; the appointment in fact must have seemed inevitable. Nevertheless, although the English were not at this time aware of the disreputable character

¹ English in Bengal, II, I, 154-5.

² My authority for this statement is an extract from a private letter from the late A. T. Pringle to Mr. Irvine, which he has kindly communicated to me. [I have since found the official entry; it is dated the 14th January 1712, in the time of President Edward Harrison.—W. I.]

³ He is said to have died an octogenarian in 1717. So Mr. Irvine tells me.

⁴ Diary, I, 206.

⁵ Appendix to the Diary.

⁶ English in Bengal, II, I, 7.

CSL

of Sarhād's agents at Delhi and the dishonourable nature of their methods of negotiation, yet they seem to have had no high opinion of Sarhād's private character and to have distrusted him from the first. It was agreed that he would require careful watching and that the English members of the mission would have to keep one eye on the Mughal and the other on the Armenian.¹

The terms agreed upon with Sarhād, under which he received his appointment to the embassy, are recorded in the consultation of January 27. First, if all the privileges the Company have at any time heretofore enjoyed in the Mughal's dominions be confirmed in the new farmān, and if he gets our bounds enlarged as far as we desire, that is, northward to near Barnagar, eastward to the lake, and southward to Kidderpur, and that the shore on the side of the river opposite to this place be also granted to us, also if he endeavour earnestly to get the grant of Divi Island near Masulipatam which the president and council at Madras desire may be obtained for that presidency, his reward is then to be fifty thousand rupees; but he is to have nothing if he fails in these points. Secondly, if he procures the privilege for our nation to trade custom free at Surat, which he will attempt, he is to have fifty thousand rupees more for that service; but, if he fails in that he is not to have the reward. He is nevertheless to endeavour to get the custom we pay at that port reduced to 2½ per cent.²

The Company's servants first nominated to the embassy were John Surman, chief, John Pratt, second, Edward Stephenson, third.³ But, on January 27, the order was revised. Khwājah Sarhād was appointed second, John Pratt third, and Edward Stephenson secretary and accountant.⁴ Finally, on March 4, as Pratt desired to be excused from proceeding to Delhi, Edward Stephenson was once more made third and Hugh Barker secretary in the negotiation at the Mughal's court.⁵

The members of the embassy, as thus finally constituted, presented some sharp contrasts of character. The selection of the chief seems to have been in every way happy. John Surman, if we may judge from the scanty notices we have left of him, was one of those men, none too common in the service of the Company at this time, who, like Charnock, preferred public interests to private, who were more intent on the establishment of the English trade and the English position in India

¹ English in Bengal, II, I, 157; see also the instructions in the appendix to the Diary.

² English in Bengal, II, I, 153.

³ Ib., 153-4.

⁴ Ib., 163.

⁵ Ib., 165.

CSL

than the building up of their own fortunes, a man of great ability and of great integrity, of strong passions and a strong will, a man, as the Indians say, of great heart.¹ Of middle class origin, born probably in London, the son of John Surman, coachmaker, and his wife Susanna, John Surman was elected a writer on December 20, 1706.² The usual age for candidates for the writership was 17 years, and we shall not err greatly if we assume this to have been Surman's age at the time. On December 23, the court accepted as his securities Henry Watts, citizen and innholder, and John Surman, citizen and coachbuilder, the young man's presumptive father. At the same time the newly elected writer was ordered to take passage on the Dutchess for the Bay of Bengal.³ The Dutchess sailed on February 20, 1707,⁴ and John Surman arrived writer in Bengal on August 19, 1707.⁵ On January 30, 1710, he was sent to Patna,⁶ and on April 19, 1712, though not out of his writership, was taken into the council at Patna as being 'very sufficiently qualified to give his advice and every way fit to assist in these troublesome times.'⁷ How qualified to advise, how fit to take charge of the highest interests of the Company, the history of the embassy will the more clearly show.

The third in the negotiation, Edward Stephenson, was a character cast in a more ordinary mould. Honest and capable, no doubt, he was without that conspicuous ability and zeal for the public service which distinguish John Surman. He was content to do his duty and get rich quietly. Consequently he succeeded in satisfying his masters, retiring with a fortune to die many years afterwards in England at the age of 72, well off and highly respected.⁸ Edward Stephenson was born in Cumberland in 1691, his baptism being recorded in the parish register of Crosthwaite on the 8th October of that year. His father was Edward Stephenson of Keswick. Through his mother Rebecca, he was connected with the Winders of Lorton and of the City of London. On November 3, 1708, the court of directors read a petition from Edward Stephenson, then seventeen years old, 'praying to be enter-

¹ Bengal Public Consultations for July 26 and August 23, 1725.

² Court Book, XLII, 422.

³ Ib., 428.

⁴ Her Log.

⁵ English in Bengal, II, I, 205.

⁶ Ib., I, 327.

⁷ Ib., II, I, 53.

⁸ I have given a short account of the personal history of Stephenson in my article An unrecorded Governor of Fort William in Bengal, in the Journal of the Asiatic Society of Bengal, LXVII, 1, 137-17.

named a writer in the Bay or elsewhere,' and ordered the committee of accounts to examine the petitioner's qualifications.¹ On November 24, Edward Stephenson was elected a writer in the Company's service.² On December 17 following Mr. Samuel and Mr. Jonathan Winder were accepted as his securities.³ He arrived writer in Bengal on February 2, 1710.⁴ In the seventy-fifth paragraph of the general letter from Bengal to the court of directors Edward Stephenson was specially commended.⁵ On this account he was advanced a year in service by the court and made a factor from February 2, 1714.⁶ In the embassy he adequately supported his chief, but it is not likely that he could have ever replaced him.

The secretary, Hugh Barker, was in many ways the antithesis of John Surman. Well-connected and possessing in consequence some influence with the court of directors, he appears to have been an unprofitable servant of the Company, neglectful of its interests, using whatever abilities and opportunities he had solely for his own advantage. The court books show that Hugh Barker first petitioned to enter the Company's service on December 8, 1710.⁷ He was elected writer on December 15,⁸ and on December 22, Richard Barker of Great Horwood and Arthur Crabb of Alisbury were accepted as his securities.⁹ He took his passage on the *Aurengzebe*¹⁰ and arrived writer in Bengal on August 17, 1711.¹¹ During the negotiation, he seems to have discharged his duties satisfactorily under the supervision of Surman and Stephenson. It was subsequently, at Patna, that the defects in his moral character showed themselves, and the council was constrained to dismiss him from the service. Restored again through his influence with the directors, he returned to Bengal to pursue his evil ways as before, and 'met with a wretched end.'¹²

¹ Court Book, XLIII, 231.

² Court Book, XLIII, 275.

³ Ib., 344.

⁴ English in Bengal, II, I, 205.

⁵ Ib., 379.

⁶ General Letter to Bengal, dated January 13, 1714, paragraph 48.

⁷ Court Book, XLIV, 235.

⁸ Ib., 243.

⁹ Ib., 280.

¹⁰ English in Bengal, II, I, 341.

¹¹ Ib., 93 and 205.

¹² This view of Barker's character is partly based on the notices of him in the records and partly on the first letter from Captain Fenwick on the Company's Affairs in Bengal found in the Orme Collections at the India Office. India VI. Of Surman, Fenwick says, 'He was a valuable man to them [i.e., the Company], and would have made Bengal flourish had he lived, but the Directors and a lady's cruelty in England hastened his death.'

CSL

One more appointment to the embassy remains to be noticed, the doctor, William Hamilton. Of his early history I have already written at length,¹ tracing his descent from the Hamiltons of Dalzell, and suggesting that he originally took service in 1709 on the Sherborne bound for India in the hopes of speedily making a fortune and returning to marry his cousin Anna. Of considerable ability, but wanting in decision and hopefulness, William Hamilton had well nigh brought his life to utter ruin when he deserted his ship at Cuddalore in May, 1711. His appointment to the embassy gave him an opportunity of retrieving his past, and he availed himself of it nobly.

During the first months of the year 1714, notes of preparation for Delhi are found in the Consultations book. Payments are recorded to John Burnell² for having 'with great care and ingenuity perfected a map of the world in two rounds six foot two inches diameter curiously embellished with gold and silver,' also to Mirzā Ibrāhīm³ for writing the title and names of places in Persian. The clocks belonging to the present were so numerous that it was found necessary to send a clock-maker with them to the court⁴ to take care of them and repair any damage that might happen in the way. Various additions were also thought of; at one time more silks and cloth, arms, clocks and toys;⁵ at another time two jappanned copper fountains and a double-barrelled gun;⁶ and finally fifty more chests of Shirāz wine.⁷ Allowances were made to Stephenson and Hamilton⁸ to provide themselves with necessaries, and Rs. 5,000 were advanced to provide carpets, quilts and kitchen necessaries which could not be got at Patna or elsewhere.⁹ The garrison was increased by fifty men so as to allow of a suitable escort of 300 men being sent with the boats.¹⁰ On April 19, the soldiers were marched on board and the boats started on their way.¹¹ In May, the two royal macebearers arrived at Hugli with a gold dross of honour for the president and a silver one for Khwajah Sarhad,

¹ English in Bengal, II, I, vii-xiii.

² Ib., 160.

³ Ib., 153.

⁴ Ib., 165.

⁵ Ib., 153-9.

⁶ Ib., 162.

⁷ Ib., 170.

⁸ Ib., 152.

⁹ Ib., 163.

¹⁰ Ib., 163.

¹¹ Ib., 171.

which were received in Calcutta on June 1 with a great public display and marks of rejoicing.¹

The ambassadors received full instructions from Madras and Bombay as well as from Calcutta.² They took with them notes of the proceedings of Sir William Norris, and of the Dutch embassy to Shāh 'Ālam and Jahāndār under Kettler. They took with them the originals of the most important grants made to the English in Bengal. The final letter of instruction, dated May 13, 1714, is clear and full, giving us even a list of the servants allowed with their wages, including a trumpeter and six soldiers in decent habits to attend Mr. Surman. The different books to be kept by the embassy and its procedure were carefully specified. In case of Surman's death, it was ordered that Stephenson should succeed as chief. Four sets of goods separately listed were sent with the embassy. First, there were the goods and rarities comprised in the king's present valued at Rs. 1,02,472-11-4. Other goods valued at Rs. 1,08,248-11-3 were intended principally for presents to the court nobles, but could be used to supplement the imperial present, if necessary. Amongst these goods was included a stock of wine and other liquors. A third set of goods, valued at Rs. 29,958-4-0, consisted of cloth and other articles needed for the personal service of the embassy. Lastly the embassy took with it forty-seven bales of Bengal piece goods to sell on account of the merchants, Surman receiving 2 per cent., Sarhād 2 per cent., and Stephenson 1 per cent. of the proceeds. The embassy had been strictly forbidden to take merchants' goods from Patna to Delhi. The departure from the rule in the case of Calcutta was justified on the plea that it would save the exchange, as the money realised by the sale of the goods could be used to pay the current expenses of the embassy, while the merchants could be repaid in Calcutta.

¹ ib., 175.

² Appendix at the end of the Diary.

CHAPTER III.

THE COURT OF FARRUKHSIYAR.

Before following the ambassadors to Patna and thence to Delhi, it will be convenient to take a brief survey of the condition of affairs at the Mughal court. As we have seen, Farrukhsiyar¹ had been raised to the throne through no merits of his. He owed his sudden elevation to the intercession of his mother, and to the attachment of the Sayyad brothers to his father's memory. Physically strong and handsome, he was intellectually weak and morally depraved. Accordingly, all his most noticeable characteristics are connected with his excellence of body.² He was naturally fond of wrestling, archery, hunting, horsemanship, polo-playing, and other soldierly exercises. He had an extraordinary fondness for horses. Several thousands of them, we are told, stood in his private stables, and a select number were tethered under the balcony of his sleeping room. He could call every horse and its eyes by name, and noticed at once any change in a horse's condition. He was also fond of fine clothes, and liked to dress in gold embroidered raiment edged with gold lace.³ Generally he was profuse and liberal in his living and expenditure. Such qualities recommended him at all times to the favour of the lower classes, and they would make him as a prince popular with his immediate companions. The English, we may be sure, were taken with his good looks and fondness for manly exercises. But such qualities were not sufficient for the master of a great empire. As a ruler Farrukhsiyar displayed nothing but weakness. Feeble in intellect, cowardly, false, and faithless, no one could either fear him or like him. On becoming emperor, there were two courses of action open to him with reference to the Sayyad brothers, Abdullah Khān and Husain 'Alī. Following the dictates of gratitude and prudence, he might have left these powerful ministers to pursue their own way, contenting himself with the outward show and the name of emperor. But, according to the customs of his day and country, Farrukhsiyar would have committed no exceptional crime, and would have displayed no extraordinary ingratitude, if he had turned upon the two Sayyad brothers as soon as he became king, and dismissed them, or even put them to death.¹ So had the great Akbar done; and so would Farrukhsiyar have done, had he been strong enough to follow the advice of the favourites who surrounded him, of whom the principal were Khān Daurān, Mīr Jumlah, and Taqarrub Khān.

¹ Mr. Irvine thinks that Farrukhsiyar was born on Ramazān 19, 1094 i.e., September 1, 1683. See his article on The Later Mughals in the Journal of the Asiatic Society of Bengal, LX XIII, 1.

² Mr. Irvine speaks of him in one place in the same article as 'a strong man, perhaps the handsomest and most powerfully-built of Bābar's race that had ever occupied the throne.'

³ Mr. Irvine's article on The Later Mughals in the Journal of the Asiatic Society of Bengal LX XIII, 1.

Khawājah A'sim, Samsamu-d-daulah, Khān Daurān, Bahādur, Mansūr Jang, was the son of Khawājah Qāsim of Agra, his ancestors having emigrated from Badakhshān. He began life as a trooper in the regiment commanded by 'Azīmu-sh-shān, but when the prince went up to the court, Khawājah A'sim had remained in Bengal with Farrukhsiyar over whom he gained great influence. He was the companion of the young prince's amusements, wrestling, archery and the like. In the end he proved to be the evil genius of Farrukhsiyar and of Muhammad Shāh after him. The other two favourites were men of much less importance. 'Ubaidullah, Mīr Jumlah, a native of Samarkand, born about 1670-71 had come to India in the reign of Aurangzēb. He was appointed qāsi, first at Dacca, and afterwards at Patna; and, while in Bengal, succeeded in ingratiating himself with 'Azīmu-sh-shān, and afterwards with Farrukhsiyar, who made him dārōghah of the khawāṣ, or pages. Mīr Muḥammad Ja'far of Shirāz, entitled Taqarrub Khān, was steward to Farrukhsiyar while a prince in Bengal and had shown himself friendly to the English. When Farrukhsiyar became emperor, Muḥammad Ja'far naturally became lord steward.²

Naturally, too, when Farrukhsiyar became emperor, the small group of men, who had known him from childhood, and who were on intimate terms with him, were anxious to get their full share of the loaves and fishes of office, and were aggrieved at seeing some of the most considerable appropriated by the Sayyads and their partisans. Afraid to take any open step, they gathered round Farrukhsiyar in secret and filled his ears with complaints and suspicions.

¹ Mr. Irvine's article on The Later Mughals in the Journal of the Asiatic Society of Bengal, LXXIII, 1.

² See footnotes in the Diary at pages 43, 54 and 101.

CSL

The result was that the emperor's relations with his two great supporters and most powerful ministers were from the first hopelessly prejudiced. Even before he arrived at Delhi, Farrukhsiyar had begun to look with suspicion on the Sayyads. He had no sooner agreed to the appointment of 'Abdullah as wasir than he began to repent of it. Husain 'Ali warned his brother that he judged from Farrukhsiyar's talk that he was a man who paid no regard to the claims of services rendered, a man void of faith, a breaker of his word and altogether without shame¹. This singularly clear-sighted estimate of character was almost immediately confirmed by an open difference of opinion between the king and the wasir. The king wished to make Chhabilah Rām diwan of the khāshah, and Afzal Khān, ṣadr-ṣ-ṣudūr. But the wasir had already assigned these posts to Luṭfullah Khān and Amjad Khān, and fell into a violent passion at the idea of setting aside these appointments. A compromise was agreed upon allowing Luṭfullah to be diwan, while Afzal Khān was made ṣadr-ṣ-ṣudūr, but the ill feeling between the emperor and the Sayyad brothers remained².

Early in Farrukhsiyar's reign it was found necessary to proceed against the rājah of Jodhpur, Ajit Singh, who had taken advantage of the late confusion to eject the imperial officers from his capital and prohibit the call to prayer. At first it was intended that the emperor should command in person. But he was not apparently in good health. Consequently the command was given to Husain 'Ali, Khān Daurān being appointed to act as the deputy of Husain 'Ali at court and second *bakhshī*³. Husain 'Ali left Delhi in December, 1713, and vigorously attacked the rājah's forces during the first months of 1714⁴. At last Ajit Singh was constrained to come to terms; and agreed to give one of his daughters in marriage to the emperor, and to allow his son to accompany Husain 'Ali to the court promising to attend himself also when summoned⁵.

Meanwhile 'Abdullah, the wasir, immersed in pleasure at Delhi, left all business matters to his deputy Ratn Chand; and the emperor renewed his plots to destroy the two Sayyads. For the moment all real power passed into the hands of the favourite Mir Jumrah, but in

¹ Mr. Irvine's article on The Later Mughals in the Journal of the Asiatic Society of Bengal, LXXII, I, 42-3.

² Ib., 43-4.

³ Ib., 45.

⁴ Ib., 46-7.

⁵ Ib., 48-9.

July, at the request of his brother, Husain 'Ali returned to Delhi, and the emperor's plots all came to nothing.¹ Towards the end of the year 1714 a pretended reconciliation was effected between the emperor and the two Sayyads². In December, Mir Jumlah was sent away to be governor of Bihar³. Husain 'Ali also took leave on his appointment as governor of the Deccan, but he does not appear to have actually started till the end of March, 1715. He left, threatening to return in twenty days if his brother were annoyed or Mir Jumlah recalled⁴. He had hardly departed when Dāūd Khān was appointed to Burhānpur, one of the Deccan governments, with secret instructions from the court to resist Husain 'Ali and kill him if possible⁵.

Such were Farrukhsiyar's devices to get rid of his too powerful minister Husain 'Ali. Against his wazir, 'Abdullah, he continued to devise abortive plots, and to solicit support from any noble or official whom he supposed likely to help him. His favourite device, however, was to assemble suddenly a band of followers and with them to rove about in the neighbourhood of the capital, ostensibly for the purpose of hunting, but really, it would seem, in the hope of somehow surprising the wazir and seizing his person. But the wazir, though lethargic and careless, was not altogether so neglectful of what was passing as to be taken unawares by Farrukhsiyar.

¹ Mr. Irvine's article on The Later Mughals in the Journal of the Asiatic Society of Bengal, LXXII, I, 49-51.

² Ib., 52.

³ Ib., 55-9.

⁴ Ib., 63.

⁵ Ib., 60.

CHAPTER IV.

PROCEEDINGS AT PATNA.

The Surman diary opens on August 15, 1714, at Patna, where the English embassy were waiting for the arrival of the promised escort from the king to go with them to Delhi. The present was by this time gathered together, filling every available corner of the Patna factory besides several small houses hired to receive it. On September 1, Surman, Stephenson, Barker, and Hamilton, with all their belongings, removed to a separate residence of their own, where they not only enjoyed greater dignity and freedom of action, but were also better able to take stock of their extensive collections.¹ Towards the middle of October they were joined by Khwajah Sachad.² Very little was left to complete the present. A few alterations in the shape of the flint-ware, a few cut-glass bottles and cases, a few silver pots and pans, candlesticks and maces,³ and there it stood ready for transport, cloths and silkstuffs, spirits and perfumes, crockery and cutlery, fire-arms and cannons, sixty tons of delights for the Mughal and his court.⁴

The modern traveller from Patna to Delhi makes the journey with perfect ease in less than twenty-four hours, and, even if he should wish to bring with him a ship-load of luggage, the time of transport would hardly exceed a week. The embassy to Farrukhsiyar with a far smaller burden could not reach the capital in less than ten months. Of these it took three to drag its slow length along the imperial road; the other seven were spent in preparations to start, preparations required for safety no less than honour.

The ambassadors thought it necessary to wear the finest clothes procurable and to provide themselves with silver plated palanquins.⁵ Their servants were decked with handsome liveries, and many of their retinue were carried in litters. Before Mr. John Surman, as chief of the

¹ Diary, 2.

² Ib., 5.

³ Ib., 6, 7.

⁴ A hundred wagons, each carrying 16 mans, were required for the Company's presents, see foot-note⁶ on page xi. iii. Reckoning the bazir man as 82 lbs. the total weight would be sixty

⁵ Ib.

⁶ Diary, 11.

CSL

embassy, were borne two flags displaying the Union Jack, and the same honour was allowed to Khwājah Sarhad as principal agent and interpreter.¹ Two sets of tents were bought, one for present use, and one for sending on a stage in advance to be ready for the next day.² No less than a hundred and sixty bullock-wagons, each creaking beneath a load of more than half a ton, were required for the whole stock of their goods,³ which, in addition to the king's present, included a large consignment of private merchandise.⁴ For their other transport there were fifteen camels, ten carts, and twenty-two oxen to tug the guns.⁵ A still larger retinue of servants followed the embassy, including a trumpeter and six soldiers, a clockmaker, four smiths, ten carpenters, thirty spademen and twelve hundred porters, besides wagoners and drivers.⁶

The safeguarding of so rich a convoy could not but be a matter of the greatest anxiety to Surman and his colleagues. Owing to the dissolution of the Mughal rule, and the consequent carelessness or weakness of every one in authority, bands of armed robbers infested every road and every province of the empire. The Ujainis, who harboured in the hills to the south of Gaya, were the dread of travellers from Patna to Benares.⁷ Mewattis lurked in the ravines on the road between Mūsānagar and Agra;⁸ and rebellious Jats plundered pilgrims on their way to Mathura, seizing and holding townships close to the imperial capital itself.⁹

It was in inducing the Mughal court to provide for the safe conduct of the present that the English achieved their first diplomatic successes. Already, as we have seen, in October, 1712, orders on the subject had been received in Calcutta from Delhi, requiring all the local governors to guard the treasure [through their several governments].¹⁰ The orders received in Patna a year later went a good deal further. As early as September it was reported that the king had decided to send an escort for the present. In October definite information

¹ Diary, 8.

The Diary more than once mentions the peshkhāna. See for instance pages 228 and 233. At page 10 is a list of some of the tents purchased.

² Diary, 8.

³ Probably only a hundred wagons were required for public purposes. See note⁴ on page xxiii.

⁴ Diary, 7, 8.

⁵ Ib., 7, 8, 275.

⁶ Ib., 12, 20, 24.

⁷ Ib., 42.

⁸ Irvine's Later Mughals, section 19, in the Journal of the Asiatic Society of Bengal, LXXIII, I.

¹⁰ English in Bengal, II, 1, 148.

CSL

reached Patna that his majesty had commanded a chela of the court with a mace-bearer to go with the ambassadors, and had sent instructions to the governors and duwāns of every province on the road to defray their travelling expenses.¹ At the end of the month the chela and two mace-bearers arrived at Patna with the emperor's orders.²

The concession of the travelling expenses of the embassy was said to be due to the influence of the grandees at court who were friends of Khawājah Sarhād. But, according to Surman and Stephenson, Khawājah Sarhād had no friendship, and at this time hardly any acquaintance, with any of the court grandees. His only connections were with padre Daniel and a few other disreputable Armenians.³ These men, acting presumably on the instructions of Sarhād, and fortified by promises of large sums of English money, began to make a great noise in the city during the last months of the year 1713. Padre Daniel did not scruple to declare that the English present was worth fifteen or even thirty lacs of rupees.⁴ At the end of the year, when Husain 'Ali left Delhi to go against Ajit Singh and the court favourites made their effort to seize command of the government, Khān Daurān thought he would do something to please the king and show his ability. It occurred to him that it would be a good thing if he could get the credit of introducing an embassy with so rich a present to Delhi. He therefore enquired of the Armenians, through his follower Sayyad Salābat Khān, whether the present was really of such great value. A written declaration was handed in to the lord steward's office that the present amounted in value to fifteen lacs of rupees, and a large bribe was given to old Salābat Khān. In this way Khān Daurān was convinced that the present was really a matter of great importance and induced the emperor to grant the payment of the travelling expenses of the embassy.⁵

It is clear that wholesale lying of this description, though it might secure temporary advantages to the English embassy, would in the end bring it into complete discredit; and, even as it was, the advantages secured were not so great as they seemed. On October 29, when the chela actually reached Patna bringing the royal orders to the governor, the diwān, and the bugutā, the first two officials were absent from the city⁶ and the third began to raise objections. The list of wagons and

¹ Diary, 5.

² Ib., 6.

³ See their letter of December 20, 1716, in the Diary, 147 to 150.

⁴ Diary, 142.

⁵ Ib.

⁶ Diary, 6.

porters presented to him for sanction was stamped with the sign mark of John Surman, whereas the king's order referred to Khwajah Sarhad.¹ When this difficulty was removed, alterations were proposed in the number and size of the wagons asked for.² A few days later, the diwan in his interview with Sarhad demanded a detailed account of the goods to be carried, and objected to providing wagons or porters for any merchandise which did not form part of the present.³ At first Sarhad consented to strike off sixty wagons and three hundred porters from the list, but on reflection he decided that it would be better to ask the king's officers to provide for the whole of the transport.⁴ Meanwhile the diwan and the bugutai were disputing as to who should pay the bill and at the same time objecting that the embassy 'was in no readiness to proceed'.⁵ Upon this they were told that the embassy would certainly start on January 11, 1715, and, accordingly, on that day Surman and his followers left the city and went to their tents under an escort of two hundred horsemen.⁷ But they were not yet to proceed. The nabob Ghairat Khan, being a Parhah Sayyad, nearly related to the wasir, was not likely to forward any business set on foot by Khan Dauran, or supposed to redound to that noble's credit at Court. He therefore now raised objections, urging that as he himself was about to leave the government of Bihar, having been replaced by Mir Jumla, he could not take the responsibility of allowing either the imperial treasure or the embassy to proceed to Delhi.⁸ After six weeks of disputes, he consented to pass orders for its dispatch.⁹ Two months' pay was given for the porters, and an escort of two hundred horse promised, which eventually dwindled down to fifty horse and fifty foot.¹⁰

The English, impatient at these numerous delays, were content to go on any terms. For the first part of the way they felt tolerably safe. A judicious letter and presents of cloth, fire-arms, and other useful articles of western manufacture had been sent to Sidist

¹ Ib., 3.

² Ib.

³ Ib., 9.

⁴ He originally asked for 160 wagons, see Diary 8. From this it may be inferred that only a hundred wagons were required for the Company's presents. Again, at p. 38 of the Diary, the merchants' goods overlaiden are reckoned to weigh 910 mans. This is practically fifty-seven wagons of 16 mans each.

⁵ Diary, 13.

⁶ Ib., 14.

⁷ Ib., 14, 19.

⁸ Ib., 19.

⁹ Ib., 23.

¹⁰ Ib., 23, 24.

CSL

Narayan, the new chief of the Ujainiyah clan, who, with 14,000 horse and 80,000 foot, held command of all the way to Sassarān, and he had in return assured both the nabob and the English that he would not touch the king's present.¹ It seemed needless to wait for any further escort or any more money from the nabob. The English therefore gave advances to their retinue and on March 3 arrived at Naubatpur, a closely built town some fifteen miles to the south-west of Patna.

But here fresh circumstances arose to cause delay. Already on more than one occasion, Khwājah Sarhād had exhibited a disposition to assert his authority over the whole course of the negotiations. He now refused to leave Patna and join his colleagues, professing to be still negotiating for an escort, as he was afraid of the bandits on the road, and to be still in expectation of obtaining further advances from the king's officers. The English attributed all this to sheer perversity and entered a protest against their colleague for his delays.² But in the expectation of further advances time proved Sarhād to be right, and the English might have inferred as much from the obvious embarrassment which Sarhād's persistency caused the nabob, who thought that he had got rid of the embassy cheaply and was consequently extremely angry at finding them still on his hands. The deputy of the buyutāt was ordered to go out in haste and speed the parting merchants. Sarhād instigated the king's chela and the two mace-bearers to stop him, but he escaped them and arrived at Naubatpur on March 22. Close at his heels came Khwājah Sarhād.³

At the consultation held next day, March 23, Sarhād produced a letter from padre Daniel at Delhi, which might well have given rise to misgivings in the minds of the ambassadors.⁴ The English, though as yet they knew it not, had been misdirected from the first by their Armenian agents and had begun their negotiations at Delhi upon altogether wrong lines. Like Jugurtha at Rome, they thought that at Delhi everything was for sale. But the high officers of the Mughal government, though not averse to receiving presents, as the custom was, were not easily to be bribed into disregarding the interests of the state. The Mughal government itself, too, was complicated, and, after its kind highly developed. It was split up into numerous departments each

¹ Diary, 12, 25.

² Ib., 24, 25.

³ Ib., 24, 28.

⁴ Ib., 28, 29.

⁵ Ib., 29, 30.

CSL

having its own sphere, guided by rulings and precedents, and by state maxims and political doctrines of its own. The great offices of the government were at this time held by the Sayyad brothers, 'Abdullah Khān, Qutbu-l-Mulk, the wazir, and Husain 'Alī, Amīru-l-umārā, the chief bakhshi. These men and their followers were the real substantial rulers of India; beside them Farrukhsiyar, and his favourites, Khān Daurān and Mir Jumlah, were mere shadows. The English were seeking to obtain farmāns, or imperial rescripts; and it was a settled rule of the Mughal government that all applications for farmāns must be made through the wazir. The present wazir, 'Abdullah Khān, was all powerful in the state and was decidedly friendly to the English. Why then did they not address themselves to 'Abdullah Khān, the wazir, who alone could get them what they wanted? Why did they instead go to Khān Daurān and his worn-out old follower Sayyad Salābat Khān? Khān Daurān it is true was the favourite of the emperor, but as a man he was vain, silly, and weak; and as an official he was but the subordinate of Husain 'Alī. He had no special interest in the English. If he consented to be their patron and to introduce their embassy, it was for the purely selfish object of gaining a little favour with the emperor by bringing something new to amuse him. But the English ambassadors knew nothing of all this. Their ideas of the Mughal government were derived from their Armenian agents, whose ideas were in turn derived from the merchants and shopkeepers in Delhi. Ignorant people seem always unwilling to believe that government is guided by settled principles. They prefer to suppose that bribery and personal influence can carry any measure. Farrukhsiyar and his favourites with their profuse expenditure were at all times popular with the common people, who would naturally exaggerate the influence of a man like Khān Daurān. The English ambassadors at the beginning undoubtedly had their full share of these illusions, and the process of their disillusionment was slow and painful. It began, or should have begun, with this letter of padre Daniel.

The main object of the letter was to deter the English from having any communications with their old friend Zīāu-d-dīn Khān or with the wazir. Their only friends and patrons were to be Khān Daurān and Salābat Khān; and these persons could be approached only through friendly Armenians. Padre Daniel appealed to his former successes in confirmation of his statements. He was the real friend of the English. When their enemies had said it was not worth while spending a lac of rupees for a present worth two lacs, he had magnified the value of the present and declared it to be worth from ten to fifteen lacs. No elem had ever been granted such favours since Tamerlane. But his efforts would be of no effect if the English began to write to Ziaü-d-din Khān and Monsieur Martin, the king's doctor, as John Surman had already done. Instead of this they ought to write letters of thanks to his friends, the grandees at court, who had already done so much.¹

CSL

Whatever else might have been gathered from this letter, it might certainly have been inferred that Daniel was a man with no regard for the truth, and it might have been considered whether such an one was fit to be entrusted with the honour and interests of the English at Delhi. But the English in reply were content to say that Daniel was misinformed in supposing that they had entered into negotiations with any other parties, and that they would write to Khān Daurān and Šalābat Khān. At the same time, they pointed out that he was altogether wrong in asserting that the present amounted to ten or fifteen lacs of rupees, and that such statements were highly improper in the king's darbār.²

After spending a few days at Naubatpur, Khawājah Sarhād returned to Patna, and renewed his negotiations to obtain a further advance of money, negotiations in which he at last succeeded.

¹ Diary, 29, 30.

² Ib., 31, 32.

which fall from him in his torment. Fortunately, at this time of the year, the bed of the river would be nearly dry, so that the most orthodox might well cross it without wetting their feet. A single day sufficed for the passage; and, on May 4, the caravan arrived at the banks of the Ganges, over against Benares.¹

Viewed from the spot where they stood, the sacred city is a picturesque and imposing spectacle. The lofty cliff overhanging the surging river, crowned for three or four miles with temples and palaces, the varied flights of massive steps descending to the sacred stream, the thronging multitudes of worshippers, all combine to form a delightful and fascinating picture of surpassing loveliness. What emotions might we not expect the English ambassadors to feel on beholding for the first time one of the most beautiful of the many beautiful cities of the north-west! But, if they felt them, they certainly kept their feelings to themselves. The entries in the diary are most prosaic and businesslike. For four days, or more, they were ferrying over their goods. On May 8, a prodigious storm of wind and rain did some damage. On May 9, they passed the city of Benares².

Somewhere about Benares the embassy seems to have fallen in with Ghairat Khān, the late governor of Patna, whose place had been taken by Mir Jumlah. The English travelled for many days in his company; but, at Allahābād, finding the rate of progress rather too slow, they respectfully took leave of his honour, and resolved once more to go on their way alone³. Ghairat Khān was anxious to keep them with him, in order that he might have the credit of bringing the present safe to Delhi, and it was not without some difficulty that they were able to leave Allahābād. At the instigation of Ghairat Khān, differences once again arose between the embassy and its servants. On May 22, the porters, discontented with the scanty allowance given them by the government, set upon Khawājah Sarhād, pelting him with stones, and were only pacified by receiving a donative of thirty-six thousand rupees from Mr. Surman.⁴ On May 25, when the embassy had got beyond the city of Allahābād, the wagoners refused to proceed any further, and began to desert their wagons. They demanded the immediate payment of the demurrage promised them, amounting to Rs. 1,970 for 56 days, and Surman was again forced to relax his purse strings⁵.

¹ Diary, 39.

² Id.

³ Id., 40, 41.

⁴ Id.

⁵ Id., 41-42.

CSL

For more than a week the caravan proceeded smoothly and contentedly over the hot tongue of land, to the west of Allahabad, till, on June 6, it reached Mūsānagar, an ancient town standing on the banks of the Jumna, not far from its confluence with the Sengar.¹ In the neighbourhood of these two large streams the country becomes wild and rugged. Here, according to the old proverb, many a battle and many a kingdom have been lost and won; and the deep ravines, now the haunt of the deer and the leopard, were in the times of Farrukhsiyar the lurking places of predatory races, thieves, and cattle-lifters. The whole road to Agra, it is said, was infested with Mewātis, and it was not until the English had reinforced their armed escort with an additional party of forty-five foot soldiers that they allowed their lengthy caravan to pass over the great five-arched bridge which spans the Sengar at Chaparghatta.² Good fortune still attended them; and, on June 16, they reached Itimādpur, twelve miles from Agra, without having met anything worse than a storm of rain.³ The founder of the town, Itimad Khān, the servant of Akbar, lay buried here, and beyond the camping ground, near the road, was the great reservoir of water which he constructed. The rustics call it the old woman's pond, and still tell how, in the troubled days that are past, an ancient witch would crouch on its south-west side, watching for unwary travellers, ready to give the signal for attack, if she thought them an easy prey. On this occasion the witch could not have been at her post, or her judgment failed her. One robber came to the camp; but the English killed him.

On June 17, the embassy reached Rājghāt, over against the red fort of Akbar, and received the news that Queen Anne was dead. They proclaimed King George with due ceremony, and crossed the river to Agra⁴. To the modern traveller the road from this point onwards to Delhi is full of charm and interest. Passing by the splendid pyramid-like tomb of the greatest of the Mughals, in two marches you reach the sacred city of Mathurā, rich in Buddhist and Hindu antiquities; from whence a magnificent and almost unbroken canopy of over-arching boughs stretches for thirty miles towards the imperial city. But for the earlier travellers the journey was cheerless and uninteresting, and the country a howling wilderness, overrun with marauding Jāts. At intervals, massive, fort-like hostelrys with battlemented

¹ Diary, 43.

² Ib.

³ Ib., 4.

⁴ Ib.

CHAPTER V.

THE JOURNEY TO DELHI.

Delay breeds delay. Whilst Sarhād was negotiating in Patna fresh obstacles sprang up at Naubatpur. The wagoners and porters hired for the three months' journey to Delhi were to be paid in advance by instalments. In accordance with this arrangement, two months' pay had been given to the porters at the beginning of March, and a further sum of two thousand rupees had been made over to the embassy which was to be paid to them on reaching Allahābād¹. Owing to Sarhād's protracted negotiations, the beginning of April found the embassy still at Naubatpur, and the porters, seeing that they would be required to undertake a two months' journey with only one month's pay in hand, not unnaturally grew mutinous, and demanded a further advance of money. The hardship of the wagoners was still more real. Five months ago, the embassy had decided to hire wagons². A month later, it had begun to load the goods³. Then it had declared that the journey and the payment of wages should begin from January 11; but in February the wagons still stood laden with goods, many of them rotting in the rain.⁴ It is therefore not surprising that, when the deputy of the bugutai arrived at the end of March, and tendered them an advance of two months' pay, their patience gave way, and they demanded compensation for the past demurrage, and for the extra loads of private merchandise with which the English had burdened the wagons. It was not till after a good deal of discussion that the deputy of the bugutai was able to arrive at a satisfactory settlement of these claims. The English agreed to pay the wagoners for all excess weight of merchandise, at the rate of three hundred rupees a ton, and gave them a promissory note for the demurrage due from their first decampment.⁵ The porters were induced to give an obligation to proceed, on being lent twenty four thousand rupees, and receiving a promise of twenty thousand rupees at Allahābād, which was to be reached in forty-eight days.⁶

¹ Diary, 23 and 3.

² Ib., 5.

³ Ib., 9.

⁴ Ib., 22.

⁵ Ib., 34, 35.

⁶ Ib., 36.

CSL

On April 7, the long caravan left Naubatpur,¹ and moved along the road to the south-west, which skirts the eastern bank of the Son river, the golden Eranoboas of the Greeks. In addition to the escort provided by the government and a small body of European soldiers, the English had taken into their service fifty horse and four hundred foot.² They had also, as has been said, done their best to propitiate their local Fra Diavolo, Sidiṣṭ Nārāyan. For these reasons, or else because the attention of the Ujainis was engaged in other matters, the embassy proceeded on its way unmolested.

On April 14, they reached Ghatauli,³ a village standing on the bank of the Son, some two miles north of the point where it is crossed by the grand trunk road. On April 17, Khwājah Sarhād joined the embassy. He had been fairly successful in his negotiations, and had brought with him nearly ten thousand rupees. He had also been to the camp of Mir Jumlah, the discredited court favourite who had come to take over the government of Patna, and Mir Jumlah had given him a letter to Khān Daurān, and had said that he had also written to the king on behalf of the English. With Sarhād had come the mihmandār, a hundred horse and a hundred foot. But Sarhād did not think it safe to proceed even with this additional escort, and it was resolved to make an attempt to gain the protection of Ghairat Khān, the returning ex-governor of Patna, at any rate as far as Benares⁴.

On April 21, the Son was crossed, and their feet were set on the great highway leading from Bengal to the north-west⁵. At Sasseram, not far from the road, the lion king who made it lay buried in his island tomb. A little further on were the tents of Mir Jumlah. But the English preferred the living dog to the dead lion, and, while they hurried past Sasseram, deemed it 'an absolute necessity' to visit Mir Jumlah in a body, and gratify him and his officers with costly gifts⁶.

On May day, the travellers reached the Karmnāsā, the boundary between the provinces of Allahabad and Bihār, a polluting river, abhorred by pious Hindus, which destroys the merit of all good works. The guilty king, Trisanka, so runs the legend, who tried to make himself equal with the gods, hangs, head downwards, between earth and heaven, above the stream, and taints its waters with the foul drops,

¹ Diary, 37.

² Ib., 15.

³ Ib., 37.

⁴ Ib.

⁵ Ib., 33.

It.

CSL 22

walls, flanking turrets, and high arched gateways, offered shelter from the dangers of the night. But, with all these means of defence, the road was never safe for a force of less than five hundred, and it is on record that, in the days of Jahāngir, a caravan waited for six weeks in Mathurā, gathering strength to proceed. On June 27, while the English lay at Chaumuba,¹ one of the five cities of refuge on the way to Delhi, gangs of armed robbers attacked the camp three times in the night, but were beaten off, with the loss of five men wounded. On July 3, the embassy was at Faridābād, a small town sixteen miles south-west of Delhi, and were met by padre Stephanus, who brought dresses of honour from the king, one for Surman, and one for Sarhād.² The next day, they reached the great bridge of eleven arches to the south of Humayun's tomb, and 'prepared' for their 'entry.'³

The Dutch embassy to Bahādur Shāh, in 1711, had entered Lahor with much state, and the English ambassadors were similarly anxious to 'aggrandise their first appearance'. They wished to be creditably received by some high functionary, and to be allowed to visit the king before proceeding to the house which had been prepared for their entertainment, and in these respects their wishes were gratified. A captain of two thousand, bringing with him two elephants and flags, escorted them to the city with two hundred horse and foot and a noise of drums and trump. At the outward gate, they were met by Sayyad Salābat Khān, whose guests they were to be, by whom they were conducted to the imperial palace. On the way, in order to create a favourable impression, they scattered handfuls of money in the streets. At the palace, they were presented to their great friend Khān Daurān. About noon, the emperor showed himself in the hall of audience, and the English, introduced by their patron Khān Daurān, presented his majesty with Governor Hedges's letter, and with their first offering of rare and costly things, a thousand and one pieces of gold, a table clock set with precious stones, a unicorn's horn, a gold escritoire, a large piece of ambergris, a silver ewer and basin, and a map of the world. The king, in return, invested Surman with a robe of gold zarbaft and a jewelled plume, and Sarhād with an equally rich dress and dagger. Then the ambassadors withdrew to their own quarters, where Salābat Khān entertained them with a great dinner and afterwards visited them in the evening.⁴

¹ Diary, 44.

² Ib., 45.

³ Ib.

⁴ Ib., 45 to 47.

CHAPTER VI.

FARRUKHSIYAR CURED BY HAMILTON.

All this was well enough: but the false position in which the English had been placed by their Armenian representatives now began to make itself felt. According to the established etiquette of the Mughal court, the person next to be visited after the king was the wazir, and the ambassadors had further strong reasons for doing so, in as much as he was not merely an all-powerful minister, but was also well disposed to the English, and the only proper channel through which requests for farmāns could be made. But their Armenian advisers, with that preference for backstairs influence and irregular procedure which characterises the lower classes, entirely misrepresented the state of affairs at Delhi, maintaining that the wazir was only titular¹ and that the executive power lay chiefly with Khān Daurān, the deputy ḡakshī. The English ambassadors accordingly considered themselves bound to invert the correct order of their visits of ceremony, and agreed to deliberately insult the chief personage in the state by first visiting his younger brother's deputy, Khān Daurān, and afterwards the wazir, the high steward, and their old friend Ziān-d-dīn Khān.²

But if the English ambassadors supposed that through the singular influence of Khān Daurān their negotiations would be speedily brought to a favourable conclusion, the events which almost immediately followed their arrival should have begun to open their eyes. Scarcely had they been a week in Delhi, when the restless Farrukhsiyar took it into his head to go on one of his many expeditions, and to wander forth from the city upon the northern road.³ At first he declared that he was going to worship at a local shrine; then he pretended that he was on his way to Ajmer, or Lāhor.⁴ The ambassadors, alarmed at the ¹ Diary, 48. In his letter dated July 17, 1715, Diary, 50, 51, Surman says that the methods they are taking are consistent with the advice and counsel of Ziān-d-dīn Khān. But in this he must have been mistaken. I can hardly believe that Ziān-d-dīn Khān, who was a friend of the wazir, and knew the true state of affairs at court, can have thought it wise to neglect the wazir and go to Khān Daurān.

² Diary, 48, 50.

³ Ib., 50.

⁴ Ib., 56.

CSL 23

prospect of another toilsome march, in the train of the Mughal, determined to give the greater portion of their present at once. The king, however, changed his mind. He merely intended to go to Panipat to pray at the tomb of Bū-'Alī Qalandar, and he sent back the English clocks to keep in good order till his return to the city.¹ In these circumstances, the ambassadors sent their tents to join the imperial camp, concluding 'that it was necessary to attend his majesty in the journey,'² and were rewarded during the next three weeks with numerous opportunities of making their obeisance to the king on the road.³

It is clear, from their correspondence at this time, that the king was not thinking about them. 'We now continue in the camp,' they write on August 4,⁴ 'leaving Mr. Stephenson and Mr. Philips to take care of what goods remain in the city, and, in case that the king should proceed farther, that they concert measures to bring the goods after us. We are in this interval preparing petitions to be delivered to his Majesty, hoping we shall do something for our honourable masters that has not been yet obtained. The patronage and management of this negotiation is in the hands of the greatest favourite at court Khān Daurān, and under him of Sayyad Ṣalābat Khān, withal we being no ways unmindful of our old friend Ziāu-d-dīn Khān, without whose advice we enter upon nothing. But he being at present in a low station is not able to obtain the king's ear. However we are satisfied that, whatever lies in his power, he does and will assist us, but particularly in the wasī's darbār.

Hussain 'Alī Khān Bahādur, Amīru-l-umarā, is lately gone into the Deccan country, having the entire command of all that part of this kingdom. Your Honour and Council have doubtless heard how great he has made himself, even to vie with the commands of his Majesty, as lately appeared in the disputes between himself and Mir Jumlah, whilst at court, when he obliged his antagonist, contrary to the king's desires, to remove from the Court to Patna, where by the interest of Amīru-l-umarā, and his own mismanagement, he is quite ruined.'

'We have advices here,' they continue at the end of the month,⁵ 'that Hussain 'Alī Khān and Dāūd Khān are come to a rupture in Burhānpur, so that it's likely a battle will ensue, the latter having

¹ Diary, 51, 56.

² Ib., 57.

³ Ib., 58.

⁴ Ib., 57.

⁵ Ib., 5.

CSL

engaged many of the Deccan country to his party. It's whispered at this court that this is a design laid to involve Hussain 'Ali Khān in trouble and retrench his grandeur which of late has not been very pleasing.'

'The king proceeding no further than Panipat, returned to the city on the 18th instant; but, being a little disordered in his health, has not made any public appearance, so that we have not had an opportunity to deliver the remaining part of our present, or commence our negotiation.'

A letter, dated October 6, gives the conclusion of the contest in the Deccan.¹ 'Your Honour and Council will have heard of the death of Dāūd Khān in Deccan, slain in a battle with Amīru-l-umārā. This has given a great deal of uneasiness to this court, it being quite otherwise laid by the king and his favourites; and that which was designed for Amīru-l-umārā's ruin has proved a great addition to his former glories. The king at first seemed to resent it to his brother [the wazīr], who not taking it so patiently as he expected, he has altered his resolution to sending Hussain 'Ali Khān a sar-o-pā and other marks of favour.'

If the English were not beginning to see the necessity of conciliating the wazīr, they must have been blind indeed to the signs of the times.

From his accession, Farrukhsiyar seems to have been in indifferent health, and it has been suggested that physical debility and degeneration may account in part for the weakness of mind and character which he displayed as a ruler.² However that may be, towards the end of the year 1715, the emperor's complaints reached a climax, which produced unexpected consequences for the English mission. For some time past, Hamilton, the doctor to the embassy, had been in request at the Mughal's camp and court. At first he was ordered to 'give physio' to the high steward,³ with whom he took up his residence,⁴ but whose distemper he pronounced incurable.⁵ In August, on his return to Delhi, the king was found to be suffering from swellings in the groin and put himself in Hamilton's hands with the most beneficial

¹ Diary, 73.

² Irvine's Later Mughals, in the Journal of the Asiatic Society of Bengal, LXXV, I.

³ Diary, 54.

⁴ Id., 55.

⁵ Id., 72.

24
CSL

Results! In a few weeks time, he was sufficiently recovered to be married to the Jodhpur princess, the daughter of Ajit Singh. The young bride should have been brought to the court in the year 1714 by Husain 'Ali, but he had not been able to remain long enough in Rajputanah to do so. In May, 1715, when Husain 'Ali had set out for the Deccan, the emperor's maternal uncle, Shāistah Khān, had been sent to bring the princess from Jodhpur, and arrived with her on September 13. She was conducted to the house of Husain 'Ali where she was treated as if she had been his own daughter, and, in the absence of Husain 'Ali himself, preparations for the wedding were at once made by his brother, the wazīr. Four days later, the emperor repaired to the house of the wazīr, where the princess was admitted to the Moslem faith, and the marriage rite was celebrated by Shariyat Khān, the chief qāzī.²

But, at this point, further ceremonies and rejoicings were stayed by the renewed indisposition of the emperor, and recourse was again had to the English treatment which had before proved so satisfactory. On October 3, the empress—mother herself sent for Dr. Hamilton, and, with Khwajah Sarhad to interpret, a long conference was held on the subject of his Majesty's health.³ This time the king was suffering from a violent pain which he feared would turn to fistula. The disease, whatever it was, taxed all Hamilton's skill for nearly two months, during which he was doubtless exposed to much misrepresentation and jealousy. The introduction of a new physician could not have been pleasing to the king's French doctor Monsieur Martin, or to the Hindu and Muhammadan practitioners at the court, and it seems to have excited the suspicions of the populace. On one occasion, as Hamilton was coming from the fort at night, his head was cut with a pebble, of which the king being informed, he ordered search to be made for the offender and gave the doctor people for his protection.⁴ On another occasion, in consequence of a rumour that the king had died under the surgeon's hands, the house of the English ambassadors is said to have been surrounded by an angry mob, who were only to be appeased by Farrukhsiyar's showing himself from a gallery of the palace.⁵ At length on November 20, all the plasters having been

¹ Diary, 53.

² Irvine's Later Mughals Chapter IV, Section 17, in the Journal of the Asiatic Society of Bengal, Vol. LXXII, Pt. I, page 61.

³ Diary, 72.

⁴ Ib., 75.

⁵ Scott's Ferishta II, v. 139, edition of 1794, in the account of Ferokhsere.

removed, the king washed himself, and received the congratulations of the whole court.¹ A week later, he publicly presented Hamilton with a jewelled plume, a vest, two diamond rings, an elephant, horse and five thousand rupees. 'His Majesty further, ordered buttons for a whole suit of clothes to be made of gold, and set with diamonds, and rubies, as also the handles of all his small instruments of solid gold. Khvajah Sarhād, having been very assistant during the king's illness, as interpreter received a vest and an elephant.'² Three days afterwards, Monsieur Martin had given him 'a vest, elephant, and a thousand rupees, a favour purely owing to his Majesty's generosity, and because he was his servant.'³

The king being thus restored to health, the court and city turned their attention to the interrupted marriage ceremonies. On December 1, the wedding gifts, lavishly provided by the empress—mother, were sent to the bride, with a numerous escort of nobles, who were royally entertained by the vazir. 'Husain 'Ali,' says the historian,⁴ 'who thought his honour concerned, as the princess had been brought to court by his means, made it a point to give that solemnity all the magnificence for which Hindustan is famous; and he made such preparations for the bride and the bridegroom as exceeded all that had ever been heard of in the capital, as well as that had been done for the greatest rajas and kings of the Deccan, or for even the magnificent emperors of Hindustan. The furniture, jewels, and illuminations surpassed by much anything that had been done by the emperor himself. As soon as night came on, an infinity of fires and imitative stars threw out at once such a blaze as seemed to dispute pre-eminence with the starry host of the firmament, and to reproach it with its inferior twinkling. Whilst artificial parterres, by the variety of their colours, gave the beholder an idea of the celebrated garden of Irem. Pleasures and shows of all sorts, as well as splendid entertainments, followed each other with so uninterrupted a profusion, that the lowest man in the city could partake of them, as well as the highest. Surprise, delight, and hilarity pervaded all classes. Such were the throngs and the crowds of attendance, and such the concourse of spectators, that the streets and markets of such an immense city seemed to have become

¹ Diary, 76, 77. In the letter on page 77 the date is given as November 23.

² Diary, 76.

³ Ib, 77.

⁴ Seru-l-muta'akhirin. Reprint of Raymond's translation, Calcutta, 1902, I, 76.

CSL
XXII

narrower, and each of them more uneasy than the heart of a lover in despair.' On December 7, the whole city and palace were illuminated. At nine in the evening, Farrukhsiyar, seated on his sedia gestatoria, or moving throne, left the palace by the Delhi gate, in a splendid procession for the house of the wasir, whence he returned late at night with his bride, re-entering the palace by the Lahor gate. At the wasir's, some new ceremonies of Hindu origin were introduced, in addition to those usual at Moslem weddings. A mixture of rosewater, sugar and opium was offered to the guests to drink, which caused remark. There was also a gold plate, with five divisions, filled with precious stones, diamonds in the first division rubies in the second, emeralds in the third, topazes in the fourth, and in the fifth and central division, large and valuable pearls. The popular rejoicings continued for another week and were not concluded till December 15.¹ On December 28, Hamilton received a dress of honour, horse and a thousand rupees from the empress mother; Khwajah Sarhad, and Monsieur Martin, received each a dress of honour and five hundred rupees ².

¹ Irvine's Later Mughals in the Journal of the Asiatic Society of Bengal, LXVII, I, 61, 62.

² Diary, 79.

CHAPTER VII

THE FIRST PETITION.

The English ambassadors were now in a position of great advantage for pursuing their mission. That they stood high in the favour of the court there could be no doubt. But they must have stood almost as high in the favour of the wazir, for the marriage of the king with the Jodhpur princess was a point of importance to the Sayyad brothers, and the marriage might never have been completed but for the skill of Hamilton. If, therefore, the English had at this time preferred their requests to the emperor through the wazir, we can hardly doubt that they would have been most favourably considered and readily granted. Unfortunately, the English had been from the first diverted from the proper course by their Armenian agents, and, since their arrival at Delhi, had already taken several further steps in the wrong direction.

Their original petition to the king had been prepared as long ago as August last. It contained nineteen articles, of which the first eight related to Bengal. In them the English sought for a fresh imperial farmān, confirming the previous grant of the right of free trade in Bengal, Bihar, and Orissa, and the nishān, allowing them to rent the three villages of Sūtanuṭī, Calcutta, and Govindpur. They further asked that they might be permitted to acquire on similar terms thirty-eight other villages, adjacent to Calcutta, and also some thirteen acres of land for a factory at Patna. They suggested that the town of Calcutta should be renamed Farrukhbandar, and that the three villages, with the thirty-eight new villages, should be combined into a single pargana to be called Farrukhābād. They desired permission to buy goods at Hugli without hindrance, and freedom generally from vexatious cesses and dues. They required that three days a week should be set apart at the Murshidābād mint for coining bullion, that the duwān should be content with copies of their grants and not insist on seeing the originals, and that the government should take steps to prevent the local robberies to which trade was everywhere exposed. Three articles followed of a more general nature, praying that Madras rupees might pass current like those of Surat, that help might be given to English ships in distress at sea, and that absconding servants or debtors of the Company should be handed over to the Company's authorities. Turning to the Coromandel Coast, the English not only asked that their former commercial privileges should be confirmed, and, in particular, that the five villages of Madras and the territory of Fort St. David should be granted them again, but also sought to acquire villages in Vizagapatam, and the island of Divi near Masulipatam. The last three articles were concerned with the western side of India, and more especially with Surat. These articles demanded that the trade at that port, in consideration of the annual payment of a lump sum, should be declared custom free, that a site should be given for a factory, and a large plot of ground for a garden, and that the passes of the English chief should protect the Company's agents from being molested.²

The petition, it appears, was, in the first instance, shown privately to Taqarrub Khān, the high steward, who caused it to be examined and redrafted in a condensed form, as the king objected to lengthy, tedious documents. The proposal to rename the town of Calcutta and the pargana was struck out, as being liable to give rise to awkward questions.³ On November 15, when the king was pronounced completely cured, the English took the opportunity of giving him the remainder of the present, only reserving a small part for the occasion of the marriage ceremony. At the same time they delivered their petition, not to the wasir, the only proper channel for requests for farmans, but to Khān Daurān, the deputy bakhshi.⁴ He presented it to the king in December when the marriage ceremonies were finished, but it was returned with orders that it should be examined and noted upon by the officers of the diwān or treasury.⁴

This was hardly what the English had expected. They had been led to believe that Khān Daurān was all powerful with the king, and they expected that a petition presented by him would have been almost immediately granted. They could only account for the delay by supposing that Khān Daurān had allowed himself to be influenced by other subordinates than Šalābat Khān, subordinates whom the embassy had hitherto neglected. According to the explanations put forward by Surman and Stephenson, Rajah Gūjar Mal, diwān-i-tan, and the wakil, Nath Mal considered that they had had too small a share in the profit

² Diary, 59 to 65.

³ Ib., 74.

⁴ Ib., 76.

⁴ Ib., 79.

CSL

which Salabat Khān had made out of the English. When consulted by Khān Daurān, they advised the reference to the treasury out of spite.¹ Surman and Stephenson now perceived that the comments passed on the articles in the petition by the treasury clerks must have an important effect upon the issue of the case, and that a great advantage would be gained, if those comments were favourable. They, therefore, urged Sarhād 'to take particular care' of the treasury officers, and were assured by him that all would be well.² The event was a bitter disappointment. Sarhād failed to perform what he had promised. The petition was returned by the treasury clerks with unfavourable comments.³ In this form it was presented by Khān Daurān to the emperor, who, on January 27, 1716, signed and returned the documents, accepting the answers suggested by the treasury against the several articles.⁴ The result was that, while the emperor conceded a good many matters of minor importance, the weightiest part of the petition was not granted.⁵ The request for a farmān was ignored, and the ambassadors had to begin their negotiations afresh.

On January 29, a second petition of seven articles was drawn up and sent to Khān Daurān for presentation.⁶ In the first five articles, the English renewed their request for farmāns confirming the grant of free trade in Bengal, Bihar, and Orissa, and granting them a house and garden in Surat, the territory in Vizagapatam and the island of Divi, and the thirty-eight villages in the neighbourhood of Calcutta. At Divi island they promised to make a harbour, which, they said, considering there was no port to shelter ships on the Coromandel coast, would be a particular advantage to his Majesty's dominions. As for the villages near Calcutta, unless these were granted by a farmān, no one would let the Company acquire them, nor would the diwān give any assistance. The last two articles contained new requests for 'the liberty of a mint in Bombay' and 'for redress to those barbarities committed by rogues round Calcutta.'

At this juncture, the course of the negotiations was for the time interrupted by renewed disturbances at the court. It had been part of the arrangement, which settled the first set of differences between the Sayyads and the emperor, that Mīr Jumlah should remain at Patua.

¹ Diary 105, 112.

² Ib., 112.

³ Ib., 81-3.

⁴ Ib., 64-6, 91-2.

⁵ Ib., 152.

⁶ Ib., 86-90.

But, owing to his reckless management, there, he was unable to meet the pay of a turbulent force of Mughal troops, that he had taken into his service. Partly to escape from their demands, and partly, as was believed, in obedience to secret instructions from the emperor, he suddenly left his government at the end of the year 1715. As far as Benares, he came openly. After that, to avoid all chance of being stopped by the wazir, he travelled as quickly as possible in a covered litter and secretly arrived at Delhi on the night of January 6. The wazir at once went to the emperor, and threatened him with the return of Hussain 'Ali, and the emperor, in a fright, sent peremptory orders to Mir Jumlah to withdraw to Lahor. But days passed by, and Mir Jumlah procrastinated. At length his Mughal troops broke into revolt, and attacked the houses of the nobles. After a month of license and disturbance, they could only be got rid of by the payment of ten lakhs of rupees. Mir Jumlah was deprived of his offices and titles, and ordered to proceed to Lahor. On February 22, Nizamu-l-mulk conducted him on the way as far as Narela.¹

In this same month February, 1716, it was the fortune of the ambassadors to come face to face with the representatives of that Indian sect, which has been in the end most closely associated with the fortunes of the English in India, the last to dispute with them for empire, the first to help them in reconquering it. For many years the Sikhs had been giving trouble to the Mughal government. On the death of Guru Gōbind Sing, in 1708, it might have been expected that these troubles would cease. But his followers and family almost immediately brought forward a man, who exactly resembled the dead guru, and who claimed to be the guru restored to life. The false guru, whose real name appears to have been Bandah, after routing the faujdar of Sonpat in a sudden attack, made his way to the hills north-east of Sirhind. Forty thousand men soon gathered round him. With these he attacked and took the town of Sirhind. The old faujdar was killed by a musket shot, and his body hung to a tree. The town was given up to pillage for four days, during which the Sikhs committed excesses of every kind. The outbreak soon grew to such dimensions, that it became necessary for the emperor in person to march against the Sikhs and their new guru, whom he came upon at the fort of Lōhgarh, between Nahan and Sārdhana.² In the fighting which ensued, the fort was taken; but, through the devotion of his followers,

¹ Irvine, Later Mughals, IV, 22, in the Journal of the Asiatic Society of Bengal; also Diary, 79, 83, 95, 96.

² [Ambaloh, W. I.]

CSL

the guru escaped. Consequently, the troubles of the Mughal government began all over again, and fresh efforts were necessary to crush Bandah. At last, after years of fighting, Bandah was shut up in Gurdāspur, a small town forty-four miles north-east of Amritsar. Closely besieged for eight months, during which they were reduced to unspeakable extremities, on December 7, 1715, the very day of Farrukhsiyar's bridal procession, Bandah and his followers were forced to surrender unconditionally to 'Abdu-ṣ-ṣamad Khān, the imperial general, who ordered that some two or three of them should be at once executed, and the rest kept to be exhibited in the capital and there solemnly put to death. The triumphant entry of the conquerors into Delhi took place, according to the Surman diary, on February 17, 1716.¹ The ceremonial on this occasion was copied from that observed after the capture of the Marāṭha, Sambhā Jī. Malice did its utmost to cover the vanquished with ridicule and shame. First came the heads of the executed Sikhs, stuffed with straw, and stuck on bamboos, their long hair streaming in the wind like a veil, and along with them, to show that every living creature in Gurdāspur had perished, a dead cat on a pole. The teacher himself, dressed out of mockery in a turban of red cloth, embroidered with gold, and a heavy robe of brocade, flowered with pomegranates, sat in an iron cage, placed on the back of an elephant. Behind him, stood a mail-clad officer, with a drawn sword. After him, came the other prisoners, seven hundred and forty in number, seated two and two upon camels without saddles. Each wore a high fool's cap of sheep skin and had one hand pinned to his neck, between two pieces of wood. Many were also dressed in sheep skins with the woolly side turned outwards. At the end of the procession rode three great nobles, Muḥannad Amīn Khān, sent by the emperor to bring in the prisoners, Kamru-d-dīn, his son, and Zakariya Khān, his son-in-law, who being also the son of 'Abdu-ṣ-ṣamad Khān had been deputed to represent his father at the ceremony. The road to the palace, for several miles, was lined with troops and filled with exultant crowds, who mocked at the teacher and laughed at the grotesque appearance of his followers. They wagged their heads and pointed the finger of scorn at the poor wretches as they passed. 'Hu! Hu! infidel dogworshippers, your day has come. Truly retribution follows on transgression, as wheat springs from wheat, and barley from barley.' Yet the triumph could not have seemed quite complete. Not all the insults that their enemies had business?' Khwajah Sarhad tried to explain, but before he could say many words, Khan Dauran got into his palanquin and went away.¹ On March 21, after waiting nearly two months, the English received back their second petition with the direction to apply to the wazir.² The advice was sound, but the English would not take it. They clung obstinately to their original erroneous views.

¹ Diary, 95.

23
CSL

Meanwhile, on March 19, the king had left the city on the pretence of hunting.³ This gave Salabat Khan fresh opportunities for intrigues, ostensibly for the benefit of the English, but really for the benefit of his own pocket.

According to his own story, on March 23, having occasion to eat and sleep in the same place with Khan Dauran, he took the opportunity of enlarging upon the griefs of the ambassadors. 'It was by your kindness,' he told his lordship, 'that the English after waiting many years were encouraged to bring their present to the court and to enter upon their negotiations. You promised to protect them and to grant all their reasonable demands. All their addresses to his majesty have been by your means. You yourself have had the credit of delivering in their present, the like of which has never been made by any European nation to the kings of India. They are therefore naturally concerned at finding their papers turned over to the wazir. How can they go to him with any honour to themselves, or to you? What can they expect except to be treated as cast-off favourites? They are not aware of having done anything to deserve this punishment, and they hope that you will reconsider their case. In short, they depend entirely on you, and are resolved not to go to the wazir. If you will not prosecute their business, they will leave Delhi, and negotiate no more.' Moved by this discourse, Khan Dauran, according to Salabat Khan, agreed to take back the papers, and get the second petition signed by the emperor, as soon as the hunting should be over; and the English, with much satisfaction, resumed their misdirected negotiations.⁴

Twenty days later a fresh check occurred. A quarrel arose between the dependants of their patron and those of another great noble, Muhammed Amin Khan, as they were coming from audience with the king, which, as soon as their masters had withdrawn to their tents, developed into a down-right fight. The two sides assailed each other

¹ Diary, 100.

² Ib., 98-9.

³ Ib., 98.

⁴ Ib., 103-4.

CSL

for two hours with small arms, bombs and great guns. At last, after some hundred men had been killed, they were parted by messages from the emperor and by the mediation of other nobles. But the emperor, incensed at such insolence, reduced the dignities and privileges of all concerned, among whom was Khān Daurān. For a moment it seemed that the patron of the English might be overtaken by the same fate as Mir Jumlah. But in a few days the imperial anger cooled and he was restored to his former position.¹ About the beginning of May, he again took into consideration the English petition, and promised to carry the business through, provided he could get the wazir to act with him.² He knew, of course, that, without the intervention of the wazir, there could be no grant of farmāns, but the English ambassadors were still persuaded that it was all a question of personal influence and bribery. When, therefore, the articles of their second petition were again referred to the treasury, or divān, they determined to deal liberally with all the officers concerned. To I'tisām Khān, the divān-i-khālīṣah, they offered seven thousand rupees; to the head clerk, Bhog Chand, ten thousand rupees; and to the subordinates twelve hundred.³ Surman and Stephenson were of opinion that no means should be left untried to secure the writers in the treasury, but Khawājah Sarhād while he considered it beneath him to go to the office himself, refused to allow any Hindu wakil to be employed in the business. His obstinacy called forth a protest from Surman and Stephenson at the beginning of June, but with little result.⁴ For weeks the ambassadors were fed upon the most extravagant hopes by Sarhād and the Indian officials. The most favourable remarks were recorded against the articles in the petition, inconvenient documents were to be withheld, and everything asked for was to be granted.⁵ It was not till July 15 that Surman and Stephenson discovered that the Armenian had deceived them throughout in the affair, and that the treasury was no more favourably disposed towards them than before. Their requests for farmāns had been flatly refused. The divān-i-khālīṣah recommended that the grants to be made in compliance with the two petitions should take the form of orders from the wazir, which would carry no weight in the distant provinces of the empire.⁶

¹ Diary, 102-4.

² Ib., 108.

³ Ib., 109-10, 116.

⁴ Ib., 111-4.

⁵ Ib., 114, 116, 118-20.

⁶ Ib., 121-3.

invented could rob the teacher and his followers of their natural dignity. Without any sign of dejection or shame, they rode on, calm, cheerful, even anxious to die the death of martyrs. Life was promised to any who would renounce their faith, but they would not prove false to their guru, and at the place of suffering their constancy was wonderful to look at. 'Me, deliverer, kill me first,' was the prayer which constantly rang in the ears of the executioner. One there was, a young man, an only son, whose widowed mother had made many supplications to the Mughal officers, declaring that her son was a Sikh prisoner, and no follower of the guru. A release was granted and she hastened to the prison-house to claim her son. But the boy turned from her to meet his doom, crying, 'I know not this woman. What does she want with me? I am a true and loyal follower of the guru.' For a whole week the sword of the executioner did its butcher's work. Every day a hundred brave men perished and at nightfall the headless bodies were loaded into carts, taken out of the city, and hung upon trees. It was not till June 19, that Bandah himself was led out to execution, all efforts having failed to buy him off. They dressed him, as on the day of his entry, set him again on the elephant, and took him away to the old city, where the red Qutb minar lifts its proud head of white marble over the crumbling walls of the Hindu fortresses. Here they paraded him round the tomb of the late emperor, Bahādur Shāh, and put him to a barbarous death. First, they made him dismount, placed his child in his arms and bade him kill it. Then, as he shrank with horror from the act, they ripped open the child before its father's eyes, thrust its quivering flesh into his mouth, and hacked him to pieces limb by limb.¹

¹ Irvine, Political History of the Sikhs, in the Asiatic Quarterly for January and April, 1894, 420-31, and Guru Gobind Singh and Bandah, in the Journal of the Asiatic Society of Bengal, for 1894, I, 112-143. Also Diary, 96-97.

CHAPTER VII.

THE SECOND PETITION.

During these two months the English made practically no progress with their second petition. The reason is obvious. Khān Daurān, their patron, had done all that he was capable of doing. He could not procure them the farmāns they required. Salābat Khān, in whose house Surman lived, might well have told them the truth. But the old man was too eager to make all the money he could out of his credulous clients, and too anxious to pose as their patron. He took good care, therefore, not to disabuse the English, and allowed them to attribute the delay in their business to anything but the right cause. It was said that Khān Daurān was a man of dilatory habits. He never gave audience in public to persons who wished to see him on business. The only way to speak with him was to catch him as he passed from his rooms to his palanquin. Even Salābat Khān had very few opportunities of seeing him in private.¹ Consequently, almost all their communications had to be made in writing, a slow, but by no means sure method of negotiation. Besides, the aggrieved subordinates, who had spoilt the first petition, were still unwilling to bring the English affairs to a speedy conclusion, considering that by gaining time they would also gain money.²

As a matter of fact, though the English would not understand it, there was only one course to be taken with reference to their irregular application for farmāns. As Khān Daurān's advisers correctly pointed out, it was not for him to persuade the king to agree to a second petition conceding the very points which had been just refused; the whole business should properly be referred to the wazir.³ In these views Khān Daurān naturally acquiesced. One day, towards the middle of March, when Sarhād, paying his respects as usual to his patron, ventured to remind him of the second petition, the great man suddenly became frank. 'Petition!' cried he, 'What petition? Have I not done all your

¹ Diary, 97, 99, 100.

² Ib., 106, 112.

³ Ib., 98-100.

CHAPTER IX

THE LAST PETITION.

It is at this point, I take it, that the English threw away the last shreds of their long-perishing belief in Khawājah Sarhād and his Armenian friends. Padre Daniel they must have found out as soon as they arrived at Delhi. It must have been pretty clear, from the first, that he was a liar and a rogue, who spent all the money he could get on drunkenness and debauchery. As time went by at Delhi, Khawājah Sarhād's character appeared in hardly any better light. Without scruples as to truth or honesty, he evidently paid but little regard to the business of the English Company, and was intent upon his own interests, which required a prolonged stay in Delhi.¹ The delay in the negotiations disconcerted him not a whit; one would suppose that he was secretly glad that it should be so. Nor was he the least abashed when detected in his ignorance, or in the lies by which he tried to conceal it. He avowed that he had deliberately deceived the embassy as to the ill success of their negotiations in order that they might not be melancholy.² Surman and Stephenson appear to have been at their wits' end. At one time, they allowed it to be blown abroad that they were going away, as they could not obtain what they came for.³ At another time, they had thoughts of going to the wazīr, whom they had taken very particular care to satisfy, as they supposed, of their respect towards him, though they still thought that he had no real power.⁴ But in the end, like true Englishmen, they refused to admit their defeat, and determined to continue in pressing for their farmāns through the mediation of Khān Daurān.

Good fortune favoured their persistency. About the time that the darūd-i-khāliṣāh gave the embassy its latest rebuff, disquieting news reached Delhi from Surat. The governor of the great western port, Haidar Quli Khān wrote to the king and Khān Daurān that the English were seriously discontented, and that if they were not speedily satisfied they would withdraw, and Surat would be ruined. The letters

¹ Diary, 147-59.

² Ib., 123.

³ Ib., 124.

⁴ Ib., 126. The ignorance of the English ambassadors as to the real position of affairs at the court is remarkable; but perhaps we should not be surprised at it, as they were the most outsiders.

CSL

were sent by Haidar Quli to his agent at court, Rāe Kirpā Rām, who determined to turn these warnings to his own advantage. The Mughal government had always been solicitous as to the state of trade and navigation on the west side of India. Fears upon this score had, before now, made the great Aurangzēb lay aside his purposes against the English, and yield to their demands; and there could be little doubt that similar considerations would influence the court of Farrukhsiyar. Rāe Kirpā Rām saw that the English stood a very good chance of gaining all their points. He, therefore, lost no time in throwing out hints that, if he were properly rewarded, he would be able to materially assist the embassy, and Surman, though aware of the real cause of these overtures, thought it well not to discourage a new ally. Kirpā Rām's professed help, though it does not seem to have effected much, at least served to show which way the wind was blowing.¹ The letters from Surat were delivered to the emperor, and to Khān Daurān, with the most surprising and gratifying results. After some delay, on August 25, Sarhād had a private interview with Khān Daurān, the first he had ever been granted.² The articles in the petition were read over, and the objections raised by the diwān set aside. Then, after further delay, the second petition originally drawn up in January, was submitted to the emperor, and on October 7, was returned with most favourable orders.³ In only two points were the English demands left unsatisfied. The government still hesitated to grant them the house in Surat and the thirty-eight villages in the neighbourhood of Calcutta. For these Khān Daurān recommended a separate petition, which he promised should be favourably considered. The ambassadors accordingly presented a third petition of two articles, but, at the same time, determined to proceed with the articles already granted, without waiting for the results of the dilatory diplomacy of Khān Daurān.⁴ They had at length learnt some wisdom. They knew that at the Mughal Court 'every thing runs in its proper and set channel,'⁵ and at the beginning of November they brought Sarhād to confess that their petitions must first go to the wazir and receive his persual and approbation.⁶

On November 10, the lists of articles were all submitted by the diwān to the wazir, who, after perusing them, ordered the diwān-i-khāṣṣa to carry them immediately to the emperor, to get them signed, which

¹ Diary 125, 129, 132.

² Ib., 131.

³ Ib., 136-7.

⁴ Ib., 138-40.

⁵ Ib., 153.

⁶ Ib., 140.

was accordingly done.¹ When once they had gone to the wazir and put their business upon a proper footing, it proceeded with a rapidity which astonished the English ambassadors. So difficult is it to persuade men that it is really easier to go right than wrong. 'We might have excepted the wazir,' they observed, 'in whose power it was, would have stopped our business on this occasion or caused many delays, the sure way to squeeze a sum of money, which must have been very large. But he has behaved himself with far more generosity, our papers no sooner reaching his hands, than they received despatch'.² Yet in spite of this experience we shall find Surman and Stephenson perversely adhering to the view that the high Mughal officials were accessible only by bribes, and, still more perversely, expecting that Khān Daurān, in whose power it was not, could forward their business, while they turned to the wazir, in whose power it was, with the greatest reluctance.

On November 20, orders were issued from the treasury to the secretary's office for the preparation of three imperial farmāns incorporating the most important articles in the petition,³ and on December 27, drafts of these farmāns were submitted to the emperor for his approval which he granted three days later.⁴ The whole month of January 1717 was taken up with making fair copies, and with procuring the imperial signature. A number of orders were also made out enjoining the execution of particular provisions in the farmāns.⁵

On February 1, the farmāns being perfectly finished were sent to Afzal Khān the sadru-ṣ-ṣudur, or imperial almoner, whose business it was to affix the great seal.⁶ The seal it appears was actually kept by a tēgam or princess and, when required, was sent by her to the imperial almoner by the hand of a eunuch. These officials all expected presents, and the formality of affixing the great seal cost the embassy twelve thousand rupees paid to the imperial almoner and his subordinates, besides other gifts to the tēgam and her entourage.⁷ On March 27, the wazir's seal was added on the reverse of the farmāns,⁸ and on April 10, they were placed in Surman's hands by Khawājah Sarhad.⁹

¹ Diary, 140-1.

² Ib., 142-3.

³ Ib., 142-7.

⁴ Ib., 161-2.

⁵ Ib., 170-2.

⁶ Ib., 173.

⁷ Ib., 175-6.

⁸ Ib., 181-3. The wazir had his seal 'affixed without asking a farthing'. The ambassadors explain this by referring to the good fortune of the Company. To the last they refused to admit the foolishness of neglecting the wazir Ṣayyid Khān Daurān.

⁹ Diary, 184.

CHAPTER X.

THE RETURN FROM DELHI.

The ambassadors had applied for their dismissal on February 20 as soon as they knew that the great seal would be placed on their three farmāns, but the end of their labours was not yet. No less than three months were spent in wearisome and meaningless formalities without which they could not go. In conformity with the farmāns, orders signed by the wazīr had to be issued to various local officers and these were delayed by the clerks in the treasury office. A fourth farmān in answer to the letter from Governor Hedges had to be drawn up, signed and sealed. Lastly the Emperor, the wazīr and Khān Daurān had each in turn formally to dismiss the members of the embassy with suitable presents, which gave rise to many nice questions of distributive justice.¹ Ṣalābat Khān was anxious, or professed to be anxious, that the English should be dispatched with at least the same honours as had been shown to the Dutch and Portuguese in the previous reign. The Emperor and Khān Daurān argued that the example of the usurping Jahāndār counted for nothing, and that it would be a dangerous precedent to make too much of European ambassadors. On April 18, when the list of honours was announced, it was found that while the Bengal president was to receive an elephant more than the general of Batavia, Mr. Surman and his companions were to get less than the Dutch.² In their eagerness to go the ambassadors, though surprised at this treatment, after making a quadruple present, would have raised no objections; but Ṣalābat Khān, professing to consider that his honour was in question, angrily insisted that Surman should have an extra horse and a dagger, and in deference to his wishes the concession was made. At the same time the Emperor stipulated that these presents should not all be made to Surman on the same day. At one reception he was to have the horse and dagger, and at the next his plume and robe of honour. The other members of the embassy were to receive dresses of honour only.³ For these distinctions they had in the end to give handsome gifts to the superintendent of elephants, the keeper of the robes, and the jewel and perfume offices.⁴

¹ Diary, 178, 182, 186-92, 208-209, 212.

² Ib., 191.

³ Ib., 192-195.

⁴ Ib., 196-197, 204-207.

At length on Thursday May 23, Surman received his first installment of parting honours, the promised dagger and horse.¹ On the following Thursday the whole embassy repaired for the last time to the court of public audience, where the railed enclosures were as usual thronged by Indian nobles covered with gold and jewels, glittering in the bright sunshine which the purple awnings only partially kept out. Once again the curtains were drawn aside from the royal alcove above them and they saw the Emperor Farrukhsiyar on his peacock throne. John Surman was duly invested with his robe and plume, and dresses of honour were put upon Stephenson and the others. Then one by one they made their obeisance to the throne and passed from the Court, the last being Hamilton to whom Farrukhsiyar was so much indebted. The doctor, though he had been consulted by the wazir, had not seen his imperial patient in private for more than a year, and seemed to have passed out of remembrance. He was moving on like the rest when an order from the throne suddenly stopped him and directed him to resume his place. The robe bestowed on him merely betokened the royal favour, but did not permit him to leave. The King rose. The curtains were drawn. The audience was over.²

Only those who have spent long years on the burning plains of India can fully realise with what intensity the exile comes to long for the fresh breezes of his native land. Far over the seas at Bothwell, in bonnie Scotland, brothers and sisters, an honoured father, and a promised bride were waiting anxiously for the doctor's return, and what could the Mughal offer him to tempt him to stay away longer? Three times or more did old Salabat Khān entreat him after leaving the court of audience to remain in Delhi, but Hamilton continued obstinate. 'No'; he said, 'if the king will have me he may keep me in irons. But I will not accept his bread, much less his service' There was nothing for it but to importune the emperor to let him go, and with their usual wrongheadedness the embassy turned to Khān Daurān for help. That Mr. Lofty at first refused to speak on the subject or to have any thing to do with it. But at the persuasion of Salabat Khān he directed the ambassadors to apply to the wazir, as they should have done in the first instance, and promised to help in interceding for Dr. Hamilton.³

¹ Diary, 196.

² Ib., 197.

³ Ib., 198-200.

On June 4, the whole case was laid before the wazir, who offered to use his utmost efforts to get the doctor's release. He accordingly forwarded to the emperor a copy of Hamilton's petition, enforcing it with a pathetic address of his own writing. The imperial answer soon came back. 'Since he is privy to my nakedness and perfectly understands his business, I would very willingly have kept him and would have given him whatever he asked. But seeing he is satisfied with no terms, I agree to it, provided that after he has gone to Europe, procured such medicines as are not to be got here, and seen his wife and children, he returns once more to visit this court. Let him go!'

The English now turned their attention to the necessary preparations for the journey back to Calcutta. Carts were hired for their tents and camels bought for their baggage. An escort of fifty horse and four hundred foot was considered necessary to protect the caravan from the perils of the way². On June 16, they were granted passes³. Soon after the farmān to Governor Hedges was completed. The remaining orders relating to Calcutta and the adjacent villages were signed and Dr. Hamilton gave a formal obligation to return under his seal⁴. On June 30, they received their dismissal from the wazir and on July 11, from *Khān Daurān*⁵. On July 18, Mr. Surman after taking leave of Ṣalābat Khān and recommending Mitr Sen, the English attorney and representative at Delhi, to his favour, quitted the city and arrived at Barapula where the tents were pitched.⁶ There was, however, one member of the embassy who was by no means so eager to bid adieu to the Mughal and all his court. Khwājah Sarhād, who had for many months been on bad terms with his colleagues, now declared that he could not go with them unless certain accounts amounting to nineteen thousand rupees were paid him in full. From the very beginning of the negotiations they had suspected him, and we have seen that as time went on their suspicions had been strengthened and confirmed. Very soon after their arrival at Delhi they had discovered that his influence with the Mughal court and his knowledge of its customs had been greatly over-estimated. The marks of consideration

¹ Diary, 200, 202-3.

² Ib., 199.

³ Ib., 203.

⁴ Ib., 206-8.

⁵ Ib., 208-9.

⁶ Ib., 210-2.

by wholesale lying and by grossly exaggerating the value of the presents. The great nobles at Delhi neither knew nor cared for him. His Armenian friends were worthless rogues whose only object was to plunder the English as they had already plundered the Dutch. Daniel was a notorious evil-liver and a scandal to his nation and religion. Sarhād himself, though he professed to be ashamed of the folly and debauchery of the priest, made no pretensions to virtue. 'If we succeed,' he used to tell the ambassadors, 'there will be no enquiry into our conduct. If we fail, I shall go off to Persia, and you may go where you please.' In practice he proved utterly incompetent, always promising but never performing. He refused to employ any of the Hindu agents whom the ambassadors brought with them. He persistently misled them as to the proper course of the negotiation. Hardly any part of the success which had been achieved could be said to be due to him. Now that the business was settled, instead of assisting the embassy, he was actually impeding its departure on the frivolous pretext of a difference about a few thousand rupees¹; his real purpose being, as the ambassadors believed, to get himself made an imperial merchant and to be sent to Europe to make various purchases for the Mughal. The ambassadors, therefore, having failed to satisfy him with an offer of fifteen thousand rupees drew up a protest in which they condemned him as disobedient and unfaithful, and deprived him of his dignities and allowances as an English representative².

On July 25, the English moved from Barapula to Faridabad whence they dispatched their protest against Sarhād before starting on their journey³. Final instructions were also sent to their attorney and representative at Delhi, Mitr Sen⁴. Reaching Mathura on July 30, they found the neighbouring district full of rebellious Jāts, and accordingly crossed the Jumna and proceeded down the left bank of the river to Agra, which they reached on August 3⁴. Hitherto the travellers had been much distressed by excessive heat, but at this point the weather changed. Torrents of tropical rain fell, leaving the roads deep in mud through which the camels and oxen slowly made their way, slipping and stumbling at almost every step⁵. The road, too, was best ¹Diary, 212, 214.

²Ib., 219.

³Ib., 218-21.

⁴Ib., 223.

⁵Ib., 228.

with Mewattis. The first day after leaving Agra, a band of these out-throats on horseback fell upon the tents, which had been sent on in advance under an escort of twenty or thirty guards. After a fight which lasted some four hours their chief received a fatal wound in his chest, and they galloped off, and the English saw them no more¹. On August 26, they arrived at Allahabad where the Hindu governor received them with much ceremony and twice entertained them with a dinner of dishes cooked in the Muhammadan style². On August 27, having made the governor a suitable present, they crossed the Ganges and proceeded on their way. The river was again crossed at Benares on September 5³. On September 21, after much suffering from very bad weather and muddy ways, they reached Patna⁴.

CHAPTER XI.

THE END OF THE EMBASSY.

At Patna the embassy of necessity made a prolonged halt. They had to wait for the boats which they expected from Calcutta for their conveyance; they had also to see if arrangements could be made to resettle the English factory and to recover the outstanding debts of the Company. The English ambassadors had represented to the emperor that in Patna, where the English had long had a factory, instead of occupying a hired building with precarious tenure they should be given a permanent habitation, and had asked for the house of the late Muhammad Muzaffar, which was imperial property⁵. To this the emperor had agreed, provided they raised no additional walls nor anything like fortifications⁶; and an order had accordingly been issued to the governor of Patna⁷. But Surbaland Khān, the governor, was not on good terms with the English ambassadors. The story runs that Mr. Surman, after all the honours he had received at Delhi, expected the compliment of a first visit from Surbaland Khān, a concession which the governor, as the representative of the emperor in Bihar,

¹*Diary*, 228.

²*Id.*, 229.

³*Id.*, 231.

⁴*Id.*, 234.

⁵*Id.*, 60.

⁶*Id.*, 84, 91.

⁷*Id.*, 171, 176.

could not possibly make. The Diary shows that he certainly expected the English to visit him and ask for the house. When the English vakil applied for it to the bayutah, Surbaland Khān is reported to have answered, 'Should I now give them the house, what have I left to say to them when they make me a visit'¹. But the English, it seems, declined to make the visit, the reason given in the Diary being that a visit implied a peshkash of sixteen thousand rupees. 'On these conditions a factory might be resettled here, but without any prospect of recovering the former debts, the persons being all either dead or insolvent.' On due consideration the ambassadors found that their longer stay would be a fruitless expense of time and money, wherefore, on September 30, they agreed to wait no longer for the convoy from Calcutta but to hire boats and leave the place with the utmost expedition².

On October 7, a letter arrived from the president and council telling them that a party of soldiers was on its way to escort them and directing them to await their arrival, and in the meantime to get possession of the house and recover the Company's debts. But the embassy were impatient and perverse. They again recorded that no compulsion could be used to recover the debts without the nawābs assistance, but the nawāb, so far from assisting them, would not comply with the king's order permitting them to have the house. They could not have the house, said the nawāb, unless they at once settled a factory in it and unless they gave a peshkash of sixteen thousand rupees. So the English ambassadors decided that they could not wait for the Calcutta boats which would probably take two months to arrive, very likely meeting with some trouble in the way, 'which is not to be feared in our passage down seeing we have the king's gursbardār, chēlah, and dostaks to accompany us, besides the character his majesty has been pleased to give us in the list³.

On October 21, they left Patna and proceeded down the river. The gursbardār with the elephant and horses made the same journey by land, keeping pace with the boats as far as Rājmahal⁴. On November 1, the embassy reached Gangaprasād, where they met Ensign Gammon with the boats and soldiers sent up from Calcutta. On the afternoon of November 3, they reached Rājmahal. The gursbardār with the

¹*Diary*, 234-5.

²*Ib.*, 235, 244-5.

³*Ib.*, 237-8.

⁴*Ib.*, 243.

CSL

DIARY¹
OF
MESSRS. SURMAN AND STEPHENSON
DURING THEIR EMBASSY TO THE GREAT MOGUL
15 Aug. 1714 to 14 Dec. 1717;

WITH AN
APPENDIX OF CONNECTED PAPERS.

1. CONSULTATIONS.

AT A CONSULTATION

*Present*²

Mr. Jno. Surman & Mr. Edwd. Stephenson.

“Having received a letter from the Hon^{ble} President & Council, dated the 22nd July, inclosing Copy of instructions, which impowers us to negotiate the business of the Hon^{ble} united East India Company at the Court of the Emperour of Indostan; having particularly examined these instructions, and finding that the Hon^{ble} Presid^t & Council, have very straitly limited the attendance that shall proceed with us; we conclude they have an opinion that the Nabob of this province will grant us force sufficient for our safe conduct thro’ itt. By the small care he took of the Present in itt’s way up from Bengall; We have good reason to beleive his future assistance will be much of the same nature; and that no Risque may be run, and the Hon^{ble} Pres^{dt}. & Council nott depend on such hopes; Conclude that we write

PATNA,
August 15th 1714.

¹ This diary has been carefully summarised by Orme (See Orme Collections, Vol. VII. pp. 1698-1711). He notes the names of the agents in the embassy and continues: “They were all at Patna, January 1st 1714-15. But delays from the Nabob of Patna and his officers, and the tricks of Seerhaud, the roguery and obstinacy of the carriers and other impediments prevented them from beginning their march before the 7th April, when the whole was at Bicherum serays [Bakram Sarāe].” See also rough notes by Orme in the Orme Collections O. V., Vol. 12, pp. 25-52 and 73-59. Orme personally consulted Edward Stephenson about the embassy in January 1765.

² Mr. John Surman, Mr. Edwd. Stephenson, Mr. Hugh Barker, with Dr. Hamilton, and Cojah Seerhaud [Khvājah Sarhad] were at Patna waiting for an escort from the King before proceeding to Delhi. The Diary commences on the 15th of August 1714.

PATNA, SEPTEMBER, 1714.

CSL

a letter to them, giving a full account of the Above-mentioned : for although they have not positively limited us, to any certain rules; butt that on necessity we have power to alter them; Yett since the difference will be so great, and having time sufficient; think itt our duty, first to receive farther instructions.

The Hon^{ble} President & Council having permitted us to remove to another house if we Judge convenient Ordered that a proper house be Enquired after and the Council advised of itt."

"Pursuant to the Hon^{ble} President & Councils permission; In case we should Judge convenient to hire a house; We have this day contracted for One att 50^{rs} per mensem. The reasons for our living apart are as follows.

September 1st.

"Seeing we are to appear in this publick station; Our stay in this 1st 7. factory must be attended with severall inconveniences; as particularly the Awe We are in (as Merchants) from the Government hindering us in our preparations which otherwise we Can't be liable to.

"There is nott room in this factory for the bulk of the Present, for 2nd 7. which reason houses have been already hired to receive itt. Whereas the present House we have taken is able to contain the whole, and sufficient to make all preparations for our proceedure, which would be impossible for us to doe here.

"It is absolutely necessary that we appear in a more publick manner
Lastly. than it's possible to doe att present; that we may have the greater respect from the government; and that our affairs here may be more successfully negotiated, Seeing the post we are now in att this Factory can never be adequate to the Character we receive by this imployment, butt may be a means of being lightly esteemed.

"Having received news that two Goorzeburdars [gurbardār] from the King, with Seerpaws [sar-o-pā] and a Cunger [khanjar] are on their way hither; Ordered that preparations be made for our departure hence, that peons and servants, be suitably entertained, and that our Equipage be decent, and handsome, according to the Honourable President and Councils instructions: there being att present no farther occasion.

The Honourable President and Council in theirs of 27th Ult^o. having enclosed three Husbull Hooooms [hastu-l-hukms], one of which was for Gyratt Cawn [Ghairat Khān],¹ Nabob of this province, with his forces to conduct us through itt: Agreed The said Husbull Hoozum [hasbu-l-hukm] be nott delivered till We appear in a publick station.

PATNA, SEPTEMBER, 1714.

CSL

Agreed that three soldiers be detained, more than what allowed: Viz^{ts} 1 for a Gunner, 1 Tailor, and 1 in Case of mortality; and that the President and Council be advised of our reasons on this head."

"The other house being cleaned out, and fitt to receive Goods; Agreed

September 15th. We first send the liquors, till such time more Peons are entertained; and that those now in service, goe to guard itt.

This day, Anoop Chaud [Anup Chaud] presented himself, to serve as Vakile [vakil], assistant to Oajah Seerhaud [Khawajah Sarhad] in this negotiation: Upon Enquiry, finding him to be a Person of some substance, and Clear reputation; being particularly commended for his Eloquence, and learning, sufficient for this undertaking; We doe think him a proper person. He is att present troubled with the Barbeirs,² therefore as yett unfitt for any publick address: However, we shall dispence with that for some time, in hopes of his recovery; considering him the fittest person in this place, and nott knowing any to compare with him for such an Employ. Agreed that we advise the Honourable President and Council of itt, and the reasons we had to choose him."

"Agreed that the Vakile [vakil] visitt the Nabob, and that he take October 1st. One Gold Moor [mahr] and five rupees for a present, and ten rupees to be disbursed among the Servants; that he tender our service, and deliver the Husbull-Hoozum [hasbu-l-hukm] from Caun-dora Behauder [Khān Daurān Bahādur] withall endeavouring to gain a possitive answer from the Nabob, wether he will grant us forces, sufficient for a safe conduct, through his province, pursuant to the severall orders from the King, already delivered him, under the seales of Cuttbulmooluck, Omeeralomrah, Meer Jemla, and Cutturub Caun [Qutbu-l-Mulk, Amiru-l-Umarā Mir Jumla and Taqarrub Khān]."

¹ Sayyad Ghairat Khān, Bērha, son of Sayyad Nasrullah, Sadat Khān, by sister of the two Sayyads. He was killed on the 8th Oct. 1720, while attempting to avenge his uncle, Hussain 'Ali Khān's assassination.

² According to Hobson Jobson, "barbiers" was formerly current in the East "as the name of a kind of paralysis, often occasioned by exposure to chills." Sir Joseph Fayrer regards it as "the dry form of beriberi." Mr. W. Irvine, to whom I am indebted for many valuable notes on the names of persons and things in the following pages, thinks that a paralysed man would hardly have been selected for an appointment involving a long journey and much work, and suggests that "barbiers" here stands for baraisir, pronounced barhair, or bader, meaning piles.

PATNA, OCTOBER, 1714.

CSL

“Pursuant to our former Consultation, Our Vakile visited the Nabob, where he was handsomely received; and the second visit delivered the Husbull-Hocum, [hasbu-l-hukm] being assured that so soon as [we] were in a posture to leave this place, We might depend on his protection, and that he would see us safe conducted thro’ his jurisdiction.”

October 7th.
“In the interim of these 3 days disputes, there has been a rumor spread of Gyrutt Cauns [Ghairat Khān’s] being displaced, and that Ali-Esgar-Caun [‘Ali Asghar Khān]’ is constituted his successour. Upon large Enquiry into the truth of itt, We have very Good reason to believe it: Seeing Gyrutt Caun [Ghairat Khān] himself talks of departing hence in less than 20 days. To proceed with him would be absolutely the safest conveyance we could meett with, butt seeing his stay is so short, and we so bare of necessaries, for so long a Journey, this project is Utterly impracticable. Wherefore we ought to prepare against the worst, and look out for another opportunity: for which reasons Agreed, that [we] write a complimentary letter to Monsieur Martin² att Dilly, [Delhi] to be dispatched this day, by a nimble Cossid [qāsīd], acquainting him with this turn of affairs here, which he can’t be ignorant off, that we were conscious that our generall Dusticks [dastaks] were nott sufficient commission to the new Subah [Subadar] on his arrivall; in order to a safe conveyance through this province, advising him withall that the way between this place and Bannarass [Benares] was of no little Risque unless secured by a good guard. Agreed that this letter be translated into Latin by Hugh Barker, and that another letter be wrote to the same purport, in Persians; that Padree Daniell be also wrote to this effect, and that we acquaint Cojah Seerhaud [Khawājah Sarhad] of this turn of affairs, desiring he would advise what other friends he has made att Court to carry on this negotiation and that he himself write to them.”

“The Cossid [qāsīd] that brought the Honourable President and Councils last Packett, informing us that Cojah Seerhaud [Khawājah Sarhad] was arrived att Boglepore [Bhāgalpur]; We have taken into consideration, the great risque of passing the Chuckwars, who (as we are credibly informed)

¹ Afterwards Khān Zamān; died 29th Jan. 1743. He was the son of Kār Talab Khān, Ansāri, Mewāti, a favourite of Bahādur Shāh.

² Monsieur Martin, a French physician, died at Dehli in Zūl-qā‘dah, 1140, i.e. June, July, 1728. He was prominent in Bahādur Shāh’s reign at the time of the Dutch embassy, working actively against them. He was called in to attend Muḥammad Shāh several times early in that reign.

PATNA, OCTOBER, 1714.

CSL

are returned to their old station att Samboe [Sambāl], and consequently as capable as ever to act villainously, should they take a fancy to seize the person of Cojah Seerhaud [Khwājah Sarhad], knowing he belongs to the English, whose boates have this two years passed by force. We are nott well satisfied with the Goorzeburdars [gurbardars] protection: For all which reasons, and to discharge the duty incumbent on us, Agreed that we immediately write him a letter, advising that he ought nott to risque his person farther than what was absolute necessity, and that our Opinion is to leave the boates with the Goorzeburdars, and himself come overland."

2. DIARY.

October 17th.

"Arrived Cojah Seerhaud [Khwājah Sarhad]."

3. CONSULTATIONS.

"In the Wacka [vagāyā] sent us by the Nabob, there is news that, att the desire of Padree Daniel, Aurruff Chilah,

October 22nd.

['Arif chelā] with a Goorzeburdar [gurbardār] was ordered to Patna, for the more safe conveyance of the English and Kings present to Court; Seeing the Said Padree had complained, by Caundora's [Khān Daurān's] means, that only the want of Carriage and assistance did now detain them. Cojah Seerhaud [Khwājah Sarhad], since his arrivall, has informed us; that he has advices from Padree Daniel of 50 days date, that he has obtained from the King an order for a Chilah [chelā] and Goorzeburdar [gurbardār] to come to us, with seerpaws [sur-o-pās] and a Cungee [khanjar]. Also that the King outt of his great favour had sent orders on every Subah [sūbādār] and Duan [diwān] to defray our Carriages and expences; and by another letter from Cojah [Khwājah] Petrus to his Gomasto [gumāshstah] here, confirming that news, that Papers were sealed, and the Chilah etc. would be dispatched in a day or two. These advices have been renewed for this five or six days, all which time we have waited for their arrivall with impatience, reflecting that every day now lost is more than ten att another time: for which reason, and nott to be tardy in our preparations, which will att least take up six weeks, the Cold weather coming on with our daily expences; and lastly if the King has issued outt such orders, We reasonably beleiving they will be to receive Specie and nott to have carriages delivered us, by which our Honourable masters may be no losers, by any before-hand Preparations; Agreed, that we commence to hire Carriages, and that the Carriers who have for severall days presented themselves, be now sent for, and an agreement made with them for 100 Carriages."

PATNA, OCTOBER, 1714.

CSL

"Doondy Chowdry [Dundi Chandhri,] Cheif of the Carriers, with 20 others, has this day been with us, and have agreed to prepare 100 Carriages on the following terms :
October 23rd.

att 11 Curr. Rupees per 1 Md. 5 Sr., Each carriage to carry 25 Mds. with 4 oxen; all to be in readiness in 6 weeks: In case of which, and the fault being ours, in nott proceeding; then we are to pay them demurrage according to Custom. They are by agreement to receive 7500 rupees before hand, 10,000 rupees more in the interim, and on their departure; the remaining 10,000 rupees to be paid on their way between this place and Dilly as there shall be occasion. Ordered that they give obligations for the above mentioned, and that 1005 rup^s be paid them, and the rest of the money payable before hand, in small parcells: so that the opportunity of getting ready may nott be lost, nor in case of the Goorzebursars [guzbards] timely arrivall much money Expended."

4. DIARY.

"This day arrived Aurruff Chilah ['Arif chela] with the Kings orders and a Seerpaw [sar-o-pa] from Caundora [Khān Daurān], which was received by John Surman without any Ceremony."
October 29th.

5. CONSULTATIONS.

"Yesterday Mahamud Aurruff Chilah [Muhammad 'Arif chela] arrived with the Kings orders on the Nabob
October 30th. Gyrutt Caun [Ghairat Khān], Duan Esgar Caun [divān Asghar Khān] and Bootade Mullah Nosseer [buyutāti Mullā Nasir]. The two former nott being in the City; Order'd that Mahamud Aurruff Chilah ['Arif chela], Adge Omud [Hāji Ahmad], and Golam Hossein [Ghulam Husein], Goorzebursars [guzbards] goe, and deliver his majestys order to Mullah Nosseer [Mullā Nasir], demanding a ready compliyanee, and intimating that seeing the King had issued outt such gracious orders, The fault of any longer stay would be entirely theirs, and for which they must be accountable.

Ordered that a list of what carriages we esteem necessary for the present be prepared and sent to the Bootade [buyutāti].

Cojah Seerhaud [Khawajah Sarhad] informing us that the Flint Ware in the Present would be of no value, unless putt into a better shape, and seeing a possibility with a small expence to render itt very acceptable; Agreed that proper Workmen be sent for, and that they follow Cojah Seerhands [Khwajah Sarhad] directions in this Affair.

PATNA, OCTOBER, 1714.

CSL

There being severall sorts of Fine Oiles, Otter ['itr] and Drams which must of necessity be divided into a great many parcells, and should be putt into handsome bottles and Cases, in order to their better acceptance; withall this place being noted for curiositys of this nature, and consequently a small sum thus Expended appearing large and agreeable att Court, Agreed That 1000 or 1500 Rupees (nutt no farther), be laid out in making Diamond Cutt glasses, and bottles, Otterdaneyes ['itrdānīs] and Gilt Ware, after the English Fashion, and that the Care of this devolve on Cojah Seerhaud [Khwajah Sarhad].

There being still an occasion to make sundry necessities In Silver; Agreed that the Bullion bought by Edward Pattle etc., and sent us be given outt, and made into the following particulars---

1. Aftoa and Chillumchy [āftābā and chilamchī].
1. English Coffee Pott.
1. Do Country fashion.
1. Small Chafondish and Lamp for Spiritts.
1. Large Soop-Spoon.
2. Candlesticks.
2. Salt sellers.
1. Porringer.
2. Bandizers, 1 large, 1 small.
12. Plates.
4. Small dishes.
1. Large Soop-dish.
2. Middling and 2 large dishes.
1. Mussall and Teeldanny [mush'al and tel-dānī].
1. Mussal with 2 branche
1. Phanoose [fānūs].
1. Tea pott and Canister.
2. Chubdars Sticks [chobdār sticks]."

"The following list being drawn out, and sealed by Mr John Surmans seal, Ordered that the Goorzebardars [gurbardārs] carry itt to the Bootade [buyutātī] who has demanded itt, viz^t

- 100 Carriages each to carry 25 mds.
- 1200 Cohars [kahārs].
- 15 Camells.
- 10 Hackeries.

PATNA, NOVEMBER, 1714.

CSL

- 22 Oxen for the Guns.
30 Bildars [beidārs].
10 Carpenters.
4 Smiths.

The Bootade [bugutāti] refused to accept the Abovementioned Phirds [fards], unless sealed by Cojah Seerhaud [Khwājah Sarhad], whose name was solely expressed in the Kings orders: To which the Goorzeburdars [gurzēbardārs] answered; That John Surman being Cheif, itt was customary for all Papers to receive his impression, and that the Kings orders did nott so much respect the Seal as the ensuing Present. This nott proving satisfactory to one insisting as a Servant on the letter of Said orders, Mr John Surman, That our Honourable Masters might nott be impeded from receiving this benefitt, offered as some alleviation, That his own seal should be att the Top and Cojahs [Khwājah's] att the bottom of Said Phird [fard]: butt that this may be no future President, Agreed, That Padree Daniel, by the first Cossid [qāsid] to Court be forbid mentioning Seerhaud, or att least without giving the Preheminence to John Surman, in all orders that may come from thence. This was agreed to by the Bootade [bugutāti] with the following alterations only. Instead of 100 Carriages at 25 mds per Carriage, 160 at 16 mds, and that Seerhauds seal be altered to Cojah Seerhaud [Khwājah Sarhad]."

"Cojah Seerhaud [Khwājah Sarhad] advising us, that he wore Union

November 6th. Flags¹ in Hugly has desired the same liberty here. Itt is the Opinion of Mess^{rs} John Surman and Edward Stephenson that where the Companys business may call him apart, there is an absolute necessity off his appearing in some State; Yett retaining a destination to the Cheif; There being no great necessity for itt att present, and nott to disgust Mr Pattle, while in this place; withall the Case being Altogether new, no Second Ever carrying them; They have desired him nott to insist on itt, butt referr itt to the Honourable President Etc. whose orders shall be obeyed."

"The 7th Inst. Cojah Seerhaud [Khwājah Sarhad] visitted the November 10th. Duan [diwān] and Bootade [bugutāti], where he was very handsomely received. The Duan

[diwān] demanded an Account of the Kings present, which Seerhaud refused, pretending Every thing was sealed up, he nott being Empowered to open itt; butt desired the Duan [diwān] to follow the letter of the Kings orders, Intimating that nothing hindered our ¹ This union flag was not the present union jack, but an earlier flag in which the St. George's and St. Andrew's crosses were combined.

PATNA, NOVEMBER, 1714.

CSL

procedure butt want off Carriage for the Present, which we expected would be in readiness by the first of next moone. The Duans [dūān's] reason for this demand was the apprehension of Merchants Goods being carried Under protection of the Kings orders; for which he should in some measure be accountable; Whereas the delivery of such list would Endemnisfe him. Seerhand answered That the English nation (He hoped) had gott such an Established reputation, as nott to need supports of that nature, off which his Majestys present favour was a plain Instance; besides that we should be very fearfull of putting his Majesty to any unnecessary Charge: He farther added, that upon a strict Calculation, We found that 60 Carriages and 800 Cohars [kahārs] might be deducted from the former list: Wherefore we desired the first might be restored, and another received in its room, which was done accordingly by the Goorzeburdars (gurbardārs), as mentioned in our former consultation.

For the furtherance of a letter to our Nabob who is still abroad, brought from Court by Auruff Chilah [Arif chelā]; Agreed that one Goorzeburdar [gurbardār], and Said Chilah [chelā] attend him, and waite for what orders shall issue from thence.

Carriages being arrived to receive their loading, and there nott being servants sufficient to attend their Carrying out; Agreed that more Peons Etc. be entertained according to the pressing occasion.

Ordered that Goods be loaden on the Carriages, as they come in, with All Expedition."

6. DIARY.

"Received a letter wrote in English from Monsieur Martin, att Dilly;
A private Account off which is gone to the Honble.

November 19th.

President and Councill att Fort William and Signed by Messrs Jno. Surman and Edward Stephenson."

November 23rd. "An account off the Carriages as they were loaded and Carried out

Nov. 14	...	...	30
15	...	...	10
16	...	...	11
17	...	...	12
18	...	...	5
19	...	...	3
20	...	...	5
22	...	...	2
			78

PATNA, NOVEMBER, 1714.

CSL

7. CONSULTATIONS.

"The Nabob being come into the City; to hasten the preparations for our departure we think itt absolutely necessary that he be visitt. Agreed that he be visitt and he desired to grant a greater force than he has already ordered.

Tents necessary for our selves and Attendants in some measure being provided, Agreed that Mr. John Surman pay for them outt off the cash.

Visit:—

1 Tent with redd lining	...	...	205
1 do Small, Chints do	...	...	55
1 do do do	...	...	61
1 do do redd lining	...	...	65
6 Cannants [ganāts] Chints	...	...	162
Necessary Tent	...	...	40
1 Tent 5 Gur. redd lining	...	...	130
1 do 4 do do	...	...	120
4 Cannants Carrowa [ganāts of Khārwā]	...	...	104
1 do Green	...	...	17-4
1 Small Tent	...	...	30
1 Canopy Chints lining	...	...	35
			1,074-4"

"Considering that severall off the Companys Debtors have been seized by Edward Pattie etc., which being complained off to the Government, they were demanded out off their hands, And nothing being procurable in the publick Courts of Justice; We have desired Mr. Pattie, &c^{es} consent and advice to Seize said Debtors, Well knowing that our present station frees us from those apprehensions which attend a Factory off Merchants; that so by using a little severity, we might gett in att least part of the Debts: Agreed that Peons be Employed to seize them as Speedily as possible; Especially Dunnysaw [Dhani Saha], and Acum [Akram], who are the only persons judged responsible. As itt is believed the Government will take notice off itt, Agreed that Seerhaud inform the Nabob, that despairing to obtain our Debts here, we are resolved to Carry them with us to Court."

PATNA, DECEMBER, 1714.

CSL

8. DIARY.

November 28th "Account off Carriages continued.

Nov. 25	...	...	4
26	...	...	3
28	...	...	4
			—
			11"
			—

9. CONSULTATIONS.

"Considering Every body Ought to make a handsome appearance, and November 30th. Mess^{rs} Hamilton and Barker nott having Pallan-keens yett provided; Agreed that they be made, and slightly plated with Silver; and that Mr^r John Surman give money outt off the Cash for that use."

"Pursuant to a former Consultation, having Seized Gaungee [Khānji] and Dunnysaws Son, [Dhani Saba] the Companys December 8th. Debtors, with Sooty Deloll [Sūti, dālāl], a Debtor off Mr^r Lloyd deceased; and used them with some severity: these thorough-pac't Rogues, nott Easy to be brought to reason, have rather than pay 500 Rupees off Debts, chose to spend so much in the Durbar [darbār]. Their friends gott together, and raised all the Salt Merchants, and Cashmeerys [Kāçmirīs], to complain to the Nabob, hindering his going to prayers; For which reason, he sent to desire that the prisoners Might be delivered to Sheak Esaw [Shaikh Īsā], who should see us paid; by which meanes, the ill name would be taken from both off us.
Upon due consideration, itt is the Opinion off us all, that they be delivered for the following reason, That by any meanes we ought nott to disoblige the Nabob; for although itt's likely, since we are going to Court, he may nott care to Force us; Yett he may privately be more detrimental to our Masters Affairs, Farr exceeding any advantages that may arise from Saïd Debtors. We have advised Mess^{rs} Pattie and Pratt of this: The former only dissents, So ordered that Gaungee, Dunnysaws son [Khānji, Dhani Saba's son], with Sooty Deloll [Sūti, dālāl] be delivered, and that Cojah Seerhaud [Khawājah Sarhad] carry them with him to Sheak Issa [Shaikh Īsā]."

PATNA, DECEMBER, 1714.

CSL

"The Eugenes [Ujainis]¹ molesting Merchants and travellers on the road to Banarass, [Benares] which we must pass: December 12th.

We have considered whither we ought intirely to rely on the promiss off the Nabob for his protection; or do something for our selves; by presenting the Cheif of them, Sedistenaran [Sidisht Narāyan]. We have approved off the latter. Agreed that the following things be delivered by Mr. Edward Stephenson, that they be made up, and that the Kings Chilah, [chālā], one Horseman and ten peons be sent thither; and that a Complimenting letter be wrote, and delivered to the Chilah. The present to be viz^t

	yds.	nbs.
Broad Cloth Scarlett	11	14 is	10 grzz.
Green Fine	11	14 „	10 do.
Aurora	11	14	10 do.
Imbost Ordinary	11	14	10 do.
Yellow Ordinary	6	...	5 do.

1 Fuzzee²

1 Pair Horse-pistolls

1 Pair pockett do.

2 perspect: Glasses

2 Magnifying and Multiplying Glasses.

2 Triangle Glasses, 1 Burning Glass

3 Penknives, 3 pair Sizars.

10 Sr Flint Ware.

"The business off Seizing the Debtors, having made some noise in the City, and represented by the Merchants as a hardship; We Fearing that they are gathering names to a protest; Agreed that Padree Daniel be advised thereof, by a Nimble Cossid [qāsid]; that he Endeavour to gett an order from the King concerning this buisness, and for Fear off Miscarriage, that Duplicates of said Letters be sent by another Cossid [qāsid] and that Seerband Endeavour to obtain that this affair be duely

¹ Mr. Irvine says that the Ujainiyah clan had long been practically independent, only paying revenue under compulsion. Rajah Rindar, descended in the fifth generation from the first Ujainiyah rajah of Bhōjpur, rebelled against Aurangzeb, and was joined by the neighbouring zamindars. On this account he was deposed and the chiefship was given to his brother, ancestor of the present houses of Dumraon and Jagdispur. While Aurangzeb was absent in the Deccan, Dhir, a distant cousin of the rajah, descended in the sixth generation from the same ancestor, seized many zamindaris, and maintained a force of about 14,000 horse and 50,000 foot. Dhir died of fever in 1712, and was succeeded by Sidisht Narāyan, his second but eldest surviving son.

² Fuzzee is perhaps meant for fusil, i.e. a matchlock.

PATNA, DECEMBER, 1714.

CSL
13

entered in the Swana [sawānīh], getting recommendatory letters from Meer-Jemla's [Mir Jumla's] and Caundora's [Khān Dauran's] Brother, who are in the place.

To show the World, that our stay here proceeds only from the dilatoriness off the Government's preparations; Ordered that what Tents are ready, be sent outt with a Fitt Number off peons to guard them."

"The Soldiers wanting Cloths, itt being very Cold, and withall necessary that they make a handsome appearance

December 25th.

Agreed that Each off them have Coates given them, and that Mr. Stephenson deliver outt Cloth for that use.

In a former Consultation we agreed nott to take any more Carriages from the Kings officers, than what were absolutely necessary for the Carriage off the present. This day Seerhaud has been with the Bootade, [buyutāti] and there Agreed to receive as many Carriages as were necessary for all the goods. His reasons for so doing are as follows; That finding there might be plague and trouble from the Nabob, Duan [āwān] etc. On our leaving this place; as likewise in the way, where those private Carriages might be distinguished; Since they would give Dusticks [dastaks] for no more than what were paid for by the Kings officers. This was done without our knowledge and consent. In case hereafter there may be any trouble on this head att Court, Agreed that 9^{rs}. a Maund be Charged on all private Goods, and that money either pay for the Carriages to the King, or be Employed in Bribery."

10. CONSULTATION.

"The Honourable President &c^{es} letter. dated December 15th was produced and read. Cojah Seerhaud [Khawajah

December 31st.

Sarhad] having for these few days shown himself very much discontented, and privately said that unless he had the Entire management of the Durbar [darbār], he would nott proceed; He was now desired to Explain himself. Concerning the 20000 rupees he Affirmed to be promised him by the Honourable President and Council, he received a finall answer, That they neither promised anything off that Nature nor would now give itt. Seerhaud Explains himself in this manner, That Seeing the Council had nott thought fitt to Allow him the Sum above-mentioned, Yett he hoped att his return in consideration off his good Services, he should receive itt in Ouleutta, So that he disputes no farther att present on this head: Butt his immediate demands are, that none off us should offer to interferr in the buisness off the Durbar

PATNA, DECEMBER, 1714.

CSL

[darbar], which did Entirely depend on him alone. That no papers or letters should be sealed with John Surmans Impression, and In Fine that unless all this was allowed, he would nott Stir a Step, or till such time as he received farther Instructions from the Honourable President and Council; Upon which The Companys General Instructions were produced, and Examined; butt all would nott avail. He having repeted his denial to proceed with us, We demanded a delivery off all the Companys letters and papers to the King and Officers att Court, which he readily comply'd with. Agreed that the Honourable President and Council be fully advised off Every Particular, and that we waite their farther orders.

On Christmas-day Seerpaws [sar-o-pās] being given to the Goorze-burdars [gurabardārs], Agreed that they be allowed.

Sitteringes [shibranji] for the Ordinary Spreadings off the Tents being bought; Agreed that Mr Jn^e Surman pay for them.

The Government having absolutely refused to Furnish us with Camells, none being to be hired, and they being very necessary, Agreed that 7 or 8 more be bought, iff procurable. Bought vizt:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
1 Sorrell Horse	... 460	12	6
1 Bay do	... 228	0	0
1 Sorrell Tangon ¹	... 120	0	0
		808	12 6
2 Oxen		20	0 0
		828	12 6

Agreed that they be paid for by Mr Jno. Surman."

"After many disputes with the Duan [duān] and Bootade [bugulātā], who have been quarrelling with one another Concerning the agreement, and paying for the Carriages; withall objecting that we are in no readiness to proceed, having demanded the reason of Such delay, and also that we would sett a day from which The Carriages and Cohars [kahārs] should commence: That whatever Cheats they have putt upon us, and still Seem to be hatching, may nott lye att our doors, Agreed that an obligation be drawn in Persians, That we are in perfect readiness for our procedure; That we desire The Wagoners and Cohars [kahārs] may commence their pay from 11th off January Ensuing, and that in ¹ Tangon is (āngan, a hill pony.

PATNA, JANUARY, 1715.

CSL

Case we did not proceed to our Tents and on our Journey, Whatever Demurrage might accrue from our farther Stay, we did Enjoin our Selves to pay: That this be Signed by Mr. John Surman and Cojah Seerhaud [Khwajah Sarhad], that itt be given to the Bootade, [bugutāl], and that Seerhaud acquaint the Buxie [bakhshā] with itt: Agreed also that Mr John Surman and Cojah [Khwajah] Seerhaud pay Said Buxie [bakhshā] a visitt in form, he being Meer Jumla's [Mir Jumla's] Brother, and take their leave; by which meanes our departure will be Entered in the Wacka [vagā'yā], and so Clear us from any Aspersion that may be flung on us, by the Villany off the Duan [diwān] and Bootade [bugutāl].

Considering our great Number of Carriages and Doolys [dolis], likewise our Journey being Subject both to publick and private Robberies; and although itt's probable we may have some force from the Government for our protection; Yett being off opinion that our main dependance is on our Servants which after Serious consideration, we find cannot be Supply'd by less than 400 Peons, and Buxeries, [Baksaris]¹ and 50 Horsemen; Agreed that they be entertained by little and little, till the time off our Departure.

Bought Camells 2.....451-5-6. Agreed that Mr Jno Surman pay for them.

Papers rec^d from Seerhaud—

1 parcell ...	10 pers: pap:
D ^o ...	4 Eng ^s . concerning Towns.
D ^o ...	8 letters to Court."

11. SECRET CONSULTATION ON THE 1ST JANUARY, 1715.

"Yesterday morning, after receipt off a letter from y^e Hon^{ble} Presid^t and Councill, off y^e 15th Ult^o; wherein we had a particular answer to ours off Nov^r 23^d; att which time Seerhaud informed us, that he was to receive 20,000 R^s in broad Cloth, on arrivall off y^e Kings orders, for defraying y^e Carriage, off y^e Present, out off his Treasury; and that he had advised the Hon^{ble} President and Councill by a letter, that in case itt was nott performed, he would proceed no farther, in y^e Companys service; The Hon^{ble} Presid^t. Etc. actually denying any Such promise, in y^e letter above-mentioned; Pursuant to their orders, we soothed him with fair words, butt withall demanded his answer, to that head. Seerhaud

¹ Baksaris, i.e., men of Bakhar, generally armed with matchlocks.

PATNA, JANUARY, 1715.

CSL

Slightly evaded this former demand; Saying, that he was assured y^e Good offices, he should doe att Court, would induce them on his return, to what they did nott att present agree to: Butt that what he immediately demanded was this; That neither M^r Surman or any one Else should interferr in any buisness, off y^e Durbar; That all letters, or papers should receive no other impression butt his own; and in generall requiring, that this Affair should remain entirely under his management. 'Tis true he offered to give an Account off Every thing to y^e board, Yett in case off any dissent, he was resolved to doe itt on his own head, and for which he pretended to be accountable to none, but y^e Hon^{ble} President Etc in Culcutta. These offers nott being consonant to our Generall Instructions, with y^e private orders we have received, occasioned many disputes; as likewise y^e produce off said General Instructions, which were read, and thoroughly Explained, yett availed nothing, he still persisting in his obstinacy; withall that unless a thorough concession was made him, he would nott stirr a step out off Patna. These strange notions obliged M^r John Surman immediately to demand all the President Etc^{es} Letters to the King and other Officers att Court; which he delivered as per Diary. Itt is our opinion, he has some other reasons more prevalent, than what he has offered in Councill: viz^t The hopes off carrying Merchants Goods under protection of y^e Present, which he has frequently desired, butt could never obtain our consent to; being possitively contrary to our instructions, we well considering y^e Risque off y^e Present, and our selves by having them in our Company, with y^e trouble that may arise att Court, for carrying them, and which he himself confirmed in a former Consultation: There being severall Armenians that he has brought up and designs to carry with him, besides other Merchants with whom he has contracted to carry their goods, and in which finding himself baulkt off our Consent; we beleive has been y^e occasion off his waving y^e 20,000 R^s, and making a further pretence, for his longer stay, till such time as he should receive farther Authority from Culcutta. We agreed to advise y^e Hon^{ble} President and Councill off this Affair; He also promising to show what letters he wrote on that occasion, which finding him to have failed in, by sending his Cossid [qâsi] away privately. We Endeavoured by Spyes, and other Secrett methods to pry into his actions, which confirmed us in our abovementioned opinion; That his design is purely to delay our proceedure, nott having intentions for our Masters interest.

Our private Emissaries have now brought us an Account, that he has secretly dispatched a Cossid [qâsid] to Court, We know no reasons for it, believing there was nott any great necessity : Yett we have this Jealousy, that there can be nothing for our Masters interest, seeing he did nott think fitt to advice us off itt. Itt is our buisness to consult y^e Good off y^e Affair we have in hand ; The Tents and Carriages being out, a sufficient guard being with Each ; This, with y^e House-peons, and other preparation to so great a Journey, occasions a very great Expence, which ought to be mitigated, as much as possible, by our short Stay.—1st Itt is our opinion, that the Hon^{ble} President and Council will never give him y^e Authority he pretends to : 2^{dy} That itt is for y^e Companys advantage y^e Sooner we depart hence ; by which nott only a farther Expence will be prevented, butt his designes, iff any bad, averted. 3^{dy} That he has very much hindred us already, butt permitting y^e Bootade [buyutāṭi]¹, to pay y^e Carriers and Cohars [kahārs] ; and Lastly for a generall remedy, to apply our selves privately to y^e Nabob, and other Officers, as occasion offers, Either by fair words, or bribes ; Even to force us to a departure, from this place.”

PATNA, JANUARY, 1715.

CSL

JOHN SERMAN.

EDWARD STEPHENSON.

12. CONSULTATIONS.

“The person formerly designed for Vakile [vakil], Anoopchund [Anūp Chaud], continuing still so infirm, that an entire relyance cannot be putt in him, for fear off a disappointment ; With this consideration, we have looked out for another to supply his place, His name is Mollookchund [Malik Chaud], by cast a Surrouck², He has been brought up to this buisness all his life, in the Service off most off the Omrahs [umārā], who have been in these parts, being off a very good address, and one whose reputation we have nott in the least found to be tainted ; Agreed that he be taken into the Service to act in the buisness off the Durbar [darbār] under Cojah Seerhaud [Khawājah Sarhaud]. He has agreed for 100 Rupees per Mensem, butt Expects to be Supply'd with Cohars [kahārs] for his Pallankeen 2 Servants and 1 Mussalehy [mash'alchi]. Considering

January 1st 1715.

¹ Providing carriage at Court was the business of the Khānsamān, or Lord Steward, and the provincial Buyutāṭi being an official of that department, it naturally fell on him to provide the carts and bearers at Patna.

² A Sarawak, a caste of mahājans, mārvāns by race, and Jains by religion.

PATNA, JANUARY, 1715.

CSL

Mellookahund [Malak Chand] is not sufficient, we have taken another to assist in the Durbar; His name is Ramohund Pondit [Ram Chand, pundit], by cast a Bramin; He is particularly recommended by M^r Surman, in Every respect qualified for a head Vakile, butt the want of the Persian Language, and may be off very good service, nott only in the Durbar, butt on other Accounts; For which reasons, having butt one Vakile, we take him into the Service to serve under Seerhaud in the Durbar, or any other buisness he shall be ordered to.

Agreed that he have 80 Rs pr. mo., and Pallankeen for his Journey; to commence from the time off our departure, In the Interim, to receive 30 Rs pr. mo. from 15th Ult^o, he having assisted from that time.

The Honourable President and Councill having allowed Seerhaud 2 flages, pursuant to their orders, he has liberty to wear them."

"Pursuant to a private Consultation off the 1st Instant, Having Endeavoured by private meanes, to know whether it was possible to hasten our departure, which the Nabob has Encouraged us to, butt Expects a present, nothing being to be done without itt; Agreed that M^r Edw^d. Stephenson deliver out the following things Viz^t.—

Imbost Broad Cloth	...	1 p ^s 2 p ^s Ordin ^y Green.
Fine Redd do	...	2
Yellow do	...	1
Amrova	...	1
Middling Green	...	3
Ordin ^y Redd	...	1
	—
Total	...	3 p ^s 11.
	—

Horse pistols 1 p^r. pockett pistolla 1½ p^r.
Blunderbuss 1 Guns 1 penknives 3.
Mag: Mult: Glass^s: 2 Sizars 3 p^r.
Triangle Glass^s: 2.

Finding the Nabob will be contented with this present, we think itt more to the Credit of the Negotiation, that itt be made in Goods, rather than money; and likewise that the value cannott be so considerable, as to make us pause in giving itt; Since we have so just reason to beleive our stay has been chiefly caused by Seerhaud, or att least that his Dilatoriness very much contributed thereto. Agreed that itt be done as PATNA, JANUARY, 1715.

CSL
19 privately as possible, that so we may the better reap the advantages of it."

13. DIARY.

January 7th. "Messrs Pattie and Pratt departed for Calcutta."¹

January 9th. "Mr Phillips arrived from Calcutta."

14. CONSULTATION.

January 10th. "To-morrow being the day designed to proceed to our Tents, according to a former obligation, given to the Bootade [buyutāt], setting a day from whence the Carriers and Cohars [kahārs] shou'd commence; Agreed that all things be in readiness, and that we proceed accordingly."

15. DIARY.

January 11th. "Att four adlock came to our Tents, being accompany'd by 200 Horse off the Nabobs, who immediately left us on our arrivall."

16. CONSULTATIONS.

January 15th. "This day Seerhaud informed us, that the Nabob being turned out, The treasure would nott proceed, for fear off any accident, in itts way to Illabas; That itt was disputed between the Nabob, Duan [diwān], and Buxie [bakhshā] who should provide the Convoy, and what was sufficient for the carriage of itt; That the Nabob himself would depart after the 13th off Next Moone; That since the Treasure was stoppt, he beleived they would nott admitt off our proceedre: Withall the Question being putt whither we should consent to a farther stay, so as to proceed with the Nabob; or endeavour to depart, which would oblige them either actually to Stop us, or give some forces for our protection; Concluded on the Latter as the most proper; and that the Goorzeburdars [guzerbardārs] be ordered to endeavour that the Carriages and Doolys [doolis] be brought to the Tents, as soon as possible; that we may be in perfect readiness for our departure."

¹ Pattie and Pratt arrived at Calcutta on the 1stth January. see Vol. II, Pt. 1, § 893. Pattie was at Calcutta on the 3rd March, 1715, see ib. § 901.

RAINA, JANUARY, 1715.

CSL

Mess^{rs} Stephenson, Hamilton, and Barker having desired that the Honourable President and Council might be acquainted with their small allowance for Clothes, in order to some addition; Hoping att least that said allowance may be doubled: We thinking itt very reasonable, Agreed that we write the Honourable President and Council in their behalf, and send them a Copy of their reasons on that head, viz^a 1st The absolute necessity off making a handsome appearance, in all places where we shall come, which was the reason off doubling the Honourable Companys allowance in the first Expence off their apparell: Wherefore now humbly desire itt may be allowed, Seeing itt is an Expence which otherwise there would have been no necessity for; Withall the present Employ off our Honourable Masters taking us from any prospect off private advantage.

January 21th.

2^{dly} Being reasonably apprehensive our Journey will be much longer than formerly judged by the Honourable President &c^a our daily Expence Striking very deep, and the first provision being near Spoiled, Hope they may have a Speedy Supply, nott being in such great circumstances, to doe itt immediately themselves.

Dead	1 Turkey Horse	...	...	277
	1 Small Do	...	...	145

				412

Agreed that itt be wrote off to Proffitt & Loss.

There has been disputes for some time between the Nabob, Duan [dwan] and Buxie, [bakhshe] concerning the dispatch off the Treasure, with which we had hopes to proceed: The Duan and Buxie were against the dispatch of itt for fear of itt's being plundered by Sedistenaran & the Eugenes [Sedisht Ntrāyan and the Ujains], who were now grown desperate; Since Meer Jemia [Mir Jumlah] was coming with a great force to Suppress them: That Itt was nott unlikely butt he might plunder the Treasure, & with that money raise forces, and give a greater trouble to the Kings army: That in case the Nabob would permitt the Treasure to lye in the Fort, they would give him a receipt. Butt he refused to Comply, sending his Brother Haddy Caun [Haji Khān] with 500 Horse, and 500 Buxies [Bakhsis] to protect the Treasure. We are informed they will all this day meett att the Buxies [bakhshe's]: Agreed that Seerhaud goe thither, and that

PATNA, JANUARY, 1715.

CSL
21 if possible he gett a permission for our departure along with the Treasure:—

Bo ¹	3 Camells	...	...	685	8	9
	1 Do	...	...	172	10	6
	1 Do	...	...	162	8	3
							1,020 11 6
Bo ²	1 Pyed Tazzy ¹	...	...	387	15	6
Horses	1 Grey Turkey	...	...	268	10	6
	1 Taugon for the Sold ^{rs}	...	...	132	0	6
	1 Do for Seerhaud	...	...	222	2	0
							1,007 12 0
The amo ^t off Obtile being Rupees							2,028 7 6

Agreed that Mr Jno. Surman pay for them out off the Cash."

17. DIARY.

"The treasure arrived from Shaster Gaums [Shāstah Khan's] Garden² att Allum Gungo The Nabob has ordered his brother with 400 Horse & 400 peons as a Convoiy to the Treasure, butt designs nott to admitt off our departure yett."

26th. "The Treasure arrived att the Cozzys [Qāzi's] Garden."³

"The Nabobs brother arrived att his tents with the Treasure. The Bootade [būyatādi] has recd. 20,000 Rs. on our account butt has nott yett paid any considerable Sum. Arrived a Cossid [qāsid] from Padre. By wh. came a letter from Caundora [Khān Daurān] as also a letter from Syud Sallabutt Cam [Sayyad Salabat Khān] to Mr Surman. The padree gives an Account off 2,000 Rs. Expended att the time off the late Gesson [jashan] att Court."

28th. "This morning Seerhands Tent was sent to Aurungabad.⁴ The Bootades [būyatādi's] writer was nere to take an Account off the Carriages. & Merchants Goods

¹ Tazzy is azai, an Arab horse.

² There is still an old garden just east of Alanganj in Patna City, but this it appears was not Shāstah Khan's. This garden is said to have become a chāl with a mound at the S. W. corner. On the north there is a chāl of long standing.

³ Qāzibagh is a quadrangle in thane Alanganj. There is no trace of any garden here, only a grave of earth called the Qāzi Salabat's grave. The name of the Qāzi is unknown, but it is said to have been his wish that his grave should be of earth, so that even the poorest might keep it in order. The grave is an object of reverence to both Hindus and Moslems.

⁴ Perhaps a village about 2 miles south-east of Phulwari now commonly called Nauranga.

PATNA, FEBRUARY, 1715.

CSL

Bro' back from the Treasure, the Government designing that shall proceed alone."

18. CONSULTATION.

"Cojah Seerhaud [Khwājah Sarhad] having pursuant to a former consultation, been with the Nabob and Buxie [bakhshē], to endeavour iff possible to gain our dispatches with the Treasure. Informs us that the thing was impracticable, they not permitting any Carriages to proceed with The Treasure, nor even us, till they were assured that had reached Sarseswong [Sahasrām]; when the Nabob promised we should be dispatched: To show that we were unwilling to stay behind, Yesterday we, by a full consent, ordered some off our Tents to be carry'd a Coarce [koē] on their way beyond the place where the Treasure was then Encamp'd, designing to have proceeded thither our selves; Butt were forbid by the Nabob and Buxie [bakhshē], for which reason now think itt improper, nott being willing to bring matters to an Extremity; Agreed that we continue where we are."

19. DIARY.

January 29th. "The Treasure gone to Pulwarry [Phulwārī]."
30th. "The Treasure gone from Pulwarry."
Seerhaud rec'd a letter from Ganzeaudy Cawn [Ghāziū-d-dīn Khān], who Sent a Cossid [qāsid] on purpose Assuring him that should the Present meett with any impediments in way he would be serviceable with the King.
Bedistenar [idsh't Nārāyan's] Vakile going to clear the Treasure thro' his Jurisdiction came here, when he assured us off great Friendship respecting our Journey."
February, 17th. "Severall carriages well, and we beleive damaged by the Great rain."
19th. "This night theives breaking in upon some Marchants Goods, near our Camp, had carried off a Good Booty; butt being pursued by our people, forsook their plunder."

20. CONSULTATION.

"This day Seerhaud informs us, that he was Strenuously advised, both by the Duan [dīwān] and Buxie [bakhshē], to be quide in our departure; relying no farther on the fair promises off the Nabob ; and In case he did nott give forces, so soon as the Squabble was Ended with the Carriers, to proceed without them. Itt is our opinion their advice is wholesome, and ought to be followed : Butt are very apprehensive the Nabob will by some indirect meanes hinder the Bootade [buyutāi] from paying the Carriers ; notwithstanding the Cohars [kahārs] have received two months pay. Agreed that Seerhaud promise the Bootade [buyutāi] a Small present, on condition that our business be immediately finished ; That we may by any meanes gett hence, either with or without Force, Seeing our arrivall att Court this season depends upon itt."

¹ Most probably this is Ahmad Beg, Ghāzi-d-dīn Khān, Bahādur, Ghālib Jang, nicknamed koṣāh or goat board. He died at Delhi on the 7th Oct. 1726.

PATNA, FEBRUARY, 1715.

CSL

21. DIARY.

" This night a large Tent Burned, Taking fire accidentally by the Lamp ; little other damage besides what was nott in Chests."

February 21st.

" Seerhaud visitted the Nabob, where were the Bootade [buyutāi], Cozzy [qāzi] and others, after severall disputes he obtained leave for our departure. He was promised 200 Horse as Convoy to Sarsewiong [Sahasrām], and 50 to Illabas [Allahabad]. The Nabob likewise sent his Gassowli [gassawāl] to hasten the Bootade [buyutāi]."

February 22nd.

" Seerhaud took his leave off the Nabob. The Tant att Aurungabad gone on to Pulwarry [Phulwārī]."

February 24th.

22. CONSULTATION.

" Seerhaud, and ~~and~~ wajah Sarhad] having been at the Buxies [bukhsā], was informed, that unless we did proceed immediately, there might something the Space of two days, which would disappoint our Journey ; Seerhaud communicated this news to us by letter, joining his own opinion to that of the Buxie [bukhsā]; Agreed that we decamp to morrow on Seerhauds note, and proceed to Pulwarry [Phulwārī], there Expecting the Issue off our Affairs in the Patna Durbars [darbārs]."

y 25th

In consideration that money beforehand must be given to our Horsemen, Peons, and other Servants, on our first Setting out; Agreed that they have all 2 months pay given them, butt to commence from PHULWARI AND NAUBATPUR, MARCH, 1715.

CSL

The first of the Ensuing month, as per Agreement, and with the advice and desire of Cojah Seerhaud [Khwājah Saḥad], That wee may not Loose any time."

23. DIARY.

February 23th. "Arrived att Pulwarry [Phulwarī] with all the Carriages and Doolys [dolis]."

March 3rd. "Arrived with our Tents and Present att Nobatpore [Naubatpur]"

March 5th. "Seerhaud Sent the Nabobs Dustick [dastak] for the way."

6th. "Dispatched a Cossid [qasid] to Padree Daniel to prevent more bills of Exchange.

The Choif carriers kept in prison here, in order to finish their buisness."

March 8th. "Wrote a note to Seerhaud, advising him to come out, leaving the Goorzeburdars [guzbārdārs] behind; and iff after we had gone two days Journey they could nott obtain any convey, then to come after us, giving the Kings Dewhy."

Nobatpore, March 10th. "Received a note from Seerhaud that after much trouble, he says, 50 Horsemen and 50 peons were obtained from the Nabob: He farther adds, that iff all things are ready, he will come out to morrow, iff not, then the day following."

24. CONSULTATION.

"We have now received a note from Seerhaud off the following contents: That the Nabob having sent his forces to us, he went to take his leave off the Buxia [Lakshi], who was against our Immediate procedure, without setting Guard, or till such time as Meer Jem ^{Shah} [Mir Juman] arrive side Illabas [Allahābād]; That all the Kings Phowdars [Phowdars] the road had fled, for fear of the Engenes [Ujains] and so forth. hazzard the loosing our Present. This advice (as he was strengthened by Chann Chund, Sheak Esaw, Futtechundsaw, and Lolgee [Ki ^{Shah} and Shekh Isā, Fath Chand Sāhā and Lālji]; wherefore he recommended itt to our consideration, withall desiring orders, whither he should stay and follow their advice, or come out, we being contented to run any hazzard with the present convey; he promising,

¹ The phrase stands for dubās denā, crying for the King's justice.

NAUBATPUR, MARCH, 1715.

20
CSL

implicit obedience. We have examined the passengers on the road, and find that Merchants Go and come without any more Extortion than Usual. It is our opinion we ought to proceed for the following reasons.

1st That as we have had a great deal of trouble, with the Carriers and Cohars [kahars], the first of which have nott yett received their money, our longer stay must rekindle the quarrel about demurrage, which we fear cannot be ended without a great expence out of our Masters pockett: and farther, in case we do nott arrive att Court this season, it is a query whither the King will be att the Double Expence

2^{dy} That our Horsemen, peons, and Servants have commenced double pay from the 1st Instant, which raises a vast Expence. Note: this was by Seerhauds advising that all was finished.

3^{dy} That unless we proceed immediately, 'twill be impossible to reach Court this Year; The consequence off which must be unnecessary and Great Expences, the Risque off damaging our present, butt above all the fear of nott succeeding in our design, it being next to an impossibility to draw the Court in good temper, as appears by what has been done hitherto. All these things being considered, we conclude that our farther stay is off the worst consequence, That the risque is only what Expence we may be att with the Engenes [Ujains], (and that supposed) we having received Court Dustick [dustak] and the Nabobs assurance, that we shall nott be molested. We find by Seerhauds note that he is near overcome by the perswasion off the Buxie [bakshi] etc; for which reason Agreed that a note be wrote to him, positively to come out; which in case he refuses, that he is answerable for any ill that may ensue by our farther stay."

25. DIARY.

"Arrived the Convoy consisting of 50 Horse and 50 Peons. Att 2 a Clock received a note from Seerhaud, he says he will come to morrow, butt makes no Excuse for nott coming immediately, notwithstanding the positive order for that purpose."

26. CONSULTATION.

"Seerhaud nott having thought fitt to obey the summons sent him the 12th inst., has instead thereof answered by Querks and Interrogations altogether unreasonable. Pursuant to the Honourable President and Council of Culcutta's commission and instructions, having ordered that every thing should be transacted according to the result off a Consultation; We very well considered the risque off the road etc, att the time off our Summons to Seerhaud; wherefore his refusing to comply therewith is unanswerable. The Charge off the Carriage being paid out of the Kings treasure, gives an opportunity to Seerhaud att this present to consult his own private interest, and we although dissenting are nott capable of breaking any measures he has taken; He being ordered by the Honourable President and Council to act as head Vakile [vakil], and from which we have no authority to suspend him, unless by a special order from thence. Itt is now a duty incumbent on us, in respect both to our Employers and our Selves, to be cleared off any ill consequence that may ensue, which can be no otherwise effected, than by protesting against Cojah Seerhaud [Khawajah Sarhad]. Agreed that we draw out a protest against him; that one Copy be herennto annexed, and another sent to the Honourable President and Council, to which we refer our Selves."

NAUBATPORA, MARCH, 1715.

CSL

27. PROTEST AGAINST COJAH SEERHAUD.

"Whereas the Hon^{ble} President and Council off Port William, by their Generall instructions, dated May 18th 1714, have Empowered Cojah Seerhaud [Khawajah Sarhad], to act in consort with us, as 2nd In Council, and head Vakile; pursuant thereto he has been often called on to act in that Station; which tho he never perfectly acquiesced in y^e limitations off said orders; Yett his obstinacy was never more barefaced, and off worse consequence, than whatt attends y^e Present Juncture off Affairs.

"1st Att y^e pressing instigation off Seerhaud, strengthened by Buxies [bakhshi's] advice, (as ... writes) we came to Pulwarry, and from thence to Nobatpore: The quarrell with y^e Carriers being near adjusted, and that off y^e Cohars [kahars] already over; withall the Nabob having been prevailed on, to send 50 Horse and 50 Peons for our protection thro' his province.

"Sedistenaran [Sidishi Narayan] has given assurances both to y^e Nabob, and us, that he will nott touch y^e Kings Present; butt only receive his Jemidarry¹ from Merchants Goods; wherefore should we stay any longer, the Quarrells with y^e Carriers and Cohars [kahars] about demurrage would be rekindled; and how reedy y^e Kings officers are to pay itt, we are very well acquainted—. Besides, y^e meer Waiting for Meer Jemlahs [Mir Jumla] arrivall, would disappoint our reaching Court this Season; and so consequently very much hazzard y^e Success off our Hon^{ble} Masters buisness, by nott Striking while y^e Iron is Hot; with this Certainty off 6 Monthis Expencc altogether Unnecessary.

¹ Zawajidari, that is dues as cambador.

NAUBATPOOR, MARCH, 1715.

CSL

"That itt is more for our Hon^{ble} Masters Interest and Honour, to risque any Expencc off y^e road, than stay, and In y^e least hazzard our buisness, by nott arrivall.

For y^e reasons above-mentioned, Seerhaud has been positively ordered to leave Patna, and in case he did nott, or occasioned our farther stay, that he was answerable for all y^e ill consequences that might Ensue. Seerhaud has nott only refused these our orders, butt has hindered y^e Bootades Gomasto [bugutāt's gumastah] from coming to finish y^e business off the Carriage; withall endeavouring to gett our convoy recalled by y^e Nabob. He has nott thought fitt to give any reasons for his non Compliance, (we believe there are none): wherefore he is occasion off our farther unnecessary Expencc, and all other ill consequences that may accrew by our longer stay; and accordingly we Protest Against you Seerhaud Israel, and Your Proceedings, for y^e following reasons.

- 1st On y^e quarrell that must necessarily ensue with y^e Carriers and Cohars, [kahārs] for demurrage in case we doe nott proceed immediately, or nott arrive att Court this season.
- 2nd That on our leaving Pulwarry, which was by Seerhands advice, himself promising to come the same day; The pay off Horsemen, Peons etc^s Serrants is doubled, amounting to a very great Expencc.
- 3rd That waiting for Meer Jomlahs [Mir Jumlah's] arrivall, will putt us out off a capacity to arrive this Season; The ill consequence off which will be y^e damage off y^e Present, A vast Expencc, and very probably y^e entire overthrow off our buisness.
- 4th Being assured that Seerhands Stay is occasioned by Merchants Goods; Several Carriages off which are arrived in our Camp, taking his name on them: Wherefore beleive he has endeavoured to gett y^e Dustick [dastak] and convoy recall'd, resolving to waite Meer Jomlahs [Mir Jumlah's] arrivall, when y^e road may be clear enough for his purpose, but nott consonant to our Masters Interest.

For these reasons, and whatever else may, or can be alledged against you, for your breaking y^e orders, and instructions off y^e Hon^{ble} President and Councill off Fort William, In our own name to clear our selves off any damage that may ensue and in y^e name off Our Hon^{ble}

NAUBATPUR, MARCH, 1715.

CSL

Employers, We protest against You Seerhaud Israel, and Affirm and Declare by these presents, that you are y^e actual occasion of y^e Double Expence which has commenced from our arrivall, from Pulwarry, and off all other damages off weight, and Charge that may accrew by our farther Stay here, and for which you are obliged to answer.

Whereas nott having y^e usuall forms off Protests by us, According to y^e law; we Affirm that this ought to be, and is as good in every respect, as if done in y^e letter off y^e laws off England.

Wittness our Hands, and Dated att

Nobatpore March 14th 1714.

A true Copy.

Hugh Barker Secy."

28. DIARY.

"Meer Jemlah [Mir Jumlah] is arrived att Attayah [Itāwah or Itāyah], and his Aftally consisting off 12000 Horse att Shasadpore [Shahzādpūr] Sedistenarans [Sidišt Nārāyan's] Forces in Possession off Sarsawrong [Sahasrām]: y^e Kings Phowsdar [faujdār], who was displaced some time agoe, being Fled to Banarass."

"Received notes from our Vakiles [vakils]. They write the Nabob is very Angry we doe nott proceed with the convoy he sent us. The Bootades Gomasto [bootades's gumāshstah] had come out, butt was prevented by the Goorzeburdar [goorzebārdār] and Chilah [chelah], who were Mohussells [mohussals]¹ on him; we suppose they had their instructions from Seerhaud."

29. CONSULTATION.

"Cojah Seerhaud [Khawājah Sarhad] being just arrived from the City, The protest given against him, bearing date the 14th Instant was read, and fully explained to him. He now alledges that his notes were nott answered, and by that meanes, would evade the positive order to come out. He being required to give his reasons for his nott complying, Answers that they were four days Agoe, sent to the Honourable President and Council off Calcutta."

30. DIARY.

"The Bootades Gomasto [bootades's gumāshstah] arrived from the City, having sett out att Mid-night to escape the Goorzeburdars [goorzebārdārs] whom Seerhaud Sett over him to prevent his coming. Soerhaud and the Gocræboudars [guraboudars] arrived without giving any notice off their coming. But we conjectured right, that the Gomastoes [gumastahs] coming would bring Soerhaud, Seeing He laboured so much to prevent itt. He brought a letter from the Padree, off which shall speak in the consultation to be held to-morrow."

¹ Persons deputed to worry a man into paying a due or complying with an order.

NARAYAN, MARCH 1715.

CSL

31. CONSULTATION.

"Cojah Soerhaud [Khawājah Sarhad] having delivered a letter from Padree Daniel, which being translated into March 23rd. English, Ordered that a Copy be here inserted.

To Mr. J. Surman and Cojah Soerhaud [Khawājah Sarhad].

"My True and well beloved Disciples, after the kind salutations from Padree Daniel, I advise you, that two years are now Elapsed, since upon your desire I first entered into your buisness. God be thank, whatever orders You desired from the King, you have and will obtaine. God prosper Caundora Behauder [Khān Daurān Bahadur] and Sellabatt Caun [Sayyed Salābat Khān], who have comply'd with all my desires, introducing my petitions to the King as you will clearly perceive by the d^{rs}ers already Sent. They daily enquire after your departure, saying that whatsoever you desired has been sent you, wherefore your long stay seems Strange. By the Grace off God and the favour off the Nabit, the Charge off your Carriage has been obtained: A favour never before conferred on any one from the time off Tamerlane. This is purely owing to the Grace off God and favour off the Nabit. Besides this our Enemies represent that the Charge off the Carriage will amount to near a Leek off Rupees and that the whole cost off the present cannot Exceed two. To this I answered, that an Enemy was not to be belaiued, That itt was the English Elchi [ambassador], and that the amount off the present could nott be less than 10 or 15 Leek. I am doing these things, as will more plainly appear by the Enclosed Note; when itt Seems, within a small time Mr. J^{no} Surmans letter to Mons^r Martin arrived. He wrote that his patrons were the Vizier and Buxie, Omeerall Omrah, [Amīru-l-Umarā] and by whose meanes all orders that came were obtained: no letter off thanks to Caundora Behauder [Khān Daurān Bahadur], or Sellabatt Caun [Salābat Khān] arriving; For which reason they have been very angry with me; That for your account so many orders had been granted, which was never done to any Elchi, since Tamerlane; That we have apply'd our Selvos to your buisness, and that after You had gained

NAUBATPUR, MARCH, 1715.

CSL

Your point such letters were very Surprizing. 'Tis for this reason, Caundora Behander [Khān Daurān Bahādur] is very much displeased. I returned answer that these were stories entirely raised by enemies, That I would dispatch a Cossid [qasid], that should go in 17 days, and return in as many; and that whatever answer was given I would inform him off. Itt seemes there were Several things wrote in a letter to Zeaudy Caun [Zeyān-d-din Khān]; Said Caun [Sayyad Khān] sent that letter to Sallabut Caun Behander [Salābat Khān Bahādur],¹ who shew'd itt me, at which I was very much ashamed. I represented that itt was entirely false; that the English Elchys had no dependance on any one besides Caundora [Khān Daurān] and Sallabut Caun [Salābat Khān]; I farther added, that I was only a praying Faquir, and that 'twas nott my buisness to be a Vahle; That indeed I had received a great many Letters from Cojah Seerhad [Khvajah Sarhad], who is my discipie, for which reason I entered upon the English Elchys buisness; that these men are unacquainted with lyes, knowing butt one word, and Except the Assistance of this patronage, know no other; and iff they Employ me in this buisness, can know no other; and should the buisness in the End point to Jamdah-Tulmooluck² and Or³ rall-Omrah,³ yett all gratefull acknowledgment is certainly due to the place off their first address. In what thing has there been a neglect, that such letters are sent? If you have any caution on my account, for God sake acquaint me, that I may wash my Self clean off this buisness, and that I may nott a Second time be disgraced by Omrahs [umrah], that are equall to Princes; Or iff you design Monsieur Martin for the Management off this buisness, advise, that I may have no farther trouble. If I am to have itt, then write an Arrezdrust [arzdash] to Caundora Behander [Khān Daurān Bahādur] and Sallabut Caun [Salābat Khān] gratefully acknowledging their patronage, and that Padree Daniel daily advises of their continuance.

I am Your Slave⁴

This letter containing reflections on Jno. Surman as if he had wrote to Zeaudy Caun [Zeyān-d-din] & Mons^r Martin that he had no obligation to Caundora behander [Khān Daurān Bahādur], butt was entirely ¹ Mir Abū'l Hasan Sayyad Salābat Khān Bahādur, Mujahid Jang. On 7 Jamādī I 1128, i.e. 29 or 30 April, 1715, N. S., and 18 or 19 April, O. S., he was appointed 'arz-i-mularrar. He was an old man, and died at Shahjahanabad, 23 Ramazān, 1136, i.e. 17 June 1724 N. S. at the age of about eighty lunar years.

² i.e., Jamdata-l Mulk, a title of the vizier.

³ i.e., Amirul-Umrah, premier prince, a title of Husain 'Alī Khān.

NAUBATPUR, MARCH, 1713.

CSL

obliged to the Vizier and a Rexia [bakshi i.e. Hussain 'Ali Khān] for which reason Caundora [Khān Dama] is sent for the Padree, (as he writes) and shewed him the letter being very much depressed. The Surman affirms this to be false, and appeals to all the English Gentlemen with him, (who very well know what letters he has wrote) that he did nott write any thing of that nature either to Mons^r Martin or Zeaudy Cawn [Zeyāu-d-din Khān]. He owes a letter to Mons^r Martin, Jointly with M^r Stephenson, butt it was only concerning Hodjee Omud [Haji Ahmad]; The answer to which was transmitted to the Hon^{ble} President & Council in Fort William. Wherefore what the Padree has wrote, is a palpable Falsity.

The Bootades Gomasto [bayāṭī's gumāshṭah] being arrived in the Camp, with a design to finish the business off the Carriers and Cohurs [kahārs] which is likely to be made up, the Dumurrage from the 1st off the month Excepted: Itt is our Opinion that Seerhaud had better Stay with us that we may be altogether, more proper for frequent Consultations; Butt that the Goorzebardars [gurezbardārs] be sent to the Duan [dūan] and Buxie [bakshi], to endeavour the obtaining the Demurrage above-mentioned."

32. CONSULTATION.

"In our consultation off the 23rd Inst. There being a letter produced from Padree Daniel to M^r Surman and Cojah Seerhaud [Khawajah Sarhad], We have now very well considered itt. Agreed That the following answer be given to itt. "That M^r J. Surman never wrote either to Mons^r Martin, or Zeaudy Cawn [Zeyāu-d-din Khān] concerning the management off the Companys Affairs att Court, and much less concerning any thing Asserted in his letter. That he should nott creditt things off this nature, without better grounds than what appeared att present. That assorting our present to amount to 10 or 15 Leek off rupees was a very great error, such expressions being highly improper in the Kings Durbar; Butt as we were incapable either to add to, or diminish from the present we had received, So on our Arrivall att Court the same should be punctually delivered. He advising that he has been obliged, the Expence in obtaining the Severall orders sent from Court Excepted, to give under his hand and Seal obligations to the officers in post, for payment off certain Sums off money and Goods on our arrivall: We desire to know by what authority he made this step, Cojah Seerhaud [Khawajah Sarhad] denying the giving any Such orders." That a particular account be given off the Naubatpore, March 25th.

NAUBATPUR, MARCH, 1715.

CSL

reason off our Stay; and although we know no reason why Caun does [Khan] affirms, Yett according to his desire, Agreed that letters be wrote to them with a full account why we have been detained so long, and a gratefull acknowledgment off Their Favours; and that copy off said letters be sent to the Honourable President and Council.

Being in a readiness to proceed, whenever the Government will vouchsafe to dismiss us, we shall now make some addition to the pay off our Mutsuddys [mutasaddis], and Persian Secretary; Agreed that Otmaran [Atmarām] have 35 Rupees per Month, Kissengiben [Krishnajiwan] 20 Rupees, and Momudy [Muhundi] 30 Rupees to commence from the 1st Instant.

Omerseign [Amar Sing] being arrived in the Camp, is endeavouring to make up the buisness off the Carriers and Cohars [kahars], which is so perplexed That they refuse to stir on any other terms, than the payment off their demurrage from the time off our first arrivall att Pulwarry [Phulwārī]. We having also received answer from the Goorzeburdar [gurbardār] and Vakile, that the Duan [duān] had positively denied the payment of any demurrage, withall itt being the Generall opinion that we shall never obtain itt; Agreed that we endeavour to compose this buisness, still leaving room, that in Case it should be allowed hereafter, it may nott be to the Detriment off our Honourable Masters. For we are well assured, that a Neglect in these differences would in a very little time bring them past redress.

We find the Carriers demands amount to thrt viz^t

1st A payment for what carriages laden, beyond the Kings Custom, which was occasioned by a mistake in our generall calculation off the weight off Goods, and was considerably encreased by what received from Patna Factory.

2^{dly} A payment of all demurrage, commencing From February
26th, the time off our first decampment to this Instant.¹

Agreed that the first demand be paid out off the Merchants Goodss.
This will partly repay the 2500 Rupees due to our Honourable Masters.
The remainder being ballanced by account demurrage.

Agreed also that we see them paid their demurrage either out off our own Cash or the Kings treasury.

¹ As far as I can understand the details of these transactions, this condition was not accounted by the carriers. They demanded demurrage from the 11th January and eventually got it.

NAUBATPUR, MARCH, 1715.

CSL
83

The difference with the Cohars [kohārs] is a thing off far greater consequence, and to adjust which we are att a stand, they having received and Commenced 2 Months pay from the Date abovementioned; so that more than half is already Expended, and they in an uproar for more money.

Being informed that Seerhaud had received 2000 Siccas from the Bootade [bugulāti] account the 3 Months pay off the Cohars [kohārs], payable att Ilabas [Allahabad] He now owns the receipt off itt, and that he had given his receipt to the Bootade [bugulāti]. Butt that Sum being demanded off him he said he had itt nott with him, but promised to deliver itt the Following day, which when received, Ordered that itt be brought to Account Cash.

The Carriers being accountable for Rs 2661-9 pursuant to a former contract; & there being now moneys sufficient to clear that acco^t Agreed that M^r E. Stephenson creditt them by the Following heads
Viz^t—

Merch ^{ts} Goods for 91 M ^{ds} overladen att 10 Rs
pr. Mā is	910
Demurrage ¹ in part due to them	1,751 9
	2,661 9

Itt being impossible att present perfectly to adjust the Acco^t off Dumurrage, The Charging the Merch^{ts} with their Dividend is also referr'd till another opportunity.

Cojah Seerhaud [Khwajah Sarhad] Assents to this Consultation, a sentence in the third paragraph Excepted (Viz^t Itt is the Generall opinion) Said Seerhaud Affirms that itt [demurrage money] is procurable, for which purpose he will speedily return to the City."

33. DIARY.

March 26th. "Seerhaud returned to the City."
"Seerhaud writes The Duan [diwān] will give us a Convoy in Case March 28th. we take on our Selves the risque off the road."

¹I do not understand how this demurrage is calculated. At the rate of Rs. 35 a day it would practically be the demurrage for 50 days; but according to this consultation demurrage was to be paid only from the 26th February. Thus on the 25th March there would be only 28 days' demurrage due. That the rate was Rs. 35 a day is proved by the payment made to the carriers on the 25th May.

NAUBATPUR, APRIL, 1715.

CSL

34. CONSULTATION.

"Itt was In a former Consultation Agreed by a majority, That April 1st.
Naubatpore.

Seerhand should remain with us, and that the Goorzeburdars [gurzbardārs] with a Vakile should be sent to endeavour the obtaining an allowance off Demurrage, and Convoy. However Seerhand thought fitt to give no compliance, butt returned to Patna the 26th Ult^o. There being no other method to prevent this butt force, which we judged improper to make use off;
and he affirming he only went to take leave off the Buxie [Bakhshī], with reiterated promises to return the 3rd day, we rather Suffered, than consented to his going: Yett he has nott kept his word.

The Goorzeburdars [gurzbardārs] on their arrivall att the City having received a clear answer from the Duan [duān], that he would pay no demurrage, without a possitive order from the King, we were well convinced what we had to depend on. Yett that Seerhand might nott be backward in amusing us with Shows off the Companys Interest, He for three or four days Successively wrote us, nott to intermeddle in this affair, requiring att the Same time a Calculation off the Demurrage, under Mr Surmans Seal, on delivery off which, he affirmed the money to be forth coming out off the Kings treasury. We must here observe that when he was with us it was unanimously agreed, that the payment off this money lay between the King and ourselves. We are well assured he has no grounds for Such advices. However we sent him the Calculation he required; Upon receipt off which, he betook himself to this last, but indifferent shift for farther delay: The Duan [duān] saying we had no buisness to be concerned about the Demurrage, but that iff his Majesty was for the hasty arrivall off the Present, the Cohars [kahārs] and Carriers might be sent with itt in Chains. These foolish flights were so far from convincing us, that we were Assured every thing was going to ruin, unless Suddainly retrieved. The carriers refusing to Stir, and the Cohars [kahārs] to take up their burdens, without matters were in some measure adjusted.

Omer Seign [Amar Sing], who has been indefatigable in adjusting the present differences, has communicated a Scheme to us, according to which he says the Carriages will be finished, Viz: 1st To pay for what overladed on Each Carriage beyond the kings Custom att 10 Rupees per Mauud. 2^{ndly} To Engage the payment off Demurrage from the time of our first decampment either from the king according to his Custom, or from our Selves according to that off Merchants. That we give them

NAURATPUR, APRIL, 1715.

CSL

a note for this; In return off which, Each Carrier will sign a discharge. This being conformable to a project agreed to, in a Consultation off the 25th Ult^o. butt nott then completed, by reason off the differences among the Carriers them Selves. Agreed that itt be now putt in Execution, and that Seerpaws [sar-o-pās] be given to Each Chowdry [chaudhari], and Turbetts¹ to Every Carrier with 50 Rupees for a treat.

Omerseign [Amar Sing] having Such Success with the Carriers, Agreed, that he undertake to compose matters likewise with the Cohars; We being off opinion, itt is for the Interest off our Hon^{ble} Masters to take them before their 2 Mo^s are Expired, notwithstanding itt may att present Seem Expensive: for should we Stay never so little longer, we may be obliged to pay the whole over again, which according to the kings Custom is 7 rupees per maund to Each Cohar [kāhār].”

35. DIARY.

April 3rd.
Guarding us.”

“One hundred Buxeries [Baksaris] arrived from the Duan [dudān] under a pretence off

April 5th.

“Last night Esgar Caun [Asghar Khān] was in Possession off the Fort off Patna.”

36. CONSULTATION.

“The buisness off the Cohars [kāhars] has given us more trouble, than was really Expected, they demanding their pay, and which nott being comply'd with by the Government, has putt us to the Utmost Extremity. This is purely owing to our Stay. All the arguments possible have been used to convince them that the large pay they had received was nott designed for maintainance during their Stay, but that another account must be made up for that time, according to what Customary in Patna, we nott having perfectly commenced our Journey. Butt their being so great a Number, and withall so refractory, no reasons could work on them; neither would they come to any Agreement. We would willingly, considering their great necessity, have lett them had a months pay att 2 rupees per month butt that was altogether rejected. The Bootades Gomasto [buyutāi's gumāsh-tah] now informs us, that since the Government have refused to adjust

Nubatpore,
April 6th.

¹ i.e., turbans.

NAUBATPUR, APRIL, 1715.

CSL

this matter, by paying more money out off the kings treasury ; Itt was nott feasible to be entirely made up here: wherefore itt would be best for us to leave off the project off any immediate adjustment, butt endeavour to proceed without itt. He farther adds, that iff we would lend the Cohars [kahārs] 2400 Rupees they would give an obligation to proceed without any farther demands, till they arrived att Illabas [Allahabad], iff itt be within the Space of one Month eighteen days, when they would Expect the 2000 Siccas, that Seerhaud has received; waiting for the remainder off their 3 Months pay till they reached Agra: and afterwards, on the finishing their Accounts att Dilly, they will repay what money we advanced them. We lament the misfortunes that have attended our proceedure, they being entirely owing to Seerhauds management. What his designs are God knows, butt they seem to us, far from the Interest of our Honourable Masters. However Seeing things are come to this pitch, That unless we are in a Capacity by making up this buisness, to proceed, we shall find a stop to our Journey in an improper place, When the Governments money will be expended and their Demands tribbled; We judge this the best opportunity, (Seeing we shall be compell'd att last to do itt) to lay hold off the least Expence, Wherefore Agreed that Mr. John Surman pay the Sum abovementioned to the Cohars [kahārs], and receive the necessary notes from them: That ordinary Seerpaws [sār-o-pās] and Turbetts be given to the Cheifs, and 50 Rupees to Feast them.

In the management off this buisness Seerhaud has shown himself very free from any apprehensions off the ill consequences, that must attend our delay, and Seemes Satisfied with the Slight answers off the Duan [dewan] and Buxie [bakshi]; as iff itt were possible for men to labour without Sustenance, and be carried in Chains; when they will come to no conclusions concerning our Convoy, or any thing Elae, still putting us off From to day till to morrow, which has run on Six weeks Successively, and yett our Affairs nott Seeming in the least advaned. We trust the management of this Affair will have the approbation off our Honourable Employers.

We assert thus to be entirely owing to Seerhaud, and for these reasons, we can have no confidence in him; and as we may att present say the Camp is, in some measure, under our command, Agreed that we proceed forthwith, and that a Summons be sent to Seerhaud and the Goorzeburdars [gurzardars] immediately to leave the City and come to us."

37. DIARY.

- April 7th. "Arrived att Bickeram Surray [Bikram Sarāe]."¹
- April 8th. "Arrived att Mohlapore [Mohibalipur]."²
- April 11th. "Arrived att Arwell [Arwal]."³ This is a place where Sedistenarau [Sidisht Nārāyan] has a strong Fort and Good guard."
- April 12th. "Arrived att Aganuer [Āgānūr]."⁴
- April 13th. "Arrived att Dondnagar [Dāūd-nagar]."⁵
- April 14th. "Arrived att Gotowly [Ghātauli]⁶ on the Bank off the Soane [Son]."
- April 17th. "Arrived Cojah Seerhaud,⁷ with M. Mosoud [Muhammaḍ Mas'ūd] our Memāundar [mih-māundār]."

38. CONSULTATION.

"Cojah Seerhaud [Khwajah Sarhad] being arrived, now delivers the money which he rec^d from the Bootade [bugutāṭi] amounting to 7737 Sice^s of the 3rd and 4th Years Stamp. He acknowledges to have rec^d 9737. Butt the remain^d 2000 Rs being demanded, He promises to Acco^t for itt. With Cojah Seerhaud [Khwajah Sarhad] is Arrived M. Mosoud [M. Mas'ūd] with 100 Horse, & 100 more Peons. As he does nott think itt safe for us to proceed under his protection alone; Agreed that Mr. J. Surman and C: Seerhaud visitt Gyruatt Caun [Ghairat Khān], who is Encamped near us, to endeavour gaining his protection att least as farr as Banarass."

¹ Bīkrām Sarāe, an outpost in thana Pāliganj parganna Ballia, 26 miles from Patna.

² Mohibalipur is 13 miles and 23 chains beyond Bīkrām Sarāe, but in the same thana and parganna.

³ Arwal, on the Son, a thana in the Jahanābād subdivision, was formerly celebrated for its sugar and paper manufactories.

⁴ Agānūr, near the Son, lies about 12 miles S. W. of Arwal, within its jurisdiction. The village was once guarded by ramparts and gates.

⁵ Dāūd-nagar, a small town on the Son, 10 miles S. W. of Āgānūr, was founded by Dāūd Khān a risaldār of Aurangzēb, who gave him the pargannas of Amchha, Manora, and Gobas as a reward for conquering Palamau. It is surrounded by a moat and till recently it had gates which were shut every night. It is at present a thana in the Aurangābād subdivision, and lies on the main road from Benares to Gaya.

⁶ Ghātauli, also in the Aurangābād subdivision, lies on the right bank of the Son 12 miles S. W. of Dāūd-nagar, and 5 miles N. E. of Bārūn, where the grand trunk road crosses the Son.

⁷ He had been to Mir Jumla's camp, and had accompanied the caravan as far as Dāūd-nagar. Mir Jumla gave him a recommendatory letter to Khān Daurān and an order for Governor Hedges. He also said that he had written to the King on behalf of the English.

MAKRĀIN TO SĀNWAT, APRIL, 1715.

CSL

39. DIARY.

- April 21st. "Arrived att Mokrain [Makrāin]¹ having crossed the Soane."
April 23rd. "100 Rs given to the Carriers on Account."
April 24th. "Arrived att Sarsewrong [Sabsrām]."²
April 25th. "Arrived beyond Sarsewrong."
"Arrived att Sabarabad [Sābarābād];³ we are now taking out a present for Gyruṭṭ Caun [Ghairat Khān]."
April 26th. "Arrived at Forokabad [Fakhrābād]⁴—Note the Nabob Angry that we went beyond him."
April 27th. "Arrived att Motany [Mūthāni]."⁵
April 28th.

40. CONSULTATION.

"Being arrived on the skirts off Meer Jemlahs [Mir Jumlaḥ's]⁶ Motany. April 28th. army; there is an absolute necessity to visit him; nott only for the great favour he is in with the King, butt the Service or disservice he is capable of doing, to our Honourable Masters affairs in Bengall, with the hopes off obtaining a Sunnod [sanad] for our trade in that Province, for these reasons, Agreed that we all visit him and that Oajah Seerband [Khawājah Sarhad] go before in order to our Handsome reception. Itt being likewise necessary to present him and his officers, and particularly according to his quality. Agreed, that the amount, according to the nearest Conjecture, be about 4000 rupees Invoice price."

41. DIARY.

- April 30th. "Four Horsemen and Severall peons left us. Arrived att Sownt [Sānwat]."⁷

¹ Makrāin is a small village on the west bank of the Son, below the Dehri railway bridge, a mile and a half north of the causeway, which carries the great trunk road.

² Sabsrām, a wellknown place of some historical importance, is the head-quarters of a subdivision. Here the Emperor Sher Shāh was born, and here his body lies buried in a magnificent tomb. The distance between Makrāin and Sabsrām is thirteen miles.

³ Sābarābād an insignificant village on the grand trunk road ten miles from Sabsrām. Here is a well where travellers often halt.

⁴ Fakhrābād a village on the grand trunk road thirteen miles from Sābarābād. The old pilgrim route to Baidyanāth is said to have branched off here.

⁵ Mūthāni, is only two miles from Fakhrābād on the grand trunk road.

⁶ Ubaidullah, a native of Samarcand, entitled Muta'madu-l-mulk, Mu'azzam Khān, Khān Khānān, Bahādur, Muzafferjung, Mir Jumlaḥ, Tarikhān, Sulṭān. He was appointed to Patna as a sort of banishment, and received his last audience at Dehli on the 16th Dec. 1714. He died in January 1732, aged 63 years.

⁷ Sānwat is a village close to the grand trunk road seven miles from the Kānpāsā, and thirteen from Mūthāni.

KARNNĀSĪ TO ALLAHABAD, MAY, 1715.

CSL

- "Arrived att Carron-Nossa [Karnnāsā]. This river parts the Subaships off Beharr and Illaabass."¹
- May 1st.
- May 3rd. "Arrived att Syud-Raja [Sayyidraja]."²
- "Arrived att Behauder-pore [Bahādurpur] on the Bank of the Ganges, over Against Banarass."
- May 4th.
- May 5th. "Ferrying over our Goods."
- May 6th. "Ferrying over our Goods."
- May 7th. "Ferrying over our Goods."
- "Last Night a prodigious Storm of Wind and Rain to the damaging off some off our Goods. Mr Surman &c.³ Came over the river."
- May 8th.
- May 9th. "We passed the City of Banarass."
- "Mr Surman Visitted Gyrutt Caun [Ghairat Khān], hoping to gett leave to goe before him, butt itt was nott obtained."
- May 11th.
- May 12th. "Arrived att Mohun k' Surray [Mohan ki Sarāo]."⁴
- May 13th. "Arrived att Baboo k' Surray [Babu ki Sarāo]."⁵
- May 14th. "Arrived att Madoo-Huttee [Madho Hatīyā]."⁶
- May 15th. "Arrived att Jugdis k' Surray [Jagdis ki Sarāo]."⁷
- May 16th. "Arrived att Sidabad [Saidabad].⁸ Mr Surman Visitted Gyrutt-Caun [Ghairat Khān]."
- May 17th. "Arrived on the Banks off the Ganges before Illaabass [Allahabad]."

¹ Sayyid rajā is a bazar in the Narwan parganna of the Chandauli tahsil, 24 miles E. S. E. of Benares, and 8 miles E. of Chandauli, in Lat. 25° 15' 12" north, and Long. 83° 23' 56" east. It was founded nearly 400 years ago by Sayyid Rajā Ahmad, whose tomb is still preserved and is an object of adoration. There also remain a masonry sarai and a well built by him. The massive ruins still found here show how imposing the buildings must have once been.

² Sarāo Mohan is a village in the Kaswar Sarkari parganna of the Benares tahsil, about nine miles west of Benares.

³ Sarāo Babu, in the Bhadoi parganna, Kourh tahsil, and Aurai thāna of the Mirzapur district, is situated on the grand trunk road, two miles east of the camping ground at Katka. There is a tank in the village with two dharamsalas.

⁴ Madho Hatīyā, better known as Bazar Madho Simha, also in the Bhadoi parganna, Kourh tahsil, and Aurai thāna, is on the grand trunk road nine miles from Sarāo Babu. It is a centre of the Mirzapur carpet-weaving industry.

⁵ Jagdis ki Sarāo in tahsil Kourh, thāna Gopiganj, is on the grand trunk road eleven miles from Madho Hatīyā or Bazar Madho Simha.

⁶ Saidabad is a village in the parganna of the same name in the Handia tahsil.

ALLAHABAD, MAY, 1715.

CSL

May 18th.

"Ferrying over our Goods. Seerhaud arrived."

May 20th.

"Arrived between the New and old City having passed the river."

"The Goorzeburdars [gursbardars] gone iff possible to gett 15 days Demurrage, or what the Government will allow."

May 21st.

42. CONSULTATION.

"Seerhaud going to visit Seer Bolund-Caun [Sarbuland Khān]¹

Ilaabass.
May 22nd.

was besett by the Kings Cohars [kahars] (who carry our present) They pelting him with stones,

He very narrowly Escaping with his life; For before any persons Could come to his Assistance, Many off his own and our Servants were knocked down. This Disturbance arose from the Government ordering butt 2000 Siccas to be paid att Ilaabass [Allahabād] with which they nott being contented demanded more pay; but finding no one that would advance them anything, After ineffectuall applications to the Government, they took this method. We have endeavoured to punish this insolence, butt there being so great a Number, and no others procurable in their Stead; We have found, by the Governments advice, as well as our own Experience, that nothing butt mildness is to be used; and that we must in some measure gratify their demands: for which reason, Agreed that Mr. John Surman pay them 3600 Siccas; which when received they promise to proceed att least as far as Coora-Jehaunabad [Korah Jahānābād].²

Gyruitt Caun [Ghairat Khān], whom we have accompanied to this place, being now in Mourning, for his wife's Brother (who was burned by a Mischance)³ which will detain him three or four days; We judge itt highly prejudiciall to our Affairs to waite his motions any longer, and on the Contrary, that this is the fittest opportunity to gett leave to proceed before him, Yett as we are well Satisfied that he Expects some thing for civility already Shown us; Agreed that Mr. E. Stephenson make up the following present.—Viz^t—

¹ Sarbuland Khān had been appointed governor of Allahabad ṣubā from the 16th June 1714.

² The kahars or porters had already received an extra payment of Rs. 2,400 on the 5th April. They are now given extra payments of Rs. 2,000 and of Rs. 3,600. Altogether they had an extra payment of Rs. 8,000. This at the King's rate of payment of Rs. 7 a man was a little less than a month's pay for the 1,200 kahars. They afterwards reckoned it as 28 days' pay.

³ Nūru-d-dīn 'Alī Khān, son of Nūru-d-dīn 'Alī Khān, Bārha, died at Dihli of burns, on the 10th March, 1715, N.S., aged 20 years.

M^r Edw. Stephenson bringing in a Warehouse Receipt for 4 last m^o Agreed that it be paid. —
Hugh Barker bringing in a Cha^r Gen^l for last m^o Amount^o to 600 6/12 6. Agreed that it be paid Errors Excepted, & delivered M^r P. Stephenson for Examination, & Adjustment. —
H. Barker wanting more money for Expenses, Agreed that M^r Surman pay him 3400 Rupees for a fee —
Surman finding a very indifferent reception from Peer Buland Cawn. Agreed that M^r Surman do not visit him
But M^r Cor. Peerkhand make his excuse. —
C. Peerkhand Apent^o
Hugh Barker Sec^y

[Signature: J. P. Surman]
[Signature: M. P. Stephenson]

SURMAN DIARY.

End of the Consultation for May 25, 1715.

ALLAHABAD, MAY, 1715.

CSL

Broad Cloth (Aurora 1 ps. Fine Scarlett, Fine Green and Imbest, each 11 yds. 14 nls.).

1 Chest Syrabs,	1 China Escutore,	2 dram Cases,
4 pistolls,	2 penknives,	2 pr. Sissars,
3 prospecting Glasses,	2 Multiplying Glasses,
3 Triangle Glasses,	5 pr. Spectacles,
1 Burning Glass.

We being informed that Seer-Buland-Caun [Sarbuland Khān] is nott so civill to Europeans as other Omrahs [umarā], and consequently that itt is improper for Mr. Surman to visitt him, unless assured off a reception like that from Meer Jemlah [Mir Jumlah] and other Omrahs [umarā], withall there being no Absolute necessity for itt. Agreed Cojah Seerhaud [Khwājah Sarhad] goe to him to desire a Convoy thro his jurisdiction; We being able to govern our-Selves by the reception he meetts with from this haughty Nobleman.

Gyrutt Caun [Ghairat Khān] and his Brother Each of them desiring a Watch, and the things demanded being butt trifles; Agreed that we buy two for them, the Companys being worth nothing."

43. CONSULTATION.

"Having taken leave off Gyrutt Caun [Ghairat Khān], we are now arrived beyond the City, the Cohars [kahāra] contentedly Bringing away their Burdens; Butt the Carriers after some disputes,

Allahabad [Allahabad]
25th May.

Absolutely refused to proceed, running away from their Carriages. Cojah Seerhaud [Khwājah Sarhad] remained there, nott beleiving they dared stay behind. The difference between us is this. We offered to pay them the ballance of our Account Demurrage, Credittting them for what received now out off the Kings treasury; which was rejected, they demanding part off what was payable in Agra, as also a full payment off all Demurrage, including 11 days more than we had received from the Government, and which we were Unwilling to comply with before-hand, iff possible to be avoided. Butt they continuing Still obstinate, and we beleiving they were sett on by some of Gyrutt Cauns [Ghairat Khān] Servants, who would detain us longer: We think itt necessary rather to Comply with some part of their Demands, than loose the opportunity off hastening our passage. The account ALLAHABAD TO GHĀTAMPUR, MAY, JUNE, 1715.

CSL

being made up for 56 days demurrage; Agreed, that M^r J. Surman pay them 1970 Siccas on Account.¹

Seerhand finding a very indifferent reception from Seer Bulland Cann [Sarbuland Khān], Agreed that M^r Surman does nott visitt him.”

44. DIARY.

May 26th.	“Arrived at Morow [? Manauri].” ²
May 27th.	“Arrived att Conkarabad [Koh Khirā].” ³ Severall Carriages fell and much wine broke.”
May 28th.	“Arrived att Shereefabad [Shazādabad or Shazādpur].” ⁴
May 29th.	“Arrived att Chowbk’ Surraz. [Chaube ki Sarāe].” ⁵
May 30th.	“Arrived att Nobusta Mohun. [Sarāe Mohan Selimpur].” ⁶
May 31st.	“Arrived att Abunagar [Abūnagar].” ⁷
June 1st.	“Arrived att Coorpore. [Kupwarpur].” ⁸
June 2nd.	“Arrived att Buckewar [Bakewar].” ⁹
June 3rd.	“Arrived att Coora-Jehaunabad [Kōrah Jahānābād].” ¹⁰
June 6th.	“Arrived att Gottumpore [Ghātampur].” ¹¹

¹ The carriers demanded demurrage at the rate of Rs. 35 a day for 86 days from the 11th January, when their pay was to begin, to the 5th April. Thus the total amount due to them was Rs. 2,975. Of this Rs. 1,005 had been paid in advance when they were first engaged on October 23rd 1714. Thus a balance of Rs. 1,970 was still due to them for demurrage, i.e., practically demurrage for 56 days. For the journey itself they were to receive altogether Rs. 27,500.

² Manauri is the second station west of Allahabad on the East Indian Railway.

³ Koh Khirā, a village on the Ganges in the Kara parganna, 2½ miles W. N. W. of Allahabad, in Lat. 26° 35' 43" North, and Long. 81° 32' 42" East.

⁴ Shazādpur is situated in the Kara parganna, 33 miles N. W. of Allahabad, in Lat. 25° 59' 13-55" North, and Long. 81° 27' 0-21" East. It was once a flourishing town famous for its stamped cloth and saltpetre, but is now rapidly decaying.

⁵ Sarāe Chaube was situated about a mile to the west of Ghos, or about seven or eight miles to the south-east of Hathganw. I owe this identification and the identifications of Nobusta Mohun and of Coorpore, which follow, to the kindness of Mr. A. Cadell and the Board of Revenue of the North-Western Provinces.

⁶ Nobusta Mohun, now called Sarāe Mohan Selimpur, is about eight miles to the east of Fathpur or Fattahpur.

⁷ Abūnagar, a portion of the present town of Fattahpur [Fathpur], said to have been founded by Abu Muhammad, son of the Nabob Abdus-Samad Khan, the faujdar of Sadipur Pailani in Bandelkhand, in the time of Aurangzēb.

⁸ Coorpore, i.e., Kupwarpur, is about twelve miles from Fathpur along the Kōrah road.

⁹ Bakewar is 8½ miles east of Kōrah and 12½ miles N. W. of Kupwarpur.

¹⁰ On the 4th June a consultation was held at Kōrah Jahānābād to consider a letter from Ghāirat Khān ordering the English to wait for him. They resolved to push on to Delhi.

¹¹ Ghātampur, the capital of the parganna of the same name, on the Mogul road, 26 miles from Cawnpore.

June 6th.

"Arrived att Moosanagar. [Mūsānagar]."¹

45. CONSULTATION.

"We are now informed that the road between this place and Agra is infested by Mewattys; who plunder whomsoever they can over-power. Our Carriages taking a great length in their March, and the forces we have att present being butt small, when devided; Besides which, a good party off our best Horsemen and Peons have left us. For these reasons, We judge itt proper to be speedily reinforced. Agreed that, iff we can gett a party of 25 or 30 Horse, that will proceed with us to Agra, for five or six hundred rupees they be entertained. A party off 45 peons offering their Service to accompany us to Agra att 3 rupees per man. Agreed that they be entertained."

June 6th.
Moosanagar.

46. DIARY.

June 7th.

"Arrived att Bogunee [Bhognipur]."²

June 8th.

"Arrived att Great Secunderah [Sikandra]."³

June 9th.

"Arrived att Nahalk' Surray [Nihāl-ki-sarāe]."⁴

June 10th.

"Arrived att Anuntrank' Surray [Anantrām-ki-sarāe]."⁵

June 11th.

"Arrived att YekDill k' Surray [Sarāe Ekdil]."⁶

¹ Mūsānagar, a town in the Bhognipur parganna, on the bank of the Jumna near its confluence with the Sengar, 34 miles distant from Cawnpore. It is a regular halting place for pilgrims to Gaya. Here is an ancient temple of Mukta Devi.

² Bhognipur, the head-quarters of the parganna of the same name, on the Mogul road, 41 miles from Cawnpore. It is said to have been founded by Bhog Chand Kāyath to whom is also ascribed a large reservoir known as the Bhog Sagar.

³ Sikandra, a town in the Derapur parganna on the Mogul road, 48 miles from Cawnpore, named after its reputed founder, the Sultan Sikandar Lodi. Numerous ruins attest its former greatness.

⁴ Mr. C. S. Silberrad, I.C.S., has kindly given me the following information about Sarāe Nihāl. It is situated in parganna Auraiya, near Rampur Ramsahal, about 14 miles south of Panbar and 6½ miles east of Dailnagar. The tahsildar says it lies on the Sher Shāhi road. Nothing now remains but a temple and a well, but there are local traditions of other buildings.

⁵ Anantrām-ki-sarāe lies on the road between Auraiya and Bharatua. See Indian Atlas Sheet No. 68; also the district map of Itawah in the N.-W. P. Gazetteer.

⁶ Sarāe Ekdil, a village in the Etāwa parganna, 6 miles east of Etāwa. It is said to have been originally called Rāpa Sarāe, but in 1632 A.D. a canuch, named Ekdil Khān, built a new sarai and mosque here, and hence its name was changed. It lies a little to the south of the road.

FĀZILĀBĀD TO HOḌUL, JUNE, 1715.

CSL

June 12th.

"Arrived att Fuzzelabad [Fāzilābād].¹ Received a Cossid [qasid] from Culcutta."

June 13th.

"Arrived att Moorly [Murlidhar-ki-sarāe]. Much rain fell."

June 14th.

"Arrived att Rupus-pore [Rupuspūr].² Rain."

June 15th.

"Arrived att Ferrozabad [Firozābād]."³

June 16th.

"Arrived att Otmed-pore [Itmādpur].⁴ Killed a Rogue who came in the Night"

June 17th.

"Arrived att Raj: Gott [Raj ghāt] over Against Agra—King George proclaimed. The 30 Mewattys left us."

June 18th.

"Arrived att Agra."

June 25th.

"Arrived att P: hurrah k' Surray [Farah]."⁵

June 26th.

"Arrived att Azzimnagur."

June 27th.

"Arrived att Choumowah [Chaumuha]."⁶

Dacca [dhāka, i.e., dacoits or robbers] came thrice on our Camp in the Night. We had 5 men wounded; and took 2 off the Rogues, one off which was wounded likewise."

June 28th.

"Arrived att Dewtannah [Dotāna]."⁷

June 29th.

"Arrived beyond Horull [Hoḍul]."⁸

¹ Faizulābād or Fāzilābād, says Mr. Silberrad, "is situated in manza Malhajani, about 3 to 3½ miles south-east of Jaswantnagar. All that is now left is two pukka wells and a small masjid; no khera, nor do the men living here have any recollection of more buildings. It lies between the present road from Jaswantnagar to Itāwah and the railway, distant about one furlong from each. About a quarter of a mile further west is an old disused three-arched bridge over the Sarāe nadi. . . . known as the Banjara's bridge, they being alleged to have built it, as also a fine large tank near by. Doubtless the course of the old road was across this bridge.

² Murlidhar-ki-Sarāe, a hamlet in the Shukohābād parganna of the Mainpuri district, 9 miles east of Shukohābād. It was founded by Lala Murlidhar Kāyath, who held office under Shāh Jahān. Remains of a well and sarāe built by him still survive.

³ Rupuspūr lies three miles beyond Shukohābād. See Indian Atlas Sheet No. 68.

⁴ Firozābād, the chief town of the tahsil of Firozābād on the Mogul road, 26 miles E. S. E. of Agra in Lat. 27°-8'-37" North, and Long. 78°-25'-53" East. It contains the remains of a number of ancient buildings.

⁵ Itmādpur, the chief town of the Itmādpur tahsil, on the Mogul road, 12 miles E. N. E. of Agra in Lat. 27°-13'-50" North, and Long. 78°-14'-22" East. It is named after its founder, Itmād Khān, a eunuch in the service of Akbar, who is buried here.

⁶ Farah, a village in the Muttra tahsil on the road to Agra, 12 miles south of Muttra in Lat. 27°-19'-13" North, and Long. 77°-48'-12" East. It was founded by Hamida Begam, the mother of Akbar.

⁷ Chaumuha, a village in the Chhāta tahsil on the Mogul road, 12 miles N. W. of Muttra in Lat. 27°-37'-20" North and Long. 77°-37'-25" East. Here are the remains of a large masonry sarai said to have been built by the Nabob Asaf Khān, Manager of Sher Shāh.

⁸ Dotāna is more than eleven miles beyond Chaumuha; see Indian Atlas Sheet No. 68.

⁹ Hoḍul is a small town on the trunk road from Muttra to Delhi, 36 miles from Muttra and 54 miles from Delhi. Here are the ruins of an old sarāe and baoli, and of a still older masonry tank. Close by is a copse of great sanctity called the Pando-Ban.

June 20th.

Took another thief."

July 1st.

"Arrived att Pulvall [Palwal]."²

July 2nd.

"Arrived att Boghola [Baghaura]."³

July 3rd.

"Arrived att Feredabad [Faridābād]."⁴

Here Mr Surman and Seerhaud received the Kings Seerpaws [sar-o pās]."

July 4th.

"Arrived att Barrapoola [Barāpulah]."⁵ Mr. Philips returned from the City who went to see a house."

July 5th.

"A list wrote of our first offering to the King, to be sent to Caundora."

47. CONSULTATION.

"Padree Stephaus having been with us att Feredabad [Faridābād], and brought Seerpaws [saropā] for Mr. J. Surman and Cojah Seerhaud [Khawjah Sarhad] which were received with the Accustomary Ceremony.

Methods are now to be considered, Seeing we are so nigh the Imperiall City, for our publick Enterance. The Padree Assures us off a very handsome reception, through the favour of Caundora [Khān Danrān]; withall, that we may use our own time, and manner off proceeding: However, that the quicker dispatch the better; and that we carry somethings Curious and off value for our first offering. Upon Mature consideration, Agreed, That we make our Entry the 7th Inst. That we desire some Munsubdars [mansubdars, minor nobles] may be sent to receive us creditably; That we may be admitted to the Kings presence before we proceed to the house prepared for us; and That for our offering the Following things be prepared, Mr. J. Surman delivering 1001 Gold Moors [muhrs], and Mr. E. Stephenson. Viz^t

¹ Bamnikhera, apparently Khara sarāo, six miles south of Palwal and twelve miles north of Hodul.

² Palwal, an ancient town, dating traditionally from the times of the Mahābhārata and the Pandava kingdom of Indraprasthā, with a large sarāo and a very early mosque. It is situated in the Gurgaon district on the trunk road, 38 miles from Delhi.

³ Baghaura, now a police road-post in the tahsil of Palwal.

⁴ Faridābād is a small town about 16 miles S. W. of Delhi. Here are a large mosque built by a certain Shaikh Farid and the remains of an old sarāo.

⁵ Barāpulah, the long massive bridge of eleven arches, half a mile south of Humāyūn's tomb.

DELHI, JULY, 1715.

CSL

A Table Clock sett with precious Stones.
An Unicorn Horn.
A Gold Escutore bought from Zeaudy Caun [Zeyāu-d-dīn Khān].
A Large Lump of Ambergrease.
An Aftoa [ʿaṭābah a ewer], and Chillumohy [chilamohi, a basin]
Man: work.¹
The Mapp of the World.²
Considering some money is necessary to be flung among the Crowd by that means Aggrandizing our first appearance. Agreed that Mr. J. Surman give out 200 rupees."³

48. DIARY.

July 6th.

"Our Drum and Trumpett permitted to the gate off the New City." [i.e. Shāhjahānābād.]

The King visittd; where Mr. Surman and Seerhaud received Seer-paws [saropās]. There were 7 Seerpaws ordered,

July 7th.

but the King told Caundora [Khān Daurān], the rest should be given att our next appearance. Sallabutt Caun [Salābat Khān] Sent us a trent. We mett Caundora [Khān Daurān] att Court, he recd^d us very kindly."

49. LETTER I.⁴

"To the Hon^{ble} Robert Hedges Esq^r. Presid^t & Gov^r of Fort William Etc Councill in Bengall.

Hon^{ble} Sir & Sirs

Our last to your Hon^r etowas from Agra the 24th Ult. which place we left the same day. We pass'd the Country of the Jaats [ie Jāts] with Success not meeting with much trouble except that once in the night rogues Came on our Camp, but being repulsed three times they left us. We arriv'd at Pāwerodabād [Faridābād] the 3rd instant where we were met by Padre Stephanus bringing ¹ That is, "Manila work," see p. 47 in the letter of the 8th July.

² See Vol. II, Pt. 1, §§ 811, 827.

³ On the 14th December, 1711, the Dutch embassy to Bahādur Shāh had entered Lahor in great style; hence the anxiety of the English to "aggrandise their first appearance." Kānwar Khān says "On the 15th of this month (Rajab 1127) [that is, the 16th or 17th July 1715 N. S. or the 5th or 6th July O.S.] it was reported to His Majesty that Mr. John Surman and Mr. Edward Stephenson, English ambassadors, had arrived near the city. By order of His Majesty, Sayyad Salābat Khān Bahādur was sent to greet and escort them. The said ambassadors were brought by him to the Diwān Khās. They presented a letter with many foreign curiosities and rarities. From the date of presentation up to the 26th Zu-J-hijjah [i.e. 21st December 1715 N.S. or the 10th December O.S.] those things were presented daily. Mr. John Surman received a robe of gold zarbaft of five pieces and a jewelled plume, and the second ambassador a robe and a jewelled dagger."

⁴ This letter is to be found in the Madras Public Diary and Consultations for 2 Jan 1712 to 29 Dec. 1715, No. 86, Range 239 in the India Office. The letter was read at a Consultation at Fort St. George on Thursday Oct. 6th, 1715, under which date it occurs.

DELHI, JULY, 1715.

CSL

two Seerpaws [saropā], which were receiv'd with the usual ceremony by John Surman and Cojee Surhand [Khvājah Sarhad]. The 4th We arrived at Barrapoola [Bārapulah], three Course [kos] from the City, sending the Padry before to prepare our Reception, that if possible We might Visit the King the first day even before We went to the house which was got for us accordingly the 7th in the morning We made our entery with very good order, there being sent a Munsudbar [mangabādār] of two thousand Munsab [mangab] with about 200 horse and peons to meet us, bringing likewise two Elephants and Flags about the Middle of the City We were met by the Syud Sallabut Cawn Bahauder [Sayyad Salābat Khān], and were by him conducted to the palace where we waited till about 12 a clock till the King came out, before which time We met with Caundors Bahauder [Bahādūr] who received us very Civilly assuring us of his protection and good Services. We prepar'd for our first present vizt— One Thousand and One gold Mohurs, the Table clock set with precious Stones, the Unicorns Ho., the gold Escutore bought from Zoudy Cawn [Zeyān-d-din Khān], the large peice of Ambergreese the Aftoa [āstābah], and Chelumgie [chilamohi] Manilla work & the Map of the World, these with the Hon^{ble} Govern^rs Letter were presented every one holding something in his hand as usual John Surman Received a Vest and Culgee [kalaghi, a turban plume, or ornament] Set with precious Stones and Surhand a Vest and Cunger [khanjar, a scimitar] Set with precious stones likewise. Considering the great pomp and State of the Kings of Indostan, we was very well Receiv'd. On our arrivall at our house We were entertain'd by Syud Sallabut Cawn [Sayyad Salābat Khān] sufficient both for us and our people, in the evening He visited us again and stay'd about two hours. The great favour Caundore [Khān Daurān] is in with the King gives us hopes of Success in this undertaking, He assures us of his protection and says the King has promi'd us great favours. We have Rec^d orders first to visit Caundore [Khān Daurān], as our Patron after which We shall be order'd to visit the Grand Vizier, and other Omrahs [umarā], We would have avoided this if We could fearing to disoblidge the Vizier, but finding it not feazable, rather than disoblige one who has been so serviceable, & by whose means We expect to obtain our desires We comply with it.¹

This we dispatch by several Conveyances that your Hon^r etc may have quick news of our arrival etc.

Inclos'd comes Account Cash Warehouse Account Charges General with Copys of Consultations for the month of May

We are

Hon^{ble} Sr & Sirs

Yo^r most Obed^t Humble Serv^{ts}

JOHN SURMAN.

EDWD. STEPHENSON.¹

DILLY OR SHA JEHANNABAD,

July the 8th 1715.

¹ Khān Daurān, was only second Bahshi or Bahshi-i-mutt, and thus inferior in rank to both the vizier and the amir-i-umarā.

DELHI, JULY, 1715.

CSL

50. CONSULTATION.

"Having visited his Majesty, the next we ought to meet are his Prime Ministers; The Chief Among which is the Grand Vizier, so ought in puncto to have the first visit; But to perform which, we find an impossibility; Caundora [Khān Daurān] our Patron Expecting that Lott to himself: neither is it to be avoided without incurring his highest displeasure, We are Assured by our friends that the Vizier is only titular, the Executive power lying Chiefly in the other; So that what we are now about to do, is Entirely our Interest. For which reason Agreed that we first visit Caundora; [Khān Daurān] next, the Vizier; and Last off all Tuccurub Caun [Taqarrub Khān].¹ Mr. Stephenson delivering out the following things as an offering to Each Omrah [umrah].

Visit—

To the Vizier—

- 1 ps Ambergrease.
- 1 Watch bot^h.
- 1 Europe twizer Case.
- 1 Japan Standish.
- 3 Glass Hookers [huggahs].
- 1 Pallan: Furniture.
- 2 Patna Cases.

To Caundora [Khān Daurān]—

- 2 p^r Small Japan Trunks.
- 1 Fine Cutt Hooker [huggah].
- 1 Sett Glass Pall; Furniture.
- 2 Small Patna Cases.
- 1 twizer Case.
- 1 Silver Watch bot^h.
- 1 Globe Fountain bot^h.

To Tuccurub Caun [Taqarrub Khān]—

- 2 China Trunks.
- 1 Silver Watch bot^h.
- 3 Hookers [huggah].
- 2 Patna Cases.
- 2 Bandizas 1 Big.
- & 1 Small.

¹ Taqarrub Khān had been Khānsimān, or Lord Steward, since the 11th Feb: 1718 N.S. He died on the 1st April 1718 N.S.

DELHI, JULY, 1715.

CSL

The King being ready to leave the City, Sallabutt Caun Salabat Khān] has pressed us to Send him another Present as soon as possible.

Agreed that Mr. E. Stephenson deliver out the following things
Viz^t

- 1 pr. Kamphire Escrutores.
- 2 pr. Rose Water bottles.
- 2 Europe Pictures.
- A Beetle box and plate.
- 3 Manila Trunkes.
- 1 Piece Agala wood.
- 1 Perfuming pott."

51. DIARY.

July 9th. "Visitted Caundora" [Khān Daurān].

July 10th. "Visitted the Grand Vizier.

Arrived fruitt from the King to which we paid our obeisance."

July 11th. "Visited Tuccurrub Caun [Tuqarrub Khān], butt he would nott accept our present."

52. CONSULTATION.

"The Kings Cohars [kahārs], that came with us, have, since their arrival, here, been very troublesome, there being 16 or 17 days pay due to them; Besides, they make a demand, for the time before their pay was commenced by the Government in Patna, which amounts to a Considerable Summ. The dearness of this place makes them very insolent, and the Great Number of them has severall times putt us under apprehensions off being insulted, going out off our house. We are advised, by our friends, not to lett them Come to an Extremity nor lett them goe, to complain to the King; Butt that itt will be more for our credit, to make up the buisness att home, and give them their due pay our Selves. Endeavouring afterwards to gett a reimbursement from the Kings Consonima [Khānsāmdā, or Lord Steward], which iff nott allowed, we must nott look att that Expencc as unreasonable, having received so much from the King already. For which reasons, and having Convinced them, that one part off their pretensions is not due; withall offering to pay them the remaining eighteen days, giving Seerpaws, [saropās] etc. to their Cheifs with which they are contented;

DELHI, JULY, 1716.

CSL

Agreed, that Mr John Surman pay them 5413 rupees and take a full discharge from them.¹

Sallabutt Cauns house nott being Sufficient to accommodate all off us, Agreed that two Houses more be looked out.²

53. DIARY.

July 12th.

"The King left the City."³

54. LETTER II.³

"To the Hon^{ble} Rob^t Hedges Esq^r Presid^t & Gov^r of Fort William in Bengall.

Hon^{ble} Sir,

We have lately sent Your Hon^r the good news of our safe arrivall here, the visiting the King and the civil treatment we met with all which will without doubt be very welcome news, We have since visited several Omrahs [umara] as the Vizier Caundora [Khān Daurān], and Tackarubann [Tagarub Khān], where we were received with all the Respect that could be expected and gives me some hopes that all will end well, but what gives me the most encouragement (for I am well acquainted these Nobles, as long as they are expecting to get anything are always complaisant) is that the methods we are at present taking, is consistant and with the advice & Council of Zoudy Cawn [Zeyāu-d-dīn Khān], We visited that Gentleman the 11th Curr^t and met with the same treatment He has always given to Englishmen with the highest acknowledgements of the favours He has Rec^d from them, that as yet He had never been able to retaliate any of them but hop'd He had now an opportunity of doing Something, he pressingly advis'd us to do nothing without the advice Counsel and order of Caundora [Khān Daurān] (and the main instrument of our affairs) Syed Sallabut Cawn [Sayyad Salābat Khān], that the turn of affairs at the Durbarr oblig'd us to it, this which he told us by word of mouth he wrote me when I sent your Hon^r Letter to him. We are convinced he advises like a freind and are intent on the method, but at the same time very cautious how we anyways disoblige the Vizier. Wee. being very sure that Zoudy Cawn [Zeyāu-d-dīn Khān] was very intimate there, sent and advis'd him when we intended to visit, That He would use his interest for our better Reception, intending to manage the Durbarr by his means. He assur'd us that We might be satisfy'd as to the important Durbarr: The good prospect We have of our affairs makes Coja Surhaud [Khawājah Surhaud] very good ¹ They demanded pay altogether for 136 days, beginning on the 26th February. The King had given them three months' pay, i.e., 90 days, and they had also received an extra sum of Rs. 8,000 which they appear to have reckoned as 28 days' pay. Thus 18 days' pay was owing. This was, it would seem, paid by the English at the rate of Rs. 7-8-0 a month a man, whereas the King's rate was only Rs. 7 a month for each man.

² According to Mirzā Mahammad, Farrukhsiyar went first to the Qutb minar, then to Badli, and Pānpāt.

³ This letter was read at the same Consultation at Fort St. George as letter I, and is to be found in the same volume.

DELHI, JULY, 1715.

CSL

Humour'd and at present tractable in hopes He shall obtain his promised Reward, and considering that everything is coming to it's crisis, I take particular care that He remains so, and as much as possible persuade every one with me to do the like which I fear gains me but little good will, but as passion must now be curb'd except We expect to be laugh'd at, We must be very circumspect in our actions and Councils.

We have Received Letters from Madrass advising that Sadatulla Cawn [Sa'datullah Khān]¹ had taken the strong Fort of Chingie [Jinjī] and that He was for intrenching on the Comp's Bounds to rapture. We hope to get orders time enough to go by your August Shipping. God send success to our affairs. I am

Honble Sr

Your Most Obedient Humble Servant

JOHN SURMAN.

Delly, the 17th July 1715.

P.S.—The King for these 6 or 7 days has been out about 7 Course [kos.] I beleive We must follow in a day or two."

55. CONSULTATION.

"His Majesty nott being yett returned into the City, We esteem it improper to continue any longer out off his Only. July 18th. presence. For which reason, Agreed that the Tents be sent to the Camp, and that Mr Surman and Cojah Seerhaud goe thither.

Agreed that Mr. Edward Stephenson deliver out y^e following things to be Carried to y^e Camp—viz^t.

Eserutores 3 p^r. { 2 Large
 { 1 Small

- 1 Europe Fountain
- 1 Toy in Case bottle
- 1 Box of English Flowers
- 6 China Toys—Horsemen
- 1 Sword. Silver Handle
- 1 Gold Watch
- 2 Manila trunks—Silver hinges
- 2 Amber Canisters
- 12 Looking Glasses
- 5 Clocks

¹ This, says Mr. Irvine, must be Muhammad Sa'id, Sa'datullah Khān, Bahādur, who died on the 8th October, 1722, while faujdar of the two Karnātaks, aged about 60 years. He was of the tribe of Nawāyat (see Wilks, I, 226, 242).

DELHI, JULY, 1715.

CSL

460 p ^a . Broad Cloth ordinary	{ Green--	240
	{ Redd--	180
	{ Yellow--	60
300 p ^a . Do. Aurora
Fire-Armes--Viz ^t 1 Gun Double-barrell
12 Fuzees [fusils].
12 Horse Pistolls
12 Pockett D ^o .
12 Musketoons
China Ware 19 Jarrs	{ 4 Large
	{ 8 Middling
	{ 12 Small
Japan Ware 1 Patch box
4 Nests	{ 2 large Boxes
	{ 2 small do.
4 D ^o .	{ 2 Large Dressing boxes
	{ 2 Small do.
18 Bandizas	{ 6 Large
	{ 5 Round
	{ 7 Small
1 Box	... Gold hinges
20 Perings
16 Cupps and { 10 [large]
Saucers	{ 6 small
18 Cupps and Covers
10 Cupps
18 Dishes
3 Plates
1 Small dressing Box
Cuttlary Ware 49 scissars	{ 40 Plain
	{ 9 Silver handles
	{ 8 Kittle beaters
	{ 6 Agatt
108 Pennives	{ 4 Amber
	{ 2 Chaspt
	{ 13 Ivory tipt with Silver
	{ 75 Plain Ivory
9 Fino Cases.	q ^t . Knives, Scissars etc.
	{ 18 Silver handles
60 Knives	{ 6 Agatt do.
	{ 14 Ivory do.
	{ 12 Red-wood
12 Razors.
Pockett books 10.
Pencills 69.

DEDDI, JULY, 1715.

CSL
58

56. LETTER III.¹

"To the Honourable Robert Hedges Esq^r. President and Governour of Fort William Etc. Council in Bengal.

Honourable Sir and Sirs,

The last we wrote Your Honour Etc. was dated July 8th giving an Account of our safe arrivall at this place and our visiting the King. We are at present but little able to give your Honour Etc. an Account of our Negotiation, the King going out the 11th to a place about 5 Course [kos] from hence² to Worship and with him all the Omrahs [umrā], so that little business can be expected till he comes back again, his Stay being longer than we imagined we intend to make him a visit a broad that there may be no occasion of any disgust.

Since our former we visited the Vizier and Tuckurub Cann [Taqarrub Khān] which was attended with a great many Civilitys and promises of assistance in our affairs: likewise we paid our Respects to Zondy Cawn [Zeyāu-d-dīn Khān] whose treatment was equall to the Respect he has always Shown to Englishmen, assured us our affairs were in a very good state and that the design we had of carrying on our business by means of Caundora [Khān Daurān] was the only adviseable Way to hope for Success, for although the Vizier and Tuckurub Cann [Taqarrub Khān] were in the highest Possⁿ, and our business in a great measure would inevitably fall into their hands yet for a Patron or one to have the intire management of the business, none was so fit or could do so much as Caundora [Khān Daurān]. We were well informed that he was very intimate with the Vizier for which Reason we particularly desired his Freindship, in the management of that Durbarr he assured us We might rest satisfied on that side, a few days, we hope, will bring the King to his Palace again when we shall enter upon action and hope every thing will answer the expectations we have conceived from so good a beginning.

The Padre in some of his former Letters to us while on our way Copies of which we have Sent your Honour Etc. did advise that he had been obliged to give writing under his hand and Seal to the Mutsuddies [mutasaddis, officials, clerks] at Court, for a Certain Summ of mony and goods on our Arrivall and finishing the business. We have examined into that matter and are informed, that 'tis to Caundora Behauder [Khān Daurān Bahādur], and Syud Sallabut Cann Behauder [Sayyad Salsbat Khān Bahādur] for twenty-five thousand Rupees. We intend to take up this obligation as invalid, and make as good agreements as we can our Selves, the main reason of our doing this is that the Padre may have no more opportunitys of giving Notes under his hand for any thing Relating to our business.

We have frequently complained to your Honour &c^a and wrote of the invalidity of the Letters of Credit sent us, and of what ill consequence it might be in case we should be disappointed of mony when we came to Action, it being the main Spring of our Negotiation. Your Honour &c^a did advise that you were ¹This letter was read at the same Consultation at Fort St^e George as Letter I, and is to be found in the same volume.

²Farrukhsiyar on this occasion went to the Qaib mīnār. See p. 50.

DELHI, JULY, 1715.

CSL

seeking a remedy by sending fresh Letters which as yet we have not received, as for those already sent. We have met with nothing but denials. Lolibeharry [Lalvihari] refusing to let us have any money but on very unreasonable conditions, the other Joogurpursaud [Jugalprasād] remains in Agra, we did not enquire for him there, expecting to have found him in this place, but now perceiving our mistake, we have wrote to him but with little hopes of Success. We hope your Honour &c^{rs} first Letters will remedy this disappointment.

Enclosed comes Account Cash Warehouse Account Charges General and Copy of Consultations for the month of June, likewise Copy of what Letters lately received from Bombay and Fort St. George.

We are

Honourable Sir and Sirs

Your most obedient humble Servants

COJAH SURHAUD [Khawājah Sarhad] assent^d
HUGH BARKER Sec^y.

JOHN SULMAN
EDWARD STEPHENSON.

DILLY,

July 20th 1715.

57. DIARY.

July 22nd.

"A Currant report the King designs for Lahore."

July 25th.

"The Doctor ordered by the King to give phisick to Tucourrub Caan [Taqaarrub Khān]."

58. CONSULTATION.

The King's Camp.
Shalamar [Shālīmār]
July 27th.

"For these severall days there has been a rumour, that the King designs to proceed to Lahore. We are now very well satisfied that he will Shortly decamp from this place. Seerhaud [Sarhad] being att the delivery off the last goods, that were presented, had the opportunity, off hearing the disputes, between the King, Vizier, and Caundora [Khān Daurān]; wherein the King was possitively resolved to proceed, notwithstanding the improper Season—a Sufficient reason to the Contrary. He now gives out that he designs to proceed to Pony-punt [Pānipat] and no farther. We are off opinion our best policy is to be always near the King, and in Case he does proceed to Lahore, that we might be Even then negotiating our business. Agreed that we first return to the City, and bring out whatever things ¹ Taqaarrub Khān had sworn falsely to Zūl-fiqar Khān that his life should be spared. It is said by Warid that the hand with which he took the false oath on the Qur'ān began at once to wither. No remedies availed and he died on the 9th Rabi' II, 1123, i.e. 1st April 1716 N.S. i.e. 21st March O.S.

DELHI, JULY, 1715.

55

we can. There being no absolute necessity for the King to See the Broad Cloth, and many other things; Agreed, that we give notes to Mr. E. Stephenson according to which he may deliver goods in the City.

According to Custom The Kings Chubdars [chobdārs] &c. Servants must receive their reward. The following Summs being noted down by Syud Sallabut Caun [Sayyad Ṣalābat Khān]. Agreed that Mr. J. Surman pay them viz^t.

To the Kings Chubd ^{rs} 16½ share	...	...	...	Sic ^d 1257
Doorkeepers	...	...	...	450
To other Chubdars	...	...	...	50
To Caundoras [Khān Daurān's] Chubd ^{rs} and Kismutg ^{rs} ...				300
				2087

59. DIARY.

July 25th.

"Mr. Woodvill¹ came here."

60. CONSULTATION.

Daily.
July 29th.

"Mr. Woodvill having travelled thus far, to complain against her husband, as she professes to us; and being now in a very mean and poor Condition: We judge itt proper to take some notice off her; nott outt off an apprehension off any Efforts she can make to the prejudice off our Honourable Masters; butt because we are unwilling to have Even her name mentioned; withall, being assured Captain Woodvill is Suffieiently responsible for any disbursement on her Account, Agreed that we allow her Subsistance whilst she is here, endeavouring to procure her return to Bengall; That Mr. Surman for the present give her 100 rupees, and Mr. Stephenson Supply her with something to make Cloths."

61. DIARY.

"The Doctor called to the Camp by Caundora [Khān Daurān], July 30th. we Suppose on the Kings account."

August 2d. "The Kings Camp removed to Sunputt [Sonpat].²"

¹ The name of Captain Woodville occurs frequently in the records. See ante Vols. I and II, Pt. 1. This is the first we hear of his family troubles.

² Sonpat or Sunipat, a town of great antiquity situated 25 miles north of Delhi on the old imperial road. It is surrounded by trees and lies on the side of a small hill formed out of the ruins of old buildings.

DELHI, AUGUST, 1715.

CSL

62. LETTER IV.¹

"To the Hon^{ble} Edward Harrison Esq
President and Governour of Fort St^e
George &c^a Council

Honourable Sir and Sirs

A duplicate of your Honours &c^as dated January 15th Originally of the 29th came to hand June the 29th, 20 Coarse [kos] distant from Dilly. We deferred giving answer at that time in hopes to obtain an order on Sadatulla Cawn to attend it, but the removal of his Majesty from the City hindered us from commencing any business, so can only give your Honour &c^a an Account how things Stand at present.

The 2nd of July when we arrived within 12 Coarse [kos] of the City there came two Serpaws [sar-o-pās] from his Majesty which were received with the usual Ceremony, when we arrived within 8 Coarse [kos] we prepared for our Entry: desiring if possible for the Credit of our Negotiation, that we might first pay obeisance to his Majesty and then proceed to the house provided for us which being concerted the 6th there came a Cawn [Khān] of 2000 mansab [mansab] with 200 horse, peons, elephants and flags to conduct us to the City, when we arrived at the Outward Gate we were met by Synd Sallabut Cawn Bahauder [Sayyad Salābat Khān, Bahādur] who carried us to the Kings palace. We carried with us some rarities which we presented, Cawndora [Khān Daurān] introducing us to the Royall Presence. Considering the great State with the Adoration paid to these Eastern Monarchs, we were as well Received as any European has been for these many years. We received Serpaws [sar-o-pās]. There being a Gulgee [kulghī]² set with Jewells given to John Serman and a Cungar [Khanjar]³ set with Jewells to Sarhad [Sarhad] likewise, when we came to our house we were by the Kings order entertained by Synd Sallabut Cawn [Sayyad Salābat Khān, Bahādur] with a dinner sufficient for us and all our people three days after the King left the City under pretence of visiting a Sacred place about 6 Coarse [kos] from thence, but the true Reason (we are of opinion) was to clear himself of a kind of confinement which he thought he suffered whilst in the Fort, afterwards on the petition of his Omrahs [umara]⁴ to return to the City the time of the Rains being improper for travelling: He shewed himself resolved to proceed either to Lahore or Azmere [Ajmer]. Neither could all the Arguments used avert his intended journey. This startled us considering with how great trouble and risque we had brought the present thus farr, and how to carry it on at this time of the year we were something at a Stand. At last we concluded to give the gross of our present in notwithstanding the King was abroad. But in delivering some of the fine Clocks they were ordered to be returned and kept in good order till he came back to the City, he having now determined only to visit a sacred place about 40 Coarse [kos] from

¹ This letter is taken from the Madras Public Diary and Consultations for 2 Jan. 1712 to 29th Decr. 1715, No. 86, Range 239 in the India Office. The letter was read at a Consultation at Fort St. George on Monday Oct. 31st 1715, under which date it occurs.

² Kulghī, an aigrette.

³ Khanjar, a short sword, the origin of our word "langer."

⁴ Umara, plural of Amār, a noble.

DELHI, AUGUST, 1715.

57

CSL

Dilly: After which he would return. This Stop'd our presenting the remainder of our goods. But We concluded that it was necessary to attend his Majesty in this Journey. We now continue in the Camp leaving Mr. Stephenson and Mr. Philips to take care of what goods remain in the City and in Case that the King should proceed farther that they concert measures to bring the goods after us. We are in this interval preparing petitions to be delivered to his Majesty hoping We shall do something for our Honourable masters that has not been yet obtained. The patronage and management of this Negotiation is in the hands of the greatest favourite at Court Caundora [Khān Daurān]; and under him Syud Sallabut Cawn [Sayyad Salābat Khān] withall We being no ways unmindfull of our old friend Zoudy Cawn [Zeyā-ud-dīn Khān] without whose advice we enter upon nothing, but he being at present in a low Station is not able to obtain the Kings Ear, however we are satisfied that whatever lyes in his power he do's, and will assist us but particularly in the Viziers Durbarr.

Hossein Ali-Cawn Bahauder Omeerall Omrah [Husain 'Alī Khān Bahādur, Amir-ul-umārā] is lately gone into the Decan Country having the entire Command of all that part of this Kingdom; your Honour &c have doubtless heard how great he has made himself even to vie with the Commands of his Imperial Majesty as lately appeared in the disputes between himself and Meer Jemlah [Mir Jumla] whilst at Court, when he obliged his antagonist contrary to the Kings desires to remove from Court to Panna where by the interest of Omeerall Omrah [Amir-ul-umārā] and his own mismanagement he is quite Ruined. Wherefore we humbly Recomend a very good correspondance with Omeerall Omrah [Amir-ul-umārā] otherwise whatever We shall be able to do here will be off very little service before him.

We have in a very particular manner observed what your Honour &c^{as} have wrote concerning the priviledges and accordingly have Specified them in our petitions As for the Towns we cannot yet advise your Honour &c^a what we are Capable of doing till such time we find how the Court is disposed, however our endeavours Shall not be wanting in the minutest particular and above all for Dia [Divi] Island.

Concerning Sadatulla Cawns [Sa'adatullah Khān²] taking the Fort of Chingio [Tinjī] We have examined and find that as soon as the news arrived at Court that Rajah Suropsing [Swarūp Singh] was dead orders were sent from hence to his son to deliver up that Government to Sadatulla Cawn [Sa'adatullah Khān] he having orders likewise to receive it which the Rajah not thinking fit to comply with said Fort was taken from him by force. This Victory in the Kings behalf has very much pleased this Court. We are endeavouring to get an order concerning the business of Fort St. Davids to be sent to your Honour &c^a by the ships from Bengall.

¹ Husain 'Alī Khān started on the 29th Rabi 'I 1127 i.e. the 3rd April 1715 N. S. or the 23rd March O. S.

² Sa'adatullah Khān, Muhammūd Sa'id, entitled Sa'adatullah Khān Bahādur, was of the tribe of Nawayats. He died on the 19th Rabi 'I, 1145, i.e., the 5th October 1732 N. S. while faujdar of both Karnataks, aged about 50 lunar years. See Tarikh-i-Muhammadi. His biography is given in Ma'asir-i-umara, II, 513, and in Wilks, I, 226, 242.

DELHI, AUGUST, 1715.

CSL

We hope his Majesty will not exceed his intended Journey but Return to the City : when we shall advise your Honour &c. of whatever occurs.

We are

Honourable Sir and Sirs

Your most Obedient humble Servants

JOHN SURMAN

COJAH SEERHAUD, Assenting

HUGH BARKER, Ser'y.

Sun-put [Sonpat] 20 Coorces [kos] from Dilly

August 4th 1715.

63. DIARY.

- August 6th. "We paid our obeisance to the King on the road."
- August 7th. "The Kings camp removed to Somaulk' Surray¹."
- August 8th. "The Kings Camp arrived att Pony-punt²."
- "The King having worshiped att Pony-punt, [Panipat] he returned to Somalk' Surray [Simbhālka Sarāi]."
- August 10th.
- August 11th. "The Kings Camp come to Ginnore. Salamed to the King."
- August 13th. "The Kings Camp come to Sunputt [Sonpat]—Salamed to the King."
- August 14th. "The King arrived att Mehīr Purwurk' Surray [Mihraparwar ki Sarāi]—Much rain."
- August 15th. "The King arrived in Sha-Jehaunabad att a lucky minute pitched on by his Braohmin."
- "The Doctor being sent for last night by the King; went this morning with Oajah Seerhaud [Khawājah Sarhad]: where he Examined two Swellings in his Groin; and has now taken his Majesty under his hands, by Gods blessing, to recover a very much impaired constitution.

The Omrahs [umara] having refused to receive any Present, without a particular order from the King: We have thought fitt to petition for Caundora, and Tuccurub Caun [Khān Daurān, Taqarrub Khān]:

¹ Simbhālka ki sarīe, a road post ten miles from Panipat.
² Panipat, a municipal town and administrative head quarters of a tashil of the same name, situated in lat. 29° 23' N. and long. 77° 10' E on the grand trunk road, 53 miles north of Delhi, a place of great antiquity, lying on a high mound composed of the debris of centuries. The principal ancient building is the dargah of Qalandar Sahib Bā'Alī Qalandar, a Moslem saint, who was born in H. 602 and died in H. 724 aged 122 years. The tomb of Ibrahim Lodi, which stood here, was destroyed to make the grand trunk road. Panipat has witnessed at least three decisive Indian battles in 1526, in 1556, and in 1761.

DELHI, AUGUST, 1715.

CSL

"But the Vizier having asked for himself, Agreed that Mr. E. Stephenson prepare the following things, which we have now determined to present him."¹

64. CONSULTATION.

"Having drawn up our Generall petition to his Majesty in the Persian Language, as near as possible to the instructions given us by the Honourable President and Councill off Fort William, The Honourable Governour and Councill off Fort St. George, and his Excellency the Generall and Councill of Bombay. Agreed, that itt be translated into English; and After perusall, to be Enter'd in our next consultation: withall, that in the Interim Cojah Seerhaud [Khvajah Sarhad] shows this petition to Syud Sallabutt Caun [Sayyad Salābat Khān] and Zeandy Caun [Zau-d-din Khān] for their Approvall."

65. DIARY.

August 23rd.

"The Doctor lives with Tuecurub Caun [Taqarub Khān]."

66. CONSULTATION.

"The Kings birthday approaching, when will be great rejoicings. This time will be very proper to deliver in part off what remains off our present."

Dilly.
August 28th.

A TRANSLATE OFF A GENERALL PETITION, TO THE KING, IN OEDER TO OUR OBTAINING A PHIRMAUND.

Particulars as follows.

1. "The English Company pay no Customs, in Indostan, Suratt Excepted. In y^e Subaships off Behar, Bengall, and Orixa They are Custom-Free, According to y^e Phirmaund [farmān] off y^e Great

¹ A long list of presents is given; also lists of presents to "Syud Sallabutt Caun Behauder, Amphrasiob Caun, Mozaffer Caun, Caundora's Brother, Shauk-das, Deputy-Droga of the Goolacanna, Deebydass, Mushroff to the Goolacanna."

These persons are Sayyad Salābat Khān Bahādur, Afraiyāb Khān, Mozaffer Khān, Khān Daurān's brother, Shāhbāz Khān, deputy darghah (superintendent) of the ghushtkhāna (bathroom i.e. privy audience chamber), Debi Das, mushrif (chief clerk) to the ghushtkhāna. With Salābat Khān we are already acquainted. Shāhrāb, known as Mirzz Ajmer, entitled Afraiyāb Khān, Rostam Jang, nephew of Rashid Khān had been Farrukhsiyar's instructor in wrestling and archery. He was third balashi. He died at Delhi on 21 August, 1718. Khvajah Muhammad Muqin, Mozaffer Khān, was killed in the battle with Nadir Shāh on 15 Zūl-qā'dah 1151, i.e. 23 February, 1738, N. S.

DELHI, AUGUST, 1715

CSL

Aurangzēbe [Aurangzeb], The Nishāns [nishāns] off y^e deceased Azzimūth Sha,¹ Azzintarra,² and Sha Suja,³ y^e Husbul Hooom [hasbu-l-hukm] under Assid Oams [Asad Khān's⁴ Seal, and former Sunoods and orders; In Stead off which, to this day, they pay yearly 3000 rupees, into the treasury of Hugly, as a Peeshcash [peshkash].

2. In Culeutta y^e Company have a Settlement D: Culeutta, Govindpore, and Sootaluty [daha Kalikata, Govindpur and Sūtānūtī]; which 3 towns being near y^e Factory, His deceased Highness Azzimūth Sha [‘Azimu-sh-shān] gave to be rented by y^e Company. The rent off these 3 towns abovementioned, according to y^e Kings books, amounts to 1194/14, and Something more; which is yearly paid into y^e Treasury. We humbly Petition, that y^e renting off Severall other towns, that are near y^e above towns; and whose rent amounts to near or about 800 rupees may be granted to y^e Company, That the Rent shall be yearly, and duely paid into the Kings treasury by us; and that particular care shall be taken, to make them flourish. We farther petition, that y^e town of Culeutta may have y^e great name of Furruckbunder [Farrukh-bandar]⁵ given itt, and that the towns above, which are in other Pergunnas [parganas], be made 1 Pergunna, having y^e name given itt off Furruckabad [Farrukhābad],⁵ which will be to y^e great Honour off Your humble petitioners.

3. In Bengall, Beharr, and Orixā The Company has Severall Settlements, and In Severall places. We are in hopes, by your Majestys Favour, to Settle others. We humbly petition, that in any place, where a Settlement Shall be made, 40 Beaguers [bigahs] off Ground be granted, by Your Majesty, to build a house on: and in Patna where for y^e Long time the Companys Settlement has been, they have rented y^e house, We are in hopes, by Your Majestys Favour, to have y^e house of y^e deceased M: McDuffer [Muhammad Muzaffar], (that belongs to y^e King), granted for off residence.

4. The Companys Factorys are in many places very much Peetered with Phirmaush [farmāish],⁶ and Impositions Laid on them. We humbly petition, that Your Majest will be pleased to order, that in

¹ Azzimūth Sha, ‘Azimu-sh-shān, second surviving son of Shah ‘Alam, Babādur Shāh, son and successor of ‘Alamgir Aurangzēb.

² Azzintarra is ‘Azim Shāh, second son of ‘Alamgir Aurangzēb.

³ Sha Suja is Sulāim Shujā, the second son of Shahjahan.

⁴ Asad Khān was ‘Alamgir Aurangzēb's wazir from about 1682 to the end of the reign (1707). He died at a great age on the 25th Jamādi II, 1128 H. (15th June 1716 N.S.). His name was Muhammad Ibrahim, and he was a Persian of the Qazwānī tribe.

⁵ Farrukh-bandar, "Fortunate Port," Farrukhābad, "Fortunate Foundation," in compliment to the Emperor Farrukhsīzar.

⁶ Farmāish, requisitions to furnish goods for the Emperor or high officials.

DELHI, AUGUST, 1715.

61
SL

all places y^e Company be Excepted from Phirmaush, Phowdarry, Jemidarry [faujdarī, zamindārī],¹ and all other impositions; and that they receive no hindrance on that Account, Their Factors Etc^s Servants going on in their buisness, with Satisfaction and Content.

5. In all Subaships [ṣubahs] y^e Companys Gomastoes [gumāstahs] goe backward and forward to buy and Sell, iff any thing should be stolen, which God forbid: We humbly petition, that Your Majesty will be pleased to give Strict orders, that y^e Jemidars [zamindārs] etc^a off those places, thoroughly Assist to have due punishment inflicted on those rogues, and that the Goods be returned to their right owners.

6. In Every Subaship [ṣubah] y^e Duans [dūāns] demand a Sight off y^e Originall Phirmaund [farmān]; as likewise that we receive a Particular Sunnod [sanad] under y^e Seals' off y^e Suba [ṣubahdār] and Duan [dūān] off that province. Itt is impossible to Shew y^e Originall grant in all places, for which reason, We humbly petition, that Your Majesty will order, that A Copy from y^e Originall Under y^e Cozzys [qāzī's] Seal be Sufficient, and off Force, and that no one demand a Sight off y^e Originall. Farthar, that we shall receive no Sunnod [sanad] from y^e Suba [ṣubahdār] or Duan [dūān],—they acting pursuant to y^e great Phirmaund [farmān] your Majesty has granted.

7. In former days the Mint was Settled att Dacca and Rajmahal [Rājmahal], where the Companys Gold and Silver was Coined. The Mint att present is in Muxodavad [Maṣūdābad]. We humbly petition through y^e favour of Your Majesty, that according to former Custom y^e Companys Gold and Silver may be coined in y^e Present mint, without any lett or Molestation,—that y^e Mutsuddys [mutaṣaddīs] off y^e mint make no uncustomary demands, taking y^e Mintage only; and that in y^e Season when other Merchants goods are coming, The Company may have 3 days in y^e week allowed to them, which will be a Particular Favour.

8. Att the time of buying goods in Hugly; Notes are Given by y^e Droga [daroghah] and Mushreif [mushreif]; which are so tedious, that the Season of y^e Year passes, before they can be obtained; and is a great imposition on y^e Companys Factors. We humbly petition, that Your Majesty will be pleased to order, that y^e Drogas [daroghah] permission off y^e Abovementioned Port be Sufficient to bring goods

¹ Faujdarī, fees or dues collected by the Faujdar or Police Magistrate. Zamindārī, revenue demand from the land.

DELHI, AUGUST, 1715.

CSL

from Merchants Houses to y^e Factory : by which means, we shall be capable to dispatch our Ships att y^e Proper Season.

9. There was a Mint settled Att Madrass in y^e reign off Aurungzebe: The money Coin'd att which place, receives So much pr Cent discompt, before taken into y^e treasury off any Subaship [sābah], Altho' off y^e Same fineness, and Goodness with Rupees made in Suratt, which is a considerable detriment to y^e Company. We hope from Your Majestys Favour, to have an order on all y^e Mutsuddys [mutasaddi] off Every Subaship [sābah] in India, forbidding that imposition for y^e future ; that Said money pass like that coined att Suratt and other places ; and that they be received by y^e Mutsuddys [mutasaddis] into y^e treasury like all other Siccas [sikkah, coined money].

10. Itt sometimes happening att Sea, by reason off Stormes and Misfortunes that Ships are obliged to take Port, and are now and then racked. The Governours of those Ports frequently Seize without any reason on Such Ships and Cargoes. Ships Likewise missing their port, and being obliged to harbour in Chitagong, Ganjam, Namound-bundee Etc^a. The Governours off these places also have Seized both on Ships and Cargoes ; Sometimes demanding a quarter part Salvage, all which is to y^e irreparable loss off y^e Owners. Thro' y^e Great favour off Your imperiall Majesty We humbly petition, that Strict orders may be given to y^e Mutsuddys [mutasaddi] off all Subaships [sābah] in Indostan, that they nowise offer to trouble, or molest us on this Account ; butt on y^e Contrary Assist Such Ships as much as lyes in their Power. So that being under the Shadow off Your Majesty ; We may pray for length off Years and Success in all Your undertakings, whilst with satisfaction our trade is improved, to y^e Great Encrease off Your Majestys Customs.

11. There is protection given by Your Majestys Officers to Severall off y^e Companys Servants and those from whom debts and Accounts are due ; So that neither money nor Accounts are procurable. We for this reason, Humbly Petition, that Your Majesty would please to order, that whoever so deserts y^e Company be sent back to y^e Cheif off y^e Factory.

12. In y^e Subaship [sābah] off Golconda [Gulckhandah or Haidarābād], all y^e Cornatuck [Karnātak] Country, The Upper and lower Country Metohlipatam [Machhlipatanam] and Vizagapatam [Vizagapatnam], in all which ports and places y^e Company trade Custom free. Att Madrass where they pay Yearly y^e Sum off 1200 Pagodas into y^e

DELHI, AUGUST, 1715.

63
SL

Kings treasury: We humbly petition that a fresh grant be given according to former Custom.

13. The Company have a Settlement Att y^e Port off Vizagapatam [Vizagapatnam]; for which, and four towns more Viz^t Moza [mauza] Perwanna, Wooda Punda, Woodall Terra, and Maaleapour being near y^e Companys Settlement, 4862 Rupees is duely paid into y^e treasury off Sitta Cole,¹ being y^e Yearly rent in y^e Kings books. Amongst these, Moza Perwanna and Wooda Punda 2 towns which pay 900 Rupees Yearly rent, Butt are too far from y^e Factory; We humbly desire may be returned, and that these towns Viz^t Alipour, Dundepour, Jogarass and Cuperah may be granted in their Stead; paying what is their Yearly rent in y^e Kings books, Into y^e Treasury.

14. Divy Island near Metchlipatam [Machhlipatanam] being in y^e hands off a rebell Poligar [pāṭigār, or local chief] Obiram [Abhi Rām], who Sometimes acts as a Subject; and as often otherwise. This Rajah, by reason off y^e desolateness off y^e place, Several times has and does Even now invite us to goe, Settle and inhabitt there, that y^e Island may flourish. His disobedience to Your Majesty, and y^e ill name that might accrew to us, from our accepting his offer, caused us always to refuse him. The Annuall rent off this Island is 7000 Pagodas. We humbly petition, that y^e renting off this Island may be granted to y^e Company, that they make Settlements there, to y^e great improvement off y^e Island; and by y^e Currency off Trade, and inhabitting off Merchants, much Encrease the Customs off Metchlipatam [Machhlipatanam]; for which we will Yearly pay y^e Accustomed rent into y^e Kings Treasury.

15. Momud Caum Bucks, Assid Caum and Zulphaor Caum,² att the war of Chingee³ for Assistance in sending all sorts off Ammunition, Cannon and provision to y^e Kings Camp, After gaining y^e Victory, As a reward for our Services, According to Aurungzeb's [Aurangzeb's] order, gave y^e Company 5 Towns, Trivitore etco which remained in our Possession many Years. It is now 3 Years that y^e Kings Officers have Seized on them; Since y^e reign off Your Imperiall Majesty.

¹ Sitta Cole, for Sikakul or Chicacole, a town in the Gunjam district, lat. 18° 13', long. 83° 59' (Thornton's "Gazetteer," p. 201).

² Muhammad Kām Baksh, the youngest son of the Emperor 'Alamgir Aurangzōb; Asad Khan, the vazir; and Zū-ḡār Khan, son of Asad Khan, and Mir Bakshi, or second noble, next in rank to the vazir.

³ Jinji, a town now in the South Arcot district, lat. 12° 16', long. 79° 27', was besieged by the Moguls from 1690 and taken in 1694. See also Xula and Burnell, p. 801.

DELHI, AUGUST, 1715.

CSL

What we Assisted against Your Competitor, and acted in Hugly, pursuant to Your Majestys order, in helping Zeaudy Caun [Zeyāu-d-dīn Khān] with all manner of ammunition, provisions etc^a doubtless Your Majesty is nott unacquainted with. For which reason, we humbly petition, that those towns may be regranted to us."

16. In y^e war off Chingee, [Jinji] y^e Rebels from y^e Port off Cudalore Sent Provisions and Ammunition to y^e Assistance off Chingee [Jinji]: for which reason att that Instant, we bought the town off Cudalore, & some others round itt, with y^e permission off y^e Imperiall Court: that, by our meanes, the way might be Stopped; and no Provisions arrive from thence, to their Assistance. Att present Severall Jemidars [zamīndars] etc^a round that place are troubling and molesting us: Which obliges us humbly to petition Your Imperiall Majesty, to give orders to y^e Officers and Mutsuddys [mutasaddis] off that Province to Assist us, by which meanes we may be able to punish those who give us any molestation.

17. Att the Port off Suratt, The Company in y^e time off Sha-Jehaun [Shāh Jahān] paid 2 p^r Cent Custom, In y^e reign off Aurungzebe [Aurangzēb] 3½ p^r Cent Viz^t 2 Custom, and 1½ Gigea. In y^e reign off Behauder Sha [Bahādur Shah] 2½ p^r Cent was ordered, which Custom is paid att present. We have hopes from Your Imperiall Favour, that as we Enjoy y^e priviledge off Custom-free in other Ports, We may have y^e Same priviledge att Suratt; and that according to y^e Custom off Bengall, a Certain Yearly Peeshcash [peshkash] may be paid instead off Custom. The reasons are, that for these 20 Years Elapsed, There have been new impositions laid on, and injustice done us Yearly, by y^e Kings Mutsuddys [mutasaddis]. The goods whose value is 1 rupee they prize att 2, and off which they take Custom with that Severity, that a duty is laid on y^e very Cloths and ornaments. Wherefore helpless we have been obliged for these three Years to withdraw that Factory, which cannot be resettled without some peculiar marks off Your Majestys favour; Such as have been Shown to Bengall etc^a

18. Our residence for many years in Suratt has been in one off the Kings houses, which we have rented, att present this house is gone to ruine; and untill Such time as Your Majesty is pleased to give itt us, we are uncapable to repair itt. We humbly petition a grant off itt, from Your Imperiall Majesty; as also 400 Beaguers [bigahs] off Ground without y^e City, whereon we may make a house & Garden that so We may Satisfactorily Encrease our trade, bless our Benefactor, and wish him a long and Glorious reign.

DELHI, AUGUST, 1715.

CSL
65

19. In the Subaships [ṣābāts] off Bengall, Behar, and Orisa with others in y^e Kingdom off Indostan; The Company have Subordinate Factorys where English Men reside. There are likewise some places, & Aurungs [aurang]¹ where English-men cannot be sent: for which reason, we make agreements with y^e Merchants off y^e Country, giving impress money; with which they goe to y^e Aurungs [aurang] & buy Goods. In some places y^e Kings Officers molest & hinder y^e buying off Such goods. Wherefore we humbly petition, that Pursuant to y^e Dustick [dastak] off y^e Chait off that Factory, the Merchants may be permitted to trade as English-men, and Enjoy their priviledges without any hinderance."

67. LETTER V.³

"To the Hon^{ble} Edward Harrison Esq.
Resident and Governour of Fort St. George & Co. Council

He Sir, &c.

We wrote your Hon^{ble} &c. the 4th instant the Originall of which was sent by the Returning peons, and the Copy to Bengall design'd to be forwarded by Shipping. This is Chiefly to Convey the enclos'd Letters, one from Syud Sallabutt Cawn Behander [Salābat Khān Bahādur], another from Zoudy Cawn [Ziān-d-dīn Khān] to your Hon^{ble} &c. as likewise recommendatory Letters from each to Sudutulla Cawn [Sa'datallah Khān] with whom Zoudy Cawn [Ziān-d-dīn Khān] pretends he has a particular freindship and acquaintance so that he expects a great deal of notice will be taken of his Letter.

We have advices here that Hosseinally Cawn [Husain 'Alī Khān] and Dowd Cawn [Dāūd Khān] are come to a Rupture in Barrampore [Barhānpur]⁴ so that it's likely a battle will ensue, the latter having engag'd many of the Decan Country to his party: it's Whisper'd at this Court that this is a design laid to involve Hosseinally Cawn [Husain 'Alī Khān] in trouble, and retrench his granduor, which of late has not been very pleasing.

The King proceeding no further than Pony-Put [Panipat], return'd to the City the 15th but being a little disorder'd in his health has not made any public appearance so that we have not had an opportunity to deliver the remaining

¹ Aurang, literally, "a throne," a small factory or trading-place, where orders to manufacture goods are given, delivery is taken of the goods and payment is made.

² This letter is to be found in the Madras Public Diary and Consultations for 1715 to 1719 No. 87, Range 289, in the India Office. It was read at a Consultation at Fort St. George on Monday the 9th January, 1716.

³ Barhānpur, a town on the Tapti river, Lat. 21° 18' Long. 76° 20'.

DELHI, SEPTEMBER, 1715.

CSL

part of our Present or Commence our Negotiation which shall be done by the first.

We are

Hon^{ble}. Sr and Srs

Your most Obedient humble Servants

JOHN SURMAN

Edwd. STEPHENSON."

GOJA SURHAUD [Khawajah Sarhad], Assenting

HUGH BARKER, Secy

Delhi August y^e 31st 1715.

68. CONSULTATION.

"The Portuguese, Antonio Parero, that Accompany'd Mrs. Woodvill
September 5th. hither, being willing to depart, on conditions that he may be reimbursed what money, he has Expended on her account. In Consideration that itt is worth a triviall sum to be free from his noise in this Place, Agreed that he have 100 rupees given him, taking his discharge from any further demands."

69. CONSULTATION.

"The King designing to appear abroad, att the Close of the Fast of Ramzan [Ramzān]¹ when there will be a Dilly. September 15th. generall discharge of his Artillery; We are informed this will be a proper time to present our Ordinance. Agreed that the 3 which remain, and 2 Glass Seconces with painted frames be presented on that day.

Agreed that the Vizier be visitted this Festivall, and that the following things be prepared as an offering---Viz:

- 1 Looking-Glassbox---bo^l
- 1 JEⁿna Garden
- 1 large Telescope
- 1 Silver beetle-box and plate

Itt being proper at this time to present the Kings Eunuchs Agreed that Mr. Edward Stephenson prepare the following things---Viz:

DURBAR CAUN [Darbār Khān]²---

Broad Clth Ord ^y	6 pieces,
Aurora	2 "
Fine Scarlett	1 "
Irmost	1

10

¹ Ramzān, 1127 H., fell between 30 August and 28 September, 1715, N. S., i.e. 19 August and 17 September O. S.

² Darbār Khān was Nagir or head of the Eunuchs.

DELHI, SEPTEMBER, 1715.

CSL
67

Perpetuannos Fine redd.	1
Ord. Green	1
		2
Callimannos Imbest	2
Flowered	1
		8
Brocade	...	...	4 Guzz.
Velvett	...	...	5 do.
Ind. Goods	...	5 Cossaes
		5 Soosys [Sāsī] ¹
		5 Chuoklas [Chākāla] ¹
		5 Chareonnas [Chārahānah] ¹
		20 ps.
Camolett	...	14ir	10 Guzz.
Swords & Sword blades	...		2
Fire Armes	...	Fuzzee [fusil?]	1
		Horse fist:	2
		Pocket do.	2
		Blunderbuss	1
			6
Cutlary w e	...	5 Knives
		5 Penknives
		4 Scissars
		5 Pencills
		19
Rarities	...	5 Triang: Glasses
		5 Mult: do.
		10 Spectacles
		1 Spying Glass
		1 Telescope
		22
Glass Ware	...	5 Hookers [Huggahs]
		20 Chillams [chilams]
		5 Coffee Cups
		2 Rose Water bottles
		1 Bowle plate & Cover
		2 Flower potts
		35

¹ Sāsī is a striped, coarse cloth. (Flatts, 592) Chākāla is a cloth (Id. 436) Chārahānah is cloth or muslin with choquers or squares (Id. 417).

radik and cotton

DELHI, SEPTEMBER, 1715.

CSL

Patna Cases ... 2
 Lacqu^d With 10 Cupps and Covers
 Broad Cloth ... white ... 7 Guz.
 Liquor ... 1 Case off Brandy
 1 Carboy¹ off Pers. drams
 Persia Looking Glasse^s ... 2

ETMAUD CAUN [Timād Khan]—

Broad Cloth ...	Ord ^y Red & Green ...	P ^a 6
	Aurora ...	2
	Fine Redds ...	2
	Imbost ...	1
		11

Perpetuances ...	Fine ...	2
	Ordinary ...	1
		3

Callimances Imb ^d . & flow ^d .	...	...
Velvett ... red & Green	...	1 ⁶ Guz.
Brocade	...	5 do.

Bengall Goods ...	Soosya ...	10
	Cossay ...	10
	Charcoanas ...	10
	Hummums ² ...	10
		40 p ^a .

Carolets--Hair ...	...	10 Guz.
Fire Armes ...	Fuzees ...	2
	Pistolls--Horse ...	2
	do. Pockett ...	2
	Blunderbuss ...	1
		7

Swordsl & Sword Blades	...	2
Cutlary Ware ...	Knives ...	7
	Penknives ...	7
	Scissnts ...	4
	A twizer Case ...	1
		19

¹ Carboy, a large glass bottle (Yule and Burnell, p. 125).

² 'Hummum' stand perhaps for hamam & lungi bath towel, or waist cloth.

DELHI, SEPTEMBER, 1915.

CSL

Rarities	Pencils	...	5
	Triang. Glasses...	...	5
	Mult: do.	...	5
	Spying Glass	...	1
	Telescopes	...	1
			12

Toys	Wax Images	...	2
	Persia looking Glass	...	1
			3

Flint Ware	Hookers [huggahs]	...	5
	Chillum[s] [chilams]	...	10
	Coffee Cupps	...	10
	Pallanku. Furn.	...	1
	Bowls, Plates, and Covers	...	3
	Rose Water bottles	...	2
	Flower Potts	...	2
	Onoa & Chil. [astabah and chilamchi]	...	1
			34

Patna Case	...	1
Leather Carpett	...	1
Japann Ware	...	10 Cupps & Covers
Tea	...	5 Sr.

ETBAE CAUN—[Itibār Khān]—

Broad Cloth	Ord ^s . Green	...	...	3 p ^s .
	Aurora	...	...	2 · 10 Guz
	Fine	...	...	1 · 10
	Imbost	...	...	10
Perpettuannoos	Fine	...	...	15 Guz
	Ord :	...	...	10 d ^s .
				25 Guz

Callimancoes	Imbost	...	...	10 Guz
	Flower'd	...	...	15 d ^s .
				25 Guz

DELHI, SEPTEMBER, 1715.

CSL

Looking Glasses small 3

Sword Blades	...	...	2
Fire Armes	...	1	Fuzee [fusil]
		1	Pistoll

Flint Ware	...	...	4	Hookers [Haggaks]
			4	Chillums [chilums]
			2	Pigdannys [pikdānis]
			2	Cutlasses

12

Parna Case for to putt offer [pār] in	...	1
Rarities—Spying Glasses—Great & small	...	4
Mult: and Mag: Glasses	...	3
Triangle Glasses	...	3
			10

Jappan Cupps and Covers	...	...	10
Cutlary Ware	...	Knives	4
		Penknives	4
		Scissars	4
			12

Velvetts	...	Green & Blue	...	3	Guz.
Persia Silk	...	...	...	1	p ^s .
Camoletts	...	worsted	...	10	Guz.
Bengall Goods—	...	Scosies [sōsi]	5	p ^s .
		Cossacs	5	do.
					10

JEWEL CAUN [Jawāhir Khān]¹.

Broad Cloth Ordinary—	Green	...	...	3 p ^s .
	Aurora	...	...	1
	Imbost	...	...	1
	Fine Searlett	...	...	1
				6 p ^s .

¹ Jawāhir Khān, was darogah of the Jawāhir-khānah, or jewel House. He died on the 7th Shawwal 1181 H. i.e. 22 August, 1719 N. S.

DELHI, SEPTEMBER, 1715.

SL

Perpetuandoes	...	Fine	...	15	Guz.	}	Guz.
		Ord ^r	...	10	d ^o .
				20
Callimancoes	...	Imbost	...	10	Guz.	}
		Flower'd	...	15	d ^o .
				25
Fire Armes	...	2	Horse Pistolls
		1	Fuzee [fuzee]
		1	Blunderbuss
		—
		4
		—
Swords and Sword blades	...	2
Rarities	...	2	Mult. Glasses
		4	Triang. d ^o .
		1	Tellescope
		10	Spectacles
		—
		17
Flint Ware	...	5	Hookers [Huggahs]
		6	Chillams [chilam]
		2	Pigdanugs [Pikdan]
		1	Bowle Plate Etc ²
		2	Oullases [kalas , a jar or pitcher]
		3	Coffee Cupps
		—
		21
		—
Jappan Cupps and Covers	...	...	10
Patne Case	...	...	1
Cutlary Ware—		Knives	...	4
		Penknives	...	4
		Scissars	...	4
		—		12

Considering that our five best Clocks want some covering to hitt the Humour off this Country, Agreed that Mr. E. Stephenson deliver out Persia Zeerbatts [zarbatts]² for this use, which in our opinion cannot be disposed of to greater advantage."

² Zarbatt, brocade, gold tissue, cloth of gold (Platts, 615).

DELHI, SEPTEMBER, 1715.

CSL

70. DIARY.

"Presented the King with some Wax Images. Caundora [Khān Daurān] refuses our present Affirming to take nothing from any body."

September 21st.

"The rains returned immoderately with Storms which very much Stops Publick Durbars."

September 25th.

71. CONSULTATION.

"Mr. William Hamilton having bro^d in an Account Amount^s to 486. 12.- the bulk off which is for Medicines bo^d. for the Use of the King and Tucsarub Caun [Taqarrub Khān]: Agreed, that itt be paid, & inserted in Hugh Baker's Acco^t."

Dilly 25th Sept.

72. DIARY.

"Presented Mons^r. Martins Children 11 ps. off different Cloth by Messrs Surman & Stephenson."

September 27th.

"Tucsurub Caun [Taqarrub Khān] having gratfyd our Doctor has left him off, and taken to others, butt his distemper is off such a nature, as to be judged incurable."

September 30th.

"Cojah Seerbaud [Khawajah Sarhad] and the Doctor sent for by the Kings Mother, where his Majestys Indisposition was debated. Caundora [Khān Daurān] tho' our Present was carried on his gate, ordered itt to be Bro^d again to our house"²

¹ Have come list of presents to the Chief Mutasadi and three eunuchs belonging to the vialer; to "Raja Rittunchund [Ratin Chand], Cojah Monsure Caun [Khojah Mansūr Khān], Coj. Dowadar Caun [Khojah Du'adar Khān], Coj. Fuzzent Pezer Caun [Khojah Faqhat Khān]." Also presents to "Dowst-Ali-Caun [Dost 'Ali Khān] Drugs [dāwghān] of Saun-Saun-Doulas [Samsam-d-daulah's] Top-Canna [tophānāh, artillery], to Synd Omer [Sayyad 'Umr] and to the Under-Mutasady [mutasaddis]."

Rajah Ratin Chand, chief official of the vacar, was an Agarwāl Banīwā (Rajah kī baridari, sub-caste) and a native of Jansath (Mungassarnagar district). He was executed by Muhammad Shāh on the 12th November, 1720 N. S. Khojahs Mansūr Khān, Du'adar Khān, and Faqhat Khān must have been eunuchs, as the word Khojah denotes. Sam sāun-d-daulah is another title of Khān Daurān (Khawajh 'Asim), the second Baghahi.

² Orme observes, "But it should seem by the record that he afterwards did receive the present."

DELHI, OCTOBER, 1715.

CSL

73. LETTER VI.¹

"To the Hon^{ble} Rob^t Hedges Esq.

Presid^t & Gov^r of Fort William Etc. Council in Bengal.

Hon^{ble} S^r Etc^a

Our last to your Hon^r. Etc^a. was August the 31st. Since which we have not receiv'd any Letters from your Hon^r. Etc^a. We then advis'd that we had prepar'd our General Petition we design'd to have presented it the first good Opportunity, but his Majesty's indisposition continuing and Mr. Hamilton having him under care it has been thought advisable by our friends as well as our Selves to deferr delivering it till such time as it Shall please God that his Majesty in some measure return to his former State of health which advice we intend to follow considering that whilst he is in so much pain it can be but a very indifferent opportunity to beg favours. ^{Old Case} The first distemper the Doctor took him in hand for was swellings² in his Groin which ^{than} ~~than~~ ^{he} ~~he~~ ^{to} ~~to~~ God he is in a fair way of curing, ^{but} ~~but~~ within these few days last past he has been taken with a Violent pain in his posteriors which is likely to come to Fistula, it hinders his Majestie from coming out, so naturally puts a Stop to all manner of business wherefore must have patience perforce.

Your Hon^r. Etc^a. will have heard of the Death of Dowd Cawn³ in Dacan Slain in a battle with Omeeral Omrah [Amīr-ul-umrah] this has given a great deal of uneasiness to this Court it being quite otherwise laid by the King and his favourites and that which was design'd for Omeerall Omrah's [Amīr-ul-umrah's] Ruin has proved a great addition to his former Glorys. The King at first seem'd to resent it to his Brother who not taking it so patiently as he expected, he has alter'd his Resolution to Sending Hossenally Cawn [Husain 'Alī Khān' i.e. the Amīr-ul-umrah] a Scerpaw [sar-o-pā] Etc^a marks of favour; We have advis'd in our Letters to the Gov^r & Council of Madrass to have particular Regard to the Froidship of that Great Omrah otherwise whatever we shall be able to do here for that Court will be of little service unless back'd with his favour.

We have drawn bills of Exchange payable to Mr. James Williamson for Rup^{as} Sicaa five thousand five hundred, being for the Value Received here; We desire your Hon^r. Etc^a. will give due payment. Gololehnd Saw's [Gulālehnd Sāha's] Gomastah [gamāstah] here has made a heavy Complaint that Your Hon^r. Etc^a have accepted the bills but not paid them desiring we would write very pressingly to Your Hon^{rs}. Etc^a. that they may be paid out of hand.

Inclos'd comes Account Cash Warehouse Account Charges General, and Copye of Consultations for the month of August. We are Hon^{ble} S^r & S^{rs}.

Your Most Obed^t. humble Servants

JOHN SUEMAN

EDWD. STEPHENSON."

Delhy Octob^r 3rd 1715.

¹ This letter was read at the same consultation as Letter V, and is to be found in the same volume.

² Deud Khān was killed on the 8th Shabān 1127, which is the 8th September 1715 N.S. and the 26th August O.S. The news reached Delhi on the 8th October N.S. or the 27th September O.S.

DELHI, OCTOBER, 1715.

CSL

74. DIARY.

October 7th.

"The Kings Mother sent Cojah Seerhaud [Khwajah Sarhad] and our Doctor Viethalls."

October 12th.

"The price off wheat altered from 12 to 6 Seer p^r Rupee."

"The King visited in the Duan Coss [adwan khās]. Mons^r Martin has sided with the Kings Doctor against M^r Hamilton."

October 19th.

75. CONSULTATION.

Dilly
October 2nd

"Receiving information that the Vizier drinks, We have thought it convenient to make him a present off the following Liquors.

Syrash [Shirāz] 3 Chests

Brandy 2 Cases

Canary 4 dozen

Persia Drams 1 Carboy

Fine D^o 1 Dozen "

76. DIARY.

"The King in a fair way off recovery. He was pleased to tell Cojah Seerhaud [Khwajah Sarhad] that he would distinguish him and all of us after a very Eminent Manner."

77. CONSULTATION.

"Our General Petition, after Examination and amendment, being returned us by Taceurub Caun [Taqarrub Khān]; we have Compared itt with the former draught, and find the Sence the same, tho much shorter: which

Dilly
October 28th.

is owing to the comprehensiveness off the Persian Language. His reason for this alteration is, that prolixity being tedious to his Imperial Majesty, he had render'd itt more compact and fitt for our Service. The Greatest Amendment we can discern, is Changing the Name off Calcutta From Farruckbunder [Farrukh-bandar], to Farruckabad [Farrukhshād]: That the mention off Port might nott cause his Majesty to send officers thither, or raise a tax on it: And indeed we are now sensible itt is better Laid Aside. Itt is the Generall advice off our Friends, to defer the delivery off our petition till his Majesty is perfectly recovered; when particular marks off his favour are to be

DELHI, NOVEMBER, 1715.

55
SL

Expected: Wherefore Agreed, that itt be deferr'd till the King Washes.²¹

78. DIARY.

“Our Doctor coming from the Fort att night, his head was Outt with A Pebble: off which the King being inform-November 7th. ed; he ordered Search to be made for the Offender; and gave the Doctor people for his future protection.”

79. LETTER VII².

“To the Hon^{ble} Edward Harrison Esq.
President and Governour of Fort
St. George Etc^a Council.

Honourable Sir and Sirs,

The Kings indisposition has much impeded the forwarding of our Negotiation; So that want of matter has occasioned our Long Silence: We hope his Majesty is at present in a fair way of Recovery, which if it pleases God to grant, it must of necessity Redound to the Honour and Credit of our Nation, he having been under the Sole care of our Surgeon who has administred much to his Majesties Satisfaction.

Without doubt the whole Decan Country has Rung with the Engagement and Victory of Omeerall Omrah [Amir-ul-umārā] over Dowd Cawn [Dāūd Khān], the glory that has accru'd to that great man on this Account has been a particular mortification to this Court; but however we find he is little disturb'd at it, being as it were too unweildy to be check'd, by any Court Favourite, or even the King himself. Being pretty well assured of this before, was the Reason of advising your Honour Etc^a in our formers to keep a good Correspondance with him: But that your Honour Etc^a might have some grounds to go upon we thought we Could not doe better then gain a Recommendatory Letter to his Brother the Vizier in favour of the Chormandell Factorys, the Letter with it's copy for perusall comes inclos'd. We hope this Letter will have the design'd Effect, it being wrote very candidly as we esteem it in our behalf.

The cure of his Majesty's indisposition will we hope be effected in a few days when we shall go on with our business, and we hope with Success, in the mean time.

We are,

Honourable Sir and Sirs

Your most Obedient humble Servants

COJAH SEERHAUD [Khawājah Sarhad] assent^e. JOHN SUERMAN

HUGH BARKER, Secy

EDWARD STEPHENSON.”

Delhy, Nov^r the 12th 1715.

¹ This refers to the ghusul-i-shifā, the first bathing after sickness.

² This letter was read at the same consultation as Letters V and VI and is to be found in the same volume.

DELHI, NOVEMBER, 1715.

CSL

80. CONSULTATION.

“His Imperial Majesty being perfectly recovered, we have received Orders from Caundora [Khān Daurān], to deliver in the remainder off our present; promising that afterwards he will forward our petition.¹”

November 15th.

81. DIARY.

“Caundora [Khān Daurān] has promised when the King rewards his phisicians, that Mons. Martin shall not be made Equall with Mr. Hamilton, A thing as itt is meer justice, so itt is a Signall honour to our Nation.”

November 17th.

“All plaisters being taken away the King Washed himself.”

November 20th.

“Presented the King on the way with the Concave Glass and two Soones, This being the Red Ounarbaun [‘Idu-l-qurbān] or Abrahams Sacrifice.²”

November 27th.

“This day Doctor Hamilton, as a reward for his Services, received from the King, An Elephant, Horse, Seerpaw, Gulgee [sar-o-pā, kalgi] richly sett with Jewells, and two Large Diamond Rings, with 5000 rupees in ready Cash. His Majesty farther ordered Buttons for a whole Suit off Cloths, to be made off Gold, and Sett with Diamonds and Babys; As also the handles off all his small instruments off Solid Gold. Cojah Seerhaud [Khwājah Sarhad] having been very Assistant during the Kings illness as interpreter, Received A Seerpaw [sar-o-pā], and Elephant.”

November 30th.

“Great preparation made for the Kings Marriage with the Bany [rān, the Princess of Jodhpur] that Arrived sometime Agoe.³”

December 1st.

82. CONSULTATION.

“Agreed that Mr. Edward Stephenson prepare the 13 Cases cornished with Gold, and 20 plain, filled with the fine Oile mentioned in a former Consultation, and an addition off the Nergissa Otter, [‘it] & Hungary water; to be presented on his Majestys next publick rejoicing.”

Dilly.
December 7th.

¹ Here comes a other list of presents.

² This feast fell on the 10th Zu-l-hijjah, i.e., the 6th or 7th December N. S. or the 28th or 27th November O. S.

³ According to Kāzwar Khān this was on the 14th Zu-l-hijjah which is the 10th or 11th December N. S. and the 20th or 30th November O. S. The lady arrived in Dehli on the 23rd September, 1715, N. S.

DELHI, 11, DECEMBER, 1715.

83. LETTER VIII.¹

To the Honourable Robert Hedges Esq;
President and Governor of Fort William.
Etc. Council in Bengal.

HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRS

We wrote your Honour Etc. the 8th to the 10th and 16th Ultimo, the latter part of which carried the welcome news of the Kings recovery, a clear demonstration to the world he washed himself the 23rd and accordingly received the Congratulations of the whole Court: As a Reward for Mr. Hamiltons care and success the King was pleased the 30th to give him in Publick, Vizt a Outfit [kalga, aigrette] set with precious Stones, two Diamond Rings, an Elephant, Horse and five thousand Rupees, besides ordering at the same time all his small instruments to be made in Gold, with Gold Buttons for Coat, Waist Coat and Breeches sett with Jewels: The same day Cojee Seerhaud [Khvajah Sarhad] received an Elephant and Vest as a reward for his attendance on this occasion Mons^r Martin was to have received a reward the same day with Mr. Hamilton but considering it was not for the Credit of our Nation to have any joynt with him especially since he had no hand in the business. We by the means of Cawndora [Khān Daurān] got his reward to be deferred till three days afterward when he had a Vest, Elephant and a thousand rupees, a favour purely owing to his Majesties generosity, and because he was his Servant.

We have esteemed this as a particular happiness, and hope it will prove Ominous to the Success of our affairs, it being the only thing that detained us hitherto from delivering our General Petition, so pursuant to orders We received from Cawndora [Khān Daurān] the Kings Recovery was Succeeded by the giving in the remainder of our Present (reserving a small part only till the Ceremony of his marriage should be over) and then delivered our Petition to Cawndora [Khān Daurān] by his means to be introduced to his Majesty. Syud Salibut Cawn [Sayyad Salābat Khān], who has all along managed our affairs, under Cawndora [Khān Daurān], being at that instant and sometime before much indisposed we were obliged to carry it our Selves withall taking care to have his recommendation Annexed: Since the delivery Cojee Seerhaud [Khvajah Sarhad] has been frequently with Cawndora [Khān Daurān] to remind him of introducing it to his Majesty, but has always been informed no business can go forward till the Solemnization of the Kings wedding is over when he has promised a speedy dispatch. All Offices have been shut up for some days and all business in the Kingdom must naturally subside to this approaching ceremony, so that We cannot Repine at the delay.

Mr. John Surman having paid into the Companys Cash the sum of two thousand Siccaes, We have given him a bill on your Honour Etc. for said Sum which We hope will be duly honoured.

¹ This letter was read at a Consultation at Fort St. George on Monday, the 12th March, 1716, and is to be found under this date in the Madras Diary and Consultation Book for 1715 to 1719, No. 37, Range 239, in the India Office.

DELHI, DECEMBER 1. 15.

CSL

enclosed comes Account Cash, Warehouse Account, Charges General and of Consultations for the month October, which we wish safe to your hands. Copy We advised your Honour Etc. in our last concerning the Merchants Goods the difficulty we had to dispose of them, not knowing what hurry We may be and We agreed to sell by all opportunities that offer, and not any Longer wait in greater Market: In pursuance to which Resolution, We having lately had an offer for the amount of ten thousand pieces at thirty and thirty-five pr Cent a profit. We have contracted for a further Account till the next. We give your Honour Etc. a further Account till the next. The Rajputs [Rajputs] are likely to receive a great Honour by this Wedding, the King having consented to all their desires in Respect to the ceremonials and this evening go's on his Throne attended by his whole nobility on foot, to receive his spouse; All the Fort and Street through which he passes, will be made resplended with innumerable Lights, and in fine, all will appear as Glorious as the Riches of Indosian and two months indefatigable Labour can provide.

We are

Honourable Sir and Sirs,

Your Most Obedient Humble Servants

COJER SEEBHAUD [Khwajah Sarhad] assent

JOHN SURMAN

HUGH BARKER, Secy.

EDWARD STEPHENSON."

Delhi, December 7th 1715.

84. DIARY.

"Yesterday the King was married to the Great Raja Adjetseins daughter. [Rājā Ajit Singh of Jodhpur]."³
 December 8th.
 December 12th. "The First day of the Kings rejoicing."
 December 13th. "The Second Do"
 December 14th. "The third Do"
 December 15th. "The Fourth Do: when all was Concluded.
 Mrs. Woodvill Dyed, and her body sent to Agra."⁴

¹ Khush Jai Chand, in the Naderu-z-Zamani, tells us that the ceremonies observed were a mixture of Musulman and Hindu usages. The guests were offered a drink made of rose water, sugar, and opium, which the Rajputs pressed on the Musulmans, but which some refused to take.

² The 'throne' was the takht-i-raushan, literally 'moving throne,' a kind of sedan chair.

³ This is misleading. The Emperor's maternal uncle had been sent to fetch the bride on the 16th May. On the 25th Ramazān which was the 23rd or 24th September, 1715, N. S., and the 12th or 13th September O. S. she was admitted to the faith of Islam. Four days afterwards she was married to Farrakhsiyar by Shariyat Khān Qāzi, that is on the 27th or 28th September N. S. and the 16th or 17th September O. S. The Persian writers, however, Kamwar Khān and Mirza Muhammad, confirm the statement that great festivities took place at the bringing home of the bride, which they date the 21st Zū-l-hijjah which is the 17th or 18th December N. S. and the 6th or 7th December O. S. The Sikh Guru Banda was captured on the same day.

⁴ Orme notes, "There was an English woman named Mrs. Woodville who had travelled from Surat to Delhi to complain to the Great Mogul of her husband. The embassy found her almost naked and clothed her. She died some time at Delhi."

DELHI, DECEMBER, 1715.

CSL

December 20th. Caundora [Khan Daurān] having presented our General Petition to his Majesty, Itt was returned him, the King said, the books should be Examined; After which, itt might be bro^d Again, with an Account from thence Annexed to Each Article."

December 28th. "This day Mr. Hamilton received a Seerpaw [sar-o-pā], Horse, and 1000 rupees from the Kings Mother, Cojah Seer-haud [Khawājah Sarhad] and Monsieur Martin received each a Seerpaw [sar-o-pā] and 500 rupees."

85. CONSULTATION.

December 30th. "Agreed that Broad Cloth, to the Amount off 2000 Rs., be given to the Mutsuddys [mutasaddis] off the Consommancee [Khānsāmān, or Lord Steward], in Case they goe on to prize the Present as we desire; and not otherwise."

86. DIARY.

December 31st. "A Copy off Sir William Norris's Proceedings, As also an Account off the late Dutch Embassy taken from the Kings books."

January 8th 1716. "The King visited by Mr. Surman &c. Two Nights Agoe Meer Jemlah [Mir Jumlah] arrived In a Dooly having run Away from his Mutinous Army.¹"

87. LETTER IX.²

"To the Honourable Robert Hedges Esq
President and Governor of Fort William Etc^a Council.

HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRS

Our last to your Honour Etc^a was dated the 23rd December advising of a Bill of Exchange drawn by us on Your Honour Etc^a for five thousand Rupees Sicea payable to Mr. James Williamson or order, which Bill we hope will meet with due Honour.

As to the course of our Negotiations, We can give but a very Slender Account of their progress, for ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~our~~ ^{our} ~~affairs~~ ^{affairs} are falling into the Patronage of one of the most able men in this Court to dispatch them if He pleases, yet his dilatory ¹ This is confirmed by Mirza Muhammad who gives as the date the 22nd Muharram, which is the 17th or 18th January N. S. and the 6th or 7th O. S.

² This letter was read at a Consultation at Fort St. George on Thursday 29th March, 1716, and is to be found under that date in the Madras Public Diary and Consultations for 1715 to 1719, No. 87, Range 239 in the India Office.

DELHI, JANUARY, 1716.

CSL

method of proceeding is such as must make us pursue our designs with patience, for the present our Petition is returned after having passed the examination of the books, the next that follows will be the Kings signing after which We shall take care to give your Honour Etc^a a particular Account of it.

We have lately been surprized with the Kings designs of departing from this place, but God be thanked, it's delayed for some days at least, We shall make the best use we can of this delay, if possible to effect our business before his departure, but which we cannot rely on.

Two nights ago Meer Jumlah [Mir Jamlah] arrived in this place attended by Bahadur Dill Cawn [Bahādur Dil Khān], Amonut Cawn [Amānat Khān], Khom Cawn Etc^a in all about eight or ten Horsemen much to the Surprize of this city, for 'tis but at best supposed that he has made an Elopement from his own Camp for fear of his Soldiers who mutinied for pay, the particulars of all which we are not as yet acquainted with, nor what reception he is like to meet with from his majesty.

Edward Stephenson has paid into the Honourable Companys Cash at severall times the sum of Rupees eight thousand eight hundred and three, eight anna's being for the sale of part of the Merchants goods consign'd to us; not having a sufficient quantity of Bengall goods to mix with the Presents of the ministers &c^a Officers, we have taken of those belonging to the Merchants what were necessary, concluding that those goods would be of more service than the ready money, your Honour Etc^a will perceive how they have been disposed of by the particulars of every present, set down on this Consultation Book, the whole amount of which is Rupees two thousand five hundred twenty one, being fifty per Cent advance upon Invoice as per agreement at their delivery, the account of which comes inclosed by which your Honour Etc^a will perceive the ballance due to them is Rupees Current nine thousand One hundred and eight, three anna's. The Rupees which are now paid in per Bills of Exchange on your Honour Etc^a are Allum Gbirry [Ālamgiri] between which and these Current Rupees we have now charged three per Cent, so that your Honour Etc^a will deduct so much upon the payment.

Mr Edward Stephenson having paid into the Honourable Companys Cash the value of four thousand Rupees, we have given him a Bill of Exchange on your Honour Etc^a payable to Mr Thomas Falconer for Four thousand Rupees which we hope will be honoured with due payment.

Herewith comes Account Cash, Warehouse Account Copies of Consultations and charges General for the month of November.

We are

Hon^{ble} Sirs and Sirs

Your most Obedient humble Servants

JOHN SEERHAUD [Khawājah Sarhad], Assent^r

HUGH BAKER, Sec^y

Dilly January 8th

1716/16.

JOHN SURMAN

EDWARD STEPHENSON."

DELHI, JANUARY, 1716.

CSL
3

88. THE FIRST PETITION EXAMINED.

W15/6

JAN. 8TH ARTICLES IN Y^e PETITION

Dilly.

THE ACCOUNT FROM Y^e KING'S
BOOKS.

- 1st Article ... Nothing mentioned.
- 2nd do. ... The particulars off these towns are nott in y^e books, neither were they given from the King. They have a Parwana under Izzut Cauns [Izzat Khān's] seal for them pursuant to Azzimath Sha's [Azimu-sh-Shān's] Nishaun [nishān]: By which itt appears 8 Towns Calcutta &c. In y^e purgunna of Ameerabad, and Subaship of Bengall have been bought from Munoredutti [Manohar Datta], & other Jemidars [zamindārs] and a Bill off Sale obtained, when y^e Duan [diwān] off Bengall gave them possession. As for y^e Other towns we have nott their names by which to render An Account. The Duan [diwān] may be wrote to, That An Account be sent to Court.
- 3rd do. ... They have had no ground given them, Nor is itt Customary to permitt them to build houses off Brick. Itt is Customary to hire houses att y^e Good will off y^e Droga [dārogah]. Now they desire ground. What the King pleases?
- Our Duanny [diwān] books have no Account off Houses, The Consommanny [kānsāmānī] have y^e particulars.
- 4th do. ... By his Majestys particular favour Every body is Excused.
- 5th do. ... Itt is Customary that when goods are lost, and found Again; That y^e Phowsdar [phowdār] Examine, & look out for y^e Owner: After which that he return said Goods, taking a receipt under y^e Cozzys [gāzī's] Seal.
- 6th do. ... Nothing mentioned.

DELHI, JANUARY, 1716.

CSL

- 7th Article ... Itt is Customary That y^e Kings Own Money be first Coined, and then that off those Merchants whoever gives in their Silver, itt is not usual to regulate y^e Days from Court.
- 8th do. ... Itt is Customary, for y^e Custom-house Officers to inspect y^e Goods; and att y^e lading, give notes under their Seals; that att y^e landing of Said Goods the Mutsuddys [mutsuddars] resident may by such Cocketts cleare them; Without all which, itt will be a Considerable loss.
- 9th do. The Suratt Rupees &c^a are fine for which there is no batta deducted. Those Att Madrass are harder for which reason they are refused In the Treasury.
- 10th do. Itt is Customary, when A ship is wrack'd, & y^e Owner proved before y^e Phowadar [phowadar], that itt be returned: An Account being taken under y^e Cozzys [qazis] Seal.
- 11th do. ... Itt is Customary According to y^e Suratt records; Upon Enquiry, to return Any Debtor, or Servant to y^e Cheif off y^e Factory, In Case off Elopement.
- 12th do. ... Nothing mentioned.
- 13th do. ... Nothing Mentioned.
- 14th do. ... Nothing Mentioned.
- 15th do. ... Nothing Mentioned.
- 16th do. ... Nothing Mentioned.
- 17th do. ... In y^e reign off Sha-Jehaun [Shah Jahān (1627-1658)] & Aurangzebe [Aurangzeb (1658-1707)] The English In y^e Subaship off Amadabad [Ahmadābād Gujarāt] paid 3½ p^r Cent Custom. They now desire, in lieu off that, to pay 3000 rs. As In Hugly,—To receive this Peesonash [peshkash] (as In Bengall) instead off Custom will be a Great loss. Att Amadabad [Ahmadābād], Cambay, & Suratt they pay 3½ p^r Cent.

DELHI, JANUARY, 1716.

83

18th Article

... The Shiratt books Contain, that Since their Arrivall In y^e City they have lived In hired houses; which has been Accustomed to this day, & for which they pay rent As formerly. As for y^e 400 Beagues [bigahs] off Ground which they att present desire. The Govern^t off that place may be Ordered to Examine Into, & Advise Concerning itt.

19th do

... Nothing mentioned."

89. DIARY.

"Meer Jumla [Mir Jumlah] continues in the City but in private.

January 18th

The Persian Embassadour After he had received A Vest from the King off Persia; Came to Court, and deliver'd with his own hand A letter from his Master to the King off Indostan."

90. CONSULTATION.²

"We have lately had intimation, that Caundoras [Khān Daurān's]

Dilly,
January 21st 1716

Mutsuddys [mutasaddis] Expected further presents;

As Also that Syud Sallabut Caun [Sayyad Salābat Khān] was nott perfectly satisfied with y^e Padrees

Note, that was given before our Arrivall. We have thought itt our Safest way, on Account off these Secrett heartburnings, which hinder y^e Currency off our buisness, to come to An Enclarisment and which we have effected by y^e meanes off Kirperam [Kripā Rām], Syud Sallabut Cauns [Sayyad Salābat Khān's] Mutsuddy [mutasaddi].—Agreed that Padree Stephanus's Note be taken up; & that Another, Exclusive off what given formerly to Caundora [Khān Daurān], Syud Sallabut Caun [Sayyad Salābat Khān], Or their Mutsuddys [mutasaddis], be given for 144 p^s. Green Broad-Cloth (the supposed Amount here 17000 r^s.) and 10,000 r^s. In ready Cash. Agreed likewise, that the Note in A particular manner specify, That this is nott to be fulfill'd, till we have first Obtained Grants to all the nineteen Articles in our ¹ The Persian Ambassador's name appears to have been Mir Murlagā. He came from Sultan Husain Mirza, the last Safawi King, and his first reception was on the 10th Rajab 1126 H. (30th July 1714 N.S.). It was the first embassy to India, since the 10th year of Alamgir (1668-9). See also notices of this ambassador in the Calcutta Consultation Books for 1712-1713, Berly Annals, Vol. II, Pt. I, §§ 621, 622, 628, 629, 633, 712, 723, 725, 737.

² In the Consultation of the 21st January mention is made of "a Grey Turkey Horse being bot for 400 Rs, and House Rent for 3 Houses Rs 4 0-3 2."

DEHLI, JANUARY, 1713.

CSL

petition; and that no farther demands be made on us from Caundora [Khan Daurān's] people: Sallabut Caun [Sayyad Salābat Khān] himself being Obligated, to take Away all Obstructions, that may happen on that Account. Sallabut Caun [Salābat Khān] has Accepted this Offer. Butt att y^e Close off y^e Agreement Kinperam [Krinā Rām] lett us know, that he Expected something Apart, We beleive shall be obliged to some Addition for him; but as Yett that is nott Concerted."

91. CONSULTATION.

"The King having signed our General Petition, which is now returned, Agreed the particulars be hereunto Annexed. Agreed that those articles which are nott answered to our Satisfaction, be made into A new petition, with some Additionall Articles nott before presented."

Dilly.
Jan. 27th

92. THE FIRST PETITION ANSWERED.

ARTICLES IN THE PETITION	SIGNED BY HIS IMPERIALE MAJESTY
Art 1. Concerning the Phirmaund [farmān] for Bengall	Omitted
Art. 2. For the Calcutta Towns	The Towns that were formerly given to be confirmed And the Other Towns petitioned for, Iff the Ground is bought with the Owners consent Ordered that the Duan [Diwān] be wrote to, that they may have them.
Art. 3. For 40 Beagues [bigas] For the Patna House	Ordered According to Custom. Granted them to live in, and repair In Case they build no fortifications.
Art. 4. Concerning Phirmaush ¹	All forgiven.
Art. 5. Concerning Robbery ...	Ordered that particular Orders be given About itt.
Art. 6. Concerning the Duans [diwān 's] Damnd for Originall Sunnods [sannods .] &c ²	Ordered that the Copy off the Phirmaund [farmān] Suffice.
Art. 7. Concerning Muxodavad Mint. ³	Write to the Duan [Diwān], that in Case it is not Against the Kings Interest, to be granted.

¹ Farmāsh, that is a requisition for goods made by local officers to be sent to the Court.
² That is the mint at Maqūdābād or Murshidābād.

CSL

At a Consultation present
Mr In^d Surman Chief
C. Seerkadd & Mr E. Stephenson

Billy Samth 27th The King having signed our Generall petition, which is now returned, I grieve the particulars be hereunto annexed — I grieve that those articles which are not Answered to our satisfaction, be made into A new petition; with some Additionall Articles not before presented —

C. Seerkadd Agent^r
M Barker Sec^y

[Signature]
[Signature]

SURMAN DIARY.

Consultation of January 27. 1716.

DELHI, JANUARY, 1716.

CSL

ARTICLES IN THE PETITION

SIGNED BY HIS IMPERIAL MAJESTY

- Art. 8. Concerning the buying of Goods In Hugly. If nott Against the Kings intrest; Ordered to be granted.
- Art. 9. Madrass Mint ... Granted iff the rupees are off the same weight and fineness as Surat. To Commence from the 5th Year.¹
- Art. 10. Concerning Ships In distress. If Considering they have Factorys, and trade over the whole kingdom, and have by particular kingly favours, obtained Ethirmands [farrāns] Custom free: Ordered that they be Assisted on All such Occasions.
- Art. 11. Concerning the Companys Debtors &c^a. Granted.
- Art. 12. Concerning Madrass ... Granted According to former Custom.
- Art. 13. For Vizagapatane [Vizaga-patanam]. Left the Mutsuddys [mutasaddis] off that place be wrote to, That in Case it is not against the Kings Intrest and the welfare of the Inhabitants, that their petition be granted.
- Art. 14. For Divy Island ... Write to the Mutsuddys [mutasaddis] there to send an Account off itt.
- Art. 15. Concerning Madrass Towns. 5 The five Towns granted formerly to the English to be given Again.
- Art. 16. Concerning Cudsiore &c^a. Granted.
- Art. 17. Concerning The Surat Trade. That a yearly peescash [peshkash] be calculated, and paid, According to the Amount of the English Customs at Surat, In the 20th Year off Aurungzebes reign.²
- Art. 18. Concerning the Surat house Garden. Ordered That we have itt to Live in, and build on; butt without fortifications.
Omitted
- Art. 19. For privilege to Country Factors. Ordered that According to the English Cheifs Dustick, [dastak] those Factors be not molested.

¹ Farrukhiyar's fifth year began on 1 Rabi I, 1128 H., 23 February, 1715, N. S.

² Aurangzeb's twentieth year began the 8th November, 1676, and ended the 27th October, 1677, N. S. His eighteenth year began the 10th December, 1673, and ended on the 28th November, 1674, N. S.

DELHI, JANUARY, 1716.

CSL

93. DIARY.

"Beginning to Examine the Surat Customes from the 18th Year off Anrunglebe: we find that Year, they amounted to 28,000 Rs. But by Examining farther, & Bribing the Mutsuddys [mutasaddis]; We hope to bring their representation to the King so low as to Answer our purpose."

January, 29th

94. CONSULTATION.

"Having on Mature consideration, compleated a Second Petition, which is to be presented with all Speed: agreed, that itt be hereunto annexed.

January, 29th

Agreed that Mr. Stephenson prepare the Following present—

To Nozzem Caun¹—Poet Laureatt

	Broad cloth	Fine	... 10 Guz
	Fire Armes	Aurora	... 10 D ^o
	1 pistoll	Imbost	... 8 D ^o
	3 Sword Blades
	1 Hooker [huggah]
	1 Knife
	1 Penknife
	1 Pr. Scissars
Rarities	1 Multiplying Glass
	1 Triangular	d ^o
	1 Spy	d ^o

95. THE SECOND PETITION TO HIS IMPERIAL MAJESTY.

1715

JAN 29th

Dilly.

"1st. Article In y^e form^s.

petition 1—Genuine.

2^d d^o.

d^o. 2— Thus That we have Examined, & taken An Enlarged.

Account off the towns from y^e Conningoe [gānūngō]. The Method that was formerly used in buying towns is as follows. We first Obtained a Nishaun [nishān] from Azzimath Sha ['Azimu-sh-shān] in y^e 1st off Zileend [Zu-l-qa-dah]. & y^e 42^d. Year; Then we gott a bill off sale from y^e Jemidars [zamīndārs], In Jemaudill Owull [Jamādhul-awwal] 1110 Hegira.

¹ Is this meant for Na'im Khān? Mr. Irvine suggests that it may be a mistake for Ma'āni Khān which was the title of Muhammad Ahsan the Court Historiographer.

DELHI, JANUARY, 1716.

CSL

& After all a perwans from y^e Duan Saba [dawān of the sūbāh] In y^e 2^d. off Shabann [Sha'bān] & y^e 42^d. Year¹ At present we hope from y^e kings favour that A Phirmaund [farmān] be Granted, that According to former Custom we may Upon y^e phirmaund [farmān] Obtain a bill off Sale, & Afterwards A perwans from y^e Duan [dawān].

Particulars—Pergun-

ma—Ameerabad	...	840	1	6
Bacow	...	969	15	3
Paican	...	3863	5	6
Calcutta	...	2151	13	3
Mamoor	...	223	7	6
Nudda	...	172	13	3

Yearly Rent ... 8121 8 6

3rd Article In y^e former Petition The Mutsuddys [mutasaddis] off the Books 18th. Enlargement. have forgot to write that the house is For Suratt House. the Kings. That house has been given for our residence from the time off Jangcer [Jahāngir (1605–1627)], 637 rs. 8 a. being paid As Yearly rent into y^e Kings treasury: But being now very Old, & ruinated, Said rent goes Every year in reparations; which is nott sufficient: & for building, we cannot doe itt Unless the King give itt us. The King having now Signed that we may build According to y^e Custom of Indostan; We hope Likewise, to have itt given us that we may build, & repair itt Accordingly.

For A house & Garden. We Enjoy'd Godowns, & A Garden with Enlargement. out y^e City which When y^e City was walled round were both ruined. In y^e 21st Year² of Aurungzebe 22,000 rs. was Ordered to be paid, in lieu off itt, out off y^e Suratt Customs. We now hope we may have 400 Baagues [bigahs] without y^e City, where making A Garden & Godowns we may bless his Majesty.

¹ These dates work out as follows. The 1st Zūl-qa'dān, 42nd year of 'Alemgir (1109 H.), is the 23rd May 1698 N.S.; Jamādiu-l-awwal 1110 H. is the 5th Nov. to 4th Dec. 1698 N.S.; the 2nd of Shabān of the 42nd year (1110 H.) is the 3rd Feb. 1699 N.S.

² The 31st year of Aurangzēb began on the 11th July, 1697, and ended on the 30th June, 1698.

DELHI, JANUARY, 1716.

CSL

- Article In y^e Former 14. The delay that will attend any Answer from Enlarged. Divy y^e Mutsuddys [mutasuddis] will ruine us. We hope by y^e Kings favour that A Phirmaund [farmān] may be granted According to our petition; & that y^e Mutsuddy [mutasuddi], on y^e truth off our Assertion, & y^e benefit that will Accrew to y^e Country give y^e Company possession. In y^e Mussoons [i.e. monsoon], by reason off storms, Ships cannot Stay on y^e Cormandel Coast; Butt Goe to Pegu, Siam, Achine, &c^a If the Company Settle in Divy Island, we may make harbours; & y^e Ships nott depart thence With this prospect, The kings Country will be improved & y^e Customs off Metchlipatam [Machlipatanam] be advanced.
- 5th Article In y^e Former 13-- The delay that may Attend any Answers Enlarged. Vizaga. from thence will ruine us. What is y^e Rent off those towns we Entirely Agree to; not desiring that his majesty should be a looser. We hope we may obtain a Sunnod [sanad] from Court According to y^e Kings rent.
- 6th Article Entirely new ... In y^e Island off Bombay, which is in y^e Sea, Europe Siceas are Current. We hope from y^e kinga favour that Siceas may be stamped there According to y^e Custom off Madrass. If the Gold and Silver According to y^e Custom off Surat be good, We hope that all y^e Mutsuddys [mutasuddis] off the Kingdom may be ordered to take them.
- 7th Article Entirely new ... In Culcutta, Vizagapatam, other places, The Company have Settlements. It very Often happens, that Robbery and Murders are Committed & y^e Offenders Seized. Without an order from Court we are nott able to punish them; & Fruitlessly send them to y^e Phowsdar [faujdār], who keeps them inprison 2 or 3 Months without Punishment, & then releases them: By all which our Servants receive great damage. We hope there may be an order, that whatever theif is Seized, that we may punish him According to law. By which all people will live att Ease."

DELHI, FEBRUARY, 1716.

CSL

96. DYABZ.

January 30th.

"The Vizier Visited."

February 2nd.

"The King visited In the Duan Ooss [da'wan khās]"

97. LETTER X.

To the Worshipfull
Stephen Straitt Esq. Etc.
Councillor in Bombay.

WORSHIPFULL SIR AND SIRs

"Sometime ago we received yours dated November the 10th which we hitherto forbore answering in expectation to give some Account of our Negotiations.

Our first General Petition to his Imperial Majesty is returned and signed, as to what respects the trade of Surat is as follows.

To the Free trade of Surat ordered that in the 20th year of Aureng Zeb's reign, being at what time the English paid but two per Cent Custom the amount of Customs of the English trade in Surrat be examined pursuant to which a yearly pishcash [pishkash] is to be made, and a Phirmaund [farmān] given them that there be no farther molestation on that Account.

To the ground Petition for without Surrat, and the grant of the Kings house in it, the former part is left unanswered, and to the latter, the house is granted to live in, the Mutsuddys [mutasaddis] of Surrat being ordered to permit you to build thereon, but without any fortifications.

By the grant of having a pishcash [pishkash] in lieu of Customs, we have hopes of gaining as good as a free trade supposing that the trade might not then be so great as lately, and accordingly have been examining the books for those times the only year as yet taken out being the 18th of Aureng Zeb's reign to our surprize amounts to about twenty eight thousand Rupees some part of which we must attribute to the private trade, we shall endeavour by bribing the mutsuddys [mutasaddis] to abate the sum as much as possible before the Account reaches his Majesty, but being under apprehension that it will not be feasible to bring it down so low as five or eight thousand Rupees, which are the sums limited from the Honourable President and Council of Bengall we take the opportunity to advise you how affairs stand at Present whall to represent our opinions on this head.

That in case we can get a pishcash [pishkash] settled in lieu of Customs we may add to the sum of 12 or 15000 Rupees pr Annum which we believe will prove no little advantage to our Honourable Masters, and as this is extensive of all the English trade in general to Surat, so it is in the Honourable Companys breast to lay what duty's they shall think proper on all private trade, thereby contributing to pay the yearly pishcash [pishkash] abovementioned, we desire a speedy answer to the article and also that they will not be too strict in the order thereon, but in some measure leave it to us as we shall think convenient.

¹ This letter was read at a Consultation at Fort St. George, Thursday, the 19th April, 1716, and is to be found under this date in the Madras Diary and Consultation Book for 1715 to 1718, No 87, Range 230 in the India office.

DELHI, FEBRUARY, 1716.

CSL

We have given a second petition to the King concerning the house in Surat and the ground without it for a house and Garden, desiring that the first may be given to the English for ever and then permission to build upon it which we have hopes will be granted.

Pursuant to your late instructions concerning Bombay Rupees, we have likewise Petitioned for the Settlement of a Mint on that Island which we hope will be granted, but you may depend that all these Rupees must receive the King of Indostans impressions and be of like goodness with those of Surat which we believe will answer the desired ends.

This Court has been put into some disorders lately occasioned by the return of Meer Jumla [Mir Jumla] and his Army from Patna putting for the present a stop to our Negotiations. We hope in a few days to see all blown over when we shall pursue our business with what energy we are capable of.

We send this Letter by nimble Cossids [qāsids] to Surat in hopes to receive an answer in 30 or 40 days at farthest which we desire you'll contribute to by the quickness of your dispatches and fair promises to the returning Cossids [qāsids].

We are, Worshipfull Sir and Sirs

Your most humble Servants

JOHN SURMAN
SEERHAUD ISRAEL
EDWARD STEPHENSON."

Dilhey
Febry 8th
1716/16.

98. DIARY.

"Dyed Rey Gadsin the Deputy Duan Colsa [dwan of the khāṭibah-i-sharifah] with a debauch off Drinking."
February 28th

99. LETTERS XI.²

TO THE HONOURABLE
ROBERT HEDGES ESQ.
President & Governor of Fort William &c^a Council in Bengall.

HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRS

"We wrote your Honour &c. the 8th ult^o accompanying a bill of Exchange for four thousand Sic^s which we hope was duly honoured.

¹ Rai Gaj Singh was appointed peshkar (chief clerk) of the daruldar on the 28th Mubhar-ram, 1135 H. i.e. the 18th Februar. 1713, N.S.

² This letter was read at a consultation at Fort St. George on Friday, the 3rd May, 1716, and is to be found under the date in the Madras Diary and Consultation Book for 1716 to 1719, No 37, Range 239, in "India Office."

DELHI, FEBRUARY, 1716.

51
CSL

Not having received any Letters lately from your Honour &c. We have nothing more to advise than of the progress of our Negotiation in as concise terms as possible.

About a Week ago our General Petition was returned from his Majesty, the answers to which we shall transcribe as the petition runs.

- Article 1. By a mistake of the mutsuddys [mutasaddis] was omitted.
- " 2. Being for the Calcutta Towns. It was Ordered that the 3 formerly given to be confirmed, but for the others in case they be bought with the consent of the Owners the Duan [Diwan] is ordered to be wrote to that they may let us have them.
- " 3. Liberty is granted to build Factorys in all places where we desire, and for the Patna house, that was Petitioned for it is given us to live in and repair in case no additions are made neither Walls nor anything resembling fortifications.
- " 4. Concerning Thirmaush [thirmaush], Phonsdary [phonsdary] &c. It is granted as it is to his Majestys Subjects in General as well as all traders.
- " 5. In case of being robbed or plundered. Subscribed that particular Orders be given about it.
- " 6. It is Ordered that a Copy of the Phirmaund [phirmaund] be sufficient.
- " 7. Concerning the Mint Cassimbazar [Qasimbazar] to have 3 days in a week.
It is ordered that the Duan [duan] be first wrote to and that if it is not against the Kings interest to be granted.
- " 8. Concerning a Perwangee [perwangee] from the Government of Hugly—Ordered that it be granted if not against the Kings interest.
- " 9. Being for the passing Madras Rupees. It is Ordered that in case these rupees are altered and made of the same weight and fineness as those of Surat then to be received into the Treasury everywhere commencing from the 5th year of the Kings reign.
- " 10. Being in case Ships put by at Sea. It is fully answered that considering we have trade all over the whole Kingdom and that by particular Kingly favours We have Phirmaunds [phirmaunds] Custom free, that particular orders be given that We be assisted on all such occasions.
- " 11. In case of any elopement of the Companys Servants or debtors. It is granted.
- " 12. Concerning the trade of the Coast of Coromandell. Granted according to former Custom.
- " 13. Concerning Vizagapatam and the Towns near it. Ordered that the Mutsuddys [mutasaddis] of that place be wrote to that in case it is not contrary to the Kings interest and the welfare of the Inhabitants that their Petition be granted.

DELHI, FEBRUARY, 1716.

CSL

Article

14. Being for Divy Island is thus Subscribed. Write to the Mutsuddys [mutasaddis] there to send an Account of it.
15. Concerning the 5 Towns near Madras. Ordered that the same Towns which were formerly granted be given us again.
16. Fort St. David. The Petition granted.
17. Being for a free trade at Surat is thus Subscribed. Examine the custom for the 20th year of the reign of Aurenge Zeb paid in that City by the English pursuant to which.—Ordered that a pishash [peeshkash] be calculated and paid yearly having a Phirmand [farman] given them for it.
18. Being for Surat house and Garden. For the house it is Ordered to let us have it to live in and repair but prohibiting any Fortifications. An answer to the 400 Beegars [bigahs] of Ground for a Garden is omitted.
19. Concerning the liberty of Country Factors—Granted that according to the Dastak [dastak] of the English Chief those Factors be not disturbed.

Your Honour &c^{ts} will perceive by the notations above that we have not got the full answers we desired to our Petition but as it is a thing customary at this Court, We were not daunted at those articles which were as good as denied, but drew up another petition which that it might not be bulky We left out all but what was of absolute necessity hoping to get our meaning explained in orders from the Kings Mutsuddys [mutasaddis] when it arrives to them.

Our Second Petition contained the following Articles.

1. A Confirmation of our Phirmand [farman] for a free trade in Bengall, Beharr and Orixa which was by a mistake of the mutsuddys [mutasaddis] before omitted.

2. That the Surat House be given us, otherwise we could not pretend to build upon it, and for the ground desired for a garden to shew that we have had it by former custom. We have mentioned that there was one belonging to the English which being taken in by the Walling of the City of Surat has since that time been lost at which time the Chief of that Settlement petitioned Aurenge Zeb [Aurangzeb] that the Garden stood the Company in twenty two thousand rupees which Sun Aurenge Zeb [Aurangzeb] orderd to be allowed in the Customs.

3. We have petitioned for Divy Island showing that to wait for an answer from thence would add a longer time to our Negotiation then we expected from the favour of his Majesty that the letting us have that Island would be a particular advantage to his Majestys dominions considering there was no Port for the harbouring of Ships on the Coast of Chormandell but that in the Munsoon time they were obliged to leave his Majestys dominions for want of Shelter, Bengall excepted and winter on the Coasts of Arracan, Pegu and the Island of Zelone, however in case we were permitted to rent this Island of Divy we should make a Port able to harbour Shipping which would of a certainty be an addition to the trade of all those Countrys and consequently of the Kings Customs that we dare not presume to offer any thing to his Majesty but matter of Pa. let humbly begging the renting of that Island may be granted us according to the truth of our Petition.

DELHI, FEBRUARY, 1718.

CSL

4. We petition again for the Towns round Calcutta that at the granting of Calcutta &c 3 Towns it was first given in the Nishann and then bought from the Owners after which admission was given by the P. Jan of Bengall for the renting of them. That in case the Towns we ^{desired} were not first mentioned in the Phirmaund, no one would permit us to buy, nor would the Duan anywise assist us in it for which reasons we humbly petitioned that those towns might be granted in our Phirmaund that we would get the Consent of the Owners from the several Jemidars [zemidars] and afterwards take admission from the Duan [Dewan]. To this Article we added a list of the Purgumas. [paryumas]

5. For Vizernapatam Towns we have likewise desired they may be inserted but have not laid so great a stress upon them as the above Article for fear of giving to much jealousy, besides we had no particular Account of the rent of those Towns which they desired in lieu of the old ones.

The above articles are what we picked out from the former Petition not answering our purpose and to which we have added two new articles, Viz:

6. To have the liberty of a Mint in Bombay and that in case those rupees are of the same fineness weight and stamp with those of Surat that they may pass Current in the King's dominions.

The occasion of this Article was a Letter lately arrived from Bombay copy of which comes herewith.

7. We have petitioned for Redress to those barbarities Committed by Rogues round Calcutta pursuant to your Honour &c's orders.

This last Petition has been delivered in some days but as yet we have received no answer thereto. We have hopes all will be granted except Divy Island of which we have some mistrust. We have been examining the books concerning the Entries of Custom for the English at Surat. We find it is much increased by the additions of private trade for the 18th year of Aurunge Zeb's [Aurangzeb's] reign amounts to about twenty eight thousand Rupees. We are still examining other years to find the least which we shall diminish as much as we can by bribing the mutsuddies [mutsaddis] that we may by that means answer our end in a Pishcash [peshkash]. It will be a glorious thing for our Honourable Masters if it can be effected, but We cannot leave this article without offering something to your Honour &c that has accr'd to our knowledge. The reasons of the great abuses committed on the English at Surat has been chiefly occasioned by the many buyers and Sellers of Englishmen there, so that for these many years there has been a difference made in paying Custom from the Company and other English traders as at present the Company's Custom is 2½ p^r Cent whereas all other English traders pay 3½ p^r Cent, for which We humbly presume that should we get the Custom turned into a yearly Pishcash [peshkash] there would be an absolute necessity to lay aside any Supra Cargo's going to that Port with a full power to dispose of any goods, seeing this privilege will entirely devolve on the Company so that goods ought to go into their Warehouses and be disposed of by their Servants which will hinder any future impositions or differences, giving likewise an opportunity for the Company to lay any duty on those goods which may contribute to the Payment of the yearly Pishcash [peshkash] laid on that trade. We should not have so boldly offered our opinion on this head had not the Interest alone of our Honourable Masters obliged us to it and besides the unsufferable impositions that for several years past have been all on Englishmen in Surat which we hope will be a sufficient excuse farther we humbly desire your Honour &c. will please to acquaint us in your next whether we ought or no to write the same to all the Company's Settlements in India.

DELHI, FEBRUARY, 1716.

CSL

Your Honour &c. will observe the notice that is taken of the Madras Rupees as if they were of the same fineness with those of Surat. We agree, some measure our selves informed that they are not and that some Essays have been made of them in Calcutta so that in case the advantages are to be had from the privileges we have got there is an absolute necessity of refining that Mint. We are humbly of opinion that if those Rupees were something better [than] ordinary it would be of no great loss, wherefore we beg your Honour &c. will please to advise the Honble Governour &c. at Fort St. George on this head as we shall do by land as soon as we finish all the business of that Coast.

The Mutsuddys [mutasaddis] here would have perswaded us that the King had granted sufficient in Respect to the Towns round Calcutta but we being well acquainted with Jaffer Cawn's Friendship towards us made us insert it again in our second petition that we might have better grounds to go upon.

Our affairs being under the patronage of Candora [Khān Daurān] who is a very dillitory man, we cannot expect to have finished our negotiation so soon as we at first hoped for.

We have drawn a bill of Exchange on your Honour &c. for Six thousand Six hundred Siceas payable to Mr. John Pratt being for value paid into us here by John Surman which we hope will meet with due Honour.

Inclosed comes Account Cash, Warehouse Account, and Charges General with copy of Consultations for the month of December.

We are
Honourable Sir and Sirs

Your most Obedient humble Servants

JOHN SURMAN

EDWARD STEPHENSON.

Dilly 1715/16

Feb. 7th

COJAH SEERHAUD, [Khawājah Sarhad] assenting.

HUGH BAKER, Secy

100. CONSULTATION.

"We are informed, on Examination off the Suratt Customs, that the 20th Year of Aurungzebe amounts to 28,000 Rs which being more than we Expected, & being withall limited to 5000 Rs [when we are assured itt will require A much larger Sum] We judge itt highly necessary to write to Bombay,

February 7th
Dilly

That is Ja'far Khān, or Murshid Quli Khān, the Treasurer of Bengal. Ja'far Khān's friendship is obviously a euphemism for Ja'far Khān's enmity.

DELHI, FEBRUARY AND MARCH, 1716.

CSL

before the time pinches us, for farther instructions. Wherefore Agreed that the Case be plainly Stated, with this Addition, that we believe a Peshcash nett procurable under 12 or 15000 Rs Per Annum."

101. DIARY.

- February 8th. "The 1st day off the Kings rejoicing."¹ Great Quarrells between the Synds and February 10th. Tartars,² the former has an Army off 15000 Horsemen.
"The King ordered all the great Guns to be planted round the Fort." February 11th. "The Kings rejoicing continued when we visited."
February 12th. "Rejoicings."
February 13th. "Rejoicings finished."
February 14th. "The troubles here seem to grow to An Engagement."
February 17th. "The Rebell Gorow [Gura] Arrived from Lahore, making his Entry on An Elephant In an Iron Cage."³
"The King Appeared out: and In great Rage ordered Meer February 18th. Jemlah [Mir Jumlah] to be turned out off the City, his Munsub, Jagir, gear⁴ nansab, jagirs, and places being taken from him."
February 20th. "The extraordinary guards taken away from the Fort, and the troubles grow to a Conclusion." March 1st. "We petitioned Candora [Khān Daurān] that he would gett the King to dispatch us, Seeing any longer Stay would ruine us." March 8th. "We saluted to the King on the water, when we presented some Glass bowles."
March 8th. "Synd Sallabut Caun [Sayyad Salābut Khān] made a Supper for us."

¹ Being the anniversary of Farrukhshāyer's accession.

² "Tartars" means the Turāni Mughals who had been enlisted by Mir Jumlah and taken to Patna. They now demanded their arrears of pay.

³ According to Kāmwar Khān the triumphal entry of the Sikh prisoners took place on the 17th Rabi I 1123 which is the 10th or 11th March 1716 N. S. and the 27th or 28th February O. S. This conflicts with the entry here. Either the 17th February is a mistake for the 27th, or the 17th Rabi I is a mistake for the 7th. Amin Khān was sent to bring the Gura in procession from Agharabad to the Fakhri gate of the palace.

DELHI, MARCH, 1716.

CSL

102. LETTER XII.

To the Honourable ROBERT HEDDES Esq.
President and Governor of Fort William Etc.
Councill in Bengal

HONOURABLE SIR ETC.

"We wrote your Honour &c. the 7th. Ultimo since which we have received no Letters.

Your Honour &c. will doubtless have heard by flying reports the troubles that have possessed this place for the past month occasioned by the coming of Meir Jumlah [Mir Jumlah] and all his forces, as 'tis said, without the Kings order, all the Tartars [i.e. Turanis] mutiniously joynd to demand their pay which they gave out they would force either from the Vizier or Candora [Khān Daurān]. This was certainly the grounds of gathering forces on all sides the Vizier himself having not less than twenty thousand Horse all which continually filled the streets and attended him when he went to the King, Candora [Khān Daurān] and the rest of the Omrahs [umrah] with their forces, and all the Kings Topo Conna [Tāpānāh], kept guard round the Fort for about 20 days. The Vizier obstinately bent not to pay the Tartars any thing without very particular examinations and Accounts to be made up for the plundering the Town of Patna which conditions the Tartars did not think to comply with till such time as they found the Vizier was not to be bull'd when they seemed to be willing to come to a composition which was effected by breaking their party, and the Kings orders for Meir Jumlah [Mir Jumlah's] procedure to Lahore. The King ordered Quicklis Cawn &c. to go and see Meir Jumlah out of the City giving him of all his posts at Cawn as also of his Munsub Jaggeers [mansabs, jagirs] &c. with the glorious additional titles of Nozem Cawn Behander Cawn Cawn Conna Jaunney Seer Wala Shy Zaffer Jung^a which are ordered for the future never to be used it is the general observation of this City that this has only been a Scheme laid if possible to entrap the Vizier, and take away his life. But He has been so continually on his guard, that nothing could be effected, so once more all is calmed much to the Honour and the entire disgrace of all Tartars in general, they being almost all turned out of service a few great ones excepted. Meir Jumlah [Mir Jumlah] is now 20 Cos of this place in his way to Lahore, at present without any Munsub [mansab] or post, but 'tis Reported he will enjoy the former by the Kings favour; these troubles occasioned the shutting up all Ketchrys [katchahs] for this month so that no business could possibly go on, in which ours did the same fate with the rest, being just in the same state as a month ago.

^a This letter was read at a Consultation at Fort St. George on Tuesday the 5th June, 1716; and is to be found in the Madras Diary and Consultation Book for 1715 to 1719, No. 87, Range 239 in the India Office.

^b That is Chā Qilich Khān, also entitled Nizam-ul-Mulk. On the 10th Rabi '1, which was the 3rd or 4th March N. S. and the 21st or 22nd February O. S. he conducted Mir Jumlah as far as Nurelah, 16 miles north of Delhi. See Mirza Muhammad and Kanwar Khan.

^c These titles are Mu'azzam Khān Bahādur, Khān Khāzān Khān Jahān, Wala Shāh, Muzaffar Jung. "Wala Shāh" means personal adherent of the Emperor while still a prince.

DELHI, MARCH, 1788.

CSL

Cautions. [Khan Daurān] very frequently promises that He will make an end with all possible expedition, but He is such a strange dilatory man, and withall inaccessible, that We have occasion to summon the utmost of our patience there is no help for it, for with all this dilatoriness He is the only reigning man in the Kings Durbar, so that We hope He will at last consider and for his own Honour see us handsomely dispatched with a full grant to all our petitions.

The great Rebel Goroo [Gurū] who has been for these 20 years so troublesome in the Subaship [ṣubāṣ] of Lahore is at length taken with all his family and attendance by Abdell Sammed Cawn the Suba [ṣubāḥdār, i.e. governor] of that province, some days ago they entered the City laden with fetters, his whole attendance which were left alive being about Seven hundred and eighty all severally mounted on Camells which were sent out of the City for that purpose, besides about two thousand heads stuck upon poles, being those who died by the sword in battle He was carried into the presence of the King, and from thence to a close prison. He at present has His life prolonged with most of his mutsuddys [mutsuddis] in hopes to get an Account of his treasure in the several parts of his Kingdom and of those that assisted him, when afterwards He will be executed, for the rest there are 100 each day beheaded. It is not a little remarkable with what patience they undergo their fate, and to the last it has not been found that one apostatized from this new formed Religion.

Finding on examination of the Kings books as formerly advised that the Customs of Surat exceed the sums we expected, We were under some apprehension that in finishing this business, We should be obliged to advance a larger sum than We are at present empowered to, for which reason We have wrote to Surat a full Account of the matter desiring their permission that in case we should be obliged to advance upon the sum they formerly mentioned that We may not be stinted to less than twelve or fifteen thousand rupees to which We hope We shall have an answer before We have any occasion for it.

We have lately had Letters from Bombay which give an Account of the arrival of Charles Boone Esq^r Govern^r of that Island and Laurence Parker his second both from England We have received some news from Surat by way of Aleppo copy of which comes enclosed.

We have drawn bills of Exchange to the following persons, Viz^t 1600 Siccas payable to Mr. John Post being value received from John Surman.

8500 ditto payable to Mr. James Williamson value received of Mr. William Hamilton.

1600 ditto payable to Mr. Thomas Faulkon value received of Mr. Edward Stephenson.

550 ditto payable to Captain Harnet value received of John Aloft.

To all which We desire your Honour &c. will give due Honour.

¹ "Abdu-ḡamad Khan. His original name was Khwājah 'Abdu-r-raḥīm (Ṭarīkh-i-Muḥarrar mady). He died at Multan on the 10th Rabi' II, 1150, which is the 6th August 1737 N. S. aged nearly eighty. His biography is in the Ma'asir-i-Nawāz, II, 514.

DELHI, MARCH, 1716.

CSL

Enclosed comes Account Cash Warehouse Account Copys of Consultations and Charges General for the month of January

We are

Honourable Sir and Sirs

Your Most Obedient Humble Servants

Dilly,
March the 10th 1715-16
COJAH SEERHAUD assenting
HUGH BARKER, Secretary.

JOHN SURMAN
EDWARD STEPHENSON.

103. DIAHY.

March 12th. "The Viz^r visited by Mr. Surman &ca."
"Caundora [Khān Daurān] pretended to know nothing off our Second Petition Altho in his possession; till March 13th. Seerhaud [Sarhad] refreshed his memory."
March 15th. "Visited the King in the Duan Om [dūwān 'am]."
"Cojah Seerhaud [Khwājah Sarhad] and Kirperam [Kīrpā Rām] were with Rey Reyon.¹ They were told itt was yesterday Agreed with Caundora [Khān Daurān], March 16th. that Our phirds [fards] should be presented the King, and that they should be signed Cutboolmoolk [Qutbu-l-mulk].² Seerhaud replyd; That iff the 8 Months already pass'd had been off no farther benefitt in our buisness; The other 8 Months After the Vizier, would Entirely ruine us."³

March 18th. "The Kings tents gone out off the City."

104. CONSULTATION.

"We were inform'd; that Caundora [Khān Daurān] had been Dilly, advis'd by some off his Mutsuddys [mutaʿaddis], March 21st. that Granting our last Petition would be improper, itt being a buisness entirely depending on the Vizier and the Duanny [dīwān], wherefor itt was more fitt for him, and by which he himself would be cleared, to gett the Phirds [fards] signed Cutboolmoolk [Qutbu-l-mulk]. Th^t was nott so private, butt we had ¹ Rāc-i-Rāyān, the title of the Diwān-i-Khāṭirān.

² That is, endorsed over to Qutbu-l-Mulk, the vizier, as belonging to his department. "Signing Cootabalmoolk" is a literal translation of the Persian official phrase "dastkhāt Qutbu-l-mulk kardan" i.e., to endorse on the paper as an order. The word Qutbu-l-mulk, to indicate that the paper should be transferred to the vizier's office. This meaning of dastkhāt kardan, as Mr. Irvine tells me, is found repeatedly in the text-book of official forms and roles.

³ The reply to this is obvious. The embassy instead of approaching the government through the proper channel, the vizier, preferred to proceed irregularly through Khān Daurān. Hence the delay.

DELHI, MARCH, 1716.

CSL
39

warning iff possible to prevent itt; which we endeavoured by Consulting with Sallabut Caun [Salābat Khān], and desiring his Assistance with Caundora [Khān Daurān]. Yett in spight of all, the Phirds [fards] came out signed as we Suspected. The principle Actors in this buisness have try'd to perswade us; that this is the safest, & readyst way to gett our buisness Effectted; & that they will undertake to obtain more from the vizier, than can be Expected from the dilatoriness off Caundora [Khān Daurān]. Butt we consider this as a design to plunder us, when they shall have gott the buisness entirely into their own hands: which being premised, We resolve, when necessity obliges us to goo to the Viziers durbar, to manage the buisness by our own Intrest; & nott trust to those who have so palpably deceived us.

In this Juncture we beleive itt necessary for Cojah Seerhaud [Khawajah Sarhad] to proceed to the Camp, Endeavouring first to convince Sallabut Caun [Salābat Khān] how unreasonable itt is to throw us on the Vizier, withall insinuating, that rather than Carry the Phirds [fards] thus signed thither, we would risq the overthrow off the whole buisness. That After their having delivered our present, and managing our Affairs to this day; Itt would be dishonourable to accept itt. In fine, desiring him to write fully off this matter to Caundora [Khān Daurān], iff he could not find an opportunity to speak to him.

Should the Scheme abovementioned fail us, Then we are convinced off the Necessity off Applying to the Vizier and his people; and indeed, to finish our buisness by what methods shall then appear most practicable.

The King being moved to the Camp, we esteem itt proper to Attend him; nott knowing butt he intends towards Lahore, which iff true will require our presence for the managing our Affairs."

105. LETTER XIII.

"TO THE HONOURABLE ROBERT HEDGES Esq.

President and Governour of Fort William &c. Council in Bengall.

HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRS

We wrote your Honour &c. the 10th Inst. advising the needfull to that time.

We have frequently complained to your Honour &c. of the strange dilatoriness of our Patron Cawndora Behauder [Khān Daurān Bahādur]. He is never known to sit out in publick and Return answers to any manner of business, so that what can be said to him in the way from his apartment to his Pallanquin is all that can be got which is so very little for a man of great business that many ¹ This letter was read at a Consultation at Fort St. George on Friday the 15th June 1716 and is to be found under that date in the Madras Diary and Consultation Book for 1716 to 1719. No. 57 Range 239 in the India Office.

DELHI, MARCH, 1716.

CSL

days past before an opportunity can be had even for the least answer, and to his own servants Synd Sallabut Cawn [Sayyad Salabat Khān], who has the management of our affairs under him and is as intimate as any one with him can do as little that way as other people, wherefore the main part of all our business has been managed by notes, this has been a great occasion of the dilatoriness of our affairs all which we were obliged to bear with abundance of patience. Still having very fair promises that our business should be done to our satisfaction, my Cawndora [Khān Daurān] himself very often both by word of mouth and in several notes promised to do it. A few days ago when Seerhand [Sarhad] went to pay his Respects as usual to Cawndora [Khān Daurān] and put him in mind of our Petition. He was very surprizingly asked what Petition? have not I done all your business, to which Cojee Seerhand [Khwajah Sarhad] answered, but the time and place not allowing of a further explanation He got into his Pallankeen and went away. This strange forgettfulness made us in very pathetick terms inquire of Sallabut Cawn [Salabat Khān] what we might expect after so many promises of having our business effected to our satisfaction when we had so long and patiently waited and been at so great an expence to be thus answered was very surprizing, and What we did not nor could not expect in the least. We were answered that daily experience might convince us of the strange carriage and forgettfulness of that great man, still bidding us not to despond, but that every thing would go very well after so many fair promises as we before had Received, this gave us but small satisfaction and the rather made us the more inquisitive which gave us this farther light, Vizt that Cawndora [Khān Daurān] had been advised by his own Mutsuddies [mutasaddies], that it was not his business to perswade the King to sign our Petition contrary to what He had formerly desired, but that it was better to get signed upon it Ootbulmooluck [Qutb-ul-mulk] whose business it was, as Vizier to advise the King what things were proper to be granted us, We find this was chiefly levelled against our Petition for Divy Island and the ground round Calcutta now desired. We were in hopes that in case We could have got those Petitions granted us by the means of Cawndora [Khān Daurān] that afterwards the Vizier would not gain say or at least by a little bribery it might have passed, there has been severall endeavours made to get an opportunity to speak with Cawndora [Khān Daurān] so as to convince him but none has been procureable, We fear the Petition in this interim may be gone in and will come out signed as beforementioned.

Yesterday the King contrary to the advice of the Vizier and purely on his own will went out s hunting and all the Omrahs [umrah] to their Tents, the place at present mentioned is about 18 Cos off, but God knows what may be the design of it, or where he will march to, this obliges us to follow him to morrow or next day leaving Mr. Edward Stephenson and Philips behind to take care of the Honourable Companys effects nere, should the Petition come out signed as above mentioned We shall be obliged to make a new Address to the Vizier which will not only protract the Negotiation but must lay us open to a denial, and at the best very expensive. We shall advise your Honour &c as soon as We have any hopes of Success (which God send) or what We shall be obliged to reced from.

We have this day drawn two bills of Exchange on your Honour &c Vizt

For 5000 Sicces payable to Mr. James Williamson for Value received from John Surman.

DELHI, MARCH, 1716.

111
CSL

For 3600 Sicces payable to Mr. John Prad value received [from John Surman].

To which bills we desire your Honour &c will give due Honour.

Since writing the foregoing we are informed that our Firmsands [firmāns] are come out and signed Qutbulmooluck [Qutbu-l-mulk] as we expected. We shall endeavour to act in the present conjuncture with all possible care, and advise your Honour &c, of the Result."

We are

Honourable Sir and Sirs

Your Most Obedient Humble Servants

JOHN SURMAN

EDWARD STEPHENSON.

DILEY

MARCH the 21st

1715/16.

COJNE SEERHAUD. Assenting.

HUGH BARKER, Secretary.

106. DIARY.

March 23rd. "Mr. Surman went to the Camp, Seerhaud [Sarhad] being gone the Day before.

Sallabat Caun [Salabat Khān] having an unforeseen opportunity to eat and sleep in a private place with Caundora [Khān Daurān], spoke to the following Purpose on our behalf. "That as we came hither by his means and instigation, so we depended wholly on him, As for our buisness we were resolved nott to goe to the Vizier, Seeing he had gott part of our petition granted: and to show our Entire respect, we had never apply'd to the Vizier, nay not presented him, but as Caundora [Khān Daurān] himself directed. Wherefore iff Caundora [Khān Daurān] would nott prosecute our buisness we would depart hence." To This he answered, "That he would compleat our petition himself; Asking withall where we lived."—Sallabat Caun [Salabat Khān] told him we lived with him."

March 24th.

"The Camp removed from Shalamar to Nerella"
—We salamed in the way."

"Tuccurub Caun [Taqarrab Khān] The kings great favourite and our good friend departed this life. He was in his life time possessed of Many great servic^{es}— Among which was Duan Colsa [duwān-i-khālīsāh] and Consomma [khānsāmān].²" ¹ Shalimar, a garden a few miles out of Delhi, near Sarai Badli, also known as "Aghara-bād. Narolah is 16 miles north of Delhi.

² According to Mirza Muhammad, Taqarrab Khān died on Friday the 9th Rabi' II 1128, which is said to be equivalent to the 1st or 2nd April 1716 N. S. and therefore to the 21st or 22nd March O. S. But if the death occurred on Friday it must have been the 23rd March 1716 O. S.

DELHI, MARCH AND APRIL, 1716.

CSL

March 29th.

"Visited the King in the Duan Coss [duān-i-khās].

From the 25th the King went Every day a hunting.

The Kings Artillery coming hither some design suspected to be against the Vizier."

"Caun-Jehaun Behander [Khān Jahān Bahādur], The Late Suba [sūbah] off Cobul [Kābul] arrived att Court¹
— The King gone a hunting."

March 31st.

"The King went daily a hunting 'till the 4th when he made Duan Coss [duān-i-khās] and we visited him."

April 1st.

"The King returned from Nerella [Naralah] to Shalamar [Shālihmar]."

April 5th.

107. CONSULTATION.

"Caundora [Khān Daurān] frequently promises, when this hunting time is finished, to compleat our buisness—for which we must waite with patience, and we doe continue firm in our Opinion, that this is the Only method to Obtain our grants, without very Eminent danger."

April 5th.

Shalamar.

108. DIARY.

April 8th.

"Mr. Surman &c. visited the King."

"There happened a quarrell between Caundora [Khān Daurān] and Mamud-Ami-Cauns² [Muhammad Amin Khān's] people, wherein the Masters so far interested themselves, That on their arrivall at their tents Their forces Attacked Each other with Smal Armes, Bonds³ and some Cannon. After the death off 100 Men, They were att last parted by messages from the king, and the mediaton off Other Omrahs [umara].—This being very great insolence under his Majestys nose, he resented itt Accordingly; Cutting the munews [mansabs] off all that were concerned, Among which was his favourite Caundora [Khān Daurān]."

April 12th.

"Caundra [Khān Daurān] called to Court, so we beleive him restored to what was taken away."

April 16th.

¹ 'Aziz-d-Daulah, Khān 'Alam, Bahādur, had been Nizām of Kābul. According to Kāwar Khān, on the 17th Rabi 'II, 1123, which is the 8th or 10th April 1716 N.S. and the 29th or 30th March O. S. he was introduced at Court by Arslān Khān who had been sent by His Majesty's orders to escort him. He presented 1000 gold coins, and his son Sipahdār Khān 1000 rupees. They received in return rich dresses.

² Muhammad Amin Khān, Ghān, Bahādur, a Turānī, and cousin of Nizām-i-Mulk. He was afterwards the Vizier of Muhammad Shāh, and died on the 28th Rabi 'I 1123, which is the 27th January 1721 N. S.

³ Apparently bans, i.e. rockets.

DELHI, APRIL, 1716,

CSL

None Under 7000 Muns: [i.e. mangals] are permitted to wear fringe on their Pallankeens, and none under 4000 Muns: [mangals] Lace or Embroidery."

"Mamud Ami Caun [Muhammad Amir Khān] brought to Court; so that the kings displeasure seems to be over; April 17th. Only Moradabad Phowdarry [fauldari] was taken from him."

"Doctor Hamilton, for curing his Majesty formerly, In the Duan Coss [diwan-i-khās] received what was nott ready att that time,—Viz! An Atlas Coate and Wastecoate made after the European fashion, Butt with Gold Buttons Sett Each with 1 Diamond and 4 Rubys. He likewise received all his Cases off small Instruments contained In one pretty Large Box, all off solid gold."

109. LETTER XIV.²

To the HONOURABLE ROBERT HEDGES Esq^r

President and Governor of Fort William & Co Council in Bengal.

HONOURABLE SIR &c.

"Our last to your Honour &c^y was March the 21st giving a particular Account how our affairs stood at that time, in the close We informed you that we heard our Phirds [fards] were signed but [Out] bulmoolk³ which was afterwards confirmed by the papers themselves, this put us into a serious consideration what was to be acted in that Juncture. If the Papers were carried to the Vizeir and our business carried on that way, We should at best be esteemed as Caundoras [Khān Daurān's] cast off favorites, turned over to the goodness of the other whom if it were possible to engage with bribes or otherwise to get our Petition granted yet Caundora [Khān Daurān] who is naturally disposed to do little good might even then disserve us with his Majesty and so inevitably ruin our business, for it is certain He has such an ascendancy over the King as to dispose him according to his own inclinations; these thoughts induced us to make another Essay of Caundora's [Khān Daurān's] generosity and give him an Account of our affairs, leaving the Vizeir as our last Reserve, First Syud Salabat Cawn [Sary Salābat Khān] at our instigation wrote largely to Caundora [Khān Daurān] and concerning us, but this had not the desired Effect, however this was supply'd: concerning us by the opportunity some days afterwards to encounter him in some opportunity never before happening for some months) when he di private (an concerning us and our affairs at large and to the following pur use. That this Present to his Majesty had laid by many years, no one having ourage to proceed

¹ Atlas i.e. satin.

² This letter was read at a Consultation at Fort St. George, on Monday the 3rd September, 1716, and is to be found in the Madras Diary and Consultation Book for May No. 57 Range 239 in the India Office.

³ That is, they were merely endorsed over to the office of the Vizeir, Qutub

DELHI, APRIL, 1743.

CSL

in the Negotiation till encouraged by his kind promises of protection, and that all our Reasonable demands should be granted. That all our addresses to his Majesty had been by his means: That He himself had delivered in our Present and such a one had never been made by any European Nation to the Kings of India since the Reign of Tamerlain, that we were under great concern to find our papers turned over to [the] Vizier, whither we could not go either for his or our own honour, seeing We could expect no other usage than of cast off Favourites. That we had not to our knowledge deserved so severe punishment, and accordingly hoped it would not be inflicted without a farther Scrutiny, and lastly that We were resolved whatever favours his Majesty would confer on us, should be by his means, and that what was by him Rejected, should not induce us to apply to any other person: it seems He was not a little tickled with this discourse, but pretended first misinformation, that our business belonged entirely to the Duanny [dīwānī] for which Reason He turned it over thither for examination, but since it was our earnest desire he would reassume those papers, and get them signed, your ^{dear} ^{believe} that after such melancholly reflections, this for the present a little revived us.

The King removing about fourteen Course from the city we found our selves under an absolute necessity to attend him though it raised our expences to a very great price, fearing lest they might proceed to Lahore as was publicly given out. But his Majesty seemed wholly taken up with hunting, which used to engage him most days of the Week and then from morning till night so that there was a general stop to business. It was the Camp report that this Journey was designed purely to entrap the Vizier, However his care and precaution hindered any sinister Council from taking effect, during this Encampment Coja Seerhaud [Khwājā Sarhād] daily attended at Caundoras [Khān Daurān's] Levy, whose only answer was (whenever he gave any) that We must wait till the time of hunting was over, when our business should be compleated, a full month has now elapsed in this condition; But in the interim There happened a Quarrel between the People of Caundora [Khān Daurān] and Mataud Ami Cawn [Muhammad Amin Khān] as they came from the Durbar, which after their masters got to their Tents ended in a downright fight, wherein they fired with small Arms, Bonds² and Great Guns for above 2 hours notwithstanding the Kings repeated commands to forbear: Yet was it at last made up after about a hundred men were killed and wounded, the King was highly displeased with the liberty they took and resented it to both of them: Out the Munsub [mansab] of all the actors took the "trumpet" from his favourite, who was not admitted to his presence for three days, and threatn'd much more. But at present all is made up, and his Majesty about Cawn [Salabat Khān] to speak to Cawndora [Khān Daurān] desirous to see that We could not longer support ourselves in our present necessity. Insinuating to this morning he found an opportunity to speak to Cawndora. It pleased God.

¹ common in petitions in India. An applicant to an Indian prince still states that, "though there are many other great princes and nobles in India, yet the petitioner does not intend to apply to them." etc.

² As before bande i.e. right to beat drums and blow trumpets, usually styled the naqqārāh "The trumpet" rock is a high honour, only granted to the greatest men.

³ This was

DELHI, APRIL, 1716.

CSL

[Khān Daurān] (as He says) in a very ample manner, and was answered that as He had said so long we must wait two days more when he would speak to his Majesty officiously in our behalf.

We have endeavoured to dive into the reasons why Cawndora [Khān Daurān], after all the world knew he was our Patron should fing our Petition to Cutbulmoolk [Qutbu-l-mulk], and besides put such a considerable Stop to our affairs: There goes a report (altho' we cannot affirm the truth of every article) and not improbable that when our Petition first went to Cawndora [Khān Daurān], some of his Mutsuddys [mutasaddis] who thought they had too small a Share in the profit Sallabut Cawn [Salābat Khān] had made of us, on examination of our Petition rose several objections to Cawndora [Khān Daurān] That our asking for Ground &c^s was not fitt to be granted, this disturbed the affair so much that we were obliged to a second petition finding this out too late. Sallabut Cawn [Salābat Khān] as a means to accomplish the business, was obliged to ask their assistance toward signing the 2nd Petition, which We are informed they refused saying that what they had before contradicted, could not be now advised with any good face: and for Sallabut Cawn [Salābat Khān] himself he had some Apprehensions that out of spight those Mutsuddys [mutasaddis] had acquainted Cawndora [Khān Daurān] with our Bribery, which prevented his appearing so boldly, as He might have otherwise inclined by this means the business was apparently stopped, Yet to releive which and keep us in heart (For our obligation to Sallabut Cawn [Salābat Khān] is conditionall) the Jentus Rogues took this as a fitt opportunity to make up their mouths, and so advised the signing Cutbulmoolk [Qutbu-l-mulk] telling Sallabut Cawn [Salābat Khān] and us, that things would be more easily effected there, than with Cawndora [Khān Daurān], nay We are of opinion Sallabut Cawn [Salābat Khān] privately consented to it: Had We given our consent, it is very probable things would not have succeeded, They having an opportunity to plunder us and perhaps or whole business in danger of being overthrown. Whereas foreseeing so many ill consequences, We got an opportunity, without cognizance of the Jentus to convince Sallabut Cawn [Salābat Khān], that We were in the highway to Ruin; by the first opportunity He would endeavour to work in the same manner on Cawndora [Khān Daurān], which hapned according to the abovementioned Paragraph; yet was this impossible to be effected with the privacy of the Jentues.

Your Honour &c^s has not received a full Account of our affairs, nothing but Patience can serve our turnceing our application at present to the Vizier or anybody else would entirely Ruin us.

We now come to answer your Honour &c^s of the 3rd March which lately came to our hands.

Concerning Barnasse seis [Vārānasi Seth's] mony, and the Calculation your Honour &c^s are pleased to make of Allungeery [ālungeeri] Rupees, We cannot tell what agreement is made wth him or how the mony is to be paid, whether Specie delivered here into Cash, or according to the Exchange of mony, the allowance of Exchange excepted. If the former, We have no difference here between Surat and Hossanna Rupees, but is informed that the Rupees called here Allungeery [ālungeeri] are the same as Rucca Hossanna in Bengall, which is all except new Surat Rupees. If the latter then he is to receive Specie's in DELHI, APRIL, 1716.

CSL

Bengal for Allumgeery [‘ālamgīrī] paid in here, the difference here between Allumgeery [‘ālamgīrī] and Sica's is from $\frac{1}{4}$ to 1 per cent Current money of Dilly nine thousand One hundred and eight three Annas, makes Allumgeery [‘ālamgīrī] eight thousand eight hundred forty two, fourteen Anna's six pie We believe the above is sufficient to clear that Account.¹

We observe what your Honour &c. write concerning Jaffer Cawn [Ja'far Khān] with the trouble he has given the Merchants We are likewise informed that you have agreed to pay him fifteen thousand Rupees for the easy carrying on the Companys business in Bengal; We formerly advised you that a complaint against him here would be to [no] purpose for which Reason We have hitherto evaded it.

Concerning the Madras complaints for those towns We formerly advised your Honour &c. as also the Hon^{ble} Governour and Council of Port St. George that Omcer Ali Omrah [Amīn-ul-Umrah]² takes very little notice of any orders from Court and that a private letter from the Vizier was the only servicable method (altho the Towns are granted when the Phirmaund [farman] is wrote) which was the Reason we procured it and which We hope came safe to hand, being a means to ingratiate our Hon^{ble} masters affairs with that Omrah [umrah]: We shall be very carefull to observe all instructions either from Port St. George or Bombay.

About two months ago arrived here Hossein Amidan [Husain Ahmad?] Owner of the Ship taken by the Danes in Bengal. We are informed He is endeavouring to do us all the disservice in his power: Having here forged Letters under the Zereef [Sharif] of Mecca's Seal to the King, Vizier and Gundora [Khān Daurān] that the English are Pyrats and, that the King will do well not to favour us Besides these there are severall other Certificates counterfeited which will be occasionally made use of: We shall endeavour all that is possible to Render the designs of that Impostor abortive.

Inclosed comes Cash and Warehouse Accounts, Coy of Consultation and Charges General for February."

Shalamar ye King's Camp

April ye 20th 1716.

CORRE SEERHAUD, assent³.

HUGH BARKER, Secy.

We are

Honorable Sir and Sirs

Your Obedient Humble Servants

JOHN SUEMAN

EDWARD STEPHENSON.

110. DIARY.

"The King sett in the Duan Coss [duwān-khāz]--Sallabut Caun [Salābat Khān] now mintily disgusted att the Court and Caundora [Khān Daurān].—He two days Agos lost the post off Coar-Beg.³ This Month two Men have been Caught in the Kings Seraglio."

¹ I understand from this calculation th: 100 ‘ālamgīrī rupees were worth 103 current rupees at Delhi; and 100 sica rupees wa worth 101 Delhi current rupees. Compare the calculation in Letter XVI, p. 117. But, Bengal 100 sica rupees were equivalent to 112½ current rupees. See Vol. I, Pt. I, p. III

² Sayyad Husain 'Alī Khān, the vier's brother and governor of the Deccan.

³ Qar Begi, superintendent of the armoury.

DELHI, APRIL AND MAY, 1716.

CSL

"Caundora [Khān Daurān] again repeated his promises to Seerhaud [Sarhad]."

111. CONSULTATION.

April 28th. Shalamar. "Agreed that an Answer be sent to the Honble. Charles Boone Esq^r. &c. Councillatt Bombay, giving Our Opinion how matters stand in respect to Suratt &c.

For As much as they have mentioned their Orders from England to withdraw the Suratt Factory, and which they had putt in Execution, Had nott Hydera Cooly Caun [Haidar Quli Khān] very much insisted on their Stay. Itt is our Opinion, that as the Honble. Company have no great concerns att Suratt; should the Gentlemen there proceed to Bombay for A Month or two, Itt would Oblige Hydera Cooly Caun [Haidar Quli Khān] to write to Caundora [Khān Daurān] here, and without doubt very much Accelerate the Concessions att Suratt,¹ which have for some time found Many Objections."

112. DIARY.

May 5th. "The king made the Grand Vizier a visitt; who, (according to the Country Custom) presented his Majesty with two Elephants, five Horses, one Saphir Necklace, one Culgee, one Sword, one Dope,² two Bandizas³ with Jewells, nine Bandizas with fine Cloth, and 100,000 rupees In Gold Moors [mabrs]."

May 10th. "The King sent Sallabut Caun [Salābat Khān] victuals and made him stand higher in the Duan [dūcān] than his degree off Munsub [mangab]."

May 12th. "Sallabut Caun [Salābat Khān] obliged to take the Arze Mocurrur [arz-i-mukarrar], a post he has refused this eight Months.⁴"

May 12th Dilly. "The King sent for Seerhaud [Sarhad] and Mr. Hamilton; being fearfull⁵ that his old sores were breaking out. On Examination they found a Pimple."

¹ Orme notes, "The threatening to withdraw the factory from Surat was one of the principal means of gaining the Firmannds." Orme Collections, VII. 1711.

² This is dhop, a straight sword used as a sign of rank or dignity, sometimes called the staff like sword. Culgee [salghi] is a plume or aigrette.

³ "Bandiza" is probably equivalent to daster-band, a broad piece of gold lace or gold stuff tied across the turban.

⁴ Mr. Irvine tells me that the 'arz-i-mukarrar' (lit. "repeated petition") was an office for the examination of all orders, for the purpose of certifying their conformity to regulations. They were then presented a second time to the Emperor for confirmation or modification. Salābat Khān, according to Mr. Irvine was appointed to this office on the 7th Jamādi I, 1128, which is the 29th or 30th April 1716 N. S. and the 18th or 19th April O. S.

DELHI, MAY, 1716.

CSL

May 13th.

The King's Pimple broke from whence ran much blood and water."

"The Doctor again with his Majesty, he advised to have the Other Physicians called: But his Majesty would nott hear of itt, besides he ordered great privacy."

May 16th.

113. LETTER XV.¹

To the HONOURABLE
ROBERT HEDGES ESQ.
President and Governour of Fort William &c^t Council in Bengall.

HONOURABLE SIR &c^s

"We wrote your Honour &c^s April the 20th from the Camp at Shalimar [Shāhīnār] in which Place we continued till the 7th of May, his Majesty making his Entry the day following.

This last month has elapsed with very little alteration as to the state of our affairs. We having not proceeded a step farther except in the fair promises of Caundora [Khān Daurān], which of late have been very frequent. It's now about a fortnight since Caundora [Khān Daurān] asked for the Petition, which was delivered him. We at that time hoped he would have got it signed without much farther examination but have proved to be mistaken, the Chief objections made to the Petition were the demands of more ground round Calcutta, the Island of Divy, and the ground without the City of Surat; it has been carefully instilled into Caundora [Khān Daurān] that grants of this nature may be one day very prejudicial to the King of Indostan, first in respect to Calcutta we shall have an opportunity of frequently quarrelling with the Phousdār [faujdar] &c^s we being already too strong without any Addition, and for Divy Island, were we once in possession of it and ever came to a Rupture with them, no Ship would be able to pass to or from Bengall (We are informed the King has had particular notice given him of this) lastly for the Ground at Surat, although it's very certain the Dutch had a grant for it from Mozadeem² that the Present Government is very unwilling to allow it, your Honour &c^s may be very well assured all possible means have been used to contradict these advices, and We are of opinion that Caundora [Khān Daurān] may be something convinced of the reasonableness of our Petition, but yet he is still apprehensive that he may be reflected upon, for the ill consequences, which has made him resolve not to do our business purely on his own head as appears by his answer to Soerhand [Sarhad], let me get the Vizier first to consent and act jointly with me in this affair and I'll certainly effect your business to which he Added a very Solemn Asseveration.

Our last from the Honourable President and Council of Bombay seem to make a very slight matter of the Surat Business seeing they have orders from England to withdraw that Factory, but for your Honour &c^s more Particular ¹ This letter was read at the same Consultation as Letter XIV.

² Mu'izzu'd-din, Jahāndar Shāh.

DELHI, MAY, 1716.

169
SL

in observation, we herewith send Copy of that Letter with its answer (which comes inclosed).

There has been a Rumour spread that the main reason of Caundora's [Khan Daurān's] putting us off so long was by his Majesty's private order, that the time might come about when he was first seized with the distemper last year wherein he would perceive whether he was perfectly clear or no, before he would dispatch either us or Mr. Hamilton, but for this We have no farther Authority than common Report, to our Surprise there is something of that nature broke out again what may be the end of it God knows. Mr. Hamilton has been with his Majesty 2 or 3 times but enjoyed the utmost Secrecy, being admitted to his presence thro' the Womens apartment for fear it should come to the world.

We have drawn the following Bills on your Honour &c^a To John Surman for two thousand three hundred Steca's payable to Mr. Williamson.

To Edward Stephenson three thousand Do-Barnasseseet [Varanāsi Seth] to which we desire due honour.

Herewith comes Account Cash, Copy of Consultations and Charges General for the month of March."

DILLY
May ye 20th 1716.

We are
Honourable Sir and Sirs
Your Most Obedient Humble Servants
JOHN SURMAN
EDWARD STEPHENSON.

114. DIARY.

May 24th

"Mr. Hamilton has heard no more from his Majesty; so we believe him perfectly well."

115. CONSULTATION.

"Caundora [Khan Daurān] having ordered Syud Salabat Caun Behander [Sayyad Salabat Khān, Bahadur],

May 25th, Dilly.

Atasham Caun [Itiṣām Khān]¹ Duan Colsa [dūān-i-khālsah], and Rey Reyon [rāe-rāyān]² Duan Tun [dūān-i-tan]. As Umpires to finish our buisness: Syud Salabat Caun [Sayyid Salabat Khān] objected, That Rey Reyon [Rāe Rāyān] had always perplex'd our Affairs so as nott to left them goe forward, for wh^o reason he desired, that said person might be left out off any future consultation. Wherefore the whole stress off our Affairs att present

¹ Itiṣām Khān was appointed Dīwān-i-khālsah on the 7th Jamādī I, 1128 or 29th April 1716 N. S. and the 17th or 18th April O.S. in succession to the deceased, who had held the office for two years in conjunction with Toqurrah Khān. Itiṣām Khān died at Jahāngirnagar as Nāib Governor of Bengal that of Ikharāmūn, 1128, that is April, May, 1726.

² The Rāe-i-Rāyān was Rājā Gūjar Mal, a Saksenah Rājā appointed Dīwān-i-Tan on the 10th Jamādī II, 1123, which is 1711 or 1712 by caste. He had been He fell dead in open darbar while reading a report to Mr. Hamilton on the 23rd June 1714 or 1129, which is the 26th or 27th December 1725 N.S., aged 67 or 68 years.

on the 25th
A. 1716

DELHI, MAY, 1716.

CSL

Agreed on Autusham Caun [I'tisām Khān] and the Duanny [dū'ānī] that Autusham Caun [I'tisām Khān] be presented to about 7000 rupees, and that Cojah Seerhaud [Khawājah Sarhad] carry the list, with 2 notes likewise for 6000 and 10,000 rupees to be used as he shall find that Omrah [umrah] inclined to bribery."

116. DIARY.

"Cojah Seerhaud [Khawājah Sarhad] was with Autusham Caun [I'tisām Khān], who with Bokedhaud¹ told him, that our petition required mature consideration, and the books to be re-examined. The Present is nott given to the king as Seerhaud [Sarhad] pretended it would be."

May 29th.

117. CONSULTATION.

"Cojah Seerhaud [Khawājah Sarhad] positively affirms, that Autusham [I'tisām Khān] is nott to be bribed²; and, in the dispute, desires, that some other person may be sent, to endeavour finding out a way, which to him is nott feasible. Agreed thereto; and that Ramchund ponditt [Rām Chand pandit] be sent to Autusham Caun [I'tisām Khān's] Servants, being priviledged to offer them to the amount of six or seven hundred rupees, in case their Master accepts the Present and Compleats our buisness.

Billy
May 30th.

Autusham Caun [I'tisām Khān] having delivered our papers, into the hands off his peteshear Bokedhaud [Bhog Chand], who has the Entire management off the Duanny [dū'ānī] buisness: Seerhaud [Sarhad] informs us, that he Expects 10000 rupees; and desires a note mentioning itt's payment, on the finishing our buisness, In the Duanny [dū'ānī]. Agreed that a note be given."

118. DIARY.

"Cojah Seerhaud [Khawājah Sarhad] carried the note to Bokedhaud [Bhog Chand]. He told Seerhaud [Sarhad], that he would take the money: butt refused the note, leaving our words sufficient. He ordered two Copys off our petition to be brought, one plain, and one with the Account wrote from the Kings Books."

May 30th.

¹ Chand, a Sribhāṣṭān Kevāth by caste, was peteshdar, or head clerk, of the khāṭirak. He died the 11th Zūl-qā'dar, 1149, which is the 12th or 13th March 1737 N.S., aged about 50 years.

² On the 26th Sarhad³ is described, but it must be with the utmost secrecy. Ramchund, pandit, said he w^{as}

DELHI, JUNE, 1716.

CSL

119. CONSULTATION.

Antusham Caun [I'tisām Khān], the Duan Colsa [duan-i-Khalisah], in whose hands was our new petition having delivered itt to Bokesbund [Bhog Chand], to be re-examined from the kings books and records, We are very well Assured, that on a former occasion, we too much depended, on the diligence off Syud Sallabut Caun [Sayyad Salābat Khān], and Nutmull [Nath Mall] Caundoras [Khān Daurān's] Vakile [Wakil]; Even to the overlooking the Duanny [duwān], Writers, who att that time wrote what they pleased on Each Phird [pard]: According to which naturally flowed the Kings Assent or denyall. The second petition is now come upon the brink off the Error above-mentioned; so in the same danger to be overthrown; unless all possible means are used to prevent itt. Cojah Seerhaud [Khawajah Sarhad] has been Earnestly endeavouring to bring those Writers to his house, which they have positively refused; As for going himself to the Ketcherry [kachahri], he thinks itt beneath him; and indeed we are off the same opinion. On this consideration; we beleive our Under Vakile [wakil] ought to be sent into the Duanny [duwān], to take care off the writing on our petition; but that he be instructed by Seerhaud [Sarhad], without any power to bribe, or indeed act the minutest thing on his own head. Agreed that Cojah Seerhaud [Khawajah Sarhad] take which Vakile [wakil] he pleases.

Dilly
June 2d.

Cojah Seerhaud [Khawajah Sarhad] dissents from this Consultation Averring that itt any one Else is Employed in the Durbar buisness He will never stirr again in itt."

120. DIARY.

"In the consultation for this instant, Seerhauds [Sarhad's] objection against the Country Vakiles [wakils], was, that they were inclined to steal; and that when they were once lett into Durbar buisness, they would instruct the Mutsuddys [mutasuddis], to plague us: by which they might reap advantage. In Answer to this itt may be properly asked why he makes use off the same sort off people? Butt who are nott in the Honourable Companys Service; Especially when a letter from the Honourable President &c. In Oulettia Dated August 9th. 1714 have directed that all Vakiles [wakils] be chose in Council."

121. PROTEST.

Messrs. J. Surman and E. Stephensons Protest Against Seerhaud Israell.

"Where a Negotiation is so obstructed as to meett with more than ordinary delays, contrary to all Expectation, It's naturall for the

DELHI, JUNE, 1716

CSL

Factors to reflect on the methods they have taken to Effect their business and to find out iff possible the Errors they have been guilty off which after they have truly weigh'd, and have convinced themselves off 'Tis Certain all men must Allow that iff they committ the same mistakes over again is a double Folly and unanswerable.

When our Negotiations first commenced we depended entirely on the power Syud Sallabutt Caun [Sayyad Salābat Khān] had with Caundora [Khān Daurān], and the agreement we had made with him, which made us neglect some off the latters servants, who have had a great hand in perplexing our Affairs; purely because they were nott bribed, as they should have been. The persons meant are Rey-Reyon [Ris Rayan], Tan Doan [Tan Duan] and Natnull [Nath Moll] Vakile. The latter, att the delivery off our petition the first time, had orders from Caundora [Khān Daurān] (att their instigation) to give the petition to the Duanny [duani] to pass it's examination there from the books and records. Itt cannot be deny'd butt that these remarks must particularly influence Caundora [Khān Daurān] and the King to grant or nott grant what we desired. Iff we were then convinced off the truth off this; Itt was to be sure att that time our duty, to take the necessary precautions, and as most off the officers in this Country are mercenary, and for money will doe any thing that is desired: To be sure they should nott have been neglected, butt well bribed, that they might lay a proper cement to our Foundation. Att that time itt is certain we were nott conscious off any Enemys in Caundoras [Khān Daurān's] house, and did beleive the influence he might have in the Duanny [duani], might hinder the officers there from any partiality in their remarks. Yett John Surman being particularly convinced, that there is a great deal of difference in having a good commendam from the records, which would be much better, than a pall'd¹ account, some for, some against: Did advise Cojah Seerhaud [Khvajah Sarhad] to take particular care off the Officers off the Duanny [duani], and att that time for a reason did Affirm, that this was the only time to Secure a good foundation; which iff now lost would be found very hard to be retrieved—Strenuously Affirming this Cojah Seerhaud [Khvajah Sarhad] was desired to take the proper methods, which he neglecting we received the hurt before we knew off an Enemy. That is, our Petition returned with it's remarks upon itt, so far from truth most off them, that they seemed to be made by an Enemy: which, had proper ¹ Weakened, impaired, as in Shakespeare A, and C, ii, 7, 76.

DELHI, JUNE, 1716.

SL
113

means been used, must without doubt have been avoided; and have hindered our Enemys from gaining weapons to fight us with, and this we Affirm is wholly owing to Oojah Seerhaud [Khvajah Sarhad]. There is no necessity to run thro' the course off our negotiations, being sufficiently remarked in this Consultation Book. Butt bring itt to it's present state.

After a great many putt off's Caundora [Khan Dauran] ordered his Vakile [vakil] and Seerhaud [Sarhad] to goe to Antusham Caun [Itisam Khan] the Duan Calsa [duwan-i-khalisah], to desire his advice, what ought to be allowed off our petition. Itt was with a general consent Agreed, we ought to secure him by any methods; and a list off a handsome present was drawn out and delivered Seerhaud [Sarhad]; with instructions, that in case he found him mercenary to advance a sum off money more, off this our former consultation gives a particular Account, and Seerhaud [Sarhad] in that part followed his instructions; Butt says, he found Antusham Caun [Itisam Khan] free from temptation; and gave our petition to his peeshcar, Rey Bokechund [Rae Bhog Chand], whom we also have Agreed to bribe as before. He has thrown the petition into the Duanny [duwani] for a Second Examination, and seems to bring our Affairs to the same Crisis as before in that office: with this Exception only, that we have satisfied Bokechund [Bhog Chand], and he has promised to stand our Friend. Yett as he will nott examine the books himself, and iff he favours, can butt only amend any thing done amiss, there being still a method to be used by taking care of the under-writers, which Seerhaud [Sarhad] cannot manage himself, because he will not submit to goe to the office, neither is itt proper he should; being the buisness off an under-Vakile [vakil], who should Execute his orders; and to which intent we have had severall in our service from the beginning off our negotiation. For the above reasons Seerhaud [Sarhad] has been ordered to pick any one off them out, and make the proper use off him. He seeming unwilling to comply, and his disputing against itt with Such obstinacy (The main off which is that the Country Vakiles [vakils] are all Rogues and that where he has any thing to doe no one shall attend him or will he give him orders) and the apprehensions there are, that we may again feel the smart off this neglect, are willing to Clear our selves from the Consequence thereof.

The Underscribers doe protest against this unnecessary obstinacy off Seerhaud [Sarhad], and doe pronounce him answerable for any thing, that may Attend his non-Compliance; and that this shall be a witness for us, and Against him upon the Examination off our Honourable Employers.

A true Copy

HUGH BARKER Sec^y.

122. DIARY.

Ramchand--Pondit [Rām Chand pandit] reports from Autusham Cauns [I'tisām Khān's] Buzy [bahshī] and Moonchy [munshī]. That their master is to be bribed; butt with the greatest privacy. They intimated that Seerhaud [Sarhad] offered the present too publickly, which might be the reason itt mett with the bad reception."

June 4th. "Having sent a small petition by way off remembrance to Caundora [Khān Daurān] he returned Answer: That Sallabut Caun [Salabat Khān], Autusham Caun [I'tisām Khān] and Bokechund [Bhog Chand] should meett att his house and finish the buisness. Seerhaud begins to confess Autusham Caun [I'tisām Khān] may be bribed."

June 7th. "Bokechund [Bhog Chand] carassed (sic) Seerhaud [Sarhad] very much, telling him that he hoped shortly to bring things to that pass: That Autusham Caun [I'tisām Khān] shall nott only sign the Phirds [fards] as we desire; Butt that he will write on a piece off paper, to accompany our Petition to his majesty, by way off directory for the Royall Duskutt [dastkhāt]."

June 8th. "Autusham Caun [I'tisām Khān] perused the Honourable Companys petition when Seerhaud [Sarhad] was with him. He liked all very well and said he would gett his majesty to sign the whole."

June 22nd. "Autusham Caun [I'tisām Khān] told Seerhaud [Sarhad], that last night Caundora [Khān Daurān] had perused out petition, which he carryed to him, and that he with Bokechund [Bhog Chand] would now adjust the modell off the ensuing phirmaund [farmān]."

123. LETTER XVI.

To the HONOURABLE ROBERT HEDDES, Esq^r, President and Governour of Fort.

William &c^y Council in Bengall.
Honourable Sir &c^y

"We wrote your Honour &c^y the 20th Ult^o giving an Account of our affairs, since which We received your Honour &c^{as} of April the 16th which We find ¹ This letter was read at a consultation at Fort St George on Tuesday the 6th October, 1715, and is to be found in the Madras Diary and Consultation Book for 1715 to 1719, No. 87, Range 230 in the India Office.

DELHI, JUNE, 1716.

SL 117

chiefly in answer to ours of February the 7th with Notations made on the Petition and the Kings signing.

In our last We advised your Honour &c^a of our keeping a good correspondence with the Honourable Governour and Council of Bombay. We have not lately had any Letters from thence or had occasion of writing thither. As for the Honourable President and Council of Fort St. George. We have not received a line from them since our arrivall at Dilly, and tis long since We have wrote them, which was chiefly deferred by Reason of the backwardness of our last Petition, and despairing of any answer from thence in due time, there was no absolute necessity for it. So soon as our Petition is Signed, we shall immediately advise them that their affairs may be put into such a posture as they themselves desire.

We observe what your Honour &c^a write concerning the omission of the first Article in the Petition, tis certain We owe that to those people, in whose hands the Phirds [Jards] were, being [not] from any omission of ours.

We likewise observe what notations Your Honour &c^a make concerning the ground round Calcutta. We are endeavouring to perswade the Mutsuddys [mutasaddis] that the Kings signing should be mentiond in the Phirmaund [farmān] which they seem to object against as not fit till the ground was one own, where as at present We had not bought it.

Concerning Patna house which is granted to live in, Your Honour writes that its not worth acceptance unless as a free gift. The Mudsudys [mutasaddis] stickle so much at that which We desire for Surat that We did forge that article for fear of hindering that which was off much greater consequence. Besides our advises from Bombay and common Report have led us into a mistake In insisting that the Dutch had a house given them within and liberty for ground without the City of Surat from the King, for upon Examination of their Phirmaund [farmān], there is not a word mentioned of it, and only a Husbulhocum [hasbul-hukm] under the Consommee [khānsāmān's] Seal, to the Phousdar [faujdār] or Surat, to let them have such a ones house, to live in, as likewise another in Patna they have likewise a garden without the City, as well as the French but is a permission from the Phousdar [faujdār], not a grant from the King So that if we obtain a grant for a house and garden without Surat it will be more than was ever yet given to any European nation.

We very well Remark what your Honour &c^a write concerning Madrass Rupees and the fineness thereof, there will be an absolute necessity to have them Refined to make them pass the treasury. It is a thing of that consequence that Autusham Caun [Autisham Khān] informs us that Jaffar Caun [Ja'far Khān] had, in a particular manner mentioned it to him among other things, and that our Coining at Madrass was very prejudiciall to the King, and his Customs which has made Autusham Caun [Autisham Khān] object more against our having Sperate Mints, than any thing Else in the whole Petition, So that this granted will very well compensate the Refining Madrass Rupees: and we hope the Gentlemen there will be of that opinion¹.

If it please God that We finish the payment of a yearly Eishcash [peshcash] in Surat According to our desire, We shall pursuant to your Honour &c^as orders, write our opinion concerning the private trade both to Madrass and

¹ See Vol. II, Pt. I, pp. 111, 112.

DELHI, JUNE, 1716.

CSL

Bombay, of which if particular notice is not taken no private trader will ever reap the Benefit of the Honourable Company's Privilege, at Surat. We formerly advised your Honour &c^a of the great amount of Customs at that place which so Startled us, that lately upon delivery of our Second Petition, We added that of Surat to it, and did perswade the Examiners of the books to under write, that the books for the 20th year¹ were not to be found, with this view that the making of that pisheesh may be rendered the more easy.

We here inclose a particular Account of money &c^a that was given as a supply to Mrs. Woodvill but having no Receipt from her it comes attested by us all, which We hope will be sufficient to Regain the debt.

Having now answered Your Honour &c^a in full We come naturally to an Account of our Present affairs, and what prospect We have for the future.

Caundora [Khān Daurān] finding himself much pressed on all sides to make an end of our business, at last ordered, that Autusham Cawn [Itisām Khān], Syad Sallabut Cawn [Sayyad Salābat Khān], & Rey Reyon [Rae Rāyān] Should Set down, & make an end, Sallabut Cawn [Salābat Khān] finding Rey Reyon [Rae Rāyān] might again have an opportunity to Spoil it, told the Nabob he was a very unfit person to meddle in this affair, having acted from the begining with a great deal of enmity and Spleen, and that his designs were to Ruin it, On which the Nabob ordered him to be left out, and that the papers should be delivered to Autusham Cawn [Itisām Khān] Bokechund [Bhog Chand], the Calsa Mutsuddys.² We knowing that our papers at length must go there, caused us the more easily to consent to it, making the necessary preparations accordingly, Vizt³ drawing up a list of a handsome Present for Autusham Cawn [Itisām Khān] with Resolutions to bribe him farther, if to be prevailed on, no other way, as also his Councillors, and for Bokechund [Bhog Chand] who is the head of the Ketcherry [katchahri]. We found it necessary to promise a good Summ⁴ accordingly a note was carried for Rupees ten thousand on the finishing our business, and by his advice, to the examiners of the books &c^a writers to about 1200 Rupees This management has put a very good gloss on our demands, we found our Petition Returned from the examination of the Kings books with a quite different Air, and a seeming consent to all our demands, Autusham Cawn [Itisām Khān] (altho' he has not accepted the Present) he has been very favourable in the disputes which He had with Seeraad [Serhad] and all the Calsa Mutsuddys [khālīsah mutasaddis] on the perusal of our Petition seeming pretty satisfied with the Gross of it, accordingly three nights ago he carried it to Caundora [Khān Daurān] who perused it all over with it's Remarks and seemed very satisfied, Autusham Cawn [Itisām Khān] informed him of what We insisted on (and as we suppose) what was proper and what was not, the Nabob returned the Petition and told him that as Duan Colza [dwān-i-khālīsah], he knew best what was to be done. But that he would do well, to take Bokechund [Bhog Chand] and make an end of the business. There has been no Meeting yet so cannot advise Your Honour

¹ Probably the 20th year of 'Alamgir, circa 1678, 1679 A.D.

² Itisām Khān and Bhog Chand are here styled the khālīsah mutasaddis i.e., the secretaries or officers of the Treasury. Mr. Irvine tells me that mutasaddis is quite applicable to a high official, and does not necessarily mean a clerk or subordinate. It is at times used for governors and dewāns.

DELHI, JUNE, 1716.

SL

&c^a what method they intend to take, but being satisfied that We have laid a good foundation hope for the best.

We have lately made Sale of part of the Merchants goods under our charge a particular Account¹ of which comes herewith Amounting to

Siccas	...	10968	1	9
Allumgeer	...	11064	7	0
Current	...	11398	7	9

according to which your Honour &c^a will please to pay them, We beleive the owners took particular care to get a Reasonable profit by adding it on the Invoice or else Certainly there was never such Rubbish Sold in Bengall at such prizes, as plainly appeared in opening the bales for Sale, and comparing them with other goods. We have done our best for their advantage, and with which they ought to be contented.

Thanks be to God the apprehensions We had concerning his Majestys indisposition are all over and He is (for ought we know) in a perfect state of health.

Enclosed comes Account Cash, Copy of Consultations and Charges General for April. There has for this two or three months been so little expence in the Warehouse that We have omitted sending that Account."

We are
Honourable Sir and Sirs
Your Most Obedient Humble Servants,

JOHN SURMAN
EDWARD STEPHENSON.

DILLY
June y^e 24th
1716.

GOJA SHEERAAN assents.
HUGH BARKER, Sec^y.

124. DIARY.

"Seerhaud [Sarhad] says this day was finished all the Bengal business according to our wish.

Seerhaud [Sarhad] says, that whatever passes att these consultations will goe into a Phirmaund [farman] without going first to his Majesty, All very uncommon! and can only be by the Kings immediate order."

June 29th.

"Mr. Surman &c^a visitted his Majesty.

We hear that the grand Vizier has perused our Phirds [fards], and that with a favourable aspect."

125. CONSULTATION.

"The second petition having by the order off Caundora [Khān, Daurān] passed the Examination off the Books,

Dilly.
June 30th.

Itt will be proper to insert itt, to show how the Mutsuddys [mutasaddis] upon occasion become tractable.

¹ Compare the calculation in Letter XIV, p. 106. The sum given in 'Slamgiri' money seems to be eleven pies short.

DELHI, JUNE, 1716.

CSL

126. THE SECOND PETITION EXAMINED.

- 1st The Bengall Phirmaund [farman]. It was Customary for the English att Hugly in Bengall to pay 8000 Rupees as a yearly peeshcash [peeshcash]. In the 30th Year off Aurangzebe¹ According to the writing off Knfloy Cannon the Duan [diwan], there was 3½ p^a ct. Settled as In Suratt but nott Executed. In the 34th Year² itt was determined to take the Peeshcash [peeshcash]. In the Subaships off Behar and Orixa [Orissa] they pay no Custom.
- 2nd The Culcutta Towns. They now make publick, that they have taken an account off the towns from the Conningoe [ganinga]. In the buisness off Culcutta &c 3 Towns, They first obtained them to live in under the Nishaun [nishān] off Azzimuth Sha [Azimush-Shān], and after that gott a bill off sale from the Jemidars [zamindārs]. They now hope that they may have a phirmaund [farman] after the same Method.
- 38 Towns ... 8121. 8. 3.
- 3 Towns ... 1195. 3.—
- 3rd The Suratt House ... Amongst what is Customary att Suratt, This is inserted. That the English from their first arrivall from Europe and settling in Suratt, rented a house with the Owners consent, and in which they still continue. Att present this is ¹ The 30th year of Aurangzeb lasted from 1 Ramazān 1097H., corresponding to the 22nd July N. S. and the 11th July O. S. 1686 A. D., to the 29th Sha'bān 1098. Thus it roughly corresponded to the last half of 1686 A. D. and the first half of 1687 A. D.

² That is Kifāyat Khān, who was appointed Diwan-i-Tan in 1080H., corresponding to A. D. 31 May 1669—19 May 1670 N. S. He died, Diwan-i-Khuliyah in 1109H., corresponding to A. D. 19 July 1697—8 July 1698, N. S.

³ The 34th year of Aurangzeb lasted from 1 Ramazān 1101H., corresponding to the 8th June N. S. and the 28th May O. S. 1690 A. D., to the 29th Sha'bān 1102H. Thus it roughly corresponded to the last half of 1690 and the first half of 1691 A. D.

The 42nd year of Aurangzeb lasted from the 1 Ramazān 1109H. to the 29th Sha'bān 1110H. or from the 13th March 1698 A. D. to the 2nd March 1699 N. S.

DELHI, JUNE, 1716

CSL

- the Method. In the interregnum¹ the house off the deceased Elbar Caun [Tibār Khān] was given to the Dutch to live in according to their petition.
- The Garden* ... A Garden without the City towards Burriah Gate, in a place called Tungee was settled for laying up the English Ships Stores. They petition that in building the Citywall itt was lost, and desire other ground toward Elrah in the Roome.
- 4th Divy Island* ... The island off Divy [Divi] is in the Sea near Matchlapatam [Machlipatnam], and in the possession of Obrun [Abi Rām] Poligar [Palligar]² a Rebel³. The account of this Island is nott in the Books.
- 5th Vizagapatam* ... At the Port off Vizagapatam, 5 Towns in the Circle of Sita Cole, [Sikakūl]³ whose Yearly rent was 4554⁷. under a former Captain, are inserted among the Papers off Maddy Caun [Mahdi Khān], the Sita-Cole [Sikakūl] Ameen [amin] in the 1116 Year Faslee. The towns Alipoor, Dundipoor, Currahs, and Carrah are now wanted by the Company in the roome of those Abovementioned. The rent att present does nott amount to the writing off that Officer, these will pay According to the register off the Subaship: and hope itt may be inserted in the Phirmaund [farmān] —Whatever is ordered.
- 6th Bombay Mint* ... The Island is belonging to the English and Siocas passing, will be to the Kings advantage.
- 7th Thieves and Robbers* ... That the Phowadar [faujdār] be ordered. Whenever the English are Robbed or plundered; that finding the thief, the goods be returned, and he (the thief) punished as an Offender, and att

¹ "The interregnum" is evidently intended for the period between the death of Bahādur Shāh and the accession of Farrukhsiyar. They thus ignored the reign of Jahānādā Shāh, which they counted as ayām-i-jahālāt, days of ignorance. The Dutch Embassy under Ketteler obtained its farmān from Jahānādār Shāh.

² Palligar, the name in the Madras Presidency for local chiefs or big zamindars.

³ This is corrupted into Chikacole just as Sutanūt is corrupted into Chutanuties.

DELHI, JULY, 1716.

CSL

8th The Suratt Customs

what time the English Catch any theives on their own ground, and produce them, that they, according to law, be punished as abovementioned.

In the time of Sha Jehaun [Shah Jahan, 1627-1658] 2½ p^r c^t was Settled, and In the time off Aurangzebe [1658-1707]
att Suratt, Cambaya and Amadabad [Ahmadabad] 3½. The account off the 20th Year [1678-9], concerning the English Customs, is nott to be found.

In the 1st Year [1707-8] off Sha=Allum
[Shah Alam], Upon the writing^g off
Sha-Amud [Shah Ahmad] an old
Mutsuddy [mutasaddi] of that Port,
The Dutch Customs were settled att
2½ p^r c^t which Continues

3½

Deduct 1

2½

In Hugly 3000 Rs is paid as a Peescash [peeshkash]."

127. DIARY.

"Eminent Rey [Amānat Rāe] has returned our Phirds [fards] to

July 3rd.

Bokechund [Bhog Chand]. Most off the things are signed to be Entered in our Phirmaund [farmān] and a few for which we are to have Husbul Hoocums [hasbu-l-hukms]. This Seerhaud [Sarhad] tells us."

"Seerhaud [Sarhad] being att Autusham Cauns [Itisām Khān's] worked so far upon him, that he promised first to ask Caundora [Khān Daurān], and then petition the King about the Suratt peeshcash [peeshkash]. Seerhaud [Sarhad] beleives it will be about 10000 rupees."

July 8th.

128. CONSULTATION.

"Mozuffar Caun [Muzaffar Khān], Caundoras [Khān Daurān's]

Dilly,
July 5th.

Brother¹ being to be married this Evening, and we being informed, that itt is Customary for All the Omrahs [umara] to make presents on this

¹ Khwajah Mustaqim, entitled Muzaffar Khān Bahadur. He was killed at Karnal in the battle with Nadir Shāh on the 15th Zūl-qā'dah, 1151, which is the 23rd February 1709 N.S.

DELHI, JULY, 1716.

CSL
121

Occasion of fine Suratt Goods &c. Agreed that a present be bought to About 1500 Rupees value, being one Suite for men, and one for Women."

129. DIARY.

"Our phirds [firds] brought from the Ketcherry [kashahri] by Our Vakile Mittersein [rakil Mitr Sen], he having July 14th. accidentally mett with them. Butt because this is off great moment I shall refer itt to a Consultation to be held to morrow morning."

130. CONSULTATION.¹

"We have till now had nothing butt pleasing accounts brought us
Dilly, off the going on off our buisness, and for these July 15th. 20 days Elapsed nothing came out off Seerhands [Sarhad] mouth, butt that all was done. Yesterday in the Evening we were Surprizingly convinced to the Contrary, by a Copy off the phirds [firds], signed by Autusham Cann [I'utsham Khan], brought out off the Publick Ketcherry [kashahri]; without any intimation beforehand from Cojah Seerhand [Khawajah Sarhad]; and being in a quite different dialect from what was Expected, Itt was Supposed he might nott have received news of itt. For which reason the heads were immediately sent to him, which to our greater Surprise he immediately returned with a Copy of the whole Phirds [firds] signed, to us, Affirming that he had them by him some three or four days, Butt being himself under the greatest Concern, and having hopes to gett all amended before itt should come to our knowledgo, was nott willing to lett us partake off the Secrett. This is an unanswerable breach off trust in him, which he must answer to Our Honourable Employers. Seerhand [Sarhad] being much out off order, he cannot come hither, Wherefore Agreed That H. Barker goe to him, and make particular Enquiry how this great misfortune and disappointment came about, and desire that for the present he would nott in his disputes insist too much on any off the Articles, that were nott off the highest Consequence, butt rather give them Up, than farther Irritate the Mutsuddys [mutasaddis]. His consent is likewise to be desired to the sale off all the Companys Broad Cloth."

¹ Khwajah Sarhad was absent from this Consultation being "sick att Cojah Huo-nuzzers house."

DELHI, JULY, 1716.

CSL

131. THE UNITED PETITION.

- “The 1st and 2^d Petition united.
- 1st. The Bengall Customs. Autusham Caur [Pāṣān Khān] y^e Duan-Colsas [dīwān-i-khālīsah] Signing. According to y^e Kings order give a Husbul Hooeum [ḥasb-i-hukm] under y^e seal off Outbulmoolk [Qutb-i-Mulk].
Make an Arze.
Ordered write to y^e Phowdsar [fauj-dār].
2. The Bombay Rupees. According to y^e Kings order, write to y^e Phowdsar [fauj-dār].
3. Theives About Calcutta &c^a. According to y^e Kings order, write to y^e Duan Subah [dīwān-i-sūbah] off that place.
4. Suratt House & Garden. According to y^e Kings order write.
5. The Vizagapatam Towns. According to y^e Kings order, write to y^e Duan Suba [dīwān-i-sūbah].
6. Divy Island. The account off the 20th Year nott being to be found, write to Hydera-Cooly Caur [Ḥaidar Qalī Khān, the fauj-dār of Sūrat] to send it.
7. The Calcutta new Towns. According to their former Sunnod [sanad] give them a new one.
8. The Suratt Poesheagh. According to y^e Kings order write.
9. Customs off Fort St. George. According to y^e Kings order write an order.
10. The Phirmaush [farmāish]. Write to y^e Phowdsar [fauj-dār] there to Assist them on all lawfull & just Occasions.
11. The Plundering off Goods. According to y^e Kings order, write.
12. Fort St. Davids and those towns. According to y^e Kings order, write.
13. The sending Gomastoes [gumāstehs] to y^e arrangs [aurangs] with y^e Gov^{ts}. Dustick [dastak]. Write to the Duans [dīwāns] that they permitt them to hire houses or Ground, pursuant to the Custom off other places.
14. Showing y^e Originall Phirmaunds [farmāns] in y^e Dubar. According to y^e Kings order, write to y^e Duan [dīwān].
15. To have 40 Besgues [bigahs] off Ground for a Settlement. According to y^e Kings order, write to y^e Duan Suba [dīwān-i-sūbah].
16. The Patna House. Write to y^e Duan Suba [dīwān-i-sūbah] that he give orders to y^e Droga [dāroghah] off Hugly, to take care that these people be Favoured in any thing that is nott against the Kings interest.
17. The Madrass Mint.
18. The Hugly Darbar.

DELHI, JULY, 1716.

CSL

19. Ship-Wracks.

Write to y^e Phowadars [phowdars] and Duans [duans] that the Kings orders be complied with.

20. Muxodavad [Maqsūdābād].
Mint.

According to y^e Kings order write to y^e Duan Suba [duān-subāh] that he settle itt for y^e Kings interest.

21. The Companys Debtors.

According to the Kings order write.

22. Madraas 5 Towns.

According to y^e Kings order settle itt as in y^e time off Allungeer [Alungir]."

132. INTERVIEW WITH SARHAD.

"O. Seerhands [Sarhad's] Answers to some questions Asked him by H. Barker, who was sent to him pursuant to a Consultation y^e 15th Instant.

Quest.—Why he concealed this last progress off the phirds [phirds] from Mess^{rs}. Surman and Stephenson?

Ans.—Purely that they might nott become Malancholly.

Quest.—What was to be done in the present Juncture off Affairs?

Ans.—Bokechund [Bhog Chand] has promised his Assistance to make Antusham Caun [Antusham Khān] change y^e word Husbul Hooem [husbul-hoem] into that off a Phirmaund [farman], and lastly that we should have 2 Phirmaunds [farman], 1 Grounded on Azzimuth Shas [Azimu-sh-shan's] Nishaun [nishān], and 1 on y^e King off Golcondas Phirmaund [farmān].

NOTE.—Upon my particularly asking y^e method to be pursued, he returned no Answer to y^e purpose.

Quest.—What was to be done in respect to Suratt? Seeing Mess^{rs}. Surman & Stephenson are off Opinion, That iff a peescash [peshkash], nor 2 per Cent (calculated on y^e Choifs Invoice) can be obtained, That then all that respects that quarter be entirely relinquished.

Ans.—I am off the same opinion.

Quest.—On Consideration that y^e Great quantity off the Companys Broad Cloth may be some hinderance to us When we prepare for a Journey, Either on y^e finishing y^e buisness or a determinate Answer; doe you consent to y^e speedy sale off itt?

Ans.—I doe.

NOTE.—This was with some reluctance, he saying a great deal would be Expended Among y^e Mutsuddys [mutagaddis] instead off Money.

Quest.—Shall we acquaint Sallabut Caun [Salabat Khān] with our great disaster?

DELHI, JULY, 1718.

CSL

Ana.—Lett itt be desired till I have had A Conference with Autusham Caun [Itisām Khān] and Bokechund [Bhog Chand], when we may Act as shall then seem proper."

133. DIARY.

"Oojah Seerhaud [Khawājah Sarhād] and Mullookchund [Mallik Chand] having drawn up a paper importing that we were Surprized to See our Expected Phirmands [farmāns] turned into Husbull Hoocums [hasbu-l-hukms], That the delay in writing to Suratt would ruine us, and in short nothing was done as we desired, or had been promised, butt withall to beg Autusham Caun [Itisām Khān] (to whom itt was directed) to regulate the Phirds, [faris], and that Mullookchund [Mallik Chand] was ready to answer any objections, during Seerhauds [Sarhād's] Absence, who was much indisposed. This Mullookchund [Mallik Chand] Carried with him to Autusham Cauns [Itisām Khān's], who in a dispute told him we Could nott have the Phirmaunds [farmāns] we proposed. Mullookchund [Mallik Chand] then said that any thing Else would be off no Service to us. Bokechund [Bhog Chand] att this meeting seemed Against us."

"Mr Surman told Sallabut Caun [Salābat Khān] how we had been used, As Also blew itt Among his Servants that Since we could nott Obtain what we came for, we were going away. When this indireectly reaches Sallabut Cauns [Salābat Khān's] Ears, Itt may have some good Effect. Seeing itt will bring him under some Concern for his 35,000 rupees. Itt is to be Noted that Nobody Assists us butt for their own Ends. Great Rain for Severall Days."

"Such prodigious rain that about 2300 Souls have been destroyed by the fall off houses."

"Seerhaud [Sarhād] went to the Duan [diwān] iff possible to meett Caundora [Khān Daurān] and Autusham Caun [Itisām Khān] together, itt happened According butt the former made signs to Seerhaud [Sarhād] nott to speak. To supply this disappointment Seerhaud [Sarhād] went to Caundoras [Khān Daurān's] house, where altho he had time three or four times to repeat our misfortunes by the Duan-Colsas [diwān-i-khalisah's] behaviour, Yett the Nabob did nott answer so much as one Syllable."

Bokechund [Bhog Chand] says nothing butt a messenger from Caundora [Khān Daurān] can help us, so we beleive that what Autusham Caun [Itisām Khān's] did was by the Great-Mans directions."

DELHI, JULY AND AUGUST, 1716.

125
SL

134. CONSULTATION.

"We have for some time been informed that there was Such a person as Reykirperam [Rāe Kirpā Rām], who had a very great influence on Caundora [Khān Daurān]. This man Oajah Seerhaud [Khawājah Sarhad] recommends as the best person to be made use off in that house. He says he had private intimations that he offered to finish our buisness in a small time. Agreed that Seerhaud [Sarhad] goe to him and try what is to be accomplished by his means."

135. DIARY.

"Sallabut Caun [Salābat Khān] hearing (we suppose) that we were going away, lett Mr. Surman know that he was nott in Fault, Laying itt on Oajah Seerhaud [Khawājah Sarhad], butt in this Seerhaud [Sarhad] must be justified, and the Nabob condemned."

"Caundora [Khān Daurān] this day accosted Sallabut Caun [Salābat Khān], and asked why the Embassadour was disgusted, To which he replyed, that we being dung from door to door till our buisness was spoiled, were resolved to depart hence; Caundora [Khān Daurān] said he should make much off us, and that The King had spoke to him to hasten our dispatch—and att last upon the insinuations off Sallabut Caun [Salābat Khān], He Ordered the Phirds [fords] to be brought when Only they two would make An End off them—att the same time sending some frutt to Mr. Surman.

Sallabut Caun [Salābat Khān] acknowledges that the New Kirperam [Kirpā Rām] contributed to bring things to so Favourable an Aspect, and the best is, he does nott Suspect we hold a private correspondence with him."

136. LETTER XVII.¹

To the HON^{BLE} ROBERT HEDGES Esq^r
President and Governour of Fort William &c^t Council in Bengall.

Honourable Sir and Sirs

"Our last to your Honour &c^t was dated June the 24th, since which on the 17th July We have received Your Honour &c^{ts} of the 23rd and 29th May to which We shall Reply.

¹ This letter was read at the same consultation as Letter XVI.

DELHI, AUGUST, 1716.

CSL

We observe in the former part of your Honour &c's first letter it is supposed that We had flown to the Patronage of the Grand Vizier, in our former Letters. We have given your Honour &c a very particular Account why we did not follow that Method. We still have great Reason to be satisfied in our Conduct on this occasion, and do believe it must be used only as our last Stake by no means applying to any other person so long as We have the least glimpse of hopes to effect our business by the hands of Caundora [Khān Daurān]. It is certain your Honour &c have a very true notion of that Nobleman and is the same that the whole Court here have of him. There's no one follows and makes addresses to him out of love, but fear, and he serves us only as he uses the Rest of the world, with all those endowments He carries an arbitrary Command over all the Officers at Court, neither is there one in it (the Vizier excepted) that dares do any thing without first his knowledge and consent, if they Should, the presumption would be Repaid with the immediate loss of their posts and the Viziers chief Mutasaddis [mutasaddis] (Viz^r Duan Colsa and Tunke Duan)¹ are entirely under his command, so that the poor Vizier has but the Title with very little of the Authority; However having a very great mistrust that We may one day be obliged to go to the Vizier to try the Extent of his power in case Caundora [Khān Daurān] do's nothing for us: We have from our very arrival taken very Particular care not in the least to disoblige him, but on the contrary He is acquainted and (We believe) satisfied of our Respects towards him, and as He is not a little noted for being avaritious, We took care, whenever we went to him, Never to go empty handed, but with some little rarity or other, endeavoured to oblige him, which has been always answered with greater Candour and Civility than We could really expect. Our last Letters carried down a very pleasing Account of our affairs, which continued for some time, till at last all our joy came to nothing, and from the greatest hopes brought to the very brink of despair of doing any thing, to be brief Attesham Cawn the Duan Colsa [I'tisām Khān, the dīvān-i-khālīqah] signed our Petition as follows.—

1. Concerning the Bengall Cus. Signed according to the Kings orders, toms. give Husbahookum [hasbu-l-hukm] under the Seal of Cootbahmoodek [Qutbu-l-mulk].
2. The Bombay Rupees. Signed, make an Arrecco ['arzi].
3. The Thieves about Calcutta. Ditto, ordered Writo to the Phous-dars [fauj-dār].
4. Surat house and Factory. Ditto, according to the Kings order Write to the Phousdar [fauj-dār].
5. The Vizagapatam Towns of that place. Ditto, according to the Kings order Write to the Duan Suba [dīvān-i-sābah].
6. Divy Island. Ditto, according to the Kings order Write.

¹ That is, "the Vizier's chief mutasaddis viz. the dīvān-i-khālīqah and the tan-kā-dīvān." The tan-kā-dīvān was the second dīvān who held charge of the ājār or assigned revenue accounts.

DELHI, AUGUST, 1716.

127
SL

7. The Calicutta new Towns. Signed according to the Kings order. Write to the Duan Suba [dawān-i-sūbah].
8. The Surat Pieceash [pashkash]. Ditto, The Account of the 20th year not being to be found, Write to Hyder Cooly Cawn' to send it.
9. The Customs of Fort St. George. Ditto, according to their former Sunods give them a new one.
10. The Phirmaush [farmāish]. Ditto, according to the Kings orders Write.
11. The Plundering of goods. Ditto, according to the Kings orders, Write an order.
12. Fort St. David and those Towns. Signed, Write to the Phousdarr [faujdār] there to assist them on all occasions in any thing that is right.
13. The sending Gomastahs [gum-āstahs] to the Aurnangs [aurangs] with the Governours Dustick [dastak]. Signed, according to the Kings order write.
14. Shewing the Original Phirmaund [farmāns] in the Darbar. Signed, according to the Kings orders Write.
15. To have 40 Begaes [bega's] of Ground for a Settlement. Signed, Write to the Duans [duāns] that they permit them to hire houses or ground pursuant to the Custom of other places.
16. The Patna House ... Signed, According to the Kings orders, write to the Duan [duān].
17. The Madrass Mint ... Ditto, According to the Kings orders, Write to the Duan Suba [dawān-i-sūbah].
18. The Hughloy Durbar ... Ditto, Write to the Duan Suba [dawān-i-sūbah] that He give order to the Droga [dārogah] of Hughly to take care that nothing be done contrary to the Kings Interest, and that these people be favoured, and do accordingly.
19. Ship Wrecks ... Signed, Write to the Phousdars [faujdārs] and Duans [duāns], that the Kings orders be comply'd with.

¹ Agh Muhammad Riza, Isfahāni, entitled Mu'izz-u-d-daulah Haider Quli Khān, Bahadur, rose to be Mir Atash and was for a time Nāzim of Gajarat. On the 3rd Muharram 1128, which is the 28th or 29th December, 1715, N. S. and the 17th or 18th December, O. S., he was made Mutazaddi of Bandar Surat and Faujdar of Sorath in the Sūbah of Ahmedabad Gajarat. In Sha'ban, 1138, which corresponds to April 1720 N. S., a khush hut in which he was sleeping caught fire and he was burnt to death.

DELHI, AUGUST, 1716.

CSL

20. Muxadavad [Maqsūdābād] Mint Signed, According to the Kings orders
Write to the Duan Suba [dāwān-sūbā] to settle it, for the Kings Interest.
21. The Company's Debtors ... Signed, According to the Kings order Write.
22. Madrass & Towns ... Ditto, According to the Kings orders, Settle it as in the time of Allumgeer [ʿĀlamgir].

Your Honour &c^e will conceive how Strangely We were Startled at this news, when We had such daily advices from Seerhand [Sarhad] that all was done, nay to the very last, but what was worse than all, We received the papers out of the Ketcherry [kachahri] from other hands, which He owned afterwards was known to him 3 or 4 days before: The only Reason He gave for this unaccountable concealment was, that since Attesham Cawn [ʿItisām Khān] had so deceived him, He was resolved not to be communicative, till he had tryed all possible means to retrieve it, and by that means hinder the great concern and Chagrin that must necessarily seize us on such disappointments; We are unacquainted with what answer he can give himself, or our Honourable Masters, for such an apparent breach of trust, In fine, after this was publicly known Seerhand [Sarhad] frequently went to Attesham Cawn [ʿItisām Khān] who he now owns, told him that if We had a Phirmaund [farmān] already, We Should have another according to it.

We are very conscious the Phirmaund [farmān] We have is of very little consequence and hardly worth being accepted; to Receive Husbulhookums [husb-ul-hukums] would be a President that was never made yet, and would have a very bad influence upon futurity. Complaints were made to Cawadors [Khān Daurān] with as little Success as formerly, and likewise to Syud Sallabut Cawn [Sayyad Salabat Khān] from whom We expected little assistance: with all We were so bold to threaten We would leave the place, But since We were in hopes to Receive an answer from Your Honour &c^e in so small a time, We esteemed it most proper, not to execute so bold an Action (Whereon depended the Welfare of all our Honourable Masters Settlements in India) till We had Received very Particular instructions from Your Honour &c^e. We do beleive such an attempt might have good success, since they are sufficiently apprehensive, what damages We are able to do them at Sea, and We are assured it is only the fear of that which will ever bring them to a compliance, without any notice of the great Presents, that have been made them, and the long time We have been attending at Court. We desire your Honour &c^e will please to weigh every Step, We have made from the beginning of this Negotiation; We have upon all occasions used the Utmost precaution, and what We hope has been approved of, but at present We are at a Stand, the many and suddain revolutions in our affairs from topsie turvy, give us warning to have very little dependence on the fair promises of these great men, So desire Your Honour &c^e very particular Instructions in your first on all that We have Wrote about.

DELHI, AUGUST, 1716.

CSL
189

Not knowing what Streights We may be put under or how soon the King may leave the City, We believe for our Honourable Masters Interest, that the less goods are left in their Godowns the better, for We find the mutsuddys [mutsaddis] are much better pleased with Ready money than Broad cloth, since the vast quantity that has been disposed of in this City has made a meer drug of it For which Reason We have agreed and ordered Mr. Stephenson to dispose of most of the Honourable Companys Broad cloth, by the first opportunity at the market price, that We may be light and Ready on all occasions.

We have for sometime been told, that there was such a person as Ray Kirperam [Rae Kirpā Rām] in Caundora's [Khān Daurān]'s house, upon whose words he laid a very great Stress having oftener access to his private Consultations than any One else whatsoever, Our affairs at that time were so involved with Attesham Cawn [Itisām Khān] &c^s that We had not time to try him till now which happened on the following occasion; In our last Letter to the President &c^s at Bombay, We intimated that as they had orders from England to withdraw the Surat Factory, We did believe had the Cheif of Surat insisted more upon his departure, when his Stay was desired by Hyder Cooli Cawn [Haidar Quli Khān] he would rather than let them leave the City have wrote to Court about it: The answer to our Letter we here inclose by which your Honour &c^s will see, they did give orders to the Cheif of Surat, to reiterate their remonstrances to Hyder Cooli Cawn [Haidar Quli Khān], which had the desired effect, For (as We are informed) Hyder Cooli Cawn [Haidar Quli Khān] immediately writ to the King and Caundore [Khān Daurān], that Should they not be satisfied here, and leave the City of Surat, that Port would be Ruined, This letter arrived much about the time, Our last foil was given by Attesham Cawn [Itisām Khān], and We upon the new Scheme of employing Kirperam [Kirpā Rām], who has the entire management of all Hyder Cooli Cawns [Haidar Quli Khān]'s business here with Caundore [Khān Daurān] and the King; So having this plausible pretence to go upon, He very readily entered into our business, but as yet denies to appear in it publickly. This has been so brought about that our friend Sallabut Cawn [Salābat Khān], has himself desired that this man might be employed; In fine Ray Kirperam [Kirpā Rām] delivered Hyder Cooli Cawns [Haidar Quli Khān] letter to Caundore [Khān Daurān] and (as He says) to the King, which not a little Start[le]d the former and produced this effect, That when Sallabut Cawn [Salābat Khān] went the next morning to the Durbar, Caundore [Khān Daurān] asked him why We were disgusted, with the reason of it, Sallabut Cawn [Salābat Khān] answered that He had information We were preparing for our departure without any farther concern for the affair We came about, Seeing We had so little notice taken of us that the Nabob had thrown our business from door to door, till it was quite Spoiled, and He ought to consider that We were called by him alone, and till such time as He would undertake our business so far as to compleat it himself, Without flinging it abroad to People, who would not consult his honour, We would not be satisfied. Caundore [Khān Daurān] bid Sallabut Cawn [Salābat Khān] do all He could to satisfy us, and desired him to bring our Petition to him again, when only them two would finish all in a few days, and at the same [time] ordered a dish of fruit to be sent to John Surman; This new Kirperam [Kirpā Rām], makes great promises, how soon every thing shall be done, but withall will expect to be largely rewarded, as yet We are not acquainted with the height of his demands.

DELHI, AUGUST, 1716.

CSL

If this project answers expectation, your Honour &c^a may expect a flying Cossid [qāsid] to bring the good news, till when We have no further to add on this Head. The following persons having paid the summs under written into the Honourable Companys Cash have desired bills of Exchange of this Instant on the Honourable President & Council.

John Surman	4000 Sicca's payable to Mr. James Williamson.
Edward Stephenson	5000 Sicca's payable to Mr. Thomas Falconer.
William Hamilton & } Hugh Barker	7000 Sicca's payable to Mr. James Williamson.
Cojah Seerhaud	450 Sicca's payable to Bullean his Gomasto [gum-āshṭak].

We likewise drew a bill of Exchange payable to Seerhauds [Sarhād's] Gomasto [gumāshṭak] June the 14th for three hundred and fifty Sicca's, which was omitted in our last.

To all these We desire your Honour &c^a will give due Honour.

Enclosed comes Account Cash Warehouse Accounts Copys of Consultations and Charges General for the months of May & June."

We are
Honourable Sir & Sirs

Your Most Obedient Humble Servants.

JOHN SURMAN
EDWARD STEPHENSON.

DILLE
August 1st 1716.

COJAH SEERHAUD consents to the signing this General Letter.

HUGH BARKER Sec^y.

Honourable Sir and Sirs

Please to pay these Cossids [qāsids] 25 Rupees¹

HUGH BARKER, Secretary.

137. DIARY.

"For this four days nothing remarkable—Only that there has been August 6th. prodigious Rain."

"Caundora [Khān Daurān] narrowly Escaped being killed by a August 16th. Sepys Katarry² who wanted pay."

"Itt is rumoured About the City that we are going, which report August 24th. can have no ill Effect.

¹ Twenty-five rupees for couriers; to-day the postage would be a few annas, and the documents would reach Calcutta in less than 48 hours.

² A sipāh's kaperi. The kāṭari was a small kāṭarā or dagger.

DELHI, AUGUST AND SEPTEMBER, 1716.

CSL
131

This Evening Sallabut Caun [Salabat Khān] Carried Cojah Seerhaud [Khawājah Sarhad] to Caundoras [Khān Daurān's] house, where was held a Consultation on our phirds [fards]."

138. CONSULTATION.

"After a great many delays, Last night was the only time That
Dilly
August 25th. Ever Cojah Seerhaud [Khawājah Sarhad] could gett admittance to Caundora [Khān Daurān] in private, being introduced there by Syud Sallabut Caun [Sayyad Salabat Khān]. Caundora [Khān Daurān] was pleased to say he would now sign Our Phirds [fards], and make an End off our buisness, butt he desired that Nothing would be insisted on, that might hereafter call his prudence in question for allowing itt. To which Seerhaud [Sarhad] Answered 'That we should nott dare to petition for any Such thing,
That in Case there was any part off our petition, that was Either Contrary to former Custom or prejudiciall to the Kings reall Interest, we would waive itt, and that he was there ready to Answer any insinuations, that might be made to the Nabob on that Account.' The Phirds [fards] were then immediately produced and read over by Rey Reyon [Rāe Rāyān], who did nott forget to be as Ill humoured as formerly,
However, Caundora [Khān Daurān] was att that time better disposed than to be immediately influenced by him.¹"

139. DIARY.

"The King made Gesson² for three days—when Mr. Surman &c^a August 27th. visited him."

"Visited the Grand Vizier, When was Carried A Fine Case, Fine
September 9th. Lace and Ribbon and three pieces China Silk.
He is much indisposed, and we beleive will Call
Mr. Hamilton."

140. LETTER XVIII.³

To the Honourable EDWARD HARRISON Esq.

President and Governour of Fort St. George &c^a Council.

HONOURABLE SIR &c^a

"It is long since We wrote your Honour &c^a occasioned Cheifly by the little progress We have made in the Negotiation We have entered into, As We

¹ Here follows a copy of the fards signed which is repeated in the letter below.

² Jashan, rejoicings, festivities.

³ This letter was read at a Consultation at Fort St. George on Monday the 10th December, 1716, and is to be found in the Madras Diary and Consultation Book for 1715 to 1719, No. 87, Range 239 in the India Office.

DELHI, SEPTEMBER, 1716.

CSL

have from time to time given a very particular Account of the Course of this Affair to the Honourable President and Council of Bengall, without doubt you have Received the same from them upon all occasions and consequently the last which We wrote them from hence, will be communicated to your perusal. This dispar was occasioned by our having consumed much time and money, without making any farther progress than the many promises and Shifts of these inconstant Courtiers, which tended in the end merely to Show us that they were made to get the Present from us, and then for our business which We came about Shuffle us off from one to another, till being quite Wearied out, We should Accept of anything. We found the only thing that touched them was the apprehensions they had, in case We were Really disgusted, We might do them such damage at Sea as might by that means alone bring them to Reason. The Honourable Charles Boone Esq; &c. Council of Bombay advising us that pursuant to the orders they had Received from our Honourable Employers, they had withdrawn Surat Factory, and accordingly had given orders to Mr. Clarke &c. to Repair to Bombay, Upon the knowledge of which Hyder Cooiy Cawn [Haidar Quli Khān] the new Phousdar [faujdar] sent for them and with a great many fair promises, prevailed on them to stay till such time he should Write to the Honourable Charles Boone Esq; which occasioned Mr. Clarke's permission to stay till such time as they could judge of our Success here. We found this [the] fittest opportunity We could have to Startle our Patron Candora [Khān Daurān] into some Reasonable compliance, the Port of Surrat being immediately under his care and Hyder Cooiy Cawn [Haidar Quli Khān] the Phousdarr [faujdar] thereof, being not only a particular favourite of his, but of the King himself so that whatever He should write would have a very considerable influence upon our Success here, upon these considerations we wrote the Honourable President and Council of Bombay that it was our opinion in Case the Factory of Surrat was offered to be withdrawn under the pretence that We were dissatisfied here that Hyder Cooiy Cawn [Haidar Quli Khān] would be so farr from allowing of it, that He would immediately write this Court to give us full satisfaction Accordingly it happened, for Hyder Cooiy Cawn [Haidar Quli Khān] as soon as ever He had Received intimation of it wrote to Candora [Khān Daurān] and the King the ill consequences that might attend that Port in case We should leave it, and We at the same time took particular Care to let the world know our disgust here All this immediately reached his Majestys Ear, who questioned Candora [Khān Daurān] about us, and as he himself confessed, ordered him to grant all our demands, We were in great hopes that this would have been followed with punctuality, but instead of that to our sorrow We found the same excuses and Shifts Renewed, of to day and to morrow, it should be done, which made us conclude that now there was no other practicable way remaining but that most desperate Remedys which might have the best influence Vizt Actually to leave the City in a disgust which would make them beleive a Rupture might follow, but as this would have been a very bold Action in it self, so it might have very different Consequences upon all the Companys settlements in India, for which reason we did not think our selves sufficiently Authorized to put in Execution without first advising with those Gentlemen who gave us our DELHI, SEPTEMBER, 1716.

CSL

Commissions the Honourable President and Council in Bengall. We are still of the same opinion that in case they don't think fit to be as good as their words, that the only way to make them comply is to put in practice the methods abovementioned.

About twenty five days ago Candora [Khan Dauran] was pleased to admit Coja Seerhaud [Khwajah Sarhad] in private the only time that has ever happened during our fourteen months Stay here, he then promised He would make an end of our business, but he desired that nothing might be insisted on that might Reflect on his prudence for granting of it, Seerhaud [Sarhad] answered We should not dare to demand anything that was Contrary to Former Custom, or prejudicial to the Kings Real interest, and that He was there ready to answer any insinuations that might have been made to the Nabobs on that Account Accordingly our Petition was immediately produced Read over and examined when it was ordered to be signed as follows.—

Bengall and Beharr Customs.	Give a Phirmaund [farmān].
Bombay Mint, concerning the coin- ing of money.	Give Strict orders on the Mutsaddys [mutasaddis].
Calcutta &c. Rogues.	Give Strict orders to the Subahs [sūbahs] of those provinces.
The House and ground at Surrat.	Let them buy 160 beages [bigahs] instead of what they had before, give a Sunnod [sanad] from the Duan [diwān] for it. For the house, Petition again.
The Vizagapatam Towns.	Two of the five Towns being returned back, give a Phirmaund [farmān] for the rest.

NOTE.—The Reason for the delivery up of those Towns was the permission We had from your Honour &c. for so doing since they would not give others in their Stead and our belief by consenting thereto other more important Articles might be obtained for our Honourable Masters.

Divy Island,	Give a Sunnod from the Duanny.
The Calcutta new Towns.	Give another Petition to his Majesty.
Surrat Peescash.	Take an obligation that they are content to pay 10,000 Rupees Peescash, and give them a Phirmaund so that at this rate there remained only two things, Vizt having the Callicutta Towns entered in the Phirmaund and to the gift of the Surrat house, about which Candora promised He would speak to the King and then sign and deliver them, this has passed twentyfive days without either his speaking to the King or we hearing any news of the Papers which make us sometimes think that this was only intended as a trick to keep us easy, God send it may prove otherwise, If it should your Honour &c. may depend the news shall fly by the nimblest Cossids, in the mean time We waite with patience till We have Received an answer to our Letter to the Honourable President and Council in Calcutta.

We have had the best opportunity in the world of trying the sickleness and unfaithfulness of this Court to the last, they have nothing but their own Interest in view without the least Spark of Honour or gratitude. The Person that Rules this Court at present with an unbounded Sway is Candora Bahauder our Patron,

DELHI, SEPTEMBER, 1716.

CSL

It may be properly said he does what he pleases with the King and Government not only the Vizeir but all the Officers at Court can do nothing with the King without him, at the same time with this great Authority he is the most diltatory person in the world, hardly ever sits out to transact any publick affairs as Your Honour &c^y may observe by the Single opportunity that Seerhaud had to be with him during the space of 14 months, and so he serves every body else, who are obliged to sue for his Assistance, and although it is so difficult to bring him to do any good, yet mischief he has at hand, for he takes particular care to let them know the length of his Authority who presume to make their Addresses other-ways. The Persian Embassadour by his lightness of behaviour has confirmed the truth of this, Cawndora having particularly abused him He has Received his Audience of leave from his Majesty now these five months,¹ but as yet cannot get an answer to his Letter, a Receipt for his Present or what else He desires, and at present he is as near obtaining it as he was before to all Outward appearance, In fine the business of the whole Kingdom in General is dispatched much after the same nature and these examples very well demonstrate the looseness of the Present Government Our patience is almost weary'd out, God grant so much trouble and fatigue may receive it's desired Effect, which we shall think our selves sufficiently rewarded for so long and to us unprofitable Journey.

We are, Honourable Sir and Sirs

Your Most Obedient Humble Servants,

DILLY
Sept. 15th 1716.

JOHN SURMAN
EDWARD STEPHENSON."

COJA SEERHAUD Assenting.
HUGH BARKER Secretary.

141. LETTER XIX.²

To the HONOURABLE EDWARD HARRISON Esq^r. President and Governour of Fort St. George &c^y Councill.

HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRs

"Since writing the foregoing, is come to hand duplicate of your Honour &c^ys dated November the 10th as also Duplicate dated June the 19th. The Originals of neither being as yet come to hand, We Suppose it May happen by the miscarriage of the Kings Gusburdars [gurz bardāre, mace-bearers] or what other Messengers might have been made use of Seing the way from Madrass by Land hither is very dangerous.

For a particular Account of the State of our affairs We refer your Honour &c^y to our foregoing; We are not able to add any thing thereto.

We are glad to hear that your Honour &c^y have been so happy as to keep all Quiet hitherto, God grant it may continue.

Herewith comes an answer to the Letters wrote by the Honourable Edward Harrison Esq^r. to Syud Salabat Cawn [Sayyad Salābat Khān] and Zeody Cawn

¹ The rūkhast or audience of leave taking of the Persian ambassador was granted on the 5th Rabi 'II, 1129, which is the 18th March O.S.

² Read at the same Consultation as Letter XVIII.

DELHI, SEPTEMBER, 1716.

CSL
185

[Weyān-d-din Khān] We suppose the latter has been very particular in giving an Account of our affairs, he has but very little power to do either good or bad to our negotiation. If he had We have Reason to fear he would show as little Generosity as any of the Cast, who are truly treacherous and only observient to their own Interest.

We take particular notice of your Honour &c^{as} Observations on all that Relates to your Presidency. As for the first concerning the Madrass Rupees We find that the Mutsuddys [mutasaddis] were deceived in asserting that they were worse than those of Surratt. It would be sufficient if only the Grant could be obtained for it since the difference will be disputed in the Mints of Bengall &c^{as}. However should a dispute arise here We are sufficiently armed with reasons sent from your Honour &c^{as} and transmitted to us by the Honourable President &c^{as} of Bengall.

We Shall if possible get distinct Phirmaunds [farmāns] for Bengall Madrass and Bombay and to be effected without too much trouble, if not We Shall than joyn all together, taking particular care that all which is perfectly granted may be inserted. As for the rest, they will be in Sunnods [sanads] under the Viziers Seal.

Concerning the Vizagapatam Towns, your honour &c^{as} will perceive a clear answer in the foregoing, so that you may have Sufficient time to prepare for their Surrendry, when they shall be demand[ed] by the Government.

Divy Island your Honour &c^{as} will see is granted if our freind Caunders [Khān Daurān] continues but as good as his word, upon whom alone depends the good or bad Success of this Embassy.

We observe what your Honour &c^{as} are pleased to order how the five Towns Shall be inserted in our generall or particular Phirmaund [farmān]. We are not able to inform Your Honour &c^{as}, how that will be digested till such time as the Papers being to Run in the Offices when we Shall have a particular Regard to your Honour &c^{as} instructions on this head.

Concerning the Surrat Peeshcash and the Regulations of that trade which We humbly proposed to the Honourable President &c^{as} in Bengall, We shall not at present make any addition, till such time as what We have already Signed is Confirmed. If it be so 'twill be glorious to our Honourable Masters and to the benefit and Honour of the English trade in generall to that Port, so without doubt worthy the determinations of our Right Honourable Employers."

DILLY

September 16th
1716.

COJA SEEBHAUD Assenting
HUGH BARKER Secretary

We are

Honourable Sir and Sirs
Your Most Obedient Humble Servants

JOHN SCUMAN
EDWARD STEPHENSON.

142. DIARY.

September 23rd.

"Mr. Hamilton has been with the Vizier, butt has nott yett gott him under his hands."

DELHI, SEPTEMBER AND OCTOBER, 1716.

[illegible]

DELHI, OCTOBER, 1716.

137
SL

are already signed, we doe Esteem itt proper to deliver them into the Duanny [diwānī]; and that Oajah Seerhaud [Khawājah Sarhad] take the proper methods to have them pass that Ketcherry [kachahri] with all Expedition."

144. LETTER XX.¹

To the HONOURABLE ROBERT HEDGES Esq.
President and Governour of Fort William
&c^a Councill in Bengall.
Honourable Sir and Sirs

"Our last to your Honour &c^a were the 15th and 16th Ult^o. We are now to advise that after a great many fair promises Caundora [Khān Daurān] has in some measure been as good as his word, this Instant having sent us our papers Signed by the King which are as follows² --

The Bengall free Trade	...	... Signed. Give a Phirmaund [farmān].
Surrat Customs	...	... Since they agree to pay a Yearly Piscash [peshkash] of 10,000 Rupees give a Phirmaund [farmān].
Divy Island	...	... Give a Sunnod [sannad] from the Duanny [diwānī].
Bombay Mint	...	... For the Currency of Bombay Rupees, give Particular orders to the Mutsuddys [mutaṣṣaddīs] there
Calcutta Towns	...	... Beside the three old Towns, give them two Towns more to the value of 800 Rupees among the others they Petition for Surrat house and Ground	...	... Instead of what was formerly let them buy 150 beages [bīgahs] of ground and give them a Sannod [sannad] for it from the Duanny [diwānī].
		Write to Hyder Cooly Cawn [Haider Quli Khān] that instead of Exbar Cawns house he give them Another which after he has pitched upon advise the Court that a Sannod [sannad] may be given.
The Vizagapatam Towns	...	... They Relinquish two of the five Towns they have for the Remaining give them a Phirmaund [farmān].
The Rogues	...	... Give particular orders to the Subahs [sūbahs] there.

¹ This letter was read at a Consultation at Fort St. George on Monday the 10th December, 1716, and is to be found in the Madras Diary and Consultation Book for 1715 to 1719 No. 87, Range 230 in the India Office.

² This petition is entered in the diary on October 17th, under the heading, "The Second Petition signed by his Imperial Majesty."

DELHI, OCTOBER, 1716.

CSL

By the foregoing Your Honour &c^a will perceive that they are Signed much after the same nature as we advised in our last, only the Surrat house and Calcutta Ground which they seem to have Shifted off instead of granting as was promised. For the house We shall say no more about it and for the ground only just try if it can be obtained, or Receive an answer so as not to impede the going on of the business. As the Case Stands We hope We have a great deal of Reason to Congratulate your Honour &c^a (as We do) upon this occasion God grant it may be Seconded by the Receipt of Phirmaunds [farmāns] &c^a necessary papers to attain which our utmost diligence shall not be wanting.

Whether it will be improper to keep all this good news a Secret from the Government of Bengall and Surrat till We have secured the Grants here, Your Honour &c^a will be the best judges. We mention this for fear if it should be blazed about, it might Egg Jaffer Cawn [Jāfar Khān] or Hydra Cooly Cawn [Haider Quli Khān] to impede it, When We have the Grants it will be too late for them.

We are

Honourable Sir and Sirs

Your Most Obedient Humble Servants

DILLY

October ye 7th 1716.

JOHN SURMAN

EDWARD STEPHENSON

COJAH SEERHAUD, Assenting.

HUGH BARKER, Secretary.

145. LETTER XXI.¹

To the HONOURABLE ROBERT HEDGES ESQ^r
President and Governour of Fort William and Councill in Bengall.

HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRs

"We wrote your Honour &c^a the 7th Instant of which the Accompanying is Duplicate. The last night Cojah Seerhaud [Khawajah Sarhad] had an opportunity to be present in private with Caundora [Khān Daurān] Sallabut Cawn [Salābat Khān] being likewise there, who spake to the Nabob Concerning the Suratt house and Calcutta ground which were not fully granted in the Petition that lately came out from his Majesty desiring that if possible he would get it again signed to our satisfaction; Cawndora [Khān Daurān] ordered Seerhaud [Sarhad] to draw up another Pétition immediately which He promis'd he would in a small time get Signed and See us dispatched. We are too much acquainted with his dilatory temper to beleive him entirely, So Shall not waite the coming out of these Petitions but deliver into the Duanny [dimāni] those Phirds [fards] which have been already signed to our satisfaction that they may be going forward, and at the same time be endeavouring to get these Petitions granted. Should we particularly obtain that for the Calicutta Towns, very well, otherwise We shall make use of the Phird [fard] which belongs to the first or Second set, as We beleive

¹ This letter was read at the same Consultation as Letter XX.

DELHI, OCTOBER, 1716.

CSL
139 in for the Interest of our Honourable Masters. We have no farther to add at present but that

We are,
Honourable Sir and Sirs
Your Most Obedient humble Servants
JOHN SURMAN
EDWARD STEPHENSON."

Dilly
October y^e 11th
1716
COJAH SEERHAUD assent^{ts}.
HUGH BARKER, Secy

146. THE THIRD PETITION.

DILLY THE THIRD PETITION TO FURRUKSEER [FARRUKHSIYAR].
October 23rd
1716.
1st Article

"Concerning the Grant for renting the towns near Culoutta &c^t which have been long rented by y^e Company, The Kings signing was—That, besides the three old towns, they have two more, among those they petition for, Amounting to 800 rupees—The Awful presence, to which all people address & obtain their desires, is Exquisitely magnificent, & we likewise from far are come to approach his Majesty. The Whole rent we Agree to, that has been wrote according to y^e Conningoes [qānūngō's] papers. It is y^e Custom among Christians that in whatsoever place they have Factorys, One or two Coarce [kos] all round has been made use off, for Gardens, Out houses, to pass to and from during y^e rains: and among places rented by other Jemidars [zamindārs] Murder & theiving sometimes happens, Wherefore we humbly petition, that all those towns we have desired may be rented by y^e Company, That we may live, take our diversions, and goe and Come in Safety, without any other prospect off proffitt or disadvantage. Farther, by this means y^e Country will become more inhabited. We hope from y^e Kings favour that a Phirmaund [farmān] may be granted for those towns according to y^e Yearly

DELHI, NOVEMBER, 1716.

CSL

2nd Article

rent.—38 Towns—8121. . 8. . 3.
Concerning the Grant off the Suratt house, which had been settled for the English to live in, from y^e time off Jehaun-geer [Jahāngir], We humbly petitioned, that we could nott repair it unless itt was given us, being att present Extremely out off order. The King signed—That Hyderacooly Caun [Haider Quli Khān] should be wrote to, In the roome off Etbar Cauns [Itibār Khān's] house to look out for another, for an English Factory, and write hisher—Etbar Cauns [Itibār Khān's] house from y^e time off Shaallum [Shāh Ālam] was given to be lived in by y^e Dutch, we having nothing to doe with itt. From the time Above mentioned the Kings house has been settled for our living in, & for whose Yearly repairs we Sustain damage. We hope itt may be given us."

147. DIARY.

October 26th

"King Furruckseer [Farrukhsiyar] has forbid all Gentiles riding in pallankeens."

"Seerhaud [Sarhad] has had Copys of the Phirds [fards] with their signing by the Duan Colsa [duwān-i-khālīshah].

October 31st

The Suratt and Bengal Phirmaunds [farmāns] are passed, The Madrass Phirmaunds [farmāns] with many other Articles waite a Second meeting."

November 9

"Seerhaud [Sarhad] has now confessed, that the Seaw [siyāhah] cannot be given, without our petitions First going to the Vizier, and receiving his perusall and Approbation."

November 10th

"The Phirds [fards] were all [carried to the Grand Vizier from the Duanny [duwān], who according to his kind disposition, After perusing them, Ordered the Duan Colsa [duwān-i-khālīshah] to carry them immediately to the King and gett them Signed, which was done accordingly. For the Vizier as is usuall making a mark to petition, so his Majesty Signed his Assent to all that those papers contained."

DELHI, NOVEMBER, 1716.

CSL

148. CONSULTATION.

"Cojah Seerhaud [Khawajah Sarhad] having brought us copy off our petition signed by y^e Duan Colsa [diwān-i-khālīqah], we find itt done as much to our satisfaction as could be Expected—There still remains

Dilly
November 6th.

The Seaw [siyābah] for a Phirmaund [farmān], & y^e orders for y^e writing Sunnods [sannads] for what is nott Entered therein, to be received from y^e Duanny [diwānī], Seerhaud [Sarhad] informs us this may be done in a small time, for which reasons we delay our advices to y^e Hon^{ble} President & Councill in Bengall, till matters are confirmed by y^e receipt off y^e Seaw [siyābah] Abovementioned."

"The Phirds [fards] being come out from the King, were carried November 11th. to Emenut—Ray [Amanat Rae] the Hazurenavise."

149. LETTER XXII.¹

To the HONOURABLE ROBERT HEDGES ESQ^E
President and Governour of Fort William in Bengall. }

HONOURABLE SIR

"Being under a necessity of dispatching a Cossid [qāsid] account of Governour Harrison's Affairs and having a small matter of good news, I found it could not be omitted.

Our whole Petition has been signed afresh by Attesham Cawn [Itisām Khān] about 10 days agoe as well to our purpose as could be expected, but before they could proceed any farther there was a necessity to receive the Vizier's approvall, accordingly it was carryed there yesterday, and was received very candidly but pursuant to custom must again go to the King, but that there might be no loss of time the Vizier kindly ordered the Duan Colsa [diwān-i-khālīqah] to carry them himself thither² and get them signed, which was accordingly done, so I hope now they are pretty well passed, next Follows the Vizier's Signing, and then we shall get the orders for drawing up the Phirmaund [farmān] which as soon as received we shall Dispatch a General Cossid [qāsid] with the good news, and our Monthly Accounts till when I humbly refer and remain.

Hon. Sr.

Your most devoted Humble Servant

JOHN SURMAN."

Dilly
Nov: y^e 12th
1716

¹ This letter was read at the same Consultation as Letter XXIII.

² That is, to the Kin .

DELHI, NOVEMBER, 1716.

CSL

150. CONSULTATION.

“The day off the Kings jesson [jashn]¹ coming on we shall be att a pinch for a proper present on that occasion; and there being two fine large Lookingglasses Offered to sale, Agreed that Mr. J. Surman pay 600 Sicea Rupees for one of them, and that itt be presented accordingly.”

151. DIARY.

“Mr. Surman &c² visitted the Grand Vizier, who told Mr. Surman that all our business was done, Upon which the Duan Colsa [diwān-i-khālīshah] said we might have the Seaw, [siyahah] and goe about the Phirmaund [farmān] to morrow. Att this Seerhaud [Sarhad] replied There were a few small things nott yett adjusted, when Bokechund [Bhog Chand] went on, and said we wanted to have them in the Phirmaund [farmān]. To all which the Vizier Kindly answered, That iff they were small they should be entered out off hand, and iff large they should be brought to him and he would sign them.”

“The Phirds [fards] from Emenut-ray [Amānat Rāe] being by Boguechund [Bhog Chand] carried to Autusham Caun Duan Calsa [Itisām Khān, diwān-i-khālīshah], he was for having butt 4 Articles entered in the Phirmaund [farmān] According to the Kings Signing; butt by the perswasion of our Friend Bokechund [Bhog Chand] he att last Agreed to 8 Articles. After this Bokechund [Bhog Chand] Signed on the first phird [fard]-According to the Books-and on the Last made his mark. Then Emenut-ray [Amānat Rāe], dated the phirds (fards), and wrote on the back-For the Secretarys office-We shall now see what Emenut Ray (Amānat Rāe) will doe for us, For itt seems Easy (and Seerhaud [Sarhad] says he has promised) to Change or Alter any off the middle phirds [fards]. The King sett out in Formall Jesson [jashn] when Mr. Surman &c² carried a large Looking-Glass.”

152. CONSULTATION.

“Cojah Seerhaud [Khwājah Sarhad] has now delivered us from the Duanny [diwānī] The Seaw [siyahah] for a Phirmaund [farmān] Completed.”²

¹ Jashn, a solemn feast, an anniversary celebration. On this occasion the feast was the Idu g-zaba which fell this year on November 14.

² The details of the siyahah, or draft, are here given. I have omitted them as they are repeated in Letter xxiii. At the end of these details comes the remark, “For those that remain there will be orders given for the writing off their Sunnods (sunnads) in the Duanny [diwānī].”

DELHI, NOVEMBER, 1716.

CSL

We might have Expected the Vizier in whose power itt was, would have stop'd our buisness on this occasion or caused many delays the Sure way to squeeze a Sum off money, which must have been very largo. Butt he has behaved himself with far more generosity, Our papers no sooner reaching his hands, than they received dispatch; which encourages us to beleive he will not be hereafter troublesome.

Our buisness may be now properly said to have received a Good Foundation, God Grant a happy conclusion to the whole. Agreed That a perfect account be immediately transmitted to the Honourable President and Council in Bengall.

There now remains to bring the whole into Form, and as the wording off the Phirmaunds [farmāns] &c^r papers will lye in those writers hands, who are employed to draw them up; We are very well acquainted that money is the most Efficacious method that can be used; the Stinting off which would become now great Extravagance. Wherefore Agreed That Cojah Seerhaud [Khawajah Sarhad] adjust matters with the Writers off the Secretarys office, and those off the Duanny [diwānī]; That nothing may be wanting to have all prosperously concluded."

153. LETTER XXIII.

"To the Honourable Robert Hedges Esq^r Governour of Fort William and President for Affairs of the Honourable United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East Indies &cⁿ Council in Bengall.

HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRS

We wrote your Honour &c^r the 24th Ultimo in which we particularly recounted the State of our Affairs for that time, Since which our whole Petition, after some Strugglings, received it's Notations from Attesham Caun [Itisām Khān] the Duan Colsa [diwān-i-khalīṣah] and are as follows.¹

Bengall free Trade	According to the Imperial Order write.
Bombay Mint	... According to the Imperial Order give an Hookum [hukm] for the Setting a Mint.

¹ This letter was read at a Consultation at Fort St. George on Monday the 28th January 1717, and is to be found in the Madras Diary and Consultation Book for 1715 to 1719 No. 87 Range 239 in the India Office. It is also found in the Copy Book of Letters received from Mr. Surman etc. at the Mogul's Court, commencing the 21st November 1716, ending November the 16th 1717, No. 31 Received per Rannover 29th July 1718. This book is catalogued at the India Office as "Letters from Mr. Surman at the Mogul's Court to the Governor and President of the Council in Bengal, 21st November, 1716, to 15th November 1717, Home Series—Miscellaneous No. 70."

² This is entered in the Diary on the 12th November as "Heads of the United Petition signed by the Duan Colsa [diwān-i-khalīṣah]."

DELHI, NOVEMBER, 1716.

CSL

- ... According to the Imperial Order write.
- Surat House and Ground. According to the Imperial Order, write to the Muttasuddies (mutasaddis) there, that they permit them to build upon the former House, which is now granted to live in, according to the Indian Architecture likewise to buy 150 Bega's (bigahs) of Ground to keep Ships Stores in, instead of their Garden which they had formerly without the City, and was taken in by making the Wall, in this do not hinder them.
- Divy Island ... Write to the Muttasuddies (mutasaddis) there to take an Obligation from the English Company for the Kings rent (Jummah)¹ and grant them the Possession of that Island.
- Madrass and Corman- del Trade. According to former Custom that it be granted.
- Calcutta Towns ... According to the Imperial Order, Write. Note, this was sign'd upon the former Petition, wherein the King has permitted the Possession of all the Towns in case they are bought with the Owners Consent.
- Vizagapatam Towns According to the Imperial Orders give Seaw [siyāhah] for the three remaining Towns.
- Surat Customs ... According to the Imperial Orders, give the Seaw [siyāhah] for a Phirmaund [farmān] that they take a yearly Piscash [peshekash] of 10,000 rupees.
- Phirmaush [farmā-ish] &c. According to the Imperial Orders give the Seaw, [siyāhah] that Phirmaush [farmāish] &c. is pardon'd
- Phundering Goods ... According to the Imperial Order act, and according to former Phirmaunds [farmāns] give them the Saw [siyāhah] for a Phirmaund [farmān].
- Patnah House ... According to the Imperial Order write to the Duan Subah (diwān-i-subah).
- Madrass Rupees ... According to the Imperial Orders write to the Duans [diwāns], that if the Madrass Rupees equall the Surat Ones in Weight and goodness, for any Batta they must not be molested.
- Muxodavad [Maqsūdābād] Mint. According to the Imperial Order, write to the Duan Subah [diwān-i-subah].
- Company's Debtors ... According to the Imperial Order write.
- Madrass 5 Towns ... According to the Imperial Order, write that according to the custom of Allumgeex (Ālamgīr) it's granted.
- Fort St. Davids Towns. According to the Imperial Order, write.

¹ Jama, total assessment.

DELHI, NOVEMBER, 1716.

145
SL

Sending Gomastahs According to the Imperial Orders, write to the Duan [gumāshtahs] to the that it be granted, according to the Custom of Hugly Aurangs [aurangs], with the Govern^r's Dustick [dastak].

Copy of the Phir- According to the Imperial Order write.
maund [farmān].

Forty Bega's [bigahs] Write to the Duans [diwān] that where they have a of Ground to build mind to Settle a new Factory it be granted according Factories. to the Factories of other Places.

Hugly Durbar ... Write to the Duan Subah [diwān-i-sūbah].

Ship Wrecks ... According to the Imperial Order write.

Of these 22 Petitions 15 are as the King Signed at first, and the other 7 are what were re-signed, which we sent last down, so your Honour &c^y will easily Join, the King's and Duan Colsa's [diwān-i-khalīṣah's] Signings together, by which you may have a true Notion of the Affair. The passing of this great Gulph was very pleasing to us, of which we shou'd have given your Honour &c^y an immediate Account but being willing to see all thoroughly cleared from the Duanny [diwānī], we proposed dispatching all at once.

After Attesham Cawn [Tbiṣām Khān] had Signed the Papers they were ordered to be brought the Vizier, which gave us some Apprehension (as he had opportunity and Authority) that he might make some Exception, but it pleased God the Fortune of our Honourable Masters prevailed, and the good Vizier immediately Signed, and as it is customary for such Papers to be re-signed by the Imperial Hand, he considered the long Stay and Expence we had been at, and ordered the Duan Colsa [diwān-i-khalīṣah] immediately to carry them to the King, and get them passed once more, which was done accordingly at first sight, this last was a finishing Stroke, and in our Opinion confirmed all that was granted before.

The next thing was to get an order from the Duanny [diwānī] (which they call Sorw) upon the Head Secretary, who is to write the Phirmaund [farmān], the Vizier was pleased in our presence to order it to be immediately given us, we thank God, we have received it, the following things are ordered to be entered in the Phirmaund [farmān] according to the Kings signing, Bengall &c^y free Trade, Surat Piscash [poshkash], Cormandel free Trade, Vizagapatam 3 Towns, Madrass Rupees, Phirmaush [farmāish], 40 Bega's [bigahs] of Ground, Copy of the Phirmaund [farmān], these 8 at first appeared as allowed off by the Duan Colsa [diwān-i-khalīṣah], but Seerhaud [Sarhad] by means of the Duanny [diwānī] Writers, brought these 6 following, Madrass 5 Towns, Calcutta 3 old, and 38 new Towns, Bombay Mint, Company's Debtors and Servants and Shipwrecks.

We are now making the proper Provision to have the Phirmaunds [farmāns] drawn up, consisting of these 13 Articles, but as yet we have not concluded whether to have a Single Phirmaund [farmān] or have three, as the working of it may prove beneficial to the Interest of our Honourable Masters, that shall certainly be chosen, we hope our next will carry the Copy of it, as it is now drawn up, and that to arrive them time enough in Calcutta to be remitted home to England by the last Ship, which will without doubt be very Satisfactory to our Honourable Masters, the remaining nine articles which are not entered in the Phirmaund [farmān], we are to receive Sunnods [sanads] for under the Viziers Seal, and the Secretaries of the Duany [dawānī] have orders to draw them up, these may be finished in a Small time, but Phirmaunds [farmāns] being Subject to Several formalities, will be something longer.

¹ Siyāhah, a draft or rough copy.

DELHI, NOVEMBER, 1716.

CSL

We have received your Honour &c's dated the 24th September chiefly in answer to ours of August 1st your Honour &c's Opinion of what we then wrote is particularly observed, but believe that Letter was taken in the Strongest Sense, we never intended to put those Designs in Execution, without the utmost Extremity, and when no other way was left, or Composition could be made, even of effecting the half of what we petitioned for, it was this intention that made us write to your Honour &c. that we might be always ready Armed, and we do assure that easie Arguments, all the Presents you have sent, the vast Sum of money and time that have been expended on this Embassy have had very little affect on this Court, and they would have sham'd us off with very little, had not Hydracooly Caan [Haidar Quli Khān] wrote from Surat, that we would directly leave that City. Thanks be to God the case is now altered, as there is no such disease there can be no occasion for such remedies, every thing seems now upon a firm Establishment, it's true a few formalities may take up some time, but a little patience and good Bribery, we hope will bring what is happily begun to a Good Conclusion.

We have observed your Honour &c's Notations upon what was formerly Signed on our Petition by the Duan Coisa [diwān-i-khālīsah], among which your Honour &c. conceive where it is wrote, "write to the Duan Subah [diwān-i-sūbah] or Phousdar [faujdār]," that the business is Suspended for their Judgements, whereas it is quite otherwise, wheresoever the King or Duan Coisa [diwān-i-khālīsah] has wrote so it is perfectly granted, as your Honour &c. will hereafter see, when the Grants are wrote under the Vizier's Seal, they will be directed to the several Duan Subahs [diwān-i-sūbah], and those that followed them, that Such Petitions are granted.

It is certain our Stay here has been longer than could have been expected by any one, and thereby the Expence of this Negotiation much enhaunc'd, which we have endeavour'd to retrench as much as possible from the very beginning, we have nothing but barely what is necessary, our Account be our Witnesses and your Honour &c. our Judges, whether we have been guilty of any Extravagancies, considering the Place, the Number of Englishmen, and any attendance to make a creditable appearance at this Court. Cojah Surhaud [Khawājah Sarhad] says his Allowance is too small and hopes to have an Addition to it now or at his return.

Cojah Surhaud [Khawājah Sarhad] Solemnly protests that he will never mingle any foreign affair with those of our Honourable Masters, if he does he must be answerable for it.

DELHI, DECEMBER, 1716.

CSL

We have drawn a Bill of Exchange for 2000 Sicca's, payable to Mr. James Williamson to which we desire your Honour &c. to give due Honour.

Herewith come Accounts Cash, Warehouse and Charges General and Copies of Consultations which we wish safe to your Hands, and are

Honourable Sir and Sirs

Your most humble Servants

JOHN SURMAN

EDWARD STEPHENSON."

COJAH SEERHAUD assenting

HUGH BARKER Secretary

Dilly, November 21st 1716.

154. DIARY.

"We hear the 3 phirmaunds [farmāns] are done and Carried to Ecklaus Caun [Ikhlas Khān] off which Seerhaud [Sarhad] bro^t us the Copys and read them over.

December 18th.

All was as well as possible, Butt itt must be observed in the Madrass phirmaund [farmān]. Itt mentions we should be free, pay^s 1200 pagod^s. On Conditions that itt had been Formerly Customary. This was the article that Caused so much delay among the Moonchys Mutsuddys [munshis mutusuddis]. For we had no Sunnods [sanads] to Strengthen itt and only the King of Golcondas phirmaund [farmān] which is nott Esteemed here off Much consequence."

"Seerhaud [Sarhad] made some propositions to Endeavour that Divy Island might be inserted in the phirmaunds [farmāns]. Butt as the thing Appears impossible to us; We shall att present take no farther notice off itt, Yett in the mean time Seerhaud [Sarhad] has free liberty to make the Experiment."

December 18th.

155. LETTER XXIV.^a

"To the Honourable ROBERT HEDGES ESQ^r Govern^r of Fort William and President for Affairs of the Honourable English East India Company &c^t Council In Bengall.

HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRS

It is long since we troubled your Honour &c^a with a Letter of this Kind there being no great occasion for it but considering upon your Honour &c^a frequent Orders private instructions from the beginning and our own Honour we beleive it immediately requisite to display our Companion Cojah Seerhaud

^a Taken from the "Copy Book of letters received from Mr. Surman etc. at the Mogul's Court," mentioned above.

DELHI, DECEMBER, 1716.

CSL

[Khwajah Sarhad] in his true Colours, our publique Consultation Book and Diary will be found something bare on this head by reason his seeing and perusing the whole was unavoidable to let him know we were Conscious to all his Tricks and Villanies and to have pen'd them down in Publick might have made him desperate and thereby added fuel to the Flame with which he had been possessed. This has been Sufficiently remedied by our private Notations and particularly at large by the Secretary H. Barker. Twas these Considerations that made us conceal from him our knowledge of his Designs, past Transactions and Behaviour being truly satisfied that the day would Come for our ample Justifications, and the Villian be suitably rewarded, to this End we shall endeavour to sum up our Allegations against him with as much particularity as our Notes memory and daily observations can instruct by entirely waving his personal deserts from us, by his continued slights and abuses, and we take this Liberty to Assure your Honour &c; that no desire of revenge shall make us swerve from the Truth or by any feigned Story to aggravate his Crimes to be punctuall in this and that you may have a perfect Notion of what we're agoing to relate, we must desire that your Honour &c; look back on our first Arrivall at this Place from which Time we Shall begin our Intended Narration. It's likewise necessary to remember the vain promises of this Gentleman that all was to be done purely by his Friends at Court alone which without doubt was the greatest Encouragement for the Honourable President &c; sending the Present to his Majesty giving So great a Charge to Seerhaud [Sarhad] and the Promise of so large a Reward on Conditions of Success this seemed in some measure to be Confirmed by the receipt of those good Husbullhookums [hash-ul-hukms] that were sent from Court before hand, and next by the gift of our Carriage from his Majesty Upon our Arrivall at Court we dived into the mistery at once We found Seerhauds [Sarhad's] great Friends, such as Tackerrubcawn [Taqaarrub Khān] Cawndoras [Khān Daurān], Sallabut Cawn [Salā'ut Khān] and his Particular Friend Cojah Manour [Manavvar] turned into a Simple Armenian Padree and two or three sharp Rogues to assist him who having considerably choused the Dutch in whose Business they were imployed had laid a design to serve us after the same manner this scheem seemed presently broken for the Padree who was their Cheif discovered himself to be Such an Ass at the first few visits we were obliged to make that not we alone but Cojah Seerhaud [Khawajah Sarhad] himself was ashamed of him, and he who formerly extolled his Interest and Behaviour to Such a prodigious height was now perfectly abashed by such a mean disappointment add to this his extraordinary sottishness in being drunk once or twice daily with his disapperance which made us suspect much more and occasioned us to make a farther Enquiry when upon the whole we found he was a very lewd debauchee so not only a name to his gown but by his private walk to Brothells and such like places a meer Scandall to Christianity.

On the intended beginning of this Negotiation we find he has received orders from Cojah Seerhaud [Khawajah Sarhad] who sent him a Letter to Tackurub Cawn [Taqaarrub Khān], Abdoola Cawn [Abdullah Khān], Hosseinally Cawn [Hussain 'Ali Khān], Meer Jumlah [Mir Jumlah], Cawndoras [Khān Daurān] and Cojah Manour [Khawajah Manavvar] to inform them that the English had

DELHI, DECEMBER, 1716.

CSL
119

Present for his Majesty ready in Bengall: but being under Some Apprehensions of a Misconriage in the Business we were willing to have Some Security before they parted from it, that they requested to have a Husbulhookum [husbul-hukm] for a free Trade in Bengall &c^a sent them which if granted Seerhaud [Sarhad] engaged to have the present immediately forwarded that he would Accompany it and should have the Intire management of it himself, disposing of all at his own pleasure this project took in Some places and by the management of the Gentres with Monsr Martin obtained those Husbulhookums [husbul-hukm] which your Honour &c^a received and were immediately followed by Seerpaws [sar-o-pā] and Goorzebudars [gurz-bardārs] to receive and Conduct the present. Seerhaud [Sarhad] when in Calcutta had no reason to promise, that the Carriage should be given but having instructed the Padree to pursue it with this Threat the present should be forwarded on no other Conditions, The Vackeels [wakils] were all at a stand till by chance they fell in with Syud Sallabat Cawn [Sayyad Salābat Khān], Moer Jumlah [Mir Jumlah] and Hosseinally [Husain 'Alī Khān] leaving the Court at this Juncture Cawndora [Khān Daurān] became ambitious to show his Master his abilitys our present made a great noise at that time and was the more aggrandized by the Padrees folley who according to the humour he was in avowed it to amount to 15 or 30 lack [lakh] Rupees all which he wrote in a Persian Letter he had been advised of and upon Syud Sallabat Cawns [Sayyad Salābat Khān's] particular Enquiry into the truth of it he offered a note under his hand as an enforcement to what he asserted The old Syud [Sayyad] had too much sence to permit him however there was a Note given into the Consonmany¹ that it amounted to Lacks which pleased Sufficiently after the Syud [Sayyad] had satisfied his avaritious Tastes with some present bribes and a Promise of a Larger withall to have the entire management of our business he embarked in it and by his Perswasions prevailed on Cawndora [Khān Daurān] to do the like by this means his Majesty was perswaded to give the Charge of the Carriage blinded with the Prospect of so large a present at a small Expence The several Bills paid by your Honour &c^a and us with the Padree's note for 25,000 Rupees the amount kept Secret till our Arrivall were the only Friends Seerhaud. [Sarhad] could get for this, and the other Concessions above mentioned, indeed we were afraid of finding larger Sums so complied with this designing to Change the note which was afterwards performed, but with the Addition of more broad Cloth seeing they insisted that that note was purely for the gift of the Carriage when Cojah Seerhaud [Khawjah Sarhad] first began to quarrell with this priest, we were now and then diverted in the Padree's merry moods by his reviling Seerhaud [Sarhad] with his lying Letters, schemes and orders, particularly one which cannot be omitted, his writing to the Padree to petition the King that he had four Years ago brought this Present near Lahore for Behauder Shaw [Bahādur Shāh] whose Death interfering and Moezzudeen [Mu'izz-ud-din Jahāndār Shāh] having sacrificed all his Brothers he was resolved the Murtherer of Arimuth Shawn ['Azimu-sh-Shān] should never have the Possession of it, but that returning by the way of Suratt and from thence to ¹ The Khāmsamāni, the office or department of the Lord Steward, to which pertained all the store houses and magazines, the provisioning and supplying of the Court.

DELHI, DECEMBER, 1716.

CSL

Bengall, the Present was reserved for him alone This was such a notorious fact that even the Padree himself was ashamed of.

Pursuant to your Honour's &c's Orders some Time after our Arrival we began to discourse with the Padree concerning his Account that we might know how he had disposed of the Large Sums which he had received from us the Delays that here ensued made us Conclude that said Account was then to be made up as they should think fit among themselves The very demanding of it put the Padree to a stand for having other Scheems in his head he desigued by the frequent Management of the Business to have scotched of the Debts which his Former debauchery and Folly had led him into in this finding his Mistake he fell roundly to work on the Account as the only way to be revenged the first demand on us was for 1200 rs. which being rejected a month or two afterwards we heard to the amount of 7000 rupees and that the Account was delivered into Cojah Seerhaud [Khawajah Sarhad], we endeavoured by all possible Means to get Sight of it, but to no purpose telling Seerhaud [Sarhad] he would in the End be answerable for it and that the sum of 17,000 rupees could not be ballanced by saying the Expence amounted to 24,000, wherefore there was no other way for his own clearance than by Submitting it to examination this business at Last reached Syud Sallabut Cawn's [Sayyad Salabat Khan's] Ears, who taking notice of it said he always took the Padree for a man of Integrity but that now since he had made such Extravagant Demands there must Certainly be a piece of Roguery in it, and as it was Impossible for him to have expended near that Sum, so instead of receiving anything he ought to be swinged the Nabob's Mutsuddy [mutasaddi] Kirperam [Kirpa Ram] was of the same opinion Mons. Martin took Care to let us know that Liquor and a Common Strumpet who had culled him had Carryed away best part of the money all this when told to Cojah Seerhaud [Khawajah Sarhad] had not the least Influence For there was no Account to be had, nevertheless the Padree being in debt some means must be found out for his Rebut we then enquired of the Gentues that attended him and had the main Hand in our business (one of whom we had then Entertained) he was attacked both with mileness and severity to discover what he knew as to the Sums he could give no Account, neither did he know what Bills the Padree drew they being drawn and the Advises sent in the Armenian Language, he says he frequently advised him to give a full Account to us in Persians, as he did to Seerhaud [Sarhad] but without Effect In this he was true for when ever any Bill Came there was never any mention of [it] in Persians and only what we received from Seerhaud [Sarhad] that so much Money had been expended on such a business it is certain we hindered the Draught of greater Sums by refusing Payment to one of the first Bills. The Gentue whose name is Mittersein [Mitr Sen], informed us that what the Padree received here from his Armenian Brethren was in goods and not Specie so that as 1000 rupees was in his distress depreciated to 4 or 500 rupees ready Cash the debt with Interest and Exchange was on the Contra advanced to 1500 This was admirable dispatch, and what we Suspected to have some truth in it further he Confessed that when the Padree was in Cash there was always merry doings it being Supposed that the Gentue had given us some Information Seerhaud [Sarhad] for

DELHI, DECEMBER, 1716.

CSL
151

6 or 8 months has neither taken notice of nor employed him in any Manner of Business altho at first-picked out by himself as the fittest Person for his Assistance we have hinted above that on the Payment of any Bill drawn by the Padree Seerhaud [Sarhad] advised us that it was on such and such an occasion among which the bill for 2000 rupees was for a pretended Present to the King during the Jesson [Jashu] upon Enquiry we found there was such Design on Foot a Glass being bought for 1200 rupees whose intrinsic worth was 400 rupees besides some other small Things the Glass was returned being carried too late the other Particulars upon Examination of present Office we found delivered amounting to 500 rupees according to the most Extravagant Calculation This was a blot no one could answer the next thing we took in hand was what wrote down for Syud Sallabut Cawn [Sayyad Salabat Khan] he was as Cojah Seerhaud [Khawajah Sarhad] says Charged upwards 4500 rupees we received particular Information on this Head so do beleive 3000 rupees to be the very outside during this Intervall the Padree threatned to go down to Bengall where he would make his demands sometimes to Suratt and sometimes complain to his Majesty C: Hockauzzer with the plea of Charity pressed us very hard in the Padrees behalf but finding himself denied was not a little disgusted last of all C: Phanoose [Khawajah Fānis]¹ was Esteemed the properest man to work upon us but the Padree not appearing according to appointment that was laid aside also however this man when alone some Other day discoursed on that Subject in a method very foreign to what we had formerly heard, Viz^t something concerning Cojah Serhauds [Khawajah Sarhad's] Orders and Letters to the Padree which would have been further explained had not the Accidentall Coming of C Seerhaud [Sarhad] prevented it whether he heard or only suspected the discourse we cannot tell but are certain he has hindered Phanoose [Fānis] from coming any more near us, in short we have very good Information that Seerhaud [Sarhad] was liberal in his Orders to the Padree wherefore if his Account is extraordinary large he had Authority for the Expending it For the Honour of the Armenians in generall the Padree dares neither show nor publicly own it and Seerhaud [Sarhad] to screen himself frequently coaxes him with fair promises at Least, for we have been told the Padree threatens to advise the Church of it How this Affair will be Concluded we cannot judge but suppose the Orders will be at last prodnead and Cojah [Khawajah] Obliged to become responsible this is the State of the Case as it has hitherto reached our Knowledge and in which we have been the more particular beleiving some Day or another Seerhaud [Sarhad] will be called to Account for it.

We observed in a Letter of Instructions from your Honour &c^s to us that Cojah Manour [Khawajah Manavvar] is particularly recommended to have a great hand in the Management of our business wherefore we were to Comport ourselves towards him accordingly. To the Letters that were produced before your Honour &c^s as sent from him we take this to be the fittest opportunity to unfold the Cheat Cojah Manour [Khawajah Manavvar] had never the least hand in our business neither has he been any ways capacitated during this Kings Reign

¹ Khawajah Fānis was a painter brought from Surat to Court by Farrukhsiyar's special order. The Court Historiographer, Muhammad Ahsan, Ijād, has a long descant on the marvels of Fānis' pictures.

DELHI, DECEMBER, 1716.

CSL

He is one Thousand Munsab [Munsab], and Governor of the Tombs in Agra, but as he is in disgust with the Court Seldom or Never goes near it, its no wonder that Seerhaud [Sarhad] produced Letters from him seeing he had the Impudence to Confess to us that having all sorts of seals ready he could make Letters in what stile and from whom he pleased which he had often done when the Honourable President and Council were dispirited, there are many men in the World that have been guilty of those things, but very few who have been so enormously wicked and shameless as to own and defend it.

Upon due Consideration we found the Stress of our Business at first depended on Sallabut Cawn [Salabat Khān] which made us the more solicitous to oblige him and the old Gentleman being Jealous that we might make our Application elsewhere has kept John Surman in the best part of his own house what means did Seerhaud [Sarhad] leave unattempted for his remove affirming it not to lay in this man's Power to Effect our Business sometimes applying to one sometimes to another of Cawndora's [Khān Daurān's] Servants without any manner of Success if we desired him to go to the Ray Raya [Rāe Rāyā] or Nutnull [Nath Mall] whom we found to have obstructed the Business endeavouring to bring them over by Bribery he would make us fair promises but was sure to forget it when our first Petition was delivered in and by Cawndora [Khān Daurān] sent to the Duanney [dāwānī] records to receive its remarks, we Earnestly desired Cojah Seerhaud [Khawjah Sarhad] to take Care that what was wrote thereon might be in our Favour, to which he made the Accustomary Answer to be sure never fear, I will do it and at the same time never took the least notice of it yet deceiving us with some Story or other till all was Spoiled and then came with the Excuse, How could I help it the ill Consequences of this have been long since apparent to your Honour &c. Vize the weightyest part of our Petition not granted, and we led in a String for 8 Months longer which we passed over with a Deal of uneasiness altho no Stone was left unturned for our Relief All the Arguments Seerhaud [Sarhad] could muster for our forsaken [sic] Syud Sallabut Cawn [Sayyad Salabat Khān] provd fruitless now asserting his Incapacity and at another Time his Roguery these delays being only designed to squeeze more money from us then again that Cawndora [Khān Daurān] wanted a Lack of Rupees we had various Schemes laid for a new Pahon [patron?] nay he carried the matter so far as to Spend 7 days in drawing up a new Petition when nothing would Serve him but it must be delivered to Etmaund Cawn [Utimād Khān] one of the Eunuuchs and from which he was not easily diswaded in fine his being so very Pragmatical in such like particulars has given us more trouble and uneasiness than Cawndora [Khān Daurān] by his delays.

The Business of Attesham Cawn [Utishān Khān] presents itself next to our View, There Cojah [Khawjah] had a Sea of Durbar to swim in going backward and forward daily and acting just as he pleased for two or three Months together we had a Parcell of fine Stories brought us how that all was done that the Honourable Companys business was effected according to his Wish sometimes it was sign[ed] at others we should have the Papers delivered us and the Seaw [Siyāhāh] for the Thirmaund [farmān] without its going either to the King Vizier or Cawndora [Khān Daurān]. His daily positiveness made us look

DELHI, DECEMBER, 1716.

153

CSL

About we were told this being contrary to all rule and Custom was impossible to be done at this Court where everything runs in its proper and Set Chanuall if any of these Arguments were used to him against the Probability of his Storys he would Storm fall into a Passion and to be revenged of us Neglect the Companys Business for 4 or 5 days afterwards when our Business came to a Crisis in the Duanny Ketcherry [dīwānī kachahri] our Vaqueels [wakīls] one of brought us the Papers as they had been signed by the Duan Colsa [dīwān-i-khālīsah], had not this been happily discovered God knows what farther ill Consequences might have ensued for it is Certain Seerhaud [Sarhad] would never have revealed [it] so long as his Folly had any hopes to retrieve it and [in] the midst of this Affair Boguechund [Bhog Chand] the Duan Colsa's [dīwān-i-khālīsah's] Peescar [peskhār] discovered a very unsettled Carriage wherefore upon mature Consideration we found it absolutely necessary that he should be bribed the result of this was that Seerhaud [Sarhad] informed us he had made it up for 10,000 rupees but that Mutsuddy [mutasaddī] refusing to take the Note that was offered, caused us to Suspect there was not a complent Adjustment however his Superiour obstinacy prevailed over those Fears till we received a palpable Foil and then to his Former Exense how Could I help it they told me so the receipt of this disappointment and the Strange Carelessness of our Patron Cawndora [Khān Daurān] occasioned what we wrote your Honour &c^s August the 1st in which was a double Intention one to use upon the last Extremity, and the other to make Seerhaud [Sarhad] become more Subject to our Commands for altho' he might delay the business to serve his own private Ends or gratify his Obstinaey, yet the least Tryal of disgust in the Court must Ruin him past redress how unaccountably he signed the Letter we Cannot Tell but his refusing to sign the Same to Bombay was much more unanswerable this Shows the man and what little regard he has for his Word.

Your Honour &c^s will find by our Consultation Book what Vacqueels [wakīls] we brought with us from Patna which we designed should have been employed by, and received Orders from Seerhaud [Sarhad] pursuant to your Honour &c^s Instructions having used all possible means to accomplish the particular we found Seerhaud [Sarhad] Obstinate averse to it and altho brought to an open dispute your Honour &c^s Orders produced together with the absolute necessity at that Time yet Sooner than Show the least Compliance he under went a Protest as for orders they have always been his least Concern and for protest he did not Value fifty he has farther told us that if any Vacqueel [wakīl] was employed he would from that moment wash his Hands Clean of the Companys Business and we might take care of it our Selves our General affairs at that Time being in a most distracted posture we esteem it policy not to insist farther on this Occasion altho in the Right but rather Comply with an Obstinate Fool than by a Longer dispute render that irrecoverable which was before in so bad a Condition however to pursue his wonted Absurditys seven days were not elapsed before he pickt out one of the Vaqueels [wakīls] himself giving him his Orders and again in a Fortnights time Could not bear the sight of him one while his block headed Armenians were made vacqueels [wakīls] and swore to be the fittest men and at another Time Chubdars and

DELHI, DECEMBER, 1716.

CSL

Kishnugars¹ went down for which there was always an Excuse ready your Honour &c¹ must suppose us men of very little or very great Spirits to suffer all this without sometimes breaking out its true we were now and then over Come but then he took Care to make us remember it and the Honourable Companys Business was sure to pay a seven days Tribute to the Villaines Revenge, in fine none of our Servants were employed in any affair of Consequence and to turn them away such a distance from home would have been great injustice as well as wrong policy for as the keeping them obliged Seerhaud [Sarhad] to be upon his guard so he knew them to be true to us and did advise of all Occurrences that Came to their knowledge every thing carried this Face till the time came for our Papers to move towards the Duanny Ketcherry (diwānī kachahri) and writing the Phirmaunds [farmāns], and Perwannas [parwānahs] when finding himself at a stand he was obliged to call the Gentue to his assistance to make Choico of ours was to fear discovering what he wished to Continue a Secret and perfectly lay open his Indirect Practices besides your Honour &c¹ must know he mightily effects working miracles and making the plainest things appear mysticall only to be unravell'd by his superior Genius and Experience to supply this deficiency a Gentue of his own was provided whom he employ'd privately but that not Serving he was obliged to choose another of a great Rank who was ordered every where as he thought fit to us he often denied it and as frequently Said he would trust none of them this touching our own Vacqueels (wakils) very sensibly a heavy Complaint was made we found they had too much reason, yet as the Season was improper to take notice of it so we promised they should loos Nothing by their good demeanour and that a Time might be found to reward them which would redound much more to their Honour and Advantage By this means we pacified them who serve Chiefly for Spyes on the others Actions and in which his own Servants are of Excellent Service for it being Contrary to his nature to be good to anyone so hardly paying their Wages its not likely that he should by any reward secure them to his Interest.

It may not be improper to launch into the Story of the new Kirperam [Kirpā Rām], the Secret part of which is not entered in our Consultation Book this man was proposed by Cojah Seerhaud [Khvajah Sarhad] as a Sheet Anchor and the ultimate means to effect our business with Cawndora [Khān Daurān] and that he would give us our Phirmaunds [farmāns] &c¹ Grants signed and sealed in the Space of eight days and while this was promised with so much fire and Energy, poor Sallabut Cawn [Salabat Khān] must be laid aside as a tool good for nothing but blotted with the Characters of Fool and Rogue-Hydera Cooli Cawn [Haidar Quli Khān] having wrote of our design to withdraw the Suratt Settlement gave Kirperam [Kirpā Rām] an Opportunity to Speak of our Business we were of Opinion Seerhaud [Sarhad] was Convinced of this m[an's] feigned abilities by his Countryman called Hockmuzzar who represented him as an Instrument not only Capable to effect the Honourable Companys Business but very proper to be employed in his own private Affairs We at first Consented to the Pursuit meerly because Sallabut Cawn [Salabat Khān] approved it, and that he might Serve to Startle Cawndora [Khān Daurān] into a better opinion of our Petition,

¹ Chobdars and Khidmatgars, since-bearers and house-servants.

DELHI, DECEMBER, 1716.

CSL
155

but we were in a Short Time sensible of his small abilities to do us any Service and that our Chief Dependence was on the Old Staff Salabat Cawn [Salabat Khān] during this Project we were pressed to Come to an Agreement of what Sum we would give in Case the Business was Effectuated and to Perswade us to deliver a Note, All the most positive arguments were fetch'd that Kirperam [Kirpā Rām] had undertaken it would go thro' Stitch (sic) and was to have the Petition delivered him for Examination with abundance of such idle Stories, our Judgements were not to be wrong'd with appearances especially after so much Experience of the Person who gave the recommendation instead of the promised despatch of 8 days 6 weeks were elapsed without so much as receiving the Petition from Cawndora [Khān Daurān] may when the matter Came in dispute and the Concessions were made by the means of Salabat Cawn [Salabat Khān] he was not only absent but had just before declared he would have nothing to do in our Business till the Papers were Signed nevertheless Cojah Seerhaud [Khwājah Sarhad] as obstinately as ever asserted all to be done by Kirperam [Kirpā Rām] and that he would stop it till he was satisfied which brought us to the resolution mentioned in our Consultation Book September the 17th as this was to no purpose so the Close Vizi that the Phards [Farids] signed by the King should be delivered to him was more false than the rest, they being by Cawndora [Khān Daurān] Order'd to be opened in the Presence of Syud Salabat Cawn [Sayyad Salabat Khān] after that we lay quiet for some time but expecting a Storm from that Quarter we Soothed him and promised him a handsome Present for the Services he has done us altho he himself had not been so punctual to affect all by his own means these Overtures proved insufficient, for we were told he expected 10,000 rupees Affirming that he had done all and insinuations were made that in Case of our non Compliance he might feign Letters from Hyder Cooli Cawn [Haidar Quli Khān] which might have quite different Effects from the former Upon Enquiry we found these Storys perfectly Contrived to get a Large Sum of Money from us not so much for the Sake of our Honourable Masters as for the Airy Schoems of Seerhauds [Sarhad's] own Voyage to England this is the true State of the Affair at present what may be the Conclusion shall be duly advis'd hereafter.

We have just touch'd in our Consultation Book on the Projects of Cojah Seerhauds [Khwājah Sarhad's] going to England and there buying rarietys for the King of Indostan as for our private Letters they may have made frequent mention of it its now our duty to disclose without reserve what we know of this his dealing [P] Two Years have been a Continued Series of this light discourse what the King had promised e're we arriv'd at Court his Character to the King of England and what voyages he was to make in Europe with a long List of Rarietys to be provided and the great profits to be rais'd on that Account add to this many other Favours which he had to desire here This Relation was duobled (sic) to all the Courtiers and Eunuchs in the City with the hopes that some lucky Chance might carry it to the Kings Ear however being disappointed he drew the whole Scheme up in writing but would never Show us the whole having seen the Rarietys that are Contained therein we Shall repeat them as near as occurs to our memory Vizi a Throne and Chair of Amber, A Throne and Chair of

DELHI, DECEMBER, 1716.

CSL

Chrystall, fine large glass cont^s very Large looking Glasses China Tiles sufficient for a Palace a Mill to coin money costing 20,000 rupees which goes without fire or other trouble and the workmen to be brought with him, to bring Founders who shall recast all his Majestys heavy Artillery to greater Advantage and Easiness of Carriage to cast Mortars and their Shells bringing Engineers with them these are the Chief Articles of his proposition besides many other small rarities which the King may desire and as the prosecution of this affair will require a round Sum of ready Cash so he expected an order for the Receipt of the Hugly Customs and other orders on all Europeans for his Transportation and the English in particular for his return Seerhaud [Sa:had] upon his Arrival here finding his project for so much specie would fail raised another that might Serve his turn. The having a Present Sent to the King of England and Company of Traders with Phirmaunds [farmāns] mentioning Seerhaud [Sarhad] to be the Kings royall Merchant bound to England where he was to buy him rarities and that if any of those Goods were prohibited by our Laws they should be dispensed with on this Occasion he received Liberty to return and bring the above mentioned rarities with him on any of our Ships this is an abstract of what he showed us and is entered in our Consultation of July the 9th when We Wholly rejected it as having no Orders nor Authority from your Honours &c^t for our Compliance we have since received animadversions from your Honour &c^t on that head which were duely explained to him at which time putting on a Self denying Countenance he protested never to address the King or inumber our Honourable Masters affairs with his own this we know to be notoriously false seeing we are this moment Satisfied he pursues it and has delayed the Generall Affair purely on that Account he is frequently so vain as to tell us he is in daily Expectation the King would send for him since he is sure his Majesty is so much delighted with his Propositions that more than he can wish will be granted and then (Says he) you'll find what you have lost by not coming in with my designs of aggrandizing the English Nation and Company nay I am afraid the Governour and Council will force me to it at last and in the mean time you have neither Power nor means to prevent it we have hitherto found nothing Substantiall going forward all continues Wind Kirperam [Kirpā Rām] was the last Engineer whom we now find succeeded by Sallaly Cawn [Jalāl Khān] this man is to prevail on Etmaud Cawn the Chief Coj: to hatch his unnaturall birth to which end the Sum of 6000 rupees has been proposed The Cawn [khān] is a perfect Mogull and the Coj: [khajah] as true a Courdier wherefore till we see it done there is no Credit to be given and as yet it is not began we shall not want Advices and endeavour the Prevention should it prove the old Story nothing being more Certain than that the Consequences will carry more stings than appear at Present.

On the presenting our first petition Seerhaud [Sarhad] was very uneasy that we would not ask for 12,000 rupees in new Towns the Event has proved us in the right but his Superlative Obstunacy will never Submit to Conviction he draw up a Petition wherein he desired the remaining 4000 rupees for himself besides all

¹ Itim d Khān, the chief khajah or eunuch.

DELHI, DECEMBER, 1718.

CSL
157

Those which belong to Sultan Mahmud who he said was dead this Project delayed our General Affair some time he waiting with great Uneasiness an Answer to his Letter which he wrote Concerning that Zemidar's Ground [P] we Suppose this Pension is to attend the other and is as likely to meet with success.

Your Honour &c upon Seerhauds [Sarhad's] leaving Calcutta, gave a Considerable Sum to supply him with Apparell fit to make a handsome Appearance and Suitable to his Character besides an handsome Monthly Allowance for his attendance &c. Expences to what use he has and does put this money we are still ignorant, but for Cloths he has none that are tollerable the Seerpaw [sar-o-pā] which he has received being Excepted and as they are known by their Scantiness so it is very mean to wear them in fine he has been so entirely Scandalous in his Apperance as has been a Shame to us all nay our Common Vacqueels [wakils] make a much better, his monthly Allowance is managed with the Same Penurious Hand he keeps not half the number of Servants and these so hardly paid as few Continue with him 2 Months together We have made a near Enquiry into his Monthly Expences where we find according to the most Extravagant Calculation they Cannot Exceed 500 rupees Yet to us with a Prodigious Assurance he affirms that he Spends 1500 rupees and that he has a long Account to demand because the Batta of the Rupees could not be excused him, he has refused to receive his allowance threatening with much bitterness to draw bills on your Honour &c to receive Interest from the time his money became due with these and many such strange obstinate Humours does he daily plague us Occasions so very small and insignificant that any man of Spirit would be ashamed off he has got another very pretty way of perplexing the Cause and raising difficultys out of nothing Alliban Sultan and Bustums Affair at Surat was suposed would do us much mischief the business of Hossein Amidan and the Danes was to risque the Success of the Present affair we were told what Complaints were made to the Vizier and Orders obtained on Jaffer Cawn [Ja'far Khān] &c. but were so happy as to hear of it from no other hand however on the least offer to dispute Seerhaud [Sarhad] became enraged and imputed all to our Ignorance besides all this we were frightened with Hobgoblin Stories of Mr^s. Woodvill Captain Pennce's Banyan Sultan Surang and one more who would Complain against us here with the great Trouble and risque we should run on these accounts his Vain Lying is as bad the other way for besides his Voyage to England Sweden and Denmark he is after receipt of our Phirmaunds [farmāns] &c Grants to make them first Current in Bengall then to proceed to Bombay and Surat and afterwards to Madras in all which places he is to do the like giving the Houb^e Company possession of Divy the whole to be Completed before his departure for Europe may he asserts that in Case he does not undertake it the Grants will be of no manner of use there not being another Man in India who is Capable to perform it he Frequently tells us what great Favour he may expect from his Majesty in a Few days how the King is to call for him in the Publick Duan [diwān] and how great they are to be all Lyes forged that very minute so light and vain that we are even ashamed to repeat them yet are his daily practice in discourae.

DELHI, DECEMBER, 1716.

CSL

His pretended Knowledge of the Court and its Customs without being really acquainted with the least Title has been very prejudicial to our Affairs and we as often deceived as ever we trusted to it He never took the least Care to oblige the Mier Toosain¹ or his Assistance who are present before his Majesty which very much lessened the notice that might have been taken of us and laid us open to Insults which never happened when we took Care of it our Selves.

What proves most grievous to us is his frequent protestations never to take the least notice of any orders that may Come from your Honour &c^a or any other Settlement may not only profess but Actually to be as good as his Word as for us he has very little Uneasiness, will tell only what he pleases and take our Advice as he thinks fit.

These things added together we think picture out a man truly discharged from his Conscience Honour and Religion with the fear of Punishment for all which he has got some Convenient Logicisms For Religion and Conscience he believes every man receives his Reward and punishments in this world so no Fear of futurity For honour and a good repute that is as you shall conceive it saying all the world is alike outward show excepted and for the Fear of Punishment he ballances all by saying if our business Succeeds your Honour &c^a will never make an Examination into his or any one's behaviour if we fail then he for Persia and we where we please.

It may be wonderd in so long an Accusation that we have not described his embezzling any of our Honble Masters money or goods he has had but very little opportunity but we beleive he would not have Stuck at this could he have found a Companion in his Villany now is the time of bribing with ready money so if he has any such designs this is the Season to effect it however he can do nothing considerable, but it must reach our Ears and we shall note it down in a very particular manner.

Fearing we have by our prolixity trespassed to much on Your Honour &c^a patience We shall not descend to farther Particulars but only make some general Remarks It is Certain Cojah Seerhaud [Khwaizah Sarhad] was furnished with abilities sufficient to do much good among which was his Knowledge of the different Interests of our Honble Masters and what was wanting for the benefit of trade in India So our Petitions owe their Composing chiefly to him but that all is all the advantage that can be possibly reapd from Seerhaud [Sarhad]. He can never answer our Honourable Masters intentions as Vacquael [cākhī?] in these parts notwithstanding the vast Charge they have and will be at on his Account for that Business is purely appropriated to the Gentues without whom nothing is to be done However he has been so far from owning this opinion that bigotted to his own knowledge pretended Experience and distrust of their honesty he fell into uncommon roads and where [he] Continued through obstinacy till there remained not any glimpse of Success at least without a prodigious expence All must carry a deep Face of policy and 5 days protracted to 15 to make the plainest things intricate without any visible amendment but these actions have frequently savoured of deceit he having Sold our Honourable Masters to make the greater

¹ The mir toosah, i.e., the master of the ceremonies or chamberlain.

DETEL, DECEMBER, 1716.

159
SL

improvement of their Allowance We are perfectly unacquainted with the good he has done in Generall but do not question he has taken Care to call every thing his own and stand fast to the Old maxim alls well that ends well be it attained at any rate.

We humbly appeal to your Honour &c^a for Justice and desire considering [what] we must have all undergone for above these two Years what advantages lost by not having those opportunitys of trade to which our Service entitle us and otherwise what the least of us would have enjoyed had not we Come on this occasion besides the great Expence we have been obliged to be at out of our own Pockets for apparell &c^a [at] this dear Court and without which we should have made but indifferent Representatives of our Country in so pompous an Assembly So much going out of one hand and so little coming into the other will make a Ballance on the wrong side of our Stouk if not reimbursed by your Honour &c^a as well for our Loss of Time as for Expences and insted of Cojah Seerhauds [Kiwajah Sarhad's] Lock of Rupees the only reward we want is that your Honour &c^a are satisfied with our behaviour and will give us a pla[ndit] as good Actors which being what we hoped for has encouraged [us to] pursue this negotiation thro' so many troublesome tra[cks] and windings now So near its desired End. God grant that all may be concluded to the Glory and Honour of our Nation and Interest of our Masters are the hearty desires of

Honourable Sir and Sirs

Your most obedient Humble Servants

JOHN SURMAN

EDWARD STEPHENSON

HUGH BARKER

THOMAS PHILLIPS."

Transcribed by THOMAS MOORE.

Examined by JOHN DIX.

Dilly

December 20th 1716.

156. DIARY

D cember 25th

"This being Christmasday an Entertainment made for all the Christians in the Court."

157. CONSULTATION.

"The King has ordered his Tents out off the City, and gives out that he proceeds to them himself tomorrow with an intention to hunt. As yett we see no

December 27th

absolute necessity to Follow him and thereby Enhance our Expences, butt having Tents and Camells ready Agreed that they be sent out,
And what small addition of Servants are necessary that they be taken in."

DELHI, DECEMBER, 1716.

158. LETTER XXV.

CSL

"To the Honourable ROBERT HEDGES Esq^r Governour of Fort William and President for Affairs of the Honourable united Company of Merchants of England trading to the East Indies &c^a Council in Bengall.

"Honourable Sir and Sirs

Our last to your Honour &c^a was the 21st Ult. we were in hopes much sooner than this to have repeated the Good News but the Strange dilatoriness that attends all manner of business here has kept us also at a Snails Pace, so that we fear the present Cossids [qāṣids] will not be able to reach your last Europe Dispatches, however the three Phirmaunds [fārmāns] for Bengall Madras and Surat, being drawn up in the Secretary's Office and approved of by the Meer Monchoo,² by whom they were sent in to his Majesty for his Approbation likewise, we have taken Copies thereof and now send them for your Honour &c^a's Perusal, it being already finished by all the under Mutsuddies [mutasaddis] we are under no Apprehensions of any Alterations to our Disadvantage. As soon as it pleases God that they come out Signed by his Majesty, we shall take care to dispatch the Good news with the greatest Expedition, but not expecting it to reach the Bengall Shipping, we do at this time dispatch the same good news with Copies of the Phirmaunds (fārmāns) to the Honourable the President and Council of Bombay, in hopes that a Conveyance may be met with from that Quarter. So soon as these Papers come out approved by his Majesty they will be wrote over fair, then carried to the Vizier for his Seal, and lastly to the Office where they will receive his Majesty's great Seal.

The Duanny [dawānī] Sunuds are all wrote over fair, but not yet Signed by the Duan Colsa [dawān-i-khālīshāh], we don't remit their Copies, besides their not being of so great Consequence.

The Kings Tents are gone out of the City to morrow is the day appointed for his Majesty to follow them the report is he goes to Hunt where he went last Season, this will add something to the natural delays of this Court, but the seeming good Posture of our Affairs at present give us courage to pursue a Glorious Conclusion with our Accustomary Patience.

November 29th came to hand your Honour &c^a's of date October 30th with the enclosed Paragraphs of a Letter from Fort St George, we find the Strange Slowness of our Cossids (qāṣids) has occasioned your Honour &c^a to be longer in those melancholly Apprehensions than the real cause of our Affairs would allow, so that Letter requires no farther answer than a reference to our Dispatches since that time for better news.

Four Months are now elapsed Since Cojah Seerhaud [Khwājah Sarhad] refused to take his monthly Allowance, by reason he would not suffer the batta

¹ This letter was read at a Consultation at Fort St George on Monday the 4th March, 1717, and is to be found in the Madras Diary and Consultation Book for 1716 to 1718, No. 87, Range 239 in the India Office. It also occurs in the "Copy Book of letters received from Mr Surman etc. at the Mogul's Court" mentioned above, I. O., Houte Series. Miscellaneous No. 70.

² The mīr mūnshi, i.e., the person charged with drafting formal letters and commands.

DELHI, DECEMBER, 1716.

CSL
161 to be cut on Allungeery (Alangiri) rupees, yet lately he has received his money, and we have agreed to refer this Affair to the Decision of your Honour &c.

John Surman having Paid the Sum of twenty Seven thousand Siccas into the Honourable Company's Cash Account the Honourable Edward Harrison Esq^r. we have given him a Bill of Exchange the 22nd Inst. payable to the Honourable Robert Hedges Esq^r and Mr. Henry Frankland which we hope your Honour &c. will duely Honour.

Enclosed comes Accounts Cash, Warehouse and Charges General with Copies of Consultations for the last Month.

We are

Honourable Sir and Sirs

Your most obedient humble Servants."

Dilly Dec^r 27th 1716.

HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRS

The foregoing is Copy of what we wrote your Honour &c. Yesterday. The Cossids [qāsids] that carried it are just now returned, being plundered of their Letters &c. by some Mewatties about 15 Coss off this Place, for which reason not to delay them any longer we immediately dispatch them again, and do enclose other Copies of the Phirmaunds [farmāns] which we hope will meet with better fortune. Copies of our Accounts &c. we hope to dispatch in a few days, with the Good news of the Kings having approved the Phirmaunds [farmāns].

We are, Honourable Sir and Sirs

Your most obedient humble Servants

Dilly Dec^r 28th 1716.

COJAH SEERHAUD assenting

H. BARKER Secretary.

JOHN SURMAN

EDWARD STEPHENSON."

159. LETTER XXVII^l.

"HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRS

We wrote your Honour &c. the 27th enclosing Copies of the Phirmaunds [farmāns] our Account &c. of which the Cossids [qāsids] being Plundered we dispatcht a Duplicate with another set of Phirmaunds [farmāns] the 28th of both which the foregoing are Copies.

This chiefly Serros to impart the Good news to which we your Honour &c. received last night from the Camp by Cojah Surhand [Khawājah Sarhad], that the King had Signed the Phirmaunds [farmāns] which came out sometime yesterday. That ten of the Sannods [sannads] are Signed by the Duan Coisa [dīwān-i-khālīqah] and sent to the Vister for his Seal, the others which remain are expected to be in the same forwardness a few days hence.

Enclosed comes Account Cash, Warehouse Charges general and Copies of the Consultations, all which were before lost, with both Copies of the Phirmaunds [farmāns].

We are

Honourable Sir and Sirs

Your most obedient humble Servants

Dilly Dec. 31st 1716.

JOHN SURMAN

EDWARD STEPHENSON."

C. SEERHAUD

HUGH BARKER, Sec^y.

¹ Read at the same Consultation as Letter XXV.

DELHI, JANUARY, 1717.

CSL

160. DIARY.

January 3rd 17¹⁶/₁₇.

"Mr. Surman &c² went to the Camp, and Salamed to the King upon his March to Polta.¹

Syud Caun Jaun² was dispatched hence to Assist against the Jants, and Naur Caun³ to Bring Raja Adjetseen to Court."

161. THE THREE FARMĀNS.

"A Translate off three Phirmaunds [farmāns] Granted to the Right

Dilly, January 17¹⁶/₁₇.

Hon^b English East India Company for a free trade By Furruckseer [Farrukhsiyar] King off

Indostan.

162. BENGALL BEHAR AND ORIXA.

To all Governours and their Assistants, Jaggeordars [jāgīrdars] Phowdsars [faujdārs], Corrorys [krōri],⁴ Guards on y^e roads & rivers, and Semidars [zamindārs], off y^e Subaships off Bengall, Behar and Orixā, that Are att present and shall be hereafter, The Port off Hugly &c² ports off these Subaships. Lett them live always in hopes off the Kings Favour, and by these presents know That att this time off conquest and being conquerour Mr. John Surman and Cojah Seerhaud [Khawājah Sarhad] Factors to y^e English Company have humbly petitioned to the throne off Justice that according to y^e Nishaun [nishān] off him who is pardoned and has power in heaven, pleased with y^e Love off God, The Saintlike King who is in heaven The will off God is great and so is y^e word, (Azzimuth Shaun)

¹ Mirzā Muhammad says Farrukhsiyar started, on the 7th January 1717 N. S. (27 Dec. 1716 O. S.) and camped at Masjid Mochiyat. Polta probably is meant for Pālam, a small place about 12 miles S. W. of Dillī, to which Kāmwar Khān says the expedition proceeded. It figures in the saying which satirized the pompons titles of the emperors in their decadence. Shāh-i a'lam, az Dillī tā Pālam—"Lord of the World, as far as Pālam."

² Sayyad Muzaffar Khān Barhah, maternal uncle of 'Abdullah Khān, the vizier, had lately been created Sayyad Khān Jahan. The date of his despatch according to the Persian historians was the 30th Mubarram 1129 H. i.e. 3rd Jan 1717. He had been summoned from Ajmer where he was governor. He died while in charge of the Dillī qiblah on the 12th Shawwāl 1132 H. i.e. 6th August, 1720.

³ Nāhdar Khān was believed to have great influence with Ajit Singh. The rajah had employed his good offices three or four years before in securing terms from Husain 'Ali Khān when Mārwar was invaded. Apparently he was a Sheikhzādah of Hānat. He was sent a faujdar of Sāmbhar and dewan of Ajmer on the 29th Safar 1135 H. i.e. 25th November, 1722. Shortly afterwards he was basely murdered with twenty five others by Ajit Singh on the 25th Rabi 'I 1135 H. i.e. 27th December, 1722, and his camp was plundered.

⁴ Krōri, the Fāmil-guzār of the Āin-i-Albārī (II, 43, Jarrett), a collector of revenue, subsequently styled krōri, see H. M. Elliot, "Supplemental Glossary," p. 235 s. v. Croree. "Guards on ye roads and rivers" represent rāidars and guarabans of the Persian original.

DELHI, JANUARY, 1717.

CSL
163

[‘Azimu-sh-shān],¹ & Sunnods [sanads] formerly received; Custom is pardoned the English Company, the port off Suratt Excepted. In y^o port off Hugly a peeshcash (peshkash) off 3000 Rs. is paid into y^o Kings treasury in lieu off Customes. They petition that according to former Sunnods [sanads] they may be favoured with y^o Kings Phirmaund [farmān]. The universall Commander gives this particular order which y^o world Obeys “That all goods and necessarys which their Factors off the Subaships, ports and round About, bring or carry away “Either by land or water, Know they are Custom free, That they buy “and Sell att their pleasure. Take the Accustomary 3000 Rupees and “demand no more on Any Account and liff att any time or place their “Goods should be stole, Endeavour to find them out, punishing the theif “and returning them to their due owner, and In their Settling Factorys “att any place, their Goods and Necessarys, buying and Selling, Lett “them be assisted according to Justice, That iff any Merchants Weavers “or others become Debtors, they pay their Factors their due according to “a Just Account, nott suffering any one to hurt or Injure said Factors, “and for the Customes on Wood (Outborrah) &c^t that no one molest “their boates or those hired by them.” They Still petition the Clean [clear?] high and lofty throne “That in y^o Subaships and Duannys [dāwāns] The Originall Sunnods [sanads] are demanded, and that others be given thereby Itt is nott Feasable to produce y^o Originalls in Every place.” We desire that a Copy under y^o Cozzys [qāzi’s] Seal be allowed off; y^o originalls nott being demanded; nor we forced to receive others thereby from y^o Subah, In Oulcutta there is a settled Factory off the Companys. The renting off Oulcutta, Sootalooty, and Govindpore In y^o Pergunnas Ameerabad &c^t in y^o Subaship off Bengall, bought from y^o Jemidars [samindārs], was formerly granted them 1195-6 the Yearlyrent being paid into the Kings treasury. They desire that 38 towns, rent 8121-8 near those Abovementioned may be granted them and that the yearly rent be duely paid into y^o treasury. The most Just order is given “That “the Copy under y^o Cheif Cozzys (qāzi’s) Seal be Suffioient. “That the towns already bought doe remain in their possession “according to former Custom, and that the renting off y^o Adjacent “towns is granted, they being bought from y^o Owners, and then “permission given by the Subah and Duan [dācān].” They Farther petition that from y^o reign off Allumgeer [Ā’lāmgiir] The treasurys off other Subaships take discompt upon Siccas made att Madrass.

¹ That is, the Emperor's father.

DELHI, JANUARY, 1717.

CSL

The Silver off those Rupees is now the same with that off Suratt, by which they Sustain loss. They desire y^e Kings Order may be given That in Case y^e Coin is off the same fine[n]ess with that off Suratt and other places, they be nott troubled for any discompt. If any off y^e Company's Servants become Debtors, and Endeavour to run away, to See them delivered to y^e Cheif off y^e Factory, and By reason off Customes off Phowsdarry [faujdarī] &c. that is forbid The Companys Gomastoes [gumāstahs] and Servants are very much troubled, please to pardon itt. The Imperiall order is strictly given, "That from the 5th Year off this Glorious reign¹ "if the Silver coined att Madrass be as good as that coined att the "Port off Suratt doe nott demand any discompt, and whomsoever "off y^e Companys Servants being Debtors want to run Away "that they be Seized and delivered to y^e Cheif off the Factory. Forthat "which is forbid (aboh Memnawa) [abwāb-i-mamnū'ah] Phowsdarry "[faujdarī] &c. doe nott molest them for itt." They likewise petition That y^e Company having Settled Factorys in Bengall Behar and Orixa doe design to Settle others and accordingly desire that in any place where a Factory shall be appointed 40 beagnes [bāghs] off Ground be Granted from the King for that use. That att Sometimes Ships are Obliged by Storms and winds to run Ashore and are wreckt. The Governours off ports injuriously Seize upon y^e Goods and att some places demand y^e fourth part. In the Island off Bombay belonging to y^e English European Coin is Currant, That according to y^e Custom off Madrass they may coin Siceas. The Order which all ought and doe obey is given. "That according to y^e Custom off other Factorys in "other Subaships Execute itt. That these people have dealings at all "ports and att this Court having very favourable Phirmaunds "[farmāns] Granted in which Custom is Excused. Take particular "Care off all wrecks and goods so lost by Storm belonging to them, "and In y^e Island off Bombay if the Siceas be coined According to "y^e Siceas off Indostan Lett them pass Currant."

To all these grants according to this Phirmaund [farmān] which is Enlightned, "Obey forbear and forbear to act contrary to y^e "Imperiall and Strict order, Nor Every Year demand A New Sunnod "[sannad]. Off this take particular Notice.—The 4th day off Suffur

¹ The 5th year began on the 1st Rabi'ī, 1128 H., equivalent to the 13th February, 1715
O. S.

DELHI, JANUARY, 1717.

165
SL

"[Safar].—God has finished with Glory & Success—In y^e 5th Year off this Glorious Reign."

163. HYDERABAD [HAIDARĀBĀD].

"To All Governours &c^s Jaggeerdars [jāgirdārs], Phowdars [faujdārs], Currorys (kroris), To All Guards by land and water; To all Jemidars [zamindārs]; who are and shall be hereafter off the Subaship of Hyderabad (Haidarābād); Be always in hopes off the Kings favour, and by these presents know that att this time off conquest and being Conquerour Mr. John Surman and C. Scerhaud [Khwājah Sarhad] Factors to y^e English Company by y^e meanes off the Approachers off that throne whose foundation is as Stable and unmoveable as the firmament, have made their petition to the Clean, high, and Loffy presence. That in the whole Subaship off Hyderabad [Haidarābād] the Companys trade is Custom-Free, and Att Chinapatam (Madrass) They pay 1200 Pagodas yearly into y^e Kings treasury, Desire to have itt according to Custom, and that they be favoured with the Kings Phirmaund [farmān] for itt. According to y^e Kings books itt is known, and is petitioned for, That they pay y^e Above-mentioned Summ into y^e Kings Treasury. The order which all doe and ought to obey is strictly given "That according to former Custom doe, That all Goods and necessarys off their Factorys att y^e ports off the Subaship, and round About be brought and Carryed Away Either by land "or Water: Know that y^e Custom is pardoned. That they buy and "sell att their pleasure. Att Chinapatam according to Custom take "1200 Pagodas, besides this demand no more on Any Account. Iff "att any time or place Any off the English Goods are lost, Use your "Endeavour to find them punishing y^e Robber and returning y^e Goods "to their true Owner. In their Settling Factorys att all places, In their "Goods and necessarys, buying and Selling, You Assist them on "all Just accounts and Iff any Merchants or Others become Debtors, "According to a true adjustment pay their Factors their due, and nott "Suffer any one to hurt or Injure Said Factors." They also petition for the Imperiall Assent That in y^e war off Chingee [Jinji] 5 towns were given y^e Company As A Gratuity by King Aurungzebe for Conveying off Ammunition and provisions into y^e Kings Camp, Purwatore &c^s, which they possessed for a long time. Itt is now 3 Years

¹ The 4th Safar of the 5th year, 1129 H., corresponds to 7th January 1717 O. S. The same date is given in Fraser "Nadir Shah," p. 53. In the Orme collections one farmān is dated 27th Muharram or seven days earlier.

DELHI, JANUARY, 1717.

CSL

Since the Kings officers have retaken possession. In this Glorious Reign att y^e time off the pretender According to the Imperiall order they Assisted Zeaudy Caun [Zyān-d-din Khān] att y^e port off Hugly with ammannition &c^s using their utmost Endeavours They doe petition The towns may be returned to their possession as formerly. This miraculous and Grand Phirmaund [farmān] is Granted. "That According to y^e Custom off Allumgeer [Ā'lamgir] The possession be given them." They likewise petition to those who stand on y^e Foot-step off y^e Sublime throne, That att y^e port off Vizagapatam there is a Settlement off the Companys. Vizagapatam and 4 towns more are Near the Factory for which they pay yearly Rent 4862 Rupees According to the Ancient rites into y^e treasury off Clittacole [Sikakol]. Among the Above-towns The too far distant Villages off Purwana and Woodapondoe whose rent is 900 R^s they desire may be returned. The Imperiall Order is given "That 3 off y^e 5 towns continue; 2 off which, being deducted, they deliver up." They likewise petition that in y^e Subaships and Duannys [ducāns] they demand y^e Originall Grant, and to give another thereby, Itt is nott feaseable to produce y^e Originall in Every place. They humbly desire that a Copy under y^e Cozzys [qāzī's] Seal be Suffieient, without demanding y^e Originall; and that Neither the Subah nor Duan [ducān] insist to give another thereby. European Coin is Currant in y^e Island off Bombay which belongs to y^e English. That Rupees be coined According to y^e Custom off Madrass. That whoever off y^e Companys Servants becoming Debtors Endeavour to run away, they be Sent to y^e Cheif off the Factory, and For Phowsdarry [fauzdārī] &c^s which is forbidden (Abob Memnoowa) [abwāb-i-mamnū'ah]¹ by which the Factors and dealers with y^e Company are troubled, be repealed. The Order which y^e world Ought and does Obey is given "That y^e Copy under y^e Cheif Cozzys [qāzīs] Seal is Suffieient, "That in y^e Island off Bombay Siccās made according to those off "Indostan pass Currant—That whosoever off the Companys Servants "being Debtors, want to run away; Seize and deliver them to y^e Cheif "off y^e Factory, and That for what is forbidden (Abob Memnoowa) "[abwāb-i-mamnū'ah], no one trouble them." They have farther petitioned to those who stand on y^e steps off the throne which the Kings presence Graces, That y^e Siccās coined Att Chinapatam are ¹ There were long lists of these "prohibited imports"; for examples, see note 2 on page 171. Fauzdārī means here various market dues, ferry fees, and so forth levied by the fauzdārs and not by the revenue officers.

DELHI, JANUARY, 1717.

CSL
187

discompted in y^e treasury off other Subaships. The Silver coined there att present is as good as what Coined att y^e Port off Suratt, which occasions a great loss. Please to order that iff they are Standard and as good as those off Suratt and Other places; no discompt be taken. That in Bengall, Behar, Orixa, Chinapatam, Vizagapatam &c^e The Company have Factorys Settled and are willing to appoint others. They petition that 40 beagues [bigahs] off Ground may be given to Enclose a house in any place where they shall make A Settlement, And as Ships are Sometimes obliged by Storms and wind to run Ashore, and are wreckt: The Governours off Ports injuriously seize on y^e Goods and In some places demand a Fourth part. The Imperiall Order is given—“That from y^e 5th Year off this Glorious Reign, Iff y^e money coined “Att Chinapatam be off the same weight and fineness off those off the “port off Suratt, doe nott molest them for y^e discompt. According to “y^e Custom off other Factorys grant. This notion has dealings in all “ports and att this Court, having very favourable Phirmaunds [farmāns] “Granted in which Custom is Excused. Take particular care of all “wrecks; and Goods, so lost by storm, belonging to them.

“To All these orders contained in this Phirmaund [farmān], which “ought to be Adored, render Obedience, and not Every Year demand
“A New Sunnod. Off this take particular notice.—

The 4th day off this M^o Suffur (Safar) God has finished with Glory and Success—In the 5th Year off this Glorious Reign.

164. AMADAVAD [AHMADĀBĀD]

To all Governours &c^e Jaggeerdars [jāgirdārs], Phowdars [phauj-dārs], Corrorrys [korris] To all Guards by Land and water, To all Jemidars [samindārs], who are att present and shall be hereafter In the Subaship off Amadavad [Aḥmadābād], The fortunate port off Suratt and Cambay—Be always in hopes off the Kings favour and know by these presents That att this time off conquest which carrys y^e Ensign off victory Mr. John Surman and C. Seerhaud [Khawājah Sarhad] Factors to y^e English by y^e means off those who stand on the Steps off the throne which y^e Kings presenoe graces have made their petition. That y^e Custom on y^e Goods off Englishmen is Excused all Over this Kingdom, Except att y^e fortunate port off Suratt, and att Said port from y^e time off him who is pardoned and has power in heaven, The King who is an Inhabitant off the heaven off heavens God grant his resting place be there and that he remain pure (Sha Jehaun) 2 per Cent was y^e Settled Custom, and in y^e time off him whose Strength is devine the Saint-like inhabitant off heaven.

DELHI, JANUARY, 1717.

CSL

Be good from y^e present to Eternall happiness (Aurangzebe) 3½ per Cent was Settled, being Excused in all other places, In y^e time off the King who is pardoned and whose resting place is heaven Surrounded with y^e favour off God, who is gott in possession off heaven as his first Stage—God protect His Spiritt (Behauder Sha) 2½ per Cent was att last Settled, continuing to this time. That Factory by reason off y^e Oppression off the Mutsuddys [mutasodis] there has been withdrawn these 3 Years. In y^e Subaships of Behar and Orixá no custom is paid, Att y^e port off Hugly in y^e Subaship off Bengall, A peeshcash off 3000 rupees is paid instead off Custom They petition that according to y^e rule off Other ports, A peeshcash may be Settled att Suratt instead off Customes. They Assent to y^e payment off a Yearly peeshcash off 10,000 rupees—The order which all, doe and ought to Obey is Strictly given, "That Since they consent to pay a peeshcash of 10,000
"rupees, Take itt yearly in y^e port off Suratt, and besides this, molest
"them on no Account. The Goods and necessarys off their Factors Att
"the ports off this Subaship and round About, to bring and carry away
"by land and Water, Know y^e Custom is pardoned. That they buy "and sell Att their pleasure, and iff att any time or place any off their "Goods are lost, Use your endeavour to find them punishing y^e "Robber and returning the Goods to their true owner. Att any place
"where they Settle a Factory, Buy and Sell; That you Assist them
"on all Just occasions and Iff any Merchants or others become Debtors
"According to a true Adjustment give the English Factors their due
"nott Suffering any one to hurt or injure Said Factors," They Also petition that in y^e Subaships and Duannys [diwāns] they demand y^e Originall Grant, and that the Subahs and Duans (diwāns) give us another thereby, Itt is nott feaseable to produce y^e Originall in Every place wherefore humbly desire that a Copy under y^e Cozzys [qāzi's]
Seal be suffioient, Originall not demanded, nor y^e Subah nor Duan [diwān] insist to give Another thereby. In y^e Island off Bombay belonging to y^e English European Coin is Currant, That rupees Be made there according to those coined Att Madrass, That, whosoever off y^e Companys Servants becoming Debtors endeavour to run away, be sent to y^e Cheif off the Factory, & That Phowsdarry [faujdarī] &c. forbidden (abob Memnoowa) [abwāl-i-mamnū'ah] by which y^e Companys Factors and Dealers Are molested, be repealed. The Imperiall Strict order is given, "That y^e Copy Under the Cheif Cozzys [qāzi's]
"Seal is suffioient, In y^e Island off Bombay Siccās made as those off

DELHI, JANUARY, 1717.

CSL
189

Indostan to pass Currant To Seize and deliver to y^e Cheif off
“y^e Factory whomsoever off the Companys Servants that are Debtors
“and run away & That no one trouble them for what is forbidden “(Abob Memnoowa) [abwāb-i-mamnū'ah],” They have likewise petitioned those who are in y^e presence, That y^e Company have Factorys in Bengall Behar and Orixā, and are willing to Settle others Wherefore in any place where Such Settlement shall be made, they desire 40 beagues [biḡahs] to be given from y^e King to Enclose a house, and Att some times Ships by storms and wind are drove on Shoar and wreckt, when y^e Governours off ports injuriously Seize on y^e Goods, and In some places demand y^e fourth part The Imperiall Order is given “that according to y^e Custom off other Factorys In “other Subaships, Execute. This Nation that has dealings in all ports “and att this Court, hath obtained a miraculous phirmaund [farmān] in “which Custom is Excused. Take care off All wrecks and goods so “lost by Storm, belonging to them.” “To all these orders according “to y^e Phirmaund [farmān] which ought to be adored, render “obedience and nott Every year demand a new Sunnod. Off this take “particular notice.” The 4th day off the Month Suffur [Safar]. God has finished with glory and Success—In y^e 5th Year off this Glorious reign.

165. THE GRAND VIZIERS TITLES.

WROTE ON Y^e BACK OFF EACH PHIRMAUND [FARMĀN].

Under The protection off the Mountain off vast riches—In whom the King putts his confidence—Cheif off the Nobles off the Greatest port—Conspicuous Among the Great—The great protectour off the Country and it's riches—The Opener off the way to Fortune and riches—Master off the Sword and Pen—The light and Exalter off the Spear and the Order—Vizier off a true Judgement—Unalterable—
Cheif off the Country—Prime Minister in whose hands is all power—
Yameneel Doula Behauder—The Generall Conquerour and faithfull Friend—The Mirror off all Viziers.

DELHI, JANUARY, 1717.

CSL

164. CONSULTATION.

"Att a Consultation present—

Dilly, Jan. 4th 1717.

Mr J^{no} Surman Cheif

O. Seerhaud and M^r Edward Stephenson.

The Phirmaunds [farmāns] being passed those people who drew them up, and partly wrote over ffair, O. Seerhaud proposes that Colnina [Kamal Nain], and Gungaram [Gangā Ram] receive some more off their Agreement, desiring y^e Summ off 1250 Siceas, as Also 500 rupees ffor Emenutray [Amānat Rāe], Agreed thereto and that M^r J. Surman pay y^e money.

Syad Sallabut Caun [Sayyad Ṣalābat Khān] has lately been very pressing ffor the remainder off the contract, both by y^e application off his Servants here, and to Seerhaud [Sarhad] in y^e Camp, with y^e pretence off very urgent necessity. Agreed that M^r J^{no} Surman pay y^e Summ off 3000 rs.

Seerhaud [Sarhad] proposes a small present for y^e Cozzy [qāzi], off whom some use will be made in y^e taking Copys Off our Phirmaunds [farmāns] &c^e Agreed That M^r Edward Stephenson deliver y^e following things—

Broad Cloth—Imbest	10	Yds.
Aurora	14	d ^o
Green	25	d ^o
	49	"

165. DIARY.

January 7th "The Phirmaunds [farmāns] are all wrote over ffair, being brought to Show us."

January 10th "Seerhaud [Sarhad] tells us 10 Perwannas [parwadnas] have received y^e Viziers Seal, and that 14 More are passed Antusham Caun [I'tisām Khān]."

January 11th "Seerhaud [Sarhad] this Evening brought home the ffollowing perwannas—

- | | |
|---|---|
| 1. Divy Island present [&] to Come | 4. Plundering Goods pres ^t & to come |
| 2. Fort St. Davids towns d ^o | 5. Madrass 5 Towns d ^o |
| 3. Bombay mint d ^o | 6. Suratt house On Hyderascooly Caun |
| | [Haidar Quli Khān] |

7 Shipwrecks—present and to come

8 Governours Dustick [dastak] d^o

9. Muxadavad [Maqsūdābād] Mint—Ickerum Caun [Ikram Khān]."

DELHI, JANUARY, 1717.

171
SL

"Rutteeaun [Fath Khān] brought y^e two remaining Articles, which Candora [Khān Daurān] gott Signed by his Majesty and delivered to Syud Sallabut Caun [Sayyad Salābat Khān], butt there being One town more added, and the Suratt house only given to live in, Those Phirds [fards] were off no manner off Use; Especially Seeing we made a much better progress without them."

January 13th

"Mr Surman &c^a went to the Camp where they Salamed to his Majesty."

January 14th

"The Togerah [tughra] is putt upon All the Phirmaunds [farmāns]."

January 15th

"The following Perwannas [parwānas] are just come out Sealed by y^e Vizier—

January 17th

1. Madrass 5 Towns On Sadatulla Caun [Sā'datullah Khān]
2. Patna House—present and to Come
3. Ground 40 Beagues [bighās] d^e
4. Copy off the Phirmaund [farmān] d^e
5. Abob Memnoowa [abwāb-i-mamnū'ah] d^e
6. Vizagapatam 3 towns d^e
7. Madrass free trade—Sadatoola Caun [Sā'datullah Khān].
8. Muxadavad [Maqsūdābād] Mint—present and to come
9. Fort St Davids towns—Sadatoola Caun [Sā'datullah Khān]."

166. CONSULTATION.

"Att a Consultation present—

1719
Dilly
Jan. 17th

Mr Jn^s Surman Cheif

C. Seerhaud and M^r E. Stephenson—

C. Seerhaud [Sarhad] has desired that 473 rs. be paid to Colnine [Kamal Nain] and Gungeram [Gangā Rām], being (as he says) y^e remaining part off their Agreement, and that they have no farther demands.

There are 18 perwannas [parwānas] sealed by y^e Grand Vizier, butt Seerhaud [Sarhad] informs us that to render them Authentick they must be signed by some off the Subanavises [shābānavīs] &c^a off y^e

¹ The imperial signature.

² Literally, "forbidden taxes." For lists of such items Mr. Irvine refers to Jurrott's Am-i-akbari, I, 66, and E Thomas Revenue Resources of the Mughal Empire, 5 and 17. A still more detailed list for 'Alamgir's reign will be found in British Museum, Oriental Mss. No. 1641, fol. 126a.

DELHI, JANUARY, 1717.

CSL

Duanmy Ketcherry [dhānī kachāhī], which he will gett done when he goes to the Camp and in y^e interim draw out Copys under y^e Cozzys [qāzi's] Seal. To this End—wanting some small Summ Agreed that 228 rs. be given him ffor y^e Cozzys [qāzi's] Seal.

The King Still continues att Shalamar [Shālihīmār],¹ butt we hear that he intends for Sewly.² Our fair phirmaunds [farmāns] only want y^e Viziers title, and Considering y^e Strange dilatoriness off all buisness here, Agreed that C. Seerhaud [Sarhad] repair to the Camp Alone, there being att present no Absolute necessity ffor all our leaving y^e City, thereby to Enhance our Expences.

However upon a ffurther remove off y^e King, or other weighty occasions we may soon repair thither.

C. Seerhaud [Sarhad] being now proceeding to the Camp, and the Phirmaunds [farmāns] so near done that they must off Necessity ffall—To y^e Sudder-A-Suddool [sadr-u-s-sadūr]³ in a few days, to receive the Kings Broad Seal, We have reason to Expect much trouble and Expencc from that Quarter. However to anticipate any inconveniences Ordered that C. Seerhaud [Sarhad] inform himself off y^e proper methods to be used, Endeavouring to insinuate an Acquaintance att that Office; that y^e way may be prepared ffor y^e receipt off Our phirmaunds [farmāns] Advising us Accordingly."

167. DIARY.

January 21st

"The Phirmaunds [farmāns] have been with y^e person that writes y^e Viziers titles."

January 22nd

"The King Gone ffrom Shalamar [Shālihīmār] to Nerella [Narela]."⁴

January 23rd

"Our Phirmaunds [farmāns] are gone in to his Majesty."

January 27th

"Sundry advices say our Phirmaunds [farmāns] are Come ffrom his Majesty Approved and the phird [fard] signed."

January 30th

"The Kings Tents gone to Sunputt [Sonpat] Autusham Caun [It'ishām Khān] refuses to Sign 7 Perwannas [parwānas]."

¹ See above on the 8th April 1716.

² Sewly is frequently named by Kāmwar Khān. It lay to the north of Delhi between Sonpat and the river Jumna.

³ The sadr-u-s-sadūr, head of heads, was superintendent of charitable and religious endowments. At this time the office was held by Maulvi Sayyad Afzal Khān, Bahādur, Sadr Jahan, who had been Farrukhsiyar's tutor. Apparently he kept the seal as a person especially trusted by the emperor.

⁴ See above on the 8th April, 1716.

DELHI, FEBRUARY, 1717.

CSL 173

168. CONSULTATION.

"Cojah Seerhaud [Khawajah Sarhad] being come from the Camp gives the following Account. The Phirmaunds [farmāns] being perfectly finished are Going to the Sudder-A-Suddool [sadrū-s-sadr] for the Seal. That having had severall meetings with that Omrahs peeshoar [umara's peeshār], they were yett come to no manner off Agreement. That he had Offered to 5000 rupees, that Mutsuddy [mutasaddi] descending no lower than 25,000. In fine that itt was Seerhauds [Sarhad's] opinion this Affair might be concluded for 10,000 rupees. We are well convinced off the necessity to purchase that Omrahs [umara's] friendship att any rate, Indulging his sordid avaritious temper from the great favour shown him by his Majesty. The Account off the Portuguese phirmaund [farmāns] is still fresh in Every ones memory, which, After itt was brought to the present Crisis, was lost for want off timely bribery to this Nobleman. A precaution sufficient to prevent our Splitting on the Same rock!

Wherefore We Agree Seerhaud [Sarhad] may Offer as far as 10,000 rupees to be paid, so soon as the phirmaunds [farmāns] are Sealed.

We doe all Agree that as soon as the Seal is on the phirmaund [farmāns] Itt will be high time to petition for our dispatches. Seerhaud [Sarhad] desires to know att what time and in what method he may prepare the way. Agreed that the most Expeditious way is to be consulted. We Suppose Every thing will be done near to former Custom, so that by endeavouring att Extravagancys, much time may be lost to little or no purpose.

We have received news the Kings tents are removed to Sunputt [Sonpat]. This frequent motion, but, still to a Greater distance causes us to Suspect some design farther than meer hunting: and the Distance off Seerhaud [Sarhad] from us must upon any Emergent occasion cause delays. Wherefore Agreed that Mr. Surman &c^t remove to the Camp to be ready on all occasions; and Thatt Mess^{rs} Stephenson and Philips remain in the City to Look after the Honourable Companys Affairs there. As for what small addition off peons &c^t are necessary for the houses and to attend in the Camp Agreed that they be entertained."

169. DIARY.

February 4th

"The King has gott another wife from Cashmeer."

DELHI, AND SONPAT, FEBRUARY, 1717.

CSL

February 5th

"Mr. Surman Arrived at the Kings Camp in Sunputt [Sonpat]."

February 6th

"The phirmaunds [farmāns] being returned from the King to Ecklaus Caun [Ikhlaṣ Khān],¹ he seals them up with a phird [fard]; and sends them to Sudder-A-Suddool [ṣadru-ṣ-ṣadūr]. The phird [fard] contains that the King having perused the phirmaunds [farmāns] he was ordered to send them to him for the Great Seal."

February 7th

"The King has sent for his Tents and throne designing to keep his jesson [jashan]² here.

Hossen-Ali-Cauns [Husain 'Ali Khān]'s forces have defeated the Great Raja Sougee [Sāhaji]³ &c. Decan Rebels."

170. CONSULTATIONS.

"Pursuant to a former consultation in the City, All means possible have been used to bring the Sudder-A-Suddool [ṣadru-ṣ-ṣadūr] to some reason, and offers already made to 10,000 Rs., butt with which he is nott satisfied. To prevent farther delays and for fear off accident we have been obliged to advance. Seerhaud [Sarhad] now tells us itt is finished as follows

Sudder-A-Suddool [ṣadru-ṣ-ṣadūr]	..	Cash	5000 Rs
		Goods	4000
			9000
Poeshear [peshkār]	..	...	3000
			12000rs.

Seerhaud [Sarhad] moreover says, this will be considerably lighten'd by the price off the Goods that are to be given. Agreed that this money be paid to bribe him to our Interest. Butt as this great man off the law has butt little faith he demands to have 6500 Currant Rupees before he will petition his Majesty. We Are obliged to comply with him in this Also. Agreed that Mr. Stephenson he wrote to, That he pay his Servants the Summ off 6500 Rupees.

¹ Ikhlaṣ Khān was Mir Munshī. He was a converted Khatri, and a native of Kalimnair in the Punjab. He died on the 2nd Jamādī II, 1140 H. i.e. the 4th January, 1728. His biography is in Ma'asir-ul-Amara, I, 250.

² The jashan, or festivities for the anniversary of the accession of the king, lasted from the 15th to the 23rd Rabi'I, 16th February to the 24th February.

³ The Maratha Rajah Sahu was defeated by Rajah Mukkam Singh, an officer of Husain 'Ali Khan. The official report of this was received at court on the 5th Rabi'I, 1129 H. i.e. the 8th February.

SONPAT, FEBRUARY, 1717.

CSL
171

Sonputt
February 19th

The petition which went in to his Majesty for the seal is (God be thanked) at last come out, so the phirmaunds [farmāns] will proceed to be seal'd. The seal lyes in the hand off a Lady under the Sudders [sadr's] Seal, butt kept in the Seraglio; There is an Eunuch to open itt, and another person to putt itt on.¹ These Expect Each their particular perquisite, Amounting in all to seven or eight hundred rupees.

We hope in a day or two to See the Phirmaunds [farmāns] come out sealed, which Encourages us to desire our dispatches from his Majesty. Agreed that Seerhaud [Sarhad] draw up a petition to his Majesty, and that, After Approvall, Itt be delivered to Sallabutt Caun [Salābat Khān] and Caandora [Khān Daurān]."

171. DIARY.

"To our Inexpressible Satisfaction our Phirmaunds [farmāns] with the Kings Broad Seal upon them were brought to Show us."

February 23rd

172. LETTER XXVII.

"To the Honourable Robert Hedges Esq^r Governour of Fort William and President for Affairs of the Right Honourable Company of Merchants of England trading to the East Indies &c^t Council in Fort William.

Honourable Sir and Sirs

We wrote your Honour &c^t the 27th 28th and 31st December the last of which carried the good News that his Majesty had Approv'd the Draughts of our Phirmaunds [farmāns], the Month of January was intirely taken up, in compleating the fair Phirmaunds [farmāns], putting on the Toogarah, [tughra] and then passing his Majesty's Perusal with an Order for their proceeding to the Seal which the King Granted. We forbore at that time writing your Honour &c^t till we had pass'd this latter but great Gulph. The great Seal is under the care of the Chief Priest (Suddera-Suddool) [sadr-us-sadūr] who having been the Kings Tutor from his Infancy, and being a very particular Favourite, has doubtless a very great ascendancy over him, and which he carrys to that Pitch as to Seal what Phirmaunds [farmāns] he pleases, upon our first Arrival here, we heard of a Proof of his Authority, seeing the Portuguese Padre, who came as Envoy from Goa, after he had compleated his Business and got his Phirmaund [farmān] ready for the Seal, the High Priest, because not satisfied as he expected took care to ruin the Affair, and the Padre was forc'd to return to Goa, leaving his Phirmaund [farmān] behind him, this and many other Instances made us very cautious how ¹ These details as to how the seals were guarded are curious and suggestive.

² This letter is found in the 'Copy Book of Letters received from Mr Surman Sec^y at the Mogulls Court', Home Series, Miscellaneous, No 70, at the India Office.

SONPAT, FEBRUARY, 1717.

CSL

to manage this Business, but being certified that Bribery was the only practicable method, there needed no Consideration whether this was a proper occasion to be sparing of our Honourable Masters Money. In fine after an Hesitation of 12 Days, this matter was brought to a Conclusion at the expence of 12000 rupees for him and his Chief Gentue Peeschar [peshkār], besides some other expences which must naturally ensue to the Begum who keeps the Seal the Eunuch that passes between with some other under officers; another Petition was made to his Majesty from this Office which came out Sign'd, and now the Phirmaunds [farmāns] are Seal'd and will be return'd hence to the Secretary in order to their going to the Vizier for his Seal. We have yet no reason to apprehend any trouble from that Quarter. God grant our Expectations may be answer'd.

We enclose Copys under the Cozzee's [qāzi's] Seal of 25 Sumods [sarads], which have received the Viziers Seal, viz:

- | | |
|--|--|
| No 1. Bombay Mint— | present and to come |
| 2. Surat House and Ground | Do |
| 3. Surat free Trade | Do |
| 4. Coppy under the Cozzees
[qāzi's] Seal | Do |
| 5. Fort St. Davids Towns— | on Saddatoola Caun [Sa'datullah Khān] |
| 6. Muxodavad [Maqsūdābād]
Mint— | present and to come |
| 7. Forbidden things (Abob
Mumnaa) | present and to come |
| 8. Shipwreck | Do |
| 9. Muxodavad [Maqsūdābād]
Mint— | on Ickerum Caun [Ikrām Khān]. |
| 10. Divy Island— | present and to come. |
| 11. Ground, 40 Bega's— | Do |
| 12. Plundering Goods— | Do |
| 13. Companys Gomastacs— | Do |
| 14. Surat free Trade— | on Hyderacooly Caun [Haidar Quli Khān]. |
| 15. Bengall free Trade— | present and to come. |
| 16. Divy Island— | on Awcoorody Caun [Anwaru-d-din Khān]. |
| 17. Fort St. Davids Towns— | present and to come. |
| 18. Surat House— | on Hyderacooly Caun [Haidar Quli Khān]. |
| 19. Madrass free Trade— | present and to come. |
| 20. Madrass 5 Towns— | on Saddatoola Caun [Sa'datullah Khān]. |
| 21. Madrass Rupees— | present and to come. |
| 22. Madrass free Trade— | on Saddatula Caun [Sa'datullah Khān]. |
| 23. Vizagapatam Towns— | present and to come. |
| 24. Patna House— | Do |
| 25. Madrass 5 Towns— | Do |

SONPAT, FEBRUARY, 1717.

CSL
177

There Still remains 7 unfinish'd, which the Duan Colsa [diwān-i-Lāḥiṣāḥ] under some pretence or other has refus'd yet to Sign, viz.

2 for the Calcutta Towns,	1 Vizagapatam 3 Towns,	1 Rogues,
1 Governours Dustick [dustak],	1 Company's Debtors,	1 Patna

House on the Duan [diwān]: means are using to get these likewise Completed, an Account of which we hope will be carried by our next Dispatches.

Finding our Business so happily drawing near a conclusion, we have esteem'd it a fit opportunity to desire our dispatches from his Majesty, and to which end a Petition was 3 days ago deliver'd to Caundora [Khān Daurān], which we shall follow with the Utmost Diligence, seeing this will of itself require some time, besides your Honour &c^s have the Character of our Dilatory Patron in several of our former Letters, considering all this with the Season of the Year, we find it will be impossible to reach Bengall before the rains are commenc'd, wherefore we propose to take our Passage from Patna by water, and accordingly desire your Honour &c^s would Supply us with Budgerows, the difficulty will be small in sending them up, seeing we hear Seerbulland Caun [Sarbuland Khān] has pretty well clear'd the way.

In our formers we advised of the Kings leaving the City, his Majesty continued about a Month on the Skirts, diverting himself with Hunting, so that most of the Mutsuddies [mubasaddis] with whom he had Business remain'd in Dilly, but as soon as we found his Majesty mov'd to a greater distance, and there being certain rumours of his continuance or going on, we without more delay remov'd to the Camp the 4th Inst. leaving Messrs Stephenson and Phillips behind us in the City, there are a great many flying reports in the Camp, but to all appearance there is no long Journey intended, neither will he return to the City immediately, by our next Letter we hope to give your Honour &c^s some insight of the time of our Departure, which we shall endeavour to make as quick as our Affairs will permit.

Enclosed comes Accounts Cash and Warehouse; charges general and Copies of our Consultations for the Month of December.

We are
Honourable Sir and Sirs
Your most obedient humble Servants

SUN-PAT
Feb. 23. 1717.

JOHN SUEMAN
EDWARD STEPHENSON

Honourable Sir and Sirs

We have received your Honour &c^s Letter February the 6th bearing date January 5th and shall follow all Orders contained therein.

JOHN SUEMAN
EDWD. STEPHENSON "

173. DIARY.

March 8th

"The Kings Camp removed from Nerella [Narela] to Shalamar [Shalihmar]."

SHĀLIHMĀR, MARCH, 1717.

CSL

Mr Surman being this Evening with Sallabutt Caun [Salabat Khān], The Syud [Sayyad] told him he had pressed hard upon Caundora [Khān Daurān] for Our Quick and honourable dispatch. That he had showed him a List off what was given to the Portuguese and Dutch Embassadors att their departure, the whole being Effectted by a woman (Bibee Juliana)¹ and what might nott we Expect After so glorious a present, so much trouble and Expence, with the Assistance off so great A Patron? Caundora [Khān Daurān] insisted a little whether itt was customary to return an Answer, to Our Honourable Presidents Letter, from his Majesty; Butt this will be granted Seeing both the Portuguese and Dutch received it."

174. LETTER, XXVIII.²

"To the Honourable Robert Hedges Esq: President and Governour of Fort William &c: Council for Affairs of the Honourable united Company of Merchants of England trading to the East Indies.

HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRS

Our last to your Honours &c: was the 23^d Ulō when we advis'd of the Phirmaunds [farmāns] having received the Kings Seal that they were next to be carryed to Eilasse Caun [Ikhlās Khān] and from thence to the Visiers for his Seal, we likewise enclos'd Coppy of the 25 Sunnods [sunnads] under the Cozzee's [qāzī's] Seal, which we hope arriv'd in good time.

This serves to advise your Honour &c: that we have drawn the following Bills which are to be paid 70 days after Date in Siccas of the 6th Years Stamp and 10½ Massa [māsha] for the Value received here Viz:—

From John Surman payable to Mr James Williamson for 1200 Siccas's.—

From Bowsing [Bhāo Singh] payable to Sawbiparry [sāhū beopāri] for 5000 Siccas.

25th February Oajah Surhaud [Khwājah Sarhād] payable to his Gomastah [gumāstah] Callam 450 Siccas's.

¹ Bibi Juliana, whom the Dutch envoys styled Donna Juliana, was a Portuguese lady employed in the harem. After occupying a conspicuous position at the Mogal Court from the days of Bahadur Shāh onwards, she died at the age of 75 in Rabi' I, 1147 H, i.e. July, August, 1734. There is a Persian account of her, of which copies exist in the British Museum library, Add. MSS. 14,374, foli 2—11, and at King's College, Cambridge; Pote Collection No. 29. A French translation of the latter by E. H. Palmer was published in Nouvelles Annales des Voyages, 6^{me} série, 1865. Her story is also told in Colonel Gentil's Mémoires sur l'Indoustan, Paris, 1822, pp. 367—380. I owe this information to Mr. Irvine. I have given the outlines of Bibi Juliana's life, as far as can be gathered from these sources, in an article published in the Indian Church Quarterly Review for October, 1900.

² This letter is found in the 'Copy Book of Letters received from Mr Surman &c: at the Megulla Court,' Home Series, Miscellaneous, No. 70, at the India Office.

SHĀLĪHMĀR, MARCH, 1717.

179
SL

To all which we desire your Honour &c: will give due Honour. We are not able to give any Account of our further Proceedings in the Grand Affair, but hope our next will carry the Good news of its Conclusion.

We are Honourable Sir and Sirs

Your most obedient humble Servants

Kings Camp C. SURHAUD near Shallamar. HUGH BARKER SECTY
March 9th 1716/7.

JOHN SURMAN
EDWARD STEPHENSON."

175. DIARY.

"The Grand Vizier visitted and presented according to a fformer consultation. That Great man off himself said all March 12th our Phirmaunds [farmāns] were finished—The Kings Tents come into the City, and Itt is Expected he will follow Shortly."

"We hear his Majesty wants to make One Enoytulla Caun March 18th [Ināyatullah Khān]¹, Duan Calsa [diwān-i-khalisah], a post he had enjoyed many years under Allumgeer [Ālamgir], and the whole reign off Behauder Sha [Bahādur Shāh], Butt the man refuses to Aaccept itt without being made Deputy Vizier, and a power given to doe as he thinks fitt, with many other Such Extravagant demands, all which we hope will prevent his being Employ'd. For the Vizier and Caundora [Khān Daurān] will have nothing to doe. However as our buisness is almost finished, we hope no Alteration may be made 'till the Viziers Seal is on our papers, when itt will be out off any ones power to give us any molestation."

"Sallabat Caun [Salābat Khān] says Cooshalehund [Khūshhāl Chand]² told Caundora [Khān Daurān], upon March 21st his asking for the Arze [arzi] for our dispatch, That what was designed ffor Our H^{tie} Presid^t should be inserted in the Seaw [siyāhak] for the Phirm^d [farmān]. To which Caundora [Khān Daurān] replyed That He would clear that matter to day. Our Vakile [vakil] bro^t quite another Story from Cooshalehund [Khūshhāl Chand] who said he had no opportunity to deliver the papers, besides that he ¹ Ināyatullah Khān, Kashmiri, was made diwān-i-khalisah and diwān-i-tan on the 1st Jamādī I, 1129 H. i.e. the 2nd April, 1717. He died on the 21st Rabi' I, 1138 H., i.e. the 16th November, 1725. His biography is in Ala'asiru-l-unarā, II, 828.

² Khūshhāl Chand was the peshtār of the mir bathaki, Khān Daurān.

SHALIHMAR, MARCH, 1717.

CSL

must know what the Dutch present was—and what they rec^d what we were to receive, and what was Our present: An account off which he had sent for from the Consennany [Khānsāmānī], which must off necessity take up some days¹.

Instead off Carrying the Phirmaunds [farmāns] to the Vizier; Eeklaus Caun [Tkhlas Khān], Arshed Caun [Irshād Khān], Colnibe [Kamal Nain] & Gungaram [Gangā Rām] are all gone to the City this morning being thursday; and nott to return till Saturday: A miserable misfortune to see our stay so unreasonably Lengthen'd.

Sallabat Caun [Salābat Khān] has promised to carry O. Seerhaud [Sarhad] to Caundoras, [Khān Daurān's] to endeavour the making an End off the Phirm^d [farmān] and present for the H^{ble} Govern^t Hedges."

176. CONSULTATION.

"There has been 25 perwannas [parwānas] done ffor some months, Except their signing by some off the Writers.

Shalimar.
March 22nd.

Seerhaud [Sarhad] has been frequently pressed to bring them to a period, butt without any Success, he pretending to Stay till the rest are done and then compleating all together. Itt is Our Opinion they are nott a moment longer to be left to uncertaintys, and the more att present seeing we have warm information that Enoytulla Caun [Ināyatullah Khān] will be Duan-Calsa [duwān-i-khālīshah], off whose Character we have too great a knowledge to leave any thing to his decision or flavour. Seerhaud [Sarhad] has for a long time told us the six remaining Perwannas [parwānas] were done Butt as yett we see nothing off itt. We doe believe itt the properst way to Stick close to Boqueehund [Bhog Chand]², nott leaving him 'till those Are finished likewise, and Altho' nott according to our wish, That they be done as he pleases; rather than lye any longer in Suspence."

177. DIARY.

"Having fresh advices That Enoytella Caun [Ināyatullah Khān] would certainly be Duan Colsa [duwān-i-khālīshah], Seerhaud [Sarhad] was pressed to gett the 25 perwannas signed by the proper writers. They only write that they are according to the Books, butt without itt they cannot be shown Any where."

¹ It was maintained that the Dutch were not to be a precedent, because (1) Mu'izzuddin was a usurper, and (2) the English present was four times as great as the Dutch. Surman represented that they did not want riches, but would be glad to go with a ser-o-pā for himself and the Governor. He was anxious to be gone on account of the coming of the rains.

² Bhog Chand was peishar of the khālīshah.

"Gungaram [Gangā Rām] being in y^e City, indisposed with a pain in his Eyes, Seerhaud [Sarhad] went to

March 23rd

Ecklauscaun [Ikhlās Khān] to gett another man ordered to Supply his post att y^e Viziers, butt he was answered that Gungaram [Gangā Rām] being Peeshear [peshkār] off y^e Russalaw [risālāh] we must have patience, 'till his return. This answer caused Great uneasiness, which was heighthen'd by a report, That His Majesty had ordered Euaam Caun [In'ām Khān] to Carry Enoytulla Caun [In'āyatullah Khān] to y^e Vizier, & tell him he had made him Duan Calsa & Tun [ducān-i-khalisah and tan] as being a man off great Experience. To w^{ch} The poor Vizier (They say) out off fear to displease his Majesty consented. We considered That iff the Viziers seal should be putt into his hands (as has sometimes happened) we should run a Great risque flor Our phirmds [farmāns] To remedy This, Gungaram [Gangā Rām] must by any meanes & with y^e Utmost Expedition be bro^t out. Wherefore C. Seerhaud [Sarhad] will proceed to y^e City to morrow morning, to Endeavour, to gett him out, and Even by a handsome bribe to finish y^e buisness, when all our fears will be over Except flor the remaining Duanny Sunnods [dūwānī sanads] off Which there is little hope.

"Enoytulla Caun [In'āyatullah Khān] is Accounted Strict, averse to bribery, and perfectly knowing in the Customes and Government off this Kingdom, wherefore itt would have been impossible under his management to have obtained those grants, to possess which we have now so flair a prospect."

"This day the Vizier gave an order to have the Phirmaunds

[farmāns] sealed. The 25 perwannas [parwānas] were all carried into the Duanny Ketcherry [dūwānī kachahri] for the Subanavises [subahnavis's] mark, viz^t, They are according to the books—A small trifle will obtain this."

March 27th

178. CONSULTATION.

"The Phirmaunds [farmāns] having received the Grand Viziers

Seal, There now remains nothing butt an Arze

[arz] to be wrote from Ecklaus Caun [Ikhlās

Shalamar,
March 28th
1717.

Khān] to his Majesty, for their delivery to us.

We hope this will be finished in a few days, so shall defer writing the Honourable President and Councill till said petition comes out."

SHALIHAR, MARCH, 1717.

CSL

179. DIARY.

"Our dispatches are delay'd till precedents are found in the reigns of Allungeer [Ālamgir] and Behander Sha [Bahādur Shāh], for whom one Boputray [Bhopat Pāe] is searching the Consommamy [khānsāmānā] records in the City. Mr. Surman has promised this man a small Grataity in case he is Expeditious."

180. LETTER XXIX.¹

"To the HONOURABLE CHARLES BOONE }
Esq^r. President and Governour of } Bombay.

HONOURABLE SIR &c^s

Your Honour &c^{ts} dated January the 27th came to hand in due time by which we are glad to find that the draughts of the phirmaunds [farmāns] approved by his Majesty arrived in Time, and that a translate thereof would be sent home to our Honourable Masters which was what we extremely desir'd, seeing those forwarded to Bengall arriv'd after their last dispatches, which was January the 16th, without doubt it will be very pleasing news to our Honourable Masters to ear what they are likely to possess, and what we hope will in a great measure hawsner the money that has been expended.

Ever since our last his Majesty has continued delighting himself in his Encampment, hunting within 20 cos of the City, and where we have Attended about two months, the frequent motion of the army and the fatigues of the camp have added to the natural dilatoriness of this Court; our great desire to draw near a Conclusion made us defer writing till now, the Phirmaunds [farmāns] after they were drawn up fair were again sent in for his Majesty's perusal, and to receive his order to be sent for the Great Seal, which he graciously granted, and they accordingly went in to the keeper, we were forc'd to stop his mouth with a large bribe, being a Gentleman who would otherwise have endeavour'd to ruin what we have so long been employ'd about, but being Satisfied of the bribe he naturally fell in with our interest and petition'd his Majesty for the Seal who ordered it to be affix'd, which was done the 23^d ultimo, from thence the Phirmaunds [farmāns] were return'd to the Secretary, who according to custom sent them to the Vizier for his seal on the back; we had some small apprehensions that this was a Gulph not very easily pass'd over, the Vizier being remarkable for his Avaritious Temper, the sight of the Phirmaunds [farmāns] did certainly bring it into his mind, and they met with many putoffs from today and tomorrow, for some time, but our frequent presents, and the respect we have paid him, with a few good words from the brib'd Mutsuddys [mutasaddis] who were present at last overcame him, and the Fortune of our Honourable Masters has been very ¹ This letter was read at a Consultation at Fort St. George, on Thursday, the 6th of June, and is to be found in the Madras Public Consultation Book for 1715 to 1719, Range 239, No. 87, at the India Office.

Conspicuous on this occasion; the Vizier Sign'd a paper to have a Seal affix'd without asking a Farthing, accordingly the Seal was put on the 27th instant and so return'd again to the Secretary's office, there only now remaining a petition to be wrote from thence for our possession, the same Success has likewise attended the Sunods [sunads]; We hope a few days will put us in possession of all, when we shall take care to transmitt you cōpys, under the Cozzy's [qāzi's], Seal of what relates to your Settlement.

As soon as the broad Seal was affix'd to the Phirmaunds [farmāns], we consider'd our business as Finish'd, and accordingly petition'd for leave to depart; but our Strange dilatory Patron, who never does anything in hast has not as yet effected it; he has indeed promis'd that as soon as his Majesty goes in to the city he will get us dispatch'd very honourable. We are oblig'd to have patience but hope it cannot be long, when we shall do our Selves the honour to write to you again, in the interim,

King's Camp
Shalimar
March 30th
1717.

COJEE SEERHAUD Assenting
HUGH BAREER, Secry.

We are
Your obedient humble Servants
JOHN SURMAN
EDWARD STEPHENSON."

181. DIARY.

"Seerhand [Sarhad] tells us That After much trouble, and for fear off a new Duan Calsa [diwān-i-khālīṣāh] which would render his contract hazzardous, Boguechund [Bhog Chand] att Last agreed to the perwanna [parwāna] for the Out-tta towns as itt was just now drawn up. So signing upon that and the Other perwannas [parwānas] "According to the books" they are ready for the Duan Calsas [diwān-i-khālīṣāh's] Signing."

"Syud Sallabut Caun [Sayyad Salābat Khān] sent Mr. Surman The Grand Viziers petition signed by the King: wherein was contained an Order for Mr. Hamilton to visitt His Uncle Syud-Caun Jehaun [Sayyad Khān Jahān]; who was indisposed, batt lying with his sforces att Feredabad [Faridābād].¹ Our Honourable Masters interest exacting a compliance, Mr. Hamilton will sett forward tomorrow."

"The King having made Duan [diwān] wherein Enoytulla Caun [Ināyatullah Khān] was constituted Calsa [khālīṣāh] and Tun Duan [tan-kā-diwān], and Suba [shubāhdār] off Cashmeer, He departed for the City. According to ¹ Sayyad Khān Jahān had been sent to help, or rather hinder, Rājah Jai Singh in his siege of Churāman Jāt in the fortress of Thūn. Khāfi Khān (II, 777) says the Sayyad lingered near Delhi for two or three months before he really started. For Faridābād see ante, p. 45.

DELHI, APRIL, 1717.

CSL

Syad Sallabutt Cauns [Sayyad Ṣalābat Khān's] petition, and his Majestys order, Mr. Surman &c^a went to See the noted Garden Called Shalamar [Shālimār] from whence after dinner, proceeded to the City."

April 4th

"The Grand Vizier very well pleased when he heard Mr. Hamilton was gone to See his Uncle"

"Mr. Hamilton returned to the City, It was only the Omrahs [umārā's] wife who was indisposed, She is to come to the City likewise for her cure, while

April 6th

Synd-Caun-Jehaun [Sayyad Khān Jahān] proceeds against the Jaats."

182. LETTER XXX.¹

"To the Honourable Robert Hedges Esq Governour of Fort William and President for Affairs of the Honourable Company of Merchants of England trading to the East Indies &c^a Council.

HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRs

This serves to accompany a Bill of Exchange drawn on your Honour &c^a for twentyfive Thousand Sicea Rupees of 10½ Massa [māsha] and the 6th Year, payable 70 Days after date to Sawbiparry [sāhu bēopāri] or Order, being for value received here from Murlidar Bawsein Decanny Ray [Murlidhar Bhao Singh Dakhini Rāe] Factors to Kissoray Kissenchund [Keshū Rāe Kishn Chand], to which we desire your Honour &c^a will give due Honour, being,

Dilly

April 9th 1717.

Honourable Sir and Sirs

Your most obedient humble Servants

JOHN SURMAN

HUGH BAEKKE Sec^y.

EDWARD STEPHENSON

183. LETTER XXXI.²

"TO THE HONOURABLE ROBERT HEDGES Esq^a Governour of Fort William and President for Affairs of the Right Honourable Company of Merchants of England trading to the East Indies &c^a Council in Fort William.

¹ This Letter is found in the 'Copy Book of Letters received from Mr. Surman' as noted before.

² This letter was read at a Consultation at Fort St. George on Monday, the 21st July, 1717. It is therefore found in the Madras Consultation Book and also in Surman's Copy Book of Letters.

DELHI, APRIL, 1717.

CSL
185

HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRS

Our last to your Honour &c^d was February 23rd which carried the good news of the Broad Seal being clapt on the Phirmaunds [farmāns], which we hope is duly arriv'd from that Office, they were carried to have the Rossalaw [risālah],¹ Viz: the Grand Visiers Seal on the back, the obtaining of which took up the whole Month of March, considering the Kings being in the Camp so near the City, the Muttsuddies [mutasaddis] missed no opportunity to regale themselves at their own Houses, the Kings going daily a Hunting, and sometimes the Visiers not Sitting out may have been the cause of so great a delay, besides this we cannot answer, but the Visier may have had some small Sticklings whether he should on this Occasion require a Bribe or not, For the Phirmaunds [farmāns] were Several times carried and return'd without receiving their full Approval, but in the End this great Minister answerd the Opinion we Always had of him, The Fortune of our Honourable Masters carrying the day, he sign'd a Paper for the Seal the 27th which was affixed the day following without any Alterations, altho' it was reported that Rey Reyon [Bāe-i-Bāyān] and Rajah Rul-lunchund [Ratn Chand], at that Instant did make some Offers to the Contrary, but which however prov'd ineffectual, we shou'd at that time have given your Honour &c^d the good news, but being so near the finishing, we were willing to detain our dispatches a few days longer till the Phirmaunds [farmāns] were deliver'd, but first there was to be another Petition wrote to the King that they were ready, and his orders expected thereon, which was sent in to his Majesty the 2nd and came out Sign'd the 7th and this day the Phirmaunds [farmāns] were brought home intirely finish'd by Cojah Seerhaud [Khawajah Sarhad] and deliver'd to M^r Surman pursuant to your Honour &c^d's Orders, we do not detain this Cossid [qāsiḍ] any longer for the Sake of Transmitting Copies under the Cozzee's [qāzi's] Seal which may take up a few days, your Honour &c^d may be sure the utmost precaution shall be taken therein, and for the Security of those precious Papers, which have been obtained at so much expence, of our Honourable Masters and Trouble to our Selves, we shall contribute all that lies in our Power.

We herewith enclose Copies under the Cozzee's [qāzi's] Seal of 25 Perwannas [parwānas], being the same we formerly sent down, the Originals are finish'd except one Writers Signing them, which Seerhaud [Sarhad] Says will be done either today or tomorrow when they will be delivered as the Phirmaunds [farmāns], the remaining 7 Perwannas [parwānas] as yet are not done, Aitesham Caun [Itisām Khān] while he remained Duan Colsa [duwān-i-khālīshah] refusing to Sign them without some Alterations which were not fully compleated till the late revolution in the Duanny [duwān], Seerhaud [Sarhad] tells us they will be done in a few days but a Small matter must be first expended.

The most active part of the Ministry here has of late received a very great Turn, by the displacing of Aitesham Caun Duan Colsa [Itisām Khān, duwān-i-khālīshah], and Rey Reyon Duan Tan [Bāe-i-Bāyān, tan-kā-duwān], his

¹ Risālah means faculty. "In the risālah of so-and-so" is a technical phrase meaning 'within the official competence of so-and-so.'

DELHI, APRIL, 1717.

CSL

Majesty giving those posts to Enoitoola¹ Caun [Ināyatullah Khān] who is lately come from Mecca as a Master fit to retrieve the Troubled State of his Kingdom, he was possess'd of these Posts for many Years in the time of Allungeer [Alangir] and the same all the Reign of Behauder Shaw [Bahādur Shāh], noted for his Knowledge in the Affairs of this Kingdom his great Severity and utter Refusal of any Sort of Bribery whatever, at the Beginning of this Kings Reign, his Son Edatoola Caun [Hidāyatullah Khān]² was Consonma [Khānsāmān], but falling under the Suspicion of the Reigning Favourites, they Sacrificed him³ to their own Security, and so sent the father⁴ to Mecca, his Majesty finding the many Complaints made from all Parts, the great want of Treasure, and in fine Strange Confusion every thing was in made him look round to find out if possible a fit Man to retrieve it. This Man they say was first propos'd by Ameenoo dy Caun [Amīnu-d-dīn Khān]⁵ and afterwards so well fix'd in his Majestys Thoughts, that all the Instances us'd by the reigning Ministers could not avert him from it, Enoitoola Caun¹ [Ināyatullah Khān] himself was very hardly brought to, considering the great risq [risk] he must run by disobliging the reigning Favourites, and to act for the Kings Interest, which were perfectly inconsistent so that before he wou'd accept the Post, he made a great many Objections Viz^t, the Protection of Cutbulmooluck [Qutb-ul-mulk], to have a considerably Sum of money paid down out of the Kings private Treasury as he shou'd require it, and that no man shou'd offer to interfere in his Business, all which his Majesty readily granted, and purely in obedience to the Kings Command, was by the Visier for the present, Our Patron is not to be fathom'd, but it is Suppos'd this Alteration has clipt his Wings in a great measure, the third Instant he received a Seerpaw [sar-o-pā] as Duan Colsa Duan Tun, and Subah of Cashmeer,⁶ we have very good reason to be extraordinary glad to find our Honourable Masters Affairs want none of his Assistance, and we believe we dare venture to say, he is too well acquainted to have pass'd such Papers of which his Predecessors knew less the Consequence, and we hope it's too late for him to make any Enquiry after them.

We have not as yet been able to make any great progress in our dispatches, our Strange dilatory Patron is the occasion of it, he puts us off from the Camp to the City, promising with many Asseverations he wou'd do it on our Arrival there, his Majesty came in the third Inst., but as yet we have seen nothing but fair Promises, we shall leave no Stone unturnd to get away, with the utmost Expedition but at present must have patience.

Your Honour &c^s dated February 12th came to hand March the 18th we humbly propose the foregoing as a Sufficient Answer thereto, everyone being ¹ This is the reading of the Madras copy. The copy in Mr. Surman's book is written carelessly and gives 'Edatoola' which is obviously wrong.

² Hidāyatullah Khān was executed by Farrukhsiyar's order on the 2nd Rabi 'I 1125H. i.e. the 18th March, 1713.

³ The copy in Mr. Surman's book omits 'him.'

⁴ This is the reading of the Madras copy. In Mr. Surman's Copy Book of Letters 'the father' has been corrupted into 'further.'

⁵ Amīnu-d-dīn Khān died on the 25th Safar 1150H. i.e. the 16th June 1737 aged a little over sixty-five lunar years. His biography is in Ma'āşiru-l-umara, I, 357

⁶ See p. 179 above, note 1, also p. 183.

DELHI, APRIL, 1717.

CSL
187 to the utmost of their Endeavour willing to obey all orders your Honour &c shall impose on them.

We have drawn the following Bills of Exchange.

April 9th, 25000 Sicca's payable to Sawbiparry [sāhū beopāyī] or order, for value received of Murlidar Bowsing, Duckeneray, [Murlidhar Bhāo Singh Dakhini Rāo] Factors to Kisseray Kissenchund [Keshū Rāo KishnChand].

April 10th, 2000 Sicca's payable to Mr. James Williamson, value received from Mr. William Hamilton.

To which we desire your Honour &c to give due Honour.

Mr. Edward Stephenson having Paid into [cash] the Sum of 3986'6'3 Current Rupees, Account Merchants goods Sold we desire your Honour &c will make that Sum good to them in Calcutta.

Enclos'd comes Accounts Cash, Warehouse and Charges General with Copies of Consultations and Diary for the Months of January and February which we wish safe to your Honour &c and are Dilly, April 10th 1717.

C. SEERHAUD

HUGH BARKER Sec^y

Hon^{ble} Sir and Sirs
Your most obedient humble Servants
JOHN SURMAN

EDWARD STEPHENSON."

184. CONSULTATION EXTRAORDINARY.

Dilly
April 13th
1717.

"Att an Extraordinary Consultation held Dilly April 13th 1717 and present Mr. Jn^o Surman Cheif Mr. E. Stephenson H. Barker & Mr. T. Philips.

C. Seerhaud [Khwajah Sarhad] has been Lately tampering in Secrett by Second hands with J. Surman concerning a Scheme which he has laid to gain some money, which he proposes to be divided between them. Upon Examination itt was nott found Standard Either in honour or Honesty. To make Every thing plain itt is more proper to take all from it's beginning and Explain Each particular Some three days since Seerhaud [Sarhad] sent for Otmaram [Atmā Rām] Our Mutsuddy [muṭṣaddī] and in private told him to acquaint J. Surman "That itt "was impossible any one could take so much pains without the hopes off "gaining something. That he had formerly in Patna made a very "handsome offer. That by y^e protecting and bringing up off Merchants "Goods a considerable Summ might have been gained 50,000 rupees att "least, That he had concerted Every thing, and that the gains might "have been divided at J. Surmans pleasure, Butt falling out, for meer "spight he had nott only refused itt, butt would nott suffer any Goods to "be brought by our Convoy, and thereby broke all his measures which he "had concerted. Seerhaud [Sarhad] Added, "That what was past was "past, That he was certain Jn^o Surmans private Expences must amount

"to About 10 or 12000 rupees," That iff he might be permitted he could "find a method to reimburse him, without loss off time, Hinderance "off y^e buisness, or prejudice to Our Masters. In fine in 8 days to gain
"att least 40,000 rupees which to be divided half and half, or otherwise as "Jn^o Surman should think fitt. This is y^e bulk off y^e first opening, to which as a meanes to deceive J. Surman returned the following answer, "That what was over was over, That he retained no malice That the "occasion off his refusing his proposition in Patna was Our Masters
"prohibition, and withall to desire he would Explain the present Scheme, "off all this Jn^o Surman acquainted Edward Stephenson. He returned answer "He could by private meanes gain a good Summ from his "Majesty for our Expences att our departure, That he would Effect itt
"in 8 days without y^e Assistance off Caundora [Khān Daurān] and "Sallabut Caun [Ṣalābat Khān]. To which J. Surman desired time to consider, and he consulted. Butt y^e next day Seerhaud [Sarhad] opened itt to J. Surman himself and was very pressing for his consent.
"That he would gett y^e money by Caundoras [Khān Daurān']
"meanes thro' Kirperam [Kirpā Rām] That Zeaudy Caun [Zeyān-d-
"dīn Khān] and Sallabut Caun [Ṣalābat Khān] should speak,
"That itt would hasten our dispatches, That J. "Surman should "have $\frac{2}{3}$, Cojah Seerhaud $\frac{2}{3}$, and Edward Stephenson $\frac{1}{3}$ To receive "itt publickly, & That iff y^e Council should nott allow off itt,
"The worst could be to return itt. Jn^o Surman returned no positive answer, butt that he would consult Edward Stephenson and then advise.
Butt nott being willing to keep this as a secrett to our selves itt is likewise made publick, H. Barker and M^r. T. Philips called to this consultation and desired to give their advice freely on this occasion. Thus having laid down y^e particulars off this Story, we infer y^e Question to be contained under y^e following heads.

1. Whether itt is reasonable to Suppose y^e King will make Such a Grant, After so much generosity off giving us Barbardarry [bār-bardāri] (Carrriage)?
2. That in case itt should happen to be obtain'd, whether itt is consistant with Our Honour to receive itt and putt itt in our pocketts?
3. Whether there is any appearance off prejudice to permitt him to use his Endeavours on any terms?

DELHI, APRIL, 1717.

SL
189

To this We Answer

- 1st. To us itt seems impossible to obtain any thing, His Majesty nott being so free off his money ; and his favourite (Our Patron) not so Easily brought over to Such Grants. So that this Scheme carrys a very sandy foundation: and Expect to have y^e first blast oversett itt.
- 2nd. We are off opinion that money so given for Our Expencces (as itt must be iff Obtain'd) ought to be applyed to that use and putt into Our H. Masters Cash. We publicly profess that what Summs we shall so receive into our Hands, we shall use thus, and iff Seerhaud [Sarhad] does Otherwise he must be answerable for itt. Butt for y^e present we conclude itt necessary to hide our intentions from him, Least he should grow desperate, and by other Clandestine meanes involve our Masters Affairs in more troubles; and no prospect off any advantage. Whereas, The present Scheme should itt Succeed, Att least the share assigned for us will goe into y^e Cash, and iff we can, y^e whole. We determine itt is his great necessity for money drives him on these Expedients; off which so long as he has y^e least glimpse, he may be quiet 'till we receive our dispatches, have y^e papers, and so become Clear off his Clutches.
- 3rd. We cannot foresee any ill Aspect in y^e permitting him to try to Satisfy his wants by this Supply, Since in reality we have very little dependance on him in gaining our dispatches, butt By Syud Sallabut Caun [Sayyad Ṣalābat Khān], with whom Jn^e Surman Cultivates a Good understanding, Whereas Seerhaud [Sarhad] says this must be done by Kirperam [Kīrpā Rām], and by permitting him, Kirperam [Kīrpā Rām] can never Speak ill off us; being in hopes we shall come to his beck, which has been so long refused, and as yett unconcluded. If Cojah pursues this matter with Success Our H. Masters will be y^e Gainers. If itt fails we are Still pursuing y^e meanes we Esteem proper for Our dispatches by y^e Assistance off Syud Sallabut Caun [Sayyad Ṣalābat Khān] who has hitherto done all our buisness. From these ratiocinations we make this Inference, and doe Agree That Jn^e Surman may seemingly grant A Compliance and by little and little gett farther into his intentions. Butt as a publick Testimony off our designs that we abhor any such practices, we have held this Extraordinary Consultation."

DELHI, APRIL, 1717.

CSL

185. LETTER XXXII.¹

"To the Honourable ROBERT HEDGES Esq^r Governour of Fort William and President for Affairs of the Honourable Company of Merchants of England trading to the East Indies &c^r Council--In Bengall--

HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRs

The Bearer hereof being design'd for Bengall, we take this to be a Secure opportunity to transmit to your Honour &c^a Copsys of the three Phirmaunds [farmāns] under the Cozzee's [qāzi's] Seal, Viz: 1 for Bengall, 1 for Hyderabad, 1 for Amadavad², wishing all safe to your Hands,

We are

Honourable Sir and Sirs

Your most obedient humble Servants

Dilly,
April 15th
1717.

C. SEERHAUD
HUGH BAKER, Secy

JOHN SURMAN
EDWARD STEPHENSON

186. DIARY.

April 21st "Easter Day."

Caundora [Khān Daurān] with frivolous Excuses putts off Our dispatch from day to day."

"Sallabut Caun [Salābat Khān] on one side gives us Great Encouragement, When Caundora [Khān Dauran]

April 24th on the other putts us off by a pretended Forgetfulness"

"This being Thursday and Duan-Om [diwān-i-'ām] (att which time April 25th Embassadors are Usual dispatches) Sallabut

Caun [Salābat Khān] pressed Caundora [Khān Dauran] to send us away. Butt Caundora [Khān Dauran] Excusing itt, we find the Necessity to waite another week."

"Sallabut Caun [Salābat Khān] finding Caundora [Khān Dauran]

April 27th so very dilatory, became Angry, and told him that iff we were nott to goe, We ought to have a house and monthly Expences Allowed us, Upon this Caundora [Khān Dauran] swore he would Make an End to day."

¹ This letter is found in the 'Copy Book of Letters receive fr M. Surman.'

² Ahmadābad, Gujarāt, the pebat in which Surat was situated.

DELHI, APRIL, 1717.

191
CSL

“The King having signed the Phirds [farḍ] which Caundora [Khān Dauran] presented him for Our Dispatch, April 23th They were sent to Syud Sallabut Caun [Sayyad Ṣalābat Khān] and from thence to Mr. Surman.”

First Phird [farḍ].

For The Honourable Robert Hedges Esq. President off Bengall.

Guzzaratt [Gujarāt] Goods 100 p^s

Otter [it] 50 Tola [tolah]

Jewells. Cunger and Fool-kattery [khunjar and fil kaṭāri] with a pearl-Tossell pudduck

Elephant [haggage elephant].

Second Phird [farḍ].

For the Envoy &c^s

Mr. John Surman

A Seerpaw [sār-o-pā]

A Culgee [kaḷghī]

Cojah Seerhaud

A Seerpaw [sār-o-pā]

Mr. E. Stephenson

A Seerpaw [sār-o-pā]

Mess^{rs}. Hamilton, Barker,

& Philips

4 Seerpaws [sār-o-pās]

For the Honourable Madras President A Seerpaw [sār-o-pā]

For the Honourable Bombay President A Seerpaw [sār-o-pā]

It must be here observed That the Honourable Bengall President receives an Elephant, above what given to the Generall off Batavia; Butt Mr. Surman &c^s Less than what was given to the Dutch Legates by Mouzzedeem [Muḥizud-dīn]. This was indeed Surprizing, considering Our Quadruple present, with the Services that had been done his Majesty, Butt Sallabut Caun [Ṣalābat Khān] who beleived his honour att Stake. was in A perfect rage. Wherefore M^r. Surman considering, That Salla. but Caun [Ṣalābat Khān] might endeavour to gett things altered, and thereby Occasion a certain delay without a good prospect off Success, Att Least that could compensate the loss off time, The rains Approaching, he sent A Messenger to entreat him nott to meddle any more to have things Altered, butt Lett all the King had signed remain. ‘That we came here to spend Our Masters money In doing their buisness, not to heap up riches, nor depending to have Our Labours Crowned with honour here, butt att a return by Our directors. Wherefore Seeing we had happily finished Our Errant, Altho The King hed nott shown the expected Generosity, Yet our Longer Stay would lay an indelible blott upon our reputations. Sallabut Caun [Ṣalābat Khān] replied ‘That

DELHI, APRIL AND MAY, 1717.

CSL

Since Mr Surman desired, he would Speak no more about itt,' Butt we suspect he will nott keep his word. All this we Oheifly impute to the niggardliness of Caundora [Khān Daurān], and doe beleive the King Granted whatever he asked for."

"Sallabut Caun [Salābat Khān] (as was Suspected) Attacked Caundora [Khān Daurān] in the Durbar [darbār].
April 30th Itt is certain the Latter spoke only for a Seerpaw [sar-o-pā] and Culgee [kalghī]¹ for Mr. Surman; wherefore he was now desired to speak again to his Majesty. Butt he replied doe you speak, and I will stand by. Sallabut Caun [Salābat Khān] said. "That besides the misfortune off being taken from his Royal presence, The Elohy was sorry he could nott depart with the same honours the Dutch had formerly." Here he mentioned the particulars—Upon this his Majesty Looked toward Caundora [Khān Daurān] and gave a nod. After this Sallabut Caun [Salābat Khān] forbid Cooshalehund² to proceed with the former Seaw [siyāhāh], butt to waite fresh Orders from Caundora [Khān Daurān]. Note—Syud Sallabut Caun [Sayyad Salābat Khān] did this off his own head."

"Sallabut Caun [Salābat Khān] sent Mr. Surman word he had gott the horse and Cunger [khanjar] to be Entered.
May 1st This Omrah [umarā] is so nice off his own honour as to be almost angry with Mr. Surman for nott being more Sollicitous to have things augmented."

"Mr. Surman &c³ visitted Caundora [Khān Daurān]. Caundora [Khān Daurān] made Subah of Guzarat, and Caun-Jehaun-Behander Subah off Agra."

May 2nd

May 4th

May 5th

"The King gone on the sand with his women."
"Mr. Surman presses Sallabut Caun [Salābat Khān] to make Caundora [Khān Daurān] fix a day for our dispatch from the King."

"Syud Sallabut Caun [Sayyad Salābat Khān] accosting Caundora [Khān Daurān] too warmly in the Durbar [darbār] concerning our dispatches, the Latter went Away angry, which must cost us some days longer. This may be imputed to the possitiveness of Sallabut Caun [Salābat Khān] for some Alterations."

May 6th

¹ Kalghis, an aigrette with jewelled locket.

² Khushāl Chand, the peskhār of the mīr bukhārī.

³ According to Kāmwar Khān, Khān Daurān was appointed Governor of Guzarat on the 1st Jamādi II, 1129 H. i. e. the 2nd May, 1717. But he gives A'zsu-d-daulah Khān 'Alam, instead of Sayyad Khān Jahān as the governor appointed to Agra Akbarābād.

DELHI, MAY, 1717.

CSL
198

May 7th

"His Majesty again upon the sand¹ with his women, So no buisness going forward."

"Mr. Surman this Evening visitting Sallabut Caun [Ṣalābat Khān] he received the following Account. Caundora [Khān Dauran] asked his Majesty what he pleased to order for the English Elchy, That Sallabut Caun [Ṣalābat Khān] was concerned his Majesty had nott consented to his petition. Upon this the King turning to Sallabut Caun [Ṣalābat Khān], said Itt was nott Customary to give so many things att a dispatch, there being no precedent, but Mouzzedeem [Mu'izzu-d-din] which Signified nothing; Nevertheless for his sake he would now give itt. He ordered att the same time That Mr. Surman should come the Next Duan-day, [dāwān] and receive A Horse and Cunger [khanyar], and then the Ensuing Duan [aiwān] That he and his Bretheren should be dispatched according to the former Seaw [siyāhah] wherein was contained the Seerpaw [sar-o-pā] and Culgee [kalghī]. If this prove true we may Expect our dispatches the next week."

May 10th

"Mr. Surman &c^a Expected to have been dispatched to day but were disappointed, tho' Sallabut Caun [Ṣalābat Khān] promised itt. Oooshalchund [Khushhāl Chand] said he could nott give the Seaw [siyāhah] for the Cunger [khanyar] and Horse 'till he had spoke Again to Caundora [Khān Dauran]."

May 12th

"This day Caundora [Khān Dauran] ordered the Seaw [siyāhah] mentioned yesterday which was by a Chubdar [chobdār] sent to Sallabut Caun [Ṣalābat Khān]. Our Vakiles [vakils] being dilatory in this Affair, Mr. Surman rattled them Accordingly. For the things might possibly have been given to day."

May 13th

May 14th

"The King Abroad with his women. The Seaw [siyāhah] delivered into the proper Offices."

"Sallabut Caun [Ṣalābat Khān] called Mr. Surman to Caundoras [Khān Dauran], saying he should now receive his horse and Cunger [khanyar]. Mr. Surman went to the Duan-Om [dāwān-i-ām] accordingly, butt was disappointed. God knows the reason."

May 15th

¹ On the sandy banks of the Jumna below the fort at Delhi.

CSL

DELHI, MAY, 1717.

“Sallabut Caun [Salābat Khān] Again called M^r. Surman &c^a to May 16th to the Durbar [darbār], itt being Thursday and Duan Om [dāwān-i-‘ām]. Butt more strange than before M^r. Surman received Another disappointment, altho Sepedar Caun [Sipahdār Khān] was present, and the Buxys peeshear [bakshi's peeshkār] told Caundora [Khān Daurān] the Horse and Cunger [kanjar] was ready. This was as hard As Surprizing, Seeing what
M^r. Surman was to have, was the rumour off the whole Durbar [darbār].
Sallabut Caun [Salābat Khān] is here Cheifly in fault, for nott well-adjnsting this matter beforehand with Caundora [Khān Daurān], butt making us to run fruitlessly up and down, and by that meanes become Extreme light.”

“His Majesty on the Sand with his women, and as a mark off
May 18th his Arbitrary power turning all people Out off the Adjacent houses.”

187. LETTER XXXIII.¹

TO THE HONOURABLE ROBERT HENEGES Esq. Governour of Fort William and President for Affairs of the Honourable Company of Merchants of England trading to the East Indies &c^a Council in Bengall.

“HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRS

We wrote your Honours &c^a the 9th April to accompany a Bill of Exchange payable to Sawbiparry [sāhū beopari], for the value received here from Murlidar, Bawsein Decruny Eay [Murlidhar Bhāo Sen Dakhinī Rāe], and at large the 10th D^y carrying the good news that the Phirmaunds [farmāns] were intirely finish'd and deliver'd in &c^a with enclosure of our Accounts &c^a for the Month of January and February, we again wrote by M^r. Coock bound for Bengall the 15th D^y chiefly to accompany Copys of the Phirmaunds [farmāns] which were deliver'd him as (in our Opinion) a very safe Conveyance.

We were in hopes by this Letter to have given your Honour &c^a an Account that we had received our dispatches from his Majesty, but as there is very little to be depended on here, so we find our Selves on this Account under no Small Disappointment having never Suspected this trifling matter cou'd have taken up so much time, Our Experience on this Occasion has taught us, that the least Affair cannot be transacted here without the Solemnity of a long and tedious Attendance, thereby enhaunching the favours they grant as to make them hardly worth receiving, our Diary for the Month of April, may be a more proper Index, than what can be contain'd in this Letter. We hoped all had been concoinded with the Month, not being much concern'd with the Kings determination for our Dispatches altho' not with the same Honour that was granted

¹ This letter was read at a Consultation at Fort St. George on Saturday, the 17th August, 1717
It is consequently found in the Madras Consultation Book as well as in the Copy Book of Letters from M^r. Surman.

DELHI, MAY, 1717.

CSL
148

The Dutch by Mozzudeen [Mu'izzu-d-din, Jshāndār Shāh]. Wherefore we desir'd Salabatean [Salābat Khān] not to request an addition, being Satisfied such pursuit must be attended with loss of time and consequently become expensive to our Honourable Masters, he promis'd very fairly but being nettled at the Disappointment, and that a Woman (such as Bibbe Juliana) shou'd be able to do that for the Dutch with a Quarter of the present, which was not in his power to effect for us with Such advantageous pleas; made him Storm in private, and resent it to Caundora [Khān Daurān] in very pathetick Terms, neither would he desist, on which Caundora [Khān Daurān] made him Speake to the King himself his Majesty disputed making the Addition of Canger [Khangar] and Horse for Mr. Surman, as an ill precedent for futurity, but in the End granted it with this Salvo, that it shou'd be given some Duan [dīnān] before the time of our Dispatches, that it might remain upon the records as a mark of his favour, and not to be challeng'd by other Nations. We have exerted our Selves to the Utmost on this Occasion in hopes of a speedy Dispatch, so the disappointment can't be laid at our Doors, and we hope our Precedent Behaviour is evident proof that no outside Vanity or Expectations cou'd make us Swerve from our Honourable Masters Interest.

The Phirmaund [farmān] in answer to our President's Letter, Seerhaud [Sarhad] tells us has pass'd the Kings Assent, and is writing fair over. And the Order for the Hon^{ble} Robert Hedges Esq^r, Present being gone into the Consomany [Khānsāmāni], it's n w ten days since an Arze Arze [arzi] went from that Place to his Majesty which is not yet return'd, when it does the Consomma [Khānsāmān] must give a Dustick [dastak] on the Several Officers which at best will take up some time.

The 8 remaining Perwān's [parwānas] are after much difficulty Sign'd and Seal'd by the Visier, Copys of 4 of which under the Cozzee's [qāzi's] Seal come enclos'd the other two being Seal'd up Vizt

2 Calcutta Towns	...	{ present and to come
1 Patna House	...	{ Ick-ram Caun [Akram Khān]
1 Companys Debtors	...	{ Esqar Caun [Asghar Khān]
		Present and to come

The 2 which are Seal'd are for the Rogues on Jafferean, [Ja'far Khān], and for Mobaris-Caun¹ Subah of Golconda^h, we likewise enclose another set of Copys of the Phirmaunds [farmāns] under the Cozzees [qāzi's] Seal.

We have drawn the following Bills of Exchange payable 70 Days after date Vizt: 2100 Sicca's to Mr. James Williamson, value received from John Surman 600 Sicca's to Mons^r la Bat payable to John Flemmingo.

To both which we desire your Honour &c^t will give Due Honour.

¹ Mabariz Khān, shāhādār of Gulkanda. Khwajah Muhammad, Mabariz Khān, 'Imād-ud-Mulk, Hizbar Jang, was a native of Balch. His first title was Amānt Khān. Under his second title 'Shahāmet Khān' he was appointed governor of Haidarabad on the 17th Rabi 'II 1125, or the 12th May, 1713 N. S. He was a son-in-law of 'Ināyatullah Khān Kashmiri. On the 28rd Muharram, 1137, or the 11th October 1724 N. S., he was killed in a battle against Nizām-ud-Mulk.

DELHI, MAY, 1717.

CSL

Herewith comes Accounts Cash, Warehouse, Charges General and Copy of Consultations for the Months of March and April.

Dilly.
May 19th
1717.

We are
Honorable Sir and Sirs
Your most obedient humble Servants
JOHN SURMAN
EDWARD STEPHENSON."

188. DIARY.

"The King sett Duan [dwān] butt nothing done. We beleive the Cunger [khanjar] nott yett shown his Majesty, Butt the Droga [dārōghah] off the Stables has received particular orders concerning the Horse."

May 20th

"C. Fanoose¹ An Armenian who came from Suratt, and is Entertained here as the Kings painter, (we hear) has complained to his Majesty Against us, How that 13 Years Agoe he Lost some Corall &c Goods att Bombay which were brought in a ship from Persia ²."

May 22nd

"Having advice Sepedar Oaun [Sipabdhār Khān] had shown the Jewells to his Majesty, M^r Surman &c^o returned to the Duan-Om [dwān 'ām] being Thursday, when M^r Surman received a Cunger [khanjar] Sett with precious Stones and a Horse, paying the Accustomary, and necessary Obeisance."

May 23rd

189. CONSULTATION.

"We are obliged to, comply with the unreasonableness of the Seerpaw [sar-o-pā] Office, that we may gett Our dispatches by any meanes, and itt is for this reason alone that we consent to the payment of 740 rupees to those Gripers, no remedy being to be had. This may serve as a very pretty instance, how the Kings orders are minded, Even upon the Spott."

May 27th

190. DIARY.

"M^r Surman &c^o visitted the Grand Vizier. They desired his permission to be dispatched from his Majesty, to which he readily consented, saying iff he was in the Duan [dwān] he would Speak to the King in their behalf. Then he ordered them, now their buisness was done, to visitt him frequently, without bringing any thing."

May 28th

¹ Muhammad Ahsan, Ikd, the court historiographer, devotes several pages of highly ornate prose to the wonders shown in Khwājah Fānis' pictures.

² The complaint was apparently frivolous and came to nothing.

DELHI, MAY, 1717.

CSL
107

May 30th

"This morning Sallabut Caun [Ṣalābat Khān] wrote a note to Caundora [Khān Daurān], to know whether we should come to the Durbar [darbār], and withall desired, that Chilahs [chelahs] might be appointed, to gett ready the Seerpaws [sar-o-pās]. Upon receipt off this Caundora [Khān Daurān] ordered Coochalehund [Kushhāl Chaud] to gett Every thing ready, and that the Elohy [elchā] should be present in the Duan [dān]. Sallabut Caun [Ṣalābat Khān] advised Mr. Surman off what passed, and of the necessity for him &c^o to go to the Durbar [darbār]. Butt that iff he was nott dispatched he should nott be Angry, Seeing men off 5000 Muns¹ have attended severall weeks when their Seerpaws [sar-o-pās] have nott been ready. This message with the little probability off Chilahs [chelahs] from Caundora [Khān Daurān], made Mr. Surman Send a Vakile [vakīl] with 300 rupees to the Seerpaw [sar-o-pā] Office to tempt them, and orders nott to stand for 200 rupees Extraordinary in Case the Vests were brought ready into the Duan [dān] today.

His Majesty Setting in the Duan Om [dān ām] being Thursday Mr. Surman &c^o went accordingly to receive their dispatches. Mr. J. Surman received a Seerpaw [sar-o-pā] and Culgee [kalghī], Every one Else a Seerpaw [sar-o-pā]. When Doct^r Hamilton was making the proper Obeisance for his Seerpaw [sar-o-pā], the King Suddenly and Unexpectedly sent orders from the Throne to Lett Every one Else goo out off the Duan [dān] (as the custom is for those that are dispatched) butt to place him Again in his Station, the Seerpaw [sar-o-pā] being a mark off the Royall favour, and nott for his departure: which orders were obey'd accordingly. When his Majesty rose up, Seerhaud [Sarhad] went to enquire off Caundora [Khān Daurān] the reason, why the Doctor was nott dispatched? to which Caundora [Khān Daurān] reply'd, 'I have spoke to the King twenty times concerning this Affair, and can Speak no more, unless you have a mind to make me ridiculous. Wherefore do You petition his Majesty.'

In the Evening Mr. Surman went to Sallabut Caun [Ṣalābat Khān] (who went nott to the Durbar [darbār] today) and After acquainting him with the matter, begg'd he would use his utmost Endeavours with Caundora [Khān Daurān] to gett the Doctor dispatched; for that he would by no meanes be perswaded to Stay, That all the flavours and riches the King could heap on him would prove no manner off Allurements,—that iff the King had a mind to keep him he must send Goorzebardars [guzbardars] and putt Irons on his Leggs, and that Even then he would nott so much as accept off the Kings bread, much less his service. The Old Syud [Sayyad] Asked two or three times whether nothing could prevail, but when he was answered No: He promised to be very importunate with Caundora [Khān Daurān], and Even to fall at his feett to Obtain itt.

¹ An abbreviation of munsab, i.e., mangab.

DELHI, JUNE, 1717.

CSL

Syud Omer [Sayyad 'Umr] Sent the Consommany Dusticks [Khānsāmāni dastaks] Signed to Sallabut Caun [Salābat Khān] who gave them to Mr Surman."

"The King abroad with his Women.

Sallabut Caun [Salābat Khān] went to Caundoras, [Khān Daurān] where he talked off Mr Hamiltons Affair, much to the Same Effect as we had told him. Caundora [Khān Daurān] replied the King was obstinate, he having severall times already Endeavoured to dissuade him from itt. That his Advice was for Mr Surman to goe to the Vizier, and Engage his intercession with his Majesty, which when sett on foot, he himself would find an opportunity to Speak Effectually. Sallabut Caun [Salābat Khān] said he wonder'd he should send the Elchy to the Viziers, since he had yett never asked any flavour or had anything to doe with him Since his arrivall and therefore was now likely to meet with a repulse. Caundora [Khān Daurān] said Lett them goe, and In case of refusall I will doe itt myself.

The Bootades [buyutal's] seal must be on our Dusticks [dastaks]."

"The Elephant Droga [dārōghah] accepted the Dustick [dastak] without the Bootades [buyutal's] seal; Butt the Others being rejected, Our Vakile [vakil] went to Zeandy Caun [Zeyān-d-din Khān]', desiring his seal. He replied there must be first a petition sent to his Majesty."

¹ Zeyān-d-din Khān had been appointed buyutāl at Court on the 22nd Zū-l-qā'dah 1127, i.e. the 8th November, 1715.

DELHI, JUNE, 1717.

CSL
190

191. CONSULTATION.¹

"Having received our dispatches² from his Majesty, Itt is our buisness to Leave this place with the Utrmost Expedition, the necessary preparations being made accordingly. Agreed that a sufficient number off

June 3rd
Dilly.

Carriages be hired, as the best proposition for Our Tents. Butt as Camells are the most Expeditions and therefore proper for Our Own and Servants necessarys, Agreed that a convenient number be bought. The hire off such cattle proving very Extravagant.

The Way between this place and Coora-Jehanabad [Korah Jahānābād], butt more Especially Agra, being very much infested by Jaats [Jāts] and Mewattys [Mewātīs]; we shall want a sufficient fforce to protect what has been obtained with so much pain and trouble, which att least must be Equall to what came up with us: Vizt 50 Country Horsemen and 400 peous and Burkundass [barqandās]. Butt that we may have an opportunity to pick those which are Good Itt is thought convenient to begin taking them in, by Little and Little, and nott att once to receive what we can gett, att any rate they please to impose upon us.

Mr. Hamilton being entirely averse to obey the Kings orders by his stay, unless fforced thereto: Itt is our buisness to weigh this Affair in respect to Our Honourable Masters. We find few dare speak to the King for his Clearance. On the Other side we are satisfied That should he be kept by force, His stay would be no longer than the first opportunity to Elope. For such a burning desire reigns in him after his own Country, that neither promises nor threats can avail any thing. All this being duely promised, we doe Esteem a modest denyall att present much better than a Seeming compliance, which can contribute nothing to his deliverance. For should he be kept by fforce and Afterwards Escape, The King might very likely vent his Anger on our Honourable Masters Settlements, Supposing us Assistant and consenting thereto: On the Contra, should he by chance have leave to depart, we are all Cleared: Iff nott, His ffortune is try'd, and we honestly discharged Our Selves, to the King, Our H: Masters and him

¹ This consultation is signed by Thos. Phillips "during the indisposition of Mr. Hugh Barker Cojah Seerhaud assenting." Phillips continues to sign up to and including the consultation of the 5th July. The consultation of the 12th July is signed by Hugh Barker as Secretary. "C. Seerhaud consents to the purport of this consultation, though the fair copy was not perused by him."

² In this and other similar passages "our dispatches" is evidently a rendering of the word rukhsat, "formal dismissal or leave to depart."

DELHI, JUNE, 1717.

CSL

also. Besides there is no absolute necessity off making application in our Own names, his own being Every way the most proper. And we are well-nigh Assured there will be no fforce in the Case, Butt that his Majesty used this as his Last Effort to Engage his stay, which when he finds his stiff aversion to, he will wave itt. Agreed That a pathetick petition be drawn up in his name, and that we pay the Vizier a visitt and present itt, According to the advice and order off Our patron Caundora [Khān Daurān]."

192. DIARY.

June 4th "Mr Surman &c¹ carrying Mr. Hamiltons petition to the Grand Vizier, He read itt over with great Attention and immediately ordered another of the same Effect to be wrote and addressed to his Majesty, which was to be transmitted with one from himself. The Vizier said measures must be taken to release the Doctor, without displeasing his Majesty."

June 5th Seerhand [Sarhad] meeting Zeandy Caun [Zeyāu-d-dīn Khān] he was told the Dusticks [dastaks] should be signed this morning; butt att the same time said What will you give me Nothing? which Seerhand [Sarhad] Evaded with a Jest. The Vakile [vakil] going afterwards to the Ketcherry [kachahri], The Dusticks [dastaks] were sealed and Delivered, after many frivolous Excuses off a petition &c¹.

Seerhand [Sarhad] says he gave a petition for the Doctor to Co¹ Manorr, [Manavvar], which is addressed to the Kings mother. Butt this Affair being very ticklish, few care to Embark in itt. However the Eunuch promises to speak about itt."

June 6th "The Elephant-Droga [dārōghah] Speaking to his Majesty concerning Our Honourable Presidents Elephant, Itt was ordered That the Consomma [khānsāmān] Sett a price, and then make his report in a petition. To remedy the delay that must necessarily attend Such Measures, Mr. Surman proposes to give Sallabut Caun [Sālābat Khān] a petition (desiring a price may be sett) to present his Majesty tomorrow and gett Signed immediately.

The Viziers petition came out sign'd from the King as follows—"Since he is privy to my nakedness and perfectly understands his buisness, I would very willingly have kept him, and given him whatever he should have asked; Butt seeing he is satisfied with no terms,

¹ Co. for cojah, i.e. khajah, a eunuch.

DELHI, JUNE, 1717.

SL

I Agree to itt, provided, After he has gone to Europe, procured Such medicines as are nott to be gott here, and seen his wife and Children, he return once more to visitt this Court: Let him goe."

We have for some time had reports of a Biragy [bairāgi] being here to Complain That a parcell off Diamonds were taken from him by Gov^r Pitt about 10 Years agoe; for which he gave him a bill for a Leek [lahk] off Rs on Mr Pattle in the Patna-factory, That going there, and the ffactory being withdrawn, He found nobody. Wherefore he went to Ouloutta, & there making known the Story to Govern^r Hedges, he demanded a Sight off the note. Butt the Byragy [bairāgi] having private information off his intentions to seize the note and keep him prisoner, he privately gott out off the place, and came here to Complain. This person has been found often att the Viziers gate by our Vakiles [vakils], & when Mr Surman &c^a was there Last, he attacked Seerhaud [Sarhad] showing him a Letter which he desired him to open, in which he would find the truth off the Story. Seerhaud [Sarhad] Agreed in Case there were half a dozen substantial Witnesses of what itt contain'd: butt otherwise nott. With this Answer he went Away. To day he went into the Viziers Audolett [audlat] and made a publiok complaint to the tenour Abovementioned. The Vizier bid Mittersein [Mitr Sen] carry the man to the Flehy and content him, butt upon the Vakiles [vakils] coming out to look for him he was nott to be found."

193. CONSULTATION.

"We find the Offices from whence we are to receive the present for the Honourable Robert Hedges Esq^r very dilatory in delivering the Severall particulars, and that when induced thereto, unless bribed they will give Goods of no value. That we may nott be detained on this account, and to obtain what is Good in its kind, we doe beleive itt highly necessary to bribe the Officers, the strictest orders off the King here being hardly obey'd without itt.

Dilly
June 7th
1717

Ordered That these Affairs be adjusted by the Vakiles [vakils] Accordingly.

There has been an Agreement with the Carriers for 10 Carriages with 4 Oxen from hence to Patna att 95 Rs Each & 5 Carriages with 2 Oxen att 47½ To march hence in 20 days Or Else pay demurrage att 8 Rs and 4 Annas pr day. All stops Excepted that may be occasioned by the violence off the Rains. Agreed that 209 Rs to be paid beforehand."

DELHI, JUNE, 1717.

CSL

194. DIARY.

June 7th

"Mr. Surman gave Sallabut Caun [Šalābat Khān] the three following petitions.

1. To his Majesty for a price to the Elephant.

The other two to Caundora [Khān Daurān] for Goorzeburdars [gurabardārs] and Chilah [chela], and for way-dusticks [dastaks] and Husbullhooeums [hasbu-l-hukms] on the Severall Subahs [shubadars] These Last being delivered, Caundora [Khān Daurān] order'd Cooshalhond [Khushhal Chand] to give the Seaw [siyahah] for the Goorzeburdars [gurabardārs] and Chilah [chela] and to write the Dusticks [dastaks] and Husbullhooeums [hasbu-l-hukms]."

195. LETTER XXXIV.¹

"To the Honourable Robert Hedges Esq. Governour of Fort William and President for Affairs of the Honourable United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East Indies &c: Council In Fort William.

HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRS

Our last to your Honour &c: was dated the 18th Ult^o enclosing four Copies of the remaining Perwannaes [parwānas], Viz: Calcutta Towns 1 present and to come, for D. 1 on Eckerameaun [Akram Khān], Patna House 1 on Esqar Caun [Asghar Khān], Companys Debtors one, as also a set of Copies of the Phirmaunds [farmāns] under the Cozzaes [qāzi's] Seal, by that Conveyance we likewise sent our Accounts Cash, Warehouse and Charges General with Copys of our Consultations for the Months March and April, which we hope will arrive in due time, having already sent two Sets of the Phirmaunds [farmāns], we shall not repeat them till we hear they are arriv'd or farther Orders, we now send foure more of the above-mention'd Perwannaes [parwānas].

The 23rd Ult^o John Surman received from his Majesty an Horse and Cunger [changanar], as was preappointed, and the 30th D. we were sent for by Caundora [Khān Daurān], to receive our Dispatches, which we had accordingly, a Seerpaw [sar-o-pā] and Culgee [kalghi] being given to John Surman, Seerpaws [sar-o-pās] to Sarhaud [Sarhad] and Edward Stephenson, as likewise to the rest of our Companions, we were order'd to pass, one by one to our Obeysance then to move from the Duan [dewan], we did so: but when it came to M^r Hamiltons Turn he was told the King had granted him a vest as a Mark of his Favour but not for his Dispatch, so was order'd up to his Standing again, whilst he was performing this, the King got up. We were highly Surpris'd at this unexpected Motion, not ¹ This letter was read at a consultation at Fort St. George on Monday, the 9th September, 1717. It is also found in the Copy Book of Letters from Mr Surman.

² The date should be the 19th.

DELHI, JUNE, 1717.

203
SL

having the least Notice of it till that Minute either from our Patron or any to Authority, it being near a twelve Month since Mr Hamilton had been in private with his Majesty, and in all this time not the least notice taken, we were very much concern'd at his Detainment, and the more because we were assur'd of his firm Aversion to accepting the Service, even with all its Charms of vast pay Honour &c; that if the King did detain him by force, if he out-liv'd the Trouble of his Esteem'd Imprisonment, he might be endeavouring at an Escape, which every way had it's ill Consequences, to free our Honourable Masters from any Damages that might accrue to them, from the Passionate Temper of the King, our Patron Councillors was apply'd to for leave, twice or thrice he positively denied to speak, or even have a hand in this Business till our Friend Syud Sallabut Caun [Sayyed Salabat Khān] had an Opportunity to lay the Case open to him, when he order'd us to speak to the Visier, and if by any means we cou'd gain him to intercede, hat he would back it, nay if the Visier refused, he wou'd make one Effort for the Doctor himself, nay Sallabut Caun [Salabat Khān] promis'd to convince the King himself in case of any Delay, pursuant to our Patron's Directions we made a Visit to the Visier the 4th Inst. and laid the case Open to him in a Petition from Mr Hamilton, of how little Service he could be without any Physick, Language, or Experience in the Country Medicines or their Names, besides which the Heart-breaking distractions off being parted for ever from his Wife and Children wou'd be insupportable, and intirely take away his Qualifications for the Kings Service, that under the favour of his Majesty Clemency, with the utmost Submission he desir'd he might have leave to depart with us, from our Selves we informed the Visier, that we shou'd have esteem'd this as a very great Honour, but finding the Doctor under these Troubles not to be perswaded, we were oblig'd to lay the case before his Majesty, and that in this case none so proper as himself, withal that we humbly desir'd he would use his Intercessions to the King that his Majesty might be prevail'd upon to dispatch him. The good Visier readily offer'd to use his utmost Endeavours, and Since the case was so, the Business was to gain the Doctor's Dispatch without displeasing the King, and order'd a Petition to be drawn up to his Majesty in the same Form, as that given to himself directed to the King and sent him, which he wou'd forward with one from himself; it was sent him and the Visier was as good as his word, writing a very pathetick address to his Majesty, enforcing M. Hamiltons reasons, and backing them with his own Opinion "That it was better to let him go. The King return'd an Answer which came out the 6th as follows, "Since he is privy to my nakedness and perfectly understands his business, I wou'd very fain have kept him, and given him whatsoever he shou'd have ask'd, but seeing he can't be brought on any Terms to be content, I agree it, and on condition that after he has gone to Europe, procur'd such Medicines as are not to be got here, and seen his Wife and Children, he return to visit the Court once more, let him go. We hope in God this Troublesome Business is now blown over.

¹ No mention of wife or children is made in Hamilton's will; and, as I read Hamilton's personal history, they were really prospective. His desire was to return home to be married; but perhaps for the sake of argument with his Majesty, it was thought better to assure that the doctor was so already. Hamilton's hypothetical wife and children were, no doubt, strong points in the grand vizier's pathetic address.

DELHI, JUNE, 1717.

CSL

The Phirmaund [farmān] for the Honourable Robert Hedges Esq. is wrote in and gone to the Suddera-Suddool [sadrā-sadūr] for the broad Seal, it's open and will have the Visiers Seal on it, and is more like a General Phirmaund [farmān] than an Answer to a Letter, so without doubt will be of great Service.

The Present order'd for the Honourable Robert Hedges Esq., the Consonma [khānsāmān] has given his Dusticks [dastaks] for the Delivery of the Goods, on the Several Officers, we are getting them in as soon as possible.

The rains are setting in here, but however we intend to leave this Place with all the Expedition we can, preparing Carriage and taking in Servants, altho' it may be impossible to March when the Waters are up, but it's absolutely necessary to leave this Place, Tho' our Journey may be Stopt at Agra.

The King notwithstanding his many Oaths made to the Contrary has lately imposed the Gigea (Poll Tax)¹ we had some Apprehensions they were going to rip up old Stories but as yet it has extended no farther than a Surmise, we have esteem'd it for our Honourable Masters Interest not to make any Addresses to the King, for fear of bringing our late Grants in Question. The only Place where the Tax was paid by the English was at Surat, and there in Lieu of it was an Additional Custom which Custora being intirely taken away and a Peeschash [peshekash] plac'd in its Stead, we hope the Phirmaund [farmān] now obtained will be esteem'd Sufficient to fend off this Imposition, altho' it is not improbable there may be some Trouble about it, shou'd it be laid on other European Nations.

We design to write to your Honour &c. again as soon as we leave this City, in the Interim we remain,

Honourable Sir and Sirs

Your most obedient humble Servants

Dilly
June 7th
1717

C. SEERHAUD assenting
HUGH BARKER Secy

JOHN SURMAN
EDWARD STEPHENSON

P. S.

Herewith comes Copy of the Phirmaund [farmān] for the Honourable Robert Hedges Esq. in answer to his Arzdust ['arz-dāsh] to his Imperial Majesty."

196. DIARY.

"The Jewell-office insists upon 800 rupees for the Value off 2,400 rupees. The peeshcar [peshekār] off the Elephants told Our Vakile [vakil], That our Elephant was only procurable in time, by a present to the Droga [dārūghah]. The busness off the Cloth is made up for 250 rupees."

June 11th "The Affair off the Jewell-office is concluded for 600 rupees.

"Mr Surman &c. went to return the Vizier thanks for the Doctors Clearance, Outbulmoolk [Qutbu-l-mulk] bid the Doctor to bring his Wife and family with him. Mr Surman said this great generosity off his Majesty in permitting the Doctor to visit his Own Country, had so Obliged him, that he would make a Speedy return. Then Mr Surman presented two petitions for Dusticks [dastaks] and Husbulhoocums [hasbu-l-hukms] for the way. To this he Answer'd That Dusticks [dastaks] should be given As also two Husbulhoocums [hasbu-l-hukms] on Chivileram¹ and Nosserut Year Caun², Subahs [sabads] off Illaabas [Allahābād] and Agra, Butt for the Other two (meaning Seerbulund Caun³ and Jaffor Caun [Ja'far Khān]) they must goe to the Other (Caundoras [Khān Daurān's]) house, for that he never wrote to them. The Other petition being for a recommendatory Letter to Hossein-Ali-Caun [Husain 'Ali Khān], concerning Divy Island and Madrass five Towns, He immediately ordered his Moonchy [munshi] to write whatever should be desired. Concerning the Byragys [bairagi's] Affair, Itt was wished there might be a thorough Examination and iff there was any Obligation they were ready to fulfill itt, Butt desiring, that, iff itt was a forged lye, he might be punished accordingly."

¹ The reimposition of the jizyah was one of the first acts of 'Ināyatulla Khān after he became dāwān. See Khān Khān, II, 775.

"Besides the Seaw [siyahah], Sallabut Caun [Salābat Khān] spoke to the Droga [dārōghah] for a very Good Elephant,

June 12th

Butt he replied There being none good here, he had sent 80 Coarce [kos] to Bans-Birelly⁴ to bring them from thence. Upon Our Vakilos [vakils] saying there was a present providing for him, he ordered itt to be brought—The Droga [dārōghah] off the perfume-Office⁵ like all the rest Expects to be bribed, pretending he receives 200 rupees for Every 2 Tola His Majesty gives any Omrah [umara].

¹ Chhabilah Rām, Nāgar, was appointed governor of Allahābād on the 28th Zū-l-hijjah, 1127, i.e. the 14th December, 1715 and died there at the end of the year 1131 (13 Nov. 1718 to 2 Nov. 1719.) His biography is in Me'āziru-l-umara, II, 328.

² Roknu-d-daulah, Sayyid Nuṣrat Yār Khān, Bārhaḥ, was made deputy to Samsam-d-daulah at Allahābād on the 5th Jamādī, 1127 i.e. the 28th April 1715. He was afterwards governor of Patna 'Aḡmābād. His name was Hidiyatullah, and he was a native of the village Kaithora, now in the Muzaffarnagar district. He died at Delhi on the 22nd Ramaṣān, 1134, i.e. the 25th June, 1722.

³ Mir Muḥammad Rafi, a native of Tūn in Persia, was entitled Mubārizu-l-mulk, Sarbuland Khān, Bahādūr, Dilwār Jang. He and prince 'Aḡmū-sh-shān had married sisters. He was appointed to Patna on the 25th Zū-l-qā'dah, 1127, i.e. the 11th November 1715. He was superseded by Khān Zamān, Bahādūr, on the 22nd Rabi 'I 1130 i.e. the 12th February 1718. He died at the age of 69 on the 13th Zū-l-qā'dah 1154 i.e. the 9th January, 1742. Ja'far Khān means, of course, the governor of Bengal.

⁴ Bāns Baroli, the popular name of Baroli in Rājāḥkhand as distinguished from Rāe Bar i in Oudh.

⁵ "The perfume office," i.e. the karkarūq-khānah, one of the many imperial kārkhanahs under the khānizmān.

DELHI, JUNE, 1717.

CSL

June 13th

"The Jewells and Cloth are sett apart for the Honourable Robert Hedges, and Only waite his Majestys perusal.

Seerpaws [sar-o-pās] for the three Honourable Presidencies were brought home, 440 rupees being first paid.

M^r Surman &c^s visitted Caundora [Khān Daurān]. Sallabut Caun Salsbat Khān says he spoke to Caundora [Khān Daurān] about the Goorze-burdars [gursbardārs] but without Success. Our Tents gone out to Barrapoola [Bārapulah]."

June 15th

"Seerhaud [Sarhad] asked leave to give 40 or 50 rupees To the Begum and Eunuch for dispatch in Sealing the Honourable Presidents Phirmaund [farmān] which was approved off."

June 16th

"The Biragy [birāgi] sent by the hands off one of the Viziers Jessowls' The Letter he pretends was given him by Governour Pitt. The direction was a perfect Scrawl, and no letters of any nation.

A Dustick [dastak]¹ for the way and Husbulhoooms [hasbu-l-hukums] on the four Subahs [sūbahs]² under the Meer Buxy [mīr bakhshī] (Omeer All Omrahs [amīr-i-umārā's]) seal were brought As likewise four Husbulhoooms [hasbu-l-hukums] under Caundoras [Khān Daurān's] Own Seal. M^r Surman sending to the Vizier to know when he should come and take his Leave, he returned Answer he would first Speak to his Majesty, and then Appoint a day."

June 17th

"The Mutsuddys [mutasaddīs] off the Jewell Office say that iff 600 rupees be given beforehand, The Jewells shall be shown his Majesty tomorrow; Otherwise not."

June 18th

"Seerhaud [Sarhad] says Caundora [Khān Daurān] has promised the Goorzeburdars [gursbardārs]. Seerhaud [Sarhad] likewise advises that he has gott all the Perwannas [parwānas] in his possession.

M^r J. Surman sent 600 rupees into the Jewell-office with Orders to deliver itt, in case the Jewells were shown the King, and given to the Vakile [vakīl]. Butt his Majesty not setting out Sepedar Caun [Sipah-dār Khān] the Droga [dārōghah] was nott in the Fort; Wherefore the money was brought back, without Any Effect."

¹ Pasawal, an armed messenger or attendant.

² Dastak, a written order, from dast, the hand.

³ The four sūbahs, or rather six sūbahs, of the Deccan of which Husain 'Alī Khān was then governor. Husain 'Alī Khān was the first or mīr bakhshī and amīr-i-umārā. His official seal at Court was held by the second bakhshī Khān Daurān, as his deputy.

DELHI, JUNE, 1717.

CSL
207

The Jewells were carried to Sepidar Caup [Sipahdār Khān] in the Durbar [darbār]; butt he made a frivolous Excuse for nott showing them these three or four days."

June 19th

197. CONSULTATION.

"The Culcutta Perwannas [parwānas] have been long in Suspence whether they would have been Ever gained. Seerhand [Sarhad] says they are now perfectly done, with the Subanavises [subānawīs] signing upon them and all the rest: Butt that 600 rupees was Expended in gaining those for Culcutta and 800 rupees must be given for the Signing the whole."

June 20th

198. DIARY.

"The day nott being fixed for Our dispatch from the Vizier, no proposition can be made to Caunders [Khān Daurān] on that head, which Lost may take up some time, thereby greatly hindering our speedy departure (Hoping in four or five days to have nothing Else to delay us). Wherefore Mittersein [Mitr Sen] is ordered to lay our condition before Munzoor Caun [Manzūr Khān] and desire him to represent itt to the Vizier, That he had been pleased to order Mr Surman nott to desire his leave, till within three or four days of his departure, which time being come there was nothing Else to stop him, and that the Charges were very great, all necessary Servants being taken in."

June 20th

"Mittersein [Mitr Sen] according to Mr. Surmans directions wrote a note to Munzoor Caun [Manzūr Khān], which was by him sent in to the Vizier. He order'd a petition to be wrote to the King about his despatch; Yett was there some demand off Security made for the Doctors return. M^r. Hamilton gave an obligation under his own Seal."

June 22nd

"The Vizier approved off the Doctors obligation. The Vizier much out off order."

June 23rd

"The Jewells were carryed to the King, who ordered the Droga [dārōghah] to bring such things only on Tuesdays and Fridays."

June 24th

"The Viziers petition is Come Out. The King has ordered him to give the Doctor something."

June 25th

Our Vakile [vakīl] and the peeshcar [peeshkār] off the Jewell Office pressed the Droga [dārōghah] to shew the Jewells, butt without Success. This gives us cause to Suspect he has no share in the bribe off 600 rupees."

DELHI, JUNE AND JULY, 1717.

CSL

"The peeshcar [peshkār] off the Jewell-Office gives great Assurances June 26th that all will be finished on Friday next.

The Vizier sent two petitions to his Majesty, One relating to Mr Surmans dispatch, The other for the Doctor. The King order'd a Horse and Culgee [kalghī] for Mr Surman and Horse for Mr Hamilton Mr Surman procured two Horses more for Seerhaud [Sarhad] and Mr Stephenson, for the sake of a proper Decorum to the world."

"The Carriers demurrage commences this instant. This being the June 28th Day Appointed by the Vizier, Mr Surman &c^{ts} sett out, butt returned when gott half way, The Vizier having changed his mind and Appointed the 30th Instant."

199. CONSULTATION.

"We have this day received Our Dispatches from the Vizier. This Dilly Minister told us that the King was resolv'd to June 30th punish the Portugeeze for their insolence, and that forces would be ordered upon Goa. He desired that the English would assist upon this occasion. He was Answered, That unless we were at open war with them in Europe, we dare nott break the peace. Butt he seeming nott satisfied with this answer proposed the French to Zeaudy Caun [Zeyāu-ā-dīn Khān]; who answered, "I shall be able to manage this Affair. It is absolutely necessary that our settlements off Bombay and that Coast hear this news Wherefore Agreed that we dispatch itt with all possible Expedition"

200 DIARY.

"The Vizier dispatched Mr Surman &c^{ts} in the following manner.
June 30th For Mr Surman Seerpaw [sar-o-pā], Horse and Culgee [kalghī]. Seerhaud Seerpaw, Horse and Culgee [kalghī], Mess^{rs} Stephenson and Hamilton Seerpaws [sar-o-pās] and Horses. The Vizier Charged the Doctor to return for that he was his Security. He desired our Assistance against the Portugeeze butt received the same answer as formerly.

Note—The Culgees [kalghīs] were sent home to Mr Surman and Cojah Seerhaud [Khawājah Sarhad] Seeing none butt his Majesty orders the fixing them on peoples heads."

"Our Friend Syud Sallabut Caun Behauder [Sayyad Šalabāt Khān Bahādur] had a son born. Being with his Majesty on this occasion, He was gently reprimanded."

July 3rd

DELHI, JUNE AND JULY, 1717.

200
SL

manded, that Mr Hamilton could not be introduced (sic) to Stay. But the King spoke very favourably off the Embassy in General."

201. LETTER XXXV.¹

"To the Honourable ROBERT HEDGES Esq. Governour of Fort William and President for Affairs of the Honourable Company of Merchants of England Trading to the East Indies &c^e Council in Fort William.

HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRs

Having drawn a Bill of Exchange this Instant on your Honour &c^e for twelve Thousand Sicca Rupees of 10½ Massa [māshah] and the 6th Years Stamp payable to Sawbiparry [sāhū beopāri] or Order for value received here of Govind Ray Keerutsein [Govind Rāe Kirat Sen] Factors to Kissoray Kissenchund, [Keshū Rāe Kishan Chand] we send this to advise thereof, and shall hope for your Honour &c^e ready Compliance.

Dilly
July 5th
1717.

We are,
Honourable Sir and Sirs
Your most obedient humble Servants

HUGH BARKER
Secretary.

JOHN SURMAN
EDWARD STEPHENSON."

202. LETTER XXXVI.

"To the Honourable ROBERT HEDGES Esq. Governour of Fort William and President for Affairs of the Honourable Company of Merchants of England trading to the East Indies &c^e Council in Fort William,

HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRs

This Serves to accompany a Bill of Exchange drawn this Instant on your Honour &c^e for thirteen thousand Sicca Rupees of 10½ Massa [māshah] and the 6th Years Stamp to Sawbiparry [sāhū beopāri] or Order, being for value receiv'd here from Murlidar Bawsein Decanne Ray [Murlidhar Bhāe Sen Dakhini Rāe] Factors to Kissoray Kissenchund [Keshū Rāe Kishan Chand], we hope you will give due Honour to said Bill,

Dilly
July 5th
1717.

and are,
Honourable Sir and Sirs
Your most obedient humble Servants

HUGH BARKER
Secretary.

JOHN SURMAN
EDWARD STEPHENSON."

203. DIARY.

"Mr Surman &c^e were dispatched from Caundora [Khān Daurān], July 11th Mr Surman receiving Seerpaw [sar-o-pā], Horse, and Oulgee [kaighi], The rest Seerpaws [sar-o-pās]. Att coming away presented some phirds [fards], About ¹ This letter and the following one are to be found in the 'Letter Book of Mr Surman.'

DELHI, JULY, 1717.

CSL

the Goorzeburdars [gurbardārs] receiving the Honourable Presidents phirmaund [farman], and Other Smaller Articles. Caundora [Khān Daurān] gave his Service to Our Honourable President, and all other chiefs in India."

July 14th

"The Tents all sett up in Barrapoola [Bārahpulāh].

After much trouble and some Expençe The Honourable Presidents Elephant is come home. About 300 rupees Ready money given Among the Drogas [dārōghah's] Servants."

July 15th

"The Honourable Presidents Jewells come home.

Seerhaud [Sarhad] has, by the favour of Gungaram [Gangarām], gott severall Copys off the Honourable Presidents phirmaund [farman] under the Cozzys [qāzi's] Seal.

Cooshalebund [Khushāl Chānd] has given the Seaw [siyāhah] for another Goorzeburdar [gurb'ardār] called Farruck-beg Caun [Farrukh Bēg Khān], who will proceed to Suratt."

204. CONSULTATION.

"The affair of Kirperam [Kirpā rām], concerning a former Agreement, has occasioned severall Fruitless disputes, without coming to Any conclusion. Seerhaud [Sarhad] now advises, That he had heretofore Agreed with that Mutsuddy [mutasaddi], pursuant to consultation, to give from 10 to 15,000 rupees in case he Effected all our buisness; butt should he only become Assistant and nott the Cheif Instrument, then to receive a present of 8 or 4,000 rupees. Itt is certain he has only conformed himself to the Latter by showing Hydracooly Cauns [Haidar Quli Khān's] Letters to Caundora [Khān Daurān] &c: Nevertheless, to prevent any mischeif he may doe us with Hydera Cooly Caun [Haidar Quli Khān] att Suratt, itt may nott be impolitick to advance upon the small present formerly promised him. This person being att first Introduced by Seerhaud [Sarhad], has from the beginning been entirely under his management. Seerhaud [Sarhad] being the proper Judge, and yett Backward to Explain himself, has now been the more Strenuously desired to declare what Sum is sufficient to be given. To which he replys, That instead off 10,000 rupees, he will nott consent to give more than 7000 rupees, off which 700 must be deducted. We doe Suppose, and hope this Sum will prevent his enrolment among our Enemys; For this reason Agreed that Mr. John Surman deliver itt.

DELHI, JULY, 1717.

CSL
211

C. Seerhand [Khwajah Sarhad] having brought in y^e following Account to this board, Itt is Accordingly taken into Consideration

Syrash ¹	26 Chests	...	2600
Arrack ...	...	...	481
Black-Cases	...	...	2400
Pallankeets	Fitting & making	1	688
Camells ...	...	3	532
Padree ...	...	...	875
Rs.			7576

Expostulative Remarks on the Foregoing Account.

Messrs Surman & Stephenson. For y^e 26 Chests we are ready to give 60 rupees per Chest According to M^r Stephensons sale.

C. Seerhand. I cannot allow mine att 100 per Cent, having paid 800 rupees freight from Bengall.

Note. He had 10 Carriages from y^e Company, and might have had more in case he had demanded them and Came out in time.

Messrs Surman & Stephenson. The Arrack which he charges was given away by him without our Cognizance. We cannot According to our Instructions, allow anything, butt what is given away by a generall order in Consultation.

Messrs Surman & Stephenson. We are willing to allow his pallan-keen, iff he brings in y^e particulars, The gilding with Gold Excepted; for which there was no manner of Occasion.

Messrs Surman & Stephenson. We are willing to allow and pay for his Camells on conditions off his proceedure with us; and have provided more for his Use.

C. Seerhand. I have bought y^e Camells this year and a half for my own use, and have now brought in y^e account, which is nott allowed.

Messrs Surman & Stephenson. The padree is an Affair off his own conclusion. And as we could never gett his account Specify'd in a former Consultation, so cannot pay y^e money; butt refer itt to y^e Hon^{ble} President and Council.

There is Likewise another Account of Durbar-Charges Amounting to 8742-2, butt being irregular, we required y^e particulars off what Goods he had given away. Having Little to say against itt, we are ¹ Probably this was Shiraz wine in bottles.

DELHI, JULY, 1717.

CSL

ready to pay ye money on receipt off said particulars. C. Seerhaud [Khwājah Sarhad] att present refuses to take this Last, because we allow nott the whole.

Three months and Eight days have been Elapsed in making the Honourable Robert Hedges phirmaund [farmān] ready, which might have been much sooner Effected, had Cojah Seerhaud [Khwājah Sarhad] been hearty in the pursuit. For according to his own confession 'twas butt a work of 15 days. Having nothing left to detain us Longer in Dilly, we propose to Leave the City the 18th Instant. Wherefore if the phirmaund [farmān] is nott delivered Cojah Seerhaud [Khwājah Sarhad] must be answerable for any delay that Ensues.

Cojah Seerhaud [Khwājah Sarhad] replys to this Allegation, 'That he has no manner off buisness, Butt that all his Accounts amounting to 19000 rupees being refused to be paid, He cannot goe with M^r. Surman, being unable to clear Accounts with his Creditors. Wherefore he must stay here till he hears from and is relieved by the Honourable President and Councill. In return to this Mess^{rs}. Surman and Stephenson are ready to pay what may appear reasonable, and to be answer'd to our Honourable Masters. For any thing Farther, there must be an Excuse. Butt They are well satisfyd, that is nott the reason: he having Enter'd into a sea off buisness off his own att the Court, to Effect which cannot take up Less than three or four Months.'

205. DIARY.

" Having sent Every thing before, M^r. Surman after taking Leave off Sallabut Caun [Šālshat Khān], and recommending Mittersein [Mitr Sen] to his favour; Left the City off Dilly, and arrived in the Tents att Barrapoola [Bārāhpulah]. Cojah Seerhaud [Khwājah Sarhad] remains in the City. Ha was in the morning with M^r. Surman, talking over his Account.

Note.—The difference is about 4000 rupees. M^r. Surman asked whether so small a Sum could hinder his procedure? On which he affirmed that to be the Only reason of his stay. Upon this he went home, and from that time never Encount'r'd any one off the Negotiation.

Cojah Seerhaud [Khwājah Sarhad] sent to M^r. Surman for 700 rupees more for Kirperam [Kirpārām], which he intended to save as Dastore [dastūri], butt nott Allowed by that Mutsuddy [mutsuddi]. M^r. Surman reply'd, send his Servant to me and I will deliver itt; which nott being performed the money was Saved."

BĀRANPUĀH, JULY, 1717.

206. LETTER XXXVII.¹

CS
31B

To the Honourable Robert Hedges Esq. Governour of Fort William and President for Affairs of the Honourable Company of Merchants of England trading to the East Indies &c^a Council.

HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRs

We wrote your Honour &c^a the 7th June giving an Account of our having received our dispatches from his Majesty &c^a we also wrote your Honour &c^a two Letters of the 5th Inst. to accompany 2 Bills of Exchange, one for 13000 and one for 12000 Siccas then drawn, payable to Sawhiparry [sāhū beopārī], for the value received here from Gololehundsaw's [Gulāl Chand Sāhū's] Factors.

We found our Selves necessitated to take our leaves in form from the Visier and Caundera [Khān Daurān], which we have at last after Severall Delays effected, from the Vizier the last Ult^o. and from Samsama Dowlah² the 10th Inst. after which having received the present order'd by his Majesty for the Honourable Robert Hedges Esq. we found it our business to leave the City which accordingly we did yesterday in the afternoon, first taking our leave of Sallabut Cawn [Salābat Khān] and Zeudy Cawn [Zeyāu-d-dīn Khān]. There now remains nothing of any business to detain us, but the Phirmaund [farmān] in answer to the Honourable Robert Hedges Esq.³ Petition. This has been writing and going on according to the dilatory way of Cojah Surhaud [Khawājā Sarhad], above these three months, which he promis'd to do in 15 days and might as well have been finish'd in a Month as a year, but it being the only thing He had the management of in our dispatches, he is resolv'd to make that Subservient to his own Designs and we fear detain us some days, it has received the Kings and Visier's Seals, and Seerhand [Sarhad] has likewise taken attested Copys which has been done privately, for it is to have a Cover on it and another Seal in Wax, to receive this it went about two or three days since, and is the only thing remaining, we protest against Seerhaud Israel^a for this unnecessary delay, and declare that He is answerable for the Expences we are oblig'd to be at in the Stay we make at present, for had we received the Phirmaund [farmān], we could have proceeded today. It's very plainly his fault, for instead of minding that, he has all along run after his own business, or otherwise had he attended it, according to his own confession it might have been done in a few days. We have told him very roundly on this occasion what he may expect, and what he is answerable for, for fear he might play us a Trick, of which we had some Suspicion, we did what we cou'd to prevent it, by getting an order for the Starzeburdars [guzzbardārs] to carry it with the Seerpaw [sar-o-pā], but his dustiek [dastak] as yet not being ready, he cannot go to demand it, we shall make the proper use of this and get away as soon as possible, for our Stay must be very Expensive.

¹ This letter is found in the 'Copy Book of Letters' received from Mr Surman.

² Samsam-u-d-daulah, i.e. Khān, Daurān.

³ Here we get the full name, Sarhad Isrāīl, or Sarhad Israel, perhaps Sarhad, the son of Israel. The full name occurred before in the protest of the 14th March, 1715, p. 27.

DARAHFULAH, JULY, 1717.

CSL

For some time past we have Suspected Seerhaud [Sarhad] would Stay behind us, having entangled himself in his own and other Peoples Affairs. For his own he has petition'd the King to have the title of Girra-ke-rock, or Royall Merchant and deliver'd in a List of what rarities he is able to buy in all Europe, Turkey, China and Japan, but the true design is only to get the Title of King's Merchants to be a Protection wherever he goes, and also a necessary thing towards Saving his Customs. The King Sign'd it different to his Expectation, leaving out the desir'd Title, and ordering the Consommant [khānsāmān] to examine what is proper and then to give the order for a Phirmaund [farmān] for that alone, for this month past we have been always egging him on to get in a readiness to depart with us, which he always promis'd but never performing, we were aware of that Trick of getting money from us, and then Staying behind, which finding he could not obtain, he brought in his Account of Durbar [darbār] Expenses &c¹ which was mostly expended by order of Consultation, and our Knowledge, for which reason we were ready to pass and pay it, but he had got other Demands which he tack'd to it, viz¹ rupees.

Syrash Wine expended and given away 26 Chests ...	2600
Arrack ...	451
Black Cases given away ...	2400
Pallenkeen fitting with Gold and mending the old one at Severall times	683
Paid Padre ...	875
Camels 3 ...	532
	7576

In answer to this we reply'd for the Wine if he would be contented as others had given it the Company, Viz¹ about 60 rupees p^t Ohest, he should have it, for the Arrack he has expended and gave it away without our Knowledge, for the black cases they all cost about 500 rupees in Calcutts so the first exception is the extravagant rate he would impose, besides he was frequently forbid to make use of them on the Company's Account who shou'd not pay that unreasonable rate, he was advis'd to dispose of them otherwise, excepting all this if any had been given it being without our Knowledge or Consent, we cou'd not answer the passing it, for the Pallenkeens &c¹ we were willing to allow of, except the Gilding with Gold Bamboes Ends, Cullasses¹ &c¹ for which there was no manner of occasion neither was it seeming for him to use them, for the Camels we were willing to pay for them in case of his procedure and have provided more for him, but otherwise not. The Affair of the Padre is of his own conclusion and as yet we cou'd [not] get any thing of that Account; so we cou'd not pay that money, but refer'd it to the Honourable President and Council. When all this was pen'd in a Consultation, Cojah Surhaud [Khawājah Sarhad] declared that except all was allow'd of, he wou'd not receive what we had pass'd, and without the whole Sum he could not nor wou'd not proceed, but Stay till such time as he had receiv'd Remittances from the Honourable President and Council, Sufficient

¹ Katas is a final.

BARAMPULAH, JULY, 1717.

215
SL

for the above and to enable him to come down, so at present he remains in the City and for his farther Intentions we dare not answer seeing he is so very unaccountable that the like was never heard of.

Your Honour &c's dated May the 27th came to hand the 2^d Instant.

We formerly advis'd your Honour &c^t that all the Sunnuds [sanads] were finished, and have sent two Setts of the 7 latter Copys, the Originals and Copys Seerhaud [Sarhad] has at last deliver'd to John Surman, as also the old Phirmaunds [farmāns] and Papers after some put off.

For the Copys of the Phirmaunds [farmāns] which Seerhaud [Sarhad] sent your Honour &c^t, it was done without our Knowledge, and so Slyly that the Cozrees [qāzī's] mark was not on the Originals when he deliver'd them as it ought to have been and was afterwards, it's certain we did for some time omit sending your Honour &c^t Copys of the Phirmaunds [farmāns], but it was so far from a Neglect that it was a Piece of Policy design'd to hasten Seerhaud [Sarhad] to finish the Sunnuds [sanads] and get them all Sign'd telling him that we wou'd not remit them till we had received the Perwannas [parwānas] finish'd, which after we had wrote Your Honour &c^t so often wou'd be done in a few days, he had Still some delay behind. This had the desir'd Effect and we hope your Honour &c^t received the Copys of the Phirmaunds [farmāns] by Mr. Coock and those sent afterwards, besides which we had some intimation, that he had privately got Copys and sent them down, which when he confess'd to us afterwards, we told him what we conceiv'd wou'd be your Honour &c^t's Opinion of it which he has now found true.

The 9986.6.3 your Honour &c^t mention of Bernasseats. [Vārānasi Sett's] is Current money of Dilly, the batta of which from new Sicca's is $3\frac{1}{4}$ per cent we have now made an End of that Affair having sold all their Goods as well as possibly we cou'd and adjusted their Accounts, which comes enclos'd, we desire your Honour &c^t wou'd please to pay them their Ballance, Current money of Dilly, Batta as above.

Pursuant to your Honour &c^t's Orders we have pitcht upon a Person for a Vaqueel [vakil] by name Mittersein [Mitr Sēn], and agreed with him for 75 rupees per Month Pay, and 25 rupees per Month allowance for petty Durbar [darbār]. Expences, we leave him 600 rupees being 6 Months pay in the hands of Gololchundsaw's [Gulālchand Sāhū's] Factors, to be paid him monthly, we shall give him the proper Instructions before we dispatch him, for what Orders your Honour &c^t shall think fit to give, the Letters, if deliver'd to Gololchundsaw's [Gulālchand Sāhū's] Factory, will reach his hands, by whose means we shall order him to send his to your Honour &c^t we have likewise pitcht on another Shroff [shurrāf] for Surat, but from Madrass hence there is so very little Correspondence, that we beleive the quickest method will be via Bengall, in our Instructions to him and by word of Mouth, we shall have a due regard to your Honour &c^t's Orders, not to be chargeable to the Company, or offer to put them to any Expence without a peculiar Order.

We hope our Stay here cannot be longer than 4 or 5 days, when we shall use the utmost Expedition that the Weather will permit, the Rains as yet have not been Severe in these Parts so may be expected violent, we fear our Arrival at BĀRAHPURĀH, JULY, 1717.

CSL

Patna will be after the rains are over, for the Ground between that City and Elahbass¹ is so Swampy, besides the Rivers will be difficult to pass, as well as the Rivulets, where there are no boats, by this Your Honour &c^t may beleive our Journey will be tedious, and if that you think it convenient to have us down by water from Patna, it will be necessary to have good Budgrows, and as soon as we shall receive Advices we shall give Orders to have what other boats there will be occasion for to carry our Lumber. For the Companys Horses and Camels we beleive part of them may go off at Cassimbazar, and for what can be dispos'd of at Patna we shall Sell, but for to Stay on that Account will enhance the already vast Expence, we are and have been at Short Allowance of Liquor for some time, by the boats we hope your Honour &c^t will please to consider us.

The Roads between this Place and Agra on Account of the Rebellion of the Jaats [Jāts] are very troublesome by reason of their Excursions, not having any other Company we are oblig'd to keep a good Force, for the Protection of those invaluable Jewells, but we assure your Honour &c^t nothing shall be added but what is absolutely necessary.

Enclosed comes Accounts Cash Warehouse Charges general, and Copys of Consultations for the Month [of] May, what with the Hurry of leaving the City and the Indisposition of most of us, the Accounts for June are not done, but the next Cossid [qāsid], which we intend to dispatch from Feredabad [Faridābād] shall carry them.

Enclos'd we send your Honour &c^t 3 Copys of the General Phirmaunds [farnāns] as also 29 of the Sunnods [sanads].

With much ado we have got a Gurzeburdar [gurzeburdār] to carry the Chief of Surat's Searpaw [sar-o-pā] for the Governour of Madrass the Gurzeburdar [gurzeburdār] that goes with us has orders to carry it so will be dispatcht from Bengall.

When we received our dispatches from the Vizier Azeem², he told us the Portuguese at Goa had been guilty of a great many misbehaviours, but particularly in abusing the Mahometans, and making them Christians by Force, which his Majesty, having very often Complaints of it, was now resolv'd to have Satisfaction, he said the Forces would be order'd to besiege that Port, that he expected we would give them Assistance to punish the Kings Enemies. We modestly answered it was not in our Power, neither durst we break the Peace upon any occasion, that we cou'd not Assist upon any other Conditions, than being at War with Portugal in Europe, notwithstanding this answer he seem'd not satisfied, and then propos'd the French to Zedy Caun,³ who it's now reported will be made Duan of the Deccan and some other Ports, he answer'd that this affair, were it left to him, he was able to manage. This is all that past, or that we have yet heard of, but not knowing how it may be pursued, and how our

¹ Allahabad.

² Wazīr-i-'azīm, the great or chief minister, that is Sayyad 'Abdullah Khān, Qutb-ul-mulk.

³ Zeyān-d-din Khān did become dewan of the Dakhin or Deccan see Mo'asir-ul-umara III, 37.

BĀRAHPULAH, JULY, 1717.

CSL
217

Settlements of Bombay and the Coast of Mallabar may Stand, or what influence it may have on the Trade in General, we immediately gave this Notice to the Honourable Charles Boon Esq^r &c^e Council in Bombay that they might not be Surpriz'd with the News by any different Way; so pre-armed against the fore-coming Disturbance.

At this last Visit from the Visier we obtain'd a very kind recommendatory Letter to his Brother Omcerall Omrah [Amirul-Umarā] concerning our Trade in General, the renting of Divy Island, The Delivery of the 5 Madrass Towns &c^e as also enclos'd. Transcript of what orders he desir'd might be sent to Saddotoola Cawn [Sa'datullah Khān] Concerning the 5 Towns and the Govt of Metchlipatam [Machhlipatnam] for Divy, all very Plain and full, which we esteeming too precious to send by a Cossid [qāṣid] shall bring with us.

We are,

Honourable Sir and Sirs,

Your most obedient humble Servants

JOHN SURMAN

EDWARD STEPHENSON."

Barra-Poola
[Bārahpuṭah]
July 13th
1717.

207. DIARY.

"The phirmaund [farman] still with the Sudder¹ to be close-sealed.

July 20th

M^r. Surman sent 100 rupees to Decanny-Ray [Dakhini Rāe] to dispatch this Affair Speedily under-hand among the under Officers."

"M^r. Surman wrote a note to Seerhaud [Sarhad] concerning the Honourable Presidents phirmaund, [farman] and sending out some Cozzys [qāṣi's] Copys &c^e butt to which he received no answer. We hear Suddanund [Sadānand] begins to be hard on Seerhaud [Sarhad], setting peons on his Door."

July 21st

"Golam-Hossein [Ghulām Husain] having his Dustick [dustak] ready came to M^r. Surman, there nothing now remains, butt for him to return and demand the phirmaund [farman]. This project was concerted by Seerhands [Sarhad's] own peeshcar [peeshkār] Decannyray, [Dakhini Rāe] and Carried on by one Somerseine [Sumer Sen] formerly Bibbee Julianas Mutsuddy [mutasaddi]; the Latter having the desire off a horse and Seerpaw [sar-o-pā] for his pains.

July 22nd

M^r. Surman, that the world might take no Exceptions, wrote Again to Seerhaud [Sarhad] to the following Effect, 'tho' with Little hopes of Success. "That having formerly wrote for Copys off the Last Phirmaund [farman] he had received neither them nor an answer. That now he wrote again and would have him consider what he was BĀRAHPULAH TO FARIDĀBĀD, JULY, 1717.

CSL

about, The phirmaund [farmān] being the only thing waited for. Wherefore he must Expect to answer any delay on that Account occasioning a daily Expence of 4 or 500 rupees; All Horsemen peons &c. being taken in." To this Seerhaud [Sarhad] something harshly replied. "That the phirmaund [farmān] was with the Sudder [sadr].¹ That had he the seal in his pockett you should nott waite a moment. As for the Daily Expence of Horsemen &c. Why did you take them in till the phirmaund [farmān] was in Your hand? So you must Account for itt. You having Curtailed my Account out of Spite, Am kept in Dilly, and must waite an answer from below; whereby the Company will be putt to 20,000 rupees Expence by my going down alone."

"Mr Surman wrote Mullookhund [Maluk Chand] to hasten July 23rd Decanny-Ray [Dakhinī Rāo] about the phirmaund [farmān].

"Mr. Surman Sealed up the Surat-Seerpaw [sar-o-pā], and sent itt to July 24th Mittersein [Mitr Sēn]; with which and 200 rupees for Expences Furruck-beg Caun [Farrukh Bēg Khān]² will proceed when his Dustick [dastak] is ready. Mr. Surman sent Mullookhund [Maluk Chand] word he was resolved to move tomorrow.

Mullookhund [Maluk Chand] wrote word this Evening "That Both He, Somerseine, Decanny Ray, and Mittersein [Sumer Sēn Dakhinī Rāe and Mitr Sēn] would be att Feredabad [Faridābād] to morrow. That the Phirmaund [farmān] was sealed and Carried from the Sudders [sadr's] to Ecklaus Caun [Ikhlās Khān], and that Golam Hosseine [Ghulām Husain] had shown Ecklaus Caun [Ikhlās Khān] his Dustick [dastak], who promised to deliver him the phirmaund [farmān] tomorrow morning. So we hope all trouble is over, and that need be no Longer apprehensive of any thing from Seerhaud [Sarhad]."

"Arrived from Barrapoola [Bārahpulāh] at July 25th Feredabad [Faridābād].

The Gentues arrived from the City. They Cannot tell whether the Goorzeburdar [gursabardār] has actually gott possession off the Phirmaund [farmān]."

208. CONSULTATION.

"According to the Honourable President and Councils orders to constitute a Vakile [vaki] before our departure hence, we have pitched on Mittersein [Mitr Sēn], as the most proper person within our knowledge. We Feredabad

[Faridābād]
July 25th

¹ The sadr-o-sadr.

² Farrukh Bēg Khān was the imperial mace-bearer.

FARIDĀBĀD, JULY, 1717.

219

CSL

have Agreed with him for 75 rupees per Month Wages besides a monthly allowance of 25 rupees Durbar-Expence. His Instructions being drawn up and Approved, Agreed that a translate be annexed to this Consultation. Agreed that Mr John Surman pay 600 rupees to Murli-dur Bawsein-Decannyrays [Murli-dhar Bhāo Sen Dakhīnī Rāe] Factory, with orders to pay Mittersein [Mitr Sen] 100 rupees per Month till farther orders from the Honourable president and Council.

Agreed That a protest be drawn up and sent to Seerhaud [Sarhad] for his disobedience in remaining behind; and that the translate be annexed hereto.

The Phirmaund [farmān] being so far secured that the Goorzebar-dar [guzarbardār] may probably receive itt in a few days; We are satisfied nothing ought to Detain us here any longer. Agreed that we make the best off our way down to our Honourable Employers."

209. PROTEST AGAINST SEERHAUD
Sent to him in a note from Feredabad.

YOUR Letter arrived In Barrapoola [Bārapulah], whatever occur'd you wrote; off the propriety you may Judge. We hear from others that the phirmaund [farmān] is seal'd and return'd to Ecklaus Caun [Ikhlūs Khān]. The Goorzeburdar [guzarbardār] has gott an order to receive the phirmaund [farmān] and Accompany us. Itt is certain he will act accordingly. We would have you consider this, because we are going hence with all Expedition. You do nott swerve in the Least from Your former behaviour. However, this Last Affair has nott been weigh'd Suffieiently, The Letting us depart, and staying behind your self, being unanswerable. Wherefore we now write, that you have no farther occasion for the State of Flaggs in your procession, pray from this time Lay them Aside; and whatever Allowance you received from the Honourable Company is Stop'd this instant. According to Your advice so much money was given to Kirperam [Kirpāram] without any advantage. We understand the answer you will give to this: Butt which is unwarrantable. If that Mutsuddys [mutasaddis] servant had come to Mr Surman 700 rupees should have been paid. We Expect a recommendation from Kirperam [Kirpāram] to Hydera Cooly Caun [Haidar Quli Khān] to arrive with us in Agra that so much money may nott be flung away.

An Authentick Translation.

HUGH BARKER Sec^y."

July 25th 1717.

FARIDĀBĀD, JULY, 1717.

CSL

210. INSTRUCTIONS TO MITTERSEIN, THE HONOURABLE COMPANYS VAKILE ATT THE MOGULLS COURT.

Mittersein [Mitr Sen] is appointed the Honourable Companys Vakile [vakil] at the Kings Durbar [darbār], His Wages being 75 rupees per Month, besides 25 rupees for Durbar [darbār] and other Expences. For this reason 600 rupees have been Lodged in the hand of Decanny-Ray Shroph [Dakhinī Rāe Śarrāf], that he may receive a monthly allowance of 100 rupees. On the Expiration of 6 Months he is to write to the Honourable English president in Bengall, who will Supply him farther, and That he make no demand on any other settlements for his wges or other Accounts.

That he does nott divulge his being the Honourable Companys Vakile [vakil], his buisness being to transmitt the Durbar [darbār] nēws. Iff itt should happen (which God forbid) that our Factorys are brought into any trouble, He is Secretly to give advice. Butt he must take care nott to be Expensive; seeing, without the order off the Chiefs, such disbursement will nott be allowed. That he obey the writings and orders derived to him From the Honourable Robert Hedges president of Bengall, The Honourable Charles Boone Att Bombay, and the Honourable—Collett att Madrass; being no ways dilatory. That he likewise obey all Letters on the Honourable Companys Account, from the Smaller settlements; Such as Patna, Cossimbuzar, Cannore, Vizagapatam, &c. That twice Every month he transmitt the Durbar [darbār] news with the Wackas [wāqā'as] to Bengall; delivering his letters to Murlidur Bawset, Decanny Rays [Murlidhar Bhāo Sen Dakhinī Rāe] Factory, and his Letters for Bombay to Kissendass Bullinaut [Krishandās Balī Nāth] shrops [śarrāfs] in Dilly. Iff itt should so happen that urgent buisness requires, and nott otherwise; he is to send his Letters on the Dawk [dāk], the Expence off which shall be allowed him.

That he Comport himself with honesty, by which meanes he may continue his post, and the Companys buisness goe on Currently. Such behaviour will by Gods grace meritt from the Honourable Company. For the rest itt is Committed to the protection Off the Almighty.

In this be very Careful.

July 25th 1717.

Authentick.

HUGH BARKER, Sec^y.

FARIDABAD JULY, 1717.

221

CSL

211. DIARY.

"Arrived a note from Seerhaud [Sarhad] with the following Account

July 26th

"That Going to the Persian Embassadors Tents without the City Some of the Embassadors people (beleived by the Masters orders) Accosted him with Swords and Lattys [lathis]; breaking his pallankeen to pieces. Seerhaud [Sarhad] being soundly bruised, and wounded in the Forehead and hand, returned to the City. In this Malancholly mood he Asks Mr Surmans advice, desiring the Doctor may be sent to cure him. Mr Surman only reply'd "That had he kept with us, this had nott happened. As for sending the Doctor, itt could nott be, seeing we should proceed tomorrow."

212. LETTER XXXVIII.¹

"To the Honourable ROBERT HEDGES Esq. Governour of Fort William and President for Affairs of the Honourable Company of Merchants of England trading To the East Indies &c^s Councill in Bengall.

HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRs,

We wrote Your Honour &c^s from Barrapoola [Bārapulah], dated the 19th Inst. Copy of which comes inclos'd. By the good Understanding that we have had with the Mutsuddys [mutasaddis] and those who have had the Obeif Management in the buisness, we have got the last Seal put upon the Phirmaund [farmān] which is returned to Ecklass Cawn [Ikhlās Khān], without so much as Seerhauds [Sarhad] knowing we had any thing to do in the matter. The Goorzeburdars Dustick [guzbardār's dastak] is likewise done and he has produced it before Ecklass Cawn [Ikhlās Khān]. We Suppose e're this he has received the Phirmaund [farmān] or will receive it, for which reason we are now making the best of our Way beleiving the Goorzeburdars [guzbardārs] will soon overtake us. Seerhaud [Sarhad] Continues obstinate remaining in the City altho we have wrote to him Severall Times, so has received none of the money we offred him.

We have drawn the following Bills of Exchange 1156. 8 Siccas, payable to Mr. H. Frankland received from Mr. Surman.

9000 Ditto payable to Barnarseat [Vārānasi Seth] received from Mr. E. Stephenson both which we hope your Honour &c^s will duely Honour.

Enclosed Comes Cash and warehouse Accounts, Charges Generall, and Copy [of] Consultations for the Month of June.

We have just now received a Note from Seerhaud [Sarhad], he advises that going to The Persian Embassador he was abus'd to Such a Degree as not only to be Severely Lattied¹ but also wounded, we know no fa[r]ther of it than that He had no business to be from Us.

¹ This Letter is found in the 'Copy Book of Letters' received from Mr. Surman.

Foradabad [Faridābād]
July the 26th
1717.

We are
Honourable Sir and Sirs
Your most Obedient Humble Servants
JOHN SURMAN
EDWARD STEPHENSON."

213. DIARY.

"Arrived at Palwall [Palwal]. A Dutch soldier who came to us from Meer-Jamlaḥs [Mir Jumlaḥ's] Camp, now run back to the City.

July 27th

Sent Surger Caun the Tomnadar² two Letters from Caundora [Khān Daurān] and Sallabutt Caun [Salābat Khān] Account a safe conduct."

"Arrived at Horull [Hodal].³ Mittersein [Mitr Sen] writes word that the Goorzeburdar [gurbardār] has the phirmaund [farmān] in his possession and will proceed when his Dustick [dastak] for the mewrah⁴ is ready. He says, Seerhaud [Sarhad] is so Absurd, as to think of getting forces from the Vizier to fight the Embassadour."

July 28th

214. LETTER XXXIX.

"To the Honourable Robert Hedges Esq. Governour of Fort William and President for Affairs of the Honourable Company of Merchants of England Trading to the East Indies &c: Council In Fort William.

HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRS

Not meeting with the Cossids [qāzids] We expected we were fore'd to detain the Packquet till we meet with them. We have got a Pair but cant be assured of their Goodness being in a Strange Country, but however we dispatch'd them with the News of our Safety 36 Cos [kos] from Dilly, and that we hear the Goorzeburdar [gurbardār] has receiv'd the Phirmaund [farmān], and will be after us in a few days.

Horull.
[Hodal]
July the 28th
1717.

We are
Honourable Sir and Sirs
Your most Obedient humble Servants.
JOHN SURMAN
EDWARD STEPHENSON."

¹ Beaten with a lathī or stick.

² Sanjar Khān, the thānahdār, was an officer posted at Palwal to keep the road clear as far as Hodal. He was a Dandzai Afghān, and held a manḡat of 5000. He died at Delhi early in Jamādi II, 1136 H., or February, 1724.

³ Hodal is a small town fifty five miles and seven furlongs from Delhi, eleven miles and four furlongs from Bhāmanikera, and fourteen miles and two furlongs from Chhāth.

⁴ Mewrah [mewrah] was the name of the post runners at the post stations. See [Bleekmann's] Ata-i-Albārī, I, p. 252; and Mīrat-i-Aḥmadī, lithographed edition, Vol. II, p. 117.

MATHURA TO AGRA, JULY AND AUGUST, 1717.

215. DIARY.

CSL
223

July 29th

"Arrived att Chatah¹ [Chhāth]."

"Arrived att Mutrah [Mathura].² It is thought advisable to pass the river here; Seeing the War with the Jats [Jats] has rendered the other way dangerous.

The phowdar [faujdar] here paid Mr. Surman a visit.

Momud Arruff Chilah [Muhammad 'Arif chela] arrived in 3 days from Dilly.

Passed the river with our whole Camp. All the Gentues gone to worship att Binderabund [Bindrāban] a holy place."

July 31st

August 1st

"Arrived at Barowly [Baroli].³

Repassed the River Jemna [Jamnah] and arrived att Secunderah

August 2nd

[Sikandrah].⁴

Arrived a Cossid [qāsid] from Dilly. Sallabut Caun [Salabat Khan] writes that Golam Hossein [Ghulam Husain] had the phirmaund [farmān] and would follow us, Farruckbeg Caun [Farrukh Beg Khan] making the best of his way to Suratt. Seerhaud [Sarhad] complained in a petition to his Majesty against the Persian Embassadour. His project of fighting him is now laid aside."

"Arrived att Agra, and again Ferryed over the Jemna [Jamnah.]

August 3rd.

The Camp is now at Vizier Camis Cutterah.⁵

216. CONSULTATION.

"Wanting a Supply for travelling Expences, and the Following Summs being paid into Cash, Agreed that bills of Exchange be given on the Honourable President and Council in Bengall, Viz:

Agra.
August 3rd.

1000 Siccas—Recd from Mr John Surman—payable to Mr James Williamson, 3000 do " " Kissoray Kissenchund [Kishori Krishan Chand]—to Saw Biparry [sākhā beppārti].

¹ Chhāth is fourteen miles and two furlongs from Hodal, and twenty-three miles and one furlong N. W. of Mathura in the tashil of the same name. Lat. 27° 43' N.; long. 77° 32' 50" E. It is a good sized place with plentiful supplies and water; the country level open and fairly cultivated. At the distance of a quarter of a mile there is a large sarai capable of holding two hundred men.

² This is, of course, the well-known city, commonly spelt Muttra.

³ Baroli is sixteen miles from Mathura or Muttra.

⁴ Sikandrah Bihishtabad, near Agra, the site of Akbar's tomb. Situated in lat. 27° 12' 59" N., and long. 77° 59' 34" E.

⁵ Wazir Khan-ka kutrah. This enclosure was on the opposite or left bank of the Jamnah about a mile north of the modern railway bridge.

AGRA, AUGUST, 1717.

CSL

H. Barker wanting money for Expences, Agreed that Mr Surman pay him 2000 rupees."

217. DIARY.

"Dispatched the Following Cossids [qasids]. One to Bombay with triplicate of the Last Letter, and a private Letter to Mr Boone concerning Seerhaud [Sarhād]. One to Fort William and another to Fort St. George."

218. LETTER XL.¹

"To the Honourable Robert Hedges Esqr Governour of Fort William and President for Affairs of the Honourable Company of Merchants of England trading to the East Indies &c^e Council in Bengall.

Honourable Sir and Sirs

Our last to your Honour &c^a was from Horull [Hodāl], we have met with no molestation in the way After passing the river twice to avoid it we are happily arrived at Agra and passed it once more. As yet but little rains and hereabouts the Earth is parched, though we hear very much of the Swamps that are about 60 Cos^e distance, We shall endeavour by little and little to break through them notwithstanding it may not be so expeditious as we desire. We hear Nothing Farther from Seerhaud [Sarhad], but that he has wrote his Complaint to your Honour &c^e which he designs to follow with Bills. The Business about his Usage from the Persian Embassadour was as formerly advised. Nothing would serve him at first but he would goe and fight him, and sent for Horse and Foot to take in accordingly, but we suppose the Fury of that Expedition went away upon Second Consideration.

The Goorzeburdar [gursbardār] has actually received the Phirmaund [farmān] but stayd for his Dawk Dustick [dāk dastak], so is not yet arrived though We expect him every day. We have a Chilah [chela] at present with us with the Kings Orders for our Protection but we find very Little to be depended on, our own Forces excepted which we hope will be sufficient for the Mewallaes [Mewālis] and afterwards for the Eugenes [Ujjainyas].²

To Express the Violence of the Heat it is almost impossible but that Men Horse and Camells in these few days Journey have lost their Lives by it.

We have drawn two Bills on Your Honour &c^a of Yesterdays date.

1000 Siccas received from Mr Surman payable to Mr Williamson or order, and 2000 Siccas received from Kisoray Kissenchund [Kishori Krishan Chand] payable to Sawbiparry [sāhū beopārī] or order, which we hope will be duely honoured.

We are

Honourable Sir and Sirs

Your most obedient humble Servants

JOHN SURMAN

EDWARD STEPHENSON.

Agra

August 4th

1717.

¹ This letter is entered in the "Copy Book of Letters received from Mr. Surman &c at the Mogul's Court," preserved at the India Office.

² The Ujjainyas are the Bhojpur Zamiedars between the Karamnasa and the Son rivers.

AGRA, AUGUST, 1717.

CSL
225

Supposing these Letters may Arrive in the Time That the Ships bound for Madras may be on their departure, we have wrote a few Lines to the Honble President and Council of Madras having finished the Negotiation to take our Leave of that Presidency. It comes under a flying Seal for Your Honour &c^s Perusell.

Idem.

JOHN SURMAN.

E. STEPHENSON."

219. LETTER XLII

"To the Honourable—Collet Esqr Governour of Fort St George, and President for Affairs of the Honourable Company of Merchants of England trading to the East Indies &c^s Council in Madras.

Honourable Sir and Sirs

The Honourable President and Council in Bengall advises us they gave your Honour &c^s a full Account of our Negotiation here, we had little Opportunity of making any Additions having been so full to that Presidency. Without doubt Your Honour &c^s rejoiced at the good news of Our having finished the difficult negotiation by the receipt of the Phirmaunds, Sunods [farmāns, sanads] &c^s the Copyes of which have to be Sure e'er this reached Your hands. After so great an Expence we hope all our Honourable Masters' Settlements will begin to reap the Advantage and that a few Years will reimburse them. Besides the Phirmaunds [farmāns] and Grants &c^s for the Coast of Coromondall we have got a very Pathetick recommendatory Letter from the Grand Vizier to his Brother Omearall Omrah [amir-ul-umrah] which will be of very good Use, being in Particular for the 5 Towns and the renting Divy [Divi] Island in Generall for all their Settlements on that Coast.

His Majesty has ordered a Seerpaw [sar-o-pā] for the Honourable Governour which we have received, and the Goorzebuarder [gurbardar] that attends us down to Bengall has orders to proceed and deliver it.

After having finished our Business we mett with great Trouble and difficulty in getting Clear of the Court, But God be thanked we have Effectted it and our Departure was the 18th Ultimo, so we are Endeavouring for Bengall with the utmost Expedition altho' in the midst of the rainy Season. Our Companion Cajah Seerband [Khwa] Jah Serhad thought fitt to Stay behind us in truth to effect some business of his own, but to deceive the World he pretended we would not pay him what money he knew we could not answer to do.

Being now able to lay down our Commission we think this a fitt Opportunity to take our leave of Your Honour &c^s we hope our behaviour through the Course of this Negotiation will meet with Your Honour &c^s Approbation when we shall have received our Reward. We return thanks for your Favours in particular,

and Are

Honourable Sir and Sirs

Your most humble Servants

JOHN SURMAN

EDWARD STEPHENSON."

Agre
August 4th
1717.

220. DIARY.

“Arrived at Raja k'-Talaw [Rājah-ka-talao]¹. The Mewattys [Mewāṭīs] in this Journey Attacked Our peeshanna, [peśhāṇa] but receiving Several wounds from the Defendants. They ran away. The Convoy ordered in Our Dusticks [dastaks], has been off no manner off use, Sometimes Accompanying us, and Sometimes nott appearing.”

August 5th “This day made demurrage Account Rain.”

August 7th “Arrived at Shukohabad [Shukohābād]²

Several Camells fiell and one Quite Spoiled.

August 8th “Arrived att Murlidur [Murlidhar-ki-sarāe]³.

A Thief taken, and very much whipped.”

August 9th “Arrived att Coorsine [Kursenah]⁴.”

August 10th “Arrived att Etawa [Itāwah].”

August 11th “Arrived att Buckewar [Bakewar]⁵.”

August 12th “Arrived att Nahal k' Suray [Nihāl-ki-Sarāe]⁶.”

The weather very bad.

Gulam Hossain [Ghulam Husain] arrived in 8½ days from Dilly [Delhi] with the Honourable Robert Hedges's phirmaund [farmān]. He was just too Nimble for Seethaud [Sarbād], that had sent his Chubd. [chobdār] with a receipt for itt to the Gentue off the Secretarys office.”

“Arrived at Secunderah [Sikandra]⁷, where the phowdsar [faujdar]

August 13th Sent Mr Surman some Victuals, and appeared very Civil and Complaissant.”

“Arrived at Boguny [Bhognipur]. The Secunderah phowdsar [Sikandra faujdar] conducted us to the End of his August 14th Districts; Sending Elephant, Flaggs and Horse men.”

¹ Rājah-ka-talao is 10½ miles from Itmādpur and more than 23 miles from Agra on the road to Itāwah.

² Shukohābād, the chief town of a parganna of the same name, is 23½ miles from Itmādpur and 30½ miles from Itāwah. Situated in lat. 27° 6' 5" N., and long. 78° 38' 10" E. It has abundant supplies and a good camping ground. Named after Prince Dara Shukoh, traces of whose residence, garden, and wells remain.

³ See note on page 64.

⁴ Kursenah is 12 miles from Itāwah and 2 miles beyond Jawahannagar.

⁵ Itāwah the chief town of the district of the same name. Situated in latitude 26° 45' 31" N., and longitude 78° 3' 18" E.

⁶ This Bakewar is a village, in the Bhatina taluk, 12½ miles from Itāwah. A place of considerable antiquity, on high ground with good supplies and plentiful water.

See note on page 43.

See note on page 43. The Jawahere road joins the road from Allahabad here.

See note on page 43.

SANKHĀ TO KAJWAB, AUGUST, 1717.

227

CSL

August 15th

"Arrived att Saunka [Sankhā Janwārā]¹."

August 16th

"Arrived att Coora-Jehaunabad [Kōrah Jahān-abad]²."

August 18th

"Arrived att Gudjowah [Kajwāh]³."

Dispatched a Cossid [qāsid] to Port William. Gave Likewise a small Letter with the bills drawn Yesterday.

A Generall Letter arrived from Bombay. Wrote to Sallabot Cunn [Salābat Khān] and Mittersain [Mitr Sēn].

221. LETTER XLII⁴

"To the Honourable Robert Hedges Esq^r Governour of Port William and President for Affairs of the Honourable Company of Merchants of England trading to the East Indies &c^t Council, In Bengall.

HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRs

We deliver this Letter for Your Honour &c^t to Gololehund's [Golālehund's] Factory to carry the news of our Arrivall at this City, but Chiefly designed to Accompany the bills of Exchange we have drawn on Your Honour &c^t payable to Sawbidarry [Sāhū Beopāri] or Order 51 days After Date. Viz.

For 2000 Siccas Value received from Ruggenautdass Jaggernaud and Colnina [Raghunāth, Jagadanand, and Kawal Nain] Factors to Kissoray Kiesenchund [Kishori Krishan Chand]

For 1000 Siccas Value received from Ruggenautdass Jaggernaud and Colnina [Raghunāth, Jagadanand, and Kawal Nain]

We have also drawn 2 Bills more, Viz^t

For 1630 Siccas payable to Mr James Williamson Value received from Mr John Surman.

For 800 ditto payable to Uddoodut [Udū Dat] the Father of Sockdeu [Sokh Deo] Value received from Kissengiben [Kishanjiwan]

For Other news we referr Your Honour &c^t to our own Cossid [qāsid] which we shall dispatch as soon as we are got over the river of this City.

Coora Jehaunabad.
[Kōrah Jahānabad]

And are, Honourable Sir and Sirs,

Your most Obedient Humble Servants

August 17th

JOHN SURMAN.

1717. JOHN BARKEE, Secy.

EDWARD STEPHENSON."

¹ Sankhā Janwārā, a village 10 miles from Ghātampur on the Mogul road between Musanagar and Ghātampur. It is shown in Rennell's Bengal Atlas, No. 13, Tavernier calls it Sankal. Indian Atlas, sheet No. 69 has "Soekhapoor" in about the same position.

² See note on page 42.

³ Kajwāh, a town in the Kōrah taluk, 12½ miles of Jahānābād, and 21½ miles from Fatehpur. Lat. 26° 3' 10" N.; long 80° 33' 50" E. The town retains some architectural remains of ancient grandeur. It was once a place of commercial importance, and is still known for its brass and copper ware.

⁴ This letter is to be found in the "Copy Book of Letters of Mr Surman &c^t" as before.

KAJWAH, AUGUST, 1717.

CSL

222. LETTER XLIII

To the Honourable Robert Hedges Esqr Governour of Port William and President for Affairs of the Honourable Company of Merchants of England trading to the East Indies &c^a Council in Bengall.

HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRS

We wrote Your Honour &c^a Yesterday from Coora Jehanabad [Kōrah Jahanābād] of which the accompanying is a Copy. With some Trouble We got over that River by 12 a Clock at Night so we have been able to make a Journey of 5 Cos: [kōs] to this Place.

Before we removed to Agra we wrote Your Honour &c^a bearing date the 4th Inst. advising of all that happened to that place, the following Part of our Journey has not been troubled so much with the heat, as by deep and Slippery ways, occasioned by the foregoing Rains, in which the Camells make miserable work, there being 2 or 3 already left thereby. Besides which our Journeys are much Shorten'd from 12 Cos [kōs] which We design'd to 6 or 7 when the Weather will permit us to march. Even as it is, Travelling at this Season Surprizes the Country People, and We are of Opinion that very good Fortune has attended us. The Roads we passed Last are chiefly those frequented by the Mewattees [Mewālīs]. The 1st days Journey from Agra they took a Fancy to try the Courage of our People, by attacking our forerunning Tents guarded by 20 or 30 Buxeries [Baksarīs]. They had much about the like Number in Horse. They fell too without much Ceremony and fought for about two Gurreys, [gharī]² and tis supposed that their Chief having received a mortall Wound in his Breast was the Reason they Run away without any Other Damage then the wounding a Woman and 2 or 4 Oxen. They have been so kind as to keep out of Sight ever Since.

The Goorzebudar [guzrabadār] who had orders to bring the Honourable Presidents Phirmaund [farman] has very well answered our Expectation and arrived with us 7 days ago so that there is now nothing belonging to our Honourable Masters Affairs left unfinished at that Court, and nothing in Seerhauds [sarhād's] Hands but Copys which he obtained after a Clandestine manner As he would have Served the last Originall, but the Goorzebudar [guzrabadār] who was thro' paced was not to be tricked at that rate.

The Encouragement we have had thus far in our Journey gives us Hopes of the like good Fortune for the Future, so we shall use all Possible Expedition to clear Our Honourable Masters from the great Expence they have lain under.

Cudjowah, [Kajwah]
August 18th
1717.

We are
Honourable Sir and Sirs
Your most obedient humble Servants
JOHN SURMAN
EDWARD STEPHENSON."

² This letter is to be found in the "Copy Book of Letters from Mr. Surman &c^a" as before.
A gharī is a division of time equal to about 22 minutes.

223. DIARY.

- August 19th "Arrived att Futtipore [Fathpur]¹."
- August 20th "Made a days demurrage, the carriages nott arriving yesterday in time."
- August 21st "Arrived att Nobusta Mohun [Sarāe Mohan Salimpur]²."
- August 22nd "Arrived att Chonah k' Surray [Chanbe-ki-sarāe]³. Mr Surman gave the Goorzebuardar [guzbarādar] 100 rupees."
- August 23rd "Arrived beyond Shahzādpore [Shazādpur]⁴. Mr Surman sent the Goorzebuardar [guzbarādar] before to Illaabad [Allahabad], with the Severall Husbulloosums [hasbs-i-hukms] on Raja Chivilaram [Oihabēlah Rām], Account Convooy Boates &c."
- August 24th "Arrived att Allumchund k' Surray [Alam chandki-sarāe]⁵. Much rain ffell in the Journey."
- August 25th "Arrived att Begum Surray.⁶"
- August 26th "Arrived In Illabaad. The Subah [Sābadār] pursuant to the orders sent him, Ordered a man to meett us with 150 Horsemen Flags and Elephant.

Arrived a Cossid [qāsid] from the Honourable President and Council in Fort William.

The Subah [Sābadār] sent to compliment Mr Surman on his arrivall, and (Altho a Gentue) sent a treat of 44 dishes of victualls dressed after the Mahometan ffashion. He would have Seen Mr Surman, batt such Visitt was Evaded."

"The Subah [Sābadār] repeated his Entertainment, notwithstanding Mr. Surmans Endeavour to Excuse itt."

August 27th

224. CONSULTATION

"There being nothing to clear the Great Obligation we Lye under to the Subah [Sābadār]: Yett to Endeavour itt by the properest Method; Agreed that 11 Yards Imbost Broad Cloth, 2 Musketoons, 1 Gun and 2 Pistolls be carried and presented to his Son-in-Law, with a hearty acknowledgement of the ffavours we have received."

¹ Fathpur or Fathpur is the chief town of the Fathpur district, 72 miles from Allahabad, 21 miles and 3 furlongs from Kajwah. Lat. 25° 55' 18" N.; long. 80° 52' E. A well known place of considerable antiquity.

² See note on page 42.

³ See note on page 42.

⁴ See note on page 42.

⁵ Alam Chand a village 18 miles from Allahabad.

⁶ Sarāe Begum is 8 miles from the junction of the Ganges and the Jamnah.

225. DIARY.

"The Carravan ferrying over the Ganges. Dispatched a Cossid [qasid] to Fort William."

August 27th

226. LETTER XLIV¹

"To the HONOURABLE ROBERT HEDGES Esq^r Governour of Fort William and President for Affairs Of the Honourable Company of Merchants trading to the East Indies &c. Council in Bengal.

HONOURABLE SIR AND MRS

We wrote your Honour &c from Coora Jehannabad [Kōrah Jahanābād] August the 12th and Cudjowah [Kajwah] August the 18th Advising of our Safe arrivall there and our Receipt of the Phirmaund [farmān] from the Goorze-burder [guzibardār] &c Thro' deep ways and with much trouble we Arrived Safe to this Place Yesterday. The Subah Rajah Chevlin [Sūbahdār Rajah Chhabilah Ram] gave us a handsome Reception by Sending Some Captains of Horse & Foot Elephant Flaggs Drums &c to meet us, and at night sent an Entertainment of Victualls sufficient for half our Camp. Our Baggage is moved over the River Ganges, where we intend, God willing, to follow tomorrow and hope to be in readiness to march the next Day. We have strange Accounts of the deep Ways between this Place and Patna, however we shall endeavour to Surmount All Difficulty with what Expedition possible, and hope by the Time this reaches the Hands of your Honour &c we may be arrived in Patna. We hope our Letters from Agra and Coora [Kōrah] have So well Apprized you of our Procedure that Boats will be sent up in good Time.

Yesterday came to hand your Honour &c's dated July the 26th by which we are glad to find all our Letters Cops of the Phirmaunds [farmāns] &c papers arrived in due time.

We particularly observe what your Honour &c write how we are to act on our Arrivall at Patna but cannot omit advising your Honour &c that most of the Honourable Companys Deots there have been for some Years Esteemed desperate, so we Cannot hope to gain an Equivalent for the Certain Expence we must be at in Staying to obtain them. The time we are there our utmost Endeavours shall not be wanting. As for the House we hope to get Possession of it without much difficulty, and likewise shall let the Subah [sūbahdār] and Duan [duān] know on what Terms Your Honour &c's may resettle that Factory. It is Certain Seerbuland Cawn [Sarbuland Khān] has imposed the Yearly Peeshkash [peeshkash] on the Dutch besides a much larger on a different Account.

In our Former Letters we gave your Honour &c a full Account of Seerhauda [Sarhad] remaining in Dilly [Delhi]. We have no news since our last. When we found he actually remained behind we sent him a Protest from Barrapoola [Barahpulah] and Foredabad [Faridabad] that since He had deserted us his Expences from that Time would not be allowed him and that it was proper he should lay down his state of Flaggs &c Since there was no farther Occasion for them. He was not backward in giving us a retorting Answer that we must be answerable for all his Expences since we did not Comply with his demands.

¹ This letter is to be found in the "Copy Book of Letters from Mr. Surman &c." as before.

We have a due Sense of the great Expence our Honourable Masters have been at and shall endeavour to bring it to an End as soon as possible. We hope our Travelling at such Time of the Year will be a plain Instance of our Intentions.

When this month is finished we shall be obliged to pay our people so have been necessitated to draw a Bill of Exchange for 3000 Siccas received from Kisseray Kissenchund's [Kishori Krishan Chand's] Factors here and payable to Sawbharry [sāhā biopāri] or Order which we hope will be duly honoured.

We Congratulate your Honour &c on the Arrivall of the Europe Ships

Elizabetta [Allahābād]

August 27th
1717.

And are

HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRs

Your most obedient humble Servants

JOHN SURMAN

EDWARD STREPTONSON."

227. DIARY

- August 28th "When Every thing was over, Mr. Surman &c passed to the Other side of the Ganges."
- August 29th "Arrived att Sydabul [Saidābād]¹"
- August 30th "Arrived att Jagdisk'-Surray [Jagdīś-ki-sarāe]²"
- August 31st "The Carriages &c nott arriving in time, made a days demurrage."
- "Arrived at Oumull [Alman]³. Arrived a Cossid [qāsid] from Calcutta. Sundry Burkundass turned out for Mutiny."
- September 1st
- September 2nd "Arrived att Babook' Surray [Bābū-ki-sarāe]⁴"
- September 3rd "Arrived att Mohan k' Surray [Mohan-ki-sarāe]⁵ Killed a Theif who came into Our Camp."
- "Arrived in Banarass [Benares]. Wrote a Generall to Fort William. Mr. Surman wrote concerning Jaffor Caun [Ja'far Khān] both to Sallabutt Caun [Salāhat Khān] and Mittersein [Mitr Sān]."
- September 4th
- September 5th "Mr. Surman &c passed the Ganges."

¹ See note on page 39.

² See note on page 39.

³ Alman (in the Indian Atlas, sheet No. 88 Unaw) is a village about 7 miles from Jagdis ki sarāe, in tahsil Ronth.

⁴ See note on page 39.

⁵ See note on page 39.

BANARES TO JAHANABAD, SEPTEMBER, 1717.

228. LETTER XLV.¹

CSL

To the HONOURABLE ROBERT HENDEY ESQ^r Governour of Port William and President for Affairs of the Honourable Company of Merchants of England Trading to the East Indies &c. Council in Bengall.

HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRs

We wrote You from Elaabass [Allahabad] August the 27th Since which we received yours, dated August the 20th, on the 1st of September with the inclosed Copy of a Letter from Mr. Feak &c. concerning the refusal that Jaffor Cawn [Jaffar Khan] had made of allowing the Mukodavad [Mughadabad] Mint and the Calcutta Towns the two Chief profitable things we have gained for our Honourable Masters in Bengall. There is no one Can be better acquainted with Jaffor Cawn [Jaffar Khan] than Your Honour &c. So his disobeying the Kings Orders is no great Rarity. Pursuant to Your Honour &c.s Orders, we have wrote to the Vackeel [vakil] at Court, advising him of it, that he may make his Complaint to his Majesty for this Breach of Orders, we have likewise wrote to the Same purport to Syud Sallabut Cawn [Syryad Salabat Khan] desiring he will Assist the Vackeel [vakil] in the Prosecution of that Affair.

We have met with a very troublesome Band from Elaabass [Allahabad] hither, but however it is now over, and have now crossed the Banarass [Benares]² river intending to march tomorrow. We hear the roads between this place and Patna are very deep, So cannot Affix the Time of our Arrivall there but shall make it as Expeditions as possible.

The Frequent Letters that we have wrote we hope arrived in due time so that the Boats are long since dispatched to receive us in Patna.

We are

Banarass

HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRs

[Benares]

Your most obedient humble Servants

Sept: 6th

JOHN SURMAN

1717.

EDWARD STEPHENSON.³

229. DIARY

- | | |
|---------------|---|
| September 6th | "Arrived att Jagdisk ⁴ Surray [Jagdis-ki-sarāe] ⁵ " |
| September 7th | "Arrived beyond Curram-Nosser [Karamnēssā] in the Subaship of Behar." |
| September 8th | "Arrived att Mohinia [Mohiniya]" |
| September 9th | "Arrived att Jehanabad [Jahānābād] ⁶ .
1 Camell Died." |

¹ This letter is to be found in the Copy Book of Letters from Mr. Surman &c. as before.

² Probably the Ganges, not the Barna.

³ This Jagdis-ki-sarāe is a village on the grand trunk road about 2 miles west of Chandauli, and 19 miles from Benares. It is seven miles east of the Mogul Sarāe railway station. There is a good encamping ground here and a small bazar.

⁴ Mohiniya is 24 miles from Jagd-s-ki-Sarāe and 13½ miles from Jahānābād. A small bazar with a good encamping ground.

⁵ Jahānābād is a village, 16 miles from Salicim.

"Arrived att Sarsewtong [Sahrām]¹. Sheer-Zemaun-Caun [Sher Zamān Khān] lying near us with Seer Bulund Cauns [Sarbūland Khān's] forces; The Goorzebūrdar [gurzbardār] went to him, and Obtained some Convey."

September 10th

"Arrived att Mokrain [Mokrāin]². The Caravan begun to pass the river Soan [Son]. Much rain in the Afternoon."

September 11th

The Goorzebūrdar [gurzbardār] dispatched to Patna with a Husbūlhoocum [husbū-l-hukm] from Caundora [Khān Daurān] to Seer-Bulund-Caun, [Sarbūland Khān] in order to procure us convey, and a Creditable reception into the City of Patna. Mr Surman now wrote to the Vakile [vakīl] Roopechund [Rūpechand], inclosing the two perwānnas [parwānas] for the Patna house. The Vakile [vakīl] is to Endeavour, to have itt putt in Our possession, on the first Arrivall. Gave the Goorzebūrdar [gurzbardār] a Turbeti³ and Sash."

September 12th

"Mr Surman &c⁴ passig the river, arrived at Gotowly [Ghatauli]⁴ Sheer-Zemaun-Cauns [Sher Zamān Khān] convoy dispatched with a present of 50 rupees. Much rain. A Theif killed in the night."

September 13th

"Made Demurrage Account the Bad-weather."

September 14th

"Made Demurrage, The bad weather continuing."

September 15th

"Arrived thro' much rain and Dirt att Doudnagur [Dāūd-nagar]⁵

"Made Demurrage, the pesheanna [peshkhāna] nott being arrived. The weather become fair."

September 16th

September 17th

"Arrived att Ullidad k' Surray [Alidad-kī-sarāe]"

September 18th

"Arrived att Mohabully-pore [Mohabzlipur]⁶ Received a Letter from Roopechund [Rūpechand]."

"Arrived att Nobat-pore [Naubatpur]. The Goorzebūrdar [gurzbardār] returned from Seer-Bulund-Caun [Sarbūland Khān] with a Munsubdar [mansūbdār] off 1000 Muns⁷ [mansab] butt nott one more Horseman, the Nabob pretending there was no occasion for them."

September 19th

¹ See note on page 35.

² See note on page 38.

³ Turbeti evidently for turban.

⁴ See note on page 37.

⁵ See note on page 37.

⁶ See note on page 37.

PATNA, SEPTEMBER, 1717.

CSL

September 20th.

"Arrived att Pulvary [Pulwari]. The Dutch came from Patna to meett us."

"Arrived safely in Patna; and now live in the house, we did formerly, when this negotiation commenced. Advised the Honourable President and Council of our arrivall."

230. LETTER XLVI.

"To the HONOURABLE ROBERT HEDDES Esq^r Governor of Fort William and President for Affairs of the Honourable Company of Merchants of England Trading to the East Indies &c^e Council in Bengal.

HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRS,

Our last to Your Honour &c^e was from Banharass [Benares] of the 5th Instant. This Chiefly advises of our safe Arrivall here this morning. As yet we have received no Answer to our Letters wrote since our departing from Dilly [Delhi] so Cannot be Assured of the Boats being dispatched this Way. We at present waitt their Arrivall, and Your Honour &c^e Orders shall be duly obeyed.

Golechundsw [Gulāchhand Sāhā] is just now come to us and Complains that on the Bills we wrote for 26000 siccas there has been a discount of 2 per cent as he is advised from Monickchundsw [Manickchand Sāhā] to whom the bills were Sold; he desires Your Honour &c^e to take a writing from his Factory there to Golechundsw's [Gulāchhand Sāhā's] here, importing that they have received the Bill in full as it was drawn.

We are

HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRS

Your most obedient humble Servants

JOHN SURMAN

EDWARD STEPHENSON

Patna
September 21st
1717.

231. DIARY

"The Dutch made us a visitt. Roopechund [Rūpchand] Employed about the house given us by the King. The September 22nd.

Bootsade [buṛātāt] who manages all Such Affairs, Says he must first ask the Suba [sūbādār] Seer-Bulund-Caun [Sarbuland Khān]; when he will give us a Sunnod [sunnad]."

September
23rd to 23th.

"Seer-Bulund-Caun Memsaudar [Sarbuland Khan's mihmāndār] presented to About 150 rupees."

"Mr Surman &c^e returned a visitt to the Dutch."

"The Bootsade [buṛātāt] reported to Our Vakile [vakil] the Answer he had received from Seer-Bulund-Caun [Sarbuland Khān]. "Should 1 This letter is to be found in the "Copy Book of Letters from Mr Surman &c^e" as before.

"Now give them the house, what have I left to say to them when they make me a visit?"

232. CONSULTATION.

Patna, September 30th
"Ten days have been Elapsed since our arrivall at this place, without any sign of Boates for our Conveyance down. Or Advices from the Honourable President and Council about it. From all which we doe conceive that the Little danger off the way between this place and Culcutta, may have induced the Honourable President &c. nott to send up Boates; and consequently itt becomes Our Duty to make the provision our Selves. The miserable Government of this place gives no Encouragement to Attempt any thing here. Seer Bulund Cawn [Sarbuland Khān] Expects a peshcash [pesh-kashā] of 16000 rupees, and is besides very pressing to receive a visitt, accompany'd with a handsome present. On these conditions a Factory might be resettled here; butt without any prospect off recovering the former Debts; The persons being all Either dead or insolvent. On due consideration we find our longer Stay will be both a fruitless Expence off time and money; Wherefore, Agreed that boates be hired; Leaving this place with the utmost Expedition."

233. DIARY.

"The Goorzeburdar [guz̄bārdār] going to the Wackanagar [Wagā'nī-gār]; This Latter spoke to the Subah [Subādhār], for an order, for our hiring Boates, which was granted.

Discharged all Our Horsemen, most off Our Foot and other unnecessary Servants. Those that remain to be paid according to the Patna Custom. Sallary; Watchmaker, and Soldiers pay for 3 Months paid the Last Instant."

October 1st to 5th "Nothing remarkable."

October 6th
"We doe nott find any one inclined to Speak to Seer-Bulund-Cawn [Sarbuland Khān] about the Patna house or Factory. Roopechand [Rūpechand] Even fears to goe near that Durbar [darbar]."

October 7th
"Wrote to the Honourable President &c. in Fort William. In the Evening received a Generall Letter from Bengall. Mittersein [Mitr. Sēn] writes, he has heard Jaf. for Cawn [Ja'far Khān] has complained to the King Against us; butt that nothing is Yett ordered in our disfavour."

PATNA, OCTOBER, 1717.

CSL

"Roopchand [Rūpchand] having been with the Boctade [bugtade], he was there told, that Seer-Bulund Cawn [Sarbuland Khān] has ordered the house to be given us, on Conditions off a Factory being settled, butt that the King never designed, we should lett itt to hire."

234. LETTER XLVII.¹

"To the Honourable Robert Hedges Esq: Governour of Fort William and President for Affairs of the Honourable Company of Merchants of England Trading to the East Indies &c. Council in Bengal.

HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRS

We wrote Your Honour &c the 21st Ultimo advising of our Safe Arrival at this Place, we have since that Time been obliged to draw Bills of the 28th September for the following Sums.

1 Bill 5000 rupees payable to Saw Biparry [sāhū beopārī] or Order received from Boichund [Bolehand]

1 Bill 5000 rupees payable to Kisoray Gololchund [Kishori Gulalchand], received from Gowoldnass Gossaulray [Gokal Dās Khusthal Rāo] to both which we hope your Honour &c will give due Honour.

We were in hopes that the Frequent Advices we gave Your Honour &c of our departure from Dilly and in our way hither might have arrived time Enough to have Budgeows &c sent up for our Carriage down to Calcutta, We fear some of the Cossids [qāsi?] may have miscarry'd and so prevented it. We have waited in Expectation of a Letter, but not Coming to hand we have taken a Resolution to leave this Place with the Utmost Expedition by getting what Boats &c we can hire as the onley Expedient to finish this Expensive Journey. For any Business to be done here, in getting in the Company's Debts which your Honour &c formerly ordered we find nothing to be done with Seerbulund Cawn [Sarbuland Khān] without Expence. If we should pay him a Visitt, make a Present and move to settle a Factory here as he thinks fit we beleive the Possession of the house might be obtained but as Yet we can get no answer. Your Honour &c gave us particular Orders to acquaint the Subah [subahdār] and Cawn [dāwān] on what Conditions a Factory might be resettled. The Duan [dāwān] and all other Officers have not the least authority under Seerbulund Cawn [Sarbuland Khān] who manages every thing himself and instead of the Out-Barrers² which was formerly paid to the Prince, he has laid the same Imposition on all the Merchants here under another name called Budgeckas³. From the Dutch he has taken instead of their former Peeshcash [peeshkash] of 10,000 rupees 13,200 rupees After imprisoning their Servants 2 months and stopping their laden boats above one, Besides 50,000 rupees which he has Extorted from them within this Twelve month. We have endeavoured to let him know Your Honour

¹ This letter is to be found in the "Copy Book of Letters from Mr. Surman &c" as before.

² Possibly khay-barat, i.e. "obtaining the issue of a letter," apparently a fee levied on the issue of an order.

³ Probably badragah, an escort, or convey.

PATNA, OCTOBER, 1717.

CSL
237

&c^{es} propositions, but as yet have not found a Servant or other in his whole Durbar [darbār] who dare represent the matter to him taking it as entirely impossible to be Effected, and our being necessitated to Stay here gives no little Umbrage that a design of Settling a Factory is at the bottom, all which together will make us the more Expeditious to get away.

We have disposed of a good part of the Camells but we find Horses here at a very low rate so we shall send them over land with the Elephant for the Honourable President under the Care of the Goornobardar, [gurnobardār] we are quite unacquainted how Horses may sell at Muxodavad [Majshūdahād] so desire Your Honour &c^{es} Orders whether any may be left there or all sent to Hughly.

PATNA
October 7th
1717.

We are
Honourable Sir and Sirs
Your most obedient humble Servants
JOHN SURMAN
EDWARD STEPHENSON."

235. CONSULTATION.

"THE 7th att night arrived a Letter from the Honourable President and Council, Dated September 19th importing October 10th Patna. that a party off soldiers with Bulgerows was coming for us; and that we should remain in Patna till their arrivall, getting in the mean time possession off the house, and recovering what debts due to the Honourable Company. The many former Letters from the Honourable President and Council giving intimation, and our own desires Spurring us on, to come to a Conclusion of this Chargeable negotiation; we resolved to Leave this place with all possible Speed: to which end we have already laid out money for Bontes, to carry us down; and entertained best part off the peons and Buxerys necessary for the occasion. Wherefore our readiness to leave this place will be in a Weeks time.

The Honourable Company's Debtors are either dead or insolvent. As for compulsion there is none to be used, without the Nabobs Assistance; which is so far from being Granted; That he does nott Comply with the Letter off the Kings orders in permitting us to have the house, Saying, "Itt was nott given us to be Lett out, butt that a Factory might be settled therein; on which conditions we might have itt." Butt this must be understood on the payment off the former 16000 rupees peshcash [peshkash]; and nott what the Honourable President and Council are in hopes of. So the design of settling that Factory is rendered Abortive. By what is abovemention'd, Our PATNA, OCTOBER, 1717.

CSL

Further Stay in Patna plainly appears to be of no service to Our Honourable Masters affairs, butt will on the Contrary prove Expensive.

Two months must be Elapsed before the Culcutta Boates can possibly arrive att this place: Very likely meeting with some trouble in the way: which is not to be feared in our passage down, Seeing we have the Kings Goorzebudar [guzbaridar], Chilah [chola] and Dustaks [distaks] to accompany us, besides the Character his Majesty has been pleased to give us in the Last. We conclude and Agree to depart hence with the Utmost Expedition, Conceiving itt most for the Interest of Our Honourable Masters.

The Patna Shrophs [*sarraf*s] will write to their Correspondants nott to trust Seerhaud [Sarhad] with money Account the Honourable Company.

Agreed that a farther Account of Seerhauds [Sarhad's] Behaviour be given to the Honourable President &c, being a Continuation of the Separate Letter, dated December 20th from Dilly."

236. DIARY

"THE Dutch report the following Advices from Dilly—That the King Upon the Grand Seignieurs Complaint, has October 18th forbid the sale off Saltpetre to any Christians
That the phowedar [phowdar] off Matchlipatan [Machhlipatanam] complained to the King off Divy [Divi] Islands being granted to the English.

1 Camell Lame left with Gololchundsaws [Gulalchand Sahā's] Factors at Oocra Jehaunabad [Kōrah Jahānābad] to be sold, and 5 Camells left with Ruggoe-ponditt [Raghū pandit] in Futtaa [Fataha] for the same end."

"We heard Seer-Bulund-Cann [Sarbuland Khan] would send to October 20th search our Boates, butt itt proved a story."

237. LETTER XLVIII¹

"To the Honourable Robert Hedges Esq: Governour of Fort William and President of Affairs of the Honourable Company of Merchants of England Trading to the East Indies &c: Council in Bengall.
Honourable Sir and Sirs

We wrote your Honour &c: the 20th December very particularly concerning the Behaviour of Cojah Seerhaud [Khwajah Sarhad] during the Course of this Negotiation to that Time. We find our Selves obliged to continue the Thread ¹ This letter is to be found in the "Copy Book of Letters at M^r Sarma's &c" as before.

PATNA, OCTOBER, 1717.

CSL
205

of that discourse to the finish of it which now God be thanked is happily come to pass.

We shall pursue it with our wanted Ingenuity and for to make every thing the more plain first add to those things which seem to be left unfinished in the last, and then enlarge upon what farther Misdemeanours he has committed.

Concerning the Entrance into the business we find nothing to add. But the first remark we have to make is on Padree Daniell Who after a great many Huffs and Threatnings of what he would do in Case we did not comply with his demands became very quiet. Seerhaud [Serhād] used to tell us he had satisfied that he had paid him about 800 rupees down in hand and had given him an Obligation that in Case he had not full Satisfaction from the Council of Calcutta he would pay him out of his own Pockett the Sum of 3000 rupees, we seemed very well satisfied with this and indeed told Cojah [Khujah] it would be for his Honour not to suffer him to Complain in any Durbar [Darbār] of us altho' we could not Agree to his unreasonable demands, and to hope to get any redress by Complaint he knew was but a Folly which Advice I beleive he took after he had tryed his own Strength and found he was able to do nothing. The Padree suspecting Cojah [Khujah] at our departure from Dilly seemed to have a desire to come along with us, and indeed did offer that in case we would promise our Endeavour to procure him satisfaction he would. Our Answer was that it was our Opinion he had much better follow Seerhauds [Serhād's] Fortunes if he had any Intentions for Bengall, and that we think is all we can add to this Business.

When we were on our Departure and he squabbling with us for money amongst the rest (but not mentioned in his demand) he wanted truly us to pay for the Vackeel [vakīl] that he had employed very unreservedly affirming he deserved a handsome reward. We were very well acquainted with the man who had been a good Spy to Us, but could not wrong our Judgments so much as to Consent to it when we had as good Servants in the House in the Honourable Company's pay, and we could at That Time tell him his own and how much in this particular Case he had broke through the Honourable President and Council's Orders. He answered that it was very well, since we would not he would do it himself, and as for anything Else he had very little Apprehensions.

We wrote Your Honour &c. at large about the new Kirperam [Kiparam] Our Agreement with him and what we thought of that business, since the writing of that Letter, we found ourselves strictly pursued for a large Sum of money nothing less than 1000 Gold Moors [mohrs] would appease. A great many reasoning And excuses were made use of but to little purpose Seerhaud [Serhād] insisting either to give the whole sum or else a finall Answer refusing at any Consultation to give his Opinion of the matter, at the Same Time threatening what great mischief would attend his disgust that So much money was in reality too much, But what Sum he deserved and would Content him he would not Name yet was Continually bringing Duns to our door as a proof how much he was plagued. For the Conclusion of this Affair we humbly refer to our Consultation July the 15th Our True Reason for Consenting to the Payment of so much money was the Apprehension we had that he might do some dis-service to the Factory at Suratt. The entire Government of that Province being under Hyder Cooli Cawn [Haider Quli Khan] and his Business solely in the Hands of the Kirparam [Kirpāram].

PATNA, OCTOBER, 1717.

CSL

Concerning Seerhaud's [Sarhād's] proceeding to England and buying Rariety's we have wrote at large in that Letter. The true reason of his staying behind is to pursue this project without any Apprehensions of being hindered by us. Zeandy Cawn [Zeyān-d-din Khan] at last has been the Cheif Protector of this scheme and had at about the time of our departure proposed to his Majesty something of this Story Again and that a small matter might be sent as a Present to the Honourable English Company. He intimated to us that he wished we would Stay to receive it but we were too well acquainted with the Expence of Dilly and the Time Trouble and Charge there would be to get it after granted as well as the small Value the Things would be of, for any such Bait to take besides we Considered what little Credit was to be given to the best of them all. We since hear Seerhaud [Sarhād] in the Pursuit of his Old scheme has brought his Ends about. The [King?] has granted as follows—rup.

To the Honourable Company—	3 Diamonds	3000
	Boddala ¹ &c.	9000
	Shawles	2500
	Baftaes and Mamodays	2600
	Rose Otter 25 Polla	500
		11500

To Governour Pitt whom he Stiles Vizier Azzeem² of England.

		rup.
3 Diamonds	...	2,000
Boddala	...	2,000
		4,000 rups.

But refused to give him his so much desired Phirmaund [farmān] till such Time he arrived in Europe procured the Rariety's and advised of their readiness when he should have it Sent him, but for the present only a Bushallhookum [hasb-ul-hukum] is ordered. Seerhaud [Sarhād] is not contented with this, but has drawn up another Petition and has taken Care to make this appear quite different to his Bretheren in all Places that they may resound it to his Creditors but what we have lost above is the last advice from Mittersein [Mitr Sēn]

In our Former Letter amidst such a Tract of Villaines, we Could not Accuse him of misemploying any of the Companys Money or Goods, but we have found by the Sequell it was only for want of an Opportunity. For in the first Sum of money which was designed for Bequechand [Bhogchand] out of 18000 rupees he had a design to steal 10,000 rupees. The necessity there was for the

¹ Badlah, cloth of gold.

² Wasir-i-'Asim.

PATNA, OCTOBER, 1717.

CSL
211

Agreement our Consultations will witness Knowing what great Service that Mut-suddy [mutasaddi] could Do us at that Inst. we did not hesitate in the Least to Comply with Seerhaud's [Sarhād's] demands when he said it was necessary and Indeed 8000 rupees was reckoned a very small Summ for so great a Man. So Seerhaud [Sarhād] had here a good Opportunity to do as his inclinations directed him but it was impossible for him to do it So privately but that it Came to our Knowledge before he could have the Impudence to ask for the money or indeed that we would give it, he was apprized of our Knowledge of the matter. We were well pleased to find It hindered him from his pursuit, so in a sort of a bravado of what he had done for the Honourable Company in saving them so much money (which was never lost) he delivered back the obligation and owned the other deceit of 5500 rupees with the Sudder Suddool [sadr-u-s-sudūr] which was of much worse consequence than the Other, for the Phirmaund [farmān] was detained about 20 days in a very Ticklish time which must be pure design of delaying for when we put him to it in an hour's Time 'twas made up when he bragg'd of his Dexterity in doing it and showed great satisfaction in having (as he thought) deceived us. We are satisfyed your Honour &c^t will take this Story and everything else in its due Sense.

The strange delays very much hindered the business and so Enhaunced unaccountably the Charge. It's impossible for us to give your Honour &c^t a Relation of every two or three days that he has by his ill Humour and obstinacy flung away, when his Majesty was in the Camp and our business on the Tenters nothing could hinder him from his feasting and Junketting which two or three days Every week were Sacrificed and once eight days together, and at that Time, Enoitoola Cawn [Ināyatullah Khān] was upon the Point of being made Duan Colsa [diwān-i-khālīṣah] and the Phirmaund [farmān] had not received the Viziers Seal, Besides this the Calcutta Towns with Six other Perwanne [parwānās] were refused to be signed by the Duan Colsa [diwān-i-khālīṣah] and so very near sacrificed, being at last done clandestinely by Attasham Cawn [Itisām Khān] the Lord knows how and the money that was expended, had it been taken Care of before hand might have been Saved, and they securely done with the rest, So he deserves to pay for his Obstinacy and all that Charge must be placed to his Account.

Nothing would serve for one while but that he would get a Phirmaund [farmān] for Divy [Divi] Island, Patna and Suratt house, Bengall Mint and Fort St David Towns instead of the Duanny Sumnods [diwānī sanads] which we had obtained He never went upon any such new invention, but we presently suspected he had some other design than the publick good. We consented so far to it that in case it might not be prejudiciall to the main Affair otherwise not, we esteeming it a Thing noways feasible. This matter was carried on some time, and we heard no more of it till about two Months after when he was hot after it again even to the neglect of our great Affairs So he was forbid to pursue it any farther. He promised to obey; about twenty days afterwards he seemed ready to burst with the news, saying he had got a Grant for the Phirmaund [farmān]. We were very well pleased with the Thoughts of his having Once in his life done good by breaking of orders, but alas when we came to examine it into it nothing but Flash.

PATNA, OCTOBER, 1717.

CSL

After this he Could not be contented but he must have 25 Villages more which were the 4000 rs. [?] we left out and to make it the more easily granted he would get them in the Honourable Robert Hedges Phirmaund [farmān] notwithstanding we told him to desist, for since there was no hopes of Obtaining them it was only exposing us. However he still privately pursued it till he was baffled and if ever he does procure the grant it Cannot be otherways than Clandestinely.

Every thing being finished we had pannick Bears concerning the Original Phirmaunds [farmāns] and Sunnods [sanads]. He never directly denied the delivery of them but by his put offs from today and tomorrow, still keeping Something undone under pretence of delivering the whole together made us suspect he had some ill design that way and there was no method to hinder them from Coming into his hands. We used a great many arts to get them from him. It pleased God that we had no Necessity to use rougher means for he delivered them all with this Insolent Saying If he had a mind to plague the Company there were means enough and they could never escape his Hands. That more had been obtained for their Service than his Contract obliged, so he would have a Proportionable Reward or Else he might be troublesome to them.

In his last Demand for money Your Honour &c will see he Charges for Black Cases 2400 [rupees] besides Arrack and his Wine. The Black Cases he brought up from Calcutta and Cost there about 500 rupees. We questioned his Intention from the first of being very unreasonable in any thing the Company might be obliged to pay of him so was always upon our Guard to hinder him and for all the many Pretences he made that nothing Else would go down with the Mutsuddys [mutsuddis] we Knew it was only a trick to get them off, so by no means we would not Consent to it, but told him the Company would never pay him at so Extravagant a rate and advised him to dispose of them among his Bretheren where he pretended he could have 40 rupees per Case. Except what he drank he disposed of none for at least 16 months when [all] at once we heard they began to fly about to every one that wanted liquor and then required of us to pay for them at his own Rate.

Coming upon the Business of our dispatch from his Majesty, our Intentions being to proceed with the utmost Expedition whether we received those accustomed Favours or no and his being quite different was the reason we employed him as little as possible in that Affair, So he had only the Phirmaund [farmān] for the Honourable Robert Hedges Esq to get ready, which your Honour &c will find by our Former Letters was so long delayed that he had an Intention either we should Stay for it or Else leave it behind, when we found an Evasion for that by getting an Order for The Goorzeburdar [guzbardār] to receive it and when he had it in his possession, Soerhaud [Sarhād] would have fain brought him to his Lure by fair promises, but we had prepared the Goorzeburdar [guzbardār] who knew him very well that he did not betray his Trust but brought the Phirmaund [farmān] to us being very well assured of a good reward for this Service. In the Phirmaund [farmān] Seerhand [Sarhād] took Care to have his name very particularly mentioned, as if all the Business had been done by his Management alone. 'Tis very likely had we went about it, it might have been hindered at the Expence of some time and money, besides exposing the Nakedness of our Family which we always endeavoured to hide from the World. We wai'd the Prosecution leaving all to the Judgment of your Honour &c^s

In a Private Consultation of the 13th April the Story of gaining 60,000 rupees to be divided among us is related at large, it wants no farther addition then that it came to nothing, as have a great many of his other Projects, wherefore it only serves in this Place as a Memorandum and to fill up the number of his misde-meanours.

In these our two Letters we have Endeavoured to point out this unaccountable Man's Actions. As we have not added any thing of ourselves we hope we have not omitted any thing of Consequence. We heartily Recommend the Examination of it to Your Honour &c^s not doubting but every one will receive his reward according as he has merited. All our Ambition is to be Accounted

Your Honours &c^s

Faithfull and obedient humble Servants

JOHN SURMAN

EDWARD STEPHENSON."

PATNA

October 20th
1717.

238. DIARY

"Left the City off Patna, and Arrived at Ray-poorā [Rāīpūrā]"

October 21st

The Goozseburdar [guzsardār] Elephant and Horses made the same Journey by Land; and will Continue to keep pace with us till our Approach near Range-Mahall [Rājmaḥal]."

239. CONSULTATION

October 22nd

Ray-poorā.

[Rāīpūrā]

"The Letter mentioned the 10th Inst. being wrote and approved, with the Following Ad-ditionall heads, Agreed that itt be dispatched—Viz. —

1st His requiring the Company to pay his Vakile [vakīl].

2nd Boguechund [Bhogchand] and the notes for 18,000 rs.

3rd His untimely feasting in the City.

4th His project to putt Divy [Divi] &c^s in the phirmaund [farmān].

5th To gett 4000 rupees towns for the Honourable President.

6th His preposterous Account and refusing to take what allowed

1 Rāīpūrā is in the Fatūḥā thāna of the Barh subdivision, 9 miles from Patna.

RĀEPŪRĀ, OCTOBER, 1717.

CSL

- 7th The Goorzeburdar [gurzardār] getting the phirmaund [farmān] and Seerhauds [Sarhād's] disappointment.
8th The project for 50,000 rupees from the King."

240. LETTER XLIX¹

"To THE HONOURABLE ROBERT HEDGES Esq^r Governour of Fort William and President for Affairs of the Honourable Company of Merchants of England Trading to the East Indies &c: Councill In Bengall.

HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRs

Our last was October the 7th after which dispatch came to hand your Honour &c^s dated September the 19th by this we observe your orders to wait in Patna for the Arrivall of the Soldiers design'd hither for our Convoy. We find our Letters dispatch'd in the way were very long in their passage: so that the boats will not arrive so soon as wish'd for. After waiting some time we surmiz'd your Honour &c^s might think the Sending boats and Soldiers unnecessary, the accustom'd troubles of the way from hence to Rājamall [Rājamāl], being much clear'd by the present Subah [subahdār], and finding we were able to doe nothing for the Service of Our Honourable Masters in Patna for reasons mention'd in our former Letter, we took a resolution to leave the place as the only way to save Expences, and accordingly had advanc'd money both for boats and men before your Honour &c^s Letter arriv'd when it was too late to recede.

Since our Factory has been withdrawn the Merchandize of Salt petre has laid Chiefly in the hands of the Dutch; So most of our Undertakers are immediately Employ'd by them. The Common prize of Petre the last Year has been from 1r. 12a. to 2r. 8a. nay 12a. and (as we are inform'd) They have been able to buy none without Dadney [dādni] The very Top of their Undertakers having left Considerable Debts behind them. It is the Custom of these Sort of Merchants seldom to Clear such Debts but run on sometimes more sometimes less seeing the Buyer is not able to be without them, and if the business happens to be stopt or the Factory withdrawn or the Kings Death, they generally all sink very little being to be recovered afterwards.

The Kings Phirmaund [farmān] and the most Severe orders are little minded by Seerbulund Cawn [Sarbuland Khān] as we have Experienc'd, we left no way unattempted to give him notice on what Grounds the Honourable Company would resettle a Factory. We do beleive he has heard of it. But we could never get any Assurances of having itt Effectuated, seeing all to whom we made Application absolutely denyed to move therein, representing it as an Affair impracticable. As for the House the Bootade [bugutāz] gave us an answer: That the Subah [subahdār] order'd the House should be given us in Case we resettled a Factory, but that the King did not give it us to be let to hire.

We were told by everyone the Nabob Expected we would make him a Visit and withall a present. But we having no orders, and beleiving it only money flung away we ended one and Sav'd the other, which has not a little nettled him.

This letter is to be found in the 'Copy Book of Letters received from Mr. Surmat &c^s as before.

We had very strick orders on him Contain'd in the Goorzeburdars [gurbardār's] and Chilahs dusticks [chelah's dastaks] to Conduct us with a good Force thro' his Jurisdiction. But these met with the same reception as the rest, he absolutely denying to give either guard or dustick [dastak], But saying as we were on our way we might Securely goe about our Business without any molestation Notwithstanding all the noise our Goorzeburdar [gurbardār] Could make he could not gett admittance to his Presence, but received the above answer from without, by all this your Honour &c^s will judge whether it is feasible to settle a Factory during his residence. We are ordering the Vaokile [vakil] to make a heavy Complaint att Court, and have likewise order'd the Goorzeburdar [gurbardār] to write to his Droga [darogah] who will immediately petition his Majesty, most orders that Came from Court are as little regarded, so that there are vast Numbers of Complaints against him daily, And as he does not take Care to oblige any one Officer at Court, It is next to impossible he Should remain long here.

We are moving down and intend to make our Stage to day at Bar [Bār] and that the Goorzeburdar [gurbardār] with the Elephant and Horses make the like stages with us till our Approach near Rajamoll [Rājmahāl] when we shall Concert measures that his and our Arrivall may be about the Same time at Hughly by p[ro]per], Advices given [P giving] your Honour &c^s time[ly] notice to add what fuller Orders you may Judge Convenient.

Inclos'd comes Accounts Cash Warehouse and Charges Generall with Copys of our Consultations for the months July and August. We should have added September but the Sickness that attended us as well as our Servants on coming off our Journey must plead our Excuse and referr us to the next conveyance.

In our last Letter from Mittersein [Mitr Sēn], he acknowledges the Receipt of ours wherein we Complain'd that Jaffor Cawn [Ja'far Khān] had not allowed the Mint nor the Calcutta Towns, of all which he gave a particular Account to our Friend Sallabut Cawn [Ṣalābat Khān] who had given him his word to acquaint Cawndora [Khān Daurān] of the matter prosecuting it to the utmost. To this Intention he had received the Petition the Vackeel [vakil] had drawn up. What may be the Consequence he has not yet advis'd. He farther writes that about this Time Cawndora's Vackeel [Khān Daurān's wakil] had been very inquisitive after the Copy of our Fhirmaund [fermān] to which Mittersein [Mitr Sēn] replied he had it not, but for any particulars he might have them in his own Books. This made the other Suspect something that ought not to be was upon the anvill Upon enquiry into the Duanny Ketcherry [dūānī kachahri] he could meet with nothing, But from Cawndora's [Khān Daurān's] moonchy [mumshi] he had an item That Jaffor Cawn [Ja'far Khān] had complain'd against Severall of our grants however that no orders were yet given to our prejudice, wherefore Mittersein [Mitr Sēn] being now forewarn'd he would take the necessary Precautions, In return to this by the Shroffs [ṣarrā's] Conveyance we have given him what advice we are able.

The Dutch tell us they have late Letters of about 21 days from their Vackeel [vakil] in Dilly advising the King had received a Letter from the Grand Segnior complaining that he assisted the European, by letting them have the Merchan- dize of Salt Petre and that he hoped he would prohibit them that Commodity upon this the King had given orders to prohibit it which may be expected here in some days. We do not assert the truth of this Story, Our own Vackeel [vakil] not writing about it, but as theirs are the latest advices it may be so. To make it seem the more probable, there is an Envoy from the Zeriff [sharif] of Mecha [Mecca] (called Hadgee Saula) [Haji Sālār] at Court who brought 75 fine Horses and who is very great with Ensitoola Cawn [Ināyatullah Khān] lately arriv'd from Mecca. This last being a great Stickler for their Superstition may possibly have obtained this order from the King. The Dutch likewise Show'd us another Paper being a sort of Address from the Phowdsar [faujdar] of Metchlipatam [Masulipatam] to his Majesty that they had notice the King intended to grant us the renting the province off Divy [Divi] that in former times all Europeans had endeavour'd to gett the place offering vast Sums of money for it and that in Case we had it granted us it would ruin the Port of Metchlipatam [Masulipatam]. Upon the phirmaund [farmān] His Majesty sign'd, That the Vizier petition about itt We have no farther design in advising of this than of a Story we have heard, and which we either expect to have asserted or denyed by the first Advices from our Vackeel [vakil].

We have now drawn a Bill of Exchange for 2000 Siceas Received and payable to Gowaiddass Chevuldass which we desire may be duely Honour'd,

and are

HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRS

Your most Obedient humble Servants

JOHN SURMAN

EDWARD STEPHENSON."

Ray-pora [Rāepūra]
October the 23rd
1717.

241. DIARY

October 23rd	"Arrived att No-adda [Nauwādā] ¹ "
October 24th and 25th Evening."	"Demurrage. Gentue-Holydays. The Mutsuddys and Vakiles arrived from the City in the October 25th	"Arrived att Diriapoor [Dariyāpur]." ²
October 27th	"Arrived att Soosgurrah [Sūrajgarhā]." ³
October 28th	"Arrived att Mungēer [Mungēr]. Received news that Furrucksee. [Farrukhsiyār] had a Son Born ⁴ ."
October 29th	"Arrived att Jehaungeera [Jahāngīra]." ⁵

¹ Nauwādā is also in the Fatuhā thāna of the Bārā subdivision, 4 miles from Rāspārā.

² Dariyāpur is in the Bārā thāna and subdivision, 23 miles from Nauwādā.

³ Sūrajgarhā is the head-quarters of the thāna in the sadar subdivision of the Mungēr district, 21 miles south-west of Mungēr. The temple of Gaurishankar here has been almost all washed away by the river. A bathing festival and fair are still held.

⁴ This child was born on the 16th Zūl-qadah, 1129 H. or the 11th October, 1717 N. S. The mother was the daughter of Sadāt Khān Mazādarānī. The name given to the boy was Murād Shāh. He died on the 11th May, 1718, N. S.

⁵ Sultānganj Jahāngīra is in the Sultānganj thāna in the sadar subdivision of the Mungēr district, 23 miles south-east of Mungēr. Two great rocks here jut out by the river bank, one is crowned by a Musulman mosque, the other by a temple of the Gāibnāth S'iva.

- October 30th "Arrived att Boglepore [Bhāgalpur]."
October 31st "Arrived att Colgong [Kahlgāon]."
November 1st "Arrived att Gungapursaud [Gangaprasād]². No Body from Cunna offered to molest us, butt were rather ready to run from their houses. Mr. Gammon and his party arrived in the Afternoon. The Dutch Boates Att Siery Gully [Sakrigali].³"
November 2nd "Demurrage. The Goorzeburdar [gurzardār], Elephant and Horses sent before."
November 3rd "Arrived over against Range-mahall [Rajmahal]."
November 4th "Demurrage. The Goorzeburdar [gurzardār] &c. gone forward."
November 5th "Demurrage. Wrote to the Honourable President &c. in Bengall."

242. LETTER L.⁵

"To the HONOURABLE ROBERT HEDGES Esq. Governour of Fort William and President for Affairs of the Honourable Company of Merchants in England trading to the East Indies &c; Council In Bengall.

HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRS

We gave your Honour &c; notice of our departure from Patna the 23rd Ultimo, Seerbolund Cawn [Sarbuland Khān] refusing to give us either Convoy or Dustick [dustak], it was the Generall Rumour he would send some People to search our boats after goods that we might have laden'd thereon. But we heard afterwards that on due Consideration he orderd no body to molest us saying he would take his Satisfaction from the Merchants who had dealt with us, we Came down in very good order, neither Raja Tabossein nor other Phowdars [faujdārs] in the way daring disturb us. The Goorzeburdar [gurzardār] and our people by land were of very good Service by their appearance causing the Kings Order to be Complied with in procuring a guard each night for our Security. Cunna was the only place expected would be disobedient, having stopd the Dutch boats for 9 Days and demanding a great sum of money, however this was like the rest, nobody appearing to impede our passage. The Surprize was on their Side (as we were afterwards advised) the Inhabitants leaving the place with the Apprehension of their former Usage. At our Arrivall ¹ Kahlgāon in the parganā and thāna of the same name is the second largest town in the Bhāgalpur district. Muḥammad Shāh, the last independent King of Bengal, died here in A. D. 1539.

² Ganga-prasād, a town in the Purniah district, 43m. S. of Purniah, Lat. 25° 10' long. 87° 38'.

³ Sakrigali, the narrow pass.

⁵ This letter is to be found in the 'Cop' book of Letters received from Mr. Surman Esq, as before.

RAJMAHAL TO KISHTNAGAR, NOVEMBER, 1717.

CSL

at Gungapursaud [Gangaprasād] the 1st, we met with Mr Gammou, the party of Budgegrows and Soldiers which your Honour &c^y had sent us, and the 3rd in the Afternoon arrivd before this Place. The 4th the Goorzeburdar [gurzardār] Elephant and horses left it, they have orders to make the best of their way towards Hugly, 10 days being Calculated for their Journey. So we all hope to be there the 18th Instant. We are in Expectation what Orders Your Honour &c^y may please to give Concerning our farther proceodure, or how the Kings favours are to be received by the Honourable President.

This Letter goes to night in a Boat as far as Convenient, we intend to reiterate it by a boat on our Arrivall at Ruechy or Nuddea [Nadiyā].

Enclosed Comes Accounts Cash Warehouse and Charges Generall for September which is the last heavy Account we shall send your Honour &c^y, there are likewise the Copys of Consultations.

Rajamoll [Rajmahal]

Nov. 5th

At Night.

1717.

We are

HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRs

Your most obedient humble Servants

JOHN SUEMAN

EDWARD STEPHENSON."

243. DIARY.

November 6th "Arrived over Against Aurungabad [Aurangā-bad]¹."

November 7th "Arrived att Murcha²."

"Arrived att Jelungy [Jalangi]³. Some Merchants Bontes with the Honourable Presidents Dustick [dastak], came November 8th into Our Company."

November 9th "Arrived att Murgamorra [Mirgi]⁴."

"Arrived at Kissengunge [Kishtnagar]⁵. Wrote to the Honourable November 10th President and Council in Bengall."

244. LETTER II.⁶

"HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRs,

The Foregoing is Copy of what we wrote your Honour &c^y the 5th Instant
The Lowness of the Waters has made the Turns of the River so great as very much to delay our Passage so that its very likely the Goorzeburdar [gurzardār] may make more Speed by Land than we Can by water. We appointed him to meet us at Amboa where we intend to waite your Honour &c^ys Orders, we ¹ This place was nearly three miles W. of Suti in the Murshidābād district. See Rennell's Bengal Atlas, Map No. 15.

² This place was nearly nine miles S. E. of Bagwāngolā in the Murshidābād district. See Rennell's Bengal Atlas, Map No. 15.

³ Jalangi in a thāna of the same name in the Murshidābād district lies on the Jalangi or Khariā river, 24° 8' 10" lat. north and 88° 44' 35" long. east.

⁴ Mirgi, in thāna Tehātā in the Mīhrpur subdivision, is nearly 20 miles S. W. of Jalangi.

⁵ Kishnagar, also in thāna Tehātā, sometimes called Kisinganj, is 4½ miles S. W. of Mirgi.

⁶ This letter is to be found in the 'Copy Book of Letters received from Mr Surman &c^y.
as before.

hope to arrive the 12th at Night or 13th in the Morning if the weather favours us. We dispatch this by a nimble Boat on purpose to give your Honour & your timely advice.

And are

HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRs

Your most Obedient Humble Servants

JOHN SURMAN

EDWARD STEPHENSON.

KISENGUNGE,

a days Journey above Ruehy [Rēui]¹

November the 10th 1717.

245. DIARY.

- November 11th "Arrived at Ruehy [Rēui]."
 November 12th "Arrived at Ambowa [Ambikā]²"
 November 13th "The Goorzeburdar, [gurzardār] Elephant, Horses, &c. Joined us. Demurrage."
 November 14th "Nothing remarkable—Demurrage."
 "Early this morning arrived a Generall Letter from Fort William, Arrived att Trivenny [Trivenī]. Another Generall Letter arrived from Fort William.

Wrote to Fort William, and dispatched Ensign Gammon with his party off Soldiers and Budgerows. The second and ffourth in the Dutch Councill Came, in the Director off Huglys name, to Welcome M^r Surman on his arrival."

¹ Rēui is the old name for Krishnagara, the city on the Jalangi, east of Nadiya. The place is mentioned more than once in the Kshītis'avams'avalicharitam, or Chronicle of the family of Rāja Krishnachandra of Navadwipa. According to this chronicle the change of name was made by an ancestor of Krishnachandra, Rāja Rudrarāya, who ruled from 1683 to 1694. 'Rēui iti prasiddhagrāma gōgūpānāi bahūnāmādhishthānamataḥ prasangatḥ krishṇanāma-samarapādyarthān cha tadgrāmasya krishṇanagarēti saṁhitān chakrē.' 'The place Rēui he called Krishnagara in honour of Krishna and because many herdsmen lived there.' See Kshītis'avams'avalicharitam, edited and translated by W. Petersch, Berlin, 1852, p. 26, ll. 20, 21, in the original, and p. 21 of the translation.

According to the same authority Rāja Bābhava, the father of Rudrarāya, 'erected in the village called Rēui a beautiful residence, and built to the east and to the west of it two palaces like mountains, and in the south a seraglio with a multitude of magnificent palaces.' Rudrarāya, having changed the name, had erected there by a Mohammedan architect a palace, and built a causeway from there to Sāntipura. From this time it seems to have been the residence of the kings of Nadiya.

The English were on good terms with the Nadiya rajas. In particular the Chronicle states that Rāmakrishna, the son of Rudrarāya, lived in friendship with Vada Sāheb, 'who at that time was governor of the southern foreigners in Calcutta. The latter, therefore, showed likewise continual friendship towards him, and placed a garrison of 2,500 so-called "soldiers," who were skilled in the use of all kinds of weapons and missiles, in Krishnagar to execute the plans of Rāmakrishna'.

In March 1710 the Council went to Rēui for a few days to take the air. See Vol. I, p. 329, § 372. Perhaps they were present at the festivities in honour of the birth of Krishnachandra in 1710.

² Ambikā is a part of Kaina in the Burdwan district. It is 12 miles south of Nadiya.

TRIVENI, NOVEMBER, 1717.

CSL

246. LETTER LII¹

"TO THE HONOURABLE ROBERT HEDGES ESQ^r Governour of Fort William and President for Affairs of the Honourable Company of Merchants trading to the East Indies &c^r Council In Bengall.

HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRs,

Your Honours &c^r of the 12 Inst came to hand this morning early, upon which we immediately put our Selves in order of Removall and the Goorzeburdar [guzbārdār] goes to Hugly today but it being the Same person that brought the Governour his Seerpaw [sar-o-pā] he makes a little Hesitation, whether or no its proper to be given so near Calcutta, So much Ceremony being given for one Seerpaw [sar-o-pā] as Coming up to Hugly &c^r and there receiving it in the Eye of the World this may appear a slight to such Vast Favours. He says he shall go to the Government of Hugly and see whether any of them will attend him down to Calcutta to be present as is Customary at the receivall. We beleive we shall not find him very obstinate, and that they can have no other Reason to deny it but the Single Precedent of the Former Seerpaw [sar-o-pā], should there be any farther Hesitation, we shall stay a day at Hugly and wait your Honours &c^r Orders, if not we shall Come down to the place your Honour &c^r have appointed, we Suppose Your Honour &c^r have pitcht a Tent or Canopy with Cunnaut [kanāts] round it 2 or 300 Yds. before their other Tents to receive the Favours in. As for any other Ceremonies there are none only Tusleeming² for Each particular thing as often as is Customary, which as we shall have the Honour of being present we shall duely inform.

Pursuant to your Honour &c Orders M Gammon with the party of men he brought up is on his way to your Honour &c

Amboia
the 16th
November
7 in the morning.

We Are
HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRs
Your Most obedient Humble Servants
JOHN SURMAN
EDWARD STEPHENSON.³

247. LETTER LIII⁴

"TO the HONOURABLE ROBERT HEDGES ESQ^r Governour of Fort William and President for Affairs of the Honourable English East India Company &c^r Council in Bengall.

HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRs

We wrote your Honour this morning in answer to a Letter dated the 12th instant which we hope is arrived ere this Can reach your hands, the Occasion of repenting it so soon is the receipt of your Honour &c. of the 14th, in the former Letter we advis'd what the Goorzeburdar [guzbārdār] said when ¹ This letter is to be found in the 'Copy Book of Letters received from Mr. Surman &c^r' as before.

² The canvas screens which form the walls of a tent are called kanāts. Upon the receipt of an imperial farmān it was usual to put up a gudāi bar or red enclosure. The ceremony of receiving the farmān, placing it on the head and eyes, and bowing with the face towards Delhi was performed within this enclosure.

³ That is performing the tastim or salutation.

⁴ This letter is to be found in the 'Copy Book of Letters received from Mr. Surman &c^r', and is the last in the vol. a point of date.

CSL

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA, BOMBAY, CALCUTTA AND FORT WILLIAM, NOVEMBER AND DECEMBER, 1717. 251

we told him the orders you had given of having the Phirmaund [farmān] &c¹ received so near Calcutta, we durst not at that Time be so free of our Opinion least it might have [been] taken as a piece of Presumption but since your Honour &c¹ have been pleas'd to give us Liberty it is now our duty. Had not the Honourable Governour come above Hugly to receive the Seerpaw [sar-o-pā] sent by the King before, we don't know any Custom that obliges him to Come so farr it being usuall only to Send Tents out 2 or 3 Coarse [kos] from the Place of Residence to receive such favours as Rajahs and the Nobility of that Kingdom are wont to doe, we have heard Governour Pitt[t] received a Vest from Behauder Shaw [Bahādur Shāh] as likewise a Generall of Suratt, but never heard that They made a Journey of 12 Coarse [kos], yet for all that as your Honour &c¹ have made a late preceedent in this Part of India upon so small an Occasion as receiving a Vest alone; should not the same Respect be Shown upon this Account it might be taken by the Government of this Country as a Slight of the Kings Favours, and if ill represented to his Majesty be of bad Consequence which Consideration we humbly Conceive may Countervail the loss of the Time and Charge that it may take to come so farr. We hope Ensign Gammon will be with you some time to morrow, The Budgerows we shall empty and send away immediately waiting your farther orders at this place.

Trivene
[Triveni]
Nov. the 15
1717.

We are
HONOURABLE SIR AND SIRS
Your most Obedient Humble Servants
JOHN SURMAN
EDWARD STEPHENSON."

248. DIARY.

- November 16th "Demurrage."
November 17th "Demurrage. Arrived a Generall Letter from Fort William."
November 18th "Demurrage."
November 19th "Hugh Barker sent from Mr. Surman &c¹ to waite upon the Honourable Robert Hedges Esq^r at Hugly."
November 20th "The Honourable Robert Hedges Esq^r attended by some Gentlemen off the Councill, The Inhabitants off note in Calcutta, and Soldiers off Fort William came above Hugly; where the Honourable President received The ffollowing things from His Imperiall Majesty Furruckseer [Farrukhsiyar] by the Hands off a Goorzeburdar [guzbārdār], and in the presence off the Wackanagar [wāqīā'hānigār] &c¹ and proper Officers.
1 Phirmaund [farmān].
1 Vest
1 Cunger [khanjar]
1 Pudduck¹
1 Elephant
Otter [etc.] off Roses 50 Tola
Shauls and Suratt Atlas [afflas, i. e. satin] 82 pieces."

¹ Padak, an ornament for the neck, a badge, a flat plate of gold or other metal—See Platts' Dictionary, 232, and Herklots' Qawoon-e-islam (Reprint), app. p. xxiii.

FORT WILLIAM, DECEMBER, 1717.

CSL

249. CONSULTATION.

At the commencement off this negotiation, The Honourable President and Council off Bengall gave us a Supply off Clothes and necessarys, together with the Gentlemen that accompany'd us; not beleiving this Affair would be protracted to so great a length, or that the Court off Indostan would become so Expensive in Outward Appearance. Wherefore being our Selves obliged to make up this deficiency, have brought nothing to Account butt the produce off the Honourable Companys Warehouse. Every thing being now so happily concluded and our Commission att an End, we beleive this a proper time to bring in an account off Extraordinary and unavoidable Expences, during the negotiation.

Mr Jn ^o Surmans Accot		5708	„	1	„
Mr E: Stephenson's D ^o		811	„	12	„ 3
H: Barker D ^o		614	„	—	„ —
Mr Thos. Philips D ^o		321	„	13	„ —
					—————7455-10-3

All which being duly Examin'd, and finding nothing butt what was really necessary on this occasion, Agreed they be paid Accordingly.

Agreed That Account Current Calcutta be debted for the ffoot and Balance off the following Accounts As per particulars to be Entered in Journall.

				Rs.	A.	P.
Plate	...	delivered the Honbl ^e Presid ^t		2635	—	6
Pallankeens—5	...	D ^o Robert Hedges Esq.		2130	—	9
House Furniture	...	D ^o the Buxy [bakhshi]
Cattle—		M ^r . Dean		1209	6	—
18 Horses	...	D ^o d ^o d ^o		5121	—	—
5 Camells	...	D ^o d ^o d ^o
2 Oxen	...	D ^o d ^o d ^o		925	—	—
Carpetts and Nummants ¹	...	D ^o d ^o d ^o		1701	—	—
Tents	...	D ^o d ^o d ^o		70	—	—
Escrutores and Trunks	...	D ^o The Honbl ^e Presid ^t

¹ Namâs (Persian) or namâdâ (Urdu), a coarse woollen cloth, a felt rug. It is also applied to the felt cloth placed under a saddle, introduced at the time of the Crimean War.

FORT WILLIAM, DECEMBER, 1717.

SL

			Rs.	A.	P.
Warehouse Necessaries—
1 Large Beam	...	D ^o	The Warehouse Keep- er, Mr. Brown.	48	4 —
1 Small d ^o . with Cop- per Scales.	...
Fire-Armes	...	D ^o .	d ^o d ^o	261	12 —
Boates	...	D ^o .	The Buxy [bakshi], Mr. Dean.	106	4 —
Household Necessaries	...	D ^o .	d ^o d ^o	447	3 —
Elephant Furniture	...	D ^o .	d ^o d ^o	83	9 9
Seerhauds Durbar [Sarhād's darbār] Royall.	...			11264	2 —
C. Seerhaud [Sarhād]—the Ball of his Acc ^t .	...			3436	9 6
Mr. Jn ^s Surmans Acc ^t . Appa- rell.	...			999	4 —
Mr. E. Stephensons	d ^o			342	6 6
Mr. Wm Hamiltons	d ^o			265	5 —
H Barkers	d ^o			283	7 —
Mr. Tho ^s Philips,	d ^o			87	14 —
Ruggee-punditts [Raghu pandit's].	...			653	2 —
Gololchund [Gulālchand]	...			100	— —
King Furruckseers [Far- rukhsiyar's]	...			599305	2 1
Royall Phirmaund [farmān]	...

Agreed that all presents and Expences In Generall be credited by the Royal Phirmaunds [farmāns] off His Imperiall Majesty Furruckseer [Farrukhsiyar] King off Indostan.

To be Entered in Journall 599305.2.1.

God be praised We have now perfectly finished this Grand Affair; and after many uneasy thoughts from all sides, have answered the Wishes of Every one, viz^t in the delivery off the substantiall phirmaunds [farmāns] &c^a Grants with their Attested Copys, to the Honourable Robert Hedges Esq^r President and Governour off Fort William &c^a Councill In Bengall. Itt may nott be improper, In concluding this Book off Consultations, to write something in reference to what has gone before; Butt to Summ up or Even Abbreviate the whole, is as impossible, as itt is distant from Our Intentions. There is no other way off coming to a Clear knowledge how this grand Affair has Succeeded, than by a Serious Scrutiny and perusall off this Book from the Beginning to the End, ffor which purpose we heartly and Humbly commend itt to the Honourable President and Councill off Bengall;

FORT WILLIAM, DECEMBER, 1717.

CSL

For Since we have acted directly under their influence, to them Alone must be imputed the Glory.

Since the trade off Europeans in these parts, there have been Sundry Attempts off this kind; Butt the Grants Obtained have been off very little value, 'tho' att a much Superiour Expencc. May those we have gain'd be as Lasting as they are great is Our Earnest wishes.

JN^o SORMAN

EDW^o STEPHENSON.

APPENDIX.

CONTAINING ORIGINALL INSTRUCTIONS, A SUMMARY OF FORMER GRANTS, AND FRAGMENTS OF PRECEDING NEGOTIATIONS.

I

GENERALL INSTRUCTIONS FROM Y^{rs} CHIEF SETTLEMENTS IN INDIA
CONCERNING Y^{rs} NEGOTIATIONS ATT THE COURT OFF KING
FORRUCKSEER [FARRUKHSITAB].

1. INSTRUCTIONS FROM FORT ST GEORGE

Copy off a Paragraph from the Hon^{ble} President and Council In Fort St. George to the Hon^{ble} President and Council off Bengal.

Dated y^e 2nd October 1711.

WHAT we had to desire in y^e Phirmaund [farmān] was a confirmation off all our privileges according to Sallabad [salābād] and some few particular matters as per inclosed Copy off a Letter wrote by Gov^t Pitt to Zeandy Caun, [Ziyān-d-Din Khān] to all which we should be very glad iff our title to y^e Villages off Jevinapatam [Chennapatnam]¹ granted by Zulphacor Caun [Zū-l-fiqār Khān] could be confirm'd. That we may have no more off these Chargeable disputes with Serroopsing [Sarūp Sinha] or any other Future Govern^t off Chingee [Jinji]. We pray God to bless your Endeavours in this business on which the future prosperity off our Masters affairs does in a great measure depend.

Copy D:

October 23rd 1711.

AND now having answered what contained in Yours, we shall only add that we have in an Enclosed Letter apart given you a full account off our Ancient privileges on this Coast, when granted and how confirm'd, off which we shall dispatch you Copys in a day or two by land, which considering The Season we may Expect will reach you before this.

¹ Prescriptive right. The term is derived, according to Yule's Glossary, p. 593, from the Persian words sal, year, and ābād, replenished, well-filled. Apparently it had the odd meaning, in Mahrattah and Southern Indian usage, of 'perennial,' 'prescriptive.'

² That is, Madras.

2. POSITION OF THE MADRAS PRESIDENCY

An Account off our first Settlement att Fort St George with Severall priviledges granted us from time to time att this and other places on y^e Coast off Cormandell.

Anno 1643¹ Agent Iye Left Armagon to Settle in this place², having a Cowl [gaul] from Serangoe Royall³ [Sriranga Raya] Jentue⁴ King off this Country, impowering us to build a Fort and Bulworks, to import and Export Custom free, only paying half y^e Town Custom to y^e Duan [duān] the other half to be reserved to y^e Company. The same Cowl [gaul] grants us all y^e Ground belonging to Madrass, and gives full power to Execute justice upon our own Inhabitants and all others that dwell among us. The Govt off Pullimully [Pundamall] is strictly forbidden from meddling with any off our Inhabitants as are all Juncaneers⁴ from stopping our Provisions.

In case any off our Ships were wreck'd upon y^e Coast, All Goods that were saved to be for our own Account, and the Said Raja obliges himself to protect us on all occasions to the utmost off his power.

Some years After y^e Grant off the Afforesaid Cowl [gaul], Nabob Meer Zumbia [Mir Jumlah] having conquered the Cornata [Karnātah] Country, for y^e King off Golconda [Gulkhanda], confirmed itt word for word in Another Cowl [gaul] granted by himself.

¹ This is a mistake. The year should be either 1640, when Fort St. George was founded, or 1645, when Sri Ranga III granted the gaul.

² This is altogether wrong. In 1639, Thomas Ivy was agent at Masulipatam. With his permission, Francis Day, who was at this time chief at Armagon, went, in July, 1639, to the Madras coast, having been invited to settle there by a powerful Naik Venkatappa who was the de facto ruler of that country, though nominally subordinate to the titular king of Vijayanagar. Day found that Madras would be an excellent trade centre. The Naik gave him a favorable gaul, dated August, 1639. Meanwhile, Ivy had been superseded at Masulipatam by Andrew Cogan. Cogan supported Day's views.

On February 6, 1640, Cogan received a doubtful letter from Surat permitting a settlement at Madras. A fortnight later Cogan and Day arrived at Madraspatam in the Eagle after dismantling the factory at Armagon. The erection of a fort was commenced as soon as possible, and from the name given to it, we may infer that part (perhaps the inner fort) was finished by St. George's Day (23rd April). The Court of Directors called Cogan to account for his action in founding Fort St. George. In August, 1643, Cogan made over the charge of the settlement to Day. On August 4, 1644 Day was relieved by Thomas Ivy. On November 15, 1643, a gaul for Madras was granted to Agent Ivy by Sri Ranga III, raja of Chandragiri, and titular king of Vijayanagar. See The Founding of Fort St. George, Madras, by William Foster, London, Eyre and Spottiswoode, 1902, pp. 5, 6, 7, 8, 13, 21, 22, 24, 32, 33 and 34.

I am afraid that I cannot agree with Mr. Foster that the English obtained any gaul from Venkatapati (p. 17). There is no mention anywhere of Venkatapati, and the English had nothing to do with him. The clearest statement on the point is found in the letter quoted on p. 30. 'Wee have bin often tymes solicited by this kinge [Sri Ranga] to give him a visit which was never yett done to him or his predecessors since our first arrivall here which is now 7 yeares almost . . . We are . . . resolved . . . to send upp Mr. Henry Greenhill with foure other English souldiers for his attendance for the reconfirmation of what was granted unto Mr. Cogan by the great Nague, under whose protection formerly wee liv'd, but now the Kinge hath taken his power and this cuntry from him, soe his power and protection is of noe longer value.' The English at first regarded the Naik as practically king of the country, and were contented with his gaul, or gaule, if they received another in 1643 when they sent the peehkhash (p. 18), which I should think very doubtful. 'Those Cowles of the former King and our Nagues' (p. 36) I should regard as an obvious exaggeration.

³ Gentle, i.e. Hindu.

⁴ Collectors of changan or customs.

Anno 1671. Sir William Langorn Agent entered into articles with the then Nabob Yecknam Caun [Ikram Khān, or Neknām Khān] to pay a certain Sum off 1200 pagodas yearly for y^e Ground rent off this place and y^e towns depending. The Nabob att y^e same time granted a Cowl [qaul] repeating and confirming all y^e privileges given us by his predecessors, which Cowl [qaul] is a recital off that granted by y^e Jentue King only somewhat more fully Explain'd.

Anno 1672, Moosa Caun [Mūsa Khān] succeeded Yecknam Caun [Ikram Khān] in y^e Government off y^e Cornatta [Karnāṭah] Country under y^e King off Golconda [Gulkhandaḥ], and confirm'd all y^e aforementioned privileges in a new cowl [qaul] under his hand and Seal.

In the Same year the King off Golconda [Gulkhandaḥ] granted a Phirmaund [farmān] to Mr Mahan [Mohun] Cheif off Metchlapatam [Masulipatam] and to all y^e rest off the English nation, allowing them to trade Custom free through out all his dominions.

Anno 1674. The King off Golconda [Gulkhandaḥ] granted a Generali Phirmaund [farmān] confirming all our ancient privileges according to Sallabad [sālābād]¹ and permitting us to build Ships any where on y^e Sea Coast; and issued out a Husbul Hoodum [hasbu-l-hukm] to all his great Officers through out y^e Kingdom Strictly prohibiting them from Molesting us in our trade by Exacting Custom or Juncan money in any off y^e ports or places in his Country.

Anno 1676. The King off Golconda [Gulkhandaḥ] granted a phirmaund [farmān] to Sir William Langorn confirming all our former privileges in a very ample manner with an addition off severall new Articles as you will see in y^e Copy sent herewith. We have likewise added y^e Copys off the foregoing Phirmaunds [farmāns] and Cowles [qauls] for your perusal.

This is all we have remaining upon record, during y^e reign off the King off Golconda [Gulkhandaḥ], and Itt is very strange that we have a better Account upon our Books off what was transacted so long agoe, than off what has been done these later days. However we shall proceed to give you as good an Account as we can pick out off abundance off Books and papers which we have been obliged to goe through upon this occasion; off what has been done since Sir William Langorns time.

During the Government off Agent Masters and President Gifford we find nothing new Except y^e settling off some small Factorys to the Southward As Conimeer [Kunimedu], Cudalore [Kūdalūr], and Porto Novo under the Raja off Chingee [Jinji], which places being withdrawn, (Except Cudalore [Kūdalūr] off which we shall speak hereafter) there will be no occasion to say any thing off them.

We remain'd in peaceable possession off our privileges till y^e Mogull Came into these parts, to y^e Conquest off Golconda [Gulkhandaḥ] and Vizapore [Bijāpūr] when Mr Elihu Yale and his Conneill thought itt necessary to send an Armenian

¹ According to prescriptive right, perannially, perpetually.

One Coja Avakues¹ to reside in y^e Mogulls Camp as their Vakeel [vakil] to treat for a Phirmaund [farmān] which was in y^e year 1688.

This Vakeel [vakil] wrote word that he had brought matters very near a conclusion. When att the same time Letters were sent from y^e Camp That Generall Child att Bombay had made a peace with y^e Moors, and was to have a Generall Phirmaund [farmān] from y^e Mogull, in which this place and Bengal were to be included; which putt a full stop to what Gov^r Yale was then doing; and y^e Vakeel [vakil] was ordered to distribute no more money till further orders.

All that we can find off this Phirmaund [farmān] upon our Books is a very Slight paper containing nothing materiall to y^e purpose. The next steps that were made towards getting a Phirmaund [farmān], were in the year 1692 by Mr Yale when Caun Bucksh [Kām Bakhsh], Assid Caun [Asad Khān] and Zulphacor Caun [Zū-l-fiqār Khān] were att Chingee [Jinji].² When Messrs Trenchfield and Pitt were sent from this place, to wait upon them with a considerable present, Upon which they obtain'd liberty for our Mint with a Nishaun [nishān] from y^e Prince, and Phirmaund [farmān] and Dustock [dastak] from Assid Caun [Asad Khān], off which we send you Copys. And you may observe that a Phirmaund [farmān] is therein promised, butt has never been complied with.

Another Essay was made in Mr Higgisons time Anno 1695 to procure a Phirmaund [farmān] when Zulphacor Caun [Zū-l-fiqār Khān] was with a Camp in these parts Employed in y^e Conquest off Ellore Butt all that Mr Higgison could procure was Perwannas [parwānas] to confirm our priviledges according to Sallabad [sālābād], and so this matter has rested from that time to this, and we have been pretty Easy, only upon alterations off Government. The Great Men have been always troublesome and Exacting off money. We have now given you a full Account of all that has ever been done, for securing our priviledges in this Settlement.

Fort St Davids and Ondalore [Kūdālūr] were granted us in 1688 by Rām-Rauz [Rāma Raja] Raja off Chingee [Jinji], and when Zulphacor Caun [Zū-l-fiqār Khān] conquer'd that City he was pleased to confirm y^e Grant off that and y^e depending villages.

Vizagapatam was granted us by Nabob Seer Lascar in y^e King off Goleondas time Anno 1682 or thereabouts, which we have enjoy'd ever since, butt never without great troubles from y^e Nabobs that govern the Carlingo [Kālīnga] Country.

3. LETTER TO THE BENGAL COUNCIL.

To the HON^{BLE} JOHN RUSSELL ESQ^R President and Governour &c^a Council att Fort William In Bengal.

HON^{BLE} SIR AND SIRS

Having acquainted you with our Circumstances we come next to offer our

¹ [The original correspondence, which I have had copied for another purpose, shows that the name of this Armenian, employed by Governor Elihu Yale, was Aayanuco or Abnūs W. I.]

² Kām Bakhsh was 'Alanqir's youngest son, Asad Khān was his wazir; and Zulfiqār Khān son of Asad Khān, his mir bakhshi. The investment of Jinji began in 1691, and the place was taken in January, 1698. Kām Bakhsh was placed in command on the 6th June, 1691, N. S.

Opinion, what we think will be best to procure for us in y^e Generall Phirmaund [farmān].

If we should descend to insist upon many particulars, we are advised that it will be a hinderance to y^e Affair in Generall, and may make them demand a much larger sum than itt may be you are impowred to part with--

Wherefore we choose rather to have itt in generall terms That is to say a confirmation off our Ancient priviledges Granted by y^e Jentue¹ Kings off this Country, renew'd by y^e Kings off Goleonda [Gulkhanda], Since his time by Severall Nabobs & Lastly by Assid Caun [Assad Khān] Zulphacor Caun [Zū-l-fiqār Khān] and Caun Bucush [Kām Bakhsh].

What few particulars we desire were sent you in our former, however we now send a Copy off the Same, requesting that particular care be taken to confirm y^e Grant off Fort St^e Davids and Terinapatam², So that we may have no more plague with Seroopsean [Sarūp Sinha] Raja off Chingee [Jinjī], who disputes our title to y^e Villages, notwithstanding y^e Grant from Zulphacor Caun [Zū-l-fiqār Khān].

And iff we are so happy as to have y^e Generall phirmaund [farmān], Tho' some off the particulars in Governour Pitts Lotter should be omitted we should think y^e present very well bestow'd; iff itt amounted to double y^e value off what itt went from hence.

The greatest danger is their deluding us according to their old Custom with Vests, Horsos and a peice off fine paper, so doubtfully and intrinsically penn'd that itt may be off no great signification. Butt that undoubtedly will be taken care off by those whom you think fitt to Employ in this important affair.

We most sincerely wish you Success in y^e undertaking, and that you may have y^e sole honour off accomplishing what so many able and Experienced persons Attempted In vain.

We ought never to despair off Succeeding when we consider y^e many fruitless Endeavours to unite England and Scotland in former reigns, and how soon att last itt was brought to perfection in this reign by willing hearts and Minds. We are

HONBLE SIR AND SIR
Your very Humble Servants

Fort St^e George
October 23rd 1711.

R. Harrison
J. Frederick
H. Davenport
W. Martin
E. Buckley
W. Jennings
W. Warr
R. Hunt

¹ Gentile i.e. Hindu.

² Teyanāmbattanam, the city of Teyanāyakkam, the Tamil name for Fort St. David, purchased by the Company from Rāma Rājah, a son of Śivaji, for 120,000 chacrams in 1690.

APPENDIX.

CSL

4. LETTER TO THE AMBASSADORS FROM MADRAS.

To MR. JOHN SUEMAN &c^s Gentlemen Intended to Accompany the Rt Hon^{ble} Compt^{rs} Present to the Mogull.

GENTLEMEN

We formerly sent Copys off all our Grants for the Settlements under this Presidency, by Ship President Anno 1711 with a letter to Explain them. We also sent Copys off Govern^r Pitts Letters to Zeandy Caun [Ziyāu-d-Din Khān], containing what we had to insist upon particularly on this Coast for our Hon^{ble} Masters advantage. We now send Duplicates off all those papers to the Hon^{ble} President and Council to be forwarded to you, nott doubting butt your Care will be Extended to procure as much as possible for all the Settlements we have in y^e Mogulls Dominions.

We have been called upon to particularize y^e Names off our Villages att Fort St Davids and those 5 formerly granted us by Doud Caun [Dāūd Khān] near this place and since reassumed by y^e present Nabob Sadutulla Caun [Sa'dat-ullah Khān]. Accordingly in y^e accompanying paper you will find them both in Persian and English, as near as we can bring them to their pronunciation.

However we are nott sure iff y^e naming so many towns and villages may nott cause a Jealousy off their being off greater value than really they are; Wherefore that matter is left wholly to your discretion, Either to name them particularly or mention them in generall terms.

And tho' we have taken all these pains to collect y^e Copys off our Old grants and privileges, we cannot be off Opinion they will be off any further use, than to give you a Generall Idea off our Affairs; so as to qualify you for discoursing y^e ministers, & answering any objections that may be started. For we are Credibly inform'd that a Generall Phirmaund [farmān] will be y^e most that can be obtain'd and that will be comprized in very few words.

Wherefore we offer our opinion that iff you could procure y^e Stile off the said Phirmaund [farman] in relation to us to run As follows Vizt Confirming all our Old grants and privileges on y^e Coast off Cormandell, as well from y^e ancient Kings off Goleonda [Gulchandah]; as from Caun Bucksh, Assid Caun, Zulphacor Caun, Doud Caun [Kām Bakhsh, Asad Khān, Zūl-fiqār Khān, Dāūd Khān] and other his Majestys Nabobs and Chief ministers itt would answer our Ends as well as iff all particulars were incerted, and save you a great deal off time and unnecessary trouble.

Our ancient privileges to be free of all Customes, Juncans [changams] or Chowkeys [chowkis]. To have y^e right off all our Ships wreck'd in the dominions off his majesty &c^s may be mentioned for all our Settlements in generall, and undoubtedly cannot be too fully and Clearly Express'd.

¹ Mr. Irvine notes, 'Dāūd Khān, son of Khizr Khan, Panni Afghān, entered the imperial service in the 27th year of Alamgir, and about 1700 became nāib sūbahdār of the Karnātik under Kim Bakhsh, and then under Zūl-fiqār Khān. He was killed in a battle with Sayyad Husain 'Alī Khān, Barmah, fought near Burhānpur on the 6th Sept 1715 N. S. This family was settled at Qamarnagar Karāñl in the Madras Presidency. The last Nawab rebelled in 1808, and the last representative died in 1848.'

We believe the Hon. President and Council in Bengall will Join with us in opinion; That iff possible there should be a Duplicate and Triplicate off the Generall Phirmaund [farmān], One off which to be lodged att Bombay, the other here, to be produced whenever we are molested.

Diu [Dīwī] Island near Metchlepatam [Masulipatam] & what y^e Moors call Divy [Dīvī] Island, has been often aimed att by y^e Dutch, butt they could never Obtain itt. We have been Courted by y^e Rajahs to settle there butt forbore on Accountt that we thought itt might Embroil us with the Moors Government. Butt iff we could gett a grant off itt for ever from y^e King; paying y^e yearly rent as itt stands in his Books which is 7000 pagodas, itt would we are well assured in very few years reimburse y^e whole charge off your present Expedition. Wherefore we must particularly recommend itt to you to endeavour for itt, and itt will nott be amiss iff you please to acquaint the Ministers appointed to treat with you; That itt is an Island off little use to them and no trade; butt we can with much Charge make it commodious for shipping in a few years, and bring a considerable trade thither to y^e enriching his Majestys dominions as has Already been done in Bengall, Madrass and other places.

No Doubt butt you carry good Mapps with you off Bengall, this and the other Coast, to which you will have recourse as you see Occasion. We desire to hear from you by way of Aurungābād which C. Seerhaud [Sarhād] can easily contrive, and you shall be sure off having all necessary advices from us. We most heartly wish you health and Success that you may have y^e Credit of procuring considerable Advantages to our Honble Masters and the British nation, which will undoubtedly be rewarded with distinguishing marks off their flavour.

We are
GENTLEMEN

Your affec^t friends & Humble Servants

E. Harrison
W. Jennings
B. Benyon
W. Warr
R. Horden
J. Smart
T. Cooke.

Fort St. George
Aprill 12th
1714

5. GOVERNOR PITT'S LETTER TO ZIYĀU-D-DIN KHĀN.

To ZEAUDY CAUN [Ziyāu-d-Din Khān] Lord-High-Steward of King Sha-Allums [Shah 'Ālam's] Household¹

By your faithfull Chubdar [chobdār] Cosnac, by whom your Excellency sent y^e Royall Husbul Hoocum [hasbu-Z hukm] and Vest &c^s perwannas

¹ Deputy Steward would be more correct. Mr. Irvine notes that according to the native historians he was originally dinān of the Chinapatam, or Madras country. After his uncle's death he was called to Court, on the 10th July, 1693, N. S., given the title of Khān, and appointed bayutā at court, and deputy of the khānsamān, or Lord High Steward.

[parvāna] I now send this humble address which doubtless you expected sooner, and had been sent but for ye two following reasons. Your Excellency Enjoining Secrecy I was obliged to committ the translating off them to some particular friends which took up 14 days When fully apprized off the purport thereof, I could nott butt be surprized att your unparel'd Expressions off Friendship and invaluable honours you have done us, which so confounded my thoughts for some days, That I almost despair'd off being able to acknowledge them by my pen or otherways. Butt then considering what a Generous friend I had mett with, who had been so lavish off his favours to one that had as little power as merit to oblige you I could no longer refrain from blessing my Stars, who were so propitious to me as to give me the honour off your first acquaintance, which I esteem the happy'st fate that has attended me throughout y^e whole course off my life, which I shall for ever remember, and that posterity may doe y^e same, I humble request that when you come to Golconda, [Gulkhandah] you will honour me with sending your picture, which I will send to England, and have itt copyed by y^e most Exquisite Linner in y^e world, and order itt to be sent me hither, Besides I will erect your Effigie fluely cutt in Marble with such an inscription on itt, that y^e world may know the Author off our happiness in these parts.

I cannot butt blush when I think off giving you farther trouble, which I cannot avoid since you are pleased to command me in a Letter apart, wherein you propose severall things that I think my duty to give my thoughts thereon. Your Excellency gives us great hopes off the Kings Phirmaund [farmān] when he comes to Golconda [Gulkhandah], where God send him safe and Victorious.

Your Excellency writes that there must be presents for all y^e Princes & some off the Great men; if you mean such as are suitable to their birth and quality, tis impossible for us to purchase them with our Companys Estate, who you know are Merchants that run great risques to gett a little, & who often meett with loss instead off gain. So hope, as y^e presents we intend, are Suitable to our circumstances, they will meet with a gracious acceptance from y^e Great King and princes, which putts me in mind off what we read in History That upon many persons making very rich presents to a King, There happened a poor man to come with a drop off water, which was as acceptable as any off their presents being according to his ability.

And for what Your Excellency is pleased to mention concerning Islands on y^e Coast off Peque [Pegu], Aracan, Fort off Pollicat [Palikat] &c. we cannot think them usefull to us: For that we desire no more Territorys in these parts than what are necessary to preserve our trade & Estates from suddain insults off flying armys Such as Morattas [Maharattas] &c. Yett iff his Majesty would bestow on us y^e Island off Din [Divi] near Metchelepatam [Masulipatam], itt may Encourage us to revive our trade in those parts, and Cultivate itt so as to make itt a proper place, to preserve itt where may be also made a Good port for the Kings and all Merchant-Ships to lye out off danger in y^e time off the Monsoon which is very much wanted, there not being one on all this Coast. Butt then you and what will we give for the first Second and third year. Your Excellency well knows that along y^e Sea Coast 'tis nothing butt a heap off sand, and that y^e improving off itt is very Chargeable, off which we have large Experience in Chinnapatam: for that for 60 years itt was a vast yearly Charge to us, and since brings in very little more than what defrays itt's Expences. So rather than making y^e Phirmaund [fārmān] Chargeable to us, We by your Excellency's assistance hope his Majesty will grant itt to confirm our priviledges bestowed on us by his Royall Predecessors throughout all his Dominions, with those small additions I made in my former Letters iff they can without difficulty be obtain'd, & for what you say off St Thoma I understand itt is lett att this time for 6000 pagodas per Annum including all y^e Villages belonging thereto, Att which rate we shall be willing to take itt for a long term off years, & for no other end butt to procure our Quiet, & for Trivitore [Tiruvottiyūr]¹ itt is one off y^e five towns that Nabob Doud Caun [Dāūd Khān] gave us his Perwanna [parwāna] for on his departure, & hope we shall have y^e Great Caun Behauder [Khān Bahādur]² to confirm itt hearing itt is in his Jaggeer [jāgīr].

As we desire y^e Phirmaund [fārmān] to be generall I must lett you know how matters stand with us in Bengall and Suratt.

In Bengall we have y^e Kings Phirmaund [fārmān] and Princes Nishaun [nishān] with severall Nabobs Perwannas [parwānas] for being Custom-free in y^e Kingdoms of Bengall, Behar, and Orixia upon paying 3000 rupees per annum Att Hugly into the Kings treasury & for our Settlement att Culcutta; where we desire his Majesty would be pleased to give us leave to erect a mint to Coin Rupees and Moorts [muhars] with his Royall Stamp according to y^e true matt and weight off those coin'd in his Royall mint off Rajamoll [Rājmaḥal], which conveniency would very much contribute to y^e encrease off that trade. I must also acquaint you that notwithstanding y^e Royall Grants abovemention'd, we have mett with there off Late years, great abuses and obstructions to our trade, more particularly as to our Goods that come from Patna, Dacca, Rajamoll [Rājmaḥal], Maula, Cossimbuzar, &c^a. Every little Governour having erected all along y^e rivers Chowkeys [chaukis] who Exort Custom & what they please, & will pay no reverence to y^e Royall Authority, In so much that our Goods on y^e boates are often coming down 6 or 8 Months, so that we Either loose y^e Monsoon to send them on our Ships Or they are damaged & Rotten before they arrive.

Then att Suratt, The Merchant is unhappy that trades to that port, and this I write from Experience That y^e usage in y^e Custom-house to most mens persons is so barbarous, becoming slaves rather than Merchants, & no better as to their Goods, where by the Kings order they pay 3½ per Cent according to y^e value off the Goods, which they Generally rate 50 per Cent or double y^e worth in y^e Bazar, and accordingly make up their Custom Account, when in all parts off the world where they act with honour & justice, the Customer that overvalues goods is obliged to take them att that rate, and in all ports that are enriched and flourishing by trade, for encouragement off which they ¹ The name is said to mean the village, Ar, of the sacred Aṭi, or Śiva.

² [The name Mun'im Khān, see farther on W. I.] always value Goods 10 per Cent less than their intrinsic value, which increases y^e Customes, by encouraging Merchants to frequent the port. Then besides, Their dispatches their in their Custom-house are so dilatory, That our Ships often loose their monsoon and Merchants the Sale off their Goods; So hope there may be some way found in a Phirmaund [farmān] that these Greivances may be remedyd for the Future, which will tend greatly to y^e honour off the King & to y^e Augmentation off riches in his Country. We have also a Settlement at Vizagapatam where we would much Encrease our trade, iff his Majesty would bestow on us y^e blessing off his Encouragement. We have for many years rented there four towns on y^e following terms:—

Perwanda & Wooda-poonda	—	Rs. 900 per Annum.
Walteero [Valteru] ¹	—	500
Maulouporam [Mālkapuram]	—	90

for which Villages and Vizagapatam [Visakhapatnam] together we pay yearly att Chicacull [Shrikakulam]² into the Kings treasury four thousand Eight hundred and Sixty two Rupees. The two first Villages for which we pay 900 rupees are att a great distance from Vizagapatam for which reason we are willing to quitt them, so that deducted there will be rupees 3962 which we are willing to pay yearly, iff his Majesty pleases to give us a perpetuall grant thereof; which will prevent us a great deal off trouble, that we generally meett with from New Officers att their first coming to y^e Government. If the Great King pleases to give us two or three small towns which Join to ours, we shall always be gratefull for his Royall Favours.

In the King off Golcondas [Gulikhandah] time for the Encouragement off our Trade we were Custom-free throughout his country—

Your Excellency is well acquainted with our paying here 1200 pagodas per Annum which iff his Majesty would please to forgive in his Phirmaund [farmān], itt would be a great encouragement to us in our buisness, and the only meritt we can plead for so great favour is that we yearly import into his Majestys dominions a vast Amount in Treasure and carry away nothing for itt; but y^e produce and manufacture off his Country.

We are very sensible that your Excellency must have been att Charges in our Affairs, which we are ready to pay with all the Gratitude mankind can be capable off; and wish our Ability was Equall to our Inclination to make Suitable returns to y^e Great Zeandy Caun [Ziyāu-d-Din Khān] for his unparallel'd friendship and favours, which we shall always endeavour by all means to acknowledge * more particularly in giving frequent instances off our duty to Sha Allum [Shāh Alam] whom God preserve and send him a long and happy reign; and that y^e Noble and Generous Caun Canna. Caun Behauder [Khān Khānān, Khān Bahādur]³ and our invaluable friend Zeandy Caun [Ziyāu-d-din Khān] may be always bless'd with his favour and Enjoy health and prosperity.

January 5th 1708.

THOMAS PITT.

¹ Commonly called Waltair.

² Commonly called Chicacole or in the Persian histories, Sikākūl. The name is said to mean the chief residence.

³ The Wazir of Bahādur Shāh, usually known by his earlier title of Man'im Khān.

G. ANOTHER LETTER FROM GOVERNOR PITT.

To his Excellency Zeaudy Caun [Ziāu-d-dīn Khān] Lord High Steward off the Kings Household.

Tis your Noble and Generous mind that has drawn this trouble off our application to you, and as I wrote you in my Last Letter which I deliver'd Aga Makeem [Āqā Muqīm], I now send our Humble petition to the King, and address to y^e Grand Vizier Copys off which I here enclose to Your Excellency, humbly requesting that you will favour us with y^e management thereof.

We are nottignorant off what should accompany such petitions and Addresses; but the hazzards and troubles in y^e way prevent us from performing that part att present, In which I humbly desire your Excellency's advice and direction as to what would be acceptable to his Majesty The Grand Vizier and Such others where you think itt necessary and we shall Endeavour to procure itt iff possible.

Your Excellency will see that we desire a Phirmaund [farmān] to confirm our priviledges according to Sallabad [sālābād]¹ in all his dominions, Unless his Majesty shall out off his Royall bounty bestow some new favours on us. Your Excellency cannot butt know that Miliapore [Mayilapur]² is a troublesome neighbourhood to us, creating always disputes and Quarrells³ little advantageous to y^e King nor will itt Ever be more; which could we obtain and y^e Town off Trivitore [Tiruvottiyūr], on y^e other side off us, itt would make us Easy and encrease y^e riches off the King's Country.

And Whereas the Goods we import are generally carryed to ye Capitall Citys off Golconda [Gulkhendah] Vizapore [Bijāpūr] &c. which trade we should much increase, iff there was no Custom paid upon them between this place and those Citys, and that y^e Mettas [mittas]⁴ about us, which off late years have been encreased, were lay'd aside, which only find Emplay for some little people, who destroy trade by their vexation and Extortion, and in y^e main very much Lessen the Kings revenue.

And we humbly desire that you would gett itt inserted in a Phirmaund [farmān], that whenever we are so unfortunate as to loose any Ship in any part off his Majestys dominions, That we shall have the liberty to preserve what we can off y^e wreck, without any molestation from y^e Government, which is nott only a practice throughout y^e world, butt y^e Inhabitants are Generally commanded to assist therein. For itt is a great hardship, That After the Great risque that people have run off their lives, They shall nott be att liberty to save what they can off their Estates.

We must own with great thankfulness that this Justice has been granted us by former Perwannas [parwānas] from Caun Behauder [Khān Bahādur] and y^e present Nabob; butt as itt has been formerly disputed itt may again, which nothing butt y^e King's Gracious Grant can prevent.

We extremely want the Kings blessing and favour to give a new life to our trade; for since your Excellency went hence this place has lost near 3 Leek [lakhs] Pagodas by misfortunes, and most by pirates; So that itt is become poor

¹ See note¹ on page 285.

² O'ose to St. Thomé the traditional scene of the martyrdom of St. Thomas on the 21st December, C3 A.D. 'Mayilapur still gives a title to the Roman Catholic Bishop of the diocese.'

³ Daud Khān's domgs at St. Thomé in 1701 and 1702, and his blockade of Madras, can be read at large in J. Talboys Wheeler's Madras in the Olden Time (Madras, 1861), Vol. I, pp. 338 to 406.

⁴ A mitta is a subdivision of a district, a revenue estate.

and nothing Can contribute to y^e retrieving our Losses, butt Gods blessing. The Kings favour and your Excellencys continuance in assisting.

Here are Ships that in few days will depart for Pogu, when shall write y^e King what you advised in your fformer Letter that an Embassadour was coming to him.

Cann Behauder [Khān Bahādur] always show'd himself a friend to our nation, whose favours we cannot butt retain with great thankfulness, so have wrote him a Letter which comes herewith, and a Copy off itt in your Excellencys, so leave itt to your pleasure whether itt shall be delivered to him.

If please God we are so fortunate as to be bless'd with y^e Kings favour, so as to obtain his Royall Phirmaund [farmān] We humbly Entreat Your Excellency to appoint an able person to see itt so fully penn'd as that itt may nott Admitt off any dispute from y^e Nabobs and Governours where y^e same is to be Executed. Our Dependance is entirely Upen Your Excellencys friendship for which we shall be always full off our acknowledgements and heartily wish Your Excellency and all your family health and prosperity.

August 1708.

THOMAS PITT.

7. A LIST OF VILLAGES

Madras Towns		Fort St. Davids Towns.
Egmore ¹	{ Granted by Cann Bucksh [Kān Bakhsh], Asid-Chān [Asad Khān] and Cann Be- hander [Khān Bahādur]	Cuddalore ²	{ Granted by Rama Ranz [Rama Raja]
Peraiyavāh ²		Carpatteeaccarcoopam ¹⁰
Tandore ³		Cuddecalcoopam ¹¹
		Trepopilore ¹²
Trivitore ⁴	{ Granted by Dondemau [Dād Khān]	Suralpūt ¹³
Satangadoo ⁵		Mangeerooopam ¹⁴
Cattewaka ⁶		Bilwarynaltam ¹⁵
Yassalwaudo ⁷		Chumundalum ¹⁶
Loungambau ⁸		Ganganaccopam ¹⁷
		Witchmere ¹⁸
		Upalwaddee ¹⁹

These 5 Last villages have been reassumed by y^e present Nabob.

1. Krambūr, the seven hamlets, a well-known residential quarter of Madras.
2. Parashavakkam, the village of parashu trees, now commonly spelt 'Parsewalkum.' It lies north of Egmore.
3. Tandaiyārpettai, the township of Tāndava rāyan. This quarter is on the beach, about a mile and a half north of Fort St. George.
4. Tiruvottiyūr. See note on page 268 above.
5. Shāttangadu, the wood of the god Shāttan, lies about 2½ miles inland and 4 miles NW. of Black town.
6. Kattivakkam, the village of the dam, close to Ennore at the mouth of the Kortaliyar river, north of Madras.
7. Vyasharppādivudu, the village of Vyashan, now commonly spelt 'Veysarpandy', lies north of Perambore.
8. Nungum bakkam, the village of Nungama, a Telegu nūyak of older days. It is now one of the principal European quarters of Madras.
9. Kādālūr, the town at the junction of the Paravannur R. and the Guddilam R., Cuddalore.
10. Perhaps Karagaravittakkuppam in the third ward of the Cuddalore Municipality.
11. Kudikkādūkuppam, the village of the forest-dwellers by the sea. Kudikkadu is 2½ miles SSW. of Cuddalore and 1 mile W. from the sea, and is in the third ward of the municipality.
12. Tiruppāpuliūr, the holy place of the trumpet flower and the tiger, 3 miles W. of Cuddalore and 3 miles from the sea. This is now the new town part of Cuddalore where the Collector's house is situated. It gives its name to the third division comprising the fourth and fifth wards of the municipality.
13. Sorakalpett in the sixth ward of the municipality.
14. Munjakkuppam, the saffron village by the sea, 3 miles N. of Cuddalore and 2 miles W. from the sea. It gives its name to the fifth division or seventh ward of the municipality.
15. Vilvāryanattam in the seventh or Manjakkuppam ward.
16. Chemmandalam in the same ward. The Lutheran Church is in this quarter.
17. Ganganakkuppam is said not to be within the municipal limits.
18. Perbats Uchmedu, the high ground, 3 miles N.-W. of Fort St. David on the other side of the Panar R.
19. Upalanadi in the seventh ward of the municipality.

8. BOMBAY INSTRUCTIONS.

His Imperiall and most Illustrious Majesty &c^a. Titles is humbly desired to grant ye H. Company off Merchants off England these following Articles off priviledges for their free and peaceable Settlement and trade in his Dominions under his Royall Phirmaund [farmān].

1. "That the English Company, Their Cheif and Council and All other servants As well English as natives off this Country, that shall reside either att Suratt or any other place off their settlements in his Majestys dominions, and all others trading under their permission to be free in Every respect to come into and Go out off the City and places where they shall settle, where, when and in Such state as they shall think convenient without hinderance and molestation; and that the officers be forbidden to use that indecent practice off searching nott used among oth^r nations.

2. "That the H. Company have free liberty to Settle factorys Either att Suratt, Amadavad [Ahmadābād], Cambay, Broach, Brodera [Barodah]¹, Agra, Synda [Sindi]² or any other place or port in his Majestys dominions: and to have free liberty to trade in them, to import, Export, carry up or bring down the Country, buy and sell without hinderance or molestation.

3. "Twas granted by his Majestys Royall Ancestors Sha-Jehaun [Shah Jahān] and Aurungzeb [Aurangzēb] off blessed memory to y^e Hon^{ble} Company; That they pay no Rhodarage [rahdāri] &c^a Dutys, butt only 2 per Cent Custom on the real cost and sales off their Goods, Merchandize and treasure, the account to be adjusted and paid once a year in Surratt and nott Elsewhere; and the Goods they had once paid Custom for, to pay no more, & in case off any robbery on their Goods The Gov^t or Phowsdars [faujdārs] in whose Jurisdiction y^e robbery is committed be obliged to make satisfaction for ye Loss, which grants desire may be confirm'd.

4. "By a Grant from y^e Emperour Sha-Jehaun [Shah Jahān] off blessed memory to the H. Company; they paid Rupees 2 and $\frac{2}{3}$ and no more custom or duty upon, or for Each Chest or Bale off Indico from their purchase att Agra, or those places where itt is made to their Exportation; which priviledge desire may be confirm'd.

¹ The form 'Barodrā' or 'Warodrā' is still employed: see Imperial Gazetteer of India, Vol. II, Mr. Irvine tells me that it appears on the title-page of a Gujarati book published there in 1899.

² A port on the Indus, near Tattla.

5. "That his Majesty will be pleased to grant. That what Rupees coin'd att Bombay, being off y^e same fineness and weight as those off Suratt may be currant in his Majestys dominions.

6. "When Goods landed att the Kings Custom-house, they be permitted as they fformely were, and y^e Dutch now are, to be immediately carryed into y^e Companys Warehouse, near and over against y^e Custom House. The Keys thereof to be kept by his Majestys Officers, iff they please till y^e Goods are cleared, and that y^e Company may keep their own Servants or Booges¹ to carry their own Goods from y^e boates into y^e said Warehouses, the same in y^e Exportation for y^e Greater Care and Security off them, and that their affairs have as quick a dispatch as possible on request; and that no Goods or Curiosity be taken away by y^e Kings officers, who have liberty as other Merchants to buy what they please in y^e Companys Factory.

7. "All persons who are and shall be indebted to y^e Company or their Servants or those trading under your licence, whether for Goods sold, money lent, or otherwise in trade, If they will nott adjust and satisfy y^e same amicably that The Governour shall immediately compell and oblige them thereto.

8. "That the Company be att liberty to make choice off, Employ, and hire what Brokers or other servants natives off y^e Country they please, they being willing to serve them, without any Molestation and impediment from y^e Government.

9. "Horses brought to Suratt to be free off the Governours mark, and such as the Cheif shall find fitting for his Majestys Service he will send up immediately to his Majesty The others to remain for y^e Companys use as they think fitt.

10. "His Majestys house the Companys people now live in and have from their first Settlement above 120 Years to this time by a grant from his Majestys Royall ancestors paying Rupees five hundred Twenty seven and Twenty six pice Annually which being very old and Decaying. insomuch that the repairs thereof costing his Majesty as much sometimes more than the rent we pay. His Majesty is humbly petitioned to bestow the same as a gift with what belonging to itt on y^e Hon^{ble} Company that they may build a new house upon itt for their Cheif and Councill and others to live in Memory off his Majesty.

¹ Possibly intended for bejhia, a porter, from bejh, a load.

11. "To have liberty to build such convenient Warehouses as y^e Company's buisness shall require, and y^e Bricklayers, Masons, Carpenters, Joiners & other Handy Craft men they hire or Employ be nott molested or taken away by any off the Officers in y^e Government.

12. "The Ground att Swally [Suwālī] granted the Honble Company by his Majestys Ancestors for building upon itt such necessary Conveniences to keep their stores for shipping, and goods nott for sale, and those that have paid his Majestys Custom to be lodged there ready for shipping them off as has been always usuall being nearer y^e road and their ships than Suratt is to them; which ground being lost by y^e Sea gaining upon itt His Majesty is desired to grant y^e Company another peice off Ground there, About 20 Vingaes [bigahs] for y^e Afforesaid purpose and the same liberty they flormerly had there.

13. "The Peice off Ground granted y^e Company for a Garden, which being taken away for the Kings Use by the then Governour off Suratt to build y^e City wall upon, His Majesty is desired to grant them in Liew off that, another peice off Ground down and by y^e river side About 20 Vingaes [bigahs] for a Garden & Bunder [bandar] for laying Up Ships, Vessells & stores in y^e time off Monsoon.

14. "All provisions off Meats, Wines, Grain, Tobaceo for y^e use off the Companys Shipping & Factorys; and all sorts off necessarys off Apparell, wrought plate, and other things for Service & nott for sale; to be free off Custom and other Dutys as have Always been Accustomary; and that their boates and Vessells may goe & come from your Bunder [bandar] without hinderance.

15. "Should any difference or accident happen between his Majestys Subjects & the English, No officers off y^e City or place shall Assault or Affront the English; butt the said difference or accident shall be examin'd and determined by y^e Gov^t and y^e Cheif and iff the English be in flault to be punished by y^e Cheif, and iff his Majestys Subjects, by y^e Governour: Butt what difference shall happen between y^e English and their own Servants whether English or natives; That the Governour shall nott interfer butt to be decided by y^e Cheif.

16. "Should any English desert the Companys Service whether from your Settlements or Ships; and run up y^e Country or otherways Upon the Cheifs application to y^e Governour off the place, that they be delivered up.

17. "That the Emperour command all his Governours and Ministers whatever, inviolably to keep, and perform y^e full purport off the Phirmaund [farmān] granted by his Illustrious Majesty.

APPENDIX.

CSL

3. BENGAL INSTRUCTIONS.

Instructions For Mr. J^{ne} Surman Chief Sec^{ry} Council In y^e Negotiation att the Imperiall Court off King Furruckseer [Farrukhsiyar].

Fort William

May 13th 1714.

Gentlemen,

We have dispatched hence under Convoy off 300 Soldiers commanded by Captain Henry Dalibar and the Officers under him, who are Ensign George Borlace, Ensign John Brown, Sarjeant Peter Dent, Sarjeant Nicholas Row, and Sarjeant Theophilus Gammon, Sundry boates for Patna, laden with Goods and raritys appropriated for presents; Also goods proper for sale &c^t consigned to you for account and risque off the Hon^{ble} united company off Merchants off England trading to the East Indies; upon y^e arrivall whereof att Patna you are to consider well when and what way you may proceed with most safety, and when you Judge you may with safety, proceed without delay, taking all those Goods with you to y^e Mogulls Court, and loosing as little time as conveniently possible in your way.

We have appointed Mr. William Hamilton an Able Surgeon to attend and take care off you in case off sickness or any unsuspected accident. We have also appointed a Trumpeter and Six Soldiers in decent Habits to attend and waite on Mr. Surman. The rest off the soldiers and all the Officers are to return to us from Patna.

You will observe we have made two Invoices off the Goods One off which No. 1 is off Goods and raritys appropriated for the present amounting to Rupees One hundred and two thousand four hundred Seventy two, Eleven Anaes and four pice. The other N^o 2 is off Goods &c^t-proper for Sale amounting to Rupees One hundred and Eight thousand two hundred forty Eight, Eleven anaes and three pice, Off which itt is probable you will find itt necessary to add part to the presents and we give you authority to doe so as your discretion shall guide you. If part off what is appropriated for presents prove improper for that Service, dispose off that as well as you can, and out off the other parcell putt what you shall Judge fitt instead off itt.

We send a large quantity off wine and other liquors with you. Att C. Seerhaad's [Sarhād's] instigation, who affirm itt will be y^e most Acceptable off anything to many off the Chief Officer att Court; on whose favour the Good or ill success off your buisness depends So much off itt as shall be necessary for your table att Court and in your way thither is designed for that service. The rest to be presented to the best advantage you can for y^e carrying on off your Affairs. Tis Charged in Invoice No. 2 Tis scarce needfull to tell you none off itt is designed for Expençe att Patna Factory.

You will find a third Invoice Amounting to Rupees Twenty nine thousand, nine hundred fifty Eight, four Anaes; for Cloths and necessaries &c^t for service, which will be worn out or Expended. This you must bring to y^e Credit off Account Current Culcutta, As well as the rest, Charging Durbar [darbār] Royall with itt as you Expend itt.

For Managers in this Negotiation we have appointed and Doe appoint M^r John Surman Cheif & treasurer, Cojah Seerhaud [Sarhād] Second & head Vakile [vakil], Mr. Edward Stephenson third in Councill, Accomptant and Warehouse keeper; M^r Hugh Barker Secretary who also may be appointed to keep y^e Accounts off Daily petty Expenses.

In case off M^r Surmans Death (which God avert) we doe appoint that M^r Stephenson succeed to be Cheif, C. Seerhaud [Sarhād] to continue Second, and M^r Barker to succeed Third in Councill. For we design an Englishman to be always Cheif in this negotiation and that C. Seerhaud [Sarhād] continue to be Second and head Vakile [vakil].

In your way to the Camp Royall, and when arrived there, You are to keep a Generall Diary off all transactions and accidents relating to the Hon^{ble} Companys Affairs or any way influencing them. This may well be in your Consultation Book. We also Expect from each off you & from M^r Barker Likewise, That you keep particular Diarys off such transactions Accidents and observations off all kinds, whether they relate to our Affairs or no, As Either off you may judge worth notice.

You are to keep up severall Books besides your Consultation Book and Generall Diary—Those most necessary are 1st a Cash Book 2^d A Waste Book in which to be noted every thing delivered out off or received into y^e Warehouse, immediately att the time when any thing is delivered out or received in, Either for sale or presents, Also for what service, and to whom any thing is delivered. From this you may once a week att Leisure times fframe your Warehouse Books, which must be duely kept up, that you may see att all times what you have remaining in y^e Warehouse. You must also keep Generall Books Journall and Leidger into which all your Accountts whatsoever will be brought. There must also be a book particularly for your daily Expenses, The Amount whereoff we would have brought to account weekly in Your Generall Books.

The Consultation Book ought and we Expect itt be kept fair and regular; and that you send us Copys off your Consultations and Diarys Express every month, Also Copy off y^e Cash Account; off these, also off your Generall Letters, (in which be full and Clear in giving us an account off the Affair in hand and what prospect you have off coming to a happy Conclusion) send Duplicates by Succeeding Expresses; for some may miscarry, and iff you can find means to write us by y^e Dawk Chowkey [dāk chaukī] miss no opportunity.

Be carefull nott to have any useless contentions among your selves, such as may seem like animositys. For Such, iff any be, will be observed vastly to the Hon^{ble} Companys prejudice: and occasion long delays, and greater Expence in Every Durbar [darbār]; and possibly hazzard the overthrow off our Affairs; and All off you (butt y^e Aggressor Especially) will entirely forfeit y^e Companys favour, and y^e good opinion we have off your conduct and Capacity.

Be Frugall as decently possible in all manner off Expenses. For the Charge will be too great tho' managed with the Utmost frugality. Therefore all manner off unnecessary Expenses are to be avoided.

When any Grant is obtained gett att least a dozen Copys attested by y^e Cozzee [qāzī] off which send one to Bombay and one to Fort St^e George. The Originall and other Copys you are to send to us by sundry conveyances.

Iff you receive orders or directions from His Excellency the Generall and Councill off Bombay Or from the Hon^{ble} President and Councill att Fort St^e George, relating to any priviledges or new grants Either or both may desire for their Governments; or to y^e confirming or Enlarging any priviledge they doe enjoy or have formerly Enjoy'd Conform and Comply as near as possible with y^e orders you shall receive from them.

Immediately upon your arrivall att y^e Camp Royall and when you are in y^e way iff you find itt may be, send expresses to Bombay and to Fort St^e George, acquainting y^e Gentlemen att both places that we have ordered you to be very Exact in your Compliance with all such orders as you shall receive from them, relating to y^e confirming or Enlarging their priviledges, or for y^e Obtaining any new Grants or priviledges which they may desire: and send them Copys off that part off those instructions which relate to their Jurisdiction—

C. Seerhaud is perfectly acquainted with y^e manner off addresses to y^e King and his Cheif Ministers, his Experience has been well proved. We therefore depend on your prudence joined to his Experience in that matter, which we judge is better than lame endeavour to give particular instructions would be concerning ceremonys which we are nott so well acquainted with as he is and you all may soon be.

We doe nott suppose any off you enclined to Employ Durgamull [Durgamal] the late Vakile [vakil] att Patna, he has been ffalse to us Already, Therefore iff any person recommends him as a fitt man for your Service, have no regard to such recommendation; for we will nott have him Employ'd in y^e Companys Affairs upon any pretence whatsoever.

We order that Mr. Barker Your Secretary sitt att y^e Councill Table with you when you are in consultation, and that he take minutes off what passes, Also that he attest C. Seerhauds [Sarhād's] Assent or dissent to any vote Agreed on For because C. Seerhaud [Sarhād] cannot read English he will nott sign your Consultations.

You are to resolve in consultation after mature deliberation how to proceed in Your Affairs, and Your proceedings must be agreeable with your resolutions in consultation—nevertheless

Some particular cases may happen nott foreseen when you sett in Councill, and require to be dispatched before you can meett. If sometimes such a case happens, when C. Seerhaud [Sarhād] is from you att y^e Durbar, and iff time and money can be saved by y^e Quick dispatch off an Affair off Consequence, which iff delay'd might happen to miscarry; We say in Such Cases and in Such alone, you may Allow off his acting before a resolution in Consultation: Butt he must give you an Account off itt att your next meeting and you must note itt in your consultation as transacted by him alone.

If anything that we may accidentally fforgett to give you particular directions about in these instructions shall occur to Either off you (or be hinted to you by any other person) which may prove beneficiall to y^e Companys Affairs, and be obtained without more cost than the benefitt will amount to; Make use off your opportunitys to gett the Grant, nott waiting in such Cases for ffresh orders from us. For delays are dangerous, and lost opportunitys are nott Easyly retrieved.

You are nott on any Account whatsoever to take the Goods off Merchants under your protection from Patna to y^e Mogulls Court. We prohibitt this, fearing pretences may be made, that you have Goods under your protection, which doe nott belong to you; and Upon that account you be Stop'd long and made pay severely att Some places as others have already been serv'd.

We send with you 47 bales off Bengall peice Goods for sale, the produce whereoff is design'd for part off what you shall want in ready money to carry on your business. Keep a particular & Exact Account off the Carriage and all Charges on them and send us that Account because by agreement we are to pay here what they shall produce clear off all Charges. We accepted off this proposall because itt saves the Exchange off so much and does not encrease the Companys Risq. A particular Invoice off these Goods is N^o. 4 The Merchants we have them from allow you to draw 5 per Cent. commission on their produce, whereoff 2 per Cent for M^r Surman 2 per Cent for C. Seerhaud [Sarhad], and 1 per Cent for M^r Stephenson. 5,000 rupees Hoss^t. We send you in y^e hands off M^r Stephenson, out off which he is allowed to disburse, what shall be necessary on y^e way, which he is to account for with you, and pay y^e rest into y^e Companys Cash in M^r Surmans hands for your service As you proceed from Patna.

Before you can be able to depart from Patna, we shall send you Letters off Credit to furnish you with what money shall be needfull for carrying on your negotiation att the Kings Durbars [darbārs].

The following list is off Original papers relating to our ancient privileges in Bengall, which we send you in C. Seerhands [Sarhad's] hands, he affirming itt will be necessary they be shown att Court, to prove we had grants off those privileges, which can be done no otherways, because Old Assid Caun [Asad Khān] (in a passion when his son Zulphacor Caun [Zū-l-fiqār Khān] was Slain), burnt all y^e records off the kingdom, which he had y^e keeping off att that time. Be carefull none off those papers are Lost, and bring all back to us when itt pleases God you return, which God grant you may in good time with Safety and Success.

Delivered Coja Seerhaud [Sarhad]—Viz^t

- 2 Phirmaunds [farmāns] off Aurungzebe [Aurangzēb] 1 Granted 1630 y^e other 1691.
- Mahumud Azzeems Nishaun [Muhammad A'zam's nishān] 1673
- Sultan Sogas [Shuja'] Nishaun [nishān] - - 1655
- Ibrahim Caun [Ibrāhīm Khān] and Kiffort Cauns [Kifāyat Khān] Perwanna [parwāna] 1650
- Izzut Cauns ['Izzat Khān] perwanna [parwāna] - - 1698
- Mazeem Cauns [Mu'azzam Khān's] do 1661
- Doud Cauns [Dūd Khān] do 1663
- Mahumud Azzeems Nishaun [Muhammad 'Agīm's nishān] 1693
- Backcutt Cauns perwanna [Haqiqat Khān's parwāna] 1665
- Copy off Aurungzebes phirmaund [Aurangzēb's farmān]
- Two off Shuastah Cauns perwannas [Shuistah Khān's parwānas] 1-1664/h & 1-1680
- Copys off Sha Jehauns [Shāh Jahān's] two phirmaunds [farmāns] 1-1638 & 1-1649
- Mirza Mogais [Mirā Ma'jiz] perwanna [parwāna] 1679
- Two off Izzut Cauns perwannas ['Izzat Khān's parwānas] one 1697 y^e other 1695.
- Seerkulund Cauns [Sarbuland Khān] perwanna [parwāna] 1709
- Caun Jehaun Behauders Sunned [Khān Jahān Bahādūr's sunnad] 1711/2

1 Zū-l-fiqār Khān was killed by Farrukhsiyar's order on February 1, 1712

APPENDIX.

CSL

Calculation of what Servants wages to attend Mr Surman &c Englishmen may amount to monthly; in which we doe nott pretend to be perfectly Exact, for itt must in a great measure be left to your diserection, because tis nott possible we can know Every thing that will be absolutely necessary for you, and we may as well over as under Calculate y^e Charge. This therefore is nott to be taken as a stated allowance butt a guess off what the Charge may amount to. Where you find we have reckon'd upon more servants than will be needfull, or on greater wages for them than you must off necessity give, you are to correct y^e mistakes off this, and iff we have reckon'd upon a few less off any kind than you find absolutely necessary to keep, you are nott limited by this, butt may add so many as you find you cannot decently be without.

		r	p.
Kismutgars [khidmatgārs]	6	att	7 42
Chubdars [chobdārs]	2	- -	2 16
Cosbuidars [khasbārdārs]	12
Dollotts [dhalatts] ¹	18
Buxerys [bakshārs]	16
Frosts [farrāsh]	3
Suckas [sagqahs] ²	2	87 att	8 608
Cooks	2
Flag-Carriers	2
Cohars [kahārs]	24
Camel-keepers	10
Mussalehys [mash'alchis]	5
Horsekeepers	14
Holoree [halāl-khor]	1	22 att	7 154
Barber	1
Washerman	1
Under Vakiles [vakils]	2		200
Banians	2		80
Tajudy [Tāju-d-din] ³	Our Aukoones [ākhūnd's] Sen, sent hence to be a Persian writer. He speaks and writes English
James Gaywood - Watchmaker			20
Trumpeter			30
Six English Soldiers in Decent habits			10
paid in Culcutta.			60

¹ Dhawal, an armed guard.

² A water-carrier, vulgarly known as a bishitfi.

³ Mr. Irvine suggests that Tāju-d-din may be identified with Tāju-d-din, the son of Shihābud-din, Talish, author of the Fathiyah-i-Ibrāhīyah, on the campaign of Mir Jumla in Assam, whose son I'isāmud-din went to Europe in 1765 with Captain Archibald Swinton and wrote his travels under the title of Shigurfānānah-i-wilāyāt. But the father of our Tāju-d-din was named Fazl Mubammad. See English in Bengal, I, 300.

APPENDIX.

CSL

The stated Allowance for C. Seerhaud [Sarhāṭ].

		r.
Horse keepers & Grass-cutters	4	@	7	28
Cohars [kahārs]	12
Chubdars [chobdārs]	2
Kismutgars [khiḍmaigārs]	6		42	att 8 936
Peons	20
Cooks	2
Mussalchys [mash'alchis]	2		7	14
Frosts [farrāsh]	2		8	16
				394 - -
Allowance for his Dyett				260
d° for Horsekeeping				90
d° Camell d°				120
				460 - -
				Rs. 854 - -

Thus far in Generall, we come in y^e Second place to direct what we desire may be granted us in a new phirmaund [farmān].

Our first request is in Generall terms, That his Majesty will please to confirm in his Royall Phirmaund [farmān] all the Grants and priviledges heretofore Enjoy'd by our Nation, att all places in his dominions, where we now have or fformely had Settlements, Especially those granted us in the days off his Royall ancestor Aurungzobe [Aurangzēh], and since, this Generall request is already Granted us in Effect, In y^e Husbul Hoozum [hasbu-l-hukm] Last received under y^e Grand Viziers seal, which takes off y^e difficulty once apprehended off getting y^e same ffavour in a New Phirmaund [farmān].

Tho' this request be generall and includes all places under y^e Government off Bombay and Fort St George as well as this Presidency, itt must be repeated and requested for Each particularly.

FIRST FOR BENGALL.

That you may know what to ask for, Tis necessary you be well inform'd what our priviledges are and on what terms we enjoy them.

Instead off Custom we pay a yearly peeshcash [peshkash] off three thousand Sicca Rupees into the Kings treasury att Hugly, and we pay no Other Custom or duty on any Goods or merchandize which we import or Export, Nor on treasure Coined for us att y^e Kings mint which was att Rajamoll [Rājmaḥal] butt is now removed to Muxadavad [Maqsūdābād].

Our Goods or treasure which we send to our settlements or any off the Aurungs [aurangs] inland, pass on our Own Dustick [dastak] without Examination and back to us in y^e same manner.

Our Merchants Factors or Agents whom we employ att the Aurungs [Aurangis] or Elsewhere are nott to be molested or called to account by small officers upon frivolous pretences, whilst they continue in our Service and are Employed for us.

If our Factors or Merchants Endeavour to defraud us the remedy is in our Own hands, we take them up and use such meanes as are proper and necessary to make them pay what they justly owe us.

Convenient places and parcells off Ground were granted us to build and settle Factorys on, Att, or near Severall inland places off Note As Hugly, Cossimbuzar, Patna, Dacca, Maulda, Rajamoll [Rajmahal], Ballasore, Radnagur &c^e which we still keep possession off & may settle ffactorys again att, After the King is pleased to confirm all to us in his Royall Phirmaund [farmān].

We hold and Enjoy three towns Namely,--De [dih] Culcutta, Sootaloota [Sūtānūtī], & Govindpore [Govindpur], paying y^e same yearly rent for them into the Kings treasury, which the Jemidars [zamindārs] paid before they were granted to the English Company. The Grant was made att Bordwan (anno 1698) in a Nishaun [nishān] from Sultan Mahumud Azzeem [Muhammad 'Aẓimu-sh-Shān], ffather off his present Majesty King Furruckseer [Farrukhsiyar] whom God preserve, What we desire more for Bengall is That we may have y^e use off the Kings mint Custom ffree att Muxodavad [Maqsūdābād] and Dacca as we had itt att Rajamoll [Rajmahal], & the same ffree use off y^e mint att Patna Also iff itt may be obtaind. We also desire our bounds round us att this place may be enlarged. The additions we desire will amount to Eight thousand Sicca Rupees Yearly rent and something more, which added to near thirteen hundred Sicca Rupees which we pay yearly rent for the three towns, will make About Nine thousand ffour hundred Sicca Rupees per Annum: which we desire we may be appointed to pay in one Summ Yearly into the Kings treasury att some certain place, and that we may nott be called upon for itt before y^e Day off payment by any Suba Duan [dūcān-i-sūbah] or Collector off revenues whatsoever.

That you may perfectly understand what additions we desire may be made to our present bounds, and be well understood when you petition for them we herewith send you a list off the towns we now possess and off those we desire may be added to us, with y^e rent paid y^e for same by y^e Jemidars [zamindārs] into y^e Kings treasury, and we have hopes they will be granted to us, because we shall be punctuall in paying our rent on y^e Day, and att the place appointed, which Jemidars [zamindārs] are nott Always.

APPENDIX.

CSL

Itt would be a good Advantage to the Companys Affairs if the King may be prevailed with to order that Rupees Coined att Madrass may pass in payments off his revenues in Bengall. Endenvour att getting such an order, which we hope may be granted, because Madrass Rupees have y^e Kings Stamp as well as Bengall Rupees and are full as valueable. For they are off Equall weight and fineness with them and will always be made so.

SECONDLY FOR BOMBAY.

That y^e King will be pleased to confirm all y^e Grants and priviledges enjoy'd by y^e English nation att Suratt.

The Generall and Councill att Bombay sent a particular account hither (some time in Sha Allums [Shah 'Ālam's] reign) off what grants and priviledges they then desired might be obtained for them; which is the best directions we can give concerning their Affairs. We therefore send you a Copy off itt without altering one word.

Their fifth head is that the King will please to grant that Rupees Coined att Bombay, being off the same weight and fineness as those off Suratt, may be Currant in his Majestys dominions. (We judge itt might be well to add) and that they may pass in payments off his Majestys revenues att Suratt.

If his Majesty will be pleased in Liew off Custom to accept off a moderate yearly peeshcash [peeshkash] att Suratt (Rupees three thousand is the least summ to be proposed and five thousand the highest we can give you authority to propose for that yearly peeshcash [peeshkash]) and order that the English may land or ship off their Goods without being any way molested or called to Account by y^e Custom house officers or Any others, itt would be a noble grant and worth y^e Expençe off some money. We would have you attempt y^e getting itt, butt iff you find the high officers averse to granting itt, doe nott persist in your endeavours to obtain itt, For 'tis probable some off them will become enemys and oppose every thing we desire, iff we persist obstinately in desiring what they resolve shall nott be granted us.

If the English Company may nott be allowed to trade Custom free att Suratt, Itt may be necessary to gett two phirmaunds [farmāns]; One for Suratt where Custom is paid; The other for y^e presidenys off Madrass and Bengall where we pay no Custom. But this we leave to your own consideration. Doe as you judge will be best for us.

THIRDLY FOR FORT ST GEORGE.

In a Letter for you from y^e Hon^{ble} President and Council att Fort St George, which came to our hands y^e 9th Currant att night and we send you with this, you have so full and Clear instructions about their Affairs, that we doe nott see much can be added to any purpose on that head. We enjoin you to be very sollicitous in your endeavour to obtain Every thing they desire All which seems very reasonable and we have hopes may be obtained without much difficulty or trouble.

The following list is off papers received from Fort St George which we believe may be off Good use and therefore send them to you with this.

- No. 2. Copy off what wrote by Ship President to Bengall under y^e 23rd October 1711 accompanying y^e Severall papers then sent down.
- No. 3. Packett directed to M^r Ju^s Surman &c^t Gent^s intended to accompany the Hon^{ble} Companys present to y^e Mogull.
- " 5. Copy off a Letter wrote by Gov. Pitt to Zeaudy Caun [Ziaū-d-dīn Khān] August 1708.
- " 6. Copy off Olympanas [Ālam-panāh]¹ Phirmaund [farmān] and Cowl [qawl] to Sir W^m Langorn February 23rd 1676.
- " 7. Copy off a perwana [parwana] from Nabob Assid Caun [Asad Khān] to Governour Yale.
- " 8. Copy off a Dustick [dastak] from d^o March 18th 1694.
- " 9. Copy off Prince Caun Bucksh [Kām Baksh] Nishaun [nishān] to Governour Yale.
- " 10. Copy off the King off Goleondahs General Phirmaund [farmān] to the English nation Dec^r 19th 1674.
- " 11. Copy off Yecknam Cauns [Ikram Khān's] Cowl [qawl] to St W^m Langorn February 23rd --1674.
- " 12. Copy off a Cowl [qawl] given by Moosa Caun [Mūsa Khān] to St W^m Langorn--Aprill 13th--1672.
- " 13. Copy off a Cowl [qawl] given by Serango Royello [S^ri Ranga Rāya] to Agent Ivie--November 16th--1643.
- " 14. Copy off a Letter wrote by Governour Pitt to Zeaudy Caun [Ziaū-d-dīn Khān]--January--1708/9.

Wishing you Good Success in this negotiation We committ you to y^e protection off the Almighty God and remain.

Your Loving Friends

R. HEDGES

A. ADDAMS

S. PEAKS

J. WILLIAMSON

E. PAGE

S. BROWNE

J. DEAN

H. FRANKLAND

¹ ["World:protection," i.e., the ruler of a country, probably meant (from the date, 1676) or the then King of Gulkhandar, see ante p. 257. W. L.]

10. LIST OF CALCUTTA VILLAGES

Calcutta Ground and Towns.

On the opposite Shore	Towns	Pargunnas
	Salika ¹	... Borou	... 61 11 -
		Paican	... 216 - 3
				277 1 3
	Haurah ²	... Borou	... 237 5 4
		Paican	... 145 13 - 5
				383 2 9
	Kasundeah ³	... Borou	... 129 14 4
		Paican	... 8 7 -
				138 5 4
	Ramkisananah ⁴	... Borou	... 89 8 5
	pore ⁴	Paican	... 80 11 -
				169 14 8
	Batter ⁵	... Borou	... 351 13 -
		Paican	... 229 1 9
				580 14 9
On the Calcutta Side	Daknyppauk ⁶	Amceravad	...	143 2
	Belgassiah ⁷	... Calcutta	... 304 5 9
		Paican	... 13 10 -
				313 - 9
	Daknydand ⁸	Calcutta	... 37 8 9
		Paican	... 12 - 3
		Amceravad	... 376 - -
				425 9 -
	Hogulkund ⁹	... Paican	...	137 11 3
	Ultadang ¹⁰	... Calcutta	... 194 1 6
		Paican	... 120 12 9
				314 14
	Simlah ¹¹	... Manpore	...	81 15 6
	Macond ¹²	... do.	...	113 12 8
	Comerparr ¹³	Calcutta	...	63 10
	Cansergassiah ¹⁴	Paican	... 37 7 -
		Nodiah	... 170 15 8
				208 6 8
				Transported ...	3384

¹ Salikha.

² Haurah.

³ Kasundtyah.

⁴ Ramkrishnapur.

⁵ Bator.

⁶ Dakshini Pakpade.

⁷ Belgachhi.

⁸ Dakshinidandi.

⁹ Hogulkundia.

¹⁰ Ultadanga.

¹¹ Simla.

¹² Makonda.

¹³ Kamarpada.

¹⁴ Rankurgachi.

APPENDIX.

CSL

Towns	Pergunnas	Brought forward ...	3664 8 8
Bogmarey ¹	... Culcutta	49 7 8
Arcooley ²	... Manpore	22 11 9
Mirzapore ³	... Culcutta	57 15 9
	... Paican	115 13
		173 13 6
Scaldo ⁴	... Culcutta	118 9 10
Cooliah ⁵	... Culcutta	127 6 8
	... Paican	445 3 9
		572 10
Tangurah ⁶	... Culcutta	62 11 6
	... Paican	166 1 9
		228 13 3
Sundah ⁷	... Culcutta	62 - 4
	... Paican	583 8 11
		645 9 3
Bad-sundah ⁸	Culcutta	40 8 -
Shahparra ⁹	... Do.	41 6 6
Doland ¹⁰	... Culcutta	111 6 8
	... Paican	195 1 -
		306 7 3
Bergsy ¹¹	... Culcutta	23 6 2
	... Paican	213 10 1
	... Nodiah	1 14 -
	... Ameeraavad	45 15 2
		283 13
Siltala ¹²	... Culcutta	31 11 -
	... Paican	175 3 5
		206 14 5
Topsiah ¹³	... Culcutta	78 8 -
	... Paican	21 9
		29 0 9
Sagastoy ¹⁴	... Culcutta	2 1 3 -
Chobogah ¹⁵	... do.	14 -
Cherangey ¹⁶	... Culcutta	14 13 5
	... Paican	74 14 -
		89 11
Colimba ¹⁷	... Culcutta	270 3 3
	... Paican	113 4 10
		383 1
		Transported ...	7071 - 7

- ¹ Bāgmāri.
- ² Ārkūli.
- ³ Mirāpur.
- ⁴ Sīkhdāba.
- ⁵ Kulā.
- ⁶ Tangrā.
- ⁷ Sondā.
- ⁸ Bad Sundā; Bad or baba outside
- ⁹ Sekhpads.

- ¹⁰ Dalandā.
- ¹¹ Birji.
- ¹² Taltala.
- ¹³ Tapsā.
- ¹⁴ Sāpgāchhi.
- ¹⁵ Chobogah.
- ¹⁶ Chaurangi.
- ¹⁷ Kalinga.

APPENDIX.

CSL

the Calcutta
Sida

Towns

Pergunnas

Brought forward ... 7071 - 7

Goberah ¹	...	Paican	...	100	1	6
Baddeekney- dand ²	...	Paican	...	125	8	4
Sillampore ³	...	Calcutta	...	11	7	3
	...	Paican	...	95	3	7
	...	Amceravad	...	20	8	- 1 2 10

Jola Colimba ⁴	...	Calcutta	...	114	3	8
Geredalparra ⁵	...	Calcutta	...	31	9	2
	...	Paican	...	70	4	4

Hintalec ⁶	...	Calcutta	...	81	9	10
	...	Paican	...	167	8	8

Chitpore ⁷	...	Amceravad	...	229	2	6
				252	8	- *

0 0

8121 2 11

We have already	Sootaloota ⁸	...	Amceravad	...	501	15	3
	De Calcutta ⁹	...	do.	...	468	9	6
	Govindpore ¹⁰	...	Paican	...	210	9	-
		...	Calcutta	...	100	5	- 310 14 - 1281 6 9

Rs. 9402 15

NOTE--Govindpore - Paican - the rent butt	...	...	123	15	9
Yearly Mistake	...	...	...	86	9 3

210 9 -

This is what ground we desire about Calcutta may be granted to us in A New Phirmaund [farmān]

R. Hedges

A. Addams

S. Feake

J. Williamson

E. Page

S. Brown

J. Deane

H. Frankland

¹ Gobra

² Bad Dakshini Dandi

³ S'rirampur

⁴ Jola Kalinga

⁵ Gondalpsda

⁶ Itali

⁷ Chitpur

⁸ Sütānūtī

⁹ Dīhi Kalikatā

¹⁰ Govindpur

II.

THE PURPORT OFF SIR WILLIAM NORRIS'S EMBASSY TO ALLUMGEER.¹

The Earnest Petition off Sir Nicholas Waite Generall off India and Council for y^e new Companys Affairs with Rustum-Baek Vakile²

ARTICLES IN THE PETITION.

REMARKS FROM Y^e
DYANNY.³

That Sir William Norris sent by, and having brought a Letter and present from y^e King off England, After his admittance to y^e presence, A Letter and Cunger [khanjar] gone to y^e King off England, and the new Company that came with him According to his Majestys order had marked out places both in y^e City and Country We hope that we may obtain a phirmaund [farmān] for Bengall, Suratt and Metchlipatam [Masulipatam] with other places hereafter mentioned, receiving no molestation. We will on such conditions pay 100,000 Rs. into y^e Suratt Treasury Farther—That we Servants being newly come hither from our Own Country, are unacquainted with what Favours have been conferrd on Europeans; Wherefore we hope iff there is any thing omitted in our petition itt may be specify'd in Our phirmaund [farmān]. That y^e Mutsuddys [mutasaddis] may act accordingly.

2. William King off England has Established In Suratt & Bengall from a new Company, whose people are Sent into y^e time off Jchaungeer, Sha-Suroti, Bengall, Metchlipatam [Masulipatam] and Jehaun [Jahāngir, Shāh Jahan] oither Subaships We hope his Majesty will order and all present The English y^e New Company (id est their Merchants) may Dutch & French have had settle Factorys both in Citys and ports all over the settlements, Butt y^e Account Kingdom, & that their Gomastoes [gumāstāhs] off them is nott here. That, for goe & Come to buy & sell goods without any y^e Europeans in Madrass, they obtained a phirmaund [farmān] according to y^e sunnod [samād] off Ābool Hossen [Abū-l Hasan],⁴

3. When houses or ground for Factorys within They formerly obtained a and without y^e City are hired That the owners phirmaund [farmān] An Account

¹ Ālamgir.

² Rustam Beg walil.

³ Dyann.

⁴ The Quṭb Shāhi king of Golconda who came to the throne in 1672.

ARTICLES IN THE PETITION.

REMARKS FROM THE DUANNY.

may be forbid to raise their rent after any reparations or building thereon, & Lett them to other people, making any disputes.

off which is nott to be found. According to y^e earnest petition off the new Company Dainot Caun [Diyānat Khān] took care that they should nott be molested.

4. That 20 beagues [bigahs] off Ground may be given without y^e City for interment off the Dead.

They had formerly a phirmaund [farmān] on this Account Copy off which is nott to be found.

5. That Goods brought on y^e old English Companys and Dutch ships, was putt in a Godown apart, and the Keys lodged in y^e hands off the Custom-house Mutsuddys [mutasaddis] till y^e Custom was paid. We having now rented y^e houses off Mahumud Zad [Muhammad Zahid] and Others, In which places are sett apart for Godowns, hope that our Goods may be brought Hither, and the Keys remain in y^e Accustomary officers hands, by which y^e rent will be saved and the Goods Look'd After.

They formerly obtained a phirmaund [farmān] butt y^e Copy is nott to be found.

6. In Suratt The Ground that is without y^e City on y^e Banks off the River Tupty [Tapti], be longing to Abdell Suffa [Abdu's-sufā] Merchant butt formerly the Kings is now Empty City, which was taken away by We desire we may have itt for a Garden and to lay up our Ships Stores.

That in y^e 31st year y^e Old Company petitioned that they Dutch had made a Garden without y^e Empty City, which was taken away by y^e walling in off the City & on which 22000 rs. had been Expended. His Majesty ordered that Summ should be cutt out off y^e Customes. By which we judge they had a Garden.

7. In Swally on the banks off the river The Old English Company, Dutch and French Enjoy'd this formerly no account is to places to lay up their Ships necessarys. That be found. Butt that Dainot one part which formerly belonged to y^e Dutch Caun [Diyānat Khān²] had butt now Empty may be granted us.

That the French Ever enjoy'd this formerly no account is to be found. Butt that Dainot granted to y^e new Comp^y y^e same privileges that had been given to Other Europeans.

8. That the Cheif, Councill, and other Servants whether men or Women, may have free Egress the Old Companys petition

¹ The thirty-first year of 'Ālamgir, 1687-8.

² Mr. Irvine says that Mir Abdul Qadir Khawāf, Diyānat Khān, was made diwān of the Dakhin in the 34th year of 'Ālamgir, 1101-2 H., or 1690-1A.D. He succeeded his elder brother, Amānat Khān as governor of the port of Surat in the 43rd year of 'Ālamgir, 1110-11 H., or 1698-99 A.D. He died about 1126-27 H., or 1714-15A.D. See Mu'azzim-ul-Lughat, II, 59.

APPENDIX.

CSL

ARTICLES IN THE PETITION.

REMARKS FROM THE DUANNY.

and regress Either to ye Gardens, Swally [Suwālī]. The phirmaund [farmān] specior Even to their own Country, nott being molested fyd that they should nott be by ye officers, and that the Cheif &c^s may not molested, and in ye 33rd Year be Examined by ye Meabar¹ or Other Chowkeys According to ye former phir-[chaukīs], which is a great derogation to their maund [farmān].
honour.

9. Whatsoever Goods are brought from City The Custom that is taken or port to Suratt, and Cambaya² or whatever is from ye English Company is Bought in other Subaships, & loaded on Ships $\frac{3}{4}$ per cent. Whatsoever was for Europe or sold, That according to ye Accounts formerly Excused, was again off buying and selling from ye Factorys-Gomas- taken by ye laying on Jidgea toes [gumāshtahs] in Suratt Custom be calculated [jizyah].
at 2 per Cent After ye old Companys phirmaund [farmān] in ye 6th year, & Farther—that the buying in Baroche [Bharoch] and other places may nott be a second time Charged.

Delloley [dalālī] 1
Other charges 8
1 8

In ye 29th off Zilcaud [Zūl-qa'dah]³ in ye 46th Year A perwanna [parwāna] went to Ethar Cann [Tūbār Khān] that for ye Europeans & Armenians he take according to ye law 2 for 40 (5 per 100) iff he finds itt nott troublesome to be done. To which he answer'd that according to order he took itt from ye Armenians, butt for ye English he would referr itt till a proper opportunity.

10. The Cloth or other Goods that is brought There was formerly a Phirfrom Europe to Suratt and Cambaya, after the maund [farmān] given to ye officers have taken an account off itt, That itt Old English Company Copy off may be sent home to be sold, and in case there is which is nott to be found. In no sale, that with a Ruanna [rawanah] (an account ye 33rd Year After they had off ye Cnstom given) signed by an Officer, itt be been pardoned The Old Eng-carried to other Subaships, and That when ye lish Companys Phirmaund year is Expired Custom is taken butt in one place [farmān] is Enrolled, wherein after ye manner off the Old English and Dutch Custom is to be paid After ye Company and ye Ruanna [rawanah] given. And year is Expired.
iff we want to relade such Goods, That [there] be no molestation on Account off a Second Custom—

¹ The ma'bar, the ferry.

² Written Kanbaya² by the Muhammadans, but said originally to be Khanbavadi. The ancient port of Gujara^t.

³ Tuesday, 6th April, 1702.

APPENDIX.

CSL

ARTICLES IN THE PETITION.

REMARKS FROM Y^e
DUANNY.

11. Whatsoever Goods are bought in Agra and other places, and brought to Suratt or y^e Cambaya, having paid Custom, and are loaded on Board Ship, If the Ship is too deep and The Goods taken out and Laded on another, going away: That y^e Mutsuddys [mutasuddis] doe nott dispute about Custom or other Charges.

12. Whatever Ships arrive from Europe and other places and the Commodities are nott Adapted to this Country market, If said Ships are taken out att Swally, found- after which being again laden on those or any other ships, That y^e Droga [dārōghah] off Swally for taking out said Goods doe nott molest them on Account off Custom or any other Charges By reason this has been y^e Custom off the Old English French and Dutch Company.

13. Whatsoever Horses, Guns, Anchors, or Lead are brought from Europe, Persia, or Other places, The Kings Officers clap seals on y^e Horses necks, Whatsoever is fitt for the Govern. ment that they buy them fairly and pay y^e money without delay, and that what is nott fitt price, and that the money be for that service be nott hindered from being immediately paid, and for y^e disposed off in other places And for y^e buying rarities that they doe nott stand to pick, be disposed off any other way, butt take all with y^e owners consent.

14. Whatever Gold, Silver, or Copper is brought from England and other places, That y^e Company's Gomastoes [gumāstahs] stamp Siccas in y^e mint, The Mutsuddys [mutasuddis] taking nothing nor molesting them. In y^e 33rd year y^e old English Company petitioned That they could nott Credit y^e Bankers, on which they desired that their own people might make Siccas in y^e mint which was granted.

15. Whatever Cloth or other Merchandize is carried between any part off the Country Or port That y^e phowsdar [phajdār] off the road give safe conduct to y^e end off his jurisdiction. If there is any occasion for Carriage that they look out for itt & If any Goods are Stole, That he answer for itt. In y^e 33rd year a phirmaund Granted to y^e English is En-rolled- That whatever is Lost in this way That y^e phowsdar [phajdār] answer for itt. Itt is Granted that whatever is Granted to other people be allow'd them Likewise--Butt for y^e Carriage no Copy to be found.

APPENDIX.

CSL
267

ARTICLES IN THE PETITION.

REMARKS FROM YE
DUANNY.

16. Whatever provisions Clothes or plate Formerly in ye 33rd year Copper or Ornaments, belonging to ye people off according to ye petition off ye, the place or shipping, may be brought and carried Old Company itt was ordered away without any molestation from ye Meabar¹ That itt should be as Custom- or Customhouse Officers Account Custom, and mary—and for ye Account off That whatever packett goes to or Comes from papers ordered That Etmaad Europe be nott open'd. Cunn [I'tmād Khān] Consider itt.

17. That ye Mutsuddys [mutaḡaddis] off the In ye 33rd Year according to Port be ordered, In case any off ye Companys ye old English petition itt Servants run from their Factory or ships That was ordered That iff they have they be apprehended and delivered to ye Chief demands from any one, itt be That All contractors and Merchants Making any fulfill'd. In a phirmaund boggle in fulfilling their Agreement be punished [farmān] in ye 5th Year, ye and nott encouraged, and That what Ships goe to Dutch obtain'd That in freight- any port whether Persia Arabia & sea freighted ing Ships there be no hinder- with ye Persons or Goods off Merchants be nott anced. impeded.

18. That whomsoever the New Companys In ye 5th year ye phirmaund Consull shall appoint as Brokers, and putt him [farmān] granted ye Dutch in buisness That no one offer to hinder itt. If contains this affair. the Mutsuddys [mutaḡaddis] have any thing to say that they apply to ye Consul, and without his Consent nott to meddle in ye Companys or any off their people's buisness.

19. If any Quarrell should happen among ye Copy off a Phirmaund [far- Companys people, That ye Consull finish ye mān] off ye 12th year Sha- dispute according to ye Instructions off the King Jehaun [Shāh Jahān] under his Master, and That ye phowesdar [ṣaujdār] & Cozzy Mahumud Syuds [Qāzi Mutsuddys [mutaḡaddis] acquiesce in itt and Muḡammad Sayyad's] Seal Assist; That they only give Credit to ye Consul, has been examined in ye Books, and nott any other people who may turn informers. Itt is wrote that whenever the If in Contracts or buying and selling there Dutch quarrel among them- happens Any dispute with ye Inhabitants off the selves, that they themselves place, that ye Consull make an End, and whereso- take care off itt. ever The fault is that itt be punished, The Englishman being delivered up to ye Consul for that purpose and ye other to ye Governments Officers.

20. The King for the sake off his friendship to The above is humbly Offer'd ye King off India & for ye Good off the inhabit. Whatever is ordered.

¹ Maabar, the ferry.

ARTICLES IN THE PETITION.

REMARKS FROM THE
DUANNY.

ants off Both kingdoms has constituted a new Company, giving Sunnods [sunnads] to three presidents under The Great Seal—Vizt In Suratt Bangall and Metchlepatam [Masulipatam] (call'd Generall Consuls &c). If itt happens they are displaced and others appointed in their Roomes, The posts be nott quite laid aside on account off such alterations.

21. That the Generall and Consul hoist the Kings Flag on their Houses, and in their procession use pallankeen, Coach, Horse, Flags and Trumpetts, As Also their other Servants as occasion requires, and that no one besides the Chiefs offer to use Flags.

According to y^e Earnest petition off y^e new Company Dainot Caun [Diyānat Khān] settled that in their going abroad Flags & pallankeens signified nothing. That when he sees a warrantable Sunnod [sunnad] the Old Companys Flags shall be taken down.

A perwanna [parwāna] went to Dainot Caun [Diyānat Khān] in y^e 44th Year¹ That what related to y^e Trumpett Flags &c. be Executed.

22. If the Consul or Companys people have in their Accounts any demands upon their Servants, That they confine them untill they have made an End, and that no one Assist those on whom there is Such demands—

In y^e 6th Year² y^e Dutch obtained a phirmaund [farmān] which is enrolled Vizt That in their demands from their Servants, none from the Duanny [dawānī] meddle in itt.

23. In the 21st Year³ according to y^e Kings phirmaund [farmān], A Husbul Hocum [hasbū-i. in y^e Court, & for y^e above. hakm] under y^e Seal off Tajoomdatulmoolk mentioned; itt is contained in Modarelmahaum,⁴ & y^e Nishaun [nishān] off the y^e Nishaun [nishān] which they princes, The English obtain'd that all Custom is have gott. Excused, Suratt Excepted. If the English Gomas-toes [gumāshtaks] carry goods to any port in

¹ i. e. 1111-2 H. or 1700-1 A. D.

² i. e. 1085 H. or 1674-5 A. D.

³ i. e. 1088-9 H., or 1677-8 A. D.

⁴ These words must be Jamdatul-mulk, Madār-ul-maham, part of the emir's title, and the reference must be to him. They mean 'affirmed of the kingdom; pivot of difficult undertakings.'

ARTICLES IN THE PETITION.

REMARKS FROM Y^e
DUANNE.

Bengall or other Subships that nothing be demanded, by reason they may buy and sell with satisfaction. If their Goods are stolen, that care be taken to have them found, and the Thief punished, and that their Boates be nott molested account the Outbarrah, [khāt-barār] &c³ We hope that y^e New Company may obtain a phirmaund [farmān] according to y^e princes Nishau[n] [nishān].

24. The New English Company is Sperate According to y^e Earnest from the Old one. If they have any dealings with petition off y^e new Company them on y^e name off their being English that they Dainet Gaun [Diānat Khān] come to an understanding among themselves, and Settled—That y^e New Comp^y is Sperate from y^e Old—And That no one interfer in their dealings with one another.

25. That there may be a mint Settled near the In y^e Chucklah [chaklah] off Bangall Factory and Siccas Viz^t Gold Silver and Eckbarnagur [Akbarnagar] Copper Stamp'd there. In Rajamoll [Rājmaḥal] (called Rajamoll) [Rājmaḥal] there is a Mint, but whither we dare nott send our In Jehaūgeernagur [Jahāngir-nagar] (called Dacca) & in Saul-Gong [Sātgaon] (called Hugly Bunder) [Hugli bandar] there are mints settled, which being a Great distance from y^e Factory they for that reason offer y^e Above mentioned. What is ordered—

26. That itt be ordered for y^e new Companys The Kings phirmaund people to goe & Come att pleasure to Metchle- [farmān] in y^e 31st year¹. To patam, Bibelooty, Conara, Daroo-Jehaud, &c² y^e Dutch does nott contain y^e ports & Citys. According to the Kings phir- Abovementioned Butt a phir- maund [farmān] to y^e Dutch and y^e Sunnod maund [farmān] was obtained [sanad] off Abool-Hossen [Abū-l Ḥasan]² to y^e in Suratt y^e 31st year in which English. That y^e new Company obtain a phir- they are nott to be molested. maund [farmān].

27. Whatever Merchandize, provisions or On y^e back off y^e Kings apparell are brought from Europe, Metchlipatam phirmaund [farmān] in y^e 33rd [Masulipatam] or other places, iff they are sold Year and 22nd of Zilhedge

¹ I.e. 1698-9 H. or 1657-8 A. D.

² The Qutb Shāhī king of Golkonda who came to the throne in 1671.

APPENDIX.

REMARKS FROM THE DUANNY.

CSL

ARTICLES IN THE PETITION.

or sent to Europe; According to y^e phirmaund [Zū-l-hijjah]¹ was wrote—That [farmān] off y^e Dutch or Abool Hoosens [Abū-l what Merchandize provisions Hasan's] Sunnod [sanād] to y^e Old Company, That and apparell be brought for use y^e New Company obtain a phirmaund [farmān] be Excused Custom—likewise. That in Metchlepatam [Masulipatam] Hyderabad and other places they be nott molested account way Customes.

28. Whatever goods are brought from Metchlepatam [Masulipatam] to Hyderabad or are carried Dutch phirmaund [farmān] off thence 1 pagoda is y^e hire off an Ox. We hope y^e 33rd Year² Viz^l. that, According to y^e Dutch Custom, we may not 2 Oxen-hire 4, 2 the Owner pay itt to y^e Mutsuddy [mutasaddi], and for y^e pagodas { 2 the Govt. Washermen that wash y^e Companys Cloth That Butt as 5 were paid, 1 is they goe to any place where there is Sweet water Cutt out, & butt 4 paid According to y^e Custom off the Dutch without any according to their petition as molestation. formerly Ordered That y^e Dutch Satisfy y^e owners off y^e Oxen, & that y^e Mutsuddys [mutasaddis] doe nott melest them on that Account—

In the Town Dom In Metchlepatam [Masulipatam] were 40 Washermen houses. The rent off Each house being paid Yearly by the Dutch, Butt as there are att present butt 6 Houses that they be nott troubled, And that y^e Washermen going to Soory to wash in Sweet water, when there is none here, be nott Molested— Ordered that itt be granted.

29. In y^e 33rd Year² by y^e Kings phirmaund In y^e 33rd Year y^e Kings [farmān] Five Townes and places were given to phirmaund [farmān] was y^e Dutch for Coining. We hope that Maudoo. Granted to y^e Dutch—which is haulum &c 5 Towns As per particulars may be enrolled as per particulars— given y^e New Company and that they Coin there: Towns given 5 and that in those towns as y^e Dutch have Mints Whenever they coined Siccas in y^e Mint, 3 pagodas were

¹ Friday, 27th September, 1839.² No. 1100-1 H., or 1699-90 A, D.

ARTICLES IN THE PETITION.

Apart, We may have y^e same, in which to Coin our paid per 100 half off which Gold and Silver that comes from England and went to y^e King.

Other places—

Maudooabaulum	1
Muckemahuraudband	1
Pursanoor	1
	3	350
Dulluckpondy	1	- 120
Dawarnband	1	- 250 - 370
	2
		6 Towns 720

III.

THE DUTCH EMBASSY COMMENCING IN THE REIGN
OFF SHA-ALLUM AND ENDING IN THAT OFF
JEHAUN-DOR-SHA.²

Commadore Joseph Kettler The Dutch Vakile [vakil] made his humble petition, which upon Bibbee Julianas request to his Majesty was delivered into y^e Records Viz: That they hoped from his Majestys bounty, The articles hereafter mentioned besides their former Grants might be now inserted in a new phirmaund [farman,] which would prove an honour and Creditt to Said Commadore and all their Settlements.

THE PETITION

AN ACCOUNT FROM THE KINGS
Books

KINGS SIGNING

Concerning y^e Suratt Mut-suddys [mutasaddis].

1. Itt has been long Itt was Customary That what customary that att what Merchandize the Dutch brought time we bring Goods from their own Country and other

¹ Shāh Alam

² Jahangir Shāh. The embassy reached Lahor in the reign of Shāh 'Alam, but the business was not concluded until after Jahangir Shāh's accession. There is a detailed diary of their stay at court in Valentin's Out of Nieuw Ost-Indien, 4 vols., folio, Dordrecht, 1726, Vol. IV., pp. 282-307.

THE PETITION.

AN ACCOUNT FROM THE KINGS
BOOKS.

from our own Country the parts, The Duty to be paid in King's Duty was paid in Goods according to $3\frac{1}{2}$ per Cent. Goods. We now hope that In y^e present reign $2\frac{1}{2}$ is Settled upon our Exporting Goods It is Entered in their phirmaund from Indostan, the Custom [farmān] off the 6th year [January be paid After the Same ary 20, 1711-January 8, 1712] manner. Att y^e Season off That what Goods they buy att bringing Goods from Agra to Agra are by Agreement Settled att Suratt The Custom is with- $12\frac{3}{4}$ for 10, and att Amadabad out Expençe & way-charges, [Ahmadābād] $10\frac{1}{2}$ for 10 when which will be both to his brought to Suratt: for which Majestys and our advantage-- reason the Custom may be taken Addition-The Dutch vakile att Suratt as formerly: and that [vakil] humbly petitions, what Goods are bought in Suratt That upon what goods we Barrodrah¹ &c¹. The true Invoice know there is profit to be be required and Custom paid gott & are scarce both in Accordingly, Vizt By y^e Above-Suratt & Europe, Buying mentioned $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent is paid, att Agra & other places Wherefore y^e taking and Selling & paying y^e Carriage &c¹ goods in Suratt, seems to have Charges we carry them to neither Good nor bad Consequences. Wherefore the tak- quences. ing off Agra Goods in Suratt is without Expençe & off advantage to his Majesty.

2. That what provisions We find by former Custom, or apparell are brought Or That what victualls, Stocks off Carried away Either by Land provision, Apparell, Gold & Silver or water they be nott molest- vessells, & womens Ornaments ed account off Custom, came to the 3 Settlements on their Moreover that the Generall Ships were nott molested account sending 10 or 15 Horses for off Custom. That what horses his Gomastoes [gomashtahs], came for Sale, The Mutsuddys they be nott molested.

[mutasaddis] writing down their description, putt a Seal upon their Necks. If said horses are fit for his Majesty, they are bought with y^e Owners consent paying down y^e money. As for y^e remainder y^e Owner may sell them where he pleases.

¹ i.e. Barodah, still called locally Barodra.

THE PETITION.

AN ACCOUNT FROM THE KINGS
BOOKS.

KINGS SIGNING.

pany & does not appear, whom they have demands, from The Mutsuddys [mutasadd. Either off the 3 Factorys; That y^e dis] deliver him to the Cheif. Mutsuddys [mutasaddis] Seize and return them.

4. Whatsoever Gold, The Customon Siccas in y^e Mint Whatever is Silver, and Copper is carried was pardoned in y^e 19th Year¹ delivered in, that from Hugly to Muxadavad of Allumgeer [Ālamgīr]; there their Siccas be [Maqsūdābād]. Rajamoll being a Great advantage reaped first Coined. [Rājmaḥal], Patna, Dacca, from y^e Import off Gold and &c^s in y^e kingdom Account Silver. There was an order for y^e Dutch Company, That no restraint in Coinage. Butt y^e Droga [dārōghah] off y^e att what time plate was deliv- Mint be ordered to Coined in, the Mutsuddys their plate first; by default [mutasaddis] coin itt; all which off which y^e Ships loose was putt in Execution. The their Mussoon. Dutch Vakile [vakil] humbly petitions concerning y^e Above written.

5. Att the time off buying In y^e Account off Customes for Following the petre, Ophium, Cloth, Silk, Cloth, Silk & Ophium, 3½ per Cent Custom off Al- Sugar, Wax, Grain, &c^s, was formerly taken. According to lumgeer [*Ālam- Merchandize Whether wove a phirmaund [farman] off y^e 2nd gir.*] That Extor- or off any other kind; That Year 2½ per Cent was settled for tion & delay be 2½ per Cent being taken in y^e Dutch. not practised in Hugly, There be no ffar. In y^e 25th Year² the buying off their Cloth and ther delay given— petre. In Behar was prohibited— Silk.

Upon which y^e Dutch Vakile [vakil] wrote that y^e buying off petre was permitted.

They have gott a Copy under y^e Cozzys [qāzis] Seal off Murshid Cooly Cauns [Murshid Qulī Khān] Sunnod [sanad] Duan Saba [diwān-i-qābah] off Bengall Behar &c^s wrote y^e 13th Shabaun [Sha'bān] & y^e 5th Year.³ The tenour off a Sunnod [sanad] Under the Seal off Zeaudy Caun [Ziāu-d-Dīn Khān]. In Zileand [Zū-l-qā'dah] & y^e 2nd Year⁴ mentions "That Cloth, Silk, Petre, &c^s bought in Bengall

¹ i.e. 1075-6 A. D.

² i.e. 1681-2 A. D.

³ Thursday, 21st August, 1711.

⁴ January, 1709. (Jan. 2 to 31.)

APPENDIX.

THE PETITION.

AN ACCOUNT FROM THE KINGS
BOOKS.

KINGS SIGNING.

CSL

Behar & Orissa they bring to the port; & that y^e Hackims & Chowkedars [chaukidārs] do not molest their going backwards & forwards Account Carriage &c."

The Dutch upon Account of Extortion & delays now humbly petition.

6. The Companys boats Formerly 3½ per Cent Custom Custom Accord- laden with Merchandize & was Settled, In y^e 2^d Year 3½ per ing to the time their Gomastoes [gumāsh- Cent. Forbidden dutys, Such as off Allungeer tahs] to buy & Sell, pass Rawdarry [rahdār] are pardoned. [Alamgū]. forward & Backward in y^e Country, with y^e Captains Dustick [dastak] in Bengall. In the way the phowdars [phajdārs], Jaggeordars [ja- gīrdars], Jemidars [zamīn- dars], and Chowkedars [chaukidārs], att y^e time Our Goods pass Molest us, and take something att Each place We hope they may be ordered nott to molest us, nott offering to take y^e Minuteest thing off what is forbidden.

7. Itt is Settled by a Phir- What is Customary for y^e Dutch maund [farmān]-That we is, That y^e Oheif off y^e Factory putt what Delolls [dalāls] pitch upon what Deloll [dalāl] he we please into our buisness. pleases; and that besides him, no Att present they fforce them- other interfer in y^e buisness. selves on us, raising false For Justice on y^e Mutsuddy's Storys on y^e Companys [mutasaddi's] names in all places Vakiles [vakils] & Gomas- they petition as Abovewritten. toes [gumāsh-tahs], bringing them from all parts to y^e Subahs [subahdār's]. Ketcherry [kachahī], & plaguing them so long; till y^e Ships Mussoon is gone, & y^e Companys buisness Stopped. We hope there Granted.

THE PETITION.

AN ACCOUNT FROM THE KINGS BOOKS.

They now petition that what are for their own use may not be molested — Whatever is ordered? —

3. Within y^e City off We find by former Custom, that Suratt we hire a house butt y^e Dutch from their first arrivall being quite ruined, is neither In Suratt, hired a house with y^e a proper receptacle for our owners Consent & paid the rent Selves nor Merchandize, & accordingly. It is Entered in through the populousness their phirmaund [farmān] off y^e off the place, another Man-2nd Year That there was an order sion is not procurable; to build a house in the town Ohund. The Capt. &c? living in a — Ordered that for y^e Companys Garden without y^e City. buisness, buying & Selling as for-

We hope that a place within; merly; & for y^e Living off the or without y^e City, where Chief &c? Either in City, Garden, our Ships come up near y^e or near Gardens that they be not french Garden May be given molested.

for y^e keeping our Mer. In y^e mean time they humbly chandize and that according petition as abovementioned—to y^e manner off other Citi- Whatever is ordered?

zens we may make a house & Garden.

4. That what Dutchman We find by former Custom, running from them Lyes when any Servants, on whom they concealed & Does not have demands, run from their appear; That y^e Mutsud-Cheif; That y^e Mutsuddys [muta- dys [mutasaddis] seize him saddis] deliver them up. & deliver him to y^e Chief.

Granted.

Concerning y^e Mutsuddys
[mutasaddis] In Bengall
Behar & Orixa.

1. The Custom on Goods According to an order In Zil- bought att Patna In Behar saude [Zū-l-qa'dah] & y^e 51st is 2½ per Cent which is re- Year¹; The former Dutch petition, peated by y^e Hugly Mut- sent by Sha Amud [Shāh Ahmad] suddys [mutasaddis] on their was introduced to his Majesty. Arrivall there; contrary "That the phowdsars [phowdars] to the tenour off the phir- & all other Governours In Agra, maund [farmān]. We hope Patna, Rajamoll [Rājmaḥal], for an order on y^e Patna Muxadarad [Maḥsūdābād] &c? Mutsuddys not to molest on y^e banks on y^e Ganges to any Goods that are Carried Hugly be ordered for y^e future to Hugly Either by Land or nott to take double Custom from water.

¹ 'Alangir died on February 23, or 21, 1707, two days before the completion of Zū-l-qa'dah of the fifty-first year.

y^e Dutch, butt only 2½ per Cent In Hugly"—Wherefore a phirmaund [farmān] was Granted in y^e 2nd Year² Specifying to take 2½ per Cent Custom according to y^e manner off Suratt.

2. The towns Chintso-ray An Account off the rent & Write to y^e [Chinsurah] in y^e Pergunna particulars off the towns and Duan [diwān] off Adsa, Barnagur in y^e pergunnas in y^e Subaship off that he Act ac-pergunna off Culcutta, & Bengall are nott in y^e records. cording to Custom Mirzapoor in y^e pergunna They petition that itt may be and Send an acco^t off Bukshbunder have been according to y^e Government & hither long rented by us for y^e Custom off that Subaship.

Sake off Carpenters, Smiths, On the back off a Sunnod hiring boates, loading our [sanad] which they obtained in Ships, Mullahs [mullāhs] & Shabaun [Sha'bán], & y^e 5th Year² other workmen. Untill we under Murshed Cooly Cauns are in y^e Entire possession [Murshid Quli Khān] Seal, whose our Merchandize cannott Copy they produce Under the pass Currant. We hope that Cozzys [qāzi's] Seal, & In a y^e Mutsuddys [mutasaddis], Sunnod [sanad] under y^e Seal off taking y^e Stated rent, may Sherrufwoodeen [Sharfu-d-dīn] act according to fformer the princes Duan [diwān] itt is Custom.

wrote, "That y^e Towns, Chintso-ray [Chinsurah] in Adsa, Barnagur in Culcutta, & Mirzapoor in Bukshbunder [Bakhsī Bandar] have long since belonged to y^e Dutch for their Ships necessarys; All Carpenters Smiths & Workmen living in those places. That the rent off those places be paid according to the Stated Jumma [jama], and that nothing more be required; The houses numbered,³ nor phirmaush [farmāsh] made as fformerly."

3. That, what Dutchman We find from Suratt. That for y^e Granted. runs from y^e Dutch Com-Elopement off any Servants, on

¹ s.e. 1706-8 A. D.

² Further on, the day of the month is given, viz. the 18th Sha'ban, or the 21st August, 1711.

³ [A translation of Khanah-shumārī, a house-tax. W. L.]

THE PETITION.

AN ACCOUNT FROM THE KINGS
BOOKS.

KINGS SIGNING.

may be an order That All Hackins [hākin], where y^e Company's Gomastoes [gomāstahs] reside, weighing y^e matter, doe administer Justice.

8. Our Masters Servants It is Settled In Suratt: That the for a long time have lived in Dutch with y^e Owners Consent Nuroola Cauns [Nūrullah Khān's] house In Patna paying him 80 rupees per Month. hire a house to live in Continually; paying y^e rent accordingly, & nott turned out by y^e Owners. Att Nuroola Cauns They now petition upon y^e Above- [Nūrullah Khān's] death y^e house was Seized for y^e King, & y^e Mutsuddys written—What is ordered?

[mutasaddis] take y^e rent. From the Consommany [khāns- Granted at sometimes Speaking to us to amānī] books we find That Nuroolla 50 Rs. leave itt. We hope that the Cauns [Nūrullah Khān's] house house may be given us—If was Seized in y^e time off y^e this be nott granted—That Duan [dāwān] Amud Ali-Caun an order be given on y^e [Ahmad 'Alī Khān]. The Dutch present future Mutsuddys now rent itt att 50 rupees per [mutasaddis] nott to turn month. us out butt to take y^e 30 rupees.

Concerning Agra Mutsuddys [mutasaddis].

1. That itt may be insert. From y^e Manner off Suratt itt Granted ed in y^e Agra phirmaund is manifest, That, Upon y^e Elope. [farmān] That what ment off any one on whom they Dutchman runs from their have demands, The Mutsuddys Factory & lyes concealed [mutasaddis] send him to y^e Cheif The Mutsuddys [mutasaddis] Seize him and deliver him to the Cheif.

Concerning y^e Mutsuddys [mutasaddis] off Farkunda-booniawd or Hyderabad to be Entered in that phirmaund [farmān].

1. Itt is Settled according Formerly in y^e time off Allom. Granted. to a perwatna under Assid geer ['Ālamgir], There was a Hus.

¹ Farkhundah-būnyād, the auspicious foundation, an honorific appellation of Hyderabad.

APPENDIX.

THE PETITION.

AN ACCOUNT FROM THE KINGS
BOOKS.

KINGS SIGNING.

CSL

Cauns [Asad Khān] Seal, bal-Hocum. [hasbu-l-hukum] wrote in y^e 33rd Year wrote in Zilhedge [Zū-l-hijjah] [1689-1690] off Allumgeer and 33rd Year; for y^e Present and [‘Ālamgir] “That what debts future Mutsuddys [mutasaddis] are due from y^e weavers, off Hyderabad [Haidarābād]. Dyers and others, The “That according to the petition off Gomastoes [gumāstahs] be the Dutch Company’s Vakile assisted in getting their [vakīl] Mynhee. Commadore money. That what Dutch which was given to his Majesty; man withdraws and lyes The Mutsuddys [mutasaddis] assist concealed. The Mutsuddys their Masters Gomastoes [gumāsh- [mutasaddis] Seize and tahs] in a just reimbursement deliver him to y^e Cheif, from the Weavers Dyers & others, and That what Servants That iff their Countrymen or any shall be kept by them, be one disappear, The Mutsuddys nott hinder’d nor Afterwards [mutasaddis] seize and deliver in any manner plunder’d.” him to their Gomastoes [gumāsh- tahs], and That they neither prohibitt nor plunder Servants that are kept for their trade.” His Majesty consented to this petition.

Itt is settled accord- According to an Order off y^e ing to a Husbulhocum 18th Zilcaude [Zū-l-qadāh] and [hasbu-l-hukum] under Assid y^e 33rd Year of Allumgeer Cauns [Asad Khān’s] Seal, [‘Ālamgir]; Jigea [jizyah] was wrote in Zilhedge [Zū-l- pardoned y^e Dutch and their people hijjah] & y^e 33rd Year off in Hyderabad [Haidarābād]; Allumgeer [‘Ālamgir]. That Neither were the people numbered As Jigea [jizyah] was nott taken from Our Masters Servants In Hyderabad [Haidarābād] & Other places We have now by your favour hopes in y^e present Reign.

IV

LISTS OF PRESENTS

A List off what given the Dutch att their dispatch from Mouzzedeem [Mu'izzu-d-Din] (called Jehaun-Dor-Sha [Jahandar Shāh]).

To the Generall of Batavia--

Jewells - 1 pudduck [padak]
1 cunger [khanjar]

2

Otter ['itr] off Roses - 50 Tols

Cloth Kimcabs [kamkhab] - 40 ps.

White - 60 ps.

Shaul [shāl] all sorts - 64 ps.

164 ps.

To the Envoy--

Jewells - - 1 Toorah [torrah] in a Gold Sockett, sett with Stones.

1 Cunger [khanjar] Sett with Stones, & a pearl-String.

2

Horse 1 with Gold Furniture

A Vest

To the Second and third In Councill--

Vests - 2

Cungers [khanjar] - 2

A List off what given y^e Portuegueze Envoy By Farruckseer [Farrukhshaiyar]--
In y^e 3rd & 4th Year off his reign.¹

¹ According to Mr. Irvine the third year was from March 16, 1714, to March 5, 1715, N. S. and the fourth year, March 6, 1715, to February 22, 1716, N. S.

APPENDIX.

CSL

To the Envoy—

On his arrivall	- 1 Vest
	1 Horse
Att Sundry times	- 6,000 rupees in Cash
Extraordinary favour	- 1 Horse
Att his dispatch -	- 4 Scerpaws [sar-o-pās]—For padree Joseph &c ^a who accompanied him.

To the Viceroy off Goa—

Kimcabs [kamkhab]	- 40 ps.
Shauls	- 60 ps.
Otter [itr.]	- Tola 30

The Consomme [khānsāmān] petitioned his Majesty y^e 14th off Shabaun and y^e 31st Year [August 14, 1714]; That in y^e time off Sha-Allum [Shah Alam] padree Jn^o De—the Portuguese Embassadour brought Goods, and a petition, to give y^e King Joy off his Kingdom; and that y^e following particulars were given to His King and y^e Viceroy off Goa—What is now ordered ?
Vizt.

To the King off Portugal—

1 pudduck [padaḥ] —10,000 Rs. according to y^e king's price.

To the Viceroy off Goa—

1 Toorah [torah]	...	Gold, sett with precious Stones.
1 pudduck [padaḥ]	...	do. do.
Otter [itr.] off Roses	...	30 Tola.
Do. Sandall [sandāl]	...	9 do.
Vest

CSL

INDEX.

A

- Aavannes, Khvājah, appointed vakil at the Mogul Court to treat for a farmān, 268; note on, 258n.
- *Abdullah Khān (see also Wazīr, Sayyads and Qutb-i-mulk), viii, xvii; appointed Wazīr, xviii; power and authority of, xxv; friendly to the English, xxv; receives letter from Sarhād concerning the English present, 148.
- *Abdu-ṣ-ṣafā, 284.
- *Abdu-ṣ-samad Khān, xlii(2); note on, 97n; captures Gurū, 97.
- Abi Rām, 68; Divi Island in possession of, 119.
- Abnūs. See Aavannes.
- Abū-l-Hasan (see also Goleonda, King of), grants sanad for European settlements in Madras, 283, 289, 290; note on, 283n, 289n.
- Abū Muḥammad, 42n.
- Abūnagar, note on, 42n; embassy arrive at, 42.
- Abwāb-i-mamnu'ah*, 164, 166(2), 168, 169, 171, 176; note on, 166n, 171n.
- Achin, shipping goes to, 88.
- Addams, A., signs letter to the embassy, 279, 282.
- Adsa, 294(2).
- Afrasyāb Khān, note on, 59n; present for, 59n.
- Aftābah, 7; present for Farrukhsiyar, 46, 47; present for I'timād Khān, 69.
- Aftally, 28.
- Afzal Khān (see also Sadr-ṣ-sudūr), xviii; farmāns sent to, xlix; note on, 172n.
- Agala wood, present for Farrukhsiyar, 49.
- Āgānūr, note on, 37n; embassy arrive at, 37.
- Agharābād, 96n.
- Agra, 86, 41, 46, 205, 228, 267, 288, 292(4), 293; embassy arrive at, xxx, liii, 44, 224; Mrs. Woodville's body sent to, 78; Khān Jahān appointed Sābadār of, 193; infested by Mewāṭis, 199; infested by Jāṭs, 199, 216; embassy may be stopped at, 204; factory to be settled at, 267; Dutch at, 297.
- Ahmadābād, 167, 292; customs at, 82, 120; farmān for, 187, 190; factory to be settled at, 267.
- Ahmad 'Alī Khān, 297.
- Ajit Singh, Rājā of Jodhpur, xxii; attacked by Farrukhsiyar, xviii; his daughter married to Farrukhsiyar, xxxv, 78; preparations for the marriage, 76; brought to Court by Nāhar Khān, 162; note on, 162n.
- Ajmer, xxxii, 162n.
- Akbar, xvii; tomb of, xxi, 223n.
- Akbarābād, 205n.
- Akbarnagar (see also Rājmahal), 289.
- Akhund*, 275.
- Akram, seized for debt, 10.
- Akram Khān, 195, 202 (see also Ikrām khān).
- *Alam Chand-ki-Sarāe, embassy arrive at 229; note on, 229n.
- *Alamgarj, 21, 21n.
- *Alamgir, vi, 144, 179, 182, 186; purport of Sir William Norris's embassy to, 283-291; Sir Nicolas Waite's petition to, with the remarks of the āwāni thereon, 283-291; present to the King of England, 283; death of, 293n.
- *Alamgir rupees, 105.
- *Alam-panāh, 279; note on, 279n.
- Aleppo, 97.
- Alidad-ki-sarāe, embassy arrive at, 233.
- Alipur, 119; English wish to rent, 63.
- Allahabad, 23, 24, 36, 39, 205, 229, 233(4); embassy arrive at, liii, 80, 229; Sābadār of (see also Chhābilah Rām), meets the embassy, liii, 229, and entertains them, liii, 229(2); present to the Sābadār of, liii, 229; condition of the country round, 216.
- Allibān Sultan, 157.
- Alman, embassy arrive at, 231; note on, 231n.
- Aloff, John, money paid into the Company's cash, 97.
- Amānat Khān (see also Mubārīz Khān), 80, 284n.
- Amānat Rāe, 142; returns the petition to Bhog Chand, 120; fard sent to, 141; sends fards to I'tisām Khān, 142; payment to, 170.

INDEX.

CSL

Amar Sing, to settle differences with the carriers and Kahārs regarding demurrage, 32, 34, 35.
Ambalah. See Sardhana.
Ambergris, present for Farrukhsiyar, xxi, 46, 47; present for the Wazir, 48.
Ambikā, iv, 248; embassy arrive at, 249; note on, 249n.
Amboā. See Ambikā.
Amia Khān, brings Gurū to Delhi, 95n.
Amina-d-din Khān, 186; note on, 186n.
Amirābād, 118, 200(2), 281, 282(4); rent of, 87.
Amir-ul-umārā (see also Husain 'Alī Khān), 3, 29, 73, 205; note on, 30n, 205n; his good graces secured, 103; Wazir gives the embassy a recom-mendatory letter to, 217, 225.
Amjad Khān, appointed Sadr-u-s-sūdūr, xviii.
Anantrām-ki-sarāe, embassy arrive at, 43; note on, 43n.
Anchors, those required for the King's use to be properly purchased, 286.
Anne, Queen, news of her death reaches the embassy, xxx.
Anup Chaud, appointed assistant to Sarhad, 3; to visit Ghaurat Khān with a view to obtaining a safe conduct for the embassy, 3, 4; his appointment cancelled owing to infirmity, 17.
Anwaru-d-din Khān, 176.
Aqā Muqīm, 265.
Aracan, 262; shipping goes to, 92.
'Arif chela, ordered to Patna to accom-pany the embassy, 5; arrival at Patna with the King's orders, 6; delivers the King's orders to Mulla Nasir, 6; to deliver the King's letter to Ghaurat Khān, 9.
Arkali, 281.
Arslān Khān, introduces Khān Jahān to Court, 102n.
Armason, 256, 266n; factory dismantled, 266n.
Armenians, 16, 148, 151, 153; concessions obtained through, viii; Sarhad's connections with, xxii; embassy misdirected by, xxiv, xxxii; their ideas of Mogul Government, xxv; deceitfulness of, xlvii, li.
Arms, present for Farrukhsiyar, xiv.
Arrack, Sarhad's account for, and the embassy's criticisms thereon, 211, 214, 242.
Arwal, fort of Sidisht Nārāyan, 37; embassy arrive at, 37; note on, 37n.
'Arzdash, 30; from Governor Robert Hedges to the King, 204.
'Arzi, 195; for Bombay Mint, 122, 126; for the embassy's departure, 179; for the delivery of the farmāns, 181.

'Arz-i-mukarrar, Salabat Khān appointed to the office of, 107; note on, 107n.
Asad Khān (see also Muhammad Ibrā-him), iv, 63, 258(3), 259, 260; note on, 60n, 68n, 258n; grants hasb-i-hukm to the English, 60; towns granted by, 266; burns the records of the Kingdom, 274; parwana granted by, 279; dastak granted by, 279; grants parwana to the Dutch, 288; grants hasb-i-hukm to the Dutch, 298.
Asaf Khān, 44n.
Asghar Khān (see also Khān Zamān), 195, 202; note on, 4n; raimoured appointment as Governor of Patna, 4; King's orders to, 6; in possession of fort of Patna, 95.
Assam, 376n.
Attas (satin), present from Farrukhsiyar to Governor Hedges, 251.
Ātmā Rām, 187; pay of, 32.
Aurangabad, 21, 23, 261; note on, 21n, 243n; embassy arrive at, 248.
Aurang, 122, 127, 145, 276; note on, 65n; trade not to be interfered with, 65; factors, etc. not to be molested, 277.
Aurangzeb, Emperor, 165, 267; refuses to grant the English a farmān for trade, v, 60, 274(2); yields to the pressure of the English and grants their demands, xlviii; rebellion of the Ujjainis, 12n; his present of certain towns to the English, 62; Surat customs fixed by, 168; pri- vileges granted by, 276.
Aurangzeb, the, xiii.
Avakues, Khwajah. See Aavannes.
Ayyam-i-jahālat, 119n.
A'gam Shāh, nishāns granted by, 60; note on, 60n.
'Azim-u-sh-shān, vii, 149, 205n; note on, 60n, 165n; concessions to the English, viii; nishāns granted by, 60, 81, 86, 118(2), 123, 183, 277.
Azzimnagar, embassy arrive at, 44.
A'zzu-d-daulah Khān 'Alam, 192n.

B

Babū-ki-sarāe, note on, 39n; embassy arrive at, 39, 231.
Bad Dakhini Pandi. See Dakhini Pandi, Bad.
Bādlah, presents from Farrukhsiyar to the East India Company and to Governor Pitt, 240(2).
Bādli, 60n.

INDEX.

302
CSL
iii

Babragah, 236; note on, 236a.
Bad Sunda. See Sunda, Bad.
Baftaes, presents from Farrukhsiyar to the East India Company, 240.
Baghaula, embassy arrive at, 45; note on, 45a.
Bagmati, 281.
Bahadur Dil Khan, 80.
Bahadur Khan, 263, 264; note on, 263a, 264a; *parwana*s granted by, 265; friendly to the English, 266; letter from Governor Pitt, 265; towns granted by, 266.
Bahadur Shah, 149, 179, 182, 186; Dutch embassy to, xxxi, 46a; tomb of, xliii; interregnum between the death of, and accession of Farrukhsiyar, 119a; Surat customs fixed by, 168; ceremonies attending the presentation of a vest to Governor Pitt, 351.
Bahadurpur, embassy arrive at, 39.
Baidyanath, pilgrim route to, 38a.
Bairagi, complains to the Wazir that diamonds taken from him by Governor Pitt have not been paid for, 201; complains to Governor Hedges, 201; approaches Sarhad in the matter, 201; his complaint to be investigated, 205; taken by the Wazir's yasawalas to the embassy, 206.
Bakwar, embassy arrive at, 43, 226; note on, 42a, 226a.
Bakshi, 29, 206; visit to, 15; office held by Khan Dauran, 206a.
Bakshi Bandar, 294(2).
Bakshis, 238; note on, 15n; engaged, 15; sent as a convoy, 35; wages of, 275.
Balasore, ground required at, 277.
Balchand, money paid into the Company's cash, 236.
Balkh, 196a.
Balleau (Sarhad's gumashlah), bill of exchange payable to, 130(2).
Bamnikhera, embassy arrive at, 45; note on, 46a.
Bandah, seizes Sirhind, xli; surrender of, xlii; execution of, xliii.
Bandizas, 7; note on, 107a; present for Taqarrub Khan, 48; present from the Wazir to the King, 107.
Banians, wages of, 275.
Bans (rockets), 102, 102a, 104, 104a.
Bans Bareli, 205; note on, 206a.
Barapulah, 206, 210, 218, 219, 221, 230; note on, 46a; embassy arrive at, lii, 46, 47.
Barbardari (carriage), granted by Farrukhsiyar, 188.
Barbets or Barbers, 8; note on, 3a.
Barber, wages of, 275.

Bareli, See Bans Bareli and Roe Bareli.
Barh, 245.
Barker, Hugh, xi, xx, 1a, 27, 114, 180, 148, 219, 220; his character and services, xiii, xliia; translates a letter to Mons. Martin, 4; palanquin for, 11; allowance for clothes, 20; signs letters to the President and Council at Fort William, 54, 78, 80, 94, 98, 101, 106, 117, 130, 188, 139, 147, 159, 161(2), 178, 184, 190, 204, 209(2), 227; signs letters to the President and Council at Fort St. George, 58, 66, 75, 134, 135; signs letter to the President and Council at Bombay, 183; to question Sarhad regarding the return of the farda, 121; his interview with Sarhad, 123; money paid into the Company's cash, 180; present from Farrukhsiyar, 181; called to a consultation to consider Sarhad's device for obtaining a grant for the embassy's expenses, 188; Thos. Philips signs consultations during the indisposition of, 199a; money required for the embassy's expenses, 224; sent by the embassy to wait upon Governor Hedges, 251; his expenses, 252, 253; appointed a member of the embassy, 271; to become third member of the embassy in the event of Surman's death, 271; to sit in Council, take minutes and attest Sarhad's assent or dissent, 279.
Barker, Richard, xiii.
Barnagar, xi; rented by the Dutch, 294(2).
Barodah, 292; note on, 267a; factory to be settled at, 267.
Bareli, embassy arrive at, 223; note on, 223a.
Barqandaz, engaged for the return journey, 199.
Batavia, 191; presents from Jahandar Shah to the general of, 290.
Bazar Madho Sinha. See Madho Hatiya.
Beard, John, iii.
Beetle box and plate, present to Farrukhsiyar, 48; present to the Wazir, 66.
Begam Sarae, embassy arrive at, 229; note on, 229a.
Behar, 39, 232; Mir Jumla appointed Governor of, xix; English request farmans for free trade, xxviii, xl, 92; granted, 162; customs at, 69, 118, 123, 168, 263; factory at, 167, 169; Dutch in, 294.
Beldars, 8.

INDEX.

CSL

Belgachhiya, 280.

Benares, 4, 12, 28, 37, 89; embassy arrive at, xxix, liv, 231; description of, xxix.

Bengal, English factories proposed, ii, 283; factories in, 167, 169; Sir Edward Littleton appointed President, iii; English forced to leave, iii; letters to the embassy, 1, 237, 249 (2), 251; letters from the embassy, 1-2, 46, 73, 77, 79, 90, 96, 99, 103, 106, 108, 114, 125, 132, 137, 138, 141, 143, 147, 160, 175, 178, 184 (2), 190, 202, 209 (2), 213, 224, 222, 224, 227, 228, 231, 232, 234, 235 (2), 236, 238, 244, 247, 248, 249, 250 (2); letter from Madras, 255, 258; farmān for trade, xxxviii, xl, 88, 92, 118, 135, 137, 143, 145, 160, 162, 176, 190, 276, 283; request for farmān at first ignored, 84; effect of the farmān, lvii; customs at, 59, 122, 126, 133, 263, 278; grant of towns in, 81, 84, 91, 93, 94; amount sanctioned by the President for customs at Surat, 89; pucca hassana rupees in, 105; troubles with Jafar Khān, 106; I'tisām Khān, Governor of, 109n; satisfaction of the embassy's wishes regarding, 117; mints of, 136; request for a mint to be settled near the factory, 269; affairs in, 263; instructions concerning the negotiations of the embassy to Farrukhsiyar, 270; privileges required by, 276; European settlements in, 283; sanad granted to the President to be permanent and not personal, 283; Dutch in, 293.

Bengal goods, sent to the embassy for sale on commission, 273-4; present for I'timād Khān, 68; present for I'tibār Khān, 70.

Benyon, B., signs letter to the embassy, 261.

Betor, 280.

Bhāgalpur, 4; embassy arrive at, 247.

Bhāmankera, 222n.

Bhāo Singh, money paid into the Company's cash, 178.

narōch, 285.

Bhog Chand, 43n, 124(2), 142(9), 180, 183, 240, 243; note on, 110n, 116n, 180n; embassy attempt to bribe, xvi; asks for copies of the petition, 110; petition delivered to, 110, 111, 118, 116, 120; declares that the petition requires consideration, 110; present and bribes for, 110(2), 116, 163; promises to help the embassy, 118, 114(2), and complete their business, 116; to prepare a farmān, 114; to use his influence with I'tisām Khān, 123; antagonistic to the embassy, 124.

Bhogpur, note on, 43n; embassy arrive at, 43, 226.

Bhog Sāgar, 43n.

Bhojpur, 12n.

Bhopat Rāe, bribed, 182.

Bibelooty, 289.

Bijāpur, 265; conquest of, 257.

Bikrām Sarāe, 1n; note on, 37n; embassy arrive at, 87.

Bilwarrynattam. See Vilwarranattam.

Bindrāban, 223.

Birji, 281.

Black cases, Sarhād's account for, with the embassy's criticisms thereon, 211, 214, 242.

Black Hole, lvii.

Blunderbus, present for Ghairat Khān; 18; present for Darbār Khān, 67; present for I'timād Khān, 68; present for Jawāhir Khān, 71.

Boats, embassy's expenditure on, 253.

Bombay, 116; early history of the English factory, iii; mint at, xl, 88, 90, 93, 119, 122, 126, 133, 137, 143, 145, 164, 166(2), 168(2), 170, 176, 263, 278(2); letters from the embassy, 89, 107, 182, 224; letters to the embassy, 97, 108, 227; trade of, 116; farmān for, 135, 276; Farrukhsiyar's present to the President at, 191; instructions from, regarding the negotiations of the embassy to Farrukhsiyar, 267; custom house at, 208; customs at, 269; copies of grants to be sent to, 272; embassy to conform with orders and requests from, 272.

Boone, Governor Charles, 132(3), 217, 220; arrival at Bombay, 97; letters from the embassy, 107, 182, 224.

Bordwan, 277.

Borlace, Ensign George, 270.

Boron, 280 (5); rent of, 87.

Bottles, rose otter to be put in handsome bottles, 7.

Brachmin, 63.

Bramin, 18.

Brandy, present for the Wazīr, 74.

Bribes, indispensable for furthering the petition, 112.

Broadcloth, 52, 55, 83, 149; sale of, 121, 123, 129; present for Sidāht Nārāyan, 12; present for Ghairat Khān, 18, 41; present for Darbār Khān, 66, 68; present for I'timād Khān, 68; present for I'tibār Khān, 69; present for Jawāhir Khān, 70; present for the muta'addis of the

INDEX.

CSL

- Khanadman*, 79; present for Na'im Khān, 86; present for qasī, 170; present for the Sabādār of Allāhabād, 229.
- Brocades, present for Farrukhsiyar, ix; present for Darbār Khān, 67; present for I'timād Khān, 68.
- Brodera. See Baroda.
- Brokers, 268, 287.
- Brown, Ensign John, 270.
- Brown, S., 253; letter to the embassy, 279, 282.
- Bū 'Alī Qalandar, tomb of, xxxiii.
- Buckley, E., 259.
- Budgerows, 177, 216; not sent to Patna as requested 236; sent from Calcutta to Patna, 237.
- Bullion, 7.
- Burhānpur, iv, xxxiii, 65, 260; note on, 65a; Dāūd Khān appointed Governor of, xix.
- Burkundass, dismissed for mutiny, 231.
- Burnell, John, payment to, for preparing a map of the world, xiv.
- Buttons, gold, the King's present to Dr. Hamilton, 76, 77.
- Buyātātī*, objects to the seal of Surman and to the number and size of wagons for the King's present, xxiii; list of carriages prepared for, 8; Surman sends sealed lists of carriages etc., to, 7; refuses to accept fards unless sealed by Sarhād, 8; agrees to the seals of Surman and Sarhād, 8; visited by Sarhād, 8; disputes regarding paying for carriages, 14; duties of, 17n; takes account of the carriages, 21; moneys paid to, 21; present for, 22; gives 2,000 siccas to Sarhād for kahār's pay, 33; his seal to be on the dastaks, 198 (2); Ziyāu-d-dīn Khān appointed to the office of, 198n.
- O
- Cadell, A., 42n.
- Calcutta, 180 (4), 281 (16), 282, 5), 294 (2); embassy desire to rent towns near, xxxviii (2), xl, 60, 94, 118, 122, 127, 133, 137, 138, 139, 144, 145, 163, 195, 202; certain towns refused, 193, 177; parwāna granted for towns at, 183; proposal that it be re-named Farrukhbandar, xxxviii, xixix, 80; change of name abandoned, 74; rent of, 87; English desire the grant of, 93; grant of ground at, 115, 138, 139, 277, 282; objection to grant of ground at, 100, 108; ground not granted at, 136, 138; sa'idār to deal with thieves at, 122, 123, 133; parwānas for, 207; Ja'far Khān disallows the grant of towns at, contrary to the King's orders, 232; mint at, 263; rented to the English, 277.
- Callimancoes, present for Darbār Khān, 67; present for I'timād Khān, 68; present for I'tibār Khān, 69; present for Jawāhir Khān, 71.
- Cambay (see also Gujarat), 167, 285 (2), 236; note on, 285n; customs at, 82, 130; factory to be settled at, 267.
- Camel-keepers, wages of, 275.
- Camal keeping, Sarhād's allowance for, 276.
- Camels, xxi, 7; purchase of, 14, 15, 21; purchased for the return journey, 199; Sarhād's account for, with the embassy's criticisms thereon, 211, 214; to be sold at Patna, 216; disposed of, 237, 238; casualties, 226, 228, 232; embassy's expenditure on, 252.
- Camoletts, present for Darbār Khān, 67; present for I'timād Khān, 68; present for I'tibār Khān, 70.
- Canary wine, present for the Wazīr, 74.
- Candlesticks, 7; present for Farrukhsiyar, xx.
- Canisters, amber, 51.
- Cannons, present by Farrukhsiyar, xx.
- Cannore, 220.
- Carboy, present for Darbār Khān, 68; note on, 63n.
- Carpattecarreercoopam. See Karagara-vittakkuppam.
- Carpenters, 8.
- Carpets, present for I'timād Khān, 69; allowance for, xiv; embassy's expenditure on, 252.
- Carriages, 7, 8, 15, 19; number required for the present, xxn, 13; required by the embassy, xxi, 5, 6; carrying private goods, 9, 13; scarcity of, 5; list prepared for the buyātātī, 6, 21; departure of embassy hindered by the want of, 9; arrival for loading, 9; account of, 9, 11; charges for private goods, 13; disputes re payment for, 14; to proceed, 14; those with the present to proceed alone, 22; goods damaged by rain, 22; attempted robbery of, 22; hired for the return journey, 199; rates and conditions of hire, 201.
- Carriers, 34; note on, 42n; troubles with, 23, 25, 27, 31; detained in prison, 24; their quarrel adjusted, 26; their grievances regarding

INDEX.

CSL

- demurrage, 32, 41; their demands complied with, 41; Amar Sing's scheme for settling differences with, 34, 35; turbans for, 35; paid an advance, 38; payment to, 42; demurrage granted to, 208.
- Cassimbazar. See Cassimbazar.
- Casualties, caused by the heat, 224.
- Cattoowaka. See Kattivakkam.
- Cemetery, ground required for, 284.
- Chafendish, 7.
- Chakla, present for Darbār Khān, 67; note on, 67n.
- Chand, Khān, 24.
- Chandragiri, 256n.
- Changams. See Juncans.
- Chandraghatta, embassy arrive at, xxx.
- Chārkhānah, note on, 67n; present for Darbār Khān, 67; present for Itimād Khān, 68.
- Charnock, Job, advocates policy of fortified settlements, iii; his burial place, lvi.
- Chaube-ki-sarai, note on, 42n; embassy arrive at, 42, 229.
- Chaudharis, sar-o-pāe for, 35.
- Chaukis, 260; their obstructions to trade by extorting customs, 263.
- Chaumuha, xxxi; embassy arrive at, 44; note on, 44n.
- Chaurangi, 281.
- Chola, 12, 28, 197(3), 223, 224, 238, 245; to accompany the embassy, xxii, 6; requested by the embassy for the return journey, 202.
- Chemmandalam, 266; note on, 266n.
- Chhabilah Rām (see also Allahabad, sūbadār of), xviii, 205, 229; note on, 205n; his reception of the embassy, 230; entertains the embassy, 230.
- Chhāth, embassy arrive at, 223; note on, 223n.
- Chicacole, 61, 119, 166, 264; note on, 61n, 264n.
- Chilanchi, 7; present for Farrukhsiyar, 46, 47; present for Itimād Khān, 69.
- Chilams, present for Itimād Khān, 69; present for Darbār Khān, 67; present for Ittibārī Khān, 70; present for Jawāhir Khān, 71.
- Child, Governor, 253.
- China, Sarhad submits to the King a list of rarities purchasable in, 214.
- China garden, present for the Wazir, 66.
- China ware, 52.
- Chinapatam (see also Madras), vi, 263; customs at, 165(2); mint at, 166, 167; factory at, 167; grant of villages, 266.
- Chin Qilich Khān (see also Nizamu-l-mulk), to conduct Mir Jumlah out of Delhi, 98.
- Chinsurah, rented by the Dutch, 294 (2).
- Chitpur, 282.
- Chittagong, 62.
- Chobagah, 281.
- Chobdārs, 153, 193; note on, 154n; presents to, 55; wages of, 275, 277.
- Chobdār sticks, 7.
- Chuckwars, 4.
- Chumundolam. See Chemmandalam.
- Churāman Jāt, 182n.
- Clerke, Mr., 132(2).
- Clare, Lord, lvii.
- Clocks, xxxiii, 51; present for Farrukhsiyar, xiv, xxii, 46, 47; sent back to Delhi, 66; zarbafts for, 71.
- Cloth, present for Farrukhsiyar, ix, xiv, xx; present for Sidsit Nārāyan, xxiii; duties on, at Surat, 64; present from Farrukhsiyar to Governor Hedges, 200; washermen not to be molested, 290; customs paid by the Dutch, 295; present from Jahāndār Shāh to the Dutch embassy, 299.
- Clothes, supplied to the soldiers, 18; supplied to the embassy, 271.
- Coach, permission to use, 238.
- Coffee pot, 7.
- Cogan, Andrew, 256n (2); arrives at Madras, 266n; called to account by the Court of Directors for founding Fort St. George, 253n.
- Cohars. See Kahars.
- Collett, Governor, 220; letter to, 225.
- Conara, 239.
- Conimeer. See Kunimedn.
- Consultations, references to, passim; to be sent regularly to Bengal, 272; sent to Fort William, 47, 52, 73, 78, 80, 94, 98, 106, 117, 130, 147, 161 (2), 177, 187, 196, 202, 216, 221, 245, 248; signed by Thos. Philips during the indisposition of Hugh Barker, 199n.
- Cook, Mr., takes letter to Calcutta, 194.
- Cooke, T., letter to the embassy, 261.
- Cooks, wages of, 275, 276.
- Coorpur. See Kunwarpur.
- Coral, lost by Khwajah Fārus at Bombay, and his complaint to the King regarding it, 196.
- Coromandel coast, xxxix, 15, 260; the want of a port on, xi; trade of, 91; shipping at, 92; farman for trade at, 144, 145, 225; privileges granted from time to time, 255-8.
- Cossages, present for Darbār Khān, 67; present for Ittibārī Khān, 68; present for Ittibārī Khān, 70.
- Cossid. See Qaid.

INDEX.

CSL
VI

Cossimbazar, 215, 220, 263; ground required at, 277.

Crabb, Arthur, xiii.

Crockery, present for Farrukhsiyar, xx.

Cudalore. See Kōdalūr.

Cuddalorepam. See Kudikkadukupam.

Cullases, 214; note on, 214n; present for I'tibār Khān, 70; present for Jawāhir Khān, 71.

Cunna, 247; Dutch boats stopped at, 247.

Cuperah, embassy wish to rent, 63.

Cutrahs, 119(2).

Customer, not to open private packages, 287.

Custom House, inspection of goods, 62.

Customs, 260, 265; lump sum paid annually at Hugli, 59, 118, 120, 163, 168, 263, 276; Sarhād expects an order for the receipt of, at Hugli, 156; ports free of, 62; payments at various places, 62; at Madras, 62, 85, 115, 122, 127, 278; at Surat, 64, 86, 87, 89, 92, 93, 94, 97, 116, 118, 120(2), 125, 127, 139, 135, 137, 144, 145, 163, 167, 168, 263-4, 278(2), 285; amount sanctioned by the President at Bengal for Surat, 89; at Ahmadabad, 82, 130; at Masulipatam, 88; at Behar, 118, 133, 168; at Orissa, 118, 168; at Calcutta, 120; paid by the Dutch, 120, 291-2, 293-4, 295, 296; at Bengal, 122, 126, 133, 278; abolished except at Surat, 168, 268; at Chināpatam, 165(2); none at Haidarabad, 165; extortions and delays of the Customer of Surat, 263-4; extorted by the chaukis, 263; at Bombay, 267, 269; payable on indigo, 267; custom house at Bombay, 268; petition regarding, 286-6; not to be levied a second time, 285; excused on merchandise, provisions and apparel brought for private use, 290; Dutch request that certain articles be customs free, 292.

Cutborrah, 163.

Cutlery, 52; present for Darbār Khān, 67; present for I'timād Khān, 68; present for I'tibār Khān, 70; present for Jawāhir Khān, 71.

D

Dacca (see also Jahāngirnagar), 263; mint at, 61, 229; ground required at, 277; Dutch money coined at, 295.

Dacoits, attack the camp, 44.

Dagger, present from Farrukhsiyar to E. Stephenson, 46n, 47.

Dāḡ, 220, 224.

Dāk chākī, 272.

Dakhini Rāe (see also Murfidhar Bhāo, Sen Dakhini Rāe), 213, 220; bribed, 217; peeshkār of Sarhād, 217; urged to hasten the delivery of Hedges' farmān, 218.

Dakshinidandi, 280.

Dakshinidandi, Bad, 282.

Dakshini Pāk-pādā, 280.

Dalāḡ, 285, 296.

Dalandā, 281.

Dallibār, Capt. Henry, 270.

Danes, 157.

Daniel, Padre, viii, 5, 30, 148; his relations and terms with Sarhād, xxii, 239; letters from, xxiv, 29; letter misleads the embassy, xxv; exaggerates the value of the present for Farrukhsiyar, xxvi, 29, 149; rebuked for the exaggeration, 31; deceitfulness of, xxvi, xlvii; the embassy's letter to, 4; letter to Sarhād, 5; requested not to give pre-eminence to Sarhād over Surman in all orders from Court, 8; to get an order from the King re seizure of debtors, 12; qā'id from, 21; to prevent more bills of exchange, 24; receives letter from Sarhād, 30; contents of letter declared false, 31; letter to Surman and Sarhād and the reply, 31; payments at Court queried, 31; promises money to mustasaddis, 53; swindles the Dutch, 143; his character and behaviour, lii, 148, 150; receives orders from Sarhād, 148, 151; his quarrel with Sarhād and accusations against him, 149; his expenditure and further demands, 150; pressed for an account of his expenditure, 150-1; his authority from Sarhād for expenditure of money, 151; Khwājah Fānis pleads on behalf of, 151; Sarhād's account of monies paid to, and the embassy's criticisms thereon, 211-214.

Darbār Khān, present for, 66-8; note on, 66n.

Dariyapur, embassy arrive at, 246; note on, 246n.

Dārōghah, customary to hire houses from, 31.

Daroo-Jehand, 289.

Dastaks, 4, 24, 25, 27, 85, 132, 127, 145, 170, 195, 198(2), 204, 213, 217, 218(2), 221, 222, 224, 236, 238, 245(2), 247, 248, 258, 276; note on, 206n; for carriages, 13; refused, 177; to be sealed by the buzbatāi, 198(2); signed by Ziyān-d-dīn

INDEX.

CSL

Khān, 200; requested by the embassy for the return journey, 202, 205; granted for the return journey, 206; granted by Asad Khān, 279.

Dastar-band, 107*n*.

Dastkhāt, 114.

Dastāri, 212.

Dāūd Khān, 260, 263; note on, 37*n*, 73*n*, 260*n*; appointed Governor of Burhanpur, xix; quarrel with Husain 'Alī Khān, xxxiii, 65; defeated and slain by Husain 'Alī Khān, xxxiv, 73, 75, 260*n*; villages at Fort St. David granted by, 260, 266; his doings at St. Thome, 265*n*; parwana granted by, 274.

Dāūdshāh, embassy arrive at, 37, 233; note on, 37*n*.

Daurān Khān (see also Samsam-d-daulah), xiii, xxv, 13, 29 (2), 30(2), 105 (5), 106, 108, 109, 112, 120, 135, 148, 152, 155 (2), 171, 179 (3), 180, 191, 193 (2), 194, 195, 197, 207, 210, 246; favourite of Farrukhsiyar, xvii, 47; early career, xvii; acts as deputy to Husain 'Alī Khān, xviii; induces Farrukhsiyar to grant the payment of travelling expenses of the embassy, xxii; letter from Mir Jumla, xxviii, 37*n*; weakness prejudicial to the embassy, xxv; his reputed power at Court, xxxii, 97, 126, 133; his character, 126; letter from, 21; letter to, 32; arranges for reception of the embassy, 45; receives the embassy, xxi, 46; introduces the embassy to Farrukhsiyar, xxi, 56; embassy to visit him, 47; to receive the first call from the embassy, 48; visited by the embassy, xxiii, 49, 50, 192, 206; embassy negotiate with, 30; negotiations for the embassy, xxiii, 53, 57; dilatoriness of, 79, 94, 97, 99 (2), 108, 113, 124, 136, 152, 183; reason of his dilatoriness, 109; asked by Salābat Khān to complete the embassy's business, 103, 149; promises to settle the embassy's business, 100, 101, 102, 104, 105, 107, 108, 125, 129, 191, 133; to be approached through Kirpā Rām, 125, 129, 154; Kirpā Rām's influence with, 129; presents for, 48, 58; refuses present, 72 (2); receives present, 72*n*; agree to get the petition signed by the King, xlv; promises to forward the petition, 76; petition sent to, 77; urged to present the petition, 77; presents petitions to Farrukhsiyar, xxxix, xl, 79, 136; petition returned by Farrukhsiyar, 79; denies knowledge of the second petition, 98, 100; asked to prevent the fards being transferred to Qutb-ul-mulk, 99 (3); agrees that petition be transferred to Qutb-ul-mulk as Wazīr, 98 (2), 100; reason why be transferred to Qutb-ul-mulk, 105; proposes to act conjointly with the Wazīr in the matter of the petition, 108; orders the petition to be sent to the diwān, 112; reminded about the petition, 114; on being pressed to complete the embassy's business, appoints umpires, 116; petition taken to, 116; petition examined, 117; will not commit himself, 124; confers with Sarhād and Salābat Khān regarding the petition, 131 (2); returns the petition signed by Farrukhsiyar, 136-7; interview with Sarhād and Salābat Khān regarding Surat house and Calcutta ground, 138; sends petition to the diwān, 152; It'isām Khān reports that the petition need not go to, 152; to be frightened into compliance with the embassy's requests, 154; temporary withdrawal from Surat would cause Haidar Quli Khān to write to him respecting concessions, 107; informed by Haidar Quli Khān of the projected withdrawal of the English from Surat, xlviii, 129, 132; yields to pressure from Surat and tries to satisfy the embassy, 129, 132; quarrel with Muhammad Amin Khān, xlv, 102, 104; his dignities and privileges reduced by the King, and then restored, xlv, 102; deprived of "the trumpet", 104; his failure to obtain farmāns, xlv; English continue to press their demands through the mediation of, xlvii; ignored by the embassy, xlviii; hasbu-l-hukm from, to Ghairat Khān, 3; hasbu-l-hukm from, sent to Sarbuland Khān, 233; cause of delay to the embassy, 5; Surman receives sar-o-pā from, 6; displeased with the embassy for writing to Ziyāu-d-dīn Khān and Mons. Martie, 30-31; list of the first present sent to, 45; assures the embassy of help, 47; rank of, 47*n*; his advice on all matters to be taken by the embassy, 50; money promised him by Padre Daniel, 53; disputes between the King, the Wazīr and, 54; calls Dr. Hamilton to the King's camp, 55; title of, 72*n*; recommends delivery of remainder of present to

INDEX.

CSL

Farrukhsiyar, 76, 77; presents to his servants, 83; his servants harass the embassy because they have not been bribed, 112; no further demands to be made by his people, 84; refuses the demands of the Turānis, 96; asked to hasten the negotiations, 95; not the proper person to receive petitions, 98n; forges letter from Husain Ahmad, 106; wakils of, 111; his influence in the diwān, 112; Salābat Khān's influence with, 112; his directions followed by Itisām Khān, 124; sends fruit to Surman, 126, 129; belief of the embassy in the powers of, 126; embassy complain to him, 128; informed of the proposed departure of the embassy, 129; attempted murder of, 130; his treatment of the Persian ambassador, 134; promises further concessions, 138; letter from Sarhād concerning the English present to Farrukhsiyar, 148; anxious to ingratiate himself with the King, 149; wants a lakh of rupees, 152; Sarhād's device to obtain a grant to reimburse the embassy for their expenses, 188(2); appointed Sābadār of Gujarat, 192; his offices, 206n; his presents to the embassy, 209; letters from Haidar Qulī Khān, 210; enquiry by, regarding Farrukhsiyar's presents for the embassy, 193; blamed for the meagreness of the King's presents to the embassy, 192; Salābat Khān urges him to secure a larger present for Surman, 192; Surman's presents not delivered, 198; embassy appeal to him for Dr. Hamilton's release, li, 197-8; unable to persuade the King to permit Dr. Hamilton to depart, 198; advises the embassy to approach the Wazir with a view to obtaining Dr. Hamilton's release, 198, 200, 203; embassy petition for permission to depart, 176, 177; urged to secure a speedy departure for the embassy, 178, 192; delays the embassy's departure, 190(3); promises to arrange for the embassy's departure, 190; arrangements for the embassy's departure, 197; summons the embassy to receive their dismissal, 202; embassy petition for guzbardāre, chellās, dastaks and hasbu-l-hukms for the return journey, 203, 206; promises guzbardārs, 206; grants hasbu-l-hukms, 206; dismisses the embassy, l, li, 209; embassy take leave of him, 213; letter to Sanjar Khān regarding a safe conduct for the embassy, 222.

Davenport, H., letter to the President and Council at Bengal, 259.

Dawarumband, proposed mint at, 291.

Day, Francis, 256n(3); arrives at Madras, 256n.

Dean, Mr., 252, 253; letter to the embassy, 279, 282.

Debi Dās, present for, 59n.

Debtors, seizure of, 10, 11; their friends complain to the Nabob, 11; handed over to Shaikh 'Isā, 11; embassy's application to the King in the matter of their seizure, 12; to be handed over to the Company, 82, 85, 123, 128, 144, 145, 164, 165, 166(2), 168, 195, 202, 277; article concerning, not included in the farrān, 177; to be compelled to pay, 268; to be confined, 288.

Debts, Dutch to be assisted in recovery of, 298.

Deccan, Husain 'Alī Khān appointed Governor of, xix, 57, 206n; Ziyā-ud-dīn Khān appointed diwān of, 216.

Delhi, 33; preparations for the embassy's entry, 46; arrival of the embassy, 43, 47, 56; guns mounted round, 95, and withdrawn, 96; departure of the embassy, li, 212, 213, 236.

Delinquent servants, 166, 168, 169.

Demerage, xxix, 15, 31, 208, 226, 231, 233(2), 246, 247(3), 249(2), 251(3); note on, 38n, 42n; disputes with carriers and kahārs regarding, 25, 27, 32, 33, 41; Amar Singh's scheme for settling differences with carriers and kahārs, 34, 35; diwān refuses payment, 32, 34; attempt to obtain allowance of, 34, 40; Sarhād requests a statement of, 34.

Dent, Sergeant Peter, 270.

Deserters, to be handed over to the Company, 269.

Dhalats, wages of, 275.

Dhani Sāhā, seized for debt, 10; his son handed over to Shaikh 'Isā, 11.

Dhūr, 12n.

Dhop, present from the Wazir to the King, 107; note on, 107n.

Diamonds, taken by Governor Pitt from a bairāgi who complains to the Wazir that they have not been paid for, 201; present from Farrukhsiyar to the Company and Governor Pitt, 240.

Dihī Kalikātā, 282.

INDEX.

CSL

Dishes, 7.

Divi Island, xi, 86, 205, 243; grant of, xxxix, xl, 57, 63, 92, 119, 123, 126, 133, 135, 144, 170, 176(2), 217, 225, 261, 262; embassy promise that a harbour will be made, xl; farmān and sanad for, 88, 137, 241; rent of, 92; embassy doubt if it will be granted, 93; objections to grant of, 100, 108, 238, 246; in possession of Abi Rām, 119; attempt to secure its mention in the farmān, 147; attempts of the Dutch to obtain a grant, 261; useful for shipping, 261, 262.

Divān, to defray travelling expenses of embassy, xxi; visited by Sarhād, 8; demand for an account of the King's present refused, 8; disputes re payment for carriages, 14; grants a convoy, 38, 34, 35; refuses demurrage, 34(2); to grant houses and ground, 123, 127, 145.

Divānī, 98, 110, 111; embassy's petition a matter for, 104; unsuccessful attempt of Sarhād to secure favour with the writers of, 111; sakil to go to, 111; petition sent to, 113, 113, 137, 152; Khān Daurān's influence in, 113; officers to be bribed, 112, 143.

Divān-i-ām, 98, 193, 194, 196, 197.

Divān-i-khālīyah (see also Rāo-i-rāyān), 98n, 113, 116, 118n, 122, 124, 126, 140, 141, 142, 183; the office held by Tagarrub Khān, 101; the office held by I'tisām Khān, 109; I'tisām Khān deprived of the post, 185; petition approved, 140, 141, 145, 153; his instructions to divān-i-qābahs and faizdars, regarding concessions to the English, 146; signs sanads, 161; refuses to sign certain articles of the farmān, 177; 'Inayatullah Khān appointed to the office, 179, 180(2), 181, 183; refuses to sign certain parwana's, 185, 241.

Divān-i-khās, 74, 86, 102(2), 103, 106; embassy brought to, 46n.

Divān-i-tan, 118n; the office held by Rājā Gujar Mal, 109, 109n.

Dix, John, 159.

Diyanat Khān, 282(3), 283, 283; note on, 234n.

Doḥa, 15, 19.

Dost 'Alī Khān, present for, 72n; note on, 72n.

Dotana, embassy arrive at, 44; note on, 44n.

Dram cases, present for Ghairat Khān, 41.

Drams, to be put in handsome bottles and cases, 7.

Du'ndar Khān, present for, 72n.

Duhā denā, 24; note on, 24n.

Dulluckpore, proposed mint at, 291.

Dumraon, 12n.

Dundi Chaudhri, arrangements for hire of carriages and terms, 6.

Dandipoor, 119; English wish to rent, 68.

Dargahāl, not to be employed by the embassy on the Company's business, 273.

Dutch, note on, 180n; their embassy to the Mogul Court under Kettler, viii, xv, 291; obtain a farmān from Jahāndār Shāh, 119n; their embassy to Bahādur Shāh, xxxi, 46n; account of their embassy copied from the King's books, 79, 291-8; their house and garden at Surat, 108, 115, 119, 140, 293, 297; customs paid at Surat, 120; customs at Patna and Hughli, 230, 293-4; request that certain articles be customs free, 292; customs paid on certain articles, 295; request that no impositions other than settled customs be imposed, 296; swindled by Padre Daniel and his friends, 148; presents given to their ambassador, 178, 293; presents to and from the King, 180; present to, not to be taken as a precedent, 180n; their present compared with that received by the English embassy, 191, 196; come out from Patna to meet the English embassy, 234; visit the embassy at Patna, 234; their visit returned, 234; welcome the embassy on its return, 249; Sarbuland Khān's extortions from, 236; reports from Delhi regarding sale of saltpetre and Divi Island, 238; sale of saltpetre at Patna in tair hands, 244; report that Ja'far Khān has protested against the grants to the English, 245; their boats arrive at Sakrigali, 247; their boats stopped at Canna, 247; attempts to obtain a grant of Divi Island, 261; settlements in Surat and Bengal, 283; towns given to them for coining, 290; farmāns granted to, 287(2), 288, 289(3), 290(4), 292, 293(2), 294, 296, 296; farmān requested by, 291; request permission to use mints, 295; delinquent servants to be delivered over to, 293, 294-5, 297, 298; sanads granted to, 295; their house at Patna, 297; parwana granted to, 297; to be assisted in recovery of debts, 293; ḥaṣḥ-i-ḥukm granted to, 288 (2); zinyah not imposed upon, 298.

INDEX.

306
CSL

Dutchess, the, xii.

E

Eagle, the, 266a.

East India Company, policy of fortified settlements, vi, absconding servants to be delivered over to, xxxix, 62, 82, 86, 91; authority to punish thieves, etc., 83; dealings between the New and Old Companies, 289.

Egmore. See Erambūr.

Ekdil Khān, 43a.

Elzbi (ambassador), 29 (2), 30.

Elephants, present from Farrukhsiyar to Dr. Hamilton, 76, 77; King's present to Sarhād, 76, 77; present from Wazīr to the King, 107; present from Farrukhsiyar to Governor R. Hedges, 191, 200, 202, 204, 205, 227, 261; embassy's expenditure on furniture for, 253.

Elmore, conquest of, 268.

Embassy to Farrukhsiyar, references to, passim; size of retinue, xxi; provision of a safe conduct, xxi; travelling expenses to be defrayed by the King, xxii.

Ennore, 266a.

Enom Cawn, 80.

Erambūr, 266; note on, 266a.

Escritoires, 51; present for Farrukhsiyar, xxii, 46, 47, 49; present for Ghairat Khān, 41; embassy's expenditure on, 262.

Etawah, 119.

Eunuchs, presents for, 66, 72a.

Europe, Sarhād submits to the King a list of rarities purchasable in, 214.

Ewer and basin, present for Farrukhsiyar, xxxi.

Exchange, bills of, prevented, 24; payable to James Williamson, 73, 79, 97, 100, 109, 130 (2), 147, 178, 187, 195, 223, 224, 227; payable to John Surman, 77; payable to M. Stephenson, 80 (2); payable to Thos. Falconer, 80, 97, 130; payable to John Pratt, 94, 97, 101; payable to Captain Harnet, 97; payable to Varanāsi Seth, 109, 221; payable to Sarhād's gumāstah, 130 (2), 178; payable to Governor Robert Hedges, 161; payable to H. Frankland, 161, 221; payable to Sikhū beopāra, 178, 184, 187, 194, 209 (2), 213, 223, 224, 227, 231, 236; payable to John Flemming, 195; payable to Ūdu Dat, 227; payable to Kishori Gulāshand, 226; payable to Gowaldass Chevaldass, 246; Gulāshand Sāhā complains about the discount on, 232.

F

Factories, permission to build, 91; orders regarding robberies of, 91; thieves to be properly punished, 93; ground for, 145, 164, 167, 169, 171, 176; rent for houses and ground required for, not to be raised, 283.

Factors, not to be molested, 85, 92; their comings and goings not to be interfered with, 284-6; deserters to be handed over to the Company, 287.

Fakhrabād, embassy arrive at, 38; note on, 38a.

Falconer, Thomas, bill of exchange payable to, 30, 130.

Fānis, 7.

Fānis, Khawājah, note on, 151a, 196a; pleads on behalf of Padre Daniel, 151; appointed the King's painter, 196; complaint against the English, 196.

Farah, embassy arrive at, 43; note on, 43a.

Fāris, 111, 114, 115, 117, 120, 124, 125, 131, 133, 142, 155, 174; note on, 98a; acceptance refused by begūtāfi unless sealed by Sarhād, 8; to be sealed by both Surman and Sarhād, 8; transferred to Qutb-ul-mulk, 98(2), 99, 103; embassy refuse to send them to the Wazīr (Qutb-ul-mulk), 99; brought from the hachakri, 121 (2); signed by Itisām Khān, 121; Sarhād conceals information regarding their progress, 121, 123; consultation regarding, 131 (2); list of, signed, 131a; signed by the diwan-i-Khālishah, 140; sent to the Wazīr, 140; sent to Amānat Rāo, 141; sent by Amānat Rāo to Itisām Khān, 142; of no use to the embassy, 174; reported approval of the King, 172; for the embassy's dismissal, 191; presented to Khān Daurān, 209.

Faridābād, 189, 216, 218, 219, 230; note on, 45a; embassy arrive at, xxxi, iii, 45 (2), 46, 218.

Farkhunda-bunyad (see also Hajdarābād), 297; note on, 297a.

Farmāish, 84, 91, 122, 127; note on, 60a, 84a; English factories to be exempt from, 60-1; abolished, 144; farmān for abolition of, 145; not to be levied on the Dutch, 294.

Farmāns, 91, 116 (2), 116, 117, 120, 128, 138, 141, 142, 162, 164, 166, 167, 183, 165, 172 (3), 178, 175, 214, 241, 258 (8), 269, 280, 262, 263 (2), 265 (2), 267, 277, 278, 283 (2), 284 (2), 285 (3), 286, 287 (3), 288 (2), 289 (3); requested by the English, vii, xxviii, xl, 123; embassy will not be satisfied with anything less than, 124; to be so prepared as to admit of no disputes, 266; King's officers to act according to, 269; number undecided, 145; number to be three, 147; to be obtained for the separate provinces if possible, 261, 276; text of petition for, 59; for purchase of towns, 87; for Bengal, 118, 135, 160, 162, 276, 283; request regarding Bengal ignored, 84; for Madras, 135, 140, 147, 160, 255, 269, 280; for Bombay, 135; for Surat, 160, 264, 283; for Behar and Orissa, 162; for Masulipatam, 283; for ground at Calcutta, 282; for trade in Bengal, 92, 137; for trade in Behar and Orissa, 92; for Bengal and Behar customs, 133; for grant of towns in Bengal, 93, 118, 139; for grant of towns at Madras, 106, 135; for grant of towns at Vizagapatam, 119, 133, 137; for trade at Surat, 89; for customs at Surat, 92, 132, 137, 144; for renting Divi Island, 88; attempt to secure mention of Divi Island in, 147; for the Coromandel coast, 225; for restoration of plundered goods, 144; the Wazir the proper person to receive application for, xxv, xxxi, xlii, xlii; irregular application for, xlii; English continue to press their demands for, through the mediation of Khān Daurān xlii; requested in the place of hasbu-l-hukms, 123; refused, to the English, xl, xlii, 124; Khān Daurān fails to secure them, xlii; transferred to Qutbu-l-mulk or Wazir, 101; their grant menaced by the appointment of Isāyatullah Khān, 181; granted, xlix, 164, 166, 167, 169, 225; formalities in connection with their grant, 146; sent to the sadr-i-sudūr, 174, 217, 218; bribery of sadr-i-sudūr to secure delivery of, 173; reported approval by the King, 172; approved by the King, 140, 174, 175, 178, 182; preparation of, xlix, 114, 141, 142(3), 143, 145(2), 164; copies submitted to the embassy, 147; fair copies made, 170; tughra (imperial signature) affixed, 161, 171; Wazir's seal required, 172, 176, 178, 181; sealed, 176, 181, 182-3, 185; titles of Wazir inscribed on, 169; completed, 179; farz for their delivery, 181; the embassy's fears of ever receiving them, 212; delivered to the embassy, 185, 194, 215; delivered to the gurbardār instead of to Sarhād, 242, 244; translations of, 162; ceremonies to be observed at the presentation of, 251; effect in Bengal, lvii; contents of, 145; sanads to be given for articles not entered in, 146; copies sent to Calcutta, 160, 161(2), 190, 194, 195, 202(3), 216, 230; copies sent by Sarhād to Calcutta without the knowledge of the embassy, 215; copies sent to Bombay, 160; copies sent home to England, 146, 182; signed copies to be accepted in place of the original, 61, 84, 91, 122, 127, 145(2), 163, 166, 168(2), 171, 176; for Governor R. Hedges, l, li, 179, 180, 204, 206, 210, 217, 242, 261; delay in delivery of Hedges' farmān, 212, 213, 218, 219, 242; Hedges' farmān almost ready for despatch, 217, 222(3); sent to Ikhlas Khān, 218, 219, 221; to be despatched to the embassy, 223, 224; copies received, 210, 226, 228, 230; copy sent to Calcutta, 204; delivered to Governor R. Hedges, 253; farmāns lost by the Portuguese through want of bribes, 173, 176; Farrukhsiyar refuses Sarhād's request for, 240; unheeded by Sarbuland Khān, 244; embassy's expenses in obtaining, 253; for European settlements in Madras, 283; requested by the Dutch, 291; granted to the Dutch, 281(2), 288, 289(3), 290(1), 292, 293(2), 294, 295, 296; granted by Aurangzēb, 59, 274(2); granted by Shāh Jahān, 274; granted by King of Golconda, 123, 279(2); that granted by King of Golconda of little value, 147.

Farrash, wages of, 275, 276.
Farrukhabād, xxxviii, 60, 74; note on, 80n.
Farrukhabād, note on, 80n; proposed new name for Calcutta, xxxviii, 60; change of name abandoned, 74.
Farrukh Bēg Khān, 210, 218; note on, 218n; to proceed to Surat, 223.
Farrukhsiyar, Emperor, 112, 192, 193 (2), 194, 196, 198; ascends the throne, viii; anniversary of his accession 25n; interregnum between the death of Bahādur Shāh and accession of,

INDEX.

CSL
xiii

119a; friendly to the English, viii; condition of affairs at Court of, xvi; his favourites, xvii; suspicions of the Sayyads, xviii; embassy to, passim; instructions from Bengal regarding negotiations of embassy to, 370; instructions from Madras, 256; instructions from Bombay, 237; preparations of embassy to, xx; receives the embassy, xxxi, 46, 47, 56, 74, 79, 89, 98, 102(2), 117, 131, 171; saluted by the embassy, 68(3); gives orders that the expenses of the embassy are to be defrayed, 5; expenses of embassy to, 146, 159, 253; difficulty of obtaining a grant for the embassy's expenses, 139; Sarhād's device for obtaining a grant from, for the embassy's expenses and then dividing it, 187-90; embassy prepare for their departure, 173, 175, 177, 183, 186, 199; precedents for embassy's dismissal, 182; embassy obtain permission to depart, 191, 192; departure of the embassy delayed, 193 (2), 194; dismisses the embassy, 2, 197, 202-3, 213, 225; his detention of Dr. Hamilton, 197, 198, 202-3; permits Dr. Hamilton to depart on condition that he returns, 200-1, 203, 205; reprimands Salābat Khān because Dr. Hamilton could not be induced to stay, 208-9; enquiry as to the nature of the present which would be acceptable to, 265; present to, viii, ix, xiv, xx, xxxi, 45, 46, 47, 49, 55, 59, 66, 72, 76 (3), 77, 95, 142 (2), 151, 270; present not given to, as Sarhād pretended, 110; Sarhād's vain promises suggest the idea of a present for, 148; Sarhād's letters to various persons at Court concerning the English present to, 149; value of present for, xv; grants bārbardāri (carriage), 29, 149, 188; his presents to the embassy, 2, 46, 56, 191, 193, 197, 202, 208; sends fruit to the embassy, 49; presents to Surman, xxxi, 47, 156; grants a larger present for Surman, 192, 195; larger present for Surman not to be taken as a precedent, 195; present to Sarhād, xxxi, xxxvi, xxxvii, 47; his presents to Dr. Hamilton, xxxvi, xxxvii, 103; orders the Wazīr to give Hamilton a present, 207; his gifts to the Company and to Governor Pitt, 240; his presents to Governor R. Hedges, 2, 191, 195, 206, 213, 251; embassy petition for a price to be set upon the elephant for Governor R. Hedges, 202; jewels intended for the embassy submitted to, 207; bribes to his officers who have the matter of the presents in hand, 204, 205, 206 (3), 207, 210; his presents to Mons-Martin, xxxvi, xxxvii; his presents to the Portuguese embassy, 299, 300; indisposition of, xxxiv-xxxvi, 65, 72, 107, 108; sends for Sarhād and Dr. Hamilton, on account of indisposition, 107; treated by Dr. Hamilton, xxxiv-xxxvi, 53, 72, 73, 109; his death reported, xxxv; Dr. Hamilton eures him, xxxv, xxxvi, 75; his convalescence, 74, 75; restored to health, 76, 77, 117; medicine for, 72; his illness interrupts the negotiations, 73, 75; petitions to, xxxiii, xxxviii, xl, xlviii, 59, 84, 86, 90, 92, 139, 265; first petition returned, 84, 89, 91; criticisms on the first petition, 81-3; text of the second petition to, 86; learns of the withdrawal of the English factory at Surat and favours grant of demands, xlviii, 132; promises favours, 74; reported unfavourable to grant of the petition, 109; to be recommended by I'tisām Khān to grant the petition, 114; Khān Daurān sends petition to, 139; approves the petition, 141, 145 (2); petition signed by, 136, 137; approves remaining articles of the petition, 171; translations of farmāns granted by, 162; his approval of farmāns and farid reported, 172; approves farmāns, 171, 175, 178, 182, 195; difficulty of making use of privileges conceded by, 171; his expeditions from Delhi, xxxi, 49, 50, 55, 93, 100, 104, 159, 160; disputes with Wazīr and Khān Daurān regarding expedition from Delhi 54; returns to Delhi, xxxiv, 53; rumour of his intended visit to Lahore, 54 (2); goes to Quṭb minār, 50a, 53a; goes to Bādli, 50a; goes to Panipat, xxxiii, 50a, 54, 58, 65; goes to Shāhīnār, 53, 102, 177; goes to Sonpat, 55, 58, 173, 173; goes to Ginnuro, 58; goes to Mihrparwar ki-sarāe, 58; goes to Simbhālka-ki-sarāe, 58; goes to Narelah, 101, 172; embassy follow him to camp, 162, 173, 174, 177; attacks rājah of Jodhpur, xviii; his marriage to daughter of Ajit Singh, rājah of Jodhpur, and description of the festivities, xxxv-xxxvii, 73; preparations for his marriage, 76; his wedding interrupts negotiations, 77; gets another wife from Kashmir, 175; birth of a son, 246; troubles with Mir Jumrah, xli; orders Mir Jumrah to proceed to Lahore, 96; marches against the Sikhs, xli; and triumphant return to Delhi, xli; receives a forged letter from Husain Ahmad, 103; visits the Wazir, 107; presents from the Wazir, 107; coining at Madras prejudicial to, 115; rejoicings, 250, 131, 142(2), 161, 174; forbids foreigners to use palanquins, 140; complaint of Sarhad against the Persians, 223; Jafar Khan complains to him against the embassy, 235; forbids sale of saltpetre, 238; protest of faujdar of Masulipatam against the granting of Divi Island, 288; gift to the begum and eunuch for sealing Hedges' farmān, 206; Sarhad's project of proceeding to England to buy rarities for, 240; refuses Sarhad a farmān but grants a hasou-i-hukm, 240; orders Zūl-fiqar Khan to be killed, 274.

Fasabat Khan, present for, 72.

Fath Chand Saba, 24.

Fath Khan, 171.

Fatehpur. See Fatehpur.

Fatehpur, 42n, 227n; note on, 229n; embassy arrive at, 229.

Fatuha, 238.

Faujdar, 91; note on, 61n, 163n; English factories to be exempt from, 61; taken from Muhammad Amin Khan, 198; abolished, 164, 186, 168.

Faujdar, to give safe conducts for merchandise and to be held responsible for its safety, 286.

Faulkon, Thos., bill of exchange payable to, 97.

Fazlābād, embassy arrive at, 44; note on, 44n.

Feaka, S., letter to the embassy, 232, 279, 282.

Fenwick, Capt., his opinion of Surman and Barker, ibid.

Fil-kahri, present from Farrukhsiyar to Governor R. Hedges, 191.

Fire-arms, 52; present for Farrukhsiyar, ix, xx; present for Sidihs Narayan, xxii; present for Darbar Khan, 67; present for I'timad Khan, 68; present for Jawahir Khan, 71; present for I'tibar Khan, 70; present for Na'im Khan, 86; embassy's expenditure on, 263.

Firozabad, embassy arrive at, 44; note on, 44n.

Flag-carriers, wages of, 275.

Flags (See also Union Jack), note on, 8n; demanded by Sarhad, 8; matter referred to the President, 8; allowed to Sarhad, 18; Sarhad ordered not to use them as showing his authority, 219, 230; permission to use, 283.

Flemming, John, bill of exchange payable to, 195.

Flint-ware, present for Farrukhsiyar, xx, and put in proper order under Sarhad's directions, 6; present for Sidihs Narayan, 12; present for I'timad Khan, 69; present for I'tibar Khan, 70; present for Jawahir Khan, 71.

Flowers, 51.

Fort St. David (See also Tavānuyak-kam), 92, 122, 259; note on, 259n; embassy request grant of, xxix; concessions at, 127; grant of towns at, 144, 170, 171, 173(2); granted by Rama Raja, 255; grant confirmed by Zūl-fiqar Khan, 258; grant of, 259; villages granted by Daud Khanandre-assumed by Sa'adatullah Khan, 260; towns granted by Rama Raja, 266.

Fort St. George (See also Madras), 261; qa'id sent to, 224; account of early settlement and privileges granted from time to time, 256-8; founding of, 266n; Cogan called to account for founding, 256n.

Fort William, qa'id sent to, 224.

Fountains, 51; present for Farrukhsiyar, xiv; present for Khan Dadrān, 48.

Frankland, Henry, bill of exchange payable to, 161, 221; letters to the embassy, 279, 282.

Frederick, J., letter to the President and Council at Bengal, 259.

French, their help against the Portuguese to be asked for by the Wazir, 216; settlements at Surat and in Bengal, 283.

Fustis, 52; note on, 12n; present for Sidihs Narayan, 12; present for Darbar Khan, 67; present for I'timad Khan, 68; present for I'tibar Khan, 70; present for Jawahir Khan, 71.

G

Gaibnāth Siva, temple of, 246n.

Gammon, Mr., 247, 248, 270.

Gammon, Ensign, meets the embassy, iv, despatched to Fort William, 249, 250, 251.

- Ganganacoppem. See Ganganakkuppem.
Ganganakkuppem, 266; note on, 266*n*.
Gangaprasād, note on, 247*n*; embassy arrive at, iv, 247, 248; boats from Calcutta arrive at, 248.
Gangarūm, 210; payment to, 170, 171; delay of, 180; indisposition of, 181; to be bribed, 181.
Ganges, river, 293; crossed by the embassy, xxix, 39, 40, 230(2), 231(2), 232, 23*n*.
Ganjam, 62.
Gaurishankar, temple of, 246*n*.
Gaya, xxi, 43*n*.
Gayer, Sir John, v.
Gaywood, James, watchmaker, wages of, 275.
Gentius, 165(3), 149, 150, 164(2), 158, 218, 248, 256, 259; note on, 256*n*, 259*n*; go to worship at Bindrāban, 223.
George I. proclaimed King, xxx, 44.
Ghairat Khān, note on, 3*n*; replaced by Mir Jumla in the government of Behar, xxiii; embassy attempt to gain protection of, xxviii; instigates trouble between the embassy and its servants, xxix; meets the embassy and is anxious to bring the present safe to Delhi, xxix; hasb-i-hukm for, 3, 4(2); rumour that he is to be succeeded as Nabob of Patna by 'Alī Asghar Khān, and consequent departure of, 4; King's orders to, 6; to be asked to supply greater force for protection, 10; asks that debtors be handed over to Shaikh 'Isā, 11; present for, 18, 38, 40, 41; embassy petition for a safe conduct, 3, 4; grants a convoy, 20, 21, 23, 26; permits the embassy to depart from Patna, 23; his protection asked for as far as Benares, 37; angry with the embassy, 38; will not allow the embassy to advance in front of him, 39; in mourning, 40; presents of watches to him, and his brother, 41; embassy take leave of him, 41; his servants suspected of causing trouble with the carriers, 41; orders the embassy to wait for him, 42*n*; request ignored, 42*n*.
Ghari (division of time), 228; note on, 228*n*.
Ghatampur, 227*n*; note on, 42*n*; embassy arrive at, 42.
Ghatauli, note on, 37*n*; embassy arrive at, xxviii, 37, 233.
Ghānu-din Khān, letter to Sarhād, 22; note on, 22*n*.
Ghulām Husain, 218; delivers the King's orders to Mullā Nasir, 8; informs Surman that Hedges' farmān is ready for delivery, 217; follows the embassy with Hedges' farṣān, 223; overtakes the embassy and delivers Hedges' farmān, 226.
Ghusul-i-shifā (first bathing after sickness), 15*n*.
Gifford, President, 267.
Ginnore, 58.
Girra-ke-rock (Royal Merchant), Sarhād petitions the King to have the title of, 214.
Glass-ware, 7; present for Farrukhsiyar, ix, xi, 96; present for Sidiṣht Narāyan, 12; present for Ghairat Khān, 18, 41; present for Durbār Khān, 67 (2); present for I'timād Khān, 69; present for I'tibar Khān, 70; present for Jawāhir Khān, 71; present for Na'īm Khān, 86.
Goa, Viceroy of, presents from Farrukhsiyar, 300(2).
Gobra, 282.
Gokal Dās Khushhāl Rāe, money paid into the Company's cash, 236.
Golconda, 62, 232, 265; Mubārīz Khān, the sūbādār of, 195; conquest of, 257; request for remission of amount paid at, 264.
Golconda, King of (see also Abū-l-Hasan), 266, 257 (2), 258, 259, 260; farmān granted by, 123, 257 (3), 279 (2); his farmān of little value, 147.
Gondalpadā, 282.
Goods, sent to the King's Camp, 51; sale of, 117.
Govindpur, 163, 282 (2); English wish to rent, xxviii; rented by the English, 277.
Govind Rāe Kirt Sen, money paid into the Company's cash, 203.
Guddilam, river, 266*n*.
Gujarat (see also Cambay), 236*n*; Khān Dauram appointed sūbādār of, 192.
Gujarat goods, present from Farrukhsiyar to Governor R. Hedges, 191.
Gulāl Chand Sāhā, 213, 216 (2), 227, 238; his gumāshṭak complains about bills not paid, 78; complains about the discount on his bills of exchange, 284; payments to, 283.
Gultandah. See Golconda.
Gumāshṭak, arrival at camp to clear up the troubles with the carriers and kāḥārs, 31; to be punished for thieving, 61, 84.
Guns, 52; presents for Farrukhsiyar, xiv; oxen for, xxi, 8; present for Ghairat Khān, 18; present for the

INDEX.

CSL

subadār of Allahabad, 239; those required for the King's use to be properly purchased, 286.
Gurū Bandah (see also Sikhs), capture of, 18*n*, 97; brought to Delhi, 95, 95*n*.
Gurudāspur, xlii; sacked, xlii.
Gurū Gobind Sing, xli.
Gurubardārs, 6, 9, 19, 28 (2), 32, 162*n*, 210, 213, 216, (2), 218, 219 (2), 221, 222, 224, 225, 228 (2), 233 (2), 235, 238, 242 (2), 243, 244, 245 (2), 247 (3), 248, 249, 250 (2), 251; sent by the king to the embassy, 2; their protection inadequate, 5; to be sent to Patna to accompany the embassy, 5 (2); deliver the King's orders to Mullā Naṣir, 6; deliver list of carriages, etc., to the ḥayūṭālī, 7; to deliver the King's letter to Ghairat Khān, 9; receive ṣar-o-pās, 14; to be left behind for the purpose of obtaining a convoy, 24; arrival at Nanbatpur, 29; attempt to obtain demurrage and a convoy, 31, 34, 40; summoned from Patna, 36; sent to conduct the present to Delhi, 149; requested by the embassy for the return journey, 202; refused by Khān Daurān, 206; promised by Khān Daurān, 206; to proceed to Surat, 210; payment to, 229; sent ahead of the embassy with ḥashū-l-ḥukm, 229; sent to Patna with a ḥashū-l-ḥukm for Sarbuland Khān, 233; presents to, 233.

H

Hackeries, 7.
Haidarābād (see also Farkhandah-bun-yād), 62, 165, 290 (2), 298 (3); farmān for, 165, 190; no customs at, 165; Mubāriz Khān, Governor of, 126*n*; Dutch at, 297.
Haidar Qulī Khān, Governor of Surat, 137, 140, 155, 170, 176 (2), 240; note on, 127*n*; temporary withdrawal of the English from Surat would cause him to write to Khān Daurān respecting concessions, 107; reports discontent of the English and their threatened withdrawal from Surat, xlvii, 129, 132, 146, 154; desires the English to remain at Surat, 107, 129, 132; to submit an account of the customs at Surat, 122, 127; possibility of his objection to the grant of farmāns, 132; letters to Khān Daurān, 210; Kirpā Rām, his agent at Delhi, 240.

Haji Ahmad, 31; delivers the King's orders to Mullā Naṣir, 6; to protest the present, 20.

Haji Sāfir, 246.

Hail-Khor, wages of, 275.

Hamidāh Begam (mother of Akbar), 44*n*.
Hamilton, Dr. William, xx, 1*n*, 109, 208; note on, 203*n*; appointed Surgeon to the embassy, 270; his character etc., xiv; allowances to, xiv, 20; palanquin for, 11; summoned to attend Farrukhsiyar, xxiv, 55, 58, 107, 109; summoned by the King's mother to discuss the King's health, 72; Mons. Martin sides with the King's doctor against, 74; recommends the King to call the other physicians, but he refuses to do so, 108; cures Farrukhsiyar, xxxv, 75; attends Taqarrub Khān, xxiv, 54; lives with Taqarrub Khān, 59; dismissed by Taqarrub Khān, 72; expenditure on medicine for Farrukhsiyar and Taqarrub Khān, 72; probable visit to the Wazīr, 131; visits the Wazīr, 135; visits Khān Jahān who is indisposed, 183, 184; presents from Farrukhsiyar, xxvi, xxxvii, li, 76, 77, 103, 191, 202, 209; presents from the King's mother, xxxvii, 74, 79; Wazīr ordered to give him a present, 207; presents from the Wazīr, 208; attack on, and the King's orders for his future protection, xxxv, 75; money paid into the Company's cash, 97, 130, 187; detained by Farrukhsiyar, li, 197, 202-3; unwilling to stay at Delhi in obedience to the King's command, 199, 203; intervention of Surman for his release, 197, 198; plans for securing the King's consent to his departure, 199, 200; his petition for permission to depart, 200 (3), 203; Munavvar promises help to obtain release of, 200; is allowed to depart on condition that he returns, li, 200-1, 203, 205; gives an undertaking to return to Delhi, lii, 207; the Wazīr is security for his return, 208; his refusal to stay at Delhi is the cause of Salābat Khān being reprimanded by the King, 209; his hypothetical wife and children, 203*n*; Qutub-ul-mulk (Wazīr) asks him to bring his wife and children on his return, 204; Sarhād requests his attendance which is refused, 221; his expenses, 253; illness of, iv; his death, lvi.

Hānsi, 162*n*.

INDEX.

CSL
xvii

- Haqiqat Khān, parwana granted by, 274.
- Harnet, Capt., bill of exchange payable to, 97.
- Harrison, Governor E., 161; letters from the embassy, 56, 65, 75, 131, 134; letter to the embassy, 261; letter to Salābat Khān, 134; letter to Ziyāu-d-dīn Khān, 134; letter to the President and Council at Bengal, 259.
- Hasb-ul-hukms, 115, 120, 261, 276; sent from Bengal to the embassy at Patna, 2; for Ghairat Khān, 3 (2), 4; undesirable, 128; granted by Asad Khān, 69; for Bengal customs, 122, 126; granted in place of farmāns, 123, 124; for Bombay mint, 143; sent to Calcutta before the despatch of the embassy, 143, 149; for the return journey, 203, 205, 206(2), 229; granted by Farrukhsiyar to Sarhād, 240; granted by the King of Golconda, 257; granted by the Wazir, 283; granted to the Dutch, 298 (2).
- Haurah, 280.
- Hazurenarise, 141.
- Hedges, Governor Robert, 220; advocates policy of fortified settlements, iii; letter to Farrukhsiyar, xxxi; order from Mir Jumlah, 37n; bill of exchange payable to, 161; hairsagi's complaint that diamonds taken by Governor Pitt have not been paid for, 201; letters from the embassy, 46, 50, 53, 73, 77, 78, 90, 96, 99, 103, 108, 114, 125, 137, 138, 141, 143, 147, 160, 175, 178, 184 (2), 190, 194, 202, 209 (2), 213, 221, 222, 224, 227, 228, 230, 232, 234, 236, 238, 244, 247, 248, 250 (2); letters to the embassy, 279, 282; farmān for, l, lii, 179, 180, 204, 206, 210, 217, 242; his farmān sent to Ikhlas Khān, 221; copy of his farmān sent to Bengal, 204; copies of his farmān received, 210; his farmān almost ready for despatch, 222 (2); delay in the delivery of farmān for, 212, 213, 242; Ghalām Husain to follow the embassy with Hedges' farmān, 223; his farmān delivered to the embassy, 228, 228, 230; farmān delivered to, 253; present from Farrukhsiyar, l, 191, 195, 200, 204, 206, 210 (2), 213, 237, 251; delay in the delivery of the present, and consequent bribes, 201; price to be set on the elephant for, 202; receives the embassy at Triveni, 171.
- Hidayatullah Khān (see also Nusrat Yār Khān), 186; execution of, 186n.
- Higgison, Mr., parwanas obtained by, 258.
- Hocknuzzer, Khawājah, 154; pleads on behalf of Padre Daniel, 151.
- Hodal, 224; note on, 4m, 222n; embassy arrive at, 44, 223.
- Hogulkundia, 280.
- Horden, R., letter to the embassy, 261.
- Horse-keepers, wages of, 275, 276.
- Horse-keeping, Sarhād's allowance for, 276.
- Horsemen, payment to, 23; double pay to, 25, 27.
- Horses, purchase of, 14, 21; loss of, 20; present from Farrukhsiyar to Surman, 192, 193 (3), 194, 193 (2), 202, 208; present from Khān Daurān to Surman, 209; present from Farrukhsiyar to Stephenson, 203; present from Farrukhsiyar to Sarhād, 203; present from Farrukhsiyar to Dr. Hamilton, 76, 77, 203; present from the King's mother to Hamilton, 79; presents from the Wazir to the embassy, 203; present from the Wazir to the King, 107; to be sold at Patna, 216; no sale for them at Patna, 237; embassy's expenditure on, 252; for the King's use, 268; those required for the King's use to be properly paid for, 286, 292; permission to use, 288; present from Farrukhsiyar to the Portuguese embassy, 300; present from Jahāndār Shāh to Dutch embassy, 299.
- Hossanna rupees, 105.
- House furniture, embassy's expenditure on, 252.
- Household necessities, embassy's expenditure on, 253.
- Houses, required at Patna, 60; land requested for, 60.
- Hugli, 64, 245, 294; Ziyāu-d-dīn Khān appointed Governor of, vii; Ziyāu-d-dīn Khān removed, vii; English assist Ziyāu-d-dīn Khān, 186; permission to buy goods at, xxxviii, 85; darogha's permission to be sufficient to bring goods from the house to the factory, 61-2; concessions at, 122, 127, 145; customs at, 59, 82, 118, 120, 163, 168, 263, 276; Sarhād expects an order for the receipt of customs at, 156; customs paid by the Dutch, 293; sar-o-pās to be presented at, 250; ground required at, 277.
- Hugli-bandar, mint at, 232.
- Hamayūn, tomb of, xxxi, 45n.

Huamams, present for I'timād Khān, 68; note on, 68n.

Hungary water, present for Farrukhsiyar, 70.

Hunt, R., letter to President and Council at Bengal, 259.

Huqqaḥ, present for the Wazīr, 48; present for Khān Daurān, 48; present for Taqarrub Khān, 48; present for Darbār Khān, 67; present for I'timād Khān, 69; present for I'tibār Khān, 70; present for Jawāhir Khān, 71; present for Na'im Khān, 86.

Husain Ahmad, his ship taken by the Danes, 106; forges letters to the King, the Wazīr and Khān Daurān to militate against the English, 106.

Husain 'Alī Khān see also Amīru-l-umara, viii, xvii, xviii, xxii, xxv, 31, 149; appointed Governor of Deccan, xix, 57; power and authority of, xxv, xxxiii; his position strengthened after his defeat of Dāūd Khān, xxxiv; his offices, 206n; quarrel with Dāūd Khān, xxxiii, 66; defeats and slays Dāūd Khān, xxxiv, 73, 75, 266n; receives car-o-pā from Farrukhsiyar, 73; disputes with Mir Jumlaḥ, xxxiii, 57; plot against, xxxiv, 65; his friendship to be cultivated and good offices secured, 57, 73, 75; embassy to secure a recommendatory letter from him to the Wazīr in favour of the Coromandel factories, 75; embassy receive from the Wazīr a recommendatory letter to, 205; receives letter from Sarhād concerning the English present, 148; his terms to Ajit Singh, 162n; defeats Sahuji, 174.

Husain Amidan, 157.

Husain Mirzā, Sultān of Persia, 83n.

I

Ibrāhīm Khān, parvāna granted by, 274.

Ibrāhīm Lodī, tomb of, 58n.

Idu-i-qurbān (Abraham's sacrifice), 76; note on, 76n.

Idu-i-zuhā, feast of, 142n.

Iklās Khān, 178, 181(2); note on, 174n; farmāns sent to, 147, 174; delay of, 180; promises early delivery of Hedger's farmān, 218, 219; Hedger's farmān sent to, 221.

Ikrām Khān (see also Necknām Khān), 170, 176, 257(2); qaul granted by, 279.

Images, wax, present for I'timād Khān, 69; present for Farrukhsiyar, 72.

In'am Khān, 181.

In'ayatullah Khān, 241, 246; note on, 179n; to be appointed diwān-i-khālīṣah, 179, 180(2), 181; his character, services and capabilities, 181, 186; appointed diwān-i-khālīṣah, &c., 183, 186(2); appointed shāh-dār of Kashmir, 183, 186; appointed tan-kā-diwān, 185-6, 186; conditions on which he accepted the posts, 186; his appointment a menace to the grant of farmāns, 181; reimposes the ḡiryaḥ (poll tax), 204n.

Indigo, customs payable on, 237.

Ishād Khān, delay of, 180.

Itālī, 282.

Iṭāwah or Iṭāyah, 28; embassy arrive at, 226; note on, 226n.

I'tibār Khān, 285; present for, 69; his house at Surat given to the Dutch, 119, 140.

I'timād Khān, 44n, 156, 287; note on, 156n; the reservoir constructed by him and the legend of the witch, xxx; present for, 68; petition to be delivered to, 152.

I'tisām Khān (see also Diwān-i-khālīṣah), 110, 115, 116, 120, 122, 123, 124(2), 126, 129(2); note on, 109n, 110n; English attempt to bribe, xlv; not to be bribed except with the utmost secrecy, 110, 110n, 113; bribery of, 113, 114, 116; his servants to be bribed, 110; present for, 110, 116; declares that the petition requires consideration, 110; delivers the petition to Bhag Chand, 110, 111, 113; favourable to the petition, 114(2), 116(2); objects to the English having separate mints, 115; appointed an umpire to settle the embassy's business, 109, 114, 116; petition sent to, 116, 142; signs the petition, 121, 123, 141, 148, 145; refuses farmāns, 124; informed that nothing short of farmāns will satisfy the embassy, 124; to prepare a farmān, 114; acts according to the directions of Khān Daurān, 124; visited by Sarhād, 128; Sarhād reports his power to grant the embassy's wishes, 152; signs parvānas, 170, 241; refuses to sign certain parvānas, 172, 185; deprived of post of diwān-i-khālīṣah, 186; death at Jahāngirnagar, 109n.

- I
Iṣāmū-d-dīn, 275n.
Imādpur, 226n; note on, 44n; embassy arrive at, xxx, 44.
Tip. See Otter.
Iranis. See Otterdanays.
Iry, Thomas, 258, 256n (2); note on, 256n; obtains qaṭl from Srī Rāṅgā Rayā, 279.
Izzat Khān, parwāna granted by, 81, 118, 274 (2).
J
Jaḥar Khān (see also Murshid Qalī Khān), 115, 157, 195, 205, 231; note on, 94n, 205n; friendship towards the English, 94; troubles with, in Bengal, 106; possibility of his objection to the grant of farmāns, 138; disallows the mint at Maqṣūdābād and grant of towns at Calcutta contrary to the King's orders, 232; complains to the King against the embassy, 235; English send a complaint against him to Delhi, 245; protests against grants to the English, 245 (2).
Jagadāmund, money paid into the Company's cash, 227 (2).
Jagdis-ki-Sarāe, note on, 232n; embassy arrive at, 231, 232.
Jagdispur, 12n.
Jāyir, Mir Jamāl deprived of, 95, 96.
Jahānābād, note on, 232n; embassy arrive at, 232.
Jahāndār Shāh (see also Murīzzu-d-dīn Jahāndār Shāh), succeeds Bahādur Shāh, viii; letter and present from the English, viii; friend of the Dutch, viii; Dutch embassy to, xv, 291; Dutch obtain a farmān from, 119n; presents to the Dutch embassy, 299; his treatment of foreign embassies not to be taken as a precedent, 7; his reign ignored, 119n.
Jahāngīr, Emperor, xxxi, 140, 283.
Jahāngīra, note on, 246n; embassy arrive at, 246.
Jahāngīrnagar (see also Dacca), 109n, 289.
Jahān Khān (see also Muzaffar Khān), note on, 102n, 162n, 183n, 192n; arrives at Court, 102; sent against the Jāts, 162, 184; indisposed and visited by Dr. Hamilton, 183; his wife indisposed, 184; sanad granted by, 274.
Jai Singh, Rājā, 183n.
Jalāl Khān, 156.
Jalangi, embassy arrive at, 248; note on, 248n.
Jama, *294; at Divi Island, 141.
Jamdatu-l-mulk (see also Wazīr), 288; note on, 30n, 288n.
Japan, Sarhād submits to the King's list of rarities purchasable in, 214.
Japan-ware, 52; present for Imād Khān, 69; present for Iṭibār Khān, 70; present for Jawāhir Khān, 71.
Jashan (rejoicings), of Farrukhsiyar, 131, 142 (2), 151, 174; note on, 131n, 174n; amount expended at Court on occasion of, 21.
Jāts, xxi, xxx, liii, 162, 199, 223; their country traversed without harm, 46; Khān Jahān proceeds against, 184; Agra infested by, 216.
Jawāhir Khān, present for, 70; note on, 70n.
Jamīdarry. See Zemindārī.
Jennings, W., letter to the President and Council at Bengal, 259; letter to the embassy, 261.
Jewel-office, 206 (2), 207, 208; bribes to the officer, 204 (2).
Jewels, present from Farrukhsiyar to Governor R. Hedges, 191, 206, 210; their delivery delayed, 207 (2); those intended for the embassy submitted to Farrukhsiyar, 207; present from Jahāndār Shāh to the Dutch embassy, 299 (2).
Jinā, 64, 265, 258; note on, 63n; taken by Sa'adatullah Khān, 51, 57; Aurangzēb's present to the English for assistance at the battle of, 63; towns granted at, 165; rājāh of, 257, 258, 259; siege of, 258n.
Jizyah (poll tax), 285; note on, 304n; reimposed by Imāyatullah Khān, 204; not imposed upon the Dutch, 298.
Jodhpur, xxxv; rājāh of (see also Ajit Singh), xviii.
Jogarass, English wish to rent, 63.
Jolā Kalinga, 282.
Joseph, Padre, accompanies the Portuguese embassy, 300; receives sanad from Farrukhsiyar, 300.
Jugalprasad, money-lender, 54.
Jugurtha, xxiv.
Juliana, Bibi, 173, 195, 1217, 291; note on, 178n.
Jumna, river, xxx, liii, 223 (2).
Juncaneers, 256; note on, 256n.
Juncans, 260.
Juwāhir Khān. See Jawāhir Khān.

Kabul, Khān Jahān, Sābadār of, 102.
Kachahri, 111, 116, 137, 200; closed, 96; fards brought from, 221 (2); petition returned from, without the knowledge of Sarhād, 128.

Ragunāth, complain to the Nabob of Patna about the seizure of debtors, 11.

Kahārs, 7, 17, 34; note on, 40n, 50n; with private goods, 9; to proceed, 14; for Malik Chand, 17; trouble with, 25, 27, 31, 33, 35, 36, 40, 49; their grievances regarding demurrage, 32, 33; Amar Sing's scheme for settling differences with, 34, 35; their grievances settled, 26, 41, 50; loan to, 36; payment to, 40; sar-i-pās and turbans for, 36, 49; Sarhād stoned by, 40; wages of, 275, 276.

Kahlgāon, embassy arrive at, 247; note on, 247n.

Kaithora, 205n.

Kajwah, 230; note on, 227n; embassy arrive at, 227.

Ka Katrah, Wazīr Khān, 223; note on, 223n.

Kalānaur, 174n.

Kalāntar, Khwājah Fānūs, x.

Kalas. See Cullases.

Kalghī (turban plume), note on, 56n, 192n; present from Farrukhsiyar to Surman, 47, 56, 191, 192, 193, 197, 202, 208; present from Farrukhsiyar to Dr. Hamilton, 76, 77; present from the Wazīr to the King, 107; presents from the Wazīr to Surman and Sarhād, 208(2); present from Khān Daurān to Surman, 209.

Kalinga, 281; troubles with Nabobs of, 259.

Kamal Nāib, payments to, 170, 171; delay of, 180; money paid into the Company's cash, 227(2).

Kāmārpādā, 280.

Kām Bakshah, vi, 258, 260, 260n; note on, 258n; towns granted by, 266; nishān granted by, 279.

Kamkhāb, present from Jahāndār Shāh to Dutch embassy, 299; present from Farrukhsiyar to embassy, 300.

Kamrud-d-āin, xlii.

Kāmwar Khān (see also Sewly), 46n, 78n, 95n, 96n, 102n, 172n, 192n.

Kandās (see also Qandās), 250; note on, 250n.

Kanbayāt. See Cambay.

Kankurgāchhi, 280.

Karagaravittakkuppam, 265; note on, 266n.

Karkarāg-khānah, 205n.

Karmnāsā, river, 39; embassy arrive at, xxviii, 232.

Karnatak, 62, 257, 260n; conquered by Mir Jumlah for King of Golconda, 253.

Kār Talab Khān, 4n.

Kashmir, Farrukhsiyar gets another wife from, 173; 'Ināyatullah Khān appointed Sabādār of, 183, 186.

Kāsundiya, 280.

Katārah, 130n.

Katāri (dagger), 130; note on, 130n.

Katka, 39n.

Kattivakkam, 266; note, 266n.

Kettler, Joseph, Dutch embassy to Mogul Court under, viii, xv; obtains a farmān for the Dutch from Jahāndār Shāh, 118n.

Khāfi Khān, 133n.

Khālīshāh, 116(2).

Khālīshāh-i-sharīfāh, 90.

Khambavati. See Cambay.

Khānah-shumārī (house-tax), not to be levied on the Dutch, 294.

Khanjar, note on, 58n; sent to the embassy by the King, 2, 5; present from Farrukhsiyar to Surman, 192, 193(3), 194, 196(2), 202; present from Farrukhsiyar to Governor R. Hedges, 191, 251; present from Farrukhsiyar to Sarhād, 47, 56; present from 'Alamgīr to the King of England, 283; present from Jahāndār Shāh to the Dutch embassy, 219(3).

Khānījī, son of Dhanī Sāhā, seized for debt, 11; handed over to Shaikh

'Isā, 11.

Khān Khānān, 26; title of Mir Jumlah, 96, 96n.

Khānsāmān (see also Taqarrub Khān), 48n, 115, 186, 195, 200, 204, 205n, 214; to be approached for demurrage, 49; present for, 79; particulars of hired houses, 81; office held by Taqarrub Khān, 101.

Khānsāmāni, 149, 180, 182, 195, 198; note on, 149n.

Khārkhānah, 205n.

Khār-wā, 10.

Khāshbārārs, wages of, 276.

Khat-barār, 236, 289; note on, 236n.

Khatrī, 174n.

Khidmatgārs, 154; note on, 154n; presents to, 55; wages of, 275, 276.

Khojah, denotes a eunuch, 72n.

Khūshhāl Chand, 17(2), 192, 193, 197, 202, 210; note on, 179n, 192n; his description of the wedding ceremonies, 78n.

Kidderpur, xi.

Kilāyat Khān, 118; note, 118n, parvāna granted by, 274n.

King's Dewly, 24.

Kirpā Rām, 83, 120, 156, 189; the agent of Haider Qulī Khān at Delhi, xlviii, 129, 240; expects present, 84; visit to Rāi-i-rayān, 98; recommended by Sarhād, 154; negotiations with, 125, 129; his promises and expected rewards, 130; his influence with Khān Daurān, 125, 129; to negotiate with Khān Daurān, 154; unsuccessful negotiations, 155; his successful mediation, 125; Sarhād gives him the credit of obtaining the concessions, 155; honorarium for, 210; Sarhād asks more money for, 212; payment to, 212, 239; embassy fear that he may do some disservice to the factory at Surat, 240.

Kishori Gulāl Chand, bill of exchange payable to, 236.
Kishori Krishan Chand, 227, 231; money paid into Company's cash, 223, 224.
Kishtnagar, embassy arrive at, 248; note on, 248n.
Kishū Rāe Kishn Chand, 184, 187, 209(2).
Kisanganj. See Kishtnagar.
Kissengunge. See Kishtnagar.
Knives, 52; present for Darbār Khān, 67; present for I'timād Khān, 68; present for I'tibār Khān, 70; present for Jawāhir Khān, 71; present for Na'im Khān, 86.
Kohkhirāj, embassy arrive at, 42; note on, 42n.
Korah Jahanābād, 40, 227, 228, 230; note on, 42n; embassy arrive at, 42; Ghairat Khān orders the English to wait for him at, 42n; request ignored, 42n; infested by Jāts and Mewātis, 199.
Kortalīyar, river, 286n.
Krishandās Hali Nāth, 220.
Krishna, 249n.
Krishnachandra Rājā, 249n; festivities in honour of his birth, 249n.
Krishnagara. See Bēni.
Krishnajiyan, pay of, 92; money paid into Company's cash, 227.
Krori, 162; note on, 162n.
Kūdālūr, 257(2), 266; purchased by the English, 64, 85; granted by Rāmā Rājā, 258; grant confirmed by Zū-l-fīār Khān, 268; note on, 266n.
Kudikkādukuppam, 266; note on, 266n.
Kulia, 281.
Kunimedu, 257.
Kurwarpur, embassy arrive at, 42; note on, 42n.
Kursenah, embassy arrive at, 226; note on, 226n.

L

La Bat, Mons., 195.
Lacquered ware, present for Darbār Khān, 68.
Labore, xxii, 54(2), 104; Mir Jumlah ordered to proceed to, 96.

Lālā Murlīdhar Kāyath, 44n.
Lālji, 24.
Lālviহারী (money-lender), 54.
Lamp, 7.
Langorn, Sir William, 257(2); obtains farmān and gaul from King of Golconda, 267, 279; obtains gaul from Ikrām Khān, 279; obtains gaul from Mūsā Khān, 279.
Lead, to be properly paid for if required for the King's service, 286.
Liquors, present for Darbār Khān, 68; present for the Wazīr, 74; an acceptable present at Court, 270.
Littleton, Sir Edward, appointed President in Bengal, iii.
Lloyd, Mr., 11.
Longumbanka. See Numgumbākkam.
Looking Glasses, 51; present for Darbār Khān, 68; present for I'timād Khān, 69; present for I'tibār Khān, 70; present for Farukhsaiyar, 142(3); cost of, 142.
Looking glass box, present for the Wazīr, 68.
Lōgraph, xli.
Luṭfallah Khān, appointed dnōnā, xviii.

M

Maalecapour, rent paid for, 63.
Ma'ani Khān. See Na'im Khān.
Ma'bar, 285.
Maces, present for Farukhsaiyar, xx.
Madāra l-muhām (title of the Wazīr), 288; note on, 288n.
Mādho Hatīyā, embassy arrive at, 39; note on, 39n.
Madras, (see also Fort St. George and Chinnāpatam), 115; early history of the English, iii; instructions from, concerning the negotiations of the embassy, 255; embassy to conform with orders and requests from, 272; grants and privileges required by, 260-1, 279; list of papers sent to the embassy, 279; copies of grants to be sent to, 272; farmān for, 186, 140, 147, 160, 276; no previous sanād for, 147; mint at, xxviii, 62(2), 82, 85, 88, 91, 94, 115, 122, 127, 135, 144, 145, 163, 166, 168, 176, 268, 278; grant of towns at, xxxix, 85, 92, 123, 128, 144, 145, 170, 171, 176(2), 206, 222; farmān for grant of towns, 106, 135; towns granted by Kām Bakhsh, Asad Khān, Khān Bahādur and Daūd Khān, 266; customs at, 62, 85, 115, 122, 127, 278; trade of, 115; farmān for trade, 144; free trade at, 171,

INDEX.

CSL

- 176(2); Farrukhsiyar's present to President at, 191, 216, 225; letters from the embassy, 65, 75, 106, 131, 134, 225; letter to the embassy, 260; letter to the President and Council at Fort William, 255, 258; letter from Bengal, 73; correspondence with, to be sent via Bengal, 216; President and Council informed of the end of the negotiations at Delhi, 225(2); European settlements in, 233.
- Mahdī Khān, 119.
- Mahmūd Shāh, 247n.
- Mākonda, 280.
- Makrān, embassy arrive at, 35, 293; note on, 35n.
- Malik Chand, 124(2), 218; to assist Sarhād, 17; terms of employment, 17; to hasten Dakhni Bān in the matter of Hedges' farmān, 218; promises delivery of Hedges' farmān, 218.
- Mamodays, present from Farrukhsiyar to the Company, 240.
- Manauri, embassy arrive at, 42; note on, 42n.
- Manuvvar, Khwājah, 143; letter from Sarhād concerning the English present, 143; has no hand in the embassy's business, 151; unpopular at Court, 152; posts held by, 152; promises help to obtain Dr. Hamilton's release, 200.
- Mangecoopam. See Munjakkuppam.
- Manikchand Sāha, 234.
- Manila work, present for Farrukhsiyar, 46, 47.
- Manohar Datta, 81, 118.
- Manpore, 280(2), 281; rent of, 87.
- Mansabdārs (minor nobles), to be sent to meet the embassy, 45, 47.
- Mansabs, sent to meet the embassy, 47, 56; taken from Mir Jumla, 95, 96(2); taken from Khān Daurān and Muhammad Amīn Khān and afterwards restored, 102-3, 104; rules regarding ornaments on palanquins, 103.
- Masūr Khān, Khwājah, present for, 72n; to obtain from the Wazīr permission for the embassy to depart, 207(2).
- Manucci, his name mentioned as a fitting person to conduct the embassy to Farrukhsiyar, x.
- Maps, 261; payment to John Burnell for preparing, xiv; present for Farrukhsiyar, xiv, xxxi, 46, 47.
- Marāṭha, Rājā Sākū, 174n. See also Sākūji.
- Marāṭhas, English struggles with, lvi.
- Marāṭha Sambhā Jī, alii.
- Martin, Mons., the King's Doctor, xxvi, 30, 149, 150; note on, 4n; jealous of Dr. Hamilton, xxxv; presents from Farrukhsiyar, xxxvi, xxxvii, 76, 77; presents from the King's mother, xxxvii, 79; embassy's letter to, 4; letter from, 9; letter from Surman to, 29; letter from Surman explained, 31; presents for the children of, 72; sides with the King's Doctor against Dr. Hamilton, 74.
- Marin, W., letter to President and Council at Bengal, 269.
- Mārwar, invasion of, 162n.
- Mash'al, 7.
- Mash'alchis, for Malik Chand, 17; wages of, 275, 276.
- Masters, —, 267.
- Masulipatam, xi, xxxix, 62, 63(2), 119, 256n(2), 257, 262, 283, 289-90, 290; customs at, 88; Governor of, 217; faujdar protests to the King against the grant of Divi Island, 238, 246; farmān required for, 283; request for permission to settle a factory, 283; sanad granted to the President to be permanent and not personal, 285.
- Mathura, xxx, xxxi; note on, 223n; embassy arrive at, liii, 223; faujdar pays a visit to the embassy, 223.
- Mandobaulum, proposed mint at, 291.
- Maulda, 263; ground required at, 277.
- Maunds, 7, 13, 18; equivalent of, xxn.
- Manza 'Perwana, rent paid for, 63.
- Mayilapur, 265; note on, 265n.
- Mecca, 186(2), 246.
- Mecca, Sharif of, his name forged by Husain Ahmad, 106.
- Medicine, for Farrukhsiyar and Taqarrub Khān, 72.
- Meurah, 227; note on, 222n.
- Mewāṭi, xxi, xxx, 119, 224; attack the embassy, liii, 236, 228; English prepare for possible attack by, 43; leave the camp, 44.
- Mikmāndār, 37.
- Mihraparwar-ki-sarāi, 58.
- Mints, of Bengal, 136, 241; at Calcutta, 263; request for a mint to be settled near the Bengal factory, 289; at Rājmal, 61, 263, 276, 277, 289; that at Rājmal too far away from the Bengal factory, 289; at Madras, 62, 71, 82, 85, 88, 94, 115, 122, 127, 135, 144, 145, 163, 168, 168, 176, 268, 278; at Bombay, xi, 88, 90, 93, 119, 122, 126, 133, 137, 143, 146, 164, 166(2), 168(2), 170, 176, 268, 278; at Surat, 62, 82, 85, 88, 91, 94,

- 136, 144, 164, 167(3), 263; at Dacca, 61, 289; at Murshidabad (Maqṣūdābād), xxxviii, 61, 84, 123, 128, 144, 170, 171, 176(2), 276; Jafar Khān disallows the mint at Murshidabad, 232; request for use of the King's mint at Murshidabad, 277; at Qasim-bazar, 91; at Chennaypatam, 166, 167; at Hugli-bandar, 289; King's money coined first, 82; Itisām Khān objects to the English having separate mints, 115; request for use of King's mint at Patna, 277; request for permission to use, 236; towns granted to the Dutch for, 290; request for towns in which to establish mints, 290; charges levied on, 291.
- Mir Bakḥāshī, 206n; note on, 206n.
- Mirzi, embassy arrive at, 248; note on, 248n.
- Mir Jumlaḥ, xviii, xxy, 3, 13, 24, 27(2), 41, 83, 149; note on, 38n; favourite of Farrukhsiyar, xvii; early career, xvii; appointed Governor of Behar, xix, xxiii; letter to Khān Daurān, xviii; receives a visit from the English, xxviii, 38; quarrels with Hussin 'Alī Khān and removal to Patna, xxxiii, 67; returns to Delhi, xii, 79, 80, 90, 96; Farrukhsiyar orders him to proceed to Lahore, xli, 96; deprived of his titles, xli, 96, 96; expelled from Delhi, 95; ruined, 67; to suppress the Ujjainis, 20; arrival at Itāyah, 28; gives Sarḥād a letter to Khān Daurān and an order for Governor Hedges, 37n; writes to the King on behalf of the English, 37n; present for, 38; titles of, 38n, 96, 96n; letter from Sarḥād concerning the English present, 148; Dutch soldier from his camp comes to the embassy at Palwal, 222; conquers the Karnatak for the King of Golconda, 256; grants a qanī for Fort St. George, 256; account of his campaign in Assam, 275n.
- Mir Muhammad Rafī, See Sarbuland Khān.
- Mir Munshi, 171n; note on, 160n; approves the farmāns, 160.
- Mir Murtazā, Persian ambassador to Farrukhsiyar, 83n; note on, 83n.
- Mir tozak, 158; note on, 163n.
- Mirzā Ibrahim, payments to, for translations, xiv.
- Mirzā Ma'jiz, purwāna granted by, 274.
- Mirzā Muhammad, 50n, 78n, 79n, 96n, 101n.
- Mirzāpur, 281; rented by the Dutch, 291(2).
- Mitr Sen, 150, 201, 218; appointed Company's qāfil at Delhi and terms of his appointment, lii, 215, 218-9, 220; embassy's instructions to, liii, 220; brings furds from the kachakri, 121; to arrange for the embassy's leave-taking of the Wazīr, 207(2); embassy recommend him to the favour of Salabat Khān, 212; Surat sar-o-pā sent to him, 218; reports that Hedges' farmān is almost ready for despatch, 222; letter from the embassy, 227; letter to, concerning Jafar Khān, 281, 282; reports that Jafar Khān has complained to the King against the embassy, 235; his complaint at Court against Jafar Khān, 245.
- Mittās, 265; note on, 265n.
- Mogul Government, system of, xxiv.
- Mohan-ki-sarān, note on, 39n; embassy arrive at, 59, 231.
- Mohibalipur, note on, 37n; embassy arrive at, 37, 238.
- Mohiniya, embassy arrive at, 232; note on, 232n.
- Mohun, Mr., obtains farmān from King of Golconda, 257.
- Mokraia. See Makraia.
- Money, to be flung among the crowd, 43; embassy in need of, 53, 54.
- Money-lenders, 54.
- Munger, iv; embassy arrive at, 243.
- Moore, Thomas, 159.
- Moors, 261; peace made with, 258.
- Mu'azzam Khān Bahādur, title of Mir Jumlaḥ, 96 and 96n; purwāna granted by, 274.
- Mubariz Khān, Subadar of Gulkanda (see also Amānat Khān), 195; note on, 195n; Governor of Haiderabad, 195n.
- Muckamahumudbaud, proposed mint at, 291.
- Muhammad Ahsan, Iṣād, 196n.
- Muhammad Amin Khān, xlii; note on, 102n; conflict with Khān Daurān, xiv, 102, 104; deprived of his offices, 102; and afterwards restored to favour, 103.
- Muhammad 'Arif, arrives at the embassy's camp at Mathura, 223.
- Muhammad A'zam, nishān granted by, 274(2).
- Muhammad Ibrahim, 60n. See also Asad Khān.
- Muhammad Kāni Baghsb, 63; note on, 63n.
- Muhammad Mas'ūd, 37(2).

INDEX.

CSL

Muhammad Muza'far, liv; English, wish to acquire his house at Patna, 60.

Muhammad Shāh, 109n.

Muhammad Zāhid, his house rented, 284.

Muhasan, 28; note on, 28n.

Muhra, present for Farrukhsiyar, 45, 47; present from the Wazir to the King, 107.

Muhumdi, pay of, 32.

Mu'izzu-d-dīn Jahāndar Shāh (see also Jahāndar Shāh), 149, 180n, 299; grant of land at Surat to the Dutch, 108; his present to the Dutch embassy, 191, 195; his present to the Dutch embassy not to be taken as a precedent, 193.

Mukta Devi, temple of, 43n.

Mullā Naṣr, King's orders delivered to, 6(2).

Munavvar, Khawājah. See Manavvar, Khawājah.

Mun'im Khān, 263n, 264n.

Munjakkappam, 266; note on, 266n.

Murād Shāh, 246n.

Murcha, embassy arrive at, 248; note on, 248n.

Murlihar Bhāo Sen Dakhiṇī Rāo (See also Dakhiṇī Rāo), 219, 220; money paid into the company's cash, 184, 187, 194, 209.

Murlihar-ki-sarāe, note on, 44n; embassy arrive at, 44, 226.

Murshidābād (Maqṣūdābād), 237, 293; mint at, xxxviii, 61, 84, 123, 138, 144, 170, 171, 176(2), 276; Ja'far Khān disallows mint at, 232; request for use of King's mint at, 277; Dutch money coined at, 285.

Murshid Qulī Khān (See also Ja'far Khān), vii, 91n; obstructs the English, viii; forbidden to interfere with English trade, ix; sanad granted to the Dutch, 295.

Musā Khān, 257; qaul granted by, 279.

Mūsānagar, 227n; note on, 43n; embassy arrive at, xxx, 48; halting place for pilgrims to Gaya, 43n.

Maṣjīd Mochiyah, 102n.

Musketoons, 52; present for the sūbadar of Allahabad, 229.

Mustaqim, Khawājah. See Muṣaffar Khān.

Mutaṣaddīe, 61, 62(3), 82; increased pay, 32; money promised them by Padre Daniel, 53; presents for, 72n, 79, 83; bribery of, 86, 89, 99; raise objections to the petition, 105; to whom the name was applicable, 116n.

Mūḥānī, embassy arrive at, 38; note on, 38n.

Muttra. See Mathura.

Muṣaffar Jang, title of Mir Jumla, 96, 98n.

Muṣaffar Khān (Khawājah Mustaqim) (see also Khān Jahān), marriage of, 120; note on, 59n, 120n; present for, 59n, 121.

Muṣaffarnagar, 205n.

Myalpur. See Mayilapur.

N

Nādiru-z-zamāni, 78n.

Nadiyā, 248; relations of the English with the Rājahs of, 249n.

Nāhan, xli.

Nāhar Khān, brings Rājah Ajit Singh to Court, 162; note on, 162n.

Na'im Khān, present for, 86; note on, 86n.

Namaḍe, embassy's expenditure on, 252.

Namoud bundee, 62.

Narcia, xli, 101, 102, 172, 177; note on, 101n.

Nath Mal, xxxix, 111, 152; obstructs the embassy, 112.

Naubatpur, 28; embassy arrive at, xxiv, 24, 233; embassy leaves, xxviii; troubles of the embassy at, xxvii.

Nauranga, 21n.

Nauwāda, embassy arrive at, 246; note on, 246n.

Necklace, present from the Wazir to the King, 107.

Neeknām Khān (see also Ikram Khān), 257.

Nihāl-ki-sarāe, embassy arrive at, 43, 226; note on, 43n.

Nishān, 258, 263, 288(2), 289; granted by 'Azimu-sh-shān, 60, 81, 86, 118(2), 123, 162, 277; granted by A'zam Shāh, 60; granted by Sultān Shujā', 60, 274; granted by Muḥammad A'zam, 274(2); granted by Kam Bakhsh, 279.

Nizamu-l-mulk (see also Chīn Qilich Khān), xli, 96n.

Nobusta Mohun. See Sarāe Mohan Selimpur.

Nodia, 280, 281.

Norris, Sir William, xv; embassy of, iii, v; his proceedings copied from the King's books, 79; purport of his embassy to 'Alamgir, 283, 291.

Nuddea, rent of, 87.

Nungumbakkam, 266; note on, 266n.

Nungama. See Nungumbakkam.

Nūru-d-dīn 'Alī Khān, death of, 40n.

Nūrullah Khān, his house at Patna rented by the Dutch, 297.

Nuṣrat Yār Khān, 205; note on, 205n.

- Oils, to be put in handsome bottles and cases, 7; present for Farrukhsiyar, 76.
Opium, customs paid by the Dutch, 295.
Orissa, farmān for free trade, xxxviii, xl, 92, 163; custom free, 59, 118, 168, 263; factory at, 167, 169; Dutch in, 293.
Orme, 107n; his summary of Surman's diary, etc., 1n.
Ornaments, duties on, at Surat, 64.
Ostenders, English struggles with, lvi.
Otter, rose, to be put in handsome bottles and cases, 7; present for Farrukhsiyar, 76; present from Farrukhsiyar to Governor R. Hedges, 191, 251; present from Farrukhsiyar to the Company, 240; present from Jahāndār Shāh to Dutch embassy, 299; present from Farrukhsiyar to Portuguese embassy, 300 (2).
Otterdaneys, 7.
Oxen, for the guns, xxi, 8; purchase of, 14; hire of, to be fixed, 290; embassy's expenditure on, 252.

P

- Padak*, note on, 251n; present from Farrukhsiyar to Governor R. Hedges, 191, 251; present from Jahāndār Shāh to the Dutch embassy, 299; present from Farrukhsiyar to the Portuguese embassy, 300 (2).
Pago, E., letter to the embassy, 279, 282.
Paican, 280 (10), 281 (10), 282 (7); rent of, 87.
Pālam. See Polta.
Palaquins, purchase of, xx, n; for Malik Chand, 17; for Rām Chand, 18; rules regarding ornaments on, 108; their use by foreigners forbidden, 140; Sarhād's account for, and the embassy's criticisms thereon, 211, 214; embassy's expenditure on, 252; permission to use, 283.
Palaquin furniture, present to the Wazīr, 48; present to Khān Daurān, 48; present to 'Imād Khān, 69.
Palikat, 262.
Palligar, 119; note on, 119n.
Palwal, note on, 46n; embassy arrive at, 45; 222.
Panar, river, 266n.
Pando Ban, 44n.
Panipat, xxxiii, xxxiv, 60n, 64, 68 (2); note on, 58n; Farrukhsiyar goes to, 65.
Parayanar, river, 266n.
Parero, Antonio, reimbursed with money spent on account of Mrs. Woodville, 66.
Parker, Laurence, arrival at Bombay, 97.
Parganas, 93.
Parganas, 87, 206, 215, 262, 263 (2), 285, 288; granted by 'Izzat Khān, 81, 118, 274 (2); granted by Khān Bahādur, 266; granted by Ibrahim Khān, 274; granted by Kifāyat Khān, 274; granted by Mu'azzam Khān, 274; granted by Dāūd Khān, 274; granted by Haqiqat Khān, 274; granted by Shāistah Khān, 274; granted by Mirzā Ma'jiz, 274; granted by Sarbuland Khān, 274; granted by Asad Khān, 279; for Calcutta, 207; for Patna House, 233; preparation of, 154; 'Iṣām Khān refuses to sign some of them, 172, 185; diwān-i-Ḥālīsh refuses to sign them, 241; approved by the Wazīr and 'Iṣām Khān, 170; signed and sealed by the Wazīr, 171 (2), 195; completion delayed, 180; Sarhād pressed to get them signed, 180; sent to the diwān-i-kachahri, 181; granted, 183, 185; copies sent to Bengal, 202 (2); obtained by Mr. Higginson, 268; granted to the Dutch, 267.
Patna, 1, 35, 90, 301, 216, 220, 230, 263, 270 (2), 274, 293; preparations of the embassy, xx; further house rented for the embassy and the reasons for this, 2; departure of the embassy, 19, 243; Mir Jumrah removed to, xxxiii; Asghar Khān in possession of fort, 35; English house at, 60, 91, 115, 122, 127, 144, 171, 176, 177, 195, 202, 230; Rūp Chand to obtain possession for the embassy of the house at, 233, 234; house granted on condition of a factory being settled, 236, 244; paraūna for the house at, 233; farmān for house at, 241; ground required at, 277; ground granted for house at, 84; proposed factory, xxxviii; arrangements and terms for resettling the English factory, liv, lv, 230, 236, 236, 244; hasb-i-hukm sent to Sarbuland Khān, 233; no one will approach Sarbuland Khān in the matter of the house and factory at, 236; embassy arrive at, liv, 234 (2);

INDEX.

CSL

- embassy to take passage from, by water, 177, 216; boats to be sent to meet the embassy at, 232; embassy resolve to leave without waiting for the boats from Calcutta, 237, 238; boats to be hired for the return journey to Calcutta, 236(2), 236, 237, 244; recovery of the Company's debts at, liv, lv, 230, 235, 236, 237; horses and camels to be sold at, 216; private goods not to be taken to the Mogul Court, 273; request for use of the King's mint at, 277; customs paid by the Dutch, 230, 293-4; Dutch money coined at, 295; Dutch house at, 297.
- Patna cases, present for the Wazir, 48; present for Taqarub Khān, 48; present for Khān Daurān, 48; present for Darbār Khān, 68; present for I'timād Khān, 69; present for I'tibār Khān, 70; present for Jawāhir Khān, 71.
- Pattle, Edward, 7, 8, 201; seizure of debtors, 10; dissents to handing over debtors to the Nabob, 11; departs for Calcutta, 19; death of, 19a.
- Poga, 262, 266; shipping goes to, 88, 92.
- Pencils, 52; present for Darbār Khān, 67; present for I'timād Khān, 69.
- Penknives, 52; present for Ghairat Khān, 13, 41; present for Sidish Narāyan, 12; present for Darbār Khān, 67; present for I'timād Khān, 68; present for I'tibār Khān, 70; present for Jawāhir Khān, 71; present for Na'im Khān, 86.
- Penue, Capt., 157.
- Peons, 12; engagement of, 2, 3, 9, 15, 43; engaged for the return journey, 173, 199; to seize debtors, 10; to guard tents, 13; payment to, 23; double pay to, 25, 27; wages of, 276.
- Perambore, 266a.
- Perfume-office, 205; note on, 205a.
- Perfumes, present for Farrukhsiyar, ix, xi.
- Perfuming-pot, present to Farrukhsiyar, 49.
- Perpetuances, present for Darbār Khān, 66; present for I'timād Khān, 68; present for I'tibār Khān, 69; present for Jawāhir Khān, 71.
- Persia, ambassador to Farrukhsiyar, 83; Khān Daurān's treatment of ambassador from, 134; leave taking of ambassador from, 134a; coral from, lost by Khawajah Fanūs, 196.
- Persia drams, present for the Wazir, 74.
- Persians, Sarhād attacked and wounded by, 221(2); Sarhād contemplates fighting them, 222, and complains to the King against them, 223; Sarhād abandons the idea of fighting them, 223.
- Persian Secretary, increased pay, 32.
- Persiawawh. See Parashavākkam.
- Perwanda, renting of, 264.
- Peshkhana*, xxix.
- Petrus, Khawajah, letter from, 5.
- Pictures, present to Farrukhsiyar, 49.
- Piece goods, xv; present for Darbār Khān, 67.
- Picdanis*, present for I'tibār Khān, 70; present for Jawāhir Khān, 71.
- Pirates, losses caused by, 265.
- Pistols, 52; present for Sidish Narāyan, 12; present for Ghairat Khān, 18, 41; present for Darbār Khān, 67; present for I'timād Khān, 68; present for I'tibār Khān, 70; present for Jawāhir Khān, 71; present for Na'im Khān, 86; present for the Subadar of Allahabad, 229.
- Pitt, Governor John, vi, 258, 259; appointed President in Madras, iii; scheme for securing territorial concessions, vi; his transaction in diamonds with a bairagi who complains that they have not been paid for, 201, 206; presents from Farrukhsiyar, 240; ceremonies attending the presentation of a vest from Bahādur Shāh, 251; letters to Ziyāu-d-din Khān, 255, 260, 261, 264, 265, 279(2); letter from Ziyāu-d-din Khān, 266; letter to Khān Bahādur, 266.
- Phanoose. See Kanūs.
- Philips, Thomas, arrival at Patna, 19; left in charge at Delhi, xxiii, 57, 100, 173, 177; returns to camp, 45; letter to the President and Council at Fort William, 159; called to a consultation to consider Sarhād's device for obtaining a grant for the embassy's expenses, 183; present from Farrukhsiyar, 191; signs consultations during indisposition of Hugh Barker, 199a; his expenses, 252, 253.
- Phirda. See Farda.
- Phulwāri, 21a, 22, 23(3), 26, 27, 28, 32; embassy arrive at, 24, 234.
- Plate, embassy's expenditure on, 252.
- Plates, 7.
- Plume, for Surman, 46a, 47.
- Plundering, of goods, 170, 176.
- Pocket books, 53.
- Polta, 162; note on, 162a.
- Porringer, 7.
- Porto Novo, 267.
- Portuguese, lose farmāns for want of bribes, 173, 175; presents given to, their embassy, 178, 299, 300; English asked to assist against, 208(2), 216; French help asked, 216; presents from Farrukhsiyar to King of, 300.

Pots and pans, present for Farrukhsiyar, xx.

Pratt, John, xi, 11; departs for Calcutta, 19; bills of exchange payable to, 94, 97, 101.

President, the, 240, 279.

Pucca Hossanna Rupees, 105.

Pundamali, 256.

Parashavakkam, 166; note on, 266n.

Pursanoor, proposed mint at, 291.

Purwanna, 166.

Q

Qalander Sahib Bū 'Alī Qalandar, 58n.

Qamarnagar Karnāl, 260n.

Qamaru-d-dīn. See Kamru-d-dīn.

Qanāta, purchase of, 10.

Qawingo, 118, 139.

Qasids, 4(2), 12, 16, 22, 30, 130, 141(2), 160(2), 185, 217, 222, 223, 224, 227(2), 236; to Court, 8; from Padre Daniel, 21; to Padre Daniel, 24; from Fort William, 44, 229, 231; to Fort William, 230; to Surat, 90; from Surat, 90; exorbitant payment to, 130, 180n; robbed of their letters, 161(2).

Qasim-bāzār, mint at, 91.

Qaul, granted by Srirangā III for Fort St. George, 256, 256n(2), 279; granted by Venkatappa for Fort St. George, 256n; granted by Mir Jumlah for Fort St. George, 256; granted by Ikram Khān for Fort St. George, 257, 279; granted by Mūsā Khān for Fort St. George, 257, 279; granted by the King of Golconda, 279.

Qasī, 21, 23, 81, 168(2), 166, 168(2), 172(2), 176, 178, 183, 185(2), 195(2), 202, 210, 215, 217; copies of farmāns with his seal to be valid, 61; present for, 170; when grants are made, copies to be obtained by the embassy attested by, 272.

Qasibagh, 21n.

Qān Muhammad Sayyad, 287.

Qāzī Sahib, grave of, 21n.

Quilts, allowance for, xiv.

Qurān, 54n.

Qūr Begī (Superintendent of armoury), Salābat Khān loses post of, 106; note on, 106n.

Qutb minar, 50n, 53n.

Qutb Shāhī, 283n, 289n.

Qutb-i-Jamulk (see also 'Abdullah Khān and Wazīr), 8, 122, 186; petition transferred to, 98(2), 99, 100, 103, 105; reason why petition was transferred to, 105; farmāns transferred to, 101; bids Dr Hamilton return with his wife and children, 204.

R

Radnagar, ground required at, 277.

Rāe Bareli, 205n.

Rāe-i-rāyān (see also Dicān-i-Khāṭikhāh), 152, 185; title of Dicān-i-Khāṭikhāh, 92, 98n; appointed an umpire to settle the embassy's business, 100, 116; his appointment as umpire objected to by Salābat Khān, 109, 116; the office held by Rājā Gūjar Mal, 109n; obstructs the embassy's business, 109, 112; antagonistic to the English, 131; deprived of the post of tan-kā-diwān, 185.

Rāepūrā, embassy arrive at, 243; note on, 243n.

Rāghava Rājā, 249n.

Raghunāth, money paid into the Company's cash, 227(2).

Raghū Pandit, 238; payments to, 258.

Rāhdārī, 267; not to be imposed on the Dutch, 266.

Rāhdārs, 162n.

Rāe Gaj Singh, death of, 90; note on, 90n.

Rājā Gūjar Mal, xxxix; appointed an umpire to settle the embassy's business, 109n; note on, 109n; tragic death of, 109n.

Rājah-ka-talao, embassy arrive at, 226; note on, 226n.

Rājah Muhkam Singh, 174n.

Rājah Rudar, 12n.

Rājā Tobossein, 247.

Rājghāt, embassy arrive at, xix.

Rājmahal (see also Akbarnagar), 243, 244, 246, 263, 293; embassy arrive at, iv, 247; mint at, 61, 263, 276, 277, 289; mint too far away from the Bengal factory, 289; ground required at, 277; Dutch money coined at, 265.

Rājput, honoured on the occasion of Farrukhsiyar's wedding, 78.

Rāmā Rājah, 299n; grant of Fort St. David and Kādalur, 258; towns granted by, 266.

Rāmākrishnapur, 240.

Rāmākrishnā, Rājā, 249n.

Rām Chand, to assist Sarhād, 18; terms of employment, 18; to bribe Itisām Khān's servants, 110; declares that Itisām Khān will not be bribed except with the utmost secrecy, 110, 114.

Shimān, festival of, 66; note on, 66n.
Rām Chaud, xviii, 185; note on, 72n; present for, 72n.
Rawanah, 285.
Razors, 52.
Reuī, 248; note on, 249n; embassy arrive at, 249; visit of the Bengal
 Council to, 249n.
Rings, presented to Dr. Hamilton by the King, 76, 77.
Risālah, 181, 185; note on, 185n.
Robes, presents from the King to Sur-man and Stephenson, 43n, 47.
Roe, Sir Thomas, embassy of, iv.
Rogues, their punishment forbidden, 177.
Rose water bottles, present to Farrukhsiyar, 49.
Row, Sergeant Nicholas, 270.
Rudrarāya, Rājā, 249n.
Rukhsat (formal dismissal), 134n, 199n.
Rupa Sarāe. See Sarāe Ekdil.
Rūp Chaud, to obtain possession of the Patna House for the embassy, 233, 234; letter from, 233; unwilling to approach Sarbuland Khān in the matter of the house and factory at Patna, 235; reports that the house has been granted, 236.
Rupees, ālāngiri, Surat, hossanna and pucca hossanna, 105.
Rupspūr, embassy arrive at, 44; note
 on, 44n.
Russell, John, vii; letter from Madras, 253.
Rustam Beg, 157, 233.

S

Sa'adat Khān. See Sādāt Khān Māzandarāni.
Sa'adatullah Khān. See Sādatullah Khān.
Sābarābād, embassy arrive at, 38; note
 on, 38n.
Sadānand, presses Sarhād for money,
 217.
Sādāt Khān Māzandarāni, 246n.
Sa'adatullah Khān, 56, 171(3), 176(3),
 217; note on, 51n, 57n; takes Jinji,
 51, 57; receives recommendatory letters on behalf of the English from Salābat Khān and Ziyāu-d-dīn Khān, 65; reassumes villages at Fort
 St. David granted by Dāūd Khān, 260.
Sadr-i-sudūr (see also Afzal Khān), 172,
 217, 218(2), 241; note on, 172n;
 bribed, 173, 174, 175-6; farmāns sent to, 174; in favour with Farrukhsiyar, 175; Hedges' farmān sent to him for seal, 204.
Sahasrām, xxviii, 22, 23; note on, 38n;
 held by Sidihsat Nārāyan, 28;
 embassy arrive at, 38, 239.

Sākū beopāri, bills of exchange payable to, 178, 184, 187, 194, 209(2), 213, 223, 224, 227, 231, 236.
Sāhūji, defeated by Husain 'Ali Khān,
 174; note on, 174n.
Saidābād, note on, 39n; embassy arrive at, 39, 231.
St. Thomé, note on, 266n; renting of,
 263.
Sakrigali, Dutch boats arrive at, 247;
 note on, 247n.
Saksenah Kāyath, 109n.
Salābād, 255, 257, 258; note on, 255n,
 257n.
Salābat Khān, xxv, xxxix, xlv, 29(2),
 30(3), 84, 100(2), 104, 105(5),
 111, 123, 125, 148, 149, 150, 151,
 155(2), 171, 179, 180, 183, 184, 191,
 193, 198, 245; note on, 30n; bribed by Khān Daurān, xxi; receives the embassy, xxi, 46n, 47, 56; entertains the embassy, xxi, 46, 47, 56, 95; his house insufficient to accommodate the embassy, 50; embassy living with, 101; Surman lodges in the house of, 153; embassy negotiate with, 30; negotiations in hands of, xxxiii, 57; his advice to be followed by the embassy, 50; misdirects the embassy in their negotiations, xlv; interviews Khān Daurān on behalf of the embassy, 101; his influence with Khān Daurān, 112; petition shown to, 59; asked to use his influence with Khān Daurān to prevent fārds from being transferred to Quṭbu-l-mulk, 99(2); Sarhād to convince him of his unreasonableness in recommending an application to the Wazīr, 99; tries to induce Khān Daurān to settle the business of the embassy, 103, 149; appointed an umpire to settle the embassy's business, 109, 116; objects to the appointment of Bāe-i-rāyān as umpire, 109, 116; to settle the embassy's business, 114; informed of the unsatisfactory reply to the embassy's petition, 124; blames Sarhād for the failure of the petition, 125; recommends employment of Kirpā Rām, 129, 154; acknowledges that the success of the negotiations are due to Kirpā Rām, 125;
 confers with Sarhād and Khān
 Daurān regarding the petition,
 131(2); interview with Khān Daurān and Sarhād regarding Surat house and Calcutta ground, 138; his part in the negotiations, 152; concessions received through, 155; directs

INDEX.

the embassy to apply to the Wazir for Dr. Hamilton's release, li; to use his influence with Khān Daurān in obtaining permission for Dr. Hamilton to depart, 197-8, 203, and his unsuccessful effort, 198; reprimanded by the King because Dr. Hamilton could not be induced to stay, 208-9; informs Khān Daurān of the proposed departure of the embassy, 129; embassy petition for permission to depart, 176; urges Khān Daurān to secure a speedy departure for the embassy, 178, 190, 192, 197; his anxiety that the English should be dismissed with the same honour as was accorded the Dutch and Portuguese, 1; embassy's departure to be effected through, 159 (2); his anger at the meagreness of the present to the embassy, 191; secures a larger present for Surman, 192, 193, 195; promises dismissal of the embassy, 193; summons Surman to receive his presents which however are not delivered, 193, 194; blamed for the delay in the delivery of the presents, 194; his request for gurbardars for the embassy's return journey refused by Khān Daurān, 206; embassy take leave of him, lii, 212, 213; letter to Sanjar Khān regarding a safe conduct for the embassy, 222; letter from, 21; letter to, 32; letter to, concerning Ja'far Khān, 231, 232; letter to Madras, 66; letter from Governor E. Harrison, 134; letter from the embassy, 227; advises another present to the King, 49; money promised him by Padre Daniel, 53; embassy recommend Mitr Sen to his favour, 212; fresh intrigues, xlv; present to, 59n, 83; sends recommendatory letter to Sa'adatullah Khān, 66; indisposition of, 77; loses post of Qū' Begī, 106; receives victuals from the King, 107; promoted in the diwān, 107; appointed to the office of 'arṣ-i-mukarrar, 107; note on, 107n; embassy complain to him, 128; accusation of Sarbād against, 152; ignored by Sarbād, 154; payment to, 170; Sarbād's device to obtain a grant to reimburse the embassy for their expenses, 188 (2); speaks to the dargah for a very good elephant for Governor Hedges, 206; birth of a son, 208; reports that Governor Hedges' farman is being sent after the embassy, 223.

Salikha, 280.
Salt cellars, 7.
Salt merchants, complain to the nabob about the seizure of debtors, 11.
Saltpetre, its sale forbidden, 238, 245-8, 296; sale in the hands of the Dutch at Patna, 244; price of, 244; customs paid by the Dutch, 295; Dutch allowed to purchase, 295.
Sambāl, 5.
Sāmbhar, 162n.
Samsāmu-d-daulah (see also Daurān Khān), 72n, 205n, 213, 213n.
Sanads, 60, 135, 142n, 160, 163 (2), 181, 215, 288; for trade in Bengal, 93; copies to be valid, 84, 163; for renting of Vizagapatam, 88; for customs at Madras, 122, 137; for ground at Surat, 133, 137; for grant of Divi Island, 133, 137; for the Patna house, 294; to be given for articles not entered in the farman, 146; none for Madras in existence, 147; granted, 133, 225; signed by the diwān-i-khālīṣah, 161; sealed, 176, 178; delivered, 215; copies sent to Calcutta, 216; the embassy's fears of ever receiving them, 242; granted by Khān Jahān Bahādur, 274; granted by Abu'l-Hasan for European settlements in Madras, 283, 289, 290; those granted to the Presidents at Surat, Bengal and Masulipatam to be permanent and not personal, 283; granted to the Dutch, 295 (2).
Sanjar Khān (see also Thānahdār), letters from Khān Daurān and Salābat Khān regarding a safe conduct for the embassy, 222; note on, 222n.
Sānkḥā Janwārā, embassy arrive at, 227; note on, 227n.
Sanqual. See Sānkḥā Janwārā.
Sāntipura, 249n.
Sānwāt, embassy arrive at, 38.
Sāpṛagbhī, 231.
Sāqqahs, wages of, 275.
Sarāe Ekdil, embassy arrive at, 43; note on, 43n.
Sarāe Mohan Salimpur, note on, 42n; embassy arrive at, 42, 229.
Sarbūlad Khān, Governor of Patna, 177, 205, 233, 234, 235; note on, 40n, 205n; on bad terms with the English, lii; visited by Sarbād, 40; reputed uncivil to Europeans, 41; Sarbād asks a convoy, 41; sends a convoy, to meet the embassy, 233; refuses to give the embassy a convoy, 245, 247; indifferent reception of Sarbād and Surman's visit abandoned, 42; his extortions from the Dutch, 230, 238; embassy send him a haabu-l-hukm from Khān Daurān, 233; to give a sanad for the house at Patna, 234; no one will approach him in the matter of the Patna house and factory, 235; grants a house at Patna on condition of a factory being settled, 236, 237; his mihmandar bribed, 234; difficulty of negotiating with him, 236, 237; false report that he is to search the Company's boats, 238, 247; pays no attention to the farmāns, 244; is angry because the embassy did not visit him, 244; complaints at Court against, 245; parwāna granted by, 274.

Sardhānā, xli.

Sarbād, Khawājā, references to, passim; note on, 213n; to negotiate with the Court on behalf of the embassy, viii, ix, x; qualifications and character, x, 158; terms of employment, xi; reputed influence at Court, xii; appointed second member of the embassy, 271; to continue as second member in the event of Sarman's death, 271; acquainted with the manner of addressing the King, etc., 272; his assent to or dissent from consultations to be attested by H. Barker, 273; unacquainted with English language, 273; to report his proceedings to the embassy, 273; original papers relating to ancient privileges in Bengal handed over to, 274; servants allowed to, with their wages, 276; his seizure by the Chackwars feared, 5; demands the honour of two Union Flags, xxi, 8, and matter referred to the President, 8; two flags allowed to, 18; ordered not to use the flags as showing his authority, 219, 230; demand for authority and full management of the embassy refused, 13, 14, 16, 17; demands of, 15-17, 167; refuses to proceed, 14; delivers up all papers, etc., 14, 15, 16; embassy suspect his designs for a longer stay at Patna, 16; sends a qāsid secretly to Court, 16-17; requested to join the embassy, 25; refuses to join the embassy immediately, 25, 27; joins embassy at Patna, xx; joins embassy at Ghatauli, xxviii; to remain with the embassy, 31; delays the embassy, xxiv, 17; blamed for the delay in departure of embassy from Patna, 18; advises the embassy to make an early departure, 22, 23, 25; obtains leave to depart, 23; delays the embassy's business, 27; suspected of causing delays, 28; blamed for mismanagement, 38, 113; his vain promises and schemes and inattention to the embassy's business, 152; his disregard of orders, 163; his delays endanger the success of the embassy, 241; arrival at Patna, xxvi, 5, 33, 34; summoned from Patna, 36; arrives at Bhāgalpur, 4; arrival at Naubatpur, 29; at Ghatauli, 37(2); at Allahabad, 40; goes to the King's camp, 51, 99, 101, 107, 172; stoned by the servants, xxix, 40; presents from Farrukhsiyar, xiv, xxxi(2), xxxvi, xxxvii, 45(2), 46, 47, 56, 76, 77, 191, 202, 208; is promised favours by the King, 74; expects honours from the King, 157; present from the King's mother, xxxvii, 74, 79; presents from the Wazir, 208(2); failure of the first petition, xi; reminds Khān Daurān of the embassy's petition, xiv, 98, 100; confesses that petitions must first go to the Wazir, xlviii, 140; in good spirits at the satisfactory state of affairs, 50, 51; to write to Khān Daurān regarding the fards being sent to the Wazir, 99; urges Khān Daurān to present the petition, 77; informed that the petition requires consideration, 110; to consult It'isām Khān about the petition, 113; presses It'isām Khān about the Surat customs, 120; confers with It'isām Khān and Bhag Chand, 124; visits It'isām Khān, 128; reports that petition will be granted by It'isām Khān without going to the Wazir or Khān Daurān, 152; reports the Bengal business finished, 117; to explain the return of the fards, 121, 123; blamed by Salābat Khān for failure of the petition, 125; conceals information regarding the petition, 128, 153; confers with Khān Daurān and Salābat Khān regarding the petition, 131(2), 138; interview with Khān Daurān who promises to settle the embassy's business, 133; to expedite the petition, 137; ordered by Khān Daurān to draw up another petition, 138; delivers copies of farmāns, 142, 147; secures the inclusion of several articles in farmāns, 146; attempts to secure articles relating to Divi Island inserted in the farmāns, 147; receives money to obtain the qāzi's seal, 172; pressed to get parwānas signed, 180; blamed for delay in delivery of Hedges' farmān, 212; urged to take action concerning Hedges' farmān, 217(2); disapproves the action of the embassy in departing without Hedges' farmān, 218; too late to get possession of Hedges' farmān, 226; sends copies of farmāns to Calcutta without knowledge of the embassy, 215; to negotiate with Kirpā Rām, 125; suggests that Kirpā Rām negotiate with Khān Daurān, 154; gives the credit of the success of the negotiations to Kirpā Rām, 155; his promise to Kirpā Rām for effecting the embassy's business, 219; advises what sum should be given to Kirpā Rām, 210; asks more money for Kirpā Rām, 212; visit to Rāi-i-rāyān, 98; visits the diwan and bugūlati, 8; unsuccessful attempt to secure favour with the writers at the diwāni, 111; ordered to send a vakil to the diwāni, 111; refuses to go to the diwāni to bribe the officers or to send a vakil, xlvī, 111, 112, 113; goes to the diwāni to meet Khān Daurān and I'tisām Khān, 124; bribery of the diwāni officers, 143; protest of embassy against, xlvī, lii, 26-8, 111-4, 218, 230, 238-243, 248-4; deceitfulness of, xlvī, xlvii, 147-159; to petition that the embassy be permitted to depart, 176; refuses to leave Delhi and accompany the embassy, lii, 212 (2), 214-5, 221, 225, 230; will not conduct negotiations for any others during his engagement with the English, 146; embassy accuse him of embarking on private business and delaying their departure, 212, 213, 214; embassy protest against him for his disobedience in remaining behind in Delhi, 219(2); Anūp Chand is appointed assistant to, 8; Malik Chand to assist, 17; Rām Chand to assist, 13; letters to, 4, 5; letter from, 24; his letters to various persons at Court concerning the English present to the King, 148; letters to President and Council at Fort William, 54, 78, 80, 84, 98, 101, 106, 117, 130, 138, 139, 147, 161 (2), 179, 190, 204; letters to the President and Council at Fort St. George, 58, 66, 75, 134, 135; letters to the President and Council at Bombay, 90, 183; refuses to sign a letter to Bombay, 163; letter from Ghazīn-d-din Khān, 22; letters to Padre Daniel, 30, 31; letters from Padre Daniel, 5, 20, 31; denies giving authority to Padre Daniel for the payment of certain sums at Court, 31; his great friends at Court turn out to be Padre Daniel and a few Armenian rogues, 143; his orders to Padre Daniel, 148, 151; ashamed of Padre Daniel, 148; quatrel with Daniel, 149; gives authority to Daniel for expenditure of money, 151; Daniel's relations and terras with, 239; attempts to secure permission for the embassy to depart with the treasure and tails, 21, 22; his tent sent to Aurangabad, 21; advises that the present be put in proper order, 6, 7; bugūlati demands his seal on the fards in place of Surman's, 6; not to have pre-eminence over Surman, 8; delivers debtors to Shaikh sâ, 11; negotiations re seizure of debtors, 32; advises payment to servants, 24; receives 2,000 siccas from bugūlati on account of pay of kahārs, 33; delivers the money received from the bugūlati, 37; to leave gurbardars behind for the purpose of obtaining a convoy, 24; obtains a convoy for the embassy, 24; attempts to secure the recall of the convoy, 27 (2); requests statement of demurrage, 34; receives from Mār Jumlah a recommendatory letter to Khān Daurān and an order for Governor Hedges, 37a; visit to Mir Jumlah, 38; visit to Sarbuland Khān, 40; to seek a convoy from Sarbuland Khān, 41; indifferent reception by Sarbuland Khān, 42; summoned by the King's mother to discuss the King's health, 72; to carry the present to I'tisām Khān, 110; declares that I'tisām Khān will not be bribed, 113; offers present to I'tisām Khān too publicly, 114; confesses that I'tisām Khān may be bribed, 114; illness of, 121, 124; absent from consultation owing to illness, 121a; money paid into Company's cash, 130, 178; house-rent of, 136(2); complains of his small allowance, 146, 157, 160; his allowance stopped, 219, 221, 230; his vain promises suggest the idea of a present to Farrukhsiyar, 148; his story that the present was first intended for Bahādur Shāh, 149; his trick of spending less money than was allowed for a particular purpose, 151; his forgery of seals, 152; his allegations against Salābat Khān, 152; troubles with him regarding the

INDEX.

CSL

- employment of wakils, 153; attempts to get a larger sum from the embassy for his own schemes, 156; his idea of going to England to buy rarities for the King, 155-6, 240; to finish the Company's business before his visit to England, 157; expects an order for the receipt of customs at Hugli, 156; his petition for a farman, 240; his disreputable appearance, 167; his expenditure, 167; his ignorance of the Court and its customs, 158; he is not guilty of embezzlement, 158; recommends a bribe to the Sadr-u-s-s-u-d-u-d-u-r, 173; his device for obtaining a grant from Farrukhsiyar for the embassy's expenses and then dividing it, 187-190, 243, 244; his estimate of Surman's private expenses, 188; petitions the king for the title of Girza ke-rock or Royal merchant, 214; pressed by Sadanand for money, 217; attacked and wounded by the Persians, 221(2); his request that Dr. Hamilton be sent to attend him refused, 221; contemplates getting forces from the Wazir to fight the Persians, 222; abandons the idea of fighting the Persians, 223, 224; complains to the King against the Persians, 228; complains to the President and Council at Fort William, 224; Patna Sarraf ordered not to trust him, 238; his account of expenses with the embassy's criticisms thereon, 211, 214; his expenses, 253; recommends wines and liquors as an acceptable present at Court, 270; commission on sale of Bengal piece-goods, 274.
- Sar-o-pā* office, bribery of, 196, 197.
- Sar-o-pās*, 157, 213, 217; presents from Farrukhsiyar to the embassy, 2, 6, 46, 56(2), 191, 197(2); sent to Calcutta prior to the embassy's departure, 149; present from Farrukhsiyar to Surman, 45(2), 47, 192, 193; present from Farrukhsiyar to Sarhād, 45(2), 47, 76, 77; present from Farrukhsiyar to Dr. Hamilton, 76, 77; presents for the three Presidents, 206; for the Governor of Madras, 216, 226; for the Governor of Surat, 218; for Governor Hedges, 251; presents from the Wazir to the embassy, 208; from Khan Daurān to Surman, 6; from Khan Daurān to the embassy, 209; presents from the King's mother to Sarhād, Dr. Hamilton and Mons. Martin, 79; given to gurzbardars, 14; for the chawdkaris, 35; for the kahars, 36, 49; customary ceremony on their presentation, 250; presents from Farrukhsiyar to Portuguese embassy, 300.
- Sarrāf. See Surrāf.
- Sarūp Sinha, 255, 259.
- Sash, present for gurzbardars, 238.
- Saaseram. See Sahasrām.
- Satangadoo. See Shātangadu.
- Sātgaon (see also Hugli-bandar), 289.
- Savānih, 13.
- Sayyad Khān, 30.
- Sayyads (see also 'Abdullah Khān and Husain 'Alī Khān), suspected by Farrukhsiyar, xviii; quarrel with Tūrāni Mughals, 95.
- Sayyad Umr, present for, 72n.
- Sayyidraā, embassy arrive at, 39; note on, 39n.
- Sayyid Rasā Ahmad, note on, 39n.
- Scissors, 52; present for Sidiyat Nārūyan, 12; present for Ghairat Khān, 18, 41; present for Darbār Khān, 67; present for L'timād Khān, 68; present for I'tibār Khān, 70; present for Jawāhir Khān, 71; present for Na'im Khān, 86.
- Seals, 8; custody of, xix, 175-6; forgery by Sarhād, 152.
- Seer Lascar, Vizagapatam granted by, 268.
- Sekhpads, 281.
- Sengar, river, xxx.
- Seraglio, two men caught in, 106.
- Servants, double pay to, 26, 27; wages of, 275.
- Sewly (see also Kāmwar Khān), 172.
- Shāh Ahmad, 120, 293.
- Shāh 'Ālam, vi, 120, 140, 261, 264; Dutch embassy to, xv, 291; privileges granted by, 278.
- Shahāmat Khān. See Mubāriz Khān.
- Shāhbāz Khān, present for, 59n; note on, 59n.
- Shāh Jahān, 120, 267(2), 283, 287; Surat customs fixed by, 167; farmāns granted by, 274.
- Shāhjahānābād, embassy arrive at, 43.
- Shaikh Farid, 45n.
- Shaikh 'Isā, 24; debtors handed over to, 11.
- Shāistah Khān, xxxv, 21; note on, 21n; farmāns granted by, 274.
- Shāl, present from Farrukhsiyar to the East India Company, 240; present from Farrukhsiyar to Governor Hedges, 251; present from Jahāndār Shāh to Dutch embassy, 299; present from Farrukhsiyar to Portuguese embassy, 300.
- Shālibmār, 54, 101, 102, 108, 172(2), 177, 179, 180, 183, 184; note on, 101n.

Shari'at Khān, xxxv; officiates at Farrukhsiyar's marriage, 78n.

Shāttan, 266n.

Shāttangādū, 266; note on, 266n.

Shazadavād. See Shazād-pūr.

Shazād-pūr, 28; note on, 42n; embassy arrive at, 42, 229.

Shekhzādah, 162n.

Sherborne, the, xiv.

Sher Shāh, Emperor, note on, 38n.

Sher Shāhī, 43n.

Sher Zamān Khān, grants the embassy a convoy, 233; his convoy dismissed with a present, 233.

Shihābu-d-dīn, Tālish, 275n.

Shipping, to be protected and wrecks handed over to their proper owners, 62, 82, 85, 91, 123, 127, 145 (2), 184, 167, 169, 170, 173, 256, 265; loading not to be impeded, 287.

Shiraz wine. See Syrahi.

Shrikakulam. See Chicacole.

Shujā', Sultān, nishān granted by, 60, 274; note on, 60n.

Shukoh, Prince-Dārā, 226n.

Shukohābād, embassy arrive at, 226; note on, 226n.

Siādahā, 281.

Siam, shipping goes to, 38.

Sidhisit Narāyan, Chief of the Ujjainis, xxviii; present for, xxiii, 12; plunder of the present feared, 20; threatened by Mir Jumrah, 20; friendship to the English, 22; assurances given by, 26; in possession of Sahasrām, 28; his fort at Arwal, 37.

Sikakul. See Chicacole.

Sikandar Lodi, Sultān, 43n.

Sikandrah, embassy arrive at, 43, 226; note on, 43n, 226n; faujdar sends victuals to Surman and conducts the embassy through his districts, 226.

Sikandrah Bihishtābād, embassy arrive at, 223; note on, 223n.

Sikhs (see also Gurū Bandah), rising of, xli; their defeat and the manner of their degradation, xlii; execution of, xliii, 97; prisoners brought to Delhi, 95n.

Silberrad, C. S., 43n, 44n.

Silks, present for Farrukhsiyar, ix, xiv, xx; present for I'tibār Khān, 70; customs paid by the Dutch, 295.

Silver, 7.

Simbhāika-ki-sarāe, 58; note on, 58n.

Simla, 230.

Sindi, factory to be settled at, 267; note on, 267n.

Sipahdar Khān, 192n, 194, 196, 206; delays the delivery of the jewels, 207.

Sipahi, 130.

Sirājū-d-daulah, lvii.

Sirhind, seized by Bandah, xli.

Sitteringes, purchase of, 14.

Sivāpī, 259n.

Siyāhāh, 140, 141(2), 142(2), 144(4), 145, 152, 179, 192, 193(4), 202, 206, 210; details of, 142n.

Smart, J., letter to the embassy, 261.

Smiths, 8.

Soldiers, supplied with clothes, 13; wages of, 275.

Son, river, xviii, 37, 38; embassy cross, 233.

Sonpat, xli, 55, 58 (2), 172, 173, 174, 177; note on, 55n.

Sookhapor, 227n. See also Sankha Janwārā.

Soory, 290.

Sootalooty, 163.

Sorakalpett, 266; note on, 266n.

Soup dish, 7.

Soup spoon, 7.

Spectacles, present for Ghairat Khān, 41; present for Darbar Khān, 67; present for Jawāhir Khān, 71.

Spirits, present for Farrukhsiyar, ix, xx.

Sribāstāb Kāyath, 110n.

Srirāmpur, 282.

Sri Rangā, III; grants gaul for Fort St. George, 266, 256n (2), 279.

Standish, Japan, present for the Wazīr, 48.

Stephanus, Padre, 83; meets the embassy with dresses of honour from the King, xxxi, 46; brings sar-o-pās for Surman and Sarbād, 46.

Stephenson, Edward, xi, xxi, 1n, 8, 12, 13, 17, 18, 46, 129, 170, 171, 188(2), 254; his character, &c., xi, xii; allowances to, xiv, 20; appointed third member of the embassy, 271; to become chief of the embassy in the event of Surman's death, xv, 271; arrival at Delhi, 46n; left in charge at Delhi, xxxiii, 57, 100, 173, 177; presents from Farrukhsiyar, li, 46n, 47, 191, 202, 208; presents from the Wazīr, 208; letters to President and Council at Fort William, 9, 47, 54, 73, 78, 80, 94, 98, 101, 106, 109, 117, 130, 135, 139, 147, 159, 161 (2), 177, 179, 184, 190, 193, 204, 209 (2), 217, 222 (2), 224, 226, 227, 228, 231, 232, 234, 237, 243, 246, 248, 249, 250, 251; letters to President and Council at Fort St. George, 66, 75, 134, 135, 225; letters to President and Council at Bombay, 90, 183; letter to Mons. Martin, 31; money paid into the Company's cash, 30(2), 97, 109, 130, 187, 221; protest against Sarhād, iii; Sarhād conceals information regarding progress of the fards from, 123; house-rent of, 136; Sarhād's proposal that he should receive 1/10th of the grant for expenses, 183; his expenses, 252, 253; commission on sale of Bengal piece goods, 274; cash paid to him for embassy's expenses, 274.

INDEX.

CSL

Stephenson, Henry, xii.

Strutt, Stephen, letter from the embassy, 89.

Sūbāhmawī, 181, 207; their signature necessary on the parwanas, 171.

Sukh Deo, 227.

Sultanganj Jahangira. See Jahangira.

Sulṭān Mahmūd, 157.

Sumar Sen, 217, 218.

Sundā, 281.

Sundā, Bad, 281; note on, 281n.

Sūrajgarhā, lv; note on, 246n; embassy arrive at, 246.

Surat, 149, 157, 167, 190n, 210, 285, 286; early history, i, ii; affairs at, 263; customs at, xi, xxxix, 59, 64, 82, 85, 86, 87, 89, 92, 98, 94, 97, 115, 116, 118, 120 (2), 122, 123, 127, 133, 135, 144, 163, 167 (2), 168, 203-4, 273 (2), 285; amount sanctioned by President at Bengal for customs at, 89; farman for a fixed annual amount for customs, 137; customs paid by the Dutch, 120, 291-2; customs fixed by Shāh Jahān, 167; customs fixed by Aurungzeb, 168; customs fixed by Bahādur Shāh, 168; extortions and delays of the Ostomer, 263-4; customs excused except at, 288; house and ground required, xxxix, xl, 84, 83, 87, 90, 92, 115, 118, 119, 122, 126, 133, 137, 138, 140, 144, 176 (2), 268, 284; house not granted, 133, 136, 138; house granted, 86, 87, 92, 170, 171; farman for house at, 241; objections to grant of ground at, 138; sanad for ground at, 137; discontent of the English who threaten withdrawal of the factory if their demands are not complied with, xlvii, 107 (2), 107n, 108, 129, 164; Haidar Quli Khān desires the English to remain at, 127, 129, 132; good effect at Court of the threat to withdraw from, 148; factory withdrawn, 64, 132, 168; embassy fear that Kirpā Rām might do some disservice to the factory at, 240; factory to be settled at, 267, 283; mint at, 62, 82, 85, 88, 91, 94, 105, 135, 144, 164, 167 (2), 268; money coined there to be current, 88; restrictions on trade, 64; farman for trade, 89; farman for customs at, 145; farman for, 160, 261, 283; farman approved, 140; free trade granted, 176 (2); letter to the embassy, 97; grant of land to the Dutch, 108; Dutch house and garden, 115, 140, 293, 297; I'tihār Khān's house given to the Dutch, 119; niyah (poll tax) paid by the English at, 204; garrārdār to proceed to, 210; garrāf for, 215; var-o-pa for Governor of, 218; Farrukh Beg Khān to proceed to, 223; letter from, permitting a settlement at Madras, 256; European settlements at, 283; sanad granted to the President to be permanent and not personal, 238; English not to be molested, 289.

Surcalpatt. See Sorakalspett.

Surman, John, references to, passim; appointed chief of the embassy, 271; alterations to be made in the embassy in the event of his death, 271; his character, xi, xii; presents from Farrukhshayr, xxxi(2), li, 46(2), 46, 46n, 47(2), 68, 191, 196, 202, 208; larger present for, 192, 193, 195; delivery of his presents delayed, 193, 194; presents from the Wazīr, 208(2); presents from Khān Daurān, 6, 209; rights won by, lvii; list of carriages sealed and sent to the Buyūtātī, 7; Buyūtātī refuses fards sealed by, 8; Sarhād not to have pre-eminence over, 8; Sarhād demands that papers etc. should not be sealed by, 14, 16; letters to President and Council at Fort William, 47, 51, 54, 73, 78, 80, 94, 98, 101, 106, 109, 117, 130, 138, 139, 141, 147, 159, 161(2), 177, 179, 184, 190, 196, 204, 209(2), 217, 222(2), 224, 226, 227, 228, 231, 232, 234, 237, 243, 246, 248, 249, 250, 251; letters to President and Council at Fort St. George, 58, 66, 75, 134, 135, 225; letters to President and Council at Bombay, 90, 183; letters from Khān Daurān and Salābat Khān, 21; letter from Padre Daniel, 29, 31; letter to Padre Daniel, 31; letter to Mons. Martin, 29; his letters to Ziyāu-d-dīn Khān and Mons. Martin explained, 30, 31; visit to Ghairat Khān, 39(2); refused permission to proceed in advance of Ghairat Khān, 39; visit to Sarbuland Khān considered inadvisable, 41, 42; his visit to Sarbuland Khān abandoned, 42; arrival at Dehli, 46n; goes to the King's camp, 51, 101; pays money into the Company's cash, 77, 94, 97, 100, 101, 109, 130, 161, 178, 195, 221, 223, 224, 227; protest against Sarhād, 111; Sarhād conceals information regarding the fards from, 121, 123; threatens to leave Delhi, 124, 128, 132; receives fruit from Khān Daurān, 125, 130; Sarhād's estimate of his private expenses, 183; Sarhād's proposal that he should receive $\frac{1}{3}$ th of the grant for expenses, 188; cultivates friendship with Salābat Khān in order to obtain permission for the embassy to depart, 189; presses for the embassy's dismissal, 192; asks Salābat Khān to use his influence with Khān Daurān to secure permission for Dr. Hamilton to depart, 197-8; advised to go to the Wazīr in the matter of Dr. Hamilton's detention, 198; asks to take leave of the Wazīr, 206; bribery of the jewel officers, 206; his expenses, 252, 253; attendants of, 270; commission on sale of Bengal piece-goods, 274; cash paid into his hands for the embassy's expenses, 274.

Surrah, for Surat, 215.

Surrouck, 17; note on, 17n.

Sūsī, note on, 67n; present for Darbār Khān, 67; present for I'timād Khān, 68; present for I'tibār Khān, 70.

Sūtānūtī, 282; English wish to rent, xxxviii; rented to the English, 277.

Sūti, dalāl, seized for debt, 11; handed over to Shaiikh 'Isa, 11.

Snwālī, 265, 286; ground required at, 269, 284.

Swally. See Snwālī.

Swarūp Singh, 57.

Swinton, Captain Archibald, 275n.

Swords, 51; present for Darbār Khān, 67; present for I'timād Khān, 68; present for I'tibār Khān, 70; present for Jawāhir Khān, 71; present for Na'im Khān, 86; present from the Wazīr to the King, 107.

Syrash wine, present for Farrukhsiyar, xiv; present for the Wazīr, 74; present for Ghairat Khān, 41; Sarhād's account for, and the embassy's criticisms, 211, 214; Sarhād's claim, 242.

T

Tāju-d-dīn, wages of, 275; note on, 275n.

Takht-i-ravān, note on, 78n.

Takula, 281.

Tamrāne, xxvi, 29 (2).

Tandaiyarpēttai, 266; note on, 266n.

Tāndava rāyan, 266n.

Tandore. See Tandaiyarpēttai.

Tangons, purchase of, 14, 21; note on, 14n.

Tangrā, 281.

Tan-ka-dīwān, 126; note on, 126n; 'In'iyatullah Khān appointed to the office of, 183, 185; Rāo-i-rāyan deprived of the post, 185.

Tapsiā, 281.

Tapti, river, 284.

Taqarrub Khān (see also Khānsāmān), ix, 3, 53, 109n, 148; note on, 48n; favourite of Farrukhsiyar, xvii; his early career, xvii; causes the petition to be re-drafted in a condensed form, xxxix; returns the petition, 74; to receive the third visit of the embassy, 48; visited by the embassy, 49, 50, 53; presents for, 43, 58; refuses the English present, 49; attended by Dr. Hamilton, 54; Dr. Hamilton lives with him, 59; medicine for, 72; dismisses Dr. Hamilton, 72; his false oath to Zūl-fiqār Khān and the legend of his withered hand, 64n; death of, 101; offices held by, 101; letter from Sarhād concerning the English present, 148.

Taslim (salutation), 250, 250n.

Tattha, 267n.

Tazzy (Tāzi), purchase of, 21; note on, 21n.

Tea, present for I'timād Khān, 69.

Tea-canister, 7.

Ten-pot, 7.

Tel-dāwā, 7.

Telescope, presents for the Wazīr, 66; for Darbār Khān, 67; for I'timād Khān, 69; for Jawāhir Khān, 71.

Tents, xxi; purchase of, 10; sent in advance, 13; a large one burned, 23; taken from Aurangabad to Phulwārī, 23; embassy's expenditure on, 252.

Tēvanūmbattanam. See Tēvanāyakkam.

Tēvanāyakkam (see also Fort St. David), grant of, 259; note on, 259n.

Tēvinapatam. See Tēvanāyakkam.

Thānahdār (see also Sanjar Khān), 222; his duties, 222n.

Thūn, 183n.

Tiruppapuliyūr, 266; note on, 266n.

Tiruvōthiyūr, 263, 265, 266; note on, 263n.

Tolāh, present from Farrukhsiyar to Governor Hedges, 191.

Towns, method of purchase, 86.

Toys, 51; present for Farrukhsiyar, ix, xiv; present for I'timād Khān, 69.

Trenchfield, Mr., 1268.

Trepopliore. See Tiruppapuliyūr.

INDEX.

CSL

Trisanka, legend of, xviii.
 Triveni, iv; embassy arrive at, 249.
 Trivitore. See Tiruvottiyūr.
 "Trumpet, the," Khān Daurān deprived of, 104, note on, 104n.
 Trumpeter, wages of, 275.
 Trumpets, permission to use, 288.
 Trunks, embassy's expenditure on, 252.
 Trunks, China, present for Taqarrub Khān, 48.
 Trunks, Japan, present for Khān Daurān, 48.
 Trunks, Manila, 51; present to Farrukhsiyar, 49.
Zughrā (imperial signature), 175; affixed to the farmāns, 171.
 Tūn, 205n.
 Tungee, 119.
 Tūrānī Mughuls, quarrels with the Sayyads, 95; note on, 95n; mutinously demand their pay, 96.
 Turbans, presents for the carriers, 35; for the kahārs, 36; for gurtbardār, 289.
 Turbetts. See Turbans.
 Turkey, Sarhād submits to the King a list of rarities purchasable in, 214.
Turrah, present from Jahāndār Shāh to Dutch embassy, 299; present from Farrukhsiyar to Viceroy of Goa, 300.
 Tweezer case, present for the Wazīr, 48; for Khān Daurān, 48; for Itīmād Khān, 68.

U

Uchimedu, 265; note on, 266n.
 Udū Dat, bill of exchange payable to, 227.
 Ujjainis, xxi, xxviii, 224; note on, 12n, 224n; present to the chief of, xxiv, 12; plunder of the present feared, 20; threatened by Mir Jumlah, 20; risk of their attack, 24, 25.
 Ullādānga, 280.
 Umpires, appointed to settle the embassy's business, 109.
 * Umr, Sayyad, 198.
 Unicorn's horn, present for Farrukhsiyar, xxxi, 46, 47.
 Union Jack (see also Flags), for Surman and Sarhād, xxi.
 Upalanadi, 265; note on, 266n.
 Upalwaddee. See Upalanadi.

V

Vakils, 30, 32, 111, 149, 158, 179, 198, 200, 201 (2); Anūp Chand to assist Sarhād as, 3; Anūp Chand's appointment cancelled owing to infirmity, 17; appointment of Rām Chand, 18; letter from, 28; attempt to obtain demurrage and a convoy, 34; of Khān Daurān, 111; to go to the dwānī, 111; to be chosen by the embassy, 111; bring back the petition signed by the dwān-i-khālīqah, 153; troubles with Sarhād regarding the employment of, 153; reprimanded for their delay, 193; sent to bribe the sar-o-pa officer, 197; to bribe the officers for the early delivery of the present for Governor R. Hedges, 201; appointment of Mitr Sen at Delhi and his allowances, 215, 218-9, 220; employed by Sarhād, 239; payment of Sarhād's vakīl, 243; to complain at Court against Sarbuland Khān, 245; appointment of Khwājah Aavannes to treat for a farmān, 258; wages of, 275.

Valtern, renting of, 264; note on, 264n.
 Vaqā'ā, 5, 16.
 Vārānasi Seth, 215; money paid to, 106; bill of exchange payable to, 221.
 Velvet, present for Darbār Khān, 67; present for Itīmād Khān, 68; for Itībār Khān, 70.
 Venkatappa, 256n; grants a qaul for Fort St. George, 256n.
 Vests, presents from Jahāndār Shāh to Dutch embassy, 299(2); presents from Farrukhsiyar to Portuguese embassy, 300(2).
 Veysarpandy. See Vyasharppādivudu.
 Vijayanagar, 256n (2).
 Vilvarryanattam, 266; note on, 266n.
 Vizagapatam, 62, 220; grant of towns at, xxxix, xl, 93, 119, 122, 126, 133, 135, 144, 156, 171, 176; farmān for grant of towns, 187, 145; certain towns refused, 177; renting of towns at, 63, 85, 91, 264; sana'd requested for rent of towns at, 88; factory at, 167; granted by Nabob Seer Lascar, 258.
 Vyashan, 266n.
 Vyasharppādivudu, 266; note on, 266n.

W

Waggoners, 14.
 Waite, Sir Nicolas, appointed President at Bombay, iii; has petition to Ālamgir with the remarks of the dwānī thereon, 283, 291.
 Walā Shāhī, title of Mir Jumlah, 96, 96n.
 Waltair. See Valtern.

Waqai' nigar, 235, 251.

Waqai', 220.

Waqaidhānigar. See Waqai' nigar.

Warehouse necessities, embassy's expenditure on, 253.

Wārid, 54a.

Warodā. See Baroda.

Warr, W., letter to President and Council at Bengal, 259; letter to the embassy, 261.

Washermen, wages of, 275; not to be molested, 290.

Watches, 51; present to Ghairat Khān and his brother, 41; present for the Wazir, 43; present for Khān Daurān, 48; present for Tanqarrub Khān, 48.

Watchmaker, wages of, 275.

Watts, Henry, xii.

Wax, customs paid by the Dutch, 295.

Wazir (see also 'Abdullah Khān, Jamdat-ul-mulk and Qutbu'l-mulk), 29, 31, 53, 57, 157, 160, 161, 179, 183; note on, 216a; the embassy deterred from approaching him, xxv; the proper channel for obtaining farmāns etc., xxxii, xxxviii, xxxix, xlv, xlv, 98, 98a, 99; embassy directed to send their petition to, xlv, 99; embassy consider the advisability of applying to, 99; embassy refuse to approach him, 101, 126; Sarhād confesses that petitions must first go to, xlviii; petition must first be approved by, 140; Itisām Khān reports that the embassy's petition need not go to, 152; petition submitted to, xlviii, xlix, 100, 104, 265; feared failure of petition to, 115; Khān Daurān proposes to act conjointly with, in the matter of the petition, 103; favourable to the petition, 117, 143; approves the petitions, 140, 141, 142, 145; orders a farmān to be granted, 145; approves the farmāns, 185; to seal the farmāns, 176, 178, 181; seals the farmāns, 182-3; grant of sanads, 146; sanads sealed by, 176; approves parwānas, 170; seals parwānas, 171(2), 195; his friendship necessary for the success of the embassy, xxiv; embassy anxious not to displease, 50; orders Mir Jumla to return to Lahore, xli; embassy to visit, 47; to receive the second call of the embassy, 48; visited by the embassy, xxxii, 49, 50, 53, 66, 89, 98, 131, 142, 179, 196; visited by Dr. Hamilton, 135; his pleasure at Dr. Hamilton's visit to Khān Jahān, 184; asks the embassy to visit him frequently, 196; enquiry as to the nature of the present which would be acceptable to, 265; present for, 49, 59, 66, 74, 131, 179; his good favour kept by means of presents, 126; presents to servants of, 72a; his presents to the embassy, 208; is appealed to and secures Dr. Hamilton's release, li; his good offices recommended in the matter of Dr. Hamilton's detention, 198; embassy deliver Dr. Hamilton's petition for permission to depart, 200 (2), 203; petitions the King for Dr. Hamilton's release, 200, 203; obtains permission for Dr. Hamilton to depart, 200-1, 203; thanked by the embassy for Dr. Hamilton's release, 204; approves Dr. Hamilton's undertaking to return, 207; ordered by the King to give a present to Dr. Hamilton, 207; security for Dr. Hamilton's return, 208; promises to arrange for the embassy's dismissal, 196; petitions the King for the embassy's despatch, 207, 208; embassy receive permission to depart, 208(2); embassy petition for dashtaks and hashu-l-hukms for the return journey, 205; embassy take leave of him, li, lii, 206, 207(2), 213; disputes between the King and Khān Daurān, 54; embassy it obtain a letter from him to Husain 'Alī Khān in favour of the English, 75, 106; gives the embassy a commendatory letter to Husain 'Alī Khān, 205, 217, 225; refuses demands of the Tūrānis, 96; suspected design against, 102, 104; forged letter from Husain Ahmad, 106; visited by the King, 107; presents to the King from, 107; indisposition of, 131; titles of, 169, 288a; report that he has consented to the appointment of Isaiyaulah Khān to the office of diwān-i-khālīqah, 181; sends the bairāgi to the embassy, 206; asks the help of the English against the Portuguese, 208(2), 216; Sarhād contemplates asking him for forces to fight the Persians, 222; hashu-l-hukm granted by, 288.

Wazir Khān kā Katra, 223n.

Wheat, price altered, 74.

Williamson, James, bills of exchange payable to, 73, 79, 87, 100, 130(2), 147, 178, 187, 195, 223, 224, 227; letter to the embassy, 279, 282.

Winder, Jonathan, xiii.

Winder, Samuel, xiii.

Wine, lost through accident to carriages, 42; an acceptable present at Court, 270.

Witchmere. See Uchimadu.

Woodall, Terra, rent paid for, 63.

Woods-pounds, 166; rent paid for, 63(2), 264.

Woodville, Captain, note on, 55a.

Woodville, Mrs., 157; complaints against her husband, Captain Woodville, 55, 78a; help given to her, 55; Antonio Parero reimbursed with expenses on account of, 63; death of, 78; account of moneys supplied to, 116.

Y

Yale, Governor Elihu, 258; treats with the Mogal for a farman, 267; obtains parwana from Asad Khān, 279; obtains nishān from Kām Baksh, 279.

Yasāwāl, 23, 206; note on, 206a.

Yassalowandoo. See Vyasharpādīvudu.

Z

Zakariya Khān, xlii.

Zamān, Khān (see Asghar Khān), 205a.

Zamindari, 26; English factories to be exempt from, 61; note on, 61a.

Zamindārs, to assist in punishment of thieves, 61; molest the English, 64.

Zarbafts, for clocks, 71; note on, 71a.

Zelona, Island of, ships go to, 92.

Ziyān-d-dīn Khān, vi, viii, 208, 264

(2); note on, 216a, 261a; appointed Governor of Hugli, vii; removed from Government of Hugli, vii; embassy advised not to approach him, xxv; visited by the embassy, xxxii, 50, 63; to assist the English in their negotiations, xxxiii; letter from Surman, 30; letter from Surman explained, 30, 31(2); letter to Madras, 65; sends a recommendatory letter to Sa'adatullah Khān, 65; letter from Governor E. Harrison, 134; letters from Governor Pitt, 255, 260, 261, 265, 279(2); gold escutore purchased from, 46; approves the actions of the embassy, 50; his advice followed in all things, 57; petition shown to, 59; helped by the English, 64, 166; possessed of little power, 135; character of, 135; appointed buyātāl, 198a; promises to sign dashtak, 200; embassy take leave of him, 219; appointed darwān of the Deccan, 216; helps Sarhād in his scheme for proceeding to England to buy goods for the King, 240; sanad granted to the Dutch, 295.

Zū-l-fiqār Khān, 54a, 63, 255, 258 (2), 259(2), 260, 260a; note on, 63a, 25a, 274a; confirms grant of Fort St. David and Kūdalūr, 258; death of, 274.

GOVT. OF INDIA
SECRETARY
1963

150B

19635